Ferry sinks, at least 1,000 dead

PETIT GOAVE, Haiti (AP) — A packed ferry carrying up to 1,500 people sank in stormy seas off Haiti on Friday, and only 245 people were known to have survived, the Red Cross said.

Survivors told how they clung to floating objects, in one case a bag of charcoal, to stay alive.

"The sea was full of people," said one survivor, 29-year-old Madeline Jullien, from her hospital bed in this coastal town. "I kept bumping into drowned people."

The ferry Neptune went down late Tuesday off Petit Goave, 60 miles west of the capital. But communications are so crude outside the capital it took a group of about 60 survivors a day to first report the accident.

U.S. aircraft and vessels dispatched Thursday to help in search-and-rescue efforts reported "lots of debris and lots of bodies," said Coast Guard spokesman, Cmdr. Larry Mizell, liaison in Port-au-Prince.

The Coast Guard said it had found more than 100 bodies floating off Petit Goave. Bodies were earlier reported washing up on the beaches of Miragoane, 18 miles to the west of Petit Goave.

There was "no correlation between this and the boat people," referring to the tens of thousands of Haitians who have fled their homeland by sea since the army ousted elected President Jean-Bertrand Aristide.

One survivor, Benjamin Sinclair, told the private Radio Metropole that as many as 1,500 people were aboard the triple-decker

---

Keren: Difference in Middle East mind-set deters peace

By JESSE BARRETT

News Writer

A major difference in mind-sets among Israelis and Palestinians exists, according to Michael Keren, a professor from Tel Aviv University.

This split between pragmatism and idealism is a "discrepancy between states of mind when threads to undermine the peace process in the Middle East," Keren said yesterday in his lecture "The Middle East and the New World

"There is a 'trend' to pragmati-cization of Israeli thinking in to the role in the

The Middle East," he said. "The Palestinians are not able to accept the pragmatic approach and are in a stage where questions such as sovereignty cannot be put aside for pragmatic confidence building measures."

"The New World Order is not a new situation in international politics," Keren said. "Many things have changed and much

the political process or among compete the pragmatic approach

a new situation in international struggle. We should not refer to political and ideological

a battle about who

and are in a stage where questions such as sovereignty cannot are not a signal of the end of a issue by issue by issue.

One survivor, Benjamin Sinclair, told the private Radio Metropole that as many as 1,500 people were aboard the triple-decker

---

Weigle: New center-right relationship may be only alternative in former U.S.S.R.

By EMILY MAGE

News Writer

A new state center-right relationship may be the only alterrials, and the political party system in addition to the actions of state and party leaders.

The second wave from the fall of 1990 to the present, involved post-communist state leaders and a center-right states coalition of parties and interest groups.

Weigle said that there is a daunting array of tasks for Russian political leaders in the post-Soviet Union, with the most pressing being that of establishing state authority.

Weigle approached the issue of the present situation in Russia by concentrating on the institutional and social roots of Russian state power.

"It's really a battle about who controls the government," said

Weigle.

She said that the multi-party system is not predetermined.

She continued that though

Russia, of all the reforming communist states, was the least pre pared to introduce any kind of political parties, "political parties and party blocs were the only effective, if extremely weak, form of political representation.

Weigle said that political parties transformed state power from within Russia. She noted that the situation was ironic because, though reforming communist believed that they could use the state to keep political parties in check, these same parties and electoral blocs succeeded in pushing for change.

One way they did this was through self-initiated elections, in March of 1989 and the spring of 1990," said Weigle. These elections, she said, "indicate the capacity of independent political participation to organize its forces in the face of institutionalized opposition."

She said that these events were not "something that could have been taken for granted."

This was an absence of a moderate right party because of the link between nationalism and hardliners and chauvinists.

She said that there were "missed opportunities to link new state power with liberal-democratic party coalition."

Weigle said that although parties have gained more power in legislature, "their representation in parliament no longer reflects their standing in the political process or among the general public."

She said that Velkho's lack of control over governmental ap-notices will harm political parties whose candidates were being appointed to government positions.

Weigle said that the prefer-ability of the "second wave" of state-party relations, the state system in Russia/page 4

---

Ferry sinks, at least 1,000 dead

PETIT GOAVE, Haiti (AP) — A packed ferry carrying up to 1,500 people sank in stormy seas off Haiti on Friday, and only 245 people were known to have survived, the Red Cross said.

Survivors told how they clung to floating objects, in one case a bag of charcoal, to stay alive.

"The sea was full of people," said

one survivor, 29-year-old

Madeline Jullien, from her hospital bed

in this coastal town. "I kept bumping into drowned people."

The ferry Neptune went down late

Tuesday off Petit Goave, 60 miles west of the capital. But communications are so crude outside the capital it took a group of about 60 survivors a day to first report the accident.

U.S. aircraft and vessels dispatched

Thursday to help in search-and-rescue efforts reported "lots of debris and lots of bodies," said Coast Guard spokesman, Cmdr. Larry Mizell, liaison in Port-au-Prince.

The Coast Guard said it had found more than 100 bodies floating off Petit

Goave. Bodies were earlier reported washing up on the beaches of Miragoane, 18 miles to the west of Petit Goave.

There was "no correlation between this and the boat people," referring to the tens of thousands of Haitians who have fled their homeland

by sea since the army ousted elected

President Jean-Bertrand Aristide.

One survivor, Benjamin Sinclair, told the private Radio Metropole that as many as 1,500 people were aboard

the triple-decker
Memories and thanks: a JPW tribute

My first memory reaches back almost nineteen years ago. I was sitting on the kitchen counter, eating cinnamon red hots. For some reason, Gammy (my grandmother) was in from New York, watching me while Mom and Dad were gone for some reason that I did not know. As my Accout Photo Editor memory jogs back, Gammy did not really mind that I was making a gluton of myself with the red hots. Next, I remember Mom and Dad coming back with a new-born sister.

I remember the last day of nursery school. The school invited all of the parents to the school to watch us ride around on tricycles and then have a hot dog lunch. Dad took time off work so that he could come. I remember being hard at lunch to stop at the grocery store on the way home for some of those Double Stuff Oreos cookies that one of the girls in the class had brought for the potluck dessert table.

I remember those summer days and evenings of grade school when all of the neighborhood kids would flock to our backyard for endless games of kickball. Our supply of band-aids was constantly being taxed with scraped knees and elbows. Mom was continually making pitchers of Kool-Aid to quench the thirsts of the neighborhood youth.

I remember those nights before the grade school science fairs when Mom and Dad were trying to get my sister and me to start and finish the science projects due the next day.

I remember the taxi service that Mom and Dad ran to the birthday parties, the roller skating parties, the TV game shows, the football games and whatever else was on the agenda.

I remember the days of junior high school. Those days of ups and down. Those days when “Mom and Dad” was the answer for all of the world’s problems.

Friends who knew it all and proceeded to let everyone know we knew it all.

I remember the last days before leaving for college. Mom was scurryring around making sure that I had my bed sheets, laundry soap off plenty of underwear and socks. Dad worked those past midnight hours of packing more into a car than seemed humanly possible.

After spending three years here at Notre Dame, I have come to realize that the impression that I have had with my parents is unique but yet shared by nearly all here. None of us have gotten this far on our own. We have some pretty amazing people behind us.

To all of the parents out there this weekend, we all have come a long way — thanks for bringing us this far. Thanks for enduring through the Little League games, the neighborhood Kool-Aid stands and the sibling rivalries.

The stories expressed in the Inside Column are those of the author and not necessarily those of The Observer.

TODAY AT A GLANCE

NATIONAL
Cosby coming back to NBC

■ NEW YORK — Bill Cosby and NBC will reunite in 1993-94 for a series of two-hour movies that will be spun off into a weekly series the following season. NBC West Coast President Don Ohlmeyer announced Thursday that the show, which has been in development for some time, will be set in New York, as was "The Cosby Show." The former producer and executive joined the troubled network, now in third place, in a newly created position earlier this month. The new TV series would be Cosby's sixth in prime time TV. His first was NBC's "I Spy," a 1960s comedy-drama mystery series in which he co-starred with Robert Culp.

Artist pleads no contest to forgery

■ LOS ANGELES — A self-taught artist pleaded no contest to a conspiracy count and six counts of forging works of Dali, Joan Miro, Hiro Yamagata, Chagall and Rockwell. Under a plea bargain, Superior Court Judge Michael Tyman will sentence Tetro on March 11 to six months in jail and order him to perform 200 hours of community service by teaching art. Tetro also must paint a mural on a building or a wall, the site to be determined later. Tetro was accused of forging 67 watercolors and lithographs for distribution nationwide at prices ranging from $1,000 to $2 million apiece. During a 1991 trial, Tetro testified he painted hundreds of works that imitated the styles of the masters, but said he never intended his art to be sold as genuine art.

MGM to make Betty Boop movie

■ LOS ANGELES — The makers of "Driving Miss Daisy" will produce a new animated film about the adventures of her pals, Koko and Bimbo, as they travel the United States. "Our version of Betty Boop will focus on the adventures of her pals, Koko and Bimbo, as they travel the United States. MGM's co-chairman, Production will begin this year No release date has been set.

Teto, 42, pleaded no contest to a conspiracy count and six counts of forging works of Dali, Joan Miro, Hiro Yamagata, Chagall and Rockwell. Under a plea bargain, Superior Court Judge Michael Tyman will sentence Teto on March 11 to six months in jail and order him to perform 200 hours of community service by teaching art. Teto also must paint a mural on a building or a wall, the site to be determined later. Teto was accused of forging 67 watercolors and lithographs for distribution nationwide at prices ranging from $1,000 to $2 million apiece. During a 1991 trial, Teto testified he painted hundreds of works that imitated the styles of the masters, but said he never intended his art to be sold as genuine art.

OF INTEREST

■ A Spanish Mass will be held Sunday at 11:30 a.m. in Brown-Phillips Chapel. Father Ernest Bartell will be the celebrant.

■ "Portraits of Catholic Workers," a photographic exhibit by Mary Farrell will open Sunday from 3 to 6 p.m. in the Center for Social Concerns. Subsequent viewing hours are Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m., Saturdays from 12 to 2 p.m. and Sundays from 6 to 9 p.m.

■ Students for Environmental Action will hold an organizational meeting Sunday at 9 p.m. in the Montgomery Theatre, LaFortune Student Center. All are welcome.

MARKET UPDATE

YESTERDAY'S TRADING

| NYSE INDEX | 267,831,380 |
| S & P COMPOSITE | 436.90 |
| DOW JONES INDUSTRIAL | (175.50) |
| COMMODITY | DOW 785 |
| NO C | COMMODITY |
| GOLD | 231.70 |
| SILVER | 5.02 |
| 12 |

THE OBSERVER
This inferiority in status set the stage for future inequities for Irish women, according to MacCurtain. An Irish man’s name was tightly linked to his land, said MacCurtain. This connection between the males of a family and the farm enhanced the status of the males of the family, giving them a more important position in society, she said.

Women, however, were told by various sources to simply bear the children and stay home at night, said MacCurtain. “There were very few pleasures in their lives,” said MacCurtain. “The rural community could not accommodate daughters as they did sons.” The combination of government, economic, and church influences further developed the patriarchal lifestyle in Ireland. According to MacCurtain, the concept of patriarchy was constantly in the minds of the men in power, and it is still represented by the laws of modern Irish society. The place of the woman in the home was reinforced by stringent controls on contraception, abortion, and information about sexuality, she said.

“Prevention of abortion in Ireland is seen as the male ownership of women reflected in the state’s laws and constitution,” said MacCurtain. “And in the 1980s, the women’s body was high on political agendas, and nowhere more than in Ireland.” The modern debate on sexual issues launched a strong tide of public response in Ireland. Although MacCurtain said she believes the Irish state is rather “out of tune” with these issues in the country, a strong critique of the male status quo is rising in Ireland.

The key to an effective voice for women in Ireland is empowerment, said MacCurtain. “Equality is a two-way process and gender equality is a goal for modern Ireland,” said MacCurtain.
Clinton program is a real change

WASHINGTON (AP) — As more details of President Clinton's policies surface, it's becoming clear that the administration's budget program represents a fundamental shift in government spending priorities. The unraveling of the Ronald Reagan legacy is being replaced by an era of budget program changes, large and small.

It's drawing howls from conservatives, including Reagan himself. "Did he hear that right?" Reagan said while writing the New York Times.

"I'm afraid so," the former president said, answering his own question as he took strong issue with Clinton's assertion that he wants to tax those who do well in the 1980s. "Do you really believe that those who have worked hard and been successful should somehow be punished for it?" asked Reagan.

From huge cuts in defense spending and the scaling back of expensive but popular projects like space station, to increases in programs for women, infants and children, to widespread tax increases hitting the wealthiest the hardest.

Clinton's spending proposal includes dozens of items such as more funds to help restore dilapidated public housing, more money for health care for veterans and increasing the number of federal meat and poultry inspectors.

There is a dramatic difference in philosophy that is reflected in Clinton's program and his approach to governance. "The contrast is stark," said Thomas Mann, director of governmental studies at Brookings Institution. Clinton carried on his campaign to undo the Reagan-Bush years on Thursday at the White House released a 142-page booklet with more details of Clinton's economic proposal.

Twelve years of neglect left America's economy suffering from stagnant growth and declining incomes. Such is the sorry legacy of 12 years of shortsightedness, mismanagement and protection of the privileged," Clinton said in an introduction.

