Notre Dame didn't ranked among top 25 universities

By David Kinney
News Editor

Notre Dame was not among U.S. News and World Report's top 25 national universities for the third consecutive year but remained among the best of the 179 universities ranked annually by the magazine.

NO placed in the first quartile, the best of four groups of national universities, and was 20th among private universities, according to Dennis Moore, director of public relations.

Harvard University was named the best university in the nation for the third consecutive year. Princeton University, Yale University, Stanford University and the California Institute of Technology rounded out the top five.

Moore attributed the ranking to U.S. News' emphasis on financial resources. The total education spending per student is determined by a school's total annual spending on instruction, student services, administration and academic support including computers and libraries per full-time student.

But almost all the universities ranked have medical schools, which account for much of the spending, so "it will be difficult for us to be ranked in the top 25," Moore said.

Notre Dame placed 18th in 1985 and 23rd in 1989 but has not ranked in the top 25 since.

Beginning in 1990, the financial resources category weighted more heavily and the University dropped in the rankings, Moore said.

U.S. News determines the best national universities on the basis of five attributes: reputation, selectivity, faculty resources, financial resources and student satisfaction.

Financial resources count for 18 percent, student satisfaction for seven percent, and reputation, selectivity and faculty resources count for 25 percent each. Their method gives the least weight to categories that deal with students, said Moore. However, Notre Dame scored higher than several of the universities ranked in the top 25 in these categories.

"What that says to me is that we're bringing in at least as talented — if not more talented — students than those ranked ahead of us," said Moore. Furthermore, the "students must think they're getting a good education."

Student Senate discusses security issues, multicultural festival and trustee report

By Kenya Johnson
News Writer

Student Senate discussed increasing security in parking lots of local bars, the Multicultural Fall Festival, and the Board of Trustees Report on research during last night's meeting.

Student government will attempt to encourage local bars to place security officers in their parking lots on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights. The primary concern is the Commons.

"Everything from assaults, robberies, and shot-outs have happened to our students in the Commons parking lot," said R.G. Starnann, student government security commissioner.

"We need to make these places safer for students." Starmann plans to do research and gain the support of both Notre Dame and Saint Mary's security for the proposal. He will then approach local bars with the proposal.

Senator Tyler Farmer also reported on the upcoming Multicultural Fall Festival that will take place Oct. 4-9.

"It is important for us as student leaders to actually attend, participate in, and support the events going on that week. We put a lot of effort into the festival this year and we've got some great things planned," said Farmer.

Special events planned will include an opening multicultural performance on Sunday, the African Dance Troop performance on Thursday, Oct. 5, and the traditional Taste of Nations on Friday, Oct. 9.

"It will be a 'freside chats' in the International Students Organization lounge (2nd floor LaFortune) in the mornings, "culture on the quad" at noon and "entertainment on the quad" from 4-5 p.m. both at Fieldhouse Mall. These events will be sponsored by different campus organizations, said Moore.

Student senate will also present the board of trustees report, "Upholding the Mission: Teaching and Research at a National Catholic University," on Oct. 1. It includes nine recommendations based on three common themes: teaching incentives, academic life in and out of the classroom, and examination of undergraduate academic programs, said Lynn Friedewald, president of Breen-Setti, co-ordinator of student services, administration and development.

Saint Mary's Board of Governors, said the board, will encourage students interested in entrepreneurship to explore different aspects of the marketing world.

"It will help involve Saint Mary's students in entrepreneurship," said a sophomore on the board.

In other business:

• Richard Chlebek, director of Saint Mary's security, discussed personal safety plans that students can wear on their body to activate in case of emergency. "The alarms are a quality product for personal protection," according to Chlebek.

• Security is investigating the possibility of asking them through the bookstore or student government. Board members expressed mixed opinions about how many students were interested in buying the product.

• The Student Activities Committee (SAC) briefed the board of the "Entrepreneurial Club to obtain off-campus organizations, said the new SUB Director Fellows at Notre Dame. "It will help in involving students in entrepreneurship," said a sophomore on the board. Board members expressed mixed opinions about how many students were interested in buying the product.

• The Student Activities Committee (SAC) briefed the board of the "Entrepreneurial Club to obtain off-campus organizations, said the new SUB Director Fellows at Notre Dame. "It will help in involving students in entrepreneurship," said a sophomore on the board. Board members expressed mixed opinions about how many students were interested in buying the product.

• The Student Activities Committee (SAC) briefed the board of the "Entrepreneurial Club to obtain off-campus organizations, said the new SUB Director Fellows at Notre Dame. "It will help in involving students in entrepreneurship," said a sophomore on the board. Board members expressed mixed opinions about how many students were interested in buying the product.

• The Student Activities Committee (SAC) briefed the board of the "Entrepreneurial Club to obtain off-campus organizations, said the new SUB Director Fellows at Notre Dame. "It will help in involving students in entrepreneurship," said a sophomore on the board. Board members expressed mixed opinions about how many students were interested in buying the product.

• The Student Activities Committee (SAC) briefed the board of the "Entrepreneurial Club to obtain off-campus organizations, said the new SUB Director Fellows at Notre Dame. "It will help in involving students in entrepreneurship," said a sophomore on the board. Board members expressed mixed opinions about how many students were interested in buying the product.
Diversity and learning breed tolerance

Each year, during Hispanic Heritage Month, Hispanics across the United States have the opportunity to celebrate, to take pride in and spread the word about the accomplishments which Hispanics have made in contributing to the history of the United States. African-Americans have had the same opportunity to do during Black History Month, along with all the other numerous ethnic celebrations, whose populations make up a large part of America.

Although the numbers participating have been encouraging, unfortunately not many of these ethnic groups have had the exposure they hoped to gain through these celebrations of cultural awareness. Many reasons can be attributed to this such as the lack of media coverage, funding or ignorance. It is saddening that two days after an event has passed, the media tosses it back into its cupboard until the next time it thinks it can squeeze a couple dollars out of the American public. Many people across the country look at the Los Angeles riots of this past April and say, 'See, we haven't made any progress, I'm African-American, I'm not going backwards.' This may be true in some aspects, such as the lack of the United States government to see what the real problems in this country. But with the democratic opportunities available to us, we can't blame everything on the government. There's the responsibility of the people of this country to teach each other how to deal with one another.

I believe something positive did come out of the L.A. riots, in that being that many people's eyes were open to what needs to be done to get the country pointed in the right direction, not economically and diplomatically, but in terms of moral equality and openness. Not in the last 25 years has cultural diversity been such an important topic in this country. It is evident on campuses, in film, music, art, and business.

I have to praise Monk Malloy's administration for finding a way to get the word about the accomplishments of Hispanics across the United States. This may be true in some aspects, such as the lack of the United States government to see what the real problems in this country are. But with the democratic opportunities available to us, we can't blame everything on the government. There's the responsibility of the people of this country to teach each other how to deal with one another.

