Bush, Clinton spend final days on campaign trail

Bush fights till end with fitful gusto
Clinton won't ease up schedule

CINCYNNATI (AP) — Bill Clinton is looking worn and fighting a raspy voice as his 20-hour campaign days catch up with him. But the Dem-ocrat quoted a former basketball coach to explain why he won't ease up. "Time's running out. Don't stall. Press." Clinton rejected aides' advice to trim back his pace. He was eagerly squeezing hands when he got to his hotel a.m. Sunday and brushed off a suggestion that he sleep in and skip church. Still, his vocal cords were shot by church time. And at a drizzly pre-game tailgate party, Clinton tried to say a few words. All that came out was painful, scratchy noise. "Bad, huh?" he rasped out to the crowd. "I'm going to let Hillary say something." "I want you to remember," he whispered on. "We've fought for a year. We've got two days to go. My voice will be better by this afternoon. And I'll be there Monday. I'll be there Tuesday." "Fight on." And that was it. Clinton lasted 21 seconds, and then Clinton spoke. Later, at an airport rally in Wilkes-

BIL CLINTON Barre, Pa., Clinton's voice seemed better but still hoarse and cracking as he talked for a few minutes and said the election was between "those who say things are fine and those of us who believe we can do better." "Sick as a dog," was how aide Bruce Lindsey described Clinton, but quickly amended that description to "just voice sick." Lindsey and other aides traveling at the same pace are sick, too. On Saturday night Clinton said he was remembering the words of an old friend and basketball coach as he pressed to the finish line.

ND hosts law reform committee

By ALLISON CONNOLLY

For the first time Notre Dame hosted the meeting of the Advisory Committee on Appellate Rules of the Judicial Conference of the United States October 20-21st. "Notre Dame Law School has had a long-term relationship with the committee and that's one of the main reasons this site was chosen," said Carol Mooney, associate dean of the law school.

The semiannual meeting serves to initiate reforms in federal appellate procedure, according to Mooney.

Mooney has served as the reporter to the committee for the past seven years, and was named by the chief justice of the Supreme Court, as were the other 15 members of the committee. As reporter, Mooney prepared and drafted the research for the committee's recommendations in federal appellate procedure, according to Mooney.

Mooney has served as the reporter to the committee for the past seven years, and was named by the chief justice of the Supreme Court, as were the other 15 members of the committee. As reporter, Mooney prepared and drafted the research for the committee's recommendations in federal appellate procedure, according to Mooney.

Columbia completes space voyage

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Columbia returned home with six astronauts Sunday, ending a 16-day voyage in which they released a Canadian robotic earthquake research and test a CANadian robotic earthquake research and test. A Canadian robotic earthquake research and test was used to study the effects of the 1989 Loma Prieta, Calif. earthquake on the Columbia.

The spaceship glided through the atmosphere Sunday, ending a 10-day voyage in which they released a Canadian robotic earthquake research and test. A Canadian robotic earthquake research and test was used to study the effects of the 1989 Loma Prieta, Calif. earthquake on the Columbia.

Kevin Chilton, an astronaut, addressed the crew of "Rudy" pleased with filming on campus

Crew of 'Rudy' pleased with filming on campus

The Observer

VOL. XXV, NO. 45

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1992

The THE INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER SERVING NOTRE DAME AND SAINT MARY'S

Bush, Clinton spend final days on campaign trail

Bush fights till end with fitful gusto
Clinton won't ease up schedule

CINCYNNATI (AP) — Bill Clinton is looking worn and fighting a raspy voice as his 20-hour campaign days catch up with him. But the Dem-ocrat quoted a former basketball coach to explain why he won't ease up. "Time's running out. Don't stall. Press." Clinton rejected aides' advice to trim back his pace. He was eagerly squeezing hands when he got to his hotel a.m. Sunday and brushed off a suggestion that he sleep in and skip church. Still, his vocal cords were shot by church time. And at a drizzly pre-game tailgate party, Clinton tried to say a few words. All that came out was painful, scratchy noise. "Bad, huh?" he rasped out to the crowd. "I'm going to let Hillary say something." "I want you to remember," he whispered on. "We've fought for a year. We've got two days to go. My voice will be better by this afternoon. And I'll be there Monday. I'll be there Tuesday." "Fight on." And that was it. Clinton lasted 21 seconds, and then Clinton spoke. Later, at an airport rally in Wilkes-

BIL CLINTON Barre, Pa., Clinton's voice seemed better but still hoarse and cracking as he talked for a few minutes and said the election was between "those who say things are fine and those of us who believe we can do better." "Sick as a dog," was how aide Bruce Lindsey described Clinton, but quickly amended that description to "just voice sick." Lindsey and other aides traveling at the same pace are sick, too. On Saturday night Clinton said he was remembering the words of an old friend and basketball coach as he pressed to the finish line.

ND hosts law reform committee

By ALLISON CONNOLLY

For the first time Notre Dame hosted the meeting of the Advisory Committee on Appellate Rules of the Judicial Conference of the United States October 20-21st. "Notre Dame Law School has had a long-term relationship with the committee and that's one of the main reasons this site was chosen," said Carol Mooney, associate dean of the law school.

The semiannual meeting serves to initiate reforms in federal appellate procedure, according to Mooney.

Mooney has served as the reporter to the committee for the past seven years, and was named by the chief justice of the Supreme Court, as were the other 15 members of the committee. As reporter, Mooney prepared and drafted the research for the committee's recommendations in federal appellate procedure, according to Mooney.

Columbia completes space voyage

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Columbia returned home with six astronauts Sunday, ending a 16-day voyage in which they released a satellite for use in earthquake research and tested a Canadian robotic vision system. The spacecraft glided through a clear sky and landed at Kennedy Space Center at 9:05 a.m. EST. A bellowing cry, red, white and blue drag chute slowed Columbia as it rolled to a stop on the runway. "Beautiful ending to a great mission," Mission Control's Kevin Chilton, an astronaut, told the crew. It was a fine morning for a landing. There were only a few wispy clouds and, contrary to earlier forecasts, barely any fog.

The waiting game

Sorin Hall Senior John Creel reads to pass the time while waiting in line for basketball student tickets Sunday night. Tickets went on sale this morning.

Crew of 'Rudy' pleased with filming on campus

By EMILY HAGE

Positive persistence seems to be the name of the game when it comes to "Rudy" the movie and Rudy the individual. Last Friday, the Tri-star crew and actors weathered a change in weather to film football shots for the upcoming feature film. The men were on the field from the shivering stand-ins on the sidelines to the actors huddled around in the dirt to "look dirty," cannot include any Notre Dame football players according to NCAA regulations.

A panel comprised of Bob Fried, producer; David Anspaugh, director; Angelo Pizzo, writer; Sean Astin, who plays Rudy; Rudy Rüettiger, ND '76, Richard Conklin, Associate Vice-President of University relations; and Joseph Kerna, mayor of South Bend, spoke at a press conference afterwards. Conklin began by saying that this is the second time in 52 years that they have announced a movie at Notre Dame, and he said he has been pleased with their presence on campus. "This group has been very eager to open into the education program and involve students in an educational way," said Conklin. He said that they have welcomed the participation of students, including the art history and communications departments. They have not used ND "as just a backdrop," said Conklin.

Mayor Kerna said he also felt positively about the effect of the "Rudy" filming on the South Bend community. "This has had a significant economic benefit. They are bringing money into the community, but more important than the short-term benefits is that South Bend and ND will become part of movie that will be a success like the last one," said Kerna.

Rudy's persistence featured in the film brought his story to the screen. "The principal factor has to do with Rudy. He kept calling, and he was turned down many times. He never left us alone, and it kept stirring in our minds," said Anspaugh.

The message of "Rudy" encouraged Rüettiger to persist. "I was just like any other guy, but I wanted to do an extraordinary thing. The journey is the pain we all go through. It took the integrity of the message. I felt that my story could inspire other people. Why not give a universal message, going back to the dream we all have. Sometimes people try to steal our dreams," said Rüettiger.

Having Rüettiger on the set every day has helped Astin to get to know his character. He said, "Rudy's there every day. It's neat for me because of the collaborative nature of this movie. There's an extra dynamic. It's kind of fun." Astin has undergone an extensive weight training program, and even had the chance to "put on the pads" with Rüettiger. "It's been an evolutionary process. Everything I see and learn about Rudy I'm finding out more about him," said Astin. "Rudy is a survivor, a multi-faceted guy," said Astin.

see JUSTICE page 6

see RUDY page 6

see JUSTICE page 6

see RUDY page 6
Inside Column

A final consideration before voting

In the last few weeks we have been inundated with sermons from the religious right about the importance of the ballots we cast tomorrow...and face it, we all ignore them because we are going to vote our individual conscience anyway. I prefer to focus on the ramifications of the ballots we cast tomorrow as I strongly feel that it is not simply a religious issue. Whether a person committed a sin by voting the way he did depends on the real issue: whether an innocent being is given the opportunity to experience life or is extinguished.

Abortion. It is the first entry in the Yellow Pages. Perhaps it should be cross-referenced as “Consequences?” I can just see the advertisements: Did you make a mistake, and now wish to avoid your responsibility at any cost? Don’t think, just call 4-COPUT now!

But that might force people to actually reflect upon what they were about to do, and the abortion-rights camp doesn’t want that at all. That’s why they oppose waiting periods, parental/gestational notification and mandatory counseling. You see, they’re not pro-choice at all. The word “choice” implies multiple options, and this group is going to any length to see that alternatives are not presented to those who are inclined to have an abortion.