The book, which contains most of the detail of a full budget document, did contain one set of figures the administration wasn't particularly bragging about.

A summary table showed that the $493 billion the White House had projected to receive in new tax revenue under the Clinton-Bush budget is just the beginning of reform, depends on how much strategy can affect Russian politics in a state of almost total confusion.

She said that Russia is "caught between the Scylla of democratic fragmentation and the Charybdis of bureaucratic administration". She said the Clinton plan to try to pragmatize dialogue and convince Palestinians the importance of the peace process. There is an opportunity for a Middle East peace as the total four-year "deficit reduction" total didn't take into account the new spending being proposed by Clinton on "stimulus" programs.

The actual deficit-reduction total over four years is $325 billion rather than the nearly $500 billion the White House had been proposing.

And while the package still embraces one of the most ambitious deficit-reduction efforts ever, the new figures served to underscore that Clinton's plan relies proportionally more on tax increases than not spending cuts to stem the flow of federal red ink.

"In a nutshell, there are too many tax increases relative to spending cuts," said Paul Fried, a National Association of Manufacturers vice-president.

Clinton's package calls for higher income taxes on wealthy individuals and corporations and proposed a new energy tax on all fuels, a measure that would hit the middle class the hardest.

Proposed, among others, are a freeze on government salaries for the next two years; a new 5-cent-per-gallon gasoline tax; a freeze on government salaries; a 7-cent increase in the Social Security tax; and a freeze on government salaries for the next two years.

Military authorities in Jerome, speaking on condition of anonymity, said one of the three decks of the vessel had collapsed.

The Observer is now accepting applications for the following position:

Design Editor

Contact Jeanne Blasi at 1-503 for more information.

Oklahoma. OPEN'S NEXT WEEK!

March 5, 1993

THE O B S E R V E R

Opportunity for the best job in the whole world!

Applications can be picked up in the Student Activities Office
3rd floor LaFortune
Deadline: March 5, 1993
Ban AIDS immigrants, Senate votes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate voted Thursday to bar AIDS-infected foreigners from immigrating permanently to the United States, a lopsided defeat for President Clinton that left the White House groaning for help.

Clinton had promised during the campaign that he would lift the AIDS bar. He seemed to run up white flag.

"If you look at the vote margin, he doesn't have that many options," said spokeswoman Dee Dee Myers. "He's going to review it, I think the Senate made a pretty strong statement about it."

Sen. Don Nickles, R-Okl., thought too, and said the 76-23 vote on his amendment should send the administration a message that letting people with the AIDS virus into the country and letting homosexuals into the military are politically unpopular.

"Frankly, I think President Clinton made a lot of promises to special interest groups that are not in sync with the American people, and this is one of them," Nickles said.

Myers suggested that Clinton had not put up much of a fight on the AIDS issue in the Senate.

The president has been reviewing his options on this for the last several weeks, but he's been working primarily on his economic plan, she said.

Up to now, the immigration ban has been a matter of policy that the administration could change. But Nickles' amendment would make that policy federal law.

His amendment is attached to a bill that authorizes spending for the National Institutes of Health. The bill itself later passed 94-4 and now goes to the House, where a similar effort is under way to put the ban into law.

Before approving Nickles amendment, Senate Majority Leader Bob Dole defeated a move by Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., that would have kept current federal policy in place for 90 days but left Clinton free to change it after that.

Kennedy, whose measure lost on a 56-42 vote, said the United States had obligations that extend beyond its borders. Such obligations, he said, would include political refugees who should not be denied U.S. government protection simply because they have caught a virus.

Kevorkian assists in two more suicides

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Jack Kevorkian assisted two more suicides Thursday, bringing to 15 the number of people he has helped die since 1990.

Kevorkian, an advocate of physician-assisted suicide, has pleaded up to work as a March 30 deadline approaches.

On that date, a Michigan law making assisting suicide a felony, carrying a four-year sentence takes effect.

Jonathan Grenz, 44, of Coopa Mesa, Calif., and Martha Ruwart, 41, of Cardid by-the-Sea, Calif., died Thursday, said Waterford Township Police Officer Bill Himmelpach.

Grenz had throat cancer and Ruwart had duodenal cancer that had spread to her ovaries, said Geoffrey Rieger, Kevorkian's attorney.

Grenz's cancer forced doctors to remove much of his tongue and part of his neck, said Michael Schwartz, another attorney representing Kevorkian.

Surgeons who operated on Schwartz in December said her prognosis was poor, he said.

Grenz and Ruwart inhaled carbon monoxide, the same method used in the other recent suicides, Schwartz said. He said he didn't know how long Kevorkian had been consulting with the two.

He said the patients, Nat Kevorkian, are the reason for the doctor's stepped-up activity as March 30 nears. Some fear Kevorkian, who has assisted six suicides this month alone, will be billed and unable to help them if they wait too long.

"People are becoming more desperate," Schwartz said. "People might not have contacted him but are considering him now out of fear, panic, and desperation."

It's Back...

Footstompin' Friday

at Saint Mary's

Friday, February 26th

Watch for Details

Chinese - American
Restaurant &
Cocktail Lounge

Mandarin & Hunan Cuisine

Vote Best Chinese -American Restaurant in Michigan by March 1st

Rm 1200
2030 W. Main St., Grand Rapids, MI 49503

Vietnamese
Restaurant

Simplicity

Newfies Inaugural.....$3.95

Bar & Restaurant open 7 days a week

Lunches starting at $3.95
Dinners starting at $5.95
Banquet rooms available for up to 200

Mesa, Calif. and Martha Ruwart, 41, of Cardif by-the-Sea, Cali, died Thursday, said Waterford Township Police Officer Bill Himmelpach.

Grenz had throat cancer and Ruwart had duodenal cancer that had spread to her ovaries, said Geoffrey Rieger, Kevorkian's attorney.

Grenz's cancer forced doctors to remove much of his tongue and part of his neck, said Michael Schwartz, another attorney representing Kevorkian.

Surgeons who operated on Schwartz in December said her prognosis was poor, he said.

Grenz and Ruwart inhaled carbon monoxide, the same method used in the other recent suicides, Schwartz said. He said he didn't know how long Kevorkian had been consulting with the two.

He said the patients, Nat Kevorkian, are the reason for the doctor's stepped-up activity as March 30 nears. Some fear Kevorkian, who has assisted six suicides this month alone, will be billed and unable to help them if they wait too long.

"People are becoming more desperate," Schwartz said. "People might not have contacted him but are considering him now out of fear, panic, and desperation."

It's Back...

Footstompin' Friday

at Saint Mary's

Friday, February 26th

Watch for Details

Chinese - American
Restaurant &
Cocktail Lounge

Mandarin & Hunan Cuisine

Vote Best Chinese -American Restaurant in Michigan by March 1st

Rm 1200
2030 W. Main St., Grand Rapids, MI 49503

Vietnamese
Restaurant

Simplicity

Newfies Inaugural.....$3.95

Bar & Restaurant open 7 days a week

Lunches starting at $3.95
Dinners starting at $5.95
Banquet rooms available for up to 200

Mesa, Calif. and Martha Ruwart, 41, of Cardif by-the-Sea, Cali, died Thursday, said Waterford Township Police Officer Bill Himmelpach.

Grenz had throat cancer and Ruwart had duodenal cancer that had spread to her ovaries, said Geoffrey Rieger, Kevorkian's attorney.

Grenz's cancer forced doctors to remove much of his tongue and part of his neck, said Michael Schwartz, another attorney representing Kevorkian.

Surgeons who operated on Schwartz in December said her prognosis was poor, he said.

Grenz and Ruwart inhaled carbon monoxide, the same method used in the other recent suicides, Schwartz said. He said he didn't know how long Kevorkian had been consulting with the two.

He said the patients, Nat Kevorkian, are the reason for the doctor's stepped-up activity as March 30 nears. Some fear Kevorkian, who has assisted six suicides this month alone, will be billed and unable to help them if they wait too long.

"People are becoming more desperate," Schwartz said. "People might not have contacted him but are considering him now out of fear, panic, and desperation."

It's Back...

Footstompin' Friday

at Saint Mary's

Friday, February 26th

Watch for Details

Chinese - American
Restaurant &
Cocktail Lounge

Mandarin & Hunan Cuisine

Vote Best Chinese -American Restaurant in Michigan by March 1st

Rm 1200
2030 W. Main St., Grand Rapids, MI 49503

Vietnamese
Restaurant

Simplicity

Newfies Inaugural.....$3.95

Bar & Restaurant open 7 days a week

Lunches starting at $3.95
Dinners starting at $5.95
Banquet rooms available for up to 200

Mesa, Calif. and Martha Ruwart, 41, of Cardif by-the-Sea, Cali, died Thursday, said Waterford Township Police Officer Bill Himmelpach.

Grenz had throat cancer and Ruwart had duodenal cancer that had spread to her ovaries, said Geoffrey Rieger, Kevorkian's attorney.

Grenz's cancer forced doctors to remove much of his tongue and part of his neck, said Michael Schwartz, another attorney representing Kevorkian.

Surgeons who operated on Schwartz in December said her prognosis was poor, he said.

Grenz and Ruwart inhaled carbon monoxide, the same method used in the other recent suicides, Schwartz said. He said he didn't know how long Kevorkian had been consulting with the two.

He said the patients, Nat Kevorkian, are the reason for the doctor's stepped-up activity as March 30 nears. Some fear Kevorkian, who has assisted six suicides this month alone, will be billed and unable to help them if they wait too long.

"People are becoming more desperate," Schwartz said. "People might not have contacted him but are considering him now out of fear, panic, and desperation."
Elders: Teaching abstinence does not work

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP) — Teaching teenagers sexual abstinence hasn't stopped them from getting pregnant or contracting AIDS, so schools should step in with other kinds of information, the nation's next surgeon general said Thursday.

"Every mother I know, every teacher I know, every minister I know has been teaching abstinence for a thousand years. We know they're not abstaining," said Dr. Joycelyn Elders, chosen for the health post by President Clinton.

Elders, now state health chief in Arkansas, will succeed Dr. Antonia Novello, who steps down in June.

In a speech to a National School Boards Association panel on school health programs and in later comments, Elders said many parents are ill-equipped to properly teach their children about pregnancy or sexually transmitted diseases such as AIDS.

"People always say let the parents take care of it," she said. "Well, nobody ever taught them, so they don't know how to teach their children."

She said 52 percent of children don't go to church and can't receive instruction there.

Elders, 59, is an outspoken pediatrician who has been a target of conservatives and anti-abortion groups since 1987, when then Gov. Clinton made her the first black person and the first woman to head the Arkansas Health Department.

Her resolute support of condom distribution in schools as a means of combating teen pregnancy and AIDS raised the ire of conservative and Christian groups in Arkansas, which has the nation's second highest pregnancy rate among teenagers. Clinton ignored calls for her resignation.

Correction

In a story yesterday's issue, The Observer incorrectly reported a statement made during Wednesday's Iceberg Debate by Sheila Moloney of the Breen Phillips team. Moloney said that Notre Dame should not compare itself with secular universities in part because those universities place technical research, such as fetal tissue studies, ahead of ethical research. Notre Dame banned research with human fetal tissue as contrary to its Catholic nature.

That's exactly what we intend to do," he said.

Thursday, HUD spelt out how much of community development money each city will receive, ranging from $73,000 to Colonial Heights, Va., to $139 million to New York City.

In anticipation, the nation's mayors on Thursday gaze at Clinton a glimpse of what they may do with the money. Billing $7.2 billion worth of "ready-to- go" transportation and community projects in 470 cities. The list identifies 4,396 projects that can be started within 120 days and finished by the end of the year. It calls for $2.7 billion for transportation projects and $3.5 billion for community development work both still well above the increase allocated in Clinton's package.

Cameron said the community development program would help create between 50,000 and 60,000 jobs.

The Observer is now accepting applications for the following paid positions:

Associate News Editor
Assistant News Editor
Copy Editor
Day Chief

Please submit a two-page personal statement of intent and a résumé to Meredith McCollough by 5 p.m., Monday, February 22, 1993. For questions about any of the positions, call Meredith at 631-5323.

The Mind... is it all in your head?

The Mystery of Choice

In Beijing and Shanghai, Bill Moyers explores traditional Chinese medicine and its approach to healing.

The Mind Body Connection

The medical professionals on the frontier of mind-body research struggle to understand how it is that mental processes can affect physical health.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 23 - 9:00 - 11:00 p.m.

Healing From Within

A Chicago doctor explores the role of mind and body in healing. The Stress Reduction Clinic at the University of Massachusetts Medical School shares its success battling many medical problems such as high blood pressure, heart disease, and chronic back pain. The Stanford University School of Medicine shows how group psychotherapy may start healing.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 23 - 10:30 - 11:00 p.m.

Wounded Healers

Moyers looks at a medical care based on the idea that emotional states play a role in peoples' ability to disease--and their recovery.

The Art of Healing

Moyers looks at a medical care based on the idea that emotional states play a role in peoples' ability to disease--and their recovery.

Reserved seats $7

Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday
Washington Hall
10 p.m.
Available Wednesday, Thursday and Sunday Ticket Office: MasterCard, VISA, American Express
Call: 631-8128

The Observer SPORTS DEPARTMENT is now accepting applications

Associate Sports Editor
Assistant Sports Editor
Copy Editor

Please submit a two-page personal statement of intent and a résumé to George Dohrmann by 5 p.m., Monday, February 22, 1993. Contact George at 631-4543 for more information about any position.