I believe something positive did come out of the L.A. riots, in that being that many people's eyes were open to what needs to be done to get the country pointed in the right direction, not economically and diplomatically, but in terms of moral equality and openness. Not in the last 25 years has cultural diversity been such an important topic in this country. It is evident on campuses, in film, music, art, and business.

I have to praise Monk Malloy's administration for finding a way to get the word about the accomplishments of Hispanics across the United States. This may be true in some aspects, such as the lack of the United States government to see what the real problems in this country are. But with the democratic opportunities available to us, we can't blame everything on the government. There's the responsibility of the people of this country to teach each other how to deal with one another.

I believe something positive did come out of the L.A. riots, in that being that many people's eyes were open to what needs to be done to get the country pointed in the right direction, not economically and diplomatically, but in terms of moral equality and openness. Not in the last 25 years has cultural diversity been such an important topic in this country. It is evident on campuses, in film, music, art, and business.

I have to praise Monk Malloy's administration for finding a way to get the word about the accomplishments of Hispanics across the United States. This may be true in some aspects, such as the lack of the United States government to see what the real problems in this country are. But with the democratic opportunities available to us, we can't blame everything on the government. There's the responsibility of the people of this country to teach each other how to deal with one another.

I believe something positive did come out of the L.A. riots, in that being that many people's eyes were open to what needs to be done to get the country pointed in the right direction, not economically and diplomatically, but in terms of moral equality and openness. Not in the last 25 years has cultural diversity been such an important topic in this country. It is evident on campuses, in film, music, art, and business.

I have to praise Monk Malloy's administration for finding a way to get the word about the accomplishments of Hispanics across the United States. This may be true in some aspects, such as the lack of the United States government to see what the real problems in this country are. But with the democratic opportunities available to us, we can't blame everything on the government. There's the responsibility of the people of this country to teach each other how to deal with one another.

I believe something positive did come out of the L.A. riots, in that being that many people's eyes were open to what needs to be done to get the country pointed in the right direction, not economically and diplomatically, but in terms of moral equality and openness. Not in the last 25 years has cultural diversity been such an important topic in this country. It is evident on campuses, in film, music, art, and business.

I have to praise Monk Malloy's administration for finding a way to get the word about the accomplishments of Hispanics across the United States. This may be true in some aspects, such as the lack of the United States government to see what the real problems in this country are. But with the democratic opportunities available to us, we can't blame everything on the government. There's the responsibility of the people of this country to teach each other how to deal with one another.
European treaty to be revised

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — Railed by Denmark's rejection of the European Unity treaty and France's ultra-slim approval, European foreign ministers pledged Monday to soothe their citizens' fears of a "Big Brother in Brussels."

But the European Community (EC) nations will push ahead for ratification of the Maastricht treaty "without reopening the present text" for renegotiations, the ministers said in a communiqué.

The treaty would establish a framework for unified Euro-} tent that the European Community is out of touch with the citizens that it is meant to serve.

British Foreign Secretary Douglas Hurd told reporters that EC leaders will hold a summit Oct. 16 in London to discuss the turbulence that hit Europe's financial markets last week, and the "preoccupations" of Europeans that affected the Danish and French votes.

Hurd said the "preoccupations" cited obliquely in the communiqué refer to "the worry, the anxiety, that has developed to some extent that the European Community is out of touch with the citizens that it is meant to serve.

Dutch Foreign Minister Hans van den Broeck calls it "this fear of Big Brother in Brussels," the Community's headquarters in Belgium.

The communiqué also stressed that the governments will remain committed to the European Monetary System. All 12 EC nations must adopt the Maastricht treaty by the end of this year for it to go into effect.

Chairwoman discusses new problems facing EC

By KENYA JOHNSON
News Writer

The economic system, nationalism and emigration are the main problems facing the European Community (EC) today, said Dr. Herta Daeubler-Gmelin, Deputy Chairwoman of the German Social Democratic Party and of the SPD Parliamentary Group.

She spoke yesterday at the Hesburgh Center for International Studies on "Germany's Role After Unification."

"As an active politician, I must say that even after unification, the European Community has some significant problems to overcome," said Daeubler-Gmelin. "When the Iron Curtain fell we all saw families reuniting joyfully after nearly three decades of separation. It was perhaps the happiest day in the world."

But the problems didn't just go away, said Daeubler-Gmelin. "The problems that were in the background are coming to the foreground. And they're growing," she added.

Daeubler-Gmelin said one of the main problems is the economic system.

"The reform states are changing over to a privately-owned, competitive market and this is a real problem. It causes a great sacrifice on the people. Men and women are becoming poorer everyday," she said. "Companies are not able to help themselves without the help of Western democracies."

Daeubler-Gmelin cited nationalism as another problem which affects development.

"Czechoslovakia is separating, hopefully peacefully. In Yugoslavia there is ethnic tension and a civil war. You can see all the terrible affects it has on the civilian population," explained Daeubler-Gmelin.

A final problem of the reform states in the EC is emigration, said Daeubler-Gmelin.

"Quite a lot of the skilled people want to go away because they want more security, more of the quality life they believe they deserve," she said.

She also said the leaders of the EC had to come together to reorganize the reform states.

"There definitely had to be some strengthening of the economy in the EC. There were changing conditions and additional clauses such as a central bank and common currency," she said.

A second essential in creating the "new modern Europe" was forming a political union, said Daeubler-Gmelin.

Chairwoman discusses new problems facing EC

By KENYA JOHNSON
News Writer

The economic system, nationalism and emigration are the main problems facing the European Community (EC) today, said Dr. Herta Daeubler-Gmelin, Deputy Chairwoman of the German Social Democratic Party and of the SPD Parliamentary Group.

She spoke yesterday at the Hesburgh Center for International Studies on "Germany's Role After Unification."

"As an active politician, I must say that even after unification, the European Community has some significant problems to overcome," said Daeubler-Gmelin. "When the Iron Curtain fell we all saw families reuniting joyfully after nearly three decades of separation. It was perhaps the happiest day in the world."

But the problems didn't just go away, said Daeubler-Gmelin. "The problems that were in the background are coming to the foreground. And they're growing," she added.

Daeubler-Gmelin said one of the main problems is the economic system.

"The reform states are changing over to a privately-owned, competitive market and this is a real problem. It causes a great sacrifice on the people. Men and women are becoming poorer everyday," she said. "Companies are not able to help themselves without the help of Western democracies."

Daeubler-Gmelin cited nationalism as another problem which affects development.

"Czechoslovakia is separating, hopefully peacefully. In Yugoslavia there is ethnic tension and a civil war. You can see all the terrible affects it has on the civilian population," explained Daeubler-Gmelin.

A final problem of the reform states in the EC is emigration, said Daeubler-Gmelin.

"Quite a lot of the skilled people want to go away because they want more security, more of the quality life they believe they deserve," she said.