We recognize why the so-called “pro-choice” are so opposed to any choice other than abortion: it undermines their objective. You see, convert the feminist agenda. Pregnancy is the indisputable “trump card.” It is women’s ultimate power over the men who dominate society. Whether or not you subscribe to feminist sophistry, can you justify their misdirected malice?

Or maybe you exempts yourself from the above because while you claim you are personally opposed to abortion, it is a woman’s right to do as she chooses with her own body. Patently false. It is not her right to, say, steal “with her own body.” Or do drugs, or engage in prostitution. I say, enough. It is just a matter of whether or not you have the fortitude to stand up and say, No, this is wrong, and you are forbidden to do it. Democracy entails limitations.

It all comes down to your integrity (or lack thereof). I personally would stick the lethal needle in a psycho rapist killer or myself get killed as a member of the national defense on which I would be spending money. I don’t close my eyes and let other people do the dirty work I claim to support. So if you could vacate esp aet a fetus limb from limb, I respect your vote for Clinton or Perot. If not, you’re a pretty sorry individual who should really contemplate the validity of your convictions.

I’m not trying to hoodwink anyone: a vote for George Bush is a vote to stack the Supreme Court to overturn Roe—an extreme measure for an extreme injustice. The Vote Pro-Life billboard on Eddy St. says it all: The issue is that important.

The views expressed in the Inside Column are those of the author and not necessarily those of The Observer.
IU students file lawsuit to appeal unfair grades

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — Students who failed a management course deserve a fair hearing by Indiana University on an appeal of their grades, a judge has ruled.

Students have filed a lawsuit in Allen Circuit Court involving marks given in the course taught by Ahmad Karim, an associate professor of business and economics, during the summer of 1989 at the Fort Wayne campus.

The action alleged the students were denied due process and had not been properly informed of the evaluation criteria.

Sally Mahnken, one of the students, said the course usually was taught by professor Richard Hill, but he was on paid leave when the course was supposed to cover the behavioral sciences aspect of the course.

Mahnken focused on production aspects of the course.

The few. The Proud. The Marines.

Senators say rape charge totally false

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Sen. Dave Durenberger, R-Minn., said he'll take a paternity test to disprove a woman's claim that he raped her in 1963 and fathered a son.

Joyce Rauscher, who said she was attacked after hiring Durenberger as a divorce lawyer, is seeking at least $50,000 in damages for physical and emotional pain and the cost of raising the baby.

Durenberger was served with a civil complaint in July and a formal lawsuit was expected to be filed Monday, the Star Tribune reported Sunday.

"With every fiber in my being I deny what this woman has charged me with," Durenberger said in a statement Saturday. "If the motivation of this suit is political or monetary, it is that very tragic. But if it is personal — this young man seeking the truth — that truth and its consequences to me are not something I fear."

"Though I am under no legal obligation to do so, I will submit to appropriate scientific tests that will put this matter to rest."

Rauscher's lawyer, Elizabeth Cloutier, welcomed Durenberger's willingness to undergo a paternity test.

Durenberger was elected to the Senate in 1978. His current term expires in January 1995.

Happy 19th Birthday Kath

Love, Eileen, Michelle, Sandra, & Sara

"For a chance to move in the fast lane? Then check out Marine Corps Avionics. The offering is superb. The challenges are unique. Your ticket to fly in your college diploma and your drive to succeed."
Attend the Abbott Laboratories' Scientific Career Fair and meet with managers to discuss Abbott's exceptional career environment for scientists. The diverse products we develop enable us to offer positions in a wide range of scientific disciplines. We are committed to being the best through vigorous R&D investment, and through selecting and developing scientific talent at all levels.

We will be discussing our current openings for:

PH.D
- Biochemists
- Molecular Biologists
- Protein Biochemists
- Organic Chemists
- Research Analytical Chemists
- Clinical Research Associates
- Research Pharmacists
- Research Microbiologists

MASTER'S DEGREE
- Biochemists
- Cellular/Molecular Biologists
- Microbiologists/Immunologists
- Organic Chemists
- Analytical Chemists
- Clinical Research Associates
- Home Infusion Pharmacists
- Regulatory Affairs Specialists

BACHELOR'S DEGREE
- R&D Technicians
- Manufacturing Technicians
- Quality Technicians
- Incoming Quality Assurance Technicians
- Analytical Chemists
- Clinical Research Associates
- Software Quality Assurance Technicians
- Research Pharmacists
- Home Infusion Pharmacists
- Customer Technical Support Specialists

The Career Fair will be held at our corporate headquarters, located 30 miles north of Chicago, off Interstate 94 at Buckley Rd. (Route 137). After exiting 94, follow Buckley Rd. east to Waukegan Rd. (Route 43). Proceed south on Waukegan Rd. and enter the facility at Gate 1. Please be sure to bring plenty of resumes.

If you’re unable to attend, send a resume to: Ann Ribbens, Corporate Staffing, Dept. SOH2, Abbott Laboratories, One Abbott Park Rd., Abbott Park, IL 60064. Principals only. Abbott is an Affirmative Action Employer/Smoke-Free Environment.

ABBOTT LABORATORIES

Quality Health Care Worldwide
1888-1992
The archbishop of Monrovia led nuns whose bodies lay unpraying for five slain American homes about a half-mile from recalling the killings of four American missionaries in El Salvador in 1980, slayings that prompted an international outcry. In this western African country, rebels loyal to Charles Taylor have been battling for control for nearly three years, overrunning all but Monrovia. Taylor invaded from ivory Coast in December 1989 to overthrow President Samuel Doe, who later was captured and slain by a rival rebel faction. A seven-nation West African force was sent to Liberia in 1990 to try to halt the civil war. The peacekeepers drove the rebels from the capital, but Taylor's fighters recently mounted another siege. The rebels now hold suburbs around Monrovia.

Archbishop Michael Francis blamed rebels for killing the nuns, saying, "They call themselves freedom fighters, but they kill innocent people... We pray for those liars."

He did not specifically identify Taylor's fighters, although he previously said Taylor's men control the area where the nuns died.

The Roman Catholic prelate spoke to hundreds of people gathered in Sacred Heart Cathedral to mourn the nuns, two of whom were slain after leaving their convent to try to rescue a wounded child on Oct. 20. Three others were last seen by a parish priest Oct. 22. Nearly two weeks later, it was still too dangerous to recover their bodies.

Taylor insisted his men do not control the area around the convent. There are several armed factions in the area, including rebels opposed to Taylor.

At the Vatican, Pope John Paul II said he hoped the nuns' deaths might somehow inspire "all who can influence the fate of that martyred country" to stop fighting in Liberia, a nation founded by freed American slaves.

The United States had close ties with Doe's regime, giving it more than a billion dollars in aid, more than any other country in sub-Saharan Africa. In return, the United States had a huge Voice of America broadcast station in Liberia. All the slain nuns were white; all were from Illinois, and all were in their 50s and 60s. They were members of the Adorers of the Blood of Christ order.

Tajik rebels continue fight against democratic coalition

DUSHANBE, Tajikistan (AP) — The Tajik government continues to blame rebels for the recent killings of four Soviet republics have simultaneous. Tajikistan's Akbarzoda, who later was captured and slain by a rival rebel faction. A seven-nation West African force was sent to Liberia in 1990 to try to halt the civil war. The peacekeepers drove the rebels from the capital, but Taylor's fighters recently mounted another siege. The rebels now hold suburbs around Monrovia.

Archbishop Michael Francis blamed rebels for killing the nuns, saying, "They call themselves freedom fighters, but they kill innocent people... We pray for those liars."

He did not specifically identify Taylor's fighters, although he previously said Taylor's men control the area where the nuns died.

The Roman Catholic prelate spoke to hundreds of people gathered in Sacred Heart Cathedral to mourn the nuns, two of whom were slain after leaving their convent to try to rescue a wounded child on Oct. 20. Three others were last seen by a parish priest Oct. 22. Nearly two weeks later, it was still too dangerous to recover their bodies.

Taylor insisted his men do not control the area around the convent. There are several armed factions in the area, including rebels opposed to Taylor.

At the Vatican, Pope John Paul II said he hoped the nuns' deaths might somehow inspire "all who can influence the fate of that martyred country" to stop fighting in Liberia, a nation founded by freed American slaves.

The United States had close ties with Doe's regime, giving it more than a billion dollars in aid, more than any other country in sub-Saharan Africa. In return, the United States had a huge Voice of America broadcast station in Liberia. All the slain nuns were white; all were from Illinois, and all were in their 50s and 60s. They were members of the Adorers of the Blood of Christ order.
Rudy
continued from page 1

"In the very seemingly small victory from the general public's point of view it is more of a victory than Joe Montana's throwing four touchdown passes," said Anspaugh.

"By setting his goals, he discovers all sorts of wonderful things along the way. By the time he gets on the field, anything else that happens is only additional icing on the cake. It's not a sports movie for that reason," said Anspaugh.
The crew had an accelerated prep time, and is working under much abbreviated film schedule, said Anspaugh. They wanted to begin on Oct. 1, with an eight-week production period, officially beginning on Oct. 25.

Anspaugh and Pizzo, once college roommates, have been working together for 25 years, and they have a shared interest in the story of Rudy. "David has a marvelous ability to reanimate scenes," said Pizzo. "Angelo has a wonderful econ-y in his writing. He writes about family, community and commitment, which are important things to write about. An-gelo's scripts could never be accused of leaving one empty. They are very rich," said Anspaugh.

