Folk Choir rocks 'Catholic Woodstock'

By MEREDITH MCCULLOUGH
News Editor

It has been dubbed the Catholic Woodstock—and with the Notre Dame Folk Choir on the scene, it is no wonder.

The folk choir is not just about singing traditional Church hymns, explained the group’s director Steven Warner. And the papal visit to Denver this August for World Youth Day was not just about Church doctrine and structured belief.

With over 180,000 young people from across the globe screaming their welcome to the Holy Father and clapping to the diverse selection of music offered, Warner described the 10-day event as “one enormous block party for Catholics all over the world.”

His choir of 40 Notre Dame students and 25 folk choir alumni seemed to agree.

“We rocked the place,” said graduate student Lisa Van Hulsdorf, describing the final piece of music at the Papal Mass where the choir broke into the Gospel version of “Hail Holy Queen,” as performed in the Whoopie Goldberg movie “Sister Act.”

“The thing that was wonderful about this week was that there was no pretentiousness about anything,” said Warner. “The whole point was that there is no point in having fun and just enjoying yourself with a whole bunch of other people.

The Notre Dame Folk Choir was among nine choirs this summer to join in the celebration of the World Youth Day Conference in Denver. Highlights of the group’s excursion included the papal welcome at Mile High Stadium and the Papal Mass at Cherry Creek Reservoir.

At Mile High Stadium, the choir joined 100,000 people to greet the Holy Father as he descended upon the crowd of cheering, chanting Catholics waving flags from the various nations they represented.

“I never thought that the moment could be so moving.”

see CHOIR / page 12

SMC extends dining hall service

By LAURA FERGUSON
News Writer

In response to Saint Mary’s College student’s requests for more convenient service hours for the campus Dining Hall, Marriott Food Service is extending its hours to 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. this week.

Marriott will be better able to accommodate student’s busy schedules, provide more common gathering space and allow increased opportunities for work study for students, according to Food Service Director Kevin Kirwan.

“I am excited about the extended hours because as a dining hall student employee, it helps avoid the 6:30 p.m. athletic team rush while we are trying to close down,” said Le Mans Hall sophomore Sonya Wilson. “This will eliminate that problem. In addition, it seems that more students work more hours so this helps us earn more through work study.”

This new service format, called Caribe Blanche, is a growing trend among the colleges and universities served by Marriott. Already, Saint Mary’s is one of three other Midwest schools to increase its hours.

“We (Marriott) are shifting our thoughts of dining halls to more like shopping malls. Like a retail environment, they offer a variety of selections and try to specifically cater to their customers,” Kirwan said.

“In this same way we are trying to accommodate students’ non-traditional eating schedules. By keeping the Dining Hall open longer during the day we hope to accomplish this,” he added.

Caribe Blanche is a continuation of last years “Renaissance” program to improve the dining hall, according to Kirwan. This program is aimed to give the Dining Hall a less institutional stainless steel look and make it

see MEALS / page 4

TARNISHED?

A long-awaited book by authors Don Yaeger and Don Shula and Football Coach Lou Holtz for allegedly abusing players and staff and turning his back on widespread steroid use. The book, released yesterday, accuses Notre Dame of lowering its standards to regain its winning tradition.

see page 28

Off-campus victimized by burglaries

By JULIE BARRETT
News Writer

Several Notre Dame students living off-campus have already reported break-ins and burglaries of their new residences.

See security tips / page 8 since their return to school last week.

These burglaries occurred in the Lafayette house complex on N. Frances St., one between the hours of 11 and 12 on Saturday night with police out front patrolling the area and a party next door.

“Our basement window in the back of the house was kicked in, and they just reached in and removed the bar jumpping the window and came in,” said Kathy Campbell, who is one of five ND seniors living in the house.

A VCR and some stereo equipment were stolen.

Another unit four numbers down had been broken into around 3:30 a.m. the night before about 39 minutes after the residents had gone to bed.

“A friend noticed our front door open and came over to find that our place had been robbed,” said Kristen Lefere who was there asleep along with one of her roommates and her roommate’s mother.

Lefere said she remembers locking all the doors and setting the alarm, but the alarm failed to go off when the burglar or burglars crowbarred the door off its hinges.

A VCR and stereo were also taken.

According to Chris Matteo of Matteo Enterprises who owns the complex, the alarm malfunctioned because of the company that installed it, and the students in the other incident had not set their alarm.

A third unit was reported broken into earlier in the week with several valuables reported stolen, according to Chuck Hurley of Notre Dame Security.

“Then there has never been anything like this before,” Matteo said. “The police believe that

see BURGLARIES / page 8

SMC extends dining hall service

By LAURA FERGUSON
News Writer

In response to Saint Mary’s College student’s requests for more convenient service hours for the campus Dining Hall, Marriott Food Service is extending its hours to 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. this week.

Marriott will be better able to accommodate student’s busy schedules, provide more common gathering space and allow increased opportunities for work study for students, according to Food Service Director Kevin Kirwan.

“I am excited about the extended hours because as a dining hall student employee, it helps avoid the 6:30 p.m. athletic team rush while we are trying to close down,” said Le Mans Hall sophomore Sonya Wilson. “This will eliminate that problem. In addition, it seems that more students work more hours so this helps us earn more through work study.”

This new service format, called Caribe Blanche, is a growing trend among the colleges and universities served by Marriott. Already, Saint Mary’s is one of three other Midwest schools to increase its hours.

“We (Marriott) are shifting our thoughts of dining halls to more like shopping malls. Like a retail environment, they offer a variety of selections and try to specifically cater to their customers,” Kirwan said.

“In this same way we are trying to accommodate students’ non-traditional eating schedules. By keeping the Dining Hall open longer during the day we hope to accomplish this,” he added.

Caribe Blanche is a continuation of last years “Renaissance” program to improve the dining hall, according to Kirwan. This program is aimed to give the Dining Hall a less institutional stainless steel look and make it

see MEALS / page 4

TARNISHED?

A long-awaited book by authors Don Yaeger and Don Shula and Football Coach Lou Holtz for allegedly abusing players and staff and turning his back on widespread steroid use. The book, released yesterday, accuses Notre Dame of lowering its standards to regain its winning tradition.

see page 28

Off-campus victimized by burglaries

By JULIE BARRETT
News Writer

Several Notre Dame students living off-campus have already reported break-ins and burglaries of their new residences.

See security tips / page 8 since their return to school last week.

These burglaries occurred in the Lafayette house complex on N. Frances St., one between the hours of 11 and 12 on Saturday night with police out front patrolling the area and a party next door.

“Our basement window in the back of the house was kicked in, and they just reached in and removed the bar jumpping the window and came in,” said Kathy Campbell, who is one of five ND seniors living in the house.

A VCR and some stereo equipment were stolen.

Another unit four numbers down had been broken into around 3:30 a.m. the night before about 39 minutes after the residents had gone to bed.

“A friend noticed our front door open and came over to find that our place had been robbed,” said Kristen Lefere who was there asleep along with one of her roommates and her roommate’s mother.

Lefere said she remembers locking all the doors and setting the alarm, but the alarm failed to go off when the burglar or burglars crowbarred the door off its hinges.

A VCR and stereo were also taken.

According to Chris Matteo of Matteo Enterprises who owns the complex, the alarm malfunctioned because of the company that installed it, and the students in the other incident had not set their alarm.

A third unit was reported broken into earlier in the week with several valuables reported stolen, according to Chuck Hurley of Notre Dame Security.

“Then there has never been anything like this before,” Matteo said. “The police believe that

see BURGLARIES / page 8

SMC extends dining hall service

By LAURA FERGUSON
News Writer

In response to Saint Mary’s College student’s requests for more convenient service hours for the campus Dining Hall, Marriott Food Service is extending its hours to 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. this week.

Marriott will be better able to accommodate student’s busy schedules, provide more common gathering space and allow increased opportunities for work study for students, according to Food Service Director Kevin Kirwan.

“I am excited about the extended hours because as a dining hall student employee, it helps avoid the 6:30 p.m. athletic team rush while we are trying to close down,” said Le Mans Hall sophomore Sonya Wilson. “This will eliminate that problem. In addition, it seems that more students work more hours so this helps us earn more through work study.”

This new service format, called Caribe Blanche, is a growing trend among the colleges and universities served by Marriott. Already, Saint Mary’s is one of three other Midwest schools to increase its hours.

“We (Marriott) are shifting our thoughts of dining halls to more like shopping malls. Like a retail environment, they offer a variety of selections and try to specifically cater to their customers,” Kirwan said.

“In this same way we are trying to accommodate students’ non-traditional eating schedules. By keeping the Dining Hall open longer during the day we hope to accomplish this,” he added.

Caribe Blanche is a continuation of last years “Renaissance” program to improve the dining hall, according to Kirwan. This program is aimed to give the Dining Hall a less institutional stainless steel look and make it
Students must make colloquy their own

Last May, Notre Dame president Edward Malloy delivered a message to the University community.

But on the day Monik chose to release the final report of the College for the Year 2000, most of the Notre Dame family was busy, celebrating graduation and the late arrival of spring in Michiana. Few read and absorbed all of the report's published conclusions, a document which will shape the future of Notre Dame.

Presented as a special edition of the Notre Dame Report, which few undergraduates have ever seen and fewer have read, the colloquy's 43 recommendations—which range from the expansion of Notre Dame Stadium to continuing development of the University's graduate programs—were drawn up as a blueprint for the Notre Dame of the next century.