She also said the leaders of the EC had to come together to reorganize the reform states.

"There definitely had to be some strengthening of the economy in the EC. There were changing conditions and additional clauses such as a central bank and common currency," she said.

A second essential in creating the "new modern Europe" was forming a political union, said Daeubler-Gmelin.

Chairwoman discusses new problems facing EC

By KENYA JOHNSON
News Writer

The economic system, nationalism and emigration are the main problems facing the European Community (EC) today, said Dr. Herta Daeubler-Gmelin, Deputy Chairwoman of the German Social Democratic Party and of the SPD Parliamentary Group.

She spoke yesterday at the Hesburgh Center for International Studies on "Germany's Role After Unification."

"As an active politician, I must say that even after unification, the European Community has some significant problems to overcome," said Daeubler-Gmelin. "When the Iron Curtain fell we all saw families reuniting joyfully after nearly three decades of separation. It was perhaps the happiest day in the world."

But the problems didn't just go away, said Daeubler-Gmelin. "The problems that were in the background are coming to the foreground. And they're growing," she added.

Daeubler-Gmelin said one of the main problems is the economic system.

"The reform states are changing over to a privately-owned, competitive market and this is a real problem. It causes a great sacrifice on the people. Men and women are becoming poorer everyday," she said. "Companies are not able to help themselves without the help of Western democracies."

Daeubler-Gmelin cited nationalism as another problem which affects development.

"Czechoslovakia is separating, hopefully peacefully. In Yugoslavia there is ethnic tension and a civil war. You can see all the terrible affects it has on the civilian population," explained Daeubler-Gmelin.

A final problem of the reform states in the EC is emigration, said Daeubler-Gmelin.

"Quite a lot of the skilled people want to go away because they want more security, more of the quality life they believe they deserve," she said.

She also said the leaders of the EC had to come together to reorganize the reform states.

"There definitely had to be some strengthening of the economy in the EC. There were changing conditions and additional clauses such as a central bank and common currency," she said.

A second essential in creating the "new modern Europe" was forming a political union, said Daeubler-Gmelin.
The following are the results of a random telephone poll of 300 ND students (133 male, 167 female) and 100 Saint Mary's students conducted Sept. 16-21. One hundred nineteen of the students polled are Democrats, 161 are Republicans and 120 are independent. The margin of error is 5 percent.

Who do you plan to vote for?

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Candidate</th>
<th>Percentage</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Bush</td>
<td>35%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Clinton</td>
<td>36%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Undecided</td>
<td>30%</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Which candidate will be tougher on crime?

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Candidate</th>
<th>Percentage</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Bush</td>
<td>39%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Clinton</td>
<td>34%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Undecided</td>
<td>25%</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Which candidate is stronger on the environment?

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Candidate</th>
<th>Percentage</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Bush</td>
<td>36%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Undecided</td>
<td>15%</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Which character has a stronger character?

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Candidate</th>
<th>Percentage</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Bush</td>
<td>30%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Clinton</td>
<td>36%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Undecided</td>
<td>14%</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Is Clinton's draft status important to your decision?

Yes 24%  No 76%

Did Clinton's pro-choice stance affect your decision?

Yes 63%  No 37%

Did Clinton's speech last Friday affect your decision?

Yes 43%  No 57%

Did Clinton's speech affect your decision about who to vote for?

Yes 17%  No 83%

Favorable

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Issue</th>
<th>Bush</th>
<th>Clinton</th>
<th>Undecided</th>
<th>Percentage</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Environment</td>
<td>65%</td>
<td>20%</td>
<td>15%</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Economic policies</td>
<td>46%</td>
<td>30%</td>
<td>24%</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Power to give, nurture</td>
<td>40%</td>
<td>30%</td>
<td>30%</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Family values</td>
<td>56%</td>
<td>30%</td>
<td>14%</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Strong character</td>
<td>65%</td>
<td>35%</td>
<td>10%</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stronger character</td>
<td>46%</td>
<td>30%</td>
<td>24%</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The survey is the result of a random telephone poll of 300 Notre Dame students and 100 Saint Mary's students. The margin of error for the poll is 5 percent.

According to the poll, Clinton would clearly win a debate on the environment, 65 percent to 20 percent. Twenty percent picked Bush, while 15 percent were undecided.

However, the same poll shows that Bush will win the "family values" issue. Fifty-six percent of the students said Bush has a stronger character than Clinton. Thirty percent chose Clinton, with 14 percent undecided.

The poll also says that, while 63 percent of the students believe Clinton's pro-choice stance on abortion will affect their decision, only 24 percent said that Clinton's efforts to avoid the draft will affect the decision.

The survey is the result of a random telephone poll of 300 Notre Dame students and 100 Saint Mary's students conducted Sept. 16-21. One hundred nineteen of the students polled are Democrats, 161 are Republicans and 120 are independent. The margin of error is 5 percent.

Who do you plan to vote for?

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Candidate</th>
<th>Percentage</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Bush</td>
<td>36%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Clinton</td>
<td>35%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Undecided</td>
<td>29%</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Which candidate will be tougher on crime?

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Candidate</th>
<th>Percentage</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Bush</td>
<td>39%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Clinton</td>
<td>34%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Undecided</td>
<td>27%</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Which candidate is stronger on the environment?

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Candidate</th>
<th>Percentage</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Bush</td>
<td>36%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Clinton</td>
<td>35%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Undecided</td>
<td>29%</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Which character has a stronger character?

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Candidate</th>
<th>Percentage</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Bush</td>
<td>30%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Clinton</td>
<td>36%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Undecided</td>
<td>14%</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Is Clinton's draft status important to your decision?

Yes 24%  No 76%

Did Clinton's pro-choice stance affect your decision?

Yes 63%  No 37%

Did Clinton's speech last Friday affect your decision?

Yes 43%  No 57%

Did Clinton's speech affect your decision about who to vote for?

Yes 17%  No 83%

Favorable

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Issue</th>
<th>Bush</th>
<th>Clinton</th>
<th>Undecided</th>
<th>Percentage</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Environment</td>
<td>65%</td>
<td>20%</td>
<td>15%</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Economic policies</td>
<td>46%</td>
<td>30%</td>
<td>24%</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Power to give, nurture</td>
<td>40%</td>
<td>30%</td>
<td>30%</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Family values</td>
<td>56%</td>
<td>30%</td>
<td>14%</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Strong character</td>
<td>65%</td>
<td>35%</td>
<td>10%</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stronger character</td>
<td>46%</td>
<td>30%</td>
<td>24%</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Conclusion: POWs left in Laos

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two of Richard Nixon's Pentagon chiefs told a congressional panel Monday that the government believed American airmen were left alive in Laos and not returned at the end of the Vietnam War. Separate testimony by Melvin R. Laird and James B. Schlesinger, both of whom served as President Nixon's secretary of defense two decades ago, supported conclusions by leaders of the Senate investigating committee that not all Americans came home at the war's end.