The University has been very cooperative, said producer Rob Fried. "Everything has been very positive," said Fried.

"The support the University has given us has been way bedond our expectations. We would not have made the movie without the permission of the University because the school is Justice

continued from page 1
five or negative feedback.
If approved, the recommendation goes on to the Judicial Conference of the United States and if it is successful, it continues on to the Supreme Court. If the Supreme Court is in favor of the amendment, it must then be submitted to Congress by May 1st, and if passed by December 1st, it is made a law.

The meeting also commemorated the 25th anniversary of the drafting of the appellate procedure rules by the late

Bernard Ward, a former professor of law at Notre Dame. Ward changed the structure of the courts of appeals by separating the appellate from trial rules.
The meeting's importance is reflected in the rules which it seeks to change, according to Mooney. "The rules of procedure are designed to key to every citizen's access to justice and fair treatment by the courts.

The meeting resulted in recommendations on over fifteen rules, which, according to Mooney is "very unusual." Mooney stated that, "It was a very productive meeting and we were honored to host it."

Investment Banking
Opportunities at First Boston

First Boston, a global investment banking firm headquartered in

New York, will be recruiting Notre Dame graduates for its financial analyst program. This two-year program offers individuals a unique opportunity to gain experience in the investment banking industry.

Individuals with all academic backgrounds are encouraged to join our Firm. Positions are available in the Investment Banking Department in New York and in various Regional Offices.

All students are cordially invited to join First Boston representatives for an introduction to the firm and the analyst program on:

Wednesday, November 4, 1992
Foster Room
La Fortune Student Center
7:00 p.m.

Interview date:
January 28, 1993

For further information and inquiries, please feel free to contact:

Greg Dingens
Investment Banking
(312) 730-3071

KKK auction has high bids;
Black leader reacts in anger

FREMONT, Mich. (AP) - Hundreds of people, from collectors to the curious, showed up Saturday to bid on Ku Klux Klan memorabilia at an event a civil rights leader blasted as reminiscent of a slave auction.

Among the 250 items offered were stained cotton robes and hoods, as well as aging documents and letters from a now-defunct Klan chapter that operated in the Newaygo County area in the 1920s.

"It reminds me of the auction of the slaves," said Gloria White

Gardner, executive director of the Urban League of Muskegon

County. "It offended because my ancestors lived through the reign of terror by this organization."

Gardner and Ted Davis, who are black, tried unsuccessfully to obtain a court order halting the auction.

On Saturday, people bid as much as $1,000 for robes and hoods. The framed charter of the Newaygo County Klan No.

29 of the Invisible Empire of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, dated Sept. 9, 1925, sold for $3,100.

The items were found earlier this month in an attick at a 130-year-old family farm. Also offered in separate auctions were farm equipment and antiques.

But it was the Klan memorabilia that drew hundreds of people to the barn where it was displayed.

"All the emphasis is put on the Klan stuff when there's so much more to this farm," said Louise Slager. "I wish we had just donated the stuff." The material can be traced to Slager's uncle, Ledford Anderson, secretary-treasurer in 1925-26 of the Klan's chapter in

Fremont, which is about 40 miles northeast of Grand Rapids.

Anderson died in 1986, and his sister-in-law, Jean Anderson, recently decided to give up the farm.

Millionaire on trial for murder

ATLANTA (AP) - A Florida

millionaire faces trial this week in the 1987 slaying of his ex-estranged wife, who was shot to death at her home hours before a scheduled hearing on the legal status of the couple's post-nuptial agreement.

Prosecutors say James Sullivan hired a hit man by telephone to kill his wife, Lita Sullivan, because he feared losing his property in a divorce setdement. Sullivan, 51, of Palm Beach, Fla., made his billions from an inherited Marcon liquor distributorship.

Mrs. Sullivan, 35, was killed

Jan. 16, 1987, at her posh Atlanta home by a rose-carrying guillman posing as a delivery man.

Aeropuerto de la Aves worldwide suffer multibillion-dollar losses

GENEVA (AP) — Airlines around the world are suffering their third successive year of multibillion-dollar losses in their worst-ever performance, the International Air Transport Association said Sunday.

Hardest hit are U.S. airlines, battered by fare wars and a decline in domestic travel, said Guenter Eser, the industry group's director general.

"The situation domestically in the United States for the airline industry is terrible," said Eser. "Half of all our losses of the 213 (IATA member) airlines are " practically the five, six big airlines in the United States."

A sign of the world industry's hard times is that airlines from a number of countries have parked 900 planes in the deserts of the U.S. Southwest, where the dry climate will keep them from deteriorating until they are needed again, he said. Some of the planes have been sent to Arizona straight off the production line.

Many airlines also are drastically cutting the size of their staffs, he said. Some 52,000 people, or 3.4 percent of all staff, lost their jobs in 1991, and that number was expected to be much higher this year. Total figures were not yet available.

"I don't have to tell you that the air transport industry is doing very badly," Eser told reporters at IATA headquarters in Geneva ahead of the association's annual meeting in Montreal on Monday and Tuesday.

"It's going through its worst-ever time."

IATA, whose member airlines carry 98 percent of all scheduled international traffic, said in its annual report that a solid recovery began in 1994. Esier forecast that IATA member airlines would lose at least $2.5 billion on their international operations this year.

According to the agency's annual report, the Gulf War curbed air travel. In 1990, which was affected by the build-up to the war, losses were $2.7 billion.

Train crash in Pakistan kills and wounds as many as 75

SUHKUR, Pakistan (AP) — An express train packed with sleeping passengers slammed into a parked freight train on Sunday, and as many as 75 people were killed or injured, officials said.

The government of southern Sindh province ordered an inquiry into the predawn crash, about 75 miles north of the interior city of Sukkur.

Officials initially said they believed 150 people were killed, but later changed the figure to 75 killed or injured. They did not give a breakdown.

According to Pakistan's state-run information ministry, the government suspended the assistant station master at the tiny rail stop of Redi, where the accident occurred, after he fled the scene. The man was immediately known why he fled.

An initial investigation indicated that an erroneous signal may have sent the passenger train barreling down a track blocked by the parked freight train, officials said.

Railway officials said they didn't know how many passengers were on board the 15-car express train. They said the first two cars were reduced to twisted metal and a third car was derailed.

Witnesses said villagers, many of them awakened by the sound of churning metal, ran to the site with blankets and bandages.

About 400 soldiers helped ambulance workers pull dead and wounded from the wreckage, said Maj. Abdul Chahhi, an army spokesman.

Notre Dame AIDS Awareness

Sister Ethnye Kennedy from AIDS Assist will speak about off-campus volunteer opportunities.

All members are asked to attend — and all new members are welcome!

When: November 2 (Today) at 9:00 p.m.
Where: Montgomery Theater in LaFortune
Women make strides in '92 campaign

By JULIE BARRET
Assistant News Editor

It's been dubbed "The Year of Women" in American politics, and that's good reason: Nearly 2,500 women are running for statewide and local offices around the country in a record turnout.

While critics argue that many of the women candidates will not win, those who succeed will be paving the way for political and policy initiatives that could change the scope of the American political system.

"If you look at every single factor in his 12 years in Arkansas, you'll realize that when you're at the bottom of everything, there's no place to go but up," Piero told about Clinton's all-female downtown rally at the Long Beach Arena.

The theme was repeated in the 30-minute ad, "Deevoood, Chicken Feeters and The American Dream," airing Sunday night on ABC and NBC.

The attack differs from Perot's earlier statement that Clinton's record in Arkansas was "rancid," and his bid for the White House.

That appears to contradict the early question, "What would you have done in 1967?" to his wife, who was 17 at the time, "If I'd have sat there and heard you "in full voice," it's possible, maybe I would have had a stronger view. But when you don't know something, it's hard to react... We were not in the loop.

After the new indictment on Friday, the president changed his story a bit.

The subject dominated much of a Larry King interview, along with Bush on Friday night and Bush in an unusual position, because in virtual every news story, Bush lays out a trust test: "You've got to tell the truth if you want to be president of the United States."
ELECTION '92

Bush needs new Congress to enact agenda for change

By JAY TOWN
Guest Columnist

You know, Notre Dame and Saint Mary’s students will make a choice. A choice that involves the entire world and is in the duty to make the right choice. The right choice is George Bush. In the years, as vice president and president, Bush has presided over the most significant events in recent history. Most unfortunately, communism has failed, yet better—been defeated.

It was George Bush who fought the aggression of tyrants. It was he who has paved the road to peace in the Middle East. It was his leadership and character-posed leaders to regain peace talks.

He sent Congress environmental proposals to fight poverty in cities and restore America’s economic future, and is working to help small business.

In 1990, he sent Congress the most thought-out education proposal the U.S. has ever seen, and the democratically-controlled Congress sent it back to the president with virtually a zero dollar, what the country needed to implement the programs.

It is very evident that Bush has proposed the future for this country and evident that Democrats in Congress are content with the status quo. Isn’t the time they who keep echoing change?

And yet, George Bush did raise taxes, but only in the example of Ross Perot. He could have repealed the Gramm-Rudman bill. He could have expanded Ross Perot. He could have repealed the Gramm-Rudman bill. He could have expanded Ross Perot. He could have expanded Ross Perot.

He could have expanded the Gramm-Rudman bill. He could have expanded Ross Perot. He could have expanded Ross Perot.

Could he have made cuts in the defense budget, but the U.S. was going to war.