And baring an outcry from undergraduates, who have the potential to be the most vocal members of the Notre Dame family, those recommendations are the truth of Notre Dame in the near future. Two thousand is only six and a half years away, and the report is the byproduct which the colloquy has pre-scribed to us upon us sooner than that.

This fall, Malloy leaves the door to debate open, Notre Dame's undergraduates know nothing of the document. And there cannot be any discussion of the colloquy without knowledge of what the colloquy is or what it proposes to do.

Much of what was printed in the colloquy's final report was simply formality; a rubber stamping of the assumptions made by the Committee of Notre Dame's future. That the football stadium would have been foregone at a university which milks athletics for as much revenue as Notre Dame does is a foregone conclusion; much of the colloquy pre-scribed to us upon us sooner than that.

The report's draft—which leaves the door to debate open, Notre Dame's undergraduates know nothing of the document. And there cannot be any discussion of the colloquy without knowledge of what the colloquy is or what it proposes to do.

WASHINGTON

Clinton faces old, new issues

Listing conditions for sending U.S. peacekeeping troops to Bosnia, President Clinton said Monday he'd have to be convinced that any war-ending settlement was fair, sustainable and supported by the beleaguered Bosnian government. "I'm certainly open to the use of American forces "But I also want to know whose responsibility it is to stay for how long," Clinton said. Estimates of the number of U.S. troops required have hovered around 30,000. The possibility of sending U.S. troops to Bosnia has been on the table since last February when Clinton said the United States would be willing to participate in peacekeeping efforts there.

Asked about the use of American forces, Clinton said, "Whether I would be prepared to do that or not depends on whether I am convinced that the agreement is fairly, faithfully Expansion of Notre Dame of those who wrote the colloquy is a conclusion at a University which milks athletics for as much revenue as Notre Dame does is a foregone conclusion; much of the colloquy pre-scribed to us upon us sooner than that.

The report's draft—which leaves the door to debate open, Notre Dame's undergraduates know nothing of the document. And there cannot be any discussion of the colloquy without knowledge of what the colloquy is or what it proposes to do.

New cable law may lower rates

Starting Wednesday, channel surfing should be cheaper for millions of cable TV subscribers. But not for everyone. Some cable companies, and a third of U.S. cable subscribers, will pay more after a new law takes effect. And most cable subscribers will notice other differences besides price—like itemized bills or revamped channel lineups. It's a confusing time for cough potatos. As the number of the nation's $8 million cable customers—will see changes," said Carol Vernon, spokeswoman for the National Cable Television Association. "This is big." What changes are in store depends on which of the 11,000 cable operators a customer subscribes to—and which services that customer buys. The Federal Communications Commission says that two-thirds of three-quarters of subscribers will see their monthly bill go down as average of 10 percent, for an estimated nationwide savings of more than $1 billion. Further complicating things, most cable bills will look different—more like telephone bills, with itemized charges for each service. For example, charges may be listed separately for the converter box, remote control, premium channels, such as HBO, Showtime, and other fees. Subscribers often will find it's suddenly cheaper to hook a second television and television or getting a remote control device. In the past, some companies subsidized lower prices for service by charging more for the equipment. But no more. The FCC has set maximum reasonable prices for services and requirements, such as converter boxes and remote controls, to be provided at the company's cost. The new rules are specific about how much companies can charge for basic cable service over the air broadcast stations and educational, government and public access cable channels. The formulas for figuring those rates are based on the number of subscribers, there is no one nationwide charge for basic cable. Additional channels, such as CNN and the Weather Channel, though not strictly regulated, must be reasonably priced. If a cable company is offering a cut-rate basic service, subsidized by much higher prices for additional channels, basic rates could go up while those other channel prices come down.

INDIANA Weather

Twisted, Aug. 31

Today's Staff

News
John Lucas
Mike O'Hara
Sports
Katie Young
George Dohrmann

Viewpoint
Rolando de Aguiar

Lab Tech
David Henderson
Production
Cheryl Muer
Graphics
Kerry Johnson

Viewpoint Editor
Rolando de Aguiar

The Inside Column is written by the author and not necessarily those of The Observer.

The views expressed in the Inside Column are the opinions of the author and not necessarily those of The Observer.

The Observer (USPS 399-1400) is published Monday through Friday except during exam and vacation periods. The Observer is a member of the Associated Press. All rights reserved. 93
Modern features highlight new campus phone system

By EMILY HAGE
Assistant News Editor

Improving Notre Dame students' phone services and replacing an outdated system motivated the Notre Dame Telecommunications Department to complete the installation of a new phone system for Notre Dame campus phones.

After two years of planning, Telecommunications decided on Indiana Bell's DMS 100 Switch in place of an outdated system. Modern features highlight new campus phone system.

"We wanted to enhance students' services since we were enhancing services for the administration," said Pauldirend Sommers.

The system overhaul began in December of 1992 with administration phones and was completed this summer with new phones in each dorm room on Notre Dame's campus.

The primary reason for this step in the inadequacy of the old system, AT&T Dimension, which Telecommunications Coordinator Pauldirend Sommers said Notre Dame has "literally outgrown." This system, roughly 11 years old, could no longer handle the increasing number of students, staff, and faculty, in addition to fax machines, said Podlesak.

The University was beginning to run out of new numbers to be used, and too many users at certain busy times caused false busy signals, according to Ellis.

Another problem with the old system was that its manufacturers no longer serviced the system nor manufactured replacement parts.

In addition to these obvious warning signs, the University acknowledged students' requests for the new features.

"The students have the features they have at home, and that makes sense. It makes it more like home," said Switchboard Coordinator Janice Love.

Podlesak added, "We wanted to enhance students' services since we were enhancing services for the administration."

Ellis warned that students who choose not to have a voice mailbox would risk missing such messages.

According to Ellis, the purchase price of the Digital Centrex system was approximately $3,600,000, and the voice mailboxes, a separate system, was $500,000. Students' phone fee will increase by nine percent to cover these costs.

Though many students find the new system to be complex, the Telecommunications Department has made an effort to minimize confusion.

In addition to a user's manual explaining the features offered and how to utilize them, the Help Desk (631-9000) is available to answer questions and help reset pass codes.

They can also remove the voice mailbox feature upon students' requests.

"We have a lot of confidence in the students' ability once they get used to it," said Podlesak.

"We hope that the students will enjoy the new features. We are excited about what we were able to offer students for the first time," said Podlesak.

"It's all we want to do," said Podlesak.

"We have a lot of confidence in the students' ability once they get used to it," said Podlesak.

"We hope that the students will enjoy the new features. We are excited about what we were able to offer students for the first time," said Podlesak.

"We have a lot of confidence in the students' ability once they get used to it," said Podlesak.

"We hope that the students will enjoy the new features. We are excited about what we were able to offer students for the first time," said Podlesak.

"We have a lot of confidence in the students' ability once they get used to it," said Podlesak.

"We hope that the students will enjoy the new features. We are excited about what we were able to offer students for the first time," said Podlesak.

"We have a lot of confidence in the students' ability once they get used to it," said Podlesak.

"We hope that the students will enjoy the new features. We are excited about what we were able to offer students for the first time," said Podlesak.

"We have a lot of confidence in the students' ability once they get used to it," said Podlesak.

"We hope that the students will enjoy the new features. We are excited about what we were able to offer students for the first time," said Podlesak.

"We have a lot of confidence in the students' ability once they get used to it," said Podlesak.

"We hope that the students will enjoy the new features. We are excited about what we were able to offer students for the first time," said Podlesak.

"We have a lot of confidence in the students' ability once they get used to it," said Podlesak.

"We hope that the students will enjoy the new features. We are excited about what we were able to offer students for the first time," said Podlesak.

"We have a lot of confidence in the students' ability once they get used to it," said Podlesak.

"We hope that the students will enjoy the new features. We are excited about what we were able to offer students for the first time," said Podlesak.

"We have a lot of confidence in the students' ability once they get used to it," said Podlesak.

"We hope that the students will enjoy the new features. We are excited about what we were able to offer students for the first time," said Podlesak.

"We have a lot of confidence in the students' ability once they get used to it," said Podlesak.

"We hope that the students will enjoy the new features. We are excited about what we were able to offer students for the first time," said Podlesak.

"We have a lot of confidence in the students' ability once they get used to it," said Podlesak.

"We hope that the students will enjoy the new features. We are excited about what we were able to offer students for the first time," said Podlesak.

"We have a lot of confidence in the students' ability once they get used to it," said Podlesak.

"We hope that the students will enjoy the new features. We are excited about what we were able to offer students for the first time," said Podlesak.

"We have a lot of confidence in the students' ability once they get used to it," said Podlesak.

"We hope that the students will enjoy the new features. We are excited about what we were able to offer students for the first time," said Podlesak.

"We have a lot of confidence in the students' ability once they get used to it," said Podlesak.

"We hope that the students will enjoy the new features. We are excited about what we were able to offer students for the first time," said Podlesak.

"We have a lot of confidence in the students' ability once they get used to it," said Podlesak.

"We hope that the students will enjoy the new features. We are excited about what we were able to offer students for the first time," said Podlesak.

"We have a lot of confidence in the students' ability once they get used to it," said Podlesak.

"We hope that the students will enjoy the new features. We are excited about what we were able to offer students for the first time," said Podlesak.

"We have a lot of confidence in the students' ability once they get used to it," said Podlesak.