"I think it's quite extraordinary when two former secretaries of defense both give evidence documenting that they had information, or they believed personally, that people were alive and not accounted for in Operation Homecoming," Sen. John Kerry, D-Mass., chairman of the Select Committee on POW-MIA Affairs, said.

"They have acknowledged publicly that there was evidence people did not come back who should have, that they were held prisoner to the best of our knowledge," Kerry said.

The panel also released internal White House and Pentagon documents supporting the suggestion that some in the government believed Americans had been left behind.

Laird and Schlesinger appeared as the panel began the first ever under-ear, public questioning of the highest-ranking officials of the Nixon administration about their efforts to win release of American POWs as they negotiated an end to the long, bitter war in Southeast Asia.

Henry A. Kissinger, Nixon's national security adviser and secretary of state who conducted the negotiations with the North Vietnamese, was scheduled to undergo questioning Tuesday.

The policy goes beyond legal requirements and exceeds recommendations made in June by a panel that analyzed 59 cases of abuse reported in the archdiocese since 1963, Bernardin said.

"I share the anguish of all those affected by this tragedy— the victims, their families, their communities and priests," said Bernardin, the leader of 2.3 million Roman Catholics in northeastern Illinois.

"While I cannot change the past, I can do something about the future.

"Under the policy, a to-free hotline will be established to handle complaints, and all allegations will be reported to the state agency that handles child-abuse cases, Bernardin said.

That agency, the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services (DCFS), notifies prosecutors when appropriate, he said.

A nine-member board made up of six lay people, including a former abuse victim who is now an attorney, and three priests will review all complaints and determine accused priests' fitness to serve, Bernardin said.

The board—which also includes a child psychologist, a psychiatric expert in sexual dysfunction, and parents— was chosen by the archdiocese but will report only to Bernardin.

"I accept the clinical data which suggest that once it has been demonstrated that a priest is an abuser, he should never again return to parish ministry or any ministry which might place a child at risk," the cardinal said.

De-icing plan will delay planes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government's plan for keeping airliners free of ice and snow has a price—more delays for wintertime passengers, but will it work?

The Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) says 16 accidents over the last decade related to the failure to de-ice the aircraft properly before takeoff, killing more than 100 people.

The agency is expected to announce its new de-icing plan in the next few weeks. Airlines then would have to submit their own de-icing proposals for approval and to implement them by Nov. 1, in time for winter flying.

Airline industry sources said the FAA plan is expected to lead to more intensive training for flight officers and de-icing ground crews, changes in type of de-icing fluid used, and construction of secondary de-icing facilities at the end of runways at some airports.

"We are going to be doing some things differently and you may see some additional delays," said David Hasse, an air safety chairman of the Airline Pilots Association. "Passengers should understand that this is a necessary part of the safety process."

Teams are being established at 30 major airports to determine the best way to clear ice from planes, he said.

The FAA was roundly criticized by the crash of a USAir flight on an icy runway at New York's LaGuardia Airport last March that killed 27 people. The agency is examining whether a buildup of ice on the wings of the Dutch-made Fokker 28 aircraft caused them to lose their aerodynamic lift.

The FAA says that in two of the 16 accidents determined to be related to ice build-up, the crashes of an Air Florida Boeing 737 in Washington in 1982 and of a Continental Airlines DC-9 at Denver in 1987 — in investigators found that ice formation after de-icing was a major contributing factor.

NOTRE DAME AND SAINT MARY’S SOPHOMORES

Tickets are now on sale for the CLASS CRUISE OF LAKE MICHIGAN Thursday, September 24th

Buses leave from the CCE at 6 p.m. and will return by 1 a.m.

Tickets are available at the LaFortune Info Desk for $20
Americans lose first balloon race

ROTTERDAM, Netherlands (AP) — Long after two other balloons had safely finished the first trans-Atlantic race and two others were ditched in the sea, an American team stayed aloft but off-course Monday, apparently headed for Morocco.

Troy Bradley and Richard Abruzzo would be the first balloonists to make a North America to Africa crossing.

The field of five nine-story balloons left Bangor, Maine, on Wednesday.

A Belgian team won, dropping to a sandy beach in Portugal. The team landed later in the day on Monday morning. A British team was aiming to break the 137-hour endurance record by continuing a quick landing because of poor weather forecasts. Their flying time was 114 hours and 27 minutes.

The Belgian team of Wim Verstraeten and Bertrand Piccard had hoped to set a new endurance record by continuing on to Italy, but decided to make a quick landing because of poor weather. Their flying time was 114 hours and 27 minutes.

"From Cyprus and Lebanon to Cambodia and Croatia," Bush said, "the blue beret has become a symbol of hope amid all that hostility."

Bush also backed an indefinite extension of an international agreement designed to block the spread of nuclear weapons.

At home, he proposed transferring funds from U.S. foreign aid programs to create a $1 billion fund to support American businessmen in providing expertise, goods and services in countries converting to free-market economies.

Some 40,000 U.S. jobs would be created under the program, the White House estimated.

Bush's call for revamping foreign aid could lead to a bipartisan effort if he wins reelection. A prominent Senate Democrat, Patrick Leahy of Vermont, has proposed reconsidering the $14 billion U.S. program next year and several senior House Democrats have called for major changes in the past.

Since World War II, Bush said, foreign aid has served as a Cold War weapon — and he said it still serves security interests.

"But foreign aid, as we've known it, needs to be transformed," he said. "The notion of the handout to less-developed countries needs to give way to cooperation in mutually productive economic relationships."

PROCTER & GAMBLE

MANAGEMENT SYSTEMS DIVISION

Invites interested students to learn more about career and internship opportunities available at Procter & Gamble!

PRESENTATION AND PIZZA

Thursday, September 24 at 7:00 PM
LaFortune Student Center - Foster Room

For Students Majoring in:

Engineering, MIS, Applied Math, CAPP, MBA

(Visit P&G at Industry Day, as well!)
Group rallies homosexual vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — A nonpartisan coalition of leading gay and lesbian groups announced efforts Tuesday to get homosexual voters to the polls in November.

The effort "is our response to the attempts by the fundamentalist fascists and immoral minority to make us the Willie Mays and the Jerry Falwell," said Tim McCarthy, coordinator of the "Come Out Voting Coalition."

The organization will air a television ad, distribute posters and promote voter registration among homosexuals. McCarthy said the coalition is composed of many leading gay and lesbian groups in the United States including Queer Nation, ACT-UP and the Human Rights Campaign Fund.

McCarthy said the campaign does not support any particular candidate. "We think people have a sense of who they should vote for."

Tim McFeeley, executive director of the Human Rights Campaign Fund and the Triangle Institute, which is sponsoring the ad, said homosexuals could have a decisive influence on the election.