Or he could work with Congress and sign a bill that they concocted, befuddled, and failed—called a bill to raise taxes. A time when the economy wasn’t so good and the nation was going to war.

Made a tough choice. Leaders made tough choices.

By ANDREW HOLMGREN

The 1992 election is upon us and the final decision is an important part of the next four years. If we do not restore America to its former glory, to instill in its people a sense of security and hope, then it is Bin Laden and Al Gore, the choice we must choose to lead our country in the next century.

During the last 12 years, the American people have been forgotten by the government. While the rich got richer due to trickle-down economics, the middle class and poor gave more to the government while receiving less in return.

By creating more high-wage jobs through wise, ground-breaking investments and by cutting unnecessary government programs, a Perot ticket will put America on the track to recovery. By backing the environment, assuring quality health care, reducing pollution, by reducing crime, Clinton and Gore will restore hope in all American families.

Our country faces so many challenges: unemployment, poverty, the deficit, the national debt, the national debt. Our government’s national debt is $2.3 trillion by 2000 in debt cuts, to be encroached on job-promoting public programs. Would retrain military personnel.

Page 9

ON THE ISSUES

Where Bush, Clinton and Perot stand

Economy

Bush: Proposes capital gains tax, $5,000 tax credit for first-time homebuyers, and increased federal savings, to be paid back through service or payroll deductions. Proposes fully funding Head Start and the Job Corps.

Perot: Proposes the establishment of a comprehensive preschool program and the realization of research money to implement improvements.

Education

Bush: Favors 57 percent increase in Pell Grant funding and favors vouchers to allow parents to choose where to send their children.

Clinton: To make loans available, to be paid back through service or payroll deductions.

Perot: Proposes the establishment of a comprehensive preschool program and the realization of research money to implement improvements.

Health Care

Bush: Proposes to keep every worker access to basic health care through a transferable $3,750 tax credit. Oposes governmental involvement.

Clinton: Proposes to keep every worker access to basic health care through a transferable $3,750 tax credit. Oposes governmental involvement.

Perot: Proposes to keep every worker access to basic health care through a transferable $3,750 tax credit. Oposes governmental involvement.

Taxes

Bush: Proposes $500 increase per child in personal tax exemptions, $5,000 tax credit for first-time home buyers and deduction of interest on home equity loans.

Clinton: Will raise taxes on those making over $200,000 a year and end the deduction for mortgage interest. Perot: Proposes to keep every worker access to basic health care through a transferable $3,750 tax credit. Oposes governmental involvement.

Perot: Proposes to keep every worker access to basic health care through a transferable $3,750 tax credit. Oposes governmental involvement.

By JAY TOWN

The Wall Street Journal says that Clinton's economic plan "just doesn't add up. You'll be happy to learn that the young and/or your parents may make over $63,000 a year, you are rich, according to Clinton's plan.

Franklin Roosevelt said, "The President is the moral leader of the world." Bill Clinton is not. He is the leader of the downside. It is time for change. The Democrats echo cries for a president that will work with Congress. How about, for a change, that we get a Congress and a president. The president leads this country home and abroad, and that leader should be George Bush.

Town is a member of Notre Dame's College Republicans.

Clinton offers new agenda for change

By ANDREW HOLMGREN

The answer is not trickle down, voodoo economics, not tax cuts, but a real economic plan. Bill Clinton has such a plan.

The Bush campaign has implied that Clinton intends to help everyone, more which is simply not true. Yes, Clinton has done increased taxes for "fair share" on those families receiving more than $200,000 and individuals making more than $150,000.

But his tax proposal also focuses on removing inequities in the U.S. tax system by giving tax relief to middle class households, his own state, much less the rest of the world.

It is time for change. The Democrats echo cries for a president that will work with Congress. How about, for a change, that we get a Congress and a president. The president leads the country home and abroad, and that leader should be George Bush.

Town is a member of Notre Dame's College Republicans.

The answer is not trickle down, voodoo economics, not tax cuts, but a real economic plan. Bill Clinton has such a plan.

The Bush campaign has impli-
Dear Editor:
The work of many volunteers in January and May enabled Jerry Brown to find a place on the ballot in Indiana Primary, and we were elated on election of the vote statewide.

Those volunteers made it possible for a delegation of Brown supporters to go to the Democratic convention in July. As one of those delegates, I would like to ask you and your readers to think along with me about the campaign, as we prepare to vote on Tuesday.

At the convention, I was a loyal Brown supporter. I voted for him when it came time to nominate a candidate for President, and I voted with other Brownies when our issues came up. I went in knowing the foregoing conclusion: that Clinton would be the choice of the majority of the Democratic party.

This is a conclusion that I went to the convention with in mind. I went in knowing that there would be a moral obligation to defend my country and after realizing the dire need for a strong leader in our country. As such, I went in knowing that my vote was important and that it would make a difference.

Little was I aware that I would be writing to you about a vote that is potentially the most important of my lifetime. For, it is my belief that in this election, we will choose the leader of our nation, and possibly the leader of our world.

In my mind, the choice is clear. Bill Clinton is the leader we need. He has demonstrated his ability to lead, his commitment to the American people, and his dedication to the principles of strong leadership.

But there is a concern that troubles me, and that is the issue of integrity. Some people feel that Bill Clinton is not as honest as he could be, and that he may be prone to telling some white lies. However, I believe that this is a small price to pay for the leadership that Clinton offers.

Dear Editor:

Clintons' military involvement seriously deserves a medal?

In March of 1944 a brave and heroic American died serving his country. This man, Charles P. Shields, was my uncle and my mother's only brother. If I came a time in Charles’ life when he felt the urge, the need, the desire, and the responsibility to serve his country and make the world a better place.

This time was in the fall of 1940. Since he was born three days after Christmas in 1922, he was only 17 years old when he felt this moral obligation to join the military and protect the world from Hitler.

Charles solved his problem the same way that many people solve their problems, he cheated. Charles altered his birth certificate so that he appeared to be 18 years old and eligible to defend his country.

After two years of service, he was assigned to the field artillery at Fort Lewis and Fort Ord. Charles was transferred to the reconnaissance unit of the 29th Division in May 1942.

He participated honorably in the African campaign, the Sicilian invasion, the Anzio landings, and the war in North Africa. Charles volunteered for dangerous missions and was a hero of the United States Army.

He was wounded in action and received the Purple Heart and the Silver Star for his gallant efforts.

Charles was a great American and a true hero. He gave his life for his country and for the peace and freedom of the world.

I wish to write this letter not to write his story, but to show that there are many people who have made the ultimate sacrifice for their country. I am proud to call Charles my uncle and a true patriot.

I hope you will consider this letter and think about the sacrifices made by our military heroes.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]
Electoral '92 could be won by the 'least harmful' approach

Bill Clinton envisions a united America

Dear Editor:

Time and again in the last four years, George Bush has been touted as the most American of American people. He promised to cut the budget deficit and promised to cut the deficit. He let it balloon to the highest level in four years, while the country promised to be the "Environmental President." He promised to clean up our air and open half our wetlands to industrial development.

Maybe his most appalling failure is in education. Trying to strike a "kinder, gentler im­" age, Bush promised in 1988 to be the "Education President." He knew that Americans care about education and were un­happy with Ronald Reagan's 700 cuts through the eighties.

But it turns out that he really didn't understand that education is the key to America's future. And he told us so. In 1989, Dr. Alyce Page, a former high school teacher, wrote in the Milen­dium Review, "The midyear report on the budget - Bush suggested more than $10 billion in cuts to student loans. Those are $10 billion that stu­dents need to get into college. More than $10 billion that we can—now trouble ourselves.

And where does Bush want to spend money instead? Not on public schools. Not on creating jobs or keeping health care costs down. Not tax breaks for the very rich.

Now, the President is running around making more promises. He is promising us jobs and lower college costs again. Don't believe him. The President is saying one thing about health care and trust. And America's students continue to suffer.

I learned something when I was in college which I have never forgotten and which mo­tivates me to this day. I had a professor who told me that America's greatness is based on two ideas: that tomorrow can be better than today, and that each of us has a personal responsibility to make it so.

I still believe it, and I hope you can too.

Washington has done so little for so long that you may believe the President can't change America. Don't believe it. Franklin Roosevelt put millions of Americans to work during the Great Depression. Harry Truman sent millions of Americans to college with the GI Bill. Martin Luther King Jr. threw a picket line around him pushed the President to transform our laws and guarantee civil rights.

What we need is a detailed plan which invests in the future, not a package of half-measures mocking about the "vision thing."

I am not sure why we are for­malized country without a na­tion­al health care plan, a na­tion­al education plan, and a strategy for the future.

Together, we can change America again. We will fight for what Americans deserve. The right to borrow for college. A good job. Affordable, quality health care. A clean, safe envi­ronment. Choice. And a gov­ern­ment that works with the American people and for the American people.

You have a lot more at stake than I do. You have to worry about paying for your educa­tion. You have to hope that you'll be able to find a decent job.

You have to worry that you'll fall in love with someone who is HIV positive. You have to hope that one more Supreme Court Justice won't take away your right to choose.

I hope you will join me in a great effort to create a community where people look out for each other, not only for themselves. It will be an America where we all participate together — whatever our race, our religious identity, or our sexual orientation.

Together, we can all change America.

Dr. Alyce Page

Washington, D.C.

Appreciation extended to ticket donors

Dear students:

Thank you for giving our tickets to our clients at Logan Center.

We had a wonderful time and everything went smoothly. Your programs would not work without your support.

Thanks again.