NOTRE DAME THEATRE presents

Theatre presents

Reserved seats $7

Wednesday and Thursday
8:10 p.m.
1:10 p.m.
10 p.m.
1:10 p.m.
10 p.m.

The Observer is now accepting applications for the following paid positions:

Associate News Editor
Assistant News Editor
Copy Editor
Day Chief

Please submit a two-page personal statement of intent and a résumé to Meredith McCollough by 5 p.m., Monday, February 22, 1993. For questions about any of the positions, call Meredith at 631-5323.

The Mystery of Choice

In Beijing and Shanghai, Bill Moyers explores traditional Chinese medicine and its approach to healing.

The Mind Body Connection

The medical professionals on the frontier of mind-body research struggle to understand how it is that mental processes can affect physical health.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 23 - 9:00 - 11:00 p.m.

Healing From Within

A Chicago doctor explores the role of mind and body in healing. The Stress Reduction Clinic at the University of Massachusetts Medical School shares its success battling many medical problems such as high blood pressure, heart disease, and chronic back pain. The Stanford University School of Medicine shows how group psychotherapy may start healing.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 23 - 10:30 - 11:00 p.m.

Wounded Healers

Moyers looks at a medical care based on the idea that emotional states play a role in peoples' ability to disease--and their recovery.

The Art of Healing

Moyers looks at a medical care based on the idea that emotional states play a role in peoples' ability to disease--and their recovery.

Reserved seats $7

Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday
Washington Hall
10 p.m.
Available Wednesday, Thursday and Sunday Ticket Office: MasterCard, VISA, American Express
Call: 631-8128

The Observer SPORTS DEPARTMENT is now accepting applications

Associate Sports Editor
Assistant Sports Editor
Copy Editor

Please submit a two-page personal statement of intent and a résumé to George Dohrmann by 5 p.m., Monday, February 22, 1993. Contact George at 631-4543 for more information about any position.

NOTRE DAME THEATRE presents

Theatre presents

Reserved seats $7

Wednesday and Thursday
8:10 p.m.
1:10 p.m.
10 p.m.
1:10 p.m.
10 p.m.

 correcting
Christopher calls for peace in Middle East

CAIRO (AP) — Secretary of State Warren Christopher challenged Arab and Israeli leaders Thursday to strike compromises quickly or risk diminished U.S. interest in pressing the Mideast peace process.

"There are important opportunities here that should not be missed by the parties," Christopher said on his arrival in Cairo, the first stop on a week-long tour of the region and his first trip abroad since taking office.

"We have come to the region ready to do our best, and we will be assessing whether the parties are ready to do theirs," he said.

A senior U.S. official told reporters on route from Washington that the Arab-Israeli conflict "can't continue to have Kozyshev spoke with Christopher by telephone before the trip. It said they discussed several issues connected with the Middle East peace process but gave no details.

The Observer
PHOTO DEPARTMENT is now accepting applications, for the following positions:
Assistant Photo Editor
Sports Photo Editor
Accent Photo Editor

Come see World Champion Pool Player
Nick Varner
on February 24th
as he plays against Notre Dame's Campus Champion
in the Ballroom at 8:00 p.m.

Come see World Champion Pool Player Nick Varner on February 24th as he plays against Notre Dame's Campus Champion in the Ballroom at 8:00 p.m.

Admission is free and popcorn will be served!!!
Sponsored by Student Activities

Not under the influence

Members of SADD show the students the possibilities of fun without alcohol as they serve non-alcoholic drinks, called "mock tails." SADD sponsored the alcohol-free event.

Plane enroute to Miami hijacked

MIAMI (AP) — A gunman seized a hostage at a Haitian airport, hijacked a missionary group's plane with 12 others aboard and ordered it to Miami on Thursday, an official said.

But the gunman surrendered his weapon to the crew about 2 1/2 hours after he commandeered the plane, before it reached Miami, said a federal law enforcement source, who spoke on condition of anonymity. The source also said the hijacker was a soldier.

The hijacker shot a hole in the ceiling of the plane before it took off, but no injuries were reported, said Kathleen Bergen, a spokeswoman for the Federal Aviation Administration in Atlanta.

The plane, an aging twin-prop DC-3, refused without incident in Providenciales Island in the Turks and Caicos before flying toward Miami, Bergen said.

The plane was carrying 10 passengers, all believed to be U.S. citizens, and a crew of two when the hijacker boarded with a woman he took hostage on the ground in Cap Haitien in northern Haiti, Bergen said.

"I have no knowledge of any of his demands other than he wants to go to Miami," she said.

She said the plane was due at Miami International Airport shortly before 7 p.m.

The FBI was planning to be there when the plane arrived, said Wendi Jackman, airport spokesperson. The U.S. Customs Service sent up a Citation jet to accompany the plane into the airport, according to the Coast Guard office in Miami.

It wasn't immediately known whether the hijacking was related to Haitian refugee crisis.

Tens of thousands of Haitians have fled the impoverished Caribbean nation by sea since the army ousted the country's first democratically elected president, Jean-Bertrand Aristide, in 1991.

American policy has been to "intercept the refugees at sea, though some have reached Florida.

"We have no information on the hijacking," Bergen said.

CDC: Pregnant minorities at higher risk

ATLANTA (AP) — The first federal study of births complicated by diabetes shows minorities are at highest risk because they don't get prenatal care to detect and control the disease, health officials reported Thursday.

"This is a very clear case of a disease where we have clear risks and clear interventions that can prevent serious complications," said Robert Germain, director of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

Women must get early and continuous prenatal care, but they had more than twice the rate of diabetes among black women.

"Doctors know that blacks, Hispanics, Asians and Indians get diabetes at higher rates than whites. For example, the rate of diabetes in 1989 was 25.2 cases per 1,000 white women compared with 43.4 cases among blacks," Germain said.

They also suspected that minorities were at further risk from diabetes during pregnancy because they got less prenatal care and had never been able to track that, he said.
ANC agrees to 5 years of multiparty rule

SOWETO, South Africa (AP) — The African National Congress (ANC) formally agreed on Thursday to govern jointly with the opposition multiparty rule after five permanent members of the Security Council authorized a commission to gather evidence of war crimes. The commission would be chaired by the court. Diplomats said that an arbitrary date. Agreement on the text by the five permanent Security Council powers virtually assured passage of the resolution, which was drafted and sponsored by France.

In October, the Security Council authorized a commission to gather evidence of war crimes. A process similar to that which led to the Nuremberg trials of Nazi war criminals after World War II. The 1945-49 Nuremberg trials of Nazi war criminals established a chain of responsibility for collective war crimes. Nazi leaders — including Hermann Göring, Martin Bormann and Joachim von Ribbentrop — were condemned to death. The U.N. commission, led by Tadeusz Mazowiecki, Poland's first post-Communist premier, has said it was overwhelmed by reports of atrocities. It said crimes were committed by all sides.

Attorneys said the findings were mass graves; evidence of systematic rape of Muslim women by Serbs; and the "ethnic cleansing" campaigns of terror to drive minorities from areas dominated by a particular group.

Any trials from the wars in former Yugoslav states would be based on the 1949 Geneva Convention on the treatment of civilians during war. The convention outlines mass deportations and attacks on civilians, hospitals and mercy missions.

ANC agrees to 5 years of multiparty rule

UNITED NATIONS (AP) - The five permanent members of the Security Council agreed Thursday that the court should be set up to punish war criminals in former Yugoslav states. The United States, Britain, France and Russia had backed the concept, but did not win China's support until Thursday, diplomats said.

The text of a draft resolution they agreed on asks Secretary-General Boutros Boutros-Ghali to study ways to set up the court, which would be limited to atrocities in the Yugoslav conflicts.

The draft text contained little detail on the structure or working of the court. But it said war crimes committed after Jan. 1, 1991, would be punished on a "reconstruction program" with other parties, said Cyril Ramaphosa, the ANC's secretary-general, said at a news conference in this black township outside Johannesburg.

At this point, key differences remain between the gonna for a new government that would lead South Africa out of the apartheid era.

Ramaphosa said joint rule would last not more than five years, while President F. W. de Klerk has spoken of permanent power-sharing entrenched in a new constitution.

All parties receiving at least five percent of the vote in a multiparty election would be represented in the interim government, but the largest party would wield the most power, Ramaphosa said. That likely would be the ANC.

"Our idea means the principle of majority rule should not be sacrificed in any way," Ramaphosa said.

He said the ANC opposed de Klerk's so-called "political principle of majority rule should not be sacrificed in any way," Ramaphosa said.

He said the ANC opposed de Klerk's so-called "political principle of majority rule should not be sacrificed in any way," Ramaphosa said.

He said the ANC opposed de Klerk's so-called "political principle of majority rule should not be sacrificed in any way," Ramaphosa said.

He said the ANC opposed de Klerk's so-called "political principle of majority rule should not be sacrificed in any way," Ramaphosa said.

The ANC also favors a strong presidency, while de Klerk has called for a weak presidency possibly to be shared among leaders of the largest political parties.

"The objective will be to unite our country, to bring about stability, to ensure we embark on a reconstruction program with other parties," Cyril Ramaphosa, the ANC's secretary-general, said at a news conference in this black township outside Johannesburg.

At this point, key differences remain between the governments that would lead South Africa out of the apartheid era.

Ramaphosa said joint rule would last not more than five years, while President F. W. de Klerk has spoken of permanent power-sharing entrenched in a new constitution.

All parties receiving at least five percent of the vote in a multiparty election would be represented in the interim government, but the largest party would wield the most power, Ramaphosa said. That likely would be the ANC.

"Our idea means the principle of majority rule should not be sacrificed in any way," Ramaphosa said.

He said the ANC opposed de Klerk's so-called "political principle of majority rule should not be sacrificed in any way," Ramaphosa said.

He said the ANC opposed de Klerk's so-called "political principle of majority rule should not be sacrificed in any way," Ramaphosa said.

He said the ANC opposed de Klerk's so-called "political principle of majority rule should not be sacrificed in any way," Ramaphosa said.

The ANC also favors a strong presidency, while de Klerk has called for a weak presidency possibly to be shared among leaders of the largest political parties.

"The objective will be to unite our country, to bring about stability, to ensure we embark on a reconstruction program with other parties," Cyril Ramaphosa, the ANC's secretary-general, said at a news conference in this black township outside Johannesburg.

At this point, key differences remain between the governments that would lead South Africa out of the apartheid era.

Ramaphosa said joint rule would last not more than five years, while President F. W. de Klerk has spoken of permanent power-sharing entrenched in a new constitution.

All parties receiving at least five percent of the vote in a multiparty election would be represented in the interim government, but the largest party would wield the most power, Ramaphosa said. That likely would be the ANC.

"Our idea means the principle of majority rule should not be sacrificed in any way," Ramaphosa said.

He said the ANC opposed de Klerk's so-called "political principle of majority rule should not be sacrificed in any way," Ramaphosa said.

He said the ANC opposed de Klerk's so-called "political principle of majority rule should not be sacrificed in any way," Ramaphosa said.

He said the ANC opposed de Klerk's so-called "political principle of majority rule should not be sacrificed in any way," Ramaphosa said.

The ANC also favors a strong presidency, while de Klerk has called for a weak presidency possibly to be shared among leaders of the largest political parties.

"The objective will be to unite our country, to bring about stability, to ensure we embark on a reconstruction program with other parties," Cyril Ramaphosa, the ANC's secretary-general, said at a news conference in this black township outside Johannesburg.

At this point, key differences remain between the governments that would lead South Africa out of the apartheid era.

Ramaphosa said joint rule would last not more than five years, while President F. W. de Klerk has spoken of permanent power-sharing entrenched in a new constitution.

All parties receiving at least five percent of the vote in a multiparty election would be represented in the interim government, but the largest party would wield the most power, Ramaphosa said. That likely would be the ANC.

"Our idea means the principle of majority rule should not be sacrificed in any way," Ramaphosa said.

He said the ANC opposed de Klerk's so-called "political principle of majority rule should not be sacrificed in any way," Ramaphosa said.

He said the ANC opposed de Klerk's so-called "political principle of majority rule should not be sacrificed in any way," Ramaphosa said.

He said the ANC opposed de Klerk's so-called "political principle of majority rule should not be sacrificed in any way," Ramaphosa said.

The ANC also favors a strong presidency, while de Klerk has called for a weak presidency possibly to be shared among leaders of the largest political parties.

"The objective will be to unite our country, to bring about stability, to ensure we embark on a reconstruction program with other parties," Cyril Ramaphosa, the ANC's secretary-general, said at a news conference in this black township outside Johannesburg.

At this point, key differences remain between the governments that would lead South Africa out of the apartheid era.

Ramaphosa said joint rule would last not more than five years, while President F. W. de Klerk has spoken of permanent power-sharing entrenched in a new constitution.

All parties receiving at least five percent of the vote in a multiparty election would be represented in the interim government, but the largest party would wield the most power, Ramaphosa said. That likely would be the ANC.

"Our idea means the principle of majority rule should not be sacrificed in any way," Ramaphosa said.

He said the ANC opposed de Klerk's so-called "political principle of majority rule should not be sacrificed in any way," Ramaphosa said.