"We hope that the students will enjoy the new features. We are excited about what we were able to offer students for the first time," said Podlesak.

"We have a lot of confidence in the students' ability once they get used to it," said Podlesak.

"We hope that the students will enjoy the new features. We are excited about what we were able to offer students for the first time," said Podlesak.

"We have a lot of confidence in the students' ability once they get used to it," said Podlesak.

"We hope that the students will enjoy the new features. We are excited about what we were able to offer students for the first time," said Podlesak.

"We have a lot of confidence in the students' ability once they get used to it," said Podlesak.

"We hope that the students will enjoy the new features. We are excited about what we were able to offer students for the first time," said Podlesak.

"We have a lot of confidence in the students' ability once they get used to it," said Podlesak.

"We hope that the students will enjoy the new features. We are excited about what we were able to offer students for the first time," said Podlesak.

"We have a lot of confidence in the students' ability once they get used to it," said Podlesak.

"We hope that the students will enjoy the new features. We are excited about what we were able to offer students for the first time," said Podlesak.

"We have a lot of confidence in the students' ability once they get used to it," said Podlesak.

"We hope that the students will enjoy the new features. We are excited about what we were able to offer students for the first time," said Podlesak.

"We have a lot of confidence in the students' ability once they get used to it," said Podlesak.

"We hope that the students will enjoy the new features. We are excited about what we were able to offer students for the first time," said Podlesak.

"We have a lot of confidence in the students' ability once they get used to it," said Podlesak.

"We hope that the students will enjoy the new features. We are excited about what we were able to offer students for the first time," said Podlesak.

"We have a lot of confidence in the students' ability once they get used to it," said Podlesak.

"We hope that the students will enjoy the new features. We are excited about what we were able to offer students for the first time," said Podlesak.

"We have a lot of confidence in the students' ability once they get used to it," said Podlesak.

"We hope that the students will enjoy the new features. We are excited about what we were able to offer students for the first time," said Podlesak.

"We have a lot of confidence in the students' ability once they get used to it," said Podlesak.

"We hope that the students will enjoy the new features. We are excited about what we were able to offer students for the first time," said Podlesak.

"We have a lot of confidence in the students' ability once they get used to it," said Podlesak.

"We hope that the students will enjoy the new features. We are excited about what we were able to offer students for the first time," said Podlesak.

"We have a lot of confidence in the students' ability once they get used to it," said Podlesak.

"We hope that the students will enjoy the new features. We are excited about what we were able to offer students for the first time," said Podlesak.

"We have a lot of confidence in the students' ability once they get used to it," said Podlesak.

"We hope that the students will enjoy the new features. We are excited about what we were able to offer students for the first time," said Podlesak.

"We have a lot of confidence in the students' ability once they get used to it," said Podlesak.

"We hope that the students will enjoy the new features. We are excited about what we were able to offer students for the first time," said Podlesak.

"We have a lot of confidence in the students' ability once they get used to it," said Podlesak.

"We hope that the students will enjoy the new features. We are excited about what we were able to offer students for the first time," said Podlesak.

"We have a lot of confidence in the students' ability once they get used to it," said Podlesak.

"We hope that the students will enjoy the new features. We are excited about what we were able to offer students for the first time," said Podlesak.

"We have a lot of confidence in the students' ability once they get used to it," said Podlesak.

"We hope that the students will enjoy the new features. We are excited about what we were able to offer students for the first time," said Podlesak.
Meals

continued from page 1

appear more home-like. Dried flowers and meal theme decorations were implemented in the building.

“We want to jump out of the dark ages of stainless steel and brighten students stressful lives. We do not want meals to be boring,” Kirwan said.

In addition to the building changes and extended hours, new changes include the expansion of the Wellness bar and a grill-to-order format line. Eventually, the existing Wellness bar will include a computer and prinout providing a nutritional analysis for the current day’s meals, he said.

Great Wall Chinese-American Restaurant & Cocktail Lounge

- Authentic Szechuan, Mandarin & Hunan Cuisine
- Bar & Restaurant open 7 days a week
- Lunches starting at $3.95
- Dinners starting at $5.95
- Banquet rooms available for up to 200
- 130 Dixie Way N., South Bend
- (next to Randall’s Inn)

Voted Best Oriental Restaurant in Michiana by MichianaNow

---

AT&T can help you save money whether you live on campus, off campus, or somewhere in between.

Choose AT&T and save up to 25%.

No matter where you choose to live, you can save money on your long distance phone bill with an AT&T Savings Option. It’s all part of The i Plan:

- The personalized plan designed to fit the way you call.

To sign up for off-campus calling, or to get an AT&T Card, stop by our booth on campus or call 1 800 654-0471, Ext. 4119.

---

SAINT MARY’S CARTE BLANCHE SCHEDULE

| Monday–Friday | 7:00 a.m. – 9:00 a.m. | Full Breakfast |
| 9:00 a.m. – 10:15 a.m. | Grilled to Order, Continental Breakfast Items |
| 10:15 a.m. – 10:45 a.m. | Beverages Only |
| 10:45 a.m. – 1:15 p.m. | Specialty, Traditions, Grill Formats; Desserts |
| 1:15 p.m. – 4:00 p.m. | Grill Format, Salad & Deli Bar, Desserts |
| 4:00 p.m. – 6:15 p.m. | Beverages Only |
| 6:15 p.m. – 8:00 p.m. | Salad & Deli Bar, Desserts |

| Saturday–Sunday | 9:00 a.m. – 10:30 a.m. | Continental Breakfast Items |
| 10:30 a.m. – 12:30 a.m. | Brunch Format |
| 12:30 p.m. – 2:30 p.m. | Grill Format, Salad Bar, Desserts |
| 4:45 p.m. – 6:00 p.m. | Traditions, Grill Formats; Salad & Deli Bar |

---

The Observer • CAMPUS NEWS

Tuesday, August 31, 1993

---

GREAT WALL

Bar & Restaurant open 7 days a week

---

When operational, the Fire House Grill will provide grilled breakfasts made to order and prepared in the service line itself, Kirwan said. Currently, this format is not yet available due to ventilation problems, but it is hoped to be in place soon.

“The key to this progress in the dining hall is communication,” Kirwan said. “It’s important for us to be able to keep up with student’s tastes and needs. The Food Committee and the comment board allow us to keep in touch with the student body. For this reason, we would like to set up a sample plate later this week where students can vote whether or not they would like a particular entre again. This will hopefully allow for a true representation of student tastes.”
OUC installs updated equipment in campus computer clusters

By KATIE MURPHY
News Writer

Over the summer, the Office of University Computing (OUC) replaced and shifted nearly 130 computers in an effort to update several computer clusters and labs, according to Scott Siler, student resources coordinator for the OUC.

The DeBartolo, LaFortune, Hayes-Healy, Davison, Hesburgh, Fitzpatrick, and CCMB computer clusters received some new computer models. Some of the old hardware was transferred to other clusters, to be used as print-only stations or print servers, or sold to faculty and staff in a special sale last May.

"It wasn't just a simple switch. We bought the new ones and shifted some of the other computers around," Siler said.

The purchase of the computers stemmed from general maintenance problems with the older ones, which were mostly Macintosh SE's and SEI0's. Some of the replaced software was close to five years old and lacked the speed and capabilities offered by the newer models, according to Siler.

"We were having a lot of problems with the machines in general. We had to get them repaired quite often," said Siler.

The OUC purchased Macintosh Centris 650's and 610's. The 650 models were installed in the DeBartolo, Davison and CCMB clusters. The Hesburgh cluster received the 610 model. Both models contain built-in CD-ROM and floppy disk drives, although students will have to bring their own CD caddy to use the CD-ROM. According to Siler, the Centris computers are faster than the SE's and SEI0's and possess more capabilities with the CD-ROM functions.

"The CD-ROM can be a regular CD drive, just as on a stereo. It also acts as a very large floppy disk. You can fit so much more on the CD," said Siler.

Other changes include the installation of Macintosh 2Ci's in the Hayes-Healy and LaFortune clusters, and the addition of some new IBM-DOS servers in Hesburgh, Hayes-Healy and DeBartolo. In the Fitzpatrick cluster, the OUC removed all of the Hewlett Packard Vectras and implemented 16 new Sun SPARCstations.

"The SPARCstations are primarily used by engineering and science and are higher-ended work stations," said Siler.

CORRECTION

The Observer incorrectly stated the allotment of proceeds generated by The Shirt.

Only 75 percent of the proceeds will go to aid Todd Broski, according to Steve Hank.

The remaining 25 percent will go into the student fund for dorm improvements and clubs.

The Observer regrets the errors.

Your Clinique Bonus. Difference Makers
A whole fresh outlook—waiting in a smart little travel case at Hudson’s through September 4th

They’re like typical college roommates.
Really, really cheap.

Right now you can get a great price on an Apple* printer for your Macintosh. So you’ll be able to print sharp, professional-looking papers right there in your room—without having to wait around at the com-

Notre Dame Computer Store
Room 112 CCMB • 631-7477
SMC adds two lines to improve security

By NICOLE McGrath
Saint Mary's News Editor

At the beginning of the summer, Saint Mary's security created two new lines - as a way of improving service when emergencies occur on campus, according to Director of Security Richard Chlebek.

In the past, Saint Mary's security used only the 284-5000 number for emergencies. The creation of a campus 9-1-1 and 284-4000 information number should be helpful additions, Chlebek said.