Bill Clinton

Sister Sharon

Off-campus ticket donors

Page 11

Viewpoint

Kurt Mills

On the Other Hand

e the economy or blowing up the world in the process. George Bush has a record to go by, so we turn him to first. During the twelve years he has served as vice-president and president, the national debt has quadrupled, war and peace have more fallen under the poverty line, and he and the rest of his rich friends have seen their financial resources go through the roof. It is harder for people of modest means to attend college.

Five million more people are uninsured than was the case in 1985. George Bush has violated international law by invading Panama and shown his heartlessness by forcibly repatriating refugees from Haiti (also a violation of international law), while expediting the procedures for those coming from Cuba, which is certainly a less serious human rights situation than Haiti.

He has abdicated any leadership in the humanitarian nightmares of Bosnia and Somalia, and remains silent of his cuts through the eighties.

The deficit. But, since these costs have increased at twice the rate of income, there are now more college loans and grants and work-study packages. This is no way to treat Amer­ juice. He told us so. In 1989, Dr. Alyce Page, a former high school teacher, wrote in the Milen­dium Review, "The midyear report on the budget - Bush suggested more than $10 billion in cuts to student loans. Those are $10 billion that stu­dents need to get into college. More than $10 billion that we can—now trouble ourselves.

And where does Bush want to spend money instead? Not on public schools. Not on creating jobs or keeping health care costs down. Not tax breaks for the very rich.

Now, the President is running around making more promises. He is promising us jobs and lower college costs again. Don't believe him. The President is saying one thing about health care and trust. And America's students continue to suffer.

I learned something when I was in college which I have never forgotten and which mo­tivates me to this day. I had a professor who told me that America's greatness is based on two ideas: that tomorrow can be better than today, and that each of us has a personal responsibility to make it so.

I still believe it, and I hope you can too.

Washington has done so little for so long that you may believe the President can't change America. Don't believe it. Franklin Roosevelt put millions of Americans to work during the Great Depression. Harry Truman sent millions of Americans to college with the GI Bill. Martin Luther King Jr. threw a picket line around him pushed the President to transform our laws and guarantee civil rights.

What we need is a detailed plan which invests in the future, not a package of half-measures mocking about the "vision thing."

I am not sure why we are for­malized country without a na­tion­al health care plan, a na­tion­al education plan, and a strategy for the future.

Together, we can change America again. We will fight for what Americans deserve. The right to borrow for college. A good job. Affordable, quality health care. A clean, safe envi­ronment. Choice. And a gov­ern­ment that works with the American people and for the American people.

You have a lot more at stake than I do. You have to worry about paying for your educa­tion. You have to hope that you'll be able to find a decent job.

You have to worry that you'll fall in love with someone who is HIV positive. You have to hope that one more Supreme Court Justice won't take away your right to choose.

I hope you will join me in a great effort to create a community where people look out for each other, not only for themselves. It will be an America where we all participate together — whatever our race, our religious identity, or our sexual orientation.

Together, we can all change America.

Dr. Alyce Page

Washington, D.C.

Appreciation extended to ticket donors

Dear students:

Thank you for giving our tickets to our clients at Logan Center.

We had a wonderful time and everything went smoothly. Your programs would not work without your support.

Thanks again.
Urban Plunge provides a holiday experience

BY KENYA JOHNSON
Assistant Accent Editor

The Christmas season is a time of year whereby everyone anxiously awaits. Some look forward to the exquisite decorating of the tree. Some people are busy with eggnog and the clock ticks into a new year. And of course there are those who still wait until December 25th and shred the wrapping paper that stood as a reminder of the love and their gifts.

Yet there are some who are not so fortunate. There are those who spend the holiday season in a shelter; who celebrate meagerly with strangers; who stare longingly at a department store window display wishing they could buy something for their son or daughter.

For 48 straight hours more than 300 Notre Dame and Saint Mary's students devoted their time and compassion to these unfortunate souls.

The Urban Plunge project, offered by the Center for Social Concerns(CSC), enables students to experience and understand the life of inner city, urban individuals.

"The project is meant to be more of an observation than hands-on service work," said Sue Cunningham, coordinator of Urban Plunge and summer service projects. "Students are actually lucky if they get to serve in the soup kitchens lines as opposed to the soup kitchen itself."

Instead, students spend time with the patrons of a homeless shelter, run-away teen center, welfare office, or, like institute.

"It is a personal perspective on how the people live day to day," said Cunningham. Participant Niza Zalenski agreed.

"I was overwhelmed by the lives these people lead," said Zalenski. "There's a huge difference between helping the poor and understanding the poor," she added.

Zalenski took part in an Urban Plunge site in Cleveland, Ohio last year. "I didn't really do service, but I got the opportunity to see the social service programs offered throughout the inner city," she said.

Some of the facilities Zalenski spent time in were the Catholic Worker House, a homeless shelter, and a center for abused women and children. "We were encouraged to learn about the people, their background, and their circumstances. It was really an experience to almost live and understand life in the inner city," Zalenski explained.

Pat McHugh also participated in last year's Urban Plunge. McHugh highly recommends Urban Plunge for not being a service-oriented program.

"Service work is great but with Urban Plunge you really understand and realize what's going on in our world," said McHugh. "I think I would have really missed the personal experience if I was preoccupied with serving in a food line," he added.

"In some ways I feel service is a way to appease the conscience without dirtying the hands," McHugh explained. "Actually living in the situation makes one realize how much really needs to be done, and that it's not going to get solved with one afternoon in a soup kitchen," he said.

"Because the project usually takes place in the student's hometown, a new awareness about their area arises, according to McHugh.

"I've walked through downtown Atlanta many times, but I saw something different when they (the host) took us on a tour. I was more alert to the obvious problems around me," he said.

Zalenski and McHugh both agreed that Urban Plunge is something every student should try to do at least once while at Notre Dame.

There's no better education than learning about and attempting to assist people whom you know nothing about first-hand," said Zalenski.

Urban Plunge takes place during the third week of Christmas break. Depending on the site, students will serve their 48 hours anytime between January 2-9. There is a one-day follow-up orientation on Jan. 17 with all of the students who were involved to discuss their experiences.

Applications for the Urban Plunge are available at the CSC or from dorm representatives and are due this Friday, Nov. 6. There is a $10 processing fee and all applicants are guaranteed a site. Fifty-nine percent of the applicants receive their first choice for a site, said Cunningham. If an applicant's desired area is not listed, Cunningham stressed that they still do work at the site in that area for the student.

Cunningham can be contacted at 239-7597 for more information.

Dispelling the Shakespeare bugaboo

The National Shakespeare Company (NSC), now in its thirteenth season, is a non-profit theatre group that tours the U.S. and performs Shakespeare especially for people who do not have access to live theatre by limited geographic and economic constraints.

The twelve-member acting ensemble comprises more than one thousand auditioning professionals. They are chosen for their ability to handle classical text, to bring a unique and insightful point of view to their roles, and to communicate with an audience. Many performers have returned many times to the company. Michele Leon, a former company member who toured for two seasons, said, "There is nothing like the thrill of performing for someone who has never seen live theatre before. It makes all the hard work worthwhile."

Elaine Sulka, NSC artistic director, co-founded the company with her late husband Philip McFarland in 1963. "We do high quality, affordable, essential Shakespeare. Our purpose is to dispel the bugaboo that Shakespeare is for the elite," said Sulka. NSC productions emphasize the text — the dialogue, action, and theme of the play — as a result, the ensemble travels light, with one bus to transport actors, set, lights and costumes. The actors themselves load and unload the stage in less than four hours.

The plot of "A Comedy of Errors," directed by Casey Kiziah, includes lost infants, mistaken identities, miracle cures, and forbidden romances. The story revolves around a pair of twins — both named Antipholus, who were separated at birth in a shipwreck. They later arrive in the same city with their twin servants, both named Dromio.

Through a series of farcical maneuvers that involve a jealous wife, her moralizing sister and a schoolmaster-wizard, Shakespeare unscrambles all the mistaken identities and reunites the family.

"A Comedy of Errors" is the first of Notre Dame's Viva Series of the Performing Arts, sponsored by Student Activities and the University's Student Union Board. Also part of the series are "Mr. Pickwick's Stories for a Christmas Evening" on Dec. 3 and a men's a capella choir from Moscow on March 20.

The NSC, based in New York City, has performed at the Firefly Festival in South Bend in the summer. In their past productions at Notre Dame, which in-
SALES

WANTED

EASY WORK: EXCELLENT PAY: AVAILABLE STUDENTS. Call at 4-385-0627. For details, please call me at 2-354-4104.

HELP WANTED: Call DAMIAN 2-8700.

NEED to sublet $200 a month. Ask for PAUL 232-4000, Cordova, TN 38018-4000.

For rent: 1 room available -- use of kitchen, bath, and living room. $75 a month. Ask for MIKE 234-8306.

WANTED

ASSOCIATES AT 4155 ext. A5584. Employment program, call Student openings. No experience assistance regarding the opposite sex.

NOW HIRING SPRING BREAK REPS!!!! Promote our Florida Spring Break Trip to Cancun, Jamaica, Daytona, Florida Keys! Guarantee a Spring Break Trip for you if you help us fill all the rooms. Contact me at 2-354-4104.

GROUPE. Call Campus Marketing.

For Sale: 1 room available -- use of kitchen, bath, and living room. $75 a month. Ask for Paul 232-2793.

HELP WANTED: Call DAMIAN 2-8700.

NEED to sublet $200 a month. Ask for PAUL 232-4000, Cordova, TN 38018-4000.