He said the ANC opposed de Klerk's so-called "political principle of majority rule should not be sacrificed in any way," Ramaphosa said.
Energy tax hits petroleum users

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Clinton's proposed energy tax is designed to spread the cost of fueling the nation's cars and trucks to the users of petroleum — motorists who will pay more at the pump, homeowners and apartment dwellers who heat their homes with oil, and industrial users who burn fuel to make products.

The tax, which will probably be considered in the first few weeks by members of the House Energy and Commerce Committee, is designed to bring in some $118 billion annually in increased costs for electricity, heating and transportation by 1997, according to aides to the House Ways and Means Committee.

But different fuels have different costs, and the tax is structured to take particular aim at oil.

Petroleum, which already is more expensive than coal and is projected to be up to 35 percent of energy it releases, will be taxed at more than twice the rate — 60 cents per gallon — on the cost of oil as compared with other energy sources. Coal, natural gas and hydroelectric energy will have a tax of 26 cents per million BTUs.

Critics of the tax, including many Republican lawmakers, were expected to argue that the tax will make U.S. industry less competitive with foreign companies and unfairly affect the poor.

Jobless benefits extended

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic leaders extended the first item of President Clinton's economic program to the House early Tuesday, giving committee approval to a $3.6 billion proposal that extends unemployment benefits for the jobless.

In a preview of the year's policy battles, House Republicans complained that their efforts to alter the $5.6 billion legislation were thwarted by Democrats on the House Ways and Means Committee.

"The people in this House care about what happens to the people who wouldn't take any amendment," said Rep. Bill Archer, R-Texas. "You saw a party-line, 23-14 vote to pass whatever they wanted. It's not in the public's interest, that's what happened they wouldn't take any amendment."

The panel sent the bill to a House vote Wednesday, a party-line, 23-14 vote to pass whatever they wanted. It was set for next Wednesday.

"This is the opening shot," Archer said, contending that if the policy all the way through, they've got 10 years to go, it's not in the public's interest. Anything we might propose is not going to go by the people in this House.

The measure provides for an unemployment extension of $2.7 billion for Puerto Rico and $300 million for the District of Columbia. The bill also provides benefits for people who have exhausted their state unemployment benefits and were up to 26 weeks of benefits.

Kuwait continues to test OPEC cartel's resolve

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — OPEC petroleum ministers have strained the cartel's resolve to its limits with their output decisions in recent weeks, but still Kuwait continues to test the cartel's members.

Kuwait's government, which is relying on its oil output to support its economy, has increased its production to the levels before it was invaded by Iraq, told other members it would fight back if anyone cheats on the deal.

"The Oil Minister Ali al-Hashim the oil minister told reporters his country would have to pump for years to re-establish its Islamic cartel's losses and it is returning to its old policies of output.

Such overproduction could wreck the cartel's deal and cause oil prices to tumble.

Kuwait has been seeking a cut of nearly 1.5 million barrels of oil a day from current levels on OPEs principle of "one barrel out, one barrel in," or an output cut to 23.6 million barrels a day, a level that would cut prices in half.

The oil market initially reacted with pessimism, but which followed several failed attempts to cut output.

"The surprise cuts were followed after the delivery slumped 45 cents a barrel to $19.53 on the New York NYMEX, with the cartel's market of 33 barrels a day, the average price of an OPEC barrel has been running more than 33 barrels a barrel under the cartel's target of $22 a barrel.

OPEC desperately sought to prop up prices which would plunge in the spring, when oil demand typically falls as the area's summer heat drives.

But oil prices have been unable to go above $40 a barrel, a "substantial impact on the overall market."

But Paul Metz, head of energy research at Morgan Stanley, said the cartel was "too much of an ouglift to both the U.S. and Nigeria. A large impoverished in the world, said that the cartel can contribute.

But now the new accord, Saudi Arabia, the cartel's most influential member, has promised to provide it a "reasonable" price.

"The implication of the new accord, Saudi Arabia can produce 8 million barrels a day in spring, down by 3.5 million barrels a day in spring, said the line. The cartel's No. 2 pro-

Kuwait's demand for an oil price decision was driven by the Big Three, the one Big Three thermal unit, a "substantial" price.

Clinton: Airlines should blame themselves

WASHINGTON (AP) — A former postmaster general and former chairman of American Airlines, who was far harsher.

"They'll be eyeing each other very closely because they're obvious candidates for market share," said the report.

A former postmaster general and former chairman of American Airlines, who was far harsher.

"They'll be eyeing each other very closely because they're obvious candidates for market share," said the report.

A former postmaster general and former chairman of American Airlines, who was far harsher.

"They'll be eyeing each other very closely because they're obvious candidates for market share," said the report.

A former postmaster general and former chairman of American Airlines, who was far harsher.

"They'll be eyeing each other very closely because they're obvious candidates for market share," said the report.

A former postmaster general and former chairman of American Airlines, who was far harsher.

"They'll be eyeing each other very closely because they're obvious candidates for market share," said the report.

A former postmaster general and former chairman of American Airlines, who was far harsher.

"They'll be eyeing each other very closely because they're obvious candidates for market share," said the report.
Are you waiting for a ‘miracle’?

Dear Editor:

Regarding the Feb. 12 account of the Louis Putz lecture on Lourdes, I would like to offer what I believe is an important clarification of the “handful of miraculous cures” attributed to Divine intervention. That does not mean other cures are not “miracles.” The Ordinary of the Lourdes Medical Bureau provokes the power of God or the intervention of His Blessed Mother. Moreover, definitions that a cure is, in fact, a miracle commonly take from ten to twenty-five or even thirty-five years.

Firstly, it may be helpful to establish criteria for a ‘miracle.’ The ordinary of the Lourdes Medical Bureau reported that more than 2,000 cures at Lourdes have been found to be ‘scientifically inexplicable’ by physicians of the International Medical Committee, which is comprised of men and women who are Catholic, non-Catholic, agnostics and atheists.

Thirdly, it may be helpful to know the criteria for a ‘medically inexplicable cure.’

First, the ailment must have incurred and life-threatening. Second, the problem must be organic, not functional, that is, it cannot be something like loss of speech, unconnected with a cerebral lesion.

Third, tests such as X-rays and biopsies must conclusively prove existence of a disease. Fourth, the ailment cannot be attributed to any medical-treatment which was or could have been applied. Fifth, the cure must be (a) unexpected; (b) complete and without recurrence. Sixth, the ailment must occur for at least three years.

Paul A. Fisher
N.D. Class of ‘43
Feb. 13, 1993
Parents are the key to greatness at Notre Dame

Dear Editor:

An observation regarding Professor Richard Huether's "Right or Wrong?" column that ran in Monday's Observer: it seems painfully obvious his articles consistently suffer from a lack of coherence. A major example of this shortcoming is the professor's haphazardly abstract use of the language of "dominion" and "sanctity." What precisely does he mean when he says Notre Dame "is a reflection of those beds at the Morris Inn," or that the "sanctity of human free will" is "in charge" of a "little girl?" The article touches on a host of important issues but could have been more thoughtfully and coherently written.

I have used this question, the answer comes fast and is always the same. Yes. Notre Dame would be that which we call Notre Dame in simplest terms is a process by which we exercise, enrich and hopefully celebrate these qualities in a very special way. And, that our ability to draw students together that are best able to learn from one another and to surround them with challenge and support that ignites the magic of these in-fused dreams, and plays them out on a most magnificent stage...

Richard Huether
JPW Weekend

Opinion was lost in the haze of ideals

Dear Editor:

An observation regarding Professor Richard Huether's column regarding contraception, abortion, and any issues that concern human sexuality. As the professor reveals in his discussion of the idea of "dominion," his attitude toward contraception, the question "Who is in charge, man or God?" unless I am mistaken the crucial existence of human free will in Christian thought is an "answer that stands powerfully contrary to the one upheld by Rieke. God does not wield practical control over human kind — He cannot be simply described as a "charge." It would be terribly difficult to confront the problem of evil if this question held any relevance.

Richard Huether, in future columns regarding contraception, abortion, or any issue that concerns human sexuality, please show some respect for womankind by adopting gender inclusive language.

Christopher Norborg
Off Campus
Feb. 16, 1993

"We never had a lot of money growing up... But my parents always said we kids were going to have a college education..."

But the more I thought, what became obvious was that while these current and historical views might set the stage for the Notre Dame student... more specifically in conclusion. After all weren't we looking to copy that vision? For why else would my parents have vaporized. You and all your fellow students awoke to find yourselves finding in the midst of the Notre Dame wonderland. The question. Would Notre Dame still exist?

And that which we call Notre Dame in simplest terms is a process by which we exercise, enrich and hopefully celebrate these qualities in a very special way. And, that our ability to draw students together that are best able to learn from one another and to surround them with challenge and support that ignites the magic of these in-fused dreams, and plays them out on a most magnificent stage...

And the beauty of a student who feared that he would miss being able to pass on the cohesiveness that had been shared by a family of modest means who had taken the time to understand and celebrate the empowerment of acquiring their first car, first college experience, and first offspring for a college education.

The reason... he had just signed an employment contract that would put enough money in his pocket to compress a lifetime of goals into an effort. How was he to preserve and recreate the memories and culture he cherished for his family?

It was just last semester when a young woman confessed that though she was very pleased with the selection of her major and was doing very well in her course work, each day she was becoming more attracted to the rule of wife and mother that (you guessed it) her mother had played in her family's life.

Adding a sense of order, priority, empowerment from their family experiences, however, usually manifested itself in less dramatic ways. Observations had been shared by a family of modest means who had taken the time to understand and believe in the foundation for their life.

About this time I couldn't help but stop and think about those pictures of Notre Dame's birthday vignettes that had been part of this past year's issue. Maybe we were doing more than just perusing the durability of this formerly "sloppy propaganda," but we were also seeing the challenge that had been blessed with student care with the depth of personal challenge to and belief in this Notre Dame.

The Good

Do you remember when 90210 was simply a zip code? Did you ever think home entertainment would ever get as sophisticated as Nintendo and Sega Genesis? Does it break your heart to hear singers with no talent produce songs like "I Love You Forever"? (Don’t apologize that’s "I Love You.") What’s happened to the good old days?

Our memories sometimes change our, and yet, for we’re only getting older. That’s why we’re here to help you remember certain things which you’ve probably long forgotten. It’s should be an awesome trip, but it’s our responsibility to warn you: a nostalgia this intense could be hazardous to your health. A nostalgia which you’ve never felt before may overcome you. You might become violently angry at the fact that many of these things are no longer available. Depression may seep in when you realize what your children will never have. But rejoice, at least you were able to experience some of the finest things life has had to offer to people. And remember there is nothing more than in".

Books:
• Babar (the elephant)
• Berenstain Bears
• Charlotte’s Web
• Close Your Own Adventure Series: Curious George
• Suess Books (especially Are you My Mother?, Cat in the Hat, The 500 Hats of Bartholomew Cubbing, A Fish out of Water, Fox in Socks, Go Dog Go, Green Eggs and Ham, Hop on Pop and There’s a Wocket in my Pocket)
• Encyclopedia Brown
• Forever, Are You There God, It’s Me Margaret and all other Judy Blume (From the Mixed Up Files of Mrs. Basil E. Franckweller)
• The Hardy Boys
• The Lion, the Witch, and The Wardrobe
• Little Women
• Mr. Men and Little Miss Books (Mr. Chatterbox was a favorite)
• Nancy Drew
• Paddington Bear
• The Princess and the Pea
• Pippi Longstocking and other books
• Cleary books: Sweet Valley High
• Series Where the Red Fern Grows
• Sidewalk Ends
• Wrinkle in Time

Songs:
• 867-5309 — Tommy Tutone
• "99 Luftballons" — All I Need — Jack Wagner
• "Always Something There To Remind Me" — Naked Eyes
• "Break My Stride" — Matthew Wilder
• "Centerfold" — The J. Geils Band
• "Come On Eileen" — Dexy’s Midnight Runners
• "Do They Know It’s Christmas?" — Band Aid
• "Don’t You Want Me" — Human League
• "Eyes of Eden" — Paul McCartney
• "Every Breath You Take" — The Police
• "Eric" — Elton John
• "Everytime Today" — Lionel Richie
• "Fancy" — Run DMC
• "Finish What You Started" — Pointed Sisters
• "Get Ready" — Pointer Sisters
• "Goodbye" — Bee Gees
• "Heart Shaped Box" — Bob Dylan
• "It’s Not Easy Being Green" — Dr. Seuss Books

Television:
• Alice
• Bewitched
• Blue's Clues
• Six Million Dollar Man
• The Brady Bunch
• The Big Bang Theory
• The Big Lebowski
• The Brady Bunch Movie
• Battlestar Galactica
• Buffy the Vampire Slayer
• Mad Men
• Scooby Doo
• Star Trek

Movie:
• Dukes of Hazzard
• Licence to Kill
• Life of Pi
• Land Before Time
• Gulliver’s Travels
• Great Space Capers
• Greatest American Hero
• Happy Days
• Harry Potter and the Prisoner of Azkaban
• He-Man
• Hulk
• The Jeffersons
• Loves Chachi
• Wild Kratts
• Are You My Mother? — Cindy Lou Who
• The Simpsons

Jewelry:

Do you remember when 90210 was simply a zip code? Did you ever think home entertainment would ever get as sophisticated as Nintendo and Sega Genesis? Does it break your heart to hear singers with no talent produce songs like "I Love You Forever"? (Don’t apologize that’s "I Love You.") What’s happened to the good old days?