"Hopefully, we'll end up with a lot of use and overall this should improve communication for any kind of emergencies," he added.

In the past, when students have dialed 9-1-1 from their dorm rooms, the call has gone straight to the Saint Joseph police, he added. The three phone lines are:

• information: 284-4000
• security: 284-5000
• emergency: 9-1-1

Campus administrators and resident advisers are spreading the word that new lines have been in effect all summer. Although no memos describing the change have been distributed yet, there is a good reason.

"We haven't sent a campus-wide memo because nobody will see it, since not everyone is back yet," Chlebek said. While Chlebek believes the new lines are a step in the right direction, he says it will be awhile until they know how well the system is working.

MAKE YOUR DORM ROOM OR APARTMENT LOOK LIKE HOME

Large selection of gently used furniture & carpet remnants at our Expanded Used Furniture Dept.

1805 Western Ave.

Convenient Shopping Hours:
Monday-Thursday 9 a.m. - 7 p.m.
Friday 9 a.m. - 8 p.m.
Saturday 9 a.m. - 6 p.m.
Sunday 10 a.m. - 5 p.m.

Checks & Cash, too!

G I A N T

In the city... On the road... Or in the mountains... Giant takes your cycling seriously. Giant bicycles are designed, engineered and crafted to be your precisely right choice. They're easy to ride, easy to enjoy and easy to afford...Let us help you choose the one that fits your cycling needs.

ALBRIGHT'S

FREE $39.95

U Lock Guarantee
with purchase of bike over $300

One coupon per visit. Not valid with other promotions.
Expires 9/30/03

FREE $9.95

Lock and Cohle
with purchase of bike under $300

Expires 9/30/03

Israel, Palestinians reach accord

By NICOLAS TATRO
Associated Press

JErusalem — Israel's Cabinet resoundingly approved a framework for Palestinian autonomy in the strife-torn occupied territories Monday, taking a first step toward ending 26 years of Israeli military control.

The agreement, expected to be signed at peace talks this week, represents the first major breakthrough in the Middle East conflict since Egypt signed a peace treaty with the Jewish state in 1979.

It was also the first significant sign of progress in the 22-month-old peace talks, set to resume today. The plan calls for Israeli troops to begin withdrawing from the Gaza Strip and the West Bank town of Jericho in six months, and for Palestinians to begin running their own affairs there.

Israel has occupied the lands since the 1967 Middle East war, and fierce debate over the future of these territories has divided the Jewish state since.

But a violent five and a half year uprising against Israeli rule persuaded many Israelis they were better off without the territories, especially the overcrowded Gaza strip that has no Biblical resonance for Jews.

Israeli peace proponents also argued that if Israel does not forge an agreement with the Palestine Liberation Organization, it will soon face much more dangerous radical Islamic groups bent on greater violence.

"We negotiated with the Palestinians with whom we have been in conflict for 30 years, and this is the most important thing in the decision," Health Minister Haim Ramon said after 16 ministers voted for the plan and two abstained.

Attention Students!

NBD Bank has EVERYTHING you need!

• No-Fee Checking and Savings Accounts
• Loans
• Computer Banking with NBD Express
• ATMs
• Extended Banking Hours

Visit NBD Bank located a few blocks from the Notre Dame campus.

Member FDIC

NBD Bank
18083 SR 23 North
273-1280

THE CHALLENGE!

• BAGsX Nightclub is Yours...

• YOU name the Promotion...

• IF IT'S LEGAL; WE'LL DO IT!

P.S. No limits, No rules

Alternative Tuesday

Wed - The Usual

Thank You Thursday

1155 MISHAWAKA AVE. S.B. 268-0285
WE’RE GLAD YOU’RE BACK

All Notre Dame/Saint Mary’s Students
Faculty and Support Staff

Papa John’s “Delivering the Perfect Pizza” is committed to once again being the ND/SMC

“Pizza of Choice”

HOURS
M-Th - 11:00 a.m. - 1:00 a.m.
Fri-Sat - 11:00 a.m. - 3:00 a.m.
Sun-Noon - 1:00 a.m.

☑ Voted Best Pizza Delivered to Campus
- 1993 Observer and Independent Class Study

4-14” Large 1 Topping Pizzas
$22.25 + Tax

1-14” Large 1 Topping Pizza
$6.95 + Tax

2-14” Large 1 Topping Pizzas
$11.95 + Tax

Late Night Special
5 p.m. - close
1-14” Large 1 Topping Pizza
$5.25 + Tax

Lunch Special
11 a.m. - 4 p.m.
1-10” Small 2 Topping Pizza and 2 cans of Coca-Cola
$5.95 + Tax

Fast • Hot • Perfect
"The Most Popular Number on Campus!"

Call For FREE DELIVERY.

271-1177
Deadbolts, alarms deter burglars

By JULIE BARRETT

Students living on their own off-campus for the first time are often unfamiliar with protective measures they can take to secure their homes from intruders. There are a range of security systems and devices offered, some more effective and costlier than others, but none 100 percent effective, according to Corp. Millard Hill of the South Bend Crime Prevention unit.

"Basically, if a person wants to break into a place, he or she will do so in most cases regardless of the security system installed," he said. "What a resident can do by bolting their doors and having an alarm system is deter the burglar from even bothering to try or just slow them down."

Hill recommended deadbolt locks that go at least one inch into the door jamb and two and one half inch screws that secure the door jamb so the door cannot be easily pryed open or torn down.

"The average bolt takes about eight seconds to break open, while the one inch one takes about one minute," he said. For sliding glass doors and windows, a metal bar can be placed in tightly between the frame and the wall to prevent them from being opened.

Other suggestions include a motion sensitive bar for the sliding glass doors and windows that sound off an alarm when moved, metal bars on the windows or within the frame itself that can be secured from the inside.

"However, bars on windows or even boarding them up poses a fire hazard and are not allowed in some complexes," Hill added.

Other suggestions include keeping the outside entrances well-lit, the shrubbery low, and a light on inside to make it look like people are there.

O' Captain, Our Captain!

Happy 21st to our favorite ND Domer...

Kathryn

Love,
Mom, Ted, Pat, Tim & Michalla

---

Burglaries

continued from page 1

A rash of burglaries have occurred in Lafayette Square and other off-campus housing prompting local authorities to increase security. Several returning students have been victims of these crimes.

By JU LIE BARRETT

A rash of burglaries have occurred in Lafayette Square and other off-campus housing prompting local authorities to increase security. Several returning students have been victims of these crimes.

Students living on their own off-campus for the first time are often unfamiliar with protective measures they can take to secure their homes from intruders. There are a range of security systems and devices offered, some more effective and costlier than others, but none 100 percent effective, according to Corp. Millard Hill of the South Bend Crime Prevention unit.

"Basically, if a person wants to break into a place, he or she will do so in most cases regardless of the security system installed," he said. "What a resident can do by bolting their doors and having an alarm system is deter the burglar from even bothering to try or just slow them down."

Hill recommended deadbolt locks that go at least one inch into the door jamb and two and one half inch screws that secure the door jamb so the door cannot be easily pryed open or torn down.

"The average bolt takes about eight seconds to break open, while the one inch one takes about one minute," he said. For sliding glass doors and windows, a metal bar can be placed in tightly between the frame and the wall to prevent them from being opened.

Other suggestions include a motion sensitive bar for the sliding glass doors and windows that sound off an alarm when moved, metal bars on the windows or within the frame itself that can be secured from the inside.

"However, bars on windows or even boarding them up poses a fire hazard and are not allowed in some complexes," Hill added.

Other suggestions include keeping the outside entrances well-lit, the shrubbery low, and a light on inside to make it look like people are there.
LaFortune Center shuffles basement business locations

By SARAH DORA

The Copy Shop, The Country Harvester, and ND Video moved to different locations in the basement of the LaFortune Center during the summer due to a re-evaluation of the needs of each business, according to Joseph Cassidy, director of student activities, who oversaw the move.

The Copy Shop has moved to space previously occupied by The Country Harvester, The Country Harvester to space previously occupied by ND Video, and ND Video to space previously occupied by The Copy Shop.

"We evaluate the space and location of each business on an ongoing basis looking at the number of folks each business is serving and what they are providing," said Cassidy. "The moves came down to the best use of space."

"The move of Country Harvester coincided with the expiration of their lease and the Copy Shop's need for more space, said James Lyphout, associate vice president for business affairs. A tenant in LaFortune cannot be forced to move before the expiration of their lease, he said.

"The Copy Shop, which has a LaFortune tenant for four years, has already benefitted from the move, which gave them roughly twice the amount of space as they had in the previous location, said manager Jeff Riffel.

"We've added things we could never have had in the other store," said Riffel. "The increased space has already improved our business."

Although The Country Harvester lost roughly 200 square feet of space, said owner and manager Rose Horak, they are able to display about the same amount of inventory as in the old location.

"My only concern is when Christmas time comes around because I usually have increased displays, but we'll see," she said.

"The move of Country Harvester coincided with the expiration of their lease and the Copy Shop's need for more space, said James Lyphout, associate vice president for business affairs. A tenant in LaFortune cannot be forced to move before the expiration of their lease, he said.

"The Copy Shop, which has a LaFortune tenant for four years, has already benefitted from the move, which gave them roughly twice the amount of space as they had in the previous location, said manager Jeff Riffel.

"We've added things we could never have had in the other store," said Riffel. "The increased space has already improved our business."