For rent: 1 room available -- use of kitchen, bath, and living room. $75 a month. Ask for MIKE 234-8306.

WANTED

HELP WANTED: Call DAMIAN 2-8700.

NEED to sublet $200 a month. Ask for PAUL 232-4000, Cordova, TN 38018-4000.

For rent: 1 room available -- use of kitchen, bath, and living room. $75 a month. Ask for MIKE 234-8306.

WANTED

HELP WANTED: Call DAMIAN 2-8700.

NEED to sublet $200 a month. Ask for PAUL 232-4000, Cordova, TN 38018-4000.

For rent: 1 room available -- use of kitchen, bath, and living room. $75 a month. Ask for MIKE 234-8306.
Colts falter, Dolphins stopped by Jets

Poor Jeff George. Twice in the last three Sundays he's had all sorts of San Diego Chargers in his face.

It was bad enough on Oct. 18 when he was sacked four times and intercepted twice in a 24-14 loss at the Hoosier Dome. It got brutal on Sunday when he was sacked six times and intercepted once as a former offensive tackle, the Colts 26-0 for their first shutout in six seasons.

"This is a legitimate team," George said of the Chargers (4-4), who have won four straight for the first time since 1987. "They've got a fantastic pass rush. I'll tell you, when I look around the league and I see other guys getting four or five seconds to look over the field, I mean a quarterback gets just doing that. I don't know what it's like."

The Colts were missing guard Randy Nixon and tackle Zef Zem from the left side of the offensive line. "We're in a situation now, you take four or five steps and you're running for your life," George said.

After pummeling George, the Chargers felt sorry for him.

"He was getting hit or sacked most of the time and he was just yelling" at his offensive linemen, said defensive end Burt Grossman, who sacked George for a safety to start the scoring in the second quarter. "You can sympathize with him. You don't like to drop back and have three people in your face every down."

Stanley Richards, interception midway through the fourth quarter set up Marlon Butts' 3-yard touchdown run to cap the scoring and drive George to the bench. Receiver Jack Trueman got the Colts to the San Diego 18 with 1.04 left, but fumbled when he was sacked by Gossman and the Chargers' George Thornton recovered.

"Of course you have to start with our defense," said Chargers coach Bohdy Ross. "I still think that if you can get a shutout in this league and hold a team under 100 yards, you are doing a helluva job defensively."

The Colts had only 99 yards of total offense and eight first downs. George was 7 for 18 for 53 yards.

San Diego pulled into a tie for second place in the AFC West with idle Kansas City. The Colts, who had won three of four and were coming off a 31-20 upset of Miami, fell to 4-4.

After the defense helped provide a 5-0 halftime lead, Stan Humphries, the AFC offensive player of the month for October, finally warmed up. Humphries hit Natresults on touchdown passes of 17 and 9 yards on the Chargers' first two drives of the second half for a 19-0 lead.

Jets 26, Dolphins 10

Ken O'Brien threw three first-half touchdown passes as the Jets handed Miami its second loss of the season.

Rookie tight end Jonnie Mitchell was the recipient of one of the scoring tosses, his first as a professional.

Dan Marino led the Miami offense to two second half touchdowns, two to Cleveland Gary, who rushed for New York.

Atlanta had built its 17-0 lead on a 2- yard run by Tony Smith, a 38-yard pass from Chris Chandler to defeated Los Angeles (3-5).

Tolliver completed 6 of 9 passes for 86 yards in the 81-yard drive that kept Atlanta (3-5) from blowing a game it once led 17-0.

It appeared that Jim Everett had found a way to get the Rams a victory on the road. He threw for 253 yards and four touchdowns, two to Cleveland Gary, who rushed for 144 yards on 18 carries.

Atlanta had built its 17-0 lead on a 2- yard run by Tony Smith, a 28-yard pass from Miller to Haynes and Norm

Dallas win, upsets highlight NFC action

Emmit Smith ran for 163 yards, the first time in 54 games, and pass for 53 yards, and Dallas improved to 7-1, the NFL's best record.

Winners, Losers, and Late-Breaking Scores

WEEK NINE

AFC

NFC

FOUND

IDENTIFIED AS DON REESE

For more information and a close up look at him, purchase your tickets to see him perform at Washington Hall on November 6th at 8:00 p.m.

General Admission

Tickets are on sale now at the LaFortune Information Desk for only $3.
Hockey
continued from page 20

Goalie Greg Louder made thirty three saves as the Irish were shutout 39-23.
Notre Dame returned on Saturday night with much of the same intensity they carried on the night before.

Freshman Jimmie Ling gave the team a quick lead forty nine seconds into the game with an excellent individual effort. He carried the puck across the blue line, slid it between the defenseman's skate and stick, and then went one on one with Lake goals Blaine Lacher, who he faked to the left and then scored on the right side.

Ling, who had three assists on Friday night, is currently the leading scorer for the Irish. He has netted goals in four of his five games this season.

Lake Superior responded by scoring the next two goals, the first a twenty foot wrist shot from the top of the slot and the second a three foot backhander off of a rebound to the left of the Notre Dame net.

The two teams traded power play goals in the second period, with assistant captain Corrigan scoring for the Irish on a two man advantage which demonstrated excellent Irish passing and puck control. The Lakers tally was a very controversial goal which was scored with no time left on the clock. The Notre Dame bench and the fans in the JACC objected vehemently with the referee's call that the puck was shot before time expired.

Janickie scored his second of the night eight minutes and fifteen seconds into the third period on a fifteen foot one-timer from the slot off of a Morsch head pass from behind the net.

That goal tied the game at 3-3, where it stayed until 12:04 of the final period when Lake Wayne Strachan poked in a loose puck amongst a crowd in front of the Notre Dame goal. Lake Superior scored again one minute and three seconds later and then capped the scoring at 6-3 with an empty net goal.

"I'm not disappointed," Schafer said of his team's performance this weekend.

The hockey team will try to begin their winning ways next Friday and Saturday night at Goggin Arena against Miami of Ohio.

Baseball
continued from page 20

In the movie, an elated player does a front flip at home plate after hitting a homer, to the delight of an ecstatic, frenzied crowd. In America, fans are taught to throw an opposing player's home run ball back on the field.

The Japanese play the game with sacred honor, as a bitter bow to the pitching mount, which is pitching hit by a pitch. In America, we are taught to hate our opponents and charge them mound if pitched inside.

The Japanese allow for the possibility of a tie, leaving with the satisfaction of a game well played by both teams. In America, a tie is like losing your sister-diagnosing and a virtual impossibility.

Mr. Baseball, released about two weeks ago, and the sport through a fresh, interesting cultural perspective. Ironically, last Thursday the mighty U.S. sent a bona fide all-star baseball team East to destroy the legendary Yomiuri Giants in an eight game series.

The team features a plethora of blockbuster players, including Jack McVillegger, Roger Clemens, Mark Grace, Ozzie Smith, and Fielder. Although it appears as a "Dream Team" mismatch on paper, don't count out the scrappy Japanese squad. Don Zimmer went 3-4-1 with a U.S. all-star team in Japan two years ago.

Remember, practice makes perfect.

If what happened on your inside happened on your outside, would you still smoke?

NOVEMBER 15
THE GREAT AMERICAN SMOKEOUT

FREE FLU SHOTS

Eligibility
Notre Dame students, faculty, staff, clergy, and retirees

Dates
Nov. 3, 4, 5

Time
10:00 - 6:00 p.m.

Locations
Library Concourse
LaFortune Student Center

BE SURE TO BRING YOUR I.D.

Offered by University Health Services with the support of Student Affairs and Human Resources

Hockey continued from page 20

Goalie Greg Louder made thirty three saves as the Irish were shutout 39-23.
Notre Dame returned on Saturday night with much of the same intensity they carried on the night before.

Freshman Jimmie Ling gave the team a quick lead forty nine seconds into the game with an excellent individual effort. He carried the puck across the blue line, slid it between the defenseman's skate and stick, and then went one on one with Lake goals Blaine Lacher, who he faked to the left and then scored on the right side.

Ling, who had three assists on Friday night, is currently the leading scorer for the Irish. He has netted goals in four of his five games this season.

Lake Superior responded by scoring the next two goals, the first a twenty foot wrist shot from the top of the slot and the second a three foot backhander off of a rebound to the left of the Notre Dame net.

The two teams traded power play goals in the second period, with assistant captain Corrigan scoring for the Irish on a two man advantage which demonstrated excellent Irish passing and puck control. The Lakers tally was a very controversial goal which was scored with no time left on the clock. The Notre Dame bench and the fans in the JACC objected vehemently with the referee's call that the puck was shot before time expired.

Janickie scored his second of the night eight minutes and fifteen seconds into the third period on a fifteen foot one-timer from the slot off of a Morsch head pass from behind the net.

That goal tied the game at 3-3, where it stayed until 12:04 of the final period when Lake Wayne Strachan poked in a loose puck amongst a crowd in front of the Notre Dame goal. Lake Superior scored again one minute and three seconds later and then capped the scoring at 6-3 with an empty net goal.

"I'm not disappointed," Schafer said of his team's performance this weekend.

The hockey team will try to begin their winning ways next Friday and Saturday night at Goggin Arena against Miami of Ohio.

Baseball
continued from page 20

In the movie, an elated player does a front flip at home plate after hitting a homer, to the delight of an ecstatic, frenzied crowd. In America, fans are taught to throw an opposing player's home run ball back on the field.