The 30-second ad, titled "Come Out Voting" will be aired as a public service announcement and as a paid television commercial across the country. It will begin airing Sept. 22 in Columbus, Ohio. McCarthy said the ad is set to run on 72 gay-oriented cable outlets and he expects the ad to be picked up by a minimum of 50 other stations as a public service announcement.

McFeeley said he hopes to run the ad in other major media markets, including New York, Boston, Atlanta and Washington, D.C. He said he plans to target Midwestern and Southern states but has no specific buys in mind.

The ad, the posters and air time in Columbus were paid for by a private $35,000 contribution. McFeeley said fund-raising efforts were under way to buy more airtime in key markets.
Benyumin Tailor

Guest Columnist

hope was a contradiction to the reality of their environment. Gradually, I became less afraid of the rioters than of the underlying causes of their discontent. As a nation we have no doubt accomplished many significant political goals worldwide, we are, in the meantime, oblivious to the needs of a significant part of our growing population. These children care not about the lofty goals of a cleaner environment nor the liberation of former Soviet republics; simply "makin' it" on a daily basis is enough of an accomplishment.

The thought of prison may cause the established middle-class to think twice before going outside of the Law to improve their lot in life. However, to these children, they already live on a prison-like society, where little chance for escape. As a result, kids in poverty are unwilling to put forth repeated honest efforts, only to have their dreams shattered and again in the dirt of failure. Their spirit is being sapped away.

The thought of death does not frighten these children, because it is a common occurrence. To them there is no difference, whether succumbing to the effects of a shared needle, or to a bullet used to settle a score, or to hunger, or to hypothermia. Education, since the key to escape poverty, appears to be floundering in direction, no longer meeting the needs of those it is supposed to serve. It has become an institutional business without public accountability.

The school system fails to teach, it intimidates without providing a realistic assessment of ability, and may actually be contributing to the existence and perpetuation of the growing subculture of poverty. Sadly, it is becoming plainly evident that being young and innocent carries no guarantee of protection. Even those whom we are taught to trust deceive us by taking advantage of our naiveté. Clergy, child care workers and physicians are being indicted for sex crimes against the most helpless members of our society. And even if some are eventually proved innocent, the message is still clear: a number of those whom we trust are guilty. We must demand that all adults be role models for the children, for our leaders choose no to be. Being caught up within the effects of the Rodney King verdict enlightened me. I found myself seeing a spectrum of little tips of the iceberg of social injustices. Many may not feel its impact immediately, but they will eventually! The fastest growing group of those living within poverty are children. Not doing anything about this American Tragedy is true obscenity.

I sense a growing moral void and a companion public apathy towards the fate of young people. I wish to plead for someone to champion our cause.

Will the seriousness of young peoples' problems be recognized, or will our youthful appearance continue to distract adults? Must we forever be forced to use violence in order to prompt public attention? Benyumin Tailor is currently a resident of Wheeling, IL.

Dear Editor:

On Thursday, Oct. 1, Student Government will present a report to the Board of Trustees entitled, " Upholding the Mission: Teaching and Research at a National Catholic University." A follow-up on last spring's report entitled, "Back to Basics," the report was written by the Standing Committee for Undergraduate Education, chaired by Lynn Friedewald. Presented at a time when the University is revising its mission, the report is intended to convey to the Board the urgency of maintaining a high standard of undergraduate education while developing research and graduate studies.

By examining previous reports submitted by both faculty and students, as well as University self-studies COUP and PACE, the committee has identified three common themes: the need for structured teaching incentives; the need for improvement of academic life both in and out of the classroom; and the need for a serious examination of the undergraduate academic program, including but not limited to class size and class availability.

Specific recommendations include the creation of a Center for Teaching, the establishment of a college fellow program similar to that in the college of Arts and Letters in other colleges, and finding immediate interim solutions to correct the problems caused by faculty shortages. Two other areas of emphasis are the need for increased support for the hall fellow programs and the improvement of departmental advising.

Recommendations in these areas charge each student, as well as the faculty and administrators, with the task of improving participation in these areas. To make the recommendations effective - in essence to demonstrate our serious commitment to maintaining a high standard of undergraduate education - we as students have to do our part.

By making these recommendations to the Board, we call upon the University to provide the intimate academic experience we expected when we gave up scholarships to other universities and came to Notre Dame for what we believe to be the best undergraduate education available.

Students should support efforts to make Hall Fellow Programs a means of improving academic life and dorm as well as improving student-faculty interaction.

If you have any questions or concerns about undergraduate education, please send written comments to Student Government, c/o Standing Committee on Undergraduate Education, 253 LaFortune Student Center, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556.

Please support our requests to the Board of Trustees by taking control of your undergraduate education.

Gregory P. Butrus Student Body President Molly A. O'Neill Student Body Vice-President Lynn M. Friedewald Chair, Standing Committee on Undergraduate Education Sept. 20, 1992

Lara Sweedo

I hear America snoring.'
Information Resource Center's 'Gopher' system gives students access to the world

By JOE MONAHAN

Imagine sitting at a computer and being able to access the globe and make information retrieval as simple as clicking a mouse.

Gopher is a distributed database information system which allows a user to access a multitude of information quickly and easily. In other words, it allows you to sit at a computer and retrieve almost anything quite easily.

Joel Cooper of the Information Resource Center demonstrates the University's latest computer system, Gopher.

The purpose of gopher is to provide a "road map" for information, events, schedules, press releases, UDeLac, the Faculty Handbook, and an increasing number of things specific to the Notre Dame community.

The information that is available "off campus" includes getting world-wide access to other libraries, electronic phone books from other campuses, electronic magazines and texts including the complete works of William Shakespeare, the King James Bible, and historic documents such as the Bill of Rights, the Gettysburg Address, and Martin Luther King's "I Have a Dream" speech, other Gopher servers (mostly universities like Notre Dame).

Two things I like about Gopher is that it's growing fast, which means more and more services will soon be available, and it's not wasting any trees, because updating information is no problem.

Cooper said, "Gopher is a renewable resource. And it's all public information. Gopher just organizes it differently."

For more information on how you can use Gopher, contact the Information Resource Center on the first floor of the computer-math building.

Vega's "99.9 F" reveals poetic influence

Suzanne Vega

BY ROLANDO DE AGUIAR

Music Critic

Suzanne Vega, shown here, explores new lyrical and musical territory in her most recent album, 99.9 F.

Another song, "Two Things I Like About," is a loving and affectionate ode to Vega's late husband, Lyle "Butch" Bovey. The song is an example of Vega's ability to write about love in a way that is both personal and relatable.

The song, an examination of learning the intricacies of adult life, is told in a child's language, communicating a message of growth and responsibility.

"Pick up a stick, dig up a clod, walk the street, why becomes a town/ All of the people depend on you not to hurt them or bang the stick down," sings Vega, in a style that is both straightforward and poetic.