Although The Country Harvester lost roughly 200 square feet of space, said owner and manager Rose Horak, they are able to display about the same amount of inventory as in the old location.

"My only concern is when Christmas time comes around because I usually have increased displays, but we'll see," she said.

Improving visibility was the primary goal to be accomplished by the move of ND Video to the old Copy Shop location. The store has roughly the same amount of space as it did before, only it is now in a much better location to capitalize on student customers and improve its business, said Cassidy.

ND Video is in the operations that has not yet opened for business in its new location, in addition to being the only student-run entity of the three. It is expected to open within the next week or so, according to Mary Edgington, assistant director of Student Activities.

Another summer development in the basement of LaFortune was the June retirement of barber Joe "BOTC Joe" D'Angelo after 38 years of campus hair cutting.

Taking his place in the barber shop is Frank "the Barber" Franko, who was previously a barber at Kent State University.

LaFortune Center shuffles basement business locations

The Observer • CAMPUS NEWS • page 9

---

LaFortune Center shuffles basement business locations

The Copy Shop, The Country Harvester, and ND Video moved to different locations in the basement of the LaFortune Center during the summer due to a re-evaluation of the needs of each business, according to Joseph Cassidy, director of student activities, who oversaw the move.

The Copy Shop has moved to space previously occupied by The Country Harvester, The Country Harvester to space previously occupied by ND Video, and ND Video to space previously occupied by The Copy Shop.

"We evaluate the space and location of each business on an ongoing basis looking at the number of folks each business is serving and what they are providing," said Cassidy. "The moves came down to the best use of space."

"The move of Country Harvester coincided with the expiration of their lease and the Copy Shop's need for more space, said James Lyphout, associate vice president for business affairs. A tenant in LaFortune cannot be forced to move before the expiration of their lease, he said.

"The Copy Shop, which has a LaFortune tenant for four years, has already benefitted from the move, which gave them roughly twice the amount of space as they had in the previous location, said manager Jeff Riffel.

"We've added things we could never have had in the other store," said Riffel. "The increased space has already improved our business."

Although The Country Harvester lost roughly 200 square feet of space, said owner and manager Rose Horak, they are able to display about the same amount of inventory as in the old location.

"My only concern is when Christmas time comes around because I usually have increased displays, but we'll see," she said.

Improving visibility was the primary goal to be accomplished by the move of ND Video to the old Copy Shop location. The store has roughly the same amount of space as it did before, only it is now in a much better location to capitalize on student customers and improve its business, said Cassidy.

ND Video is in the operations that has not yet opened for business in its new location, in addition to being the only student-run entity of the three. It is expected to open within the next week or so, according to Mary Edgington, assistant director of Student Activities.

Another summer development in the basement of LaFortune was the June retirement of barber Joe "BOTC Joe" D'Angelo after 38 years of campus hair cutting.

Taking his place in the barber shop is Frank "the Barber" Franko, who was previously a barber at Kent State University.
Thousands flee as Emily heads for Carolina coast

By ESTES THOMPSON
Associated Press

HATTERAS, N.C. Thousands of people boarded up windows and fled inland Monday as Hurricane Emily strengthened and headed toward the sandy, low-lying Outer Banks island chain with 95 mph winds.

Hurricane warnings were posted from the central North Carolina coast to Virginia as the storm threatened to pass over land Tuesday, and forecasters said there was a growing threat to the East Coast shelf.

"My wife is scared to death," said commercial fisherman Jack Quilling, 45, of Buxton on the Outer Banks.

"I'm taking this seriously after Hugo and Andrew," said Hatteras Island native Janice Spake, 43.

Though Emily was unlikely to approach the ferocity of those hurricanes, it was expected to strengthen, with top sustained winds possibly reaching 100 mph. And coastal areas it threatened were left vulnerable by two major dune-flattening storms last winter.

At 8 p.m., Emily's center was about 260 miles southeast of Cape Hatteras, near latitude 32.2 degrees north and longitude 73.0 degrees west. Wind and rain from the hurricane hadn't reached shore but ocean swells along the coast had grown to 10 feet, the National Weather Service said.

The hurricane's maximum sustained winds were near 95 mph, up from 85 mph three hours earlier, and some additional strengthening was likely as the storm traversed the Gulf Stream.

Emily was moving west-northwest at near eight mph and that motion was expected to swing north Tuesday, said the National Hurricane Center in Coral Gables, Fla.

"We'll probably have to put some warnings on northerly tracks," said Bob Sheets, the center's director. "The question is how soon it's going to turn to the north.

If it turns northward before or shortly after hitting the Outer Banks, Emily would head back out to sea and would be expected to stay offshore of the coast, said hurricane center forecaster Tony Zaleski. That could cause large swells and 40-50 mph wind along the coastline from Virginia to New York's Long Island.

If Emily moves farther inland over North Carolina before veering north, it might weaken to tropical storm status - with sustained wind below 74 mph - but could bring heavy rain and high wind to big East Coast cities, Zaleski said.

CORRECTION
Spake, 43.

There also was the question of timing - whether the storm would hit near high tides at around 9 p.m. Tuesday and 9 a.m. Wednesday. A full moon will make the tides even higher. Residents and tourists alike evacuated the Outer Banks and low-lying coastal areas of North Carolina. Officials estimated there were more than 150,000 people in the area, three-fourths of them tourists, before the storm threatened.

The Observer now is hiring personnel for the following paid positions:

Ad Design Staff
Applicants should have experience with QuarkXPress and/or Aldus Freehand. For more information, call Stephanie Goldman at 631-7471.

ANNOUNCING THE FORMATION OF COMMITTEES Recommended by the Colloquy for the Year 2000

Acting on recommendations in the final report of the Colloquy for the Year 2000, Father Malloy has announced the formation of four new University committees - on curriculum; international studies; research, scholarship and infrastructure; and libraries.

Three of the four committees will be composed of 25 students, faculty and staff members and will issue final recommendations to the provost and Academic Council by the end of the 1993-94 academic year. The Committee on Research, Scholarship and Infrastructure will have 20 faculty, staff and student members and will issue its preliminary recommendations by the end of this year.

The majority of the members of each committee will be chosen by their respective constituencies. Father Malloy has appointed as committee chairs: Timothy O'Meara, provost, University Curriculum Committee; Isabel Charles, associate provost and director of international programs, Committee on International Studies; Nathan Hatch, vice president for graduate studies and research, Committee on Research, Scholarship and Infrastructure; and Roger Schmitz, vice president and associate provost, Committee on University Libraries.

Father Malloy's final Colloquy report, submitted to the University's trustees May 7, 1993, included 43 specific recommendations. The recommendations pertinent to the new committees are:

• Recommendation 9 - "A University Curriculum Committee should report and make recommendations to the Academic Council on the quality of the undergraduate learning experience at Notre Dame with a special emphasis on curriculum, course of study (including the Freshman Year Studies), learning resources and total campus environment."

• Recommendation 16 - "A University Committee on International Studies should be formed to prepare a mission statement for Notre Dame's international programs, to assess and ensure their academic strength, to consider their reorganization and relocation to a more visible campus site, and to plan for their future growth along the following lines:
- Expand programs to sites in other parts of the world;
- Create appropriate programs for students of science and engineering, now virtually excluded because of curricular constraints;
- Develop strong curricular support in all areas in which programs operate, so that courses in language, politics, literature and the like give students adequate preparation for, and build upon, studies overseas;
- Allocate special financial aid to make international study programs available to all qualified Notre Dame students, not just those whose parents can supplement the usual room, board and tuition costs;
- Explore creative ways to work out genuine exchange programs so that students come to the University from the various overseas sites."

• Recommendation 20 - "The University should set the goal of becoming one of the premier private universities in the country, renowned for research as well as teaching. A University committee should be established to develop a comprehensive strategic plan for improving research and scholarship at Notre Dame, with special emphasis on infrastructure, research-development funding and maintenance to support these endeavors. This committee should report periodically to the provost and the Academic Council."

• Recommendation 21 - "The University must dramatically improve library resources and services to ensure that the faculty and students have readily accessible the resources required for their work. An ad hoc Committee on University Libraries should be established which will be entrusted with responsibility to review the present reality of the Notre Dame libraries; initiate a study of trends and developments in peer research libraries; and issue a report with recommendations to the provost and Academic Council. This report should be as exhaustive as possible and presented in a timely fashion."