The Japanese play the game with sacred honor, as a bitter bow to the pitching mount, which is pitching hit by a pitch. In America, we are taught to hate our opponents and charge them mound if pitched inside.

The Japanese allow for the possibility of a tie, leaving with the satisfaction of a game well played by both teams. In America, a tie is like losing your sister-diagnosing and a virtual impossibility.

Mr. Baseball, released about two weeks ago, and the sport through a fresh, interesting cultural perspective. Ironically, last Thursday the mighty U.S. sent a bona fide all-star baseball team East to destroy the legendary Yomiuri Giants in an eight game series.

The team features a plethora of blockbuster players, including Jack McVillegger, Roger Clemens, Mark Grace, Ozzie Smith, and Fielder. Although it appears as a "Dream Team" mismatch on paper, don't count out the scrappy Japanese squad. Don Zimmer went 3-4-1 with a U.S. all-star team in Japan two years ago.

Remember, practice makes perfect.

If what happened on your inside happened on your outside, would you still smoke?

NOVEMBER 15
THE GREAT AMERICAN SMOKEOUT
Lee Becton carries for a five yard gain during second half action.

The Irish defense held Navy to 253 yards total offense, forcing four fumbles and totaling two sacks.

Lee Becton totaled 63 yards on 14 carries, including this carry in Saturday's second half.

Tailback Reggie Brooks had 96 yards on 20 carries and one touchdown.

The Notre Dame defense held Navy to 93 yards passing on 14 attempts.
Navy
continued from page 20
Irv Smith, and Notre Dame went into the locker room with a 31-0 lead.

"It felt good to play well," the Irish quarterback said. "The toughest part of the game was going without the guys (Bettis, Norman and McFridell.)"

The second half was, as Holtz put it, "just to get the game over with."

The first team offense had two touchdowns called back by penalties in the first series of the half, and then called it a day. Kevin McDougall and Paul Failla split time at quarterback for the remainder of the game, but neither was impressive. Each threw an interception, and only Failla could lead the team to the end zone.

After the Middle's converted Dave Shaw's interception of a McDougall pass into their only score, Failla took the Irish 42 yards in seven plays. Lee Benton, who rushed for 62 yards, went the final nine yards to close the scoring.

Notre Dame jumped to a 7-0 lead in its first possession of the game, when Jeff Burris scored on a five-yard burst from the full-house backfield to complete a right, 49-yard drive.

Craig Hendrich's 32-yard field goal on the first play of the second quarter extended the lead to 10-0.

Though the Irish had 223 rushing yards on the day, the Irish air attack was the backbone of the offense. "Our passing game saved us," he noted. "Mirror performed well, and the receivers caught the ball and blocked well.

Even with a depleted backfield and offensive line, the Irish did not plan to rely on the passing game. "We expected to play Notre Dame ball," said flanker Ray Grigs, who had two catches for 47 yards. "But, we got in there and they (Notre Dame) had some effective schemes against the run, so we had to go to the pass.'"

The fact that the Irish had to do so worried Holtz, as he looked forward to Saturday's game against ninth-ranked Boston College.

"Boston College is a physical, fundamentally sound team that is playing better than Notre Dame is playing," Holtz said.

"Today, we didn't do it the way Notre Dame likes to do it."

Associated Press—If things keep going well for undefeated Boston College and 1,000-yard rusher Chuckie Duques, who knows what will happen on the sideline after next Saturday's game?

Duques, who rushed for 184 yards and three touchdowns Saturday as 11th-ranked Boston College (7-0-1) defeated Temple 45-6, celebrated with his offensive lineman after running for 100 yards for the seventh straight game. "I came out today after the game minutes left in the second quarter, and gave them all hugs and little kisses," Duques said. "The 1,000 yards came and I'm proud of it, but I couldn't have done it without the guys up front. A lot of people don't understand that.

Duques scored on runs of 70, 43 and 1 yards against Temple (1-7) he brought his season total to 1,024 yards on 172 carries.

Chuckie just continues to amaze, he continues to run over people," Boston College coach Tom Coughlin said. "He's just getting better as the season goes on and that's the big thing about it.

No. 12 Syracuse 41, Pittsburg 10

Return to Quarterly ismail and Shelby Hill set up two early scores and the Syracuse defense held the nation's second-most productive offense in check as the Orange rolled. Syracuse (7-1) continue its dominance of Big East opponents, winning its fourth straight league game this season and ninth since the conference was established last year. Pitt fell to 3-6 overall and 1-3 in the Big East by losing for the fourth time in five games.

The game was billed as a showdown between two of the nation's top quarterbacks, but Syracuse quarterback Marvin Graves won the face-off with the Panthers' Alex Van Pelt by default with Pilt's quarterback was forced out of the game with an injury.

With eight and one-half minutes left in the second quarter, Van Pelt left after being sacked by linebackers Glyn Young and Garland Hawkins.

BYU 30, No. 14 Penn State 17

Ryan Hancock threw for three second-quarter touchdowns and BYU's heralded running game was in high gear as the Cougars stunned Penn State.

While Hancock hit 13 of 19 passes for 220 yards, BYU's runners, averaging just 123 yards a game, raked up 241 yards against the Nittany Lions, led by Kain Hall's 117 yards on 22 carries.

BYU's defense also sparked, twice turning back Penn State drives inside their 10 as the Cougars improved to 5-4.

No. 2 Washington 41, No. 15 Stanford 7

A week after losing No. 1 ranking, the Washington Huskies played their best game of the year Saturday. Mark Brunell threw two touchdown passes and punter Jim LaVelle kicked a 26-yard field goal as an added new leg, as the Huskies (8-0, 5-0) won over Stanford (6-3, 3-2 Pac-10). For another, James Clifford scored on a 42-yard interception return and second-ranked Washington got seven sacks in a rout of visiting No. 15 Stanford. The victory over Bill Walsh's team was Washington's 22nd in a row overall and ninth straight over Stanford (6-0-5). The Huskies (6-0, 5-0) hope the win will impress voters who dropped the Huskies below No. 1 last week in Associated Press poll.

Washington wins, BC routes Temple

Washington Post
Evansville.
Senior hitter Jessica Fiebelkorn paced Notre Dame with 9 kills against the Irish were tired, but were dominated by the Bulldogs scrappy defense.
"At times we played as well as we have all season," offered Butler's first year coach Sharon Dingman. The imposing front line of six-footers Stephanie Wyckoff, Laura Baire and Wendy Maat made a long night for the Irish.
Notre Dame managed only a .219 hitting percentage in the first game, looking out of sync and dominated by the Bulldogs scrappy defense.
"We were a bit surprised by Butler's defense," said Brown. "They have good reactions and they don't give up. They constantly dig out balls that we thought would have been kills.
"We started off shaky," admitted Karlan. "But once we played well, we really got rolling. Our hitters were really on tonight."
Senior Marilyn Cragin turned in an outstanding night, blasting 22 kills with only one error, good for a 67.7 hitting percentage. "That was the most incredible individual performance I've seen against us," said Dingman.
Fellow seniors Alicia Turner and Jessica Fiebelkorn added 31 kills, while Coates lead the team with 17 digs in only three games.
Notre Dame bolted out to an 8-1 lead in game four, but lost momentum after a Butler time-out. In addition to the rough starts and finishes in matches, Brown hopes to improve on the team's concentration in preparation for the stretch run.
"Sometimes we lost our patience in long rallies. That's definitely not one of our strengths," noted Brown.
Still, Notre Dame certainly appears to have the talent to repeat as MCC champs.
"We were just playing a better team," said Dingman, whose team dropped to 3-3 in conference play.

Irish volleyball topples two MCC foes
By JIM VOGL
Assistant Sports Editor

The Notre Dame women's volleyball team and coach Debbie Brown took their first two steps toward repeating as Midwestern Collegiate Conference champs, sweeping Evansville and Butler over the weekend.
The 22nd-ranked Irish, now 21-5, pounded the Aces 15-4, 15-2, 15-12 in their MCC season opener on Friday. All fourteen players on Notre Dame's roster saw action except Christy Peters. The sophomore outside hitter, who leads the team in kills and total attempts, on set this weekend with the flu.
"We kept our focus well. Evansville was not able to put up a service reception and their passing scheme broke down," Brown said of the hour-long massacre. Her team committed only nine errors and had a dominating .409 hitting percentage in the final frame.

Jessica Fiebelkorn lead the way offensively with nine kills, while Nicole Coates and Brett Hessel combined for 26 digs. Freshman Shannon Tuttle worked smoothly in place of junior Janelle Karlan at setter, contributing 13 assists.
On Saturday, Butler, 14-3, put up a better challenge, especially in the first game.
The meet Saturday was awesome. We really got up and raced well. A lot of people had some good swims and improved a lot upon the day before," said Williams.
Williams won the 200 yard butterfly (2:08.56) and the 400 yard individual medley (4:34.83) on Friday morning, along with three relays Friday night.
Sophomore backstroker Cara Garvey was an individual winner in the 100 breaststroke on Friday and the 200 yard backstroke on Saturday.
"The weekend as a whole was a tough weekend. I thought it was key how everyone pulled together as a team," said Garvey. "We went into the meet on Saturday night dragging and tired, but we came out winning and on top. Mentally we really pulled through it, and that helped us physically."
The freshmen played a key role in the Irish's three victories this weekend. Newcomer Jesslyn Peterson, a freshman from Bishop Moore High School in Florida, was an All-American all four years in high school.