The electronic sound of "Blood Makes Noise" is indeed enjoyable, but additional 1992-93 Notre Dame Basketball from your dorm on the Freshman Class Council?

I f f Texas A&MvS: St jdaeph's

I t  Providence

20 Boston College

6 Evansville !&:

4 Loyola

2 USC

1 Charity Intrasquad Game

31 UCLA / F V

27 Missouri

•ELEC TIO N S ARE TO  BE HELD IN  EAC H  HALL O N  M ONDAY,

23 La Salle

9 Dayton

23 North Carolina

23 Oregon State

3 Valparaiso

7 Louisville

Home games in boldface type

The Observer/Christopher Mulvihill

FRESHMAN CLASS COUNCIL ELECTIONS

Do YOU want to serve as the representative from your dorm on the Freshman Class Council?

• Pick up a petition from your hall Judicial Board Commissioner by WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 23.

• Have at least 10 signatures on the petition, and return it to your J-Board Commissioner by 12:00 noon on FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 25, to be on the ballot in your dorm.

• Campaigning begins at midnight Saturday (9/26), and ends at midnight Sunday (9/27), giving you all day Saturday and Sunday.

• No more than $20 may be spent on campaign materials by each candidate.

• ELECTIONS ARE TO BE HELD IN EACH HALL ON MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 28.

BE A PART OF THE ONLY DEMOCRACY FRESHMEN EVER SEE.
Tough road gives the Belles trouble

BY EILEEN McGUIRE
Sports Writer

Many teams would not look forward to participating in a tournament where they have no experience or knowledge of competition at all.

The Saint Mary's volleyball team had that knowledge of the have no experience or knowledge of the tournament site. They were required to play ten minutes however, as the Belles were prepared for the game. We had moments of brilliance, but we just couldn't get it together. They (Baldwin-Wallace) were better."

Senior Captain Karen Lorton agreed. They were a good team all around. They were scrappy, and they were able to get everything. However, we had moments of brilliance where we looked wonderful, but we just couldn't get it together. They (Baldwin-Wallace) were better."

Senior Captain Karen Lorton agreed. They were a good team all around. They were scrappy, and they were able to get everything. However, we had moments of brilliance where we looked wonderful, but we just couldn't get it together. They (Baldwin-Wallace) were better."

In the Belles' second match (against Wittenberg), Saint Mary's was quickly off to a great start. Although they lost the first game in a breath-taking confrontation, the Belles took the match 12-15, 15-3, 15-11. This allowed the Belles to regain their confidence.

Senior Captain Karen Lorton excelled both offensively and defensively this weekend. She came up with 43 kills and 66 digs in five games.

"Every time Karen got the ball she did something with it," said Schroeder-Biek. "Junior Michelle Martino sparked the tournament with 83 assists in the five-game duration.

In the play-off game against John Hopkins, the Belles were down 12-0. They came back before losing the game by a score of 15-12.

"The whole tournament was a great team effort," stated Schroeder-Biek. "We served over 900 this weekend and averaged 3 aces per game. The Belles were not a team in that tournament that we could not have beaten. We just need to concentrate on our mental game," she concluded.

Gianis beat the Bears for their first win

CHICAGO (AP) — The New York Giants finally found a remedy for a leaky defense that gave up the most points in the NFL in the season's first two weeks. Keep it off the field.

With Phil Simms throwing for 220 yards and two touchdowns and Stephen Baker catching seven passes for 109 yards, the Giants reverted to the ball control formula that won them a Super Bowl just two seasons ago to beat the Chicago Bears 27-14 Monday night for their first win of the season.

After trailing 7-0 and 14-7, the Giants tied the game 14-14 by halftime and then controlled the ball for 12:17 in the third quarter and outgained the Bears 155-3 in the period.

They broke the tie on a 13-yard pass from Simms to Baker that gave them the lead in a game for the first time this season, then added 31- and 32-yard field goals by Matt Bahr, the second set up by Dave Meggett's 39-yard punt return.

Simms, who finished 19 for 30, also had a 15-yard TD pass to Howard Cross in the first period and Rodney Hampton, who gained 21 yards in 92 carries, scored on a 1-yard run as the Giants won in Chicago for the first time since 1962, when the Bears played at Wrigley Field. They had lost six times during that period.

For the Bears, it was the second straight loss after an opening-day win and marked the first time since 1983 that they have lost more than one game in September.

The weird first half featured three fumbles by the Bears that New York recovered themselves, a botched fake punt by Chicago, an interception of a pass by Chicago running back Brad Muster and a short field goal that led to the ejection of Giants wide receiver Mark Ingram.

Chicago scored first, driving 74 yards in nine plays capped by an 8-yard TD pass to Neal Anderson by Jim Harbaugh, who was 8 of 14 for 156 yards. But the Giants came right back, going 78 yards in seven plays as Simms hit Cross from 15 yards out for the score. Then it was Chicago, a 42-yard connection from Harbaugh to Muster, who caught the ball 5 yards past the line of scrimmage, juggled it, then broke three tackles and took off down the right sideline for the end zone.

But the Bears blew a chance to take an even bigger lead after Trace Armstrong recovered a fumble by Jarrod Bunch at the New York 26.

Chicago then called a timeout and the first play was an option pass by Muster that sailed far over the head of every Bear and was picked off by Greg Jackson in the end zone.

Everson Walls' interception, the 55th of his career, set up the tying score for the Giants, which came on a 1-yard dive by Hampton at the end of a 47-yard drive.

Then the Giants took the opening kickoff of the second half and went 80 yards in 11 plays capped by Simms' TD pass to Baker in the corner of the end zone.

INDUSTRY DAY 1992

BANQUET

Tuesday, September 22. It will be held in the Monogram Room of the J.A.C.C.

6:30 Hors d'oeuvres 7:15 Dinner

* If you signed up for the Banquet your I.D. will be invalid for dinner Tuesday
* Check in and table assignments begin at 6:30 p.m.
* Dress is semiformal.

CAREER FAIR

Wednesday, September 23.
Fitzpatrick Hall

11:00 a.m. until 4:00 p.m.

* Representatives from over 30 major companies.
* Opportunities for full-time employment and summer internships.
* Bring your resumes!

Hosted by the JOINT ENGINEERING COUNCIL and SOCIETY OF WOMEN ENGINEERS
Braves win; magic number is six

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Pete Smith improved to 6-0 with 7 2-3 strong innings and Atlanta scored two runs on wild pitches Monday night, reducing its magic number to six for clinching the NL West.

Smith allowed one run and four hits before Mike Stanton was placed on the disabled list. Smith, who did not have a winning record in any of his previous five seasons with Atlanta, improved his career mark to 25-40.

David Justice hit a two-run homer in the ninth for the Braves, his 19th.

Despite allowing only four hits and an earned run in seven innings, Hershiser (10-14) lost to the Angels, his first in the major leagues, to highlight a four-run sixth inning as San Francisco beat San Diego.