Our memories sometimes change our, and yet, for we’re only getting older. That’s why we’re here to help you remember certain things which you’ve probably long forgotten. It’s should be an awesome trip, but it’s our responsibility to warn you: a nostalgia this intense could be hazardous to your health. A nostalgia which you’ve never felt before may overcome you. You might become violently angry at the fact that many of these things are no longer available. Depression may seep in when you realize what your children will never have. But rejoice, at least you were able to experience some of the finest things life has had to offer to people. And remember there is nothing more than in".

Books:
• Babar (the elephant)
• Berenstain Bears
• Charlotte’s Web
• Close Your Own Adventure Series: Curious George
• Suess Books (especially Are you My Mother?, Cat in the Hat, The 500 Hats of Bartholomew Cubbing, A Fish out of Water, Fox in Socks, Go Dog Go, Green Eggs and Ham, Hop on Pop and There’s a Wocket in my Pocket)
• Encyclopedia Brown
• Forever, Are You There God, It’s Me Margaret and all other Judy Blume (From the Mixed Up Files of Mrs. Basil E. Franckweller)
• The Hardy Boys
• The Lion, the Witch, and The Wardrobe
• Little Women
• Mr. Men and Little Miss Books (Mr. Chatterbox was a favorite)
• Nancy Drew
• Paddington Bear
• The Princess and the Pea
• Pippi Longstocking and other books
• Cleary books: Sweet Valley High
• Series Where the Red Fern Grows
• Sidewalk Ends
• Wrinkle in Time

Songs:
• 867-5309 — Tommy Tutone
• "99 Luftballons" — All I Need — Jack Wagner
• "Always Something There To Remind Me" — Naked Eyes
• "Break My Stride" — Matthew Wilder
• "Centerfold" — The J. Geils Band
• "Come On Eileen" — Dexy’s Midnight Runners
• "Do They Know It’s Christmas?" — Band Aid
• "Don’t You Want Me" — Human League
• "Eyes of Eden" — Paul McCartney
• "Every Breath You Take" — The Police
• "Eric" — Elton John
• "Everytime Today" — Lionel Richie
• "Fancy" — Run DMC
• "Finish What You Started" — Pointed Sisters
• "Goodbye" — Bee Gees
• "Heart Shaped Box" — Bob Dylan
• "It’s Not Easy Being Green" — Dr. Seuss Books

Television:
• Alice
• Bewitched
• Blue’s Clues
• Six Million Dollar Man
• The Brady Bunch
• The Big Bang Theory
• The Big Lebowski
• The Brady Bunch Movie
• Battlestar Galactica
• Buffy the Vampire Slayer
• Mad Men
• Scooby Doo
• Star Trek

Movie:
• Dukes of Hazzard
• Licence to Kill
• Life of Pi
• Land Before Time
• Gulliver’s Travels
• Great Space Capers
• Greatest American Hero
• Happy Days
• Harry Potter and the Prisoner of Azkaban
• He-Man
• Hulk
• The Jeffersons
• Loves Chachi
• Wild Kratts
• Are You My Mother? — Cindy Lou Who
• The Simpsons

Jewelry:
Old Days

Brothers
- The Break
- The Break
- Good
- The Break
- Bert
- The, doe: Welcome
- The
- The
- The
- The
- The

Cartoons
- Captain
- Captain
- Captain
- Captain

Games
- Candy Land
- Chinese Checkers
- Clue
- Board
- Game
- Slides & Smurf figures
- Snakes & Ladders
- Star Wars
- Transformers

Miscellaneous Items
- Snagglepuss and Toque
- Turtle
- Huckle & Jeckle & Man & Shera
- Masters of the Universe & He-Man & She-Ra
- The Muppets & The Muppets
- The Muppets & The Muppets
- The Muppets & The Muppets
- The Muppets & The Muppets

Notre Dame offers a variety of fine arts to students

Hartley introduces "Silent Men"

By KENYA JOHNSON

Assistant Access Editor

Noted independent film maker Hal Hartley will be in South Bend Feb. 21 to introduce his latest work, "Simple Men," at 8 p.m. at the Morris Civic Auditorium.

"Simple Men," a quirky and sophisticated portrayal of life's absurdities, revolves around two radically dissimilar brothers locked together in a search for their missing father, who happens to be a legendary New York Yankees shortstop who has gone underground after being accused of a 60s political bombing. Each brother—one an angry ex-con and the other a quiet, bookish observer—has questions that can only be answered by their father.

The department chose the Morris Civic Auditorium for the event so that it could screen a new 35-mm print of the film, accommodate a larger audience, and "because the auditorium's grand scale is reminiscent of how luxurious an evening out was considered to be," said Jim Collins, associate professor and associate chair of communications and theater.

Hartley has earned an international reputation as a self-made, truly independent film maker who avoids Hollywood producers and exorbitant budgets. Despite minimal advertising and a sparse budget, his style has been compared to French film maker Jean-Luc Godard and the French "new wave" of the 1960s, although his characters and stories are distinctly American. In his work he explores the problems of negotiating a moral life full of love, adventure, politics and pain.

Tickets are available at the door or in advance at the LaFortune information desk for $5. Doors will open at 7 p.m.
Condoms will not solve problem of AIDS

Father Robert Griffin

Letters to a Lonely God

If he found that the originals were cheapies.

In mentioning condoms, I stirred up a hornets' nest last year. I didn't want to be denounced as the pied piper leading children down the primrose path. I was surprised to hear the great Catholic outcry against condoms, after reading for years that 92 1/2 percent of all Catholic couples practice birth control. Does my mail come from the 7 1/2 percent of the Catholics who don't practice birth control, or from those who don't use condoms in the forms of birth control they practice?

Condoms, which were once a secret kept from children, are now part of the show-and-tell children are exposed to in the fourth grade. I hate the cynicism that shove the front pages that abstinence cannot be relied on exclusively as the Noah's ark that will save even the very young animals from death by AIDS.

The ugliness of AIDS is a fact of life from which there are no hiding places. Abstinence doesn't always work, even for the pure of heart, struggling with temptations that can lead to a fall from grace. Life is filled with unguarded moments that can ruin your track record as an untouched one.

Putting condoms in the left-purse pocket of all the teenagers in America isn't going to reduce the spread of AIDS. The first virgins are under to deliver their first French kiss, and scapular medals will not save them from the evil of perturbation.

Condom giveaways in the schools could be like serving chicken soup as penicillin instead of calling the doctor. Chicken soup as a Jewish wonder drug can't do you much harm. But the sight of condoms could kill you, if they're brought home from school by fourth graders—it's happening in New York City— who have been trained in the use of them.

Parents must be desperate to find wise ways to protect their adolescents. The bishops have warned that this direction is the safest way off the mire where the new AIDS patients are falling. A doctor with AIDS replied to the column I wrote last year on Arthur Ashe. He suggested that I publish a public service announcement saying that HIV virus is not going to reduce itself. The date indicating the death of a patient was called Mom's. I admit that if I had a teenager hell-bent with lust, I might be tempted to supply him with condoms sewed in his clothing, to write to remind me of the case histories and statistics on the poor record of condoms for birth control, and "their utter failure as protection against HIV virus."

"Ah, my dear," I answered, "Why should you think that if condoms aren't foolproof, they are worthless? Eighty percent effectiveness is far from worthless, and we can do better in a country that can make space suits protective enough for a moon walk, can make reliable condoms."

I praised her for her purity and emotions aside, she said, something no lessening parent would do. I have two sons, and the very thought of them coming to harm makes my heart quake. But allowing them to go blindly about killing themselves because I choose to overlook their young, passionate ignorance, is totally out of the question."

I'd be sorry to have anyone believe I'd ignore a son's young passionate ignorance. As a matter of fact, I'd watch over him, to help him stay pure, all the time.

As soon as she said, "Time and temperature changes in that gloomy compartment where the college boy keeps those condoms will soon make them as useless as an umbrella in a hurricane," I realized that she wasn't hearing anything I could talk to her, and so, I conceded her argument "in addition," I said, "I'm sure they were shopworn when he bought them. The date indicating the shelf life had probably expired."

I don't know if condoms even have a shelf life, but it might give her a grim satisfaction to think she is aware of an additional way that condoms can become a killer betraying the user.

I wonder what thoughts were in this woman's mind last week when she heard that Arthur Ashe was dead from AIDS, transmitted to him in a blood transfusion? Was her mind unchanged by the thought of the blood bank in that hospital might never have been tainted if someone, somewhere along the line, had used a condom?

Condoms are not a miracle cure, but I wonder if but all of us are dependent on strangers kind enough to use them, it could be a way of showing that I'm my brother's brother, in this age of AIDS.

William A. Allen, Chicago
Jennifer L. Blanchet, Chicago
Maureen E. Brown, New York
Joseph S. Burke, Chicago
James A. Burkhardt, Jr., Cleveland
David D. Cathcart, Atlanta
William L. Dietz, Minneapolis
Patricia A. Fosmoe, Chicago
Thomas E. Hittsberger, Jr., Baltimore
Scott D. Kamenick, Chicago
Maureen P. Kenny, Chicago
Susan M. Kurowski, Chicago
R. Geoffrey Levy, Atlanta

William D. LaFever, Chicago
Michael P. MacKinnon, Boston
Michael R. Malodoy, Los Angeles
Erie M. McAuley, Washington, D.C.
Kelly A. McDonough, Cleveland
Arthur R. Monaghan, Minneapolis
Melissa L. Mong, Houston
R. Patrick Murray, II, Indianapolis
Kerry L. Norton, Chicago
Angela C. Pearson, Chicago
Kathleen M. Phares, Chicago
Richard M. Riley, Chicago
Eric A. Rojas, Boston
Kevin A. Rule, Chicago
Mark A. Schmidt, Atlanta
Robert M. Silveri, Stamford
Edward A. Smith, Long Island
Jeffrey G. Stark, Milwaukee
Tricia J. Tilford, Phoenix
Scott J. Vickers, Minneapolis
Julie Ann Vaccarella, Chicago
Lynn I. Vandermeulen, Chicago
Kevin C. Weinman, Charlotte
Michael E. Wendowski, Indianapolis
Tina M. Wojciechowski, Chicago

Arthur Andersen is proud to announce the following:
University of Notre Dame and Saint Mary's College students have accepted employment offers to join us after graduation.

Arthur Andersen
Arthur Andersen & Co. SC
Flyers, Calgary battle to tie; Sharks top Jets

(AP) — The Philadelphia Flyers have specialized in overtime breakthroughs this week in the NHL.

They came from behind with two goals in the final 1:09 of regulation play to tie the game and pushed off another remarkable comeback Thursday night against the Vancouver Canucks.

Kevin Dineen scored his second goal of the game on a breakaway with 1.6 seconds left to give the Flyers a 3-2 victory, snatching away the victory from the Canadians in the Vancouver zone.

Dineen got his first goal in the opening minute of the first period to pull the Flyers into a 1-1 tie before a sellout crowd that came to see Flyers rookie Eric Lindros.

Lindros, with 24 goals and 44 points in 44 previous games, was held pointless — and shorthanded — and almost cost the Flyers the game with a giveaway barely a minute before Dineen's late heroics.

"I don't think any of us are really pleased with our performance," said Canucks assistant coach-ace Rich CITO.

"It wasn't the effort so much as we were out of sync. Platts's turnover came when he mishandled a bouncing puck and went directly to the opportunistic Dineen." The victory pulled the Flyers eight points into first place in the Patrick Division.

Robert Kron and Pavel Bure scored for Vancouver against red-hot goalie Tommy period with a high shot from the slot to deadlock the score at 1-1 after some sloppy checking by the Canucks in the Vancouver zone.

Dineen scored for the second goal of the game on a breakaway with 1.6 seconds left to give the Flyers a 3-2 victory, snatching away the victory from the Canadians in the Vancouver zone.

Flyer defenseman Murray Baron goes low to block a Gerard Gallant shot. Soderstrom of the Flyers, who faced 39 shots.

Sharks 5, Jets 3

For the time being, at least, the San Jose Sharks are looking at life from the positive end of the spectrum. Not so the Winnipeg Jets.

"It's nice to see the other team frustrated for a change," said the Sharks' Dave Mahoya, who had a goal and an assist in San Jose's 5-2 win over Winnipeg on Thursday night. The Sharks, winners in just eight of their last 14 games, tied the Jets for second place in the Patrick Division. Robert Kron and Pavel Bure scored for Vancouver against red-hot goalie Tommy 3 points.

The Sharks, winners in just eight of their last 14 games, tied the Jets for second place in the Patrick Division. Robert Kron and Pavel Bure scored for Vancouver against red-hot goalie Tommy period with a high shot from the slot to deadlock the score at 1-1 after some sloppy checking by the Canucks in the Vancouver zone.