If you have any questions, please call: Kathy Webb (631-7938) or Kent Goffinet (631-7241)

OPEN HOUSE/INFORMATION SESSION
Wednesday, September 1st
4:00 - 6:00 p.m.
at the Annual Fund Phone Center
(Southeast corner of Badin Hall)

Please join us for an informal
THE SHIRT '93

The Official Football Shirt of the Notre Dame Student Body

Irish Sea  Irish Sea

Join the 12th Man

Available at:

Football Ticket Sales
Dining Halls
LaFortune Information Desk
The Notre Dame Bookstore
The Alumni Association
JACC Varsity Shop

All Proceeds Benefit Charitable and Student Organizations Choir
continued from page 1
said Breen Phillips junior Jenny Tilghman. "It was almost moving to the point of tears, and he had just stopped out of the heli-copter. He had not even said a word."
When he did speak, it was equally moving, said Warner.
During the homily at the Papal Mass, the Holy Father urged the congregation to "never be ashamed of the Gospel," Warner explained. After a few moments of thought he corrected himself saying rather, to "be proud of the Gospel."
It was as if he realized that his original words had negative connotations and he wanted to make the point that Catholics do not have to be defensive about their faith, said Warner.
Technically, the celebration of the pope's third visit to the United States ran four days—beginning with the papal welcome on August 12 and ending with the Mass on August 15—but the folk choir spent 10 days rehearsing, giving recitals for a local congregation, and participating in teaching sessions.
During this week and a half, members of the choir built a rapport with the other choirs and with those who heard and responded to their music. "The reason we have that rapport," explained Tilghman, "is that we seem like we are having fun. We like to get into it. We move around if we feel too moved and we want the audience to sing and clap."
The folk choir was first organized at Notre Dame in 1980 with an electric piano and nearly as much Simon and Garfunkel music as Church music, said Warner. Since then, they have worked to "find and create a repertoire" that consists of music from Ireland, England, Mexico, France, and African American traditions. That diversity of music fit in well in Denver where Catholics from various backgrounds and cultures united in celebration, according to Warner. Although the media focused on a divided Church, Warner said he and the choir felt a sense of unity.
With 180,000 people from innumerable backgrounds and cultures sharing themselves, their faith, and their music, the World Youth Day Conference was a true celebration of the Catholic Church, according to Warner. And with their clapping and swaying the members of the Notre Dame Folk Choir were on the scene as "prophets of joy," he said.
"There is lots of room in the Church for joy," said Warner. "A lot of times we set set that at the doorstep when we walk into church—and we leave behind some of the best things about the expression of faith."
Media
continued from page 1
of the theology department.
"When you think about the enormous amount of good the church does—helping the poor, helping the homeless and others—that is simply not played up, partly because people expect it, but many times the media tends to focus on the bad things that happen."
The coverage of the World Youth Day showed the same kind of negative bias, McNerny said.
"In the case of the media, much of the time they were looking to balance their coverage," he said. "When someone said something good, they looked to find someone to deny it."
On the whole, the World Youth Day was an incredible event particularly because of the pope's presence, McNerny said. "I was enthralled," he said. "The pope exhibits something more than what he does, but what he is. (He) is tremendous."
Reports that the pope's lack of strong comments on the abortion issue were meant as a softening of his stance are false, according to Cunningham.
"Anyone who thinks the Pope is softening his stance against abortion is whistling in the wind," Cunningham said. "His lack of comments were proba-ably just a strategic effort not to seem like he was siding us... he wanted to leave us with a positive message."

KAPLAN Test Prep Welcomes You Back! LSAT Classes for the October 2, 1993 Exam start this week: Thursday, September 2 1717 E. South Bend Avenue EXPERIENCE KAPLAN TOTAL TRAINING ANYTHING ELSE IS PARTIAL PREP KAPLAN The answer to the test question
Robert Siegfried, ND patron and alum, dead at age 77

By SARAH DORAN
Assistant News Editor

Robert Siegfried, a Notre Dame alum who joined with his son Ray to underwrite the construction of Siegfried Hall, passed away July 31 at his home in Tulsa, Oklahoma. He was 77. "His legacy, and this is the consensus of all his children, was to instill in us a deep sense of abiding faith and the importance of religion in our daily lives," said Ray Siegfried, a 1965 alumnus and member of the University’s Board of Trustees. "For this we are all so very grateful."

"Bobby Siegfried was faithful to his God, his family and his community responsibilities," said Father Edmund Joyce, University vice president emeritus and classmate of Siegfried's who delivered the homily at his funeral. "I would be willing to wager that few residents of Tulsa would be more known to a diverse group of citizens, from policemen to priests, from doctors to debutantes."

Siegfried and his father founded the Siegfried Insurance Agency, one of the nation's leading insurance businesses. After retiring from the firm in 1974, Robert pursued other business interests and became president of R.H. Siegfried, Inc., an oil, gas, banking, and industrial development concern.

Robert and Ray Siegfried also established the Siegfried Chair in Entrepreneurial Studies and Private Enterprise in the College of Business Administration, in addition to underwriting the residence hall. Siegfried is survived by his wife, Doris; three sons, Ray Siegfried II, Rick Siegfried, Robin Siegfried, all of Tulsa; two daughters, Diane Perkins and Celeste Bendel, both of Tulsa; and 20 grandchildren.

ON CAMPUS

The Country Harvester
The Great Little Gift Store!

Offers U.P.S. Service
Monday - Friday 10 - 5
Saturday 11 - 2

Browse among our neat selection of room decor and our exclusive Irish Village Collection. Find a yummy candy to munch on. Cuddle up with a teddy bear and glowing scented candles. Choose the "just right" gift for your SYR dates.

All this and much more at...

The Country Harvester
Lower Level - South Dorm
LaFortune
631-6714

Not an agent of U.P.S.

The Hammes
NOTRE DAME BOOKSTORE
"on the campus"

Welcome Back!

3M Sale!

Scotch™ Glue Stick
(white or purple)
2/$1.00

Scotch™ Removable Poster Tape
$1.95

Scotch™ Removable Mounting Squares
$.99 ea.

Special hours: Tues. 9-6, Weds., Thurs. & Fri. 9-7
Saturday 8-6
Abortion should not be illegal, but unheard of

For the benefit of all fresh­men and transfer students, I will now reveal the easiest way to succeed an an at Notre Dame. No one loves to argue about anything and everything. The worth of the current president. Who will win the Super Bowl. And, of course, the great good vs. “pop” controversy. But the easiest way to start an argument is to bring up the one issue that cuts across the board and divides this campus (and this country) for far too long.

Abortion.

Pretty soon, as sure as there are ticket ads in the full, there will be a mountain of letters and columns in Viewpoint tak­ ing a stand on this issue, on one side or the other. And only on one side or the other.

On one end of the spectrum, this being the “pro-life” side. Normally, these are people who pray Rosary, and carry signs in front of women’s clinics. Unfortunately, this side has grown into a fanatic following. Witness the “siegels” that Operation Rescue forms at clinics each summer. Blocking entrances, harassing young women who are already stressed beyond belief, and telling children to run past po­ lice lines.

Gosh, these kids are really learning to respect the law, aren’t they?

The extremists in the anti­abortion movement have recently become vigilantes, as evidenced by the shootings in Florida and Kansas. Would this qualify as a “choice”?

On the other extreme, we have the “pro-choice” move­ ment, people who believe that a woman has the right to do anything she wants with her body. These are the people who haven’t gone out and murdered any pro-life activists.

The media remain saturated with “abortion confrontation” stories, and more than enough to keep our focus away from the really important thing: Women are having abortions, and will keep on having them if the current social, cultural, political and economic environ­ ment stage it.

It really doesn’t matter which side of the abortion fence you sit on. Both sides are spending too much energy and resources fighting each other and not nearly enough eradicating the problems that lead to abortion. Imagine for a moment: A place where women are always treated with the dignity and respect they deserve. Where reliable health care is available everywhere. Where sex is not a taboo subject, but topic which can be discussed openly and intelligently without shame.

In such a place, abortion is not illegal.

It’s unheard of. This place should be the United States of America, and it can be if we start focusing on the cause of the problem instead of the problem itself. Stop quoting Humane Vitae and the Constitution, and start making the ideas contained in them real.

Paul Pearson is a 1993 gradu­ ate of Notre Dame and a for­ mer Observer writer. He cur­ rently works as a rewrite­ r at a tri-lingual newspaper in Tampa, Florida.

O’Hara offers goodwill to all

Dear Editor:

To the students of Notre Dame. I would like to extend a warm welcome on behalf of all of us who work in the Division of Student Affairs—the offices of Residence Life, Security, Student Residences, Alcohol and Drug Education, Student Activities, International Student Affairs, Counseling Center, Ca­ reerpoint and Placement, Health Services, Campus Ministry and Hall Staffs. Although we pro­ vide a variety of services, we share a common desire to do everything we can to help facili­ tate your intellectual, spiritual and personal growth in your lives outside the classroom.

We welcome back the sopho­ more, juniors and seniors, as well as the returning graduate and professional students. We extend a special welcome to our new students—the fresh­ men transfer and undergrad­ uate and professional students. You join a proud community with a rich tradition that dates back more than one hundred and fifty years to the vision of our founder, Father Edward Sorin, C.S.C. We hope that all of you—both those who are new and those who are returning—will be able to achieve the academic, personal and spiritual goals you set for yourselves this year.

I hope that I will have the oppor­ tunity to know as many of you as possible in the months ahead. Until I am able to greet you in person, please know that you have my very best wishes for a year filled with all God’s good blessings.

Patricia O’Hara
Vice President for Student Affairs
August 30, 1993

Student gov’t awaits involvement

Dear Editor:

Welcome back to the students of Notre Dame. We hope you have had a great summer and are looking forward to a terrific year.

Things are already underway at Student Government, and the projects are off to a fantastic start. The Guide will be out later this semester. The Job Bank has already found jobs for several students, and the Book Fair will be held this week at Stepan Center, Wednesday through Friday. These, how­ ever, are only some of the things planned at Student Gov­ ernment this year. We want to make Student Government more accessible to you by mak­ ing it easier for you to voice your opinions. There are several ways for you to do this. First, we invite you to visit our office on the second floor of LaFortune to talk to us directly about your ideas. Secondly, you can speak to us at Hall Council meetings which we will be attending weekly. Finally, the most pow­ erful tool available to you is the Student Senate. We encourage you to attend Senate meetings and use floor time to express your ideas. You can also pre­ pare Senate resolutions and work for their enactment. We hope that you will take advantage of these opportunities to be heard.