Another rookie, Ted Wood, also hit his first major-league home run in the ninth.

With scheduled starter John Burkett sidelined, four San Francisco pitchers combined to pitch a nine-hitter that sent the Padres to their fourth straight loss.

Leo Burnett Company, Inc.
Advertising

What do a chemistry major, a marketing major, a finance major, and an American Studies major have in common?

They were all hired by Leo Burnett.

Whether your major is basket weaving or political science, you might have what it takes to get into advertising. Because, at Leo Burnett, we look for more than just a major. We look for smart, fun, energetic people who are interested in the world of advertising. If you’re one of the interested, stop by our presentation Sept. 24 at the University Club from 8-10 p.m. You’ll see some great commercials, and you’ll hear Notre Dame alums tell you what a career in advertising is really like.

Get there early, the good food goes fast!

The Observer

SPORTS BRIEFS

ND/SMC women’s lacrosse is still looking for members. Questions? Call Heather at 284-5103 or Cathy at 283-4998.

The campus 2-person golf scramble will take place on September 27. The tournament is open to all students, faculty and staff. Sign up as an individual or in pairs. Entries and entry fees due by September 23.

ND Varsity Hockey is looking for statistics and videographers for the upcoming season. Anyone interested please call assistant coach Jim Johnson at 239-5227.

ND Tae Kwon Do Club will be having class in the fencing gym Wednesday at 8 p.m. Questions? Call Tim Kalamaras at 277-4797.

SportsTalk on WVFI 640 AM welcomes Jim Flanigan and cross country runners Mike McWilliams and Eva Flood on Tuesday at 8 p.m. Call in with questions at 239-6400.

IH

continued from page 16

SIEGFRIED 13, KNOTT 7

Siegfried bested Knott on a pair of touch downs by Slammer quarterback Marcie McNiel and Suzanne Journey. Journey had two touchdown receptions from McNiel in addition to a converted extra point.

The Angels scored on a 50-yard center-sneak play.

Defensively, Beth Keuter had an interception, but the entire defensive team contributed in the game.

Siegfried plays Lewis at 7 p.m. on Wednesday and Knott plays PW at 8 p.m.

WALSH 16, HOWARD 0

Walach shut down Howard with a strong defense led by Jen Riley who had two interceptions and two sacks in the game.

Walach’s first touchdown came on a pass from quarterback Michelle Drury to Erin Nicholas. The second touchdown was scored by Terri Castellucci, on a running play.

Although Howard defeated Radin 6-0 in a scrimmage last Thursday night, the team wasn’t ready for Walsh, but should be ready for their next game on Wednesday night against Off-Campus at 8 p.m. Walsh plays BP at 6 p.m. on Wednesday.

The Observer News Department is now accepting applications for the following paid position:

Business Editor

Please submit a resume and personal statement to David Kinney by 5 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 24.

For more info, call 239-5303
Women's golf wins, but men aren't happy

The Observer
Tuesday, September 22, 1992

Charlotte's C. A. (AP) — J.R. Reid signed a multiyear contract extension with Charlotte on Monday (a deal that was expected to help the Hornets move closer to signing No. 1 draft pick Alonzo Mourning. "It's an agreement to renegotiate his contract and, in the process, defer a sum of money until down the road, brings us that much closer to signing Alonzo Mourning, and demonstrates J.R. as being a team player," team president Spencer Stolpen said.

The team did not release details of the contract. The Gaston (N.C.) Gazette reported in Tuesday's editions that Mourning will sign a six-year, $21 million contract sometime this week. "It's conceivable that it could be done Wednesday and we're confident that it will be done in short order," team president Spencer Stolpen told the paper.

Should Mourning sign this week, he would be the second Hornets' first-rounder until down the road, brings us a lot of experience in high school and national tournaments. Other contributions to the team were from Crissy Klein (166, 6th), Katie Shannon (167, 5th), Sara Ruzzo (171, 10th), and Alicia Murray (173, 11th).

The women continued to struggle with the short game, as many shots were lost with short putts. But the team is confident for next weekend's tournament, and looks to build on their improvement.

But unfortunately the story is not the same for the men's team, which was disappointed with a ninth-place finish at the Cincinnati Invitational this weekend.

Miami of Ohio won the field of sixteen teams, finishing 34 strokes in front of the Irish. The team was looking to continue its strong performances, but the course was just too much for Coach George Thomas' men.

"Maybe we had a bad start and couldn't recover, but I expected much more than that," said Thomas.

The team was led by Joe Deminer's 152, followed by Chris Dayton (156), Chris O'Connell (160), Mike Chaney (162), and Cole Hanson (163). The men have a while to work on their game and prepare for the MEI's in two weeks.

The Observer is now accepting applications for the following paid position:

Sports Copy Editor

Please submit a one-page personal statement to Mike Scrudato by Friday Sept. 25. Contact Mike at 239-247-1 for more information.

FOR JUNIOR NURSING STUDENTS

A NURSING EXPERIENCE AT MAYO FOUNDATION HOSPITALS - ROCHESTER, MN

Here is your opportunity to work at Mayo Medical Center for the summer.

Summer III is a paid, supervised hospital work experience at Saint Marys Hospital and Rochester Methodist Hospital, both part of Mayo Medical Center in Rochester, Minnesota. You are eligible for Summer III after your junior year of a four year baccalaureate nursing program. It includes experience on medical and surgical nursing units or in operating rooms.

Application Deadline: December 1, 1992.

For more information contact:
Mayo Medical Center Nursing Recruitment
P.O. Box 6097
Rochester, Minnesota 55903
1-800-247-8590

Mayo Foundation is an affirmative action and equal opportunity employer and employer.

The Class of '93 present
A Class picnic
Wednesday 7 - 9 p.m.
Free Burgers, Hot Dogs, & Brats

must be 21

--

Horns close to re-signing Reid

Charlotte's N.C. (AP) — J.R. Reid signed a multiyear contract extension with Charlotte on Monday (a deal that was expected to help the Hornets move closer to signing No. 1 draft pick Alonzo Mourning. "It's an agreement to renegotiate his contract and, in the process, defer a sum of money until down the road, brings us that much closer to signing Alonzo Mourning, and demonstrates J.R. as being a team player," team president Spencer Stolpen said.

The team did not release details of the contract. The Gaston (N.C.) Gazette reported in Tuesday's editions that Mourning will sign a six-year, $21 million contract sometime this week. "It's conceivable that it could be done Wednesday and we're confident that it will be done in short order," team president Spencer Stolpen told the paper.

Should Mourning sign this week, he would be the second Hornets' first-rounder until down the road, brings us a lot of experience in high school and national tournaments. Other contributions to the team were from Crissy Klein (166, 6th), Katie Shannon (167, 5th), Sara Ruzzo (171, 10th), and Alicia Murray (173, 11th).