Irish men's swimming shows depth in win over Western Ontario
By ALLISON MCCARTHY
Sports Writer

Williams, Bohdan lead women's swimming to weekend sweep
By HALEY SCOTT
Sports Writer

It was a long weekend for the Notre Dame women's swim team.
With the Midwestern Collegiate Conference dual meet Friday morning, the Notre Dame relay meet Friday night, and a dual meet against Western Ontario Saturday finished, the Irish were tired, but were still victorious.
"We raced well under the conditions we were given," said senior co-captain Susan Bohdan said, "It was exciting to see the first meet of the season with the new freshmen racing, and the energy and the spirit of the upperclassmen coming back." Bohdan won the 500 yard freestyle at the MCC dual meet with a time of 5:14.88, and was on two winning relays on the relay meet.
Senior co-captain Tasy Williams was also pleased with the weekend.
"Friday went really well considering how long we were at the pool," said Williams. "The meet Saturday was awesome. We really got up and raced well. A lot of people had some good swims and improved a lot upon the day before.
Williams won the 200 yard butterfly (2:08.56) and the 400 yard individual medley (4:34.83) on Friday morning, along with three relays Friday night.
Sophomore backstroker Cara Garvey was an individual winner in the 100 breaststroke on Friday and the 200 yard backstroke on Saturday.
"The weekend as a whole was a tough weekend. I thought it was key how everyone pulled together as a team," said Garvey. "We went into the meet on Saturday night dragging and tired, but we came out winning and on top. Mentally we really pulled through it, and that helped us physically."
The freshmen played a key role in the Irish's three victories this weekend. Newcomer Jesslyn Peterson, a freshman from Bishop Moore High School in Florida, was an All-American all four years in high school.

Irish men's swimming shows depth in win over Western Ontario
By ALLISON MCCARTHY
Sports Writer

The Irish men's swimming team opened their season this weekend by sweeping the Midwestern Collegiate Conference dual meet and the 28th Annual Notre Dame relays and by defeating Western Ontario Saturday 120-85. According to Notre Dame head coach Tim Welsh, overall the swimmers "looked strong, but not fast. Their base and strength training was evident."
Friday morning, the men opened with the MCC dual tournament, in which they competed against Butler, Duquesne, Loyola, and Xavier. The team scored first in the tournament with some tough competition from Loyola and Butler throughout the meet.
Notre Dame continued to dominate the weekend on Saturday night against Western Ontario. Although Western won six of the eleven events, the depth of Notre Dame's team gave them a thirty-five point victory margin.
"Our strength was our depth," stated Welsh. "Western Ontario continued to race very well, but they were not quite as evenly balanced as they had been last year."
As evidence, Notre Dame took first, second, and third place in the 1000 and 30 yard freestyle and the 200 back.
Both of the 400 relays - the I.M. and the freestyle - were particularly strong for Notre Dame, and "both are very significant to the dual meet seasons," stated Welsh.
The I.M. relay of senior and captain Tom Whowell, seniors Colin Costley and Ed Broderick, and sophomore Andy Kilty swam a 2:38.22 on Saturday. Sophomore Kris Samaddar, freshman Ross Parrish, Kilty, and senior Greg Carlock had an excellent 400 free relay with a time of 3:14.35. Koeck also had an outstanding 100 freestyle, swimming a 47.6.
"We have a young team, and it will be exciting to see us rise to the challenges of the season," stated Welsh. The first of these challenges will be Friday at 7:00 pm against Bowling Green, who began this season their weekend.

Mock Presidential Election TODAY
Vote On Campus students all residence halls 11-1, 5-7
Off Campus and Graduate students LaFortune 11-1, 5-7
Faculty Decio 10-2
Administrators and Staff Main Building 11-1, 3-5

SPONSORED BY STUDENT GOVERNMENT AND THE OBSERVER
Answer to Previous Puzzle

Monday, November 2, 1992

SPELUNKER

HELLO!

YOU THE SPELUNKER GUY?

WELL, I'M NOT YOUR STUPID CATS!

SO DON'T READ THEM

THEN HOW DO YOU KNOW THEY'RE SHIP?

I DON'T!

IT TAKES ME MORE THAN ONE RECESS TO WEAR MYSELF INTO A STATE OF SUBMISSION.

CALVIN AND HOBBES

RRINNGGGG

DON'T YOU READ THE BILL? RECESS IS OVER. IT'S TIME TO GO IN.

I'M NOT DONE YET.

DOMINO'S PIZZA

Today's Special

1 Large Thin-Crust Pizza

Call Now

ND 271-0300

SMC 289-0033

Menu

Notre Dame

Roast Turkey

Kielbasa and Kraut

Potato Pancakes

Saint Mary's

Italian Bar

Eggplant Parmesan Casserole

Fried Perch

Chopped Beef Steak

CAMPUS

Monday

7 p.m. Film: "Boudu Saved from Drowning." Annenberg Auditorium.

8:10 p.m. National Shakespeare Company, "A Comedy of Errors." Washington Hall. Sponsored by Student Activities and Student Union Board.

9 p.m. Film, "Night of the Living Dead." Annenberg Auditorium.

SPIN DOCTORS

As seen on Saturday Night Live

Featuring the hits "Little Miss Can't Be Wrong" and "Jimmy Olsen's Blues"

Appearing 8 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 10

at Stepan Center

Tickets $10 at LaFortune Info Desk

WALLI COLLINS

Host of "Stand Up, Stand Up" on Comedy Central

Appearing Nov. 17

at LaFortune Ballroom 8:00 p.m.

Tickets go on sale Nov. 9 at the LaFortune Info Desk

Price of admission: $3.00

STUDENT UNION BOARD
Men’s soccer ends regular season against Miami

By JASON KELLY
Sports Writer

With the Midwestern Collegiate Conference tournament just three days away, the Notre Dame men’s soccer team concludes the regular season tonight at Alumni Field against Miami (Illinois).

Preparing for the MCC tournament has been the main concern for the Irish throughout the season, but tonight’s game carries some added importance because it marks the final home appearance for seniors Mario Tricoci, Kevin Pendergast and Brendan Dillmann.

"It is a big deal for the seniors, we’ll be disappointed when it’s over," Tricoci said. "We want to go out with a win."

The seniors have helped carve out a winning tradition for the Notre Dame men’s soccer program during their careers. The Irish stumbles to a 4-1-3 finish, but in 1991 they finished 11-5-2 and they enter tonight’s game at 9-6-2.

Despite the turnaround, there is still one goal that has eluded this group of seniors: the NCAA tournament bid that goes to the MCC tournament champion. Reaching the NCAA may be their main goal, but they are not looking past Miami.

"This is as important as any other game," Tricoci said. "We’re taking this very seriously, but the tournament is what’s most important."

Tricoci has anchored the Irish defense over the last three years, starting every game since his sophomore season.

Notre Dame shells Navy, 38-7

By MIKE SCRUDATO
Sports Editor

NAVY/page 17

"Offensively, we’ve lost our intensity. We used to be tough on offense. We haven’t been as tough all year as we used to be."

Though Holtz was critical, the offense seemed to be clicking behind Rick Mirer’s arm. With the Irish ahead 10-0, Mirer hit Reggie Brooks in the numbers for a 24-yard touchdown over the middle.

After Brooks scored from four yards out on the Irish’s next possession to put Notre Dame up 24-0, the Irish defense stopped Navy to give Mirer a chance to extend the lead before halftime.

The Irish got the at their own 21 with 1:16 left, and Mirer, who had a season-high 15 completions out of 24 attempts for 221 yards, engineered the two-touchdown drive.

"We were able to keep the ball on the ground, put time on the clock and get some points on the board," Mirer said.

Offensively, the Irish were able to keep the ball on the ground, put time on the clock and get some points on the board.

"Taking the ball out of the hands of very good defensive teams is something we’ve had to do a lot of this year," Mirer said.

The Irish went 11-6-3 overall and 2-1 in the Big East.

Upset-minded Irish fall short against Lake Superior

By BRYAN CONNOLLY
Sports Writer

The Notre Dame hockey team nearly pulled off the upset of the season this weekend in their two-game series with defending NCAA champion Lake Superior State. Although they dropped both contests, the Irish surprised many with their strong play and competitiveness against one of the top teams in the nation.

In Friday night’s home opener, the Irish held a 5-3 lead over the Lakers with less than four and a half minutes remaining in the third period when they fell victim to two crucial penalty calls. Lake Superior rallied on both power plays to even the score before the Blackwells put home the winning goal to hand the Irish a 6-5 loss.

Lake Superior opened strongly by scoring three times in the first period and keeping Notre Dame to six shots on net and no goals. However, the Irish recuperated during the first intermission and returned to score five unanswered goals, including four in the second period alone.

Freshman Jamie Morhead sparked the run by netting the first two Irish goals of the evening, less than four minutes apart, the second of which occurred while the Irish were short-handed.

Captain Matt Osibeck scored on the power play two and a half minutes later followed by freshman Chris Bales’ first goal of the year. freshman defensemen Jeremy Cole concluded the Irish scoring on a power play goal with 8:21 remaining in the third period.

The Irish’ luck turned with 5:23 left in the game when sophomore Brent Lampma was sent to the box on a questionable hooking call. The Lakers scored half way into that power play and then again after senior Sterling Black was called for roughing. The final goal occurred at even strength on a fifteen footer from the slot.

"We were able to keep the ball on the ground, put time on the clock and get some points on the board," Mirer said.

"Taking the ball out of the hands of very good defensive teams is something we’ve had to do a lot of this year," Mirer said.