We look forward to a great year and hope to see you in­ volved.

Frank Flynn
Student Body President
Nikki Wellman
Student Body Vice President
August 30, 1993

Note Dame is not as pure as we like to think or we wish it was, but compared with ninety percent of other schools, it’s as pure as the driven snow.

John Carney
In Under the Tarnished Dome
Author of “Odyssey” explores the sports and spirituality of Notre Dame

By TONY POPANZ
Accent Writer

Tuesday, August 31, 1993

A select few have had the opportunity to live and work the best part of their lives on behalf of Our Lady's University. Those who have seen and taken part in radical changes over time, and have helped conjure a famous tradition of heroes and achievements.

One such hero on the Notre Dame Book Review scene has lived and worked for forty years, deeply concealed yet ceaselessly performing within a brigade of champions, including the likes of Frank Leahy, Father Hesburgh, Joe Boland, Chet Grant, Ara Parseghian and Joe Montana.

His name — Herb Juliano, a man whose unflagging devotion to Notre Dame and its ideal had inspired him to surrender his life to the university. With this inspiration (and the mechanical tenacity of pre-war Remington typewriter), Juliano has just released “Notre Dame Odyssey: A Journey Through Sports and Spirituality On The Notre Dame Campus.”

Using wit and a vivid memory, Juliano pieced together a mosaic combining historic accounts of legends that have shaped Notre Dame’s enigmatic spirit with narratives of his copious experiences at the heart of sports and spirituality that have become Notre Dame’s clarion.

“Odyssey” expounds upon the character of Notre Dame during its formative years, and delves the reader into the hearts of the coaches, administrators, and students of the past by reliving some of the little-known yet interesting happenings that have weaned Sorin’s modest log-hewn chapel over Saint Mary’s Lake up to its present status as our nation’s most prestigious Catholic university.

An anthology, “Odyssey” will likely enthral all who read it. Its style and content are unlike any other Notre Dame book written to date. For example, Juliano touches on the long forgotten farcical riots incited by the student body against the Ku Klux Klan in 1924, which Notre Rockne successfully meditated are bound to delight. He also elaborates the story of the Native American Dumer, in whose honor the Cleveland pro baseball club is named.

“Odyssey” also includes chapters about continuing legacies, such as the Washington Hall ghost, the misplaced monument commemorating John Henry Shillington, a dismissed student who subsequently joined the Navy and later went down with the “Maine”, and the continuing attempts of movie makers to depict Notre Dame’s Football heritage.

A sizable chapter has been devoted to the late Chet Grant, one of Rockne’s great quarterbacks and George Gipp’s teammate and roommate, who, even fourteen years ago, took Notre Dame to task for becoming secularized. His letter has been reprinted in full.

Juliano also takes the opportunity to tell his own story of the multiple roles he has undertaken in the past 40 years, which includes assistant to the late Joe Boland in the operation of the Irish Football Network, sportscaster on WNDU radio and TV, curator of the International Sports and Games Research collection and research assistant in the Sports Information Department.

His experience speaks for itself as verification of the depth of his knowledge and experience, and it is fascinating.

Through and through, “Odyssey” reflects the unconditional love and devotion of one man, Herb Juliano, who gave his life to simply and unselfishly contribute to the prosperity of Notre Dame.

All proceeds benefit SERV (Students Encouraging Religious Vocations), which was founded by Juliano as a response to the growing need of holy religious vocations.

Juliano’s book may be found in the Notre Dame bookstore for $12.50.

Museums offer students an escape from their busy lifestyles

Observer Staff Report

As the new semester begins, students run around aimlessly trying to get to class on time, sleeping out for football tickets and unpacking their many boxes.

For those already looking for an escape from their busy schedules, a nice stroll through an art exhibit may do some good.

Currently at Notre Dame the Snite Museum of Art is showing “A Fresh Look: Photographs from the Permanent Collection.”

This exhibit is a collection of sixty 20th century, color and black and white photographs.

Images by Imogen Cunningham, Arnold Newman and Aaron Siskind are on view for the very first time. A highlight of the exhibit is one of the museum’s newest photographs. For the first time, a portrait of Georgia O’Keeffe by the late Southwestern photographer Fritz Kasser will be on view.

The exhibit also holds works by New York City photographer Weegee, who was living in the recent film, “The Public Eye.”

Other selected works by master photographers, including Henri Cartier-Bresson, Edward Steichen, Edward Weston, August Sander and Ansel Adams are complemented by more recent photos by Joel Myerowitz and Gary Wingrass.

The show is on view through Sept. 19.

Even beyond the Snite, students have the South Bend Regional Museum of Art available to them.

“Jacquard Way” is a traveling exhibition representing outdoor sculpture, bronzes, drawings, paintings and models for works.

Jacquard, a Bloomington sculptor, moved from Chicago in 1975 to head Indiana University’s sculpture department.

One of four museums to host the exhibit, the South Bend Regional Museum of Art has chosen to concentrate on Jacquard’s smaller bronzes, drawings and models or marquises.

Also on display until Sept. 5 is “Where the Boons Are: Sculpture by Barbara Jo McLaughlin” in the Women’s Art League Gallery.

McLaughlin explained her sculpture as “reductive forms that strive for a total integration of concept, material, process, form and surface.”

The piece is a part of McLaughlin’s “Bobber: series, a body of work representing ten years of artistic exploration into materials and personal imagery.

“The imagery is based on fishing tackle, bobbers and related items rendered fondly by the artist from childhood fishing expeditions with her father,” said the museum curator.

The artists’ works have been displayed at the Chicago International Art Exhibition at Navy Pier in 1990. Both the Snite and South Bend Regional Museum of Art are open to the public with free admission.
"One player who was not helped by Holtz's efforts was quarterback Tony Rice. Their relationship was difficult at best, several players said. A few were blunt.

"It ruined Tony Rice," said Dan Quim. "Rice was one of the best athletic quarterbacks I've ever been associated with. But Holtz would not let him throw it. For the life of us we couldn't understand why. Tony could stand at the thirty and throw it in the end zone. And if he would just have let Tony practice it more and then actually let him play it in the game, we could have won a lot more."

***

"No part of the Notre Dame image is more cherished, more critical to its efforts to distinguish itself from the grubby football factories with which it must compete, than the notion that its football coach will receive no special favors from the university to help him achieve success.

Let the Oklahomas of the world sully their schools by bringing in unqualified students who can run and block and tackle; Notre Dame knows that you can maintain high academic standards and still put a championship team on the field.

Let the Nebraska's automatically red-shirt the freshman class to let them grow bigger and stronger and learn what it means to be in the world of college athletics. ...

"My image of Notre Dame prior to going there," says Tom Riley, "was it a school that was a complete success and did it the right way. Everybody bought into the Notre Dame image. It was the Golden Dome and all that. Now, Notre Dame football falls into the category of so many other big-time football programs."

"It traded part of its image for a few wins. They had the years of Faust and found out they didn't like losing. What separates Notre Dame now from any other school? Absolutely nothing. The thing that drew me to Notre Dame in high school in senior in high school there isn't anymore."

***

"The familiar refrain when it comes to college football is that 'everybody's cheating.' That's no excuse, clearly; still, Notre Dame most certainly is not the only one. It's just the one we wish, desperately, weren't deshifting itself so.

"Holtz loves to remind people that 'losing tells you something, mostly that you are not good enough.' Notre Dame simply will not stand for such a reminder. It will not be allowed because Notre Dame is not football. Without it, Notre Dame is simply a small Catholic institution with a great chemistry department in a small northern town with lousy weather.

"Faust's problems, which are to say Notre Dame's problems, were everywhere. But everyone wanted it to succeed. If Faust wanted success, others wanted it for him even more.

***

"Everyone definitely knew where to get it (steroids). As far as buying it, I mean, it wasn't like you were gonna sell the guy next door in your dorm that somebody is using steroids or selling them," said George Marshall. "It was just that you knew where to go when to take care of your end of the bargain, and it wasn't like we were using or over­ use it. I mean, that is something we definitely wanted to be quit.

"What does Notre Dame stand for? For a public institution such as Oklahoma University or Florida State University, the question would be meaningless; but for a major Catholic university, the most prominent in the nation, it is an extremely important one. When Holtz, Notre Dame declared that what it won't stand for is a losing football team."

"Faust wanted success, others wanted it for him even more.

***

Tony was a really good quarterback. He had a hell of an arm, but Holtz never let him throw it."

---

(Continued from page 28)
By BRIAN KUBICKI

When Don Yeager and Douglas Lowen began writing the book "Under the Tarnished Dome: How Notre Dame Betrayed the Faith of Notre Dame," they knew what they were doing. Both entered the project experienced with both journalism and college athletics. Yeager, a Ball State University graduate, is identified as author and investigative journalist behind the book's jacket and is noted as author of two previously identified as investigative journalists on the book. Those books, titled "Undue Process: Sports Illustrated since 1975 is no less significant because of its investigative style of questioning. Some of the people continued from page 28

Four former Notre Dame players have been interviewed by the book's publisher, Simon & Schuster, not to talk about the book until Sept. 7. Looney refused ever to answer any questions about his personal background for this article. He cited that he was bound by contract not to discuss the book and felt any answers he might give would not be in good faith.