NBA Leaders

NEW YORK (AP) — NBA individual scoring, field goal percentage, November through Feb. 17.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Player</th>
<th>FG</th>
<th>FT</th>
<th>%</th>
<th>Pts</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Jordan, Chi.</td>
<td>55</td>
<td>47</td>
<td>61%</td>
<td>260</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Barkley, Phi.</td>
<td>59</td>
<td>56</td>
<td>61%</td>
<td>267</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Malone, Utah</td>
<td>60</td>
<td>58</td>
<td>64%</td>
<td>312</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Olajuwon, Hou.</td>
<td>48</td>
<td>43</td>
<td>67%</td>
<td>318</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mutombo, A.</td>
<td>39</td>
<td>34</td>
<td>78%</td>
<td>236</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stockton, Utah</td>
<td>39</td>
<td>34</td>
<td>78%</td>
<td>356</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Starting lineups for this weekend's major sporting events:

SATURDAY

HOOPER:

National Hockey League
Los Angeles at Washington, 7:30 p.m.

ROCKET:

NBA Leaders

SUNDAY

BASKETBALL:

All-Star Game at Seattle, 7 p.m.

IRISH This color poster is only $10! all profits benefit the South Bend Center for the Homeless

Notre Dame—17

Penn State—16

November 14, 1992

Notre Dame Stadium

Buy a copy at the LaFortune Info Desk

Mail Order: Send $15 to the South Bend Center for the Homeless, 813 S. Michigan, South Bend, IN 46601

outside of O'Hara Lounge
Feb. 20 from 12-4

Alumni Legacy Reception
J.A.C.C. Concours 4-6

Make Checks payable to: Center for the Homeless, Inc.
Bo Jackson returns to diamond

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Bo Jackson took a few more steps Wednesday in his bid to return to baseball with an artificial hip, working out at the Chicago White Sox camp a day before spring training officially starts.

Jackson, with a barely noticeable limp, ran the bases, took batting practice and fielded grounders at first base. His 40-minute session came under the watchful eye of team trainers and a few fans who wandered into Ed Smith Stadium.

Jackson worked out earlier this year at Comiskey Park in Chicago, running sprints scheduled to report to Chicago's minor league spring camp on Thursday, and the first workout is set for Friday. The rest of the team is to report next Tuesday and practice the following day.

Jackson's comeback is sure to be the main attraction for the White Sox this spring. The team already has featured Jackson in its preseason ticket advertising, and hopes he will be able to provide some of the excitement he did before being injured in January 1991 in an NFL playoff game for the Los Angeles Raiders.

Jackson's last full season in the majors was 1990, when he hit .272 with 28 home runs and 78 RBIs for Kansas City. He played 111 games, most of them in the outfield.

Jackson was released by the Royals in March 1991 and signed by the White Sox in April. He went through a rehabilitation program that took him through the minors, and returned to the majors in September, hitting .255 with three homers and 14 RBIs in 23 games, all of them as a designated hitter.

Next week, Jackson will likely move into the outfield for workouts. As much as the White Sox would like to see Jackson be able to play outfield this season, they would be happy to see him healthy enough to serve as the full-time designated hitter.

Jackson, a former Heisman Trophy running back at Auburn, is the only player to be an All-Star in the major leagues and the NFL. He was the most valuable player of the 1989 All-Star game at Anaheim Stadium, leading off the bottom of the first inning with a home run and later showing off his speed.

Pitchers and catchers begin their springs

The big day that baseball fans waited for all winter arrived Thursday, and not even a little rain in Florida and Arizona could dampen spirits. Spring training has officially started.

Pitchers and catchers from 15 of the 28 teams reported to camp in places like Vero Beach, Sarasota and Scottsdale, with the first official workouts planned for Friday.

Before breaking out the bats and balls, however, there was other business to attend to after a busy off-season in which players changed teams like never before.

In Bradenton, Fla., the Pittsburgh Pirates began preparing to win their fourth straight NL East title after losing the likes of Barry Bonds, Doug Drabek, Jose Lind, Danny Jackson, Roger Mason, Alex Cole and others. The Pirates hope new players in camp named Young, Garcia, Martin, Backlund and DelSanto can take their place.

"Maybe they should hand out those little name tags to everyone, like they wear at conventions, that say, 'Hi, my name is ... '" center fielder Andy Van Slyke said.

At least a lot of the Pirates know each other. In Tucson, Ariz., 63 players reported for the expansion Colorado Rockies' first camp, and they spent a lot of time making introductions.

"Whenever I meet someone new — which is almost everybody around here — I repeat their name three times to myself," said Steve Reed, who pitched 18 games for the San Francisco Giants last season.

"There are 63 guys here, and I'm the only guy from the Giants organization. Trying to remember each guy's name, all the way from reporters in the clubhouse guys to the front-office guys and especially my fellow players, well, it's difficult," he said.

The one pitcher who needs no introduction this spring is Nolan Ryan, who will be playing his record 27th and final season this year.

Ryan, 46, was not among the 32 players who reported to the Texas Rangers' camp on Thursday. He's expected at Port Charlotte, Fla., next week and will work out for the first time on either Feb. 8 or March 1.

In Port St. Lucie, Fla., New York Mets manager Jeff Torborg said he will approach this spring training with a looser reign, mainly because he knows his veterans better.

"Our practices will be about an hour shorter," he said. "And I'm going to watch the kids early. The veteran players I know."

Three of those young players, center fielder Ryan Thompson, second baseman Kent Kent and catcher Todd Hundley begin the spring as starters for a team that finished a disappointing fifth in the NL East last year.

While pitchers and catchers are the only ones scheduled to be in camp this early, other players are showing up.

Dale Murphy, limited to just 18 games last season because of knee problems, joined 12 other Philadelphia players in a workout three days before the Phillies' opening day.

In Fort Myers, Fla., Curt Bleiler, the Twins third baseman, arrived at the Twins' camp in Fort Myers, Fla.
MEXICO CITY (AP) — Terry Norris, the WBC super welterweight champion, is out to prove a point Saturday, but Maurice Blocker, Norris’ opponent, believes the point cannot be proved.

The Norris-Blocker match is one of four title bouts on a show that will feature Mexican boxing idol Julio Cesar Chavez in defense of the WBC super lightweight championship against Greg Haugen.

“People still think that Chavez was No. 1,” said Azumah Nelson, who will defend the WBC super-featherweight title against Mexican Gabriel Ruelas on the card. Nelson, however, made it clear that he is not including himself when he ranks Chavez as the best.

The 25-year-old Norris and the 25-year-old Blocker both are fine boxers. The 6-foot-1 Blocker might be a little dicker, but Norris, 5-10, “is a faster, stronger and faster.”

Nelson, of Campo, Calif., has a 33-3 record, with 19 knockouts.

Blocker, of Washington, has a 34-2 record, with 18 knockouts.

“I predict a long, hard, painful fight for Maurice Blocker,” Norris said.

Another delay in signing Lewis-Tucker contract

LONDON (AP) — The signing of a contract for the scheduled May 8 title fight in Las Vegas between WBC heavyweight champions Lennox Lewis and Tony Tucker has been delayed.

Lewis’ manager on Thursday blamed financial demands by promoter Don King.

Frank Maloney said that under WBC rules, Lewis is entitled to 80 percent of the $12.16 million purse for making his defense in the challenger’s home country. But Maloney said King, Tucker’s promoter, was demanding a 75-25 split.

The deadline for the signing of a contract had been set for Friday, but Maloney said it was unlikely the deal will be completed by then. Instead, he said the WBC had decided to vote on whether to accept King’s demands.

“Tucker and I went to Mexico City where the WBC is based and where King is promoting the Grand Slam boxing card on Saturday night,” King said.

“I bid on the fight in the understanding that the split would be 75-25,” King said.

“(Promoter Dan) Duva and them don’t want this fight to come off. They’re embarrassed because they lost the bid. If they don’t sign, Lewis will lose the title the same way he won it.”

Lewis was awarded the WBC title when Riddick Bowe was stripped of the title.

Despite the wrangling, Maloney said the fight should go ahead as scheduled.

The Observer

The Observer is now accepting applications for the following positions:

Assistant Saint Mary’s Editor

Saint Mary’s News Editor

Saint Mary’s Sports Editor

Saint Mary’s Accent Editor

Please submit a one-page statement of intent and a résumé to Jennifer Hrabych by 5 p.m. Thursday, February 25, 1993.

Assistant Saint Mary’s Accent Editor

Accent Copy Editors

Applications can be dropped off at either the Notre Dame Observer office or the Saint Mary’s Observer office. For more information about any of the positions, call Jennifer at 631-5303 or 284-4312.
The Notre Dame men’s track team competes this weekend in the Indiana Intercollegiates, held at Indiana University in Bloomington.

The meet will be scored but will not feature many of the Irish top performers. Absent from this competition will be liabilities McWilliams, Nate Ruder, Mike Miller and Todd Herman.

"The competition here is actually pretty decent. We

Men’s track at Indiana meet
By SEAN SULLIVAN
Sports Writer

The Notre Dame men’s track team will travel to Bloomington, IN, this afternoon to compete in the Indiana Colle

Women’s track looks to rebound at IU
By MIKE NORIBUT
Sports Writer

The Notre Dame women’s track team will travel to Bloomington, IN, this afternoon to compete in the Indiana Colle

Bengal
continued from page 24
past two Bouts. The Illinois native has walked through the first two rounds of the past years

"This is going to be the year," comments Hall. If focused, this should be the case. But if his mind slips look to Senior Fred Sharkey to benefit.

150-pound Joe Carrigan returns from a year off as the big favorite. He won the weight class two years ago and looks to earn his se-

160-pound This shines as the strongest division with two top fighters. "If they were five pounds lighter, Jeff Goddard used a quick jab to reach the finals at 152-pounds a year ago and must be considered the favorite," Goddard will give strong competition in the form of junior Kevin Mullaney who fell to Goddard in the semifinals last year.

165-pound This experienced group is highlighted by the skills of Brian Wetford and Jamie Heavyweight Matt Carr was the winner a year ago and is the early favorite. His opponent is football player Hungly Bakich. If Carr, a sophomore, shows as much promise in the ring as he did during brief moments on the football field his freshman year, this could be quite a battle.

Finally for baseball fans, spring training begins

AP—The big day, that baseball arrived Thursday, and not even a little rain in Florida and Arizona could dampen spirits. Spring training has started! Pitchers and catchers from 15 of the 28 teams reported to camp in places like Vero Beach, Sarasota and Scottsdale, with the first official workouts planned for Friday.

Before breaking out the bats and balls, however, there was other business to be attended to after a busy off-season in which

Happy 21st Betty!

"Yeah, you know me!"
Love, the Rest of the 8-ball posse!

WILDLY AUDACIOUS...
— Janet Mason, The NEW YORK TIMES

...PURE POETRY...
— Monte Davis, VILLAGE VOICE

A GREAT FILM.
— Peter Travers, ROLLING STONE

"TWO THUMBS UP!"
— MAKING MOVIES

Swoon

makes everything seem better.

The Irish will be without freshman sprinter Erica Peter-on February 24 at 7 p.m. in the Notre Dame Room of LaFortune. If you have questions, please call Natalie Brohl at 284-4329 or Stacey Tucker at 634-4030.

The Ultimate club will meet at 8 p.m. on February 21. Bring $10 membership dues. There will also be an outside picnic if the weather permits at 7 p.m. at Stepan Field.

Happy 21st Betty!

"Yeah, you know me!"

Love, the Rest of the 8-ball posse!

WILDLY AUDACIOUS...
— Janet Mason, The NEW YORK TIMES

...PURE POETRY...
— Monte Davis, VILLAGE VOICE

A GREAT FILM.
— Peter Travers, ROLLING STONE

"TWO THUMBS UP!"
— MAKING MOVIES

Swoon

makes everything seem better.
Virginia completes season sweep

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) — Once able to hold the upper hand over all of college basketball, Duke now can't even do it in its own conference.

Thomas Hill missed a 3-pointer at the buzzer Thursday night, giving No. 23 Virginia a 58-55 victory over the seventh-ranked Blue Devils.

It marked the first time since 1990 that Duke lost back-to-back games to anybody, and the first time since 1990 the Blue Devils were swept by an Atlantic Coast Conference opponent.

"I think all that is good. That means we've had a hell of a few years," coach Mike Krzyzewski said. "That doesn't mean it's over, but I would always like somebody to say it's been four years or three years — as long as it's losses. If it's wins, then I'm back selling Polish sausages in Chicago."

Virginia (16-5, 8-4 ACC) took sole possession of fourth place in the league and dumped Duke (19-5, 7-5) into the league's second tier.

"I don't think I've ever felt as good about an offensive performance as ugly as that one," said Virginia coach Jeff Jones, whose Cavaliers shot 36.8 percent and had 18 turnovers.

"It's a disappointing loss for us," Krzyzewski said, "because I thought our kids were ready. But I'm not down on my team. I think it's the type of thing where our younger guys can improve on it and show maturity.""'

Duke, playing in its first game since losing leading scorer Grant Hill to a sprained toe, got 16 from Cherokee Parks and 14 from Thomas Hill, who was held scoreless in the final 16 minutes.

"I think it's evident that we're not as deep a team as people might think," Krzyzewski said. "I would say we'll be there. I'm just not sure when that will be."'

Duke trailed in much of the first half, when the Blue Devils shot 32 percent and had nine turnovers. But Duke picked up the pace after halftime, forcing nine lead changes and four ties before Virginia again gained the upper hand.

The Observer is now accepting applications for the following positions:

Graphics Manager
Illustrations Manager

Please submit a one-page statement of intent and a résumé to Kevin Hardman by 5 p.m., Wednesday, February 24, 1993. Contact Kevin at 631-7471 for more information about either position.