The women continued to struggle with the short game, as many shots were lost with short putts. But the team is confident for next weekend's tournament, and looks to build on their improvement.

But unfortunately the story is not the same for the men's team, which was disappointed with a ninth-place finish at the Cincinnati Invitational this weekend.

Miami of Ohio won the field of sixteen teams, finishing 34 strokes in front of the Irish. The team was looking to continue its strong performances, but the course was just too much for Coach George Thomas' men.

"Maybe we had a bad start and couldn't recover, but I expected much more than that," said Thomas.

The team was led by Joe Deminer's 152, followed by Chris Dayton (156), Chris O'Connell (160), Mike Chaney (162), and Cole Hanson (163). The men have a while to work on their game and prepare for the MEI's in two weeks.

The Observer is now accepting applications for the following paid position:

Sports Copy Editor

Please submit a one-page personal statement to Mike Scrudato by Friday Sept. 25. Contact Mike at 239-247-1 for more information.

FOR JUNIOR NURSING STUDENTS

A NURSING EXPERIENCE AT MAYO FOUNDATION HOSPITALS - ROCHESTER, MN

Here is your opportunity to work at Mayo Medical Center for the summer.

Summer III is a paid, supervised hospital work experience at Saint Marys Hospital and Rochester Methodist Hospital, both part of Mayo Medical Center in Rochester, Minnesota. You are eligible for Summer III after your junior year of a four year baccalaureate nursing program. It includes experience on medical and surgical nursing units or in operating rooms.

Application Deadline: December 1, 1992.

For more information contact:
Mayo Medical Center Nursing Recruitment
P.O. Box 6097
Rochester, Minnesota 55903
1-800-247-8590

Mayo Foundation is an affirmative action and equal opportunity employer and employer.

The Class of '93 present
A Class picnic
Wednesday 7 - 9 p.m.
Free Burgers, Hot Dogs, & Brats

must be 21
Women's IH football season kicks off

By JENNY MARTEN

The Observer / Jake Peters

Stopper Mandy Eiler and the Belles defeated the University of Chicago yesterday in a game called early due to heavy thunderstorms.

Irish hoops schedule for 1992-93 is announced

By NICOLE McGRATH

The University of Notre Dame's men's basketball team announced its 1992-93 schedule recently. Once again, second-year head coach John MacLeod and the Irish will not shy away from the top teams in the nation.

Women's IH football season kicks off

By JENNY MARTEN

The Observer / Jake Peters

Stopper Mandy Eiler and the Belles defeated the University of Chicago yesterday in a game called early due to heavy thunderstorms.

Irish hoops schedule for 1992-93 is announced

By NICOLE McGRATH

The University of Notre Dame's men's basketball team announced its 1992-93 schedule recently. Once again, second-year head coach John MacLeod and the Irish will not shy away from the top teams in the nation.

Women's IH football season kicks off

By JENNY MARTEN

The Observer / Jake Peters

Stopper Mandy Eiler and the Belles defeated the University of Chicago yesterday in a game called early due to heavy thunderstorms.

Irish hoops schedule for 1992-93 is announced

By NICOLE McGRATH

The University of Notre Dame's men's basketball team announced its 1992-93 schedule recently. Once again, second-year head coach John MacLeod and the Irish will not shy away from the top teams in the nation.

Women's IH football season kicks off

By JENNY MARTEN

The Observer / Jake Peters

Stopper Mandy Eiler and the Belles defeated the University of Chicago yesterday in a game called early due to heavy thunderstorms.

Irish hoops schedule for 1992-93 is announced

By NICOLE McGRATH

The University of Notre Dame's men's basketball team announced its 1992-93 schedule recently. Once again, second-year head coach John MacLeod and the Irish will not shy away from the top teams in the nation.

Women's IH football season kicks off

By JENNY MARTEN

The Observer / Jake Peters

Stopper Mandy Eiler and the Belles defeated the University of Chicago yesterday in a game called early due to heavy thunderstorms.

Irish hoops schedule for 1992-93 is announced

By NICOLE McGRATH

The University of Notre Dame's men's basketball team announced its 1992-93 schedule recently. Once again, second-year head coach John MacLeod and the Irish will not shy away from the top teams in the nation.

Women's IH football season kicks off

By JENNY MARTEN

The Observer / Jake Peters

Stopper Mandy Eiler and the Belles defeated the University of Chicago yesterday in a game called early due to heavy thunderstorms.

Irish hoops schedule for 1992-93 is announced

By NICOLE McGRATH

The University of Notre Dame's men's basketball team announced its 1992-93 schedule recently. Once again, second-year head coach John MacLeod and the Irish will not shy away from the top teams in the nation.

Women's IH football season kicks off

By JENNY MARTEN

The Observer / Jake Peters

Stopper Mandy Eiler and the Belles defeated the University of Chicago yesterday in a game called early due to heavy thunderstorms.

Irish hoops schedule for 1992-93 is announced

By NICOLE McGRATH

The University of Notre Dame's men's basketball team announced its 1992-93 schedule recently. Once again, second-year head coach John MacLeod and the Irish will not shy away from the top teams in the nation.

Women's IH football season kicks off

By JENNY MARTEN

The Observer / Jake Peters

Stopper Mandy Eiler and the Belles defeated the University of Chicago yesterday in a game called early due to heavy thunderstorms.

Irish hoops schedule for 1992-93 is announced

By NICOLE McGRATH

The University of Notre Dame's men's basketball team announced its 1992-93 schedule recently. Once again, second-year head coach John MacLeod and the Irish will not shy away from the top teams in the nation.

Women's IH football season kicks off

By JENNY MARTEN

The Observer / Jake Peters

Stopper Mandy Eiler and the Belles defeated the University of Chicago yesterday in a game called early due to heavy thunderstorms.

Irish hoops schedule for 1992-93 is announced

By NICOLE McGRATH

The University of Notre Dame's men's basketball team announced its 1992-93 schedule recently. Once again, second-year head coach John MacLeod and the Irish will not shy away from the top teams in the nation.

Women's IH football season kicks off

By JENNY MARTEN

The Observer / Jake Peters

Stopper Mandy Eiler and the Belles defeated the University of Chicago yesterday in a game called early due to heavy thunderstorms.

Irish hoops schedule for 1992-93 is announced

By NICOLE McGRATH

The University of Notre Dame's men's basketball team announced its 1992-93 schedule recently. Once again, second-year head coach John MacLeod and the Irish will not shy away from the top teams in the nation.

Women's IH football season kicks off

By JENNY MARTEN

The Observer / Jake Peters

Stopper Mandy Eiler and the Belles defeated the University of Chicago yesterday in a game called early due to heavy thunderstorms.

Irish hoops schedule for 1992-93 is announced

By NICOLE McGRATH

The University of Notre Dame's men's basketball team announced its 1992-93 schedule recently. Once again, second-year head coach John MacLeod and the Irish will not shy away from the top teams in the nation.