232-9299
American Cab Co.

"Frequent Rider Card"

Ride 10 times and receive $3.30 off 1st ride
"We appreciate your business"

Call ahead for prearranged pick-up

The Observer/Dave Rungeing

Friends don't let friends drive drunk.
Sophomore guard Mike Martin drives to the hoop during Morrissey's 42-31 championship win over Off-Campus last night.

By TIMOTHY SEYMOUR
Sports Writer

Using a tenacious press and taking advantage of high percentage shooting, the Morrissey Master now hold the list of Interhall basketball champions after knocking off a strong Off-Campus squad 42-31.

Point guard Steve Clear was the motivating factor behind the Morrissey victory, dominating the game in the first half. As coach Andy Curoo noted, "Steve started things off right for us, controlling the tempo, and the rest of the team followed his lead."

Morrissey opened the game using its 1-2-2 press to force turnovers and bad passes, while making almost every shot attempted in the first few minutes. Most of these baskets were the result of Clear's efforts, as he time and again beat his man to the basket and dished the ball out to sharpshooters Tom Sear and Mike Martin.

The first half was characterized by up-tempo play, with both teams running at every opportunity. However, this worked to Morrissey's advantage.

"We substituted every three or four minutes to keep our guys fresh. Also, our big men, Brian Corbett and Brendan Tully, ran the floor extremely well, which forced O-C's Brian Ratigan and Eric Jones to play both ends," Curoo said.

O-C captain Todd Reynolds concurred with this, saying, "It's obvious that they play together more than we do. Their press caused a lot of problems, and when we were able to set up in the half court, we had one pass and a shot rather than moving it around."

Inside play was a key factor as well, since the biggest question before the game was how Morrissey's inside players would fare against the power of Ratigan, Jones, and Ray Griggs. This question was quickly answered by Corbett and Tully, both of whom blocked numerous shots and effectively clogged the lane. In fact, the key to the game was the rebounding of the Morrissey team as a whole, since all five players crashed the boards, and missed chance shots to a minimum.

After running out to a 26-10 halftime lead, Morrissey withstood a slight second half rally as O-C took advantage of Clear's foul trouble. Both Griggs and shooting guard Brad Lesnok hit a couple of three pointers to close the gap, but Morrissey was able to hold out with tight defense played by Joe Gogin and John Neal.

Any chance at an O-C fourth quarter rally was ended by the patient Morrissey spread of offense, which ran the clock down and kept the ball in the hands of Clear and Sear, forcing O-C into desperation fouling. The game ended to the rhythmic clapping of the hundred-plus Morrissey faithful who watched their team earn the title.

Women's tennis prepares for TCU, LSU

BY RIAN AKEM
Sports Writer

Following two tough road losses to Kentucky and Tennessee last weekend, the Notre Dame women's tennis team is hoping that the familiar confines of the Eck Tennis Pavilion will help reverse their fortunes. The Irish, in only their second and third home matches of the season, host Louisiana State on Friday and Texas Christian on Saturday at the Eck.

The matches are very big for us," said junior Chrisy Faustmann, "at least in terms of getting back on track. The team, we're playing this week and the next weekend and beyond, as some of the other teams we've faced, we have 2-5, 2-5. Anything lightly.

Junior junior Lisa Tholen added, "Right now we need the confidence that would come from winning these matches. This is our chance to get back into the swing of winning."

While the team is disappointed with its won-loss record, no large scale changes are in store for the squad. "Everything has been playing well," said Faustmann, "It just hasn't come all together yet.

"On an individual basis, however, Faustmann, who won both her matches in last weekend's losses, is trying to implement some minor alterations in her game. "I've been working on trying to play more aggressively—rushing the net more and taking more control on the baseline. I need to turn my back on playing a soft game."

Tholen, on the other hand, "made some fine passes, especially in the second half. He made a few mistakes himself, of course, but our performance was there," said Faustmann.

"I'm coming off a couple difficult losses," she said, "and I need to get some confidence back. Winning a match-and-a-half will go a long way in doing that."

Although unranked, both LSU and TCU will be showing for an upset of the twenty-second ranked Irish. "The matches will be easy matches," warned Faustmann. "Overall, we're probably pretty tired from playing LSU the last two years, that they're a scrappy, fighting team. Even if we get up early, we can't slow up because they will not give up."

"For the first time in 2 1/2 years" warned Faustmann. "The Irish hope, will be a big influence for the team. "Playing at home is going to help us. This will really be for the juniors, since our seniors will be there," said Faustmann.

"Playing at home is going to help us. We really won't be fatigued this weekend," she said. Maradona

Remember to visit The Varsity Shop

"on the concourse of the JACC"

We have ND MOM and DAD sweatshirts!

JPW Weekend Hours:

Friday: 11:30-5:50
Saturday: 11:50-5:30
Sunday: immediately following Brunch: 5:30

ENJOY YOUR WEEKEND!!

Please support the American Red Cross
Water polo to host MAC tourney

By MIKE NORBUT
Sports Writer

The Notre Dame water polo team will be in action this weekend as it will host the very first tournament of the newly formed Mid-American water polo Conference, including Northern Illinois, Bowling Green, and Southern Illinois. "We're looking forward to this tournament, since practice can be quite monotonous," said freshman Walter Morrissey. "We are really happy to be hosting a tournament and are confident that we'll play well in front of the home crowd."

The Irish will be getting back into tournament play after nearly a three month layoff. In their last tournament, held November 21 in DeKalb, Ill., the team finished a respectable fourth place, considering they had only eight healthy players available for the trip.

In their first game, Notre Dame held strong against Hoffman Estates, Ill., club team and are hosting a tournament and are fresh man Walter Morrissey. "We are really happy to be hosting a tournament and are confident that we'll play well in front of the home crowd."

The Irish will be getting back into tournament play after nearly a three month layoff. In their last tournament, held November 21 in DeKalb, Ill., the team finished a respectable fourth place, considering they had only eight healthy players available for the trip.

In their first game, Notre Dame held strong against a Hoffman Estates, Ill., club team before losing 9-7. The team will be in action this weekend, since practice can be quite monotonous," said freshman Walter Morrissey. "We are really happy to be hosting a tournament and are confident that we'll play well in front of the home crowd."

The Irish will be getting back into tournament play after nearly a three month layoff. In their last tournament, held November 21 in DeKalb, Ill., the team finished a respectable fourth place, considering they had only eight healthy players available for the trip.

In their first game, Notre Dame held strong against Hoffman Estates, Ill., club team before losing 9-7. The team bounced back in the second game, trouncing Southern Illinois 16-3, but lost to a Milwaukee men's club team 8-7 in the third place game.

This weekend, the Irish will be healthy and ready to compete in front of the home crowd. Returning for the team will be junior Ed Pudinske and freshman Brian Wood, both of whom missed the previous tournament due to injuries. However, Notre Dame will be without player/coach Tony Borzakowski, and will look to Chris O'Hara, Eric Schultz, and co-captains Joe Dummer and Brian Coughlin to pick up the slack both offensively and defensively.

"There's no doubt that these teams are coming here expecting to win," commented Dum­mer, who will split duties with Schultz this weekend at the hole-man position. "Our job is to disappoint them."

The tournament is scheduled to start Friday evening and continue through Saturday afternoon. All games will be held at the Rolfs Aquatic Center at the J.A.C.C.

Irish tennis beat Texas in second round of indoors

Special to the Observer

L O U I S V I L L E , KENTUCKY—The University of Notre Dame men's tennis team, ranked sixth in the country, defeated tenth-ranked Texas 4-2 on Thursday, 4-3, in the second round of the 1993 USTA-ITA Men's National Indoor Intercollegiate... Team Championship... The win improves Notre Dame's record to 8-2, while the Longhorns drop to 2-1.

Notre Dame, which received a first round bye in the event, will now face top-ranked USC on Friday in the quarterfinals at 12 noon. USC was a 4-3 winner over Alabama-Birmingham on Thursday and had a 6-0 record on the season. The match against the Trojans is a rematch of last spring's NCAA Championship semifinal, in which the Irish upset the defending national champion by a 5-1 count.

In the win over Texas, Notre Dame won at the top three singles positions over players all ranked in the top 40. Irish senior Will Forsyth, ranked 19th by the Intercollegiate Tennis Association, improved his record to 19-7 on the season with a 6-4, 6-2 win over Anders Eriksson, ranked 23rd in the nation. Senior Chuck Coleman beat No. 37 Troy Phillips, 6-7, 6-1, 6-4 and senior Mark Schmidt beat No. 26 Ian Williams, 6-0, 7-5.

The match began with doubles play and in a new format this season, the school that wins the most doubles matches gets one point towards the match score. The team of Coleman and Forsyth won at No. 1 doubles for Notre Dame, defeating the nation's top ranked doubles team of Eriksson and Phillips by an 8-3 score.
The Angel of Migraines

Friday, February 19, 1993

SPELUNKER

JAY HOSLER

THE FAR SIDE

GARY LARSON

CALVIN AND HOBBES

LOOK AT THIS! THIS IS THE BIGGEST SNOWBALL IN THE WORLD!

Why are we trying to pick it up?

REALITY CONTINUES TO RUIN MY LIFE.

WHERE YOU COULD PUT SOMEONE WILL WALK INTO IT.

BIL WATERSON

The Angel of Migraines

SPELUNKER

JAY HOSLER

THE FAR SIDE

GARY LARSON

CALVIN AND HOBBES

LOOK AT THIS! THIS IS THE BIGGEST SNOWBALL IN THE WORLD!

Why are we trying to pick it up?

REALITY CONTINUES TO RUIN MY LIFE.

WHERE YOU COULD PUT SOMEONE WILL WALK INTO IT.

BIL WATERSON

The Angel of Migraines

SPELUNKER

JAY HOSLER

THE FAR SIDE

GARY LARSON

CALVIN AND HOBBES

LOOK AT THIS! THIS IS THE BIGGEST SNOWBALL IN THE WORLD!

Why are we trying to pick it up?

REALITY CONTINUES TO RUIN MY LIFE.

WHERE YOU COULD PUT SOMEONE WILL WALK INTO IT.

BIL WATERSON

The Angel of Migraines

SPELUNKER

JAY HOSLER

THE FAR SIDE

GARY LARSON

CALVIN AND HOBBES

LOOK AT THIS! THIS IS THE BIGGEST SNOWBALL IN THE WORLD!

Why are we trying to pick it up?

REALITY CONTINUES TO RUIN MY LIFE.

WHERE YOU COULD PUT SOMEONE WILL WALK INTO IT.

BIL WATERSON

The Angel of Migraines

SPELUNKER

JAY HOSLER

THE FAR SIDE

GARY LARSON

CALVIN AND HOBBES

LOOK AT THIS! THIS IS THE BIGGEST SNOWBALL IN THE WORLD!

Why are we trying to pick it up?

REALITY CONTINUES TO RUIN MY LIFE.

WHERE YOU COULD PUT SOMEONE WILL WALK INTO IT.

BIL WATERSON

The Angel of Migraines

SPELUNKER

JAY HOSLER

THE FAR SIDE

GARY LARSON

CALVIN AND HOBBES

LOOK AT THIS! THIS IS THE BIGGEST SNOWBALL IN THE WORLD!

Why are we trying to pick it up?

REALITY CONTINUES TO RUIN MY LIFE.

WHERE YOU COULD PUT SOMEONE WILL WALK INTO IT.

BIL WATERSON

The Angel of Migraines

SPELUNKER

JAY HOSLER

THE FAR SIDE

GARY LARSON

CALVIN AND HOBBES

LOOK AT THIS! THIS IS THE BIGGEST SNOWBALL IN THE WORLD!

Why are we trying to pick it up?

REALITY CONTINUES TO RUIN MY LIFE.

WHERE YOU COULD PUT SOMEONE WILL WALK INTO IT.

BIL WATERSON

The Angel of Migraines

SPELUNKER

JAY HOSLER

THE FAR SIDE

GARY LARSON

CALVIN AND HOBBES

LOOK AT THIS! THIS IS THE BIGGEST SNOWBALL IN THE WORLD!

Why are we trying to pick it up?

REALITY CONTINUES TO RUIN MY LIFE.

WHERE YOU COULD PUT SOMEONE WILL WALK INTO IT.

BIL WATERSON

The Angel of Migraines

SPELUNKER

JAY HOSLER

THE FAR SIDE

GARY LARSON

CALVIN AND HOBBES

LOOK AT THIS! THIS IS THE BIGGEST SNOWBALL IN THE WORLD!

Why are we trying to pick it up?

REALITY CONTINUES TO RUIN MY LIFE.

WHERE YOU COULD PUT SOMEONE WILL WALK INTO IT.

BIL WATERSON

The Angel of Migraines

SPELUNKER

JAY HOSLER

THE FAR SIDE

GARY LARSON

CALVIN AND HOBBES

LOOK AT THIS! THIS IS THE BIGGEST SNOWBALL IN THE WORLD!

Why are we trying to pick it up?

REALITY CONTINUES TO RUIN MY LIFE.

WHERE YOU COULD PUT SOMEONE WILL WALK INTO IT.

BIL WATERSON

The Angel of Migraines

SPELUNKER

JAY HOSLER

THE FAR SIDE

GARY LARSON

CALVIN AND HOBBES

LOOK AT THIS! THIS IS THE BIGGEST SNOWBALL IN THE WORLD!

Why are we trying to pick it up?

REALITY CONTINUES TO RUIN MY LIFE.

WHERE YOU COULD PUT SOMEONE WILL WALK INTO IT.

BIL WATERSON

The Angel of Migraines

SPELUNKER

JAY HOSLER

THE FAR SIDE

GARY LARSON

CALVIN AND HOBBES

LOOK AT THIS! THIS IS THE BIGGEST SNOWBALL IN THE WORLD!

Why are we trying to pick it up?

REALITY CONTINUES TO RUIN MY LIFE.

WHERE YOU COULD PUT SOMEONE WILL WALK INTO IT.

BIL WATERSON

The Angel of Migraines

SPELUNKER

JAY HOSLER

THE FAR SIDE

GARY LARSON

CALVIN AND HOBBES

LOOK AT THIS! THIS IS THE BIGGEST SNOWBALL IN THE WORLD!

Why are we trying to pick it up?

REALITY CONTINUES TO RUIN MY LIFE.

WHERE YOU COULD PUT SOMEONE WILL WALK INTO IT.

BIL WATERSON

The Angel of Migraines

SPELUNKER

JAY HOSLER

THE FAR SIDE

GARY LARSON

CALVIN AND HOBBES

LOOK AT THIS! THIS IS THE BIGGEST SNOWBALL IN THE WORLD!

Why are we trying to pick it up?

REALITY CONTINUES TO RUIN MY LIFE.

WHERE YOU COULD PUT SOMEONE WILL WALK INTO IT.

BIL WATERSON

The Angel of Migraines

SPELUNKER

JAY HOSLER

THE FAR SIDE

GARY LARSON

CALVIN AND HOBBES

LOOK AT THIS! THIS IS THE BIGGEST SNOWBALL IN THE WORLD!

Why are we trying to pick it up?

REALITY CONTINUES TO RUIN MY LIFE.

WHERE YOU COULD PUT SOMEONE WILL WALK INTO IT.

BIL WATERSON

The Angel of Migraines

SPELUNKER

JAY HOSLER

THE FAR SIDE

GARY LARSON

CALVIN AND HOBBES

LOOK AT THIS! THIS IS THE BIGGEST SNOWBALL IN THE WORLD!

Why are we trying to pick it up?

REALITY CONTINUES TO RUIN MY LIFE.

WHERE YOU COULD PUT SOMEONE WILL WALK INTO IT.

BIL WATERSON

The Angel of Migraines

SPELUNKER

JAY HOSLER

THE FAR SIDE

GARY LARSON

CALVIN AND HOBBES

LOOK AT THIS! THIS IS THE BIGGEST SNOWBALL IN THE WORLD!

Why are we trying to pick it up?

REALITY CONTINUES TO RUIN MY LIFE.

WHERE YOU COULD PUT SOMEONE WILL WALK INTO IT.

BIL WATERSON

The Angel of Migraines

SPELUNKER

JAY HOSLER

THE FAR SIDE

GARY LARSON

CALVIN AND HOBBES

LOOK AT THIS! THIS IS THE BIGGEST SNOWBALL IN THE WORLD!

Why are we trying to pick it up?

REALITY CONTINUES TO RUIN MY LIFE.

WHERE YOU COULD PUT SOMEONE WILL WALK INTO IT.

BIL WATERSON

The Angel of Migraines

SPELUNKER

JAY HOSLER

THE FAR SIDE

GARY LARSON

CALVIN AND HOBBES

LOOK AT THIS! THIS IS THE BIGGEST SNOWBALL IN THE WORLD!

Why are we trying to pick it up?

REALITY CONTINUES TO RUIN MY LIFE.

WHERE YOU COULD PUT SOMEONE WILL WALK INTO IT.

BIL WATERSON

The Angel of Migraines

SPELUNKER

JAY HOSLER

THE FAR SIDE

GARY LARSON

CALVIN AND HOBBES

LOOK AT THIS! THIS IS THE BIGGEST SNOWBALL IN THE WORLD!

Why are we trying to pick it up?

REALITY CONTINUES TO RUIN MY LIFE.

WHERE YOU COULD PUT SOMEONE WILL WALK INTO IT.

BIL WATERSON

The Angel of Migraines

SPELUNKER

JAY HOSLER

THE FAR SIDE

GARY LARSON

CALVIN AND HOBBES

LOOK AT THIS! THIS IS THE BIGGEST SNOWBALL IN THE WORLD!

Why are we trying to pick it up?

REALITY CONTINUES TO RUIN MY LIFE.

WHERE YOU COULD PUT SOMEONE WILL WALK INTO IT.

BIL WATERSON

The Angel of Migraines

SPELUNKER

JAY HOSLER

THE FAR SIDE

GARY LARSON

CALVIN AND HOBBES

LOOK AT THIS! THIS IS THE BIGGEST SNOWBALL IN THE WORLD!

Why are we trying to pick it up?

REALITY CONTINUES TO RUIN MY LIFE.

WHERE YOU COULD PUT SOMEONE WILL WALK INTO IT.

BIL WATERSON

The Angel of Migraines

SPELUNKER

JAY HOSLER

THE FAR SIDE

GARY LARSON

CALVIN AND HOBBES

LOOK AT THIS! THIS IS THE BIGGEST SNOWBALL IN THE WORLD!

Why are we trying to pick it up?

REALITY CONTINUES TO RUIN MY LIFE.

WHERE YOU COULD PUT SOMEONE WILL WALK INTO IT.

BIL WATERSON

The Angel of Migraines

SPELUNKER

JAY HOSLER

THE FAR SIDE

GARY LARSON

CALVIN AND HOBBES

LOOK AT THIS! THIS IS THE BIGGEST SNOWBALL IN THE WORLD!

Why are we trying to pick it up?

REALITY CONTINUES TO RUIN MY LIFE.

WHERE YOU COULD PUT SOMEONE WILL WALK INTO IT.

BIL WATERSON

The Angel of Migraines
Baseball swings at Howe offering and strikes out again

Well, such is not the case for wonder boy Steve Howe. This spring, the talented lefty reliever returns from his seventh, yes SEVENTH, drug-related suspension.

As a pitcher, Howe began showing signs of regaining the form he showed as a dominating closer for the Los Angeles Dodgers in the early eighties. He legged 22 innings in Yankee pinstripes last season, with a 3.00 record and a 2.45 ERA.

Yet as a human being, Howe continues to show about as much control as Ray Charles would on the mound.

Howe's attempted rehabilitation came to an abrupt end last June, when he pleaded guilty in U.S. District Court in Missoula, Mont., to a misdemeanor charge of attempting to buy a gram of cocaine. (If you can find cocaine in Montana, you must be hooked.)

Then-commissioner Fay Vincent promptly suspended Howe, a move intended to be a lifetime ban. Hooray for Fay, right?

Not quite. When the league pulled the rug out under their commish, Howe apparently forgot about the integrity standards they tried to uphold within the game.

On Nov. 12, arbitrator George Nicolau overturned Vincent's decision to ban Howe after a grievance was filed by the players union.

The baseball world should be outraged that such a villain as Steve Howe should get a seventh chance, while one of the game's most faithful, Pete Rose, remains in exile.

The baseball world should be outraged that such a villain as Steve Howe should get a seventh chance, while one of the game's most faithful, Pete Rose, remains in exile.

The baseball world should be outraged that such a villain as Steve Howe should get a seventh chance, while one of the game's most faithful, Pete Rose, remains in exile.

As a pitcher, Howe began showing signs of regaining the form he showed as a dominating closer for the Los Angeles Dodgers in the early eighties. He legged 22 innings in Yankee pinstripes last season, with a 3.00 record and a 2.45 ERA.

Yet as a human being, Howe continues to show about as much control as Ray Charles would on the mound.

Howe's attempted rehabilitation came to an abrupt end last June, when he pleaded guilty in U.S. District Court in Missoula, Mont., to a misdemeanor charge of attempting to buy a gram of cocaine. (If you can find cocaine in Montana, you must be hooked.)

Then-commissioner Fay Vincent promptly suspended Howe, a move intended to be a lifetime ban. Hooray for Fay, right?

Not quite. When the league pulled the rug out under their commish, Howe apparently forgot about the integrity standards they tried to uphold within the game.

On Nov. 12, arbitrator George Nicolau overturned Vincent's decision to ban Howe after a grievance was filed by the players union.

The baseball world should be outraged that such a villain as Steve Howe should get a seventh chance, while one of the game's most faithful, Pete Rose, remains in exile.

The baseball world should be outraged that such a villain as Steve Howe should get a seventh chance, while one of the game's most faithful, Pete Rose, remains in exile.

As a pitcher, Howe began showing signs of regaining the form he showed as a dominating closer for the Los Angeles Dodgers in the early eighties. He legged 22 innings in Yankee pinstripes last season, with a 3.00 record and a 2.45 ERA.

Yet as a human being, Howe continues to show about as much control as Ray Charles would on the mound.

Howe's attempted rehabilitation came to an abrupt end last June, when he pleaded guilty in U.S. District Court in Missoula, Mont., to a misdemeanor charge of attempting to buy a gram of cocaine. (If you can find cocaine in Montana, you must be hooked.)

Then-commissioner Fay Vincent promptly suspended Howe, a move intended to be a lifetime ban. Hooray for Fay, right?

Not quite. When the league pulled the rug out under their commish, Howe apparently forgot about the integrity standards they tried to uphold within the game.

On Nov. 12, arbitrator George Nicolau overturned Vincent's decision to ban Howe after a grievance was filed by the players union.

The baseball world should be outraged that such a villain as Steve Howe should get a seventh chance, while one of the game's most faithful, Pete Rose, remains in exile.

The baseball world should be outraged that such a villain as Steve Howe should get a seventh chance, while one of the game's most faithful, Pete Rose, remains in exile.

As a pitcher, Howe began showing signs of regaining the form he showed as a dominating closer for the Los Angeles Dodgers in the early eighties. He legged 22 innings in Yankee pinstripes last season, with a 3.00 record and a 2.45 ERA.

Yet as a human being, Howe continues to show about as much control as Ray Charles would on the mound.

Howe's attempted rehabilitation came to an abrupt end last June, when he pleaded guilty in U.S. District Court in Missoula, Mont., to a misdemeanor charge of attempting to buy a gram of cocaine. (If you can find cocaine in Montana, you must be hooked.)

Then-commissioner Fay Vincent promptly suspended Howe, a move intended to be a lifetime ban. Hooray for Fay, right?

Not quite. When the league pulled the rug out under their commish, Howe apparently forgot about the integrity standards they tried to uphold within the game.

On Nov. 12, arbitrator George Nicolau overturned Vincent's decision to ban Howe after a grievance was filed by the players union.

The baseball world should be outraged that such a villain as Steve Howe should get a seventh chance, while one of the game's most faithful, Pete Rose, remains in exile.

The baseball world should be outraged that such a villain as Steve Howe should get a seventh chance, while one of the game's most faithful, Pete Rose, remains in exile.

As a pitcher, Howe began showing signs of regaining the form he showed as a dominating closer for the Los Angeles Dodgers in the early eighties. He legged 22 innings in Yankee pinstripes last season, with a 3.00 record and a 2.45 ERA.

Yet as a human being, Howe continues to show about as much control as Ray Charles would on the mound.

Howe's attempted rehabilitation came to an abrupt end last June, when he pleaded guilty in U.S. District Court in Missoula, Mont., to a misdemeanor charge of attempting to buy a gram of cocaine. (If you can find cocaine in Montana, you must be hooked.)

Then-commissioner Fay Vincent promptly suspended Howe, a move intended to be a lifetime ban. Hooray for Fay, right?

Not quite. When the league pulled the rug out under their commish, Howe apparently forgot about the integrity standards they tried to uphold within the game.

On Nov. 12, arbitrator George Nicolau overturned Vincent's decision to ban Howe after a grievance was filed by the players union.

The baseball world should be outraged that such a villain as Steve Howe should get a seventh chance, while one of the game's most faithful, Pete Rose, remains in exile.

The baseball world should be outraged that such a villain as Steve Howe should get a seventh chance, while one of the game's most faithful, Pete Rose, remains in exile.

As a pitcher, Howe began showing signs of regaining the form he showed as a dominating closer for the Los Angeles Dodgers in the early eighties. He legged 22 innings in Yankee pinstripes last season, with a 3.00 record and a 2.45 ERA.

Yet as a human being, Howe continues to show about as much control as Ray Charles would on the mound.

Howe's attempted rehabilitation came to an abrupt end last June, when he pleaded guilty in U.S. District Court in Missoula, Mont., to a misdemeanor charge of attempting to buy a gram of cocaine. (If you can find cocaine in Montana, you must be hooked.)

Then-commissioner Fay Vincent promptly suspended Howe, a move intended to be a lifetime ban. Hooray for Fay, right?

Not quite. When the league pulled the rug out under their commish, Howe apparently forgot about the integrity standards they tried to uphold within the game.

On Nov. 12, arbitrator George Nicolau overturned Vincent's decision to ban Howe after a grievance was filed by the players union.

The baseball world should be outraged that such a villain as Steve Howe should get a seventh chance, while one of the game's most faithful, Pete Rose, remains in exile.

The baseball world should be outraged that such a villain as Steve Howe should get a seventh chance, while one of the game's most faithful, Pete Rose, remains in exile.