The book is filled with accusations of Lou Holtz of Notre Dame of wanting to win at all costs. But then again, don't. The question is where to draw the line. If Rick Mirer is considered a renegade player because he was arrested on campus party, the book implies, then the state of Indiana's should exercise the death penalty on its pay-to-play quarters. The authors claim that Notre Dame lowered its admission standards for athletes when Holtz arrived in 1986. It is most likely that the Irish did. Tony Brooks, Ricky Waters, Tom Thayer, and Jerry Faust players. The differences, they were winners.

The book tells us that Notre Dame ranks third in graduation rate among Division I schools and has the highest finishing rate among African Americans. A main object of the academic schol­arship is to give an individual an opportunity to get an edu­cation. Notre Dame does one better, it can almost guarantee a player will graduate. If the player brought in can't read when he arrives here, but can compete in college classes when he leaves and has passed classes with other students, then who cares what universities. "Playing football and academics is hard," says Cegielski. "They get around it just like their other school." It is this point that the Looney and Rice interviews brought out the book. "Americans have always thought that in a sea of college football, Notre Dame's the best. They'd like to believe in the age of basketball, Notre Dame," they write. "Time was, they could. Now, they can't." Yeager and Lowen say a new type of recruit — no longer good, balanced kids but premium athletes that tend to get themselves into trouble — has provided success for Notre Dame, but with some conse­quences. Tony Brooks and Ricky Water, both drafted into the NFL, were permanent soloists. Notre Dame and Holtz have spread a film of dust across themselves when they have an privilege to be charitable — with women," the authors report.

Looney declined to comment about the book until Sept. 7 and Yeager could not be reached at press time.

Book's value lies in hidden truths

NODA is not just the last bastion of good fortune. If you believe it is then "Under the Tarnished Dome" serves as more nothing than a Christmas present for your favorite USC grad.

But those who understand Notre Dame's true place in college athletics, the fans who plowed through the black and gold haze, this book has value. In pointing out the wrong, the authors also highlighted the good.

The book is filled with accusations of Lou Holtz of Notre Dame of wanting to win at all costs. But then again, don't. The question is where to draw the line. If Rick Mirer is considered a renegade player because he was arrested on campus party, the book implies, then the state of Indiana's should exercise the death penalty on its pay-to-play quarters. The authors claim that Notre Dame lowered its admission standards for athletes when Holtz arrived in 1986. It is most likely that the Irish did. Tony Brooks, Ricky Waters, Tom Thayer, and Jerry Faust players. The differences,他们 were winners. If the player brought in can't read when he arrives here, but can compete in college classes when he leaves and has passed classes with other students, then who cares what universities. "Playing football and academics is hard," says Cegielski. "They get around it just like their other school." It is this point that the Looney and Rice interviews brought out the book. "Americans have always thought that in a sea of college football, Notre Dame's the best. They'd like to believe in the age of basketball, Notre Dame," they write. "Time was, they could. Now, they can't." Yeager and Lowen say a new type of recruit — no longer good, balanced kids but premium athletes that tend to get themselves into trouble — has provided success for Notre Dame, but with some conse­quences. Tony Brooks and Ricky Water, both drafted into the NFL, were permanent soloists. Notre Dame and Holtz have spread a film of dust across themselves when they have an privilege to be charitable — with women," the authors report.

Looney declined to comment about the book until Sept. 7 and Yeager could not be reached at press time.

Book's value lies in hidden truths

NODA is not just the last bastion of good fortune. If you believe it is then "Under the Tarnished Dome" serves as more nothing than a Christmas present for your favorite USC grad.

But those who understand Notre Dame's true place in college athletics, the fans who plowed through the black and gold haze, this book has value. In pointing out the wrong, the authors also highlighted the good.

The book is filled with accusations of Lou Holtz of Notre Dame of wanting to win at all costs. But then again, don't. The question is where to draw the line. If Rick Mirer is considered a renegade player because he was arrested on campus party, the book implies, then the state of Indiana's should exercise the death penalty on its pay-to-play quarters. The authors claim that Notre Dame lowered its admission standards for athletes when Holtz arrived in 1986. It is most likely that the Irish did. Tony Brooks, Ricky Waters, Tom Thayer, and Jerry Faust players. The differences, they were winners. If the player brought in can't read when he arrives here, but can compete in college classes when he leaves and has passed classes with other students, then who cares what universities. "Playing football and academics is hard," says Cegielski. "They get around it just like their other school." It is this point that the Looney and Rice interviews brought out the book. "Americans have always thought that in a sea of college football, Notre Dame's the best. They'd like to believe in the age of basketball, Notre Dame," they write. "Time was, they could. Now, they can't." Yeager and Lowen say a new type of recruit — no longer good, balanced kids but premium athletes that tend to get themselves into trouble — has provided success for Notre Dame, but with some conse­quences. Tony Brooks and Ricky Water, both drafted into the NFL, were permanent soloists. Notre Dame and Holtz have spread a film of dust across themselves when they have an privilege to be charitable — with women," the authors report.

Looney declined to comment about the book until Sept. 7 and Yeager could not be reached at press time.

Book's value lies in hidden truths

NODA is not just the last bastion of good fortune. If you believe it is then "Under the Tarnished Dome" serves as more nothing than a Christmas present for your favorite USC grad.

But those who understand Notre Dame's true place in college athletics, the fans who plowed through the black and gold haze, this book has value. In pointing out the wrong, the authors also highlighted the good.

The book is filled with accusations of Lou Holtz of Notre Dame of wanting to win at all costs. But then again, don't. The question is where to draw the line. If Rick Mirer is considered a renegade player because he was arrested on campus party, the book implies, then the state of Indiana's should exercise the death penalty on its pay-to-play quarters. The authors claim that Notre Dame lowered its admission standards for athletes when Holtz arrived in 1986. It is most likely that the Irish did. Tony Brooks, Ricky Waters, Tom Thayer, and Jerry Faust players. The differences, they were winners. If the player brought in can't read when he arrives here, but can compete in college classes when he leaves and has passed classes with other students, then who cares what universities. "Playing football and academics is hard," says Cegielski. "They get around it just like their other school." It is this point that the Looney and Rice interviews brought out the book. "Americans have always thought that in a sea of college football, Notre Dame's the best. They'd like to believe in the age of basketball, Notre Dame," they write. "Time was, they could. Now, they can't." Yeager and Lowen say a new type of recruit — no longer good, balanced kids but premium athletes that tend to get themselves into trouble — has provided success for Notre Dame, but with some conse­quences. Tony Brooks and Ricky Water, both drafted into the NFL, were permanent soloists. Notre Dame and Holtz have spread a film of dust across themselves when they have an privilege to be charitable — with women," the authors report.

Looney declined to comment about the book until Sept. 7 and Yeager could not be reached at press time.

Book's value lies in hidden truths

NODA is not just the last bastion of good fortune. If you believe it is then "Under the Tarnished Dome" serves as more nothing than a Christmas present for your favorite USC grad.

But those who understand Notre Dame's true place in college athletics, the fans who plowed through the black and gold haze, this book has value. In pointing out the wrong, the authors also highlighted the good.

The book is filled with accusations of Lou Holtz of Notre Dame of wanting to win at all costs. But then again, don't. The question is where to draw the line. If Rick Mirer is considered a renegade player because he was arrested on campus party, the book implies, then the state of Indiana's should exercise the death penalty on its pay-to-play quarters. The authors claim that Notre Dame lowered its admission standards for athletes when Holtz arrived in 1986. It is most likely that the Irish did. Tony Brooks, Ricky Waters, Tom Thayer, and Jerry Faust players. The differences, they were winners. If the player brought in can't read when he arrives here, but can compete in college classes when he leaves and has passed classes with other students, then who cares what universities. "Playing football and academics is hard," says Cegielski. "They get around it just like their other school." It is this point that the Looney and Rice interviews brought out the book. "Americans have always thought that in a sea of college football, Notre Dame's the best. They'd like to believe in the age of basketball, Notre Dame," they write. "Time was, they could. Now, they can't." Yeager and Lowen say a new type of recruit — no longer good, balanced kids but premium athletes that tend to get themselves into trouble — has provided success for Notre Dame, but with some conse­quences. Tony Brooks and Ricky Water, both drafted into the NFL, were permanent soloists. Notre Dame and Holtz have spread a film of dust across themselves when they have an privilege to be charitable — with women," the authors report.

Looney declined to comment about the book until Sept. 7 and Yeager could not be reached at press time.
QB's continued from page 28

on correct footwork and timing. "Coach Holtz was hard on us today, but he demands a lot of his players, especially the quarterback," said Failla. "Coach is just trying to get some things straight," said McDougal. "I think he's a lot of confidence in us, but we have to just keep getting better."

Both players are searching for confidence from their coach and their teammates after the team had made an adjustment to the notion that Powlus would be leading the offense this season.

"I feel the team still has confidence in me," said McDougal. "But I need to go out on Saturday and do what I can so that he (Holtz) will have confidence in me." Holtz is not truly concerned with who throws better or runs the option to the utmost perfection, but who will lead his team.

"We really have a problem trying to ascertain who is the leader of this football team," added Holtz.

Both players ran equal time with the first-string offense, but Holtz has already stated that McDougal will start, but Failla will play in Saturday's matchup with Northwestern.

"I am confident. I have worked hard really hard, and I can't wait until Saturday," added Failla.

Junior Paul Failla will challenge senior Kevin McDougal for the quarterback position. McDougal is expected to start Saturday, although both should see extensive action.

The Observer/Brian McDonough

---

Chicago Tribune campus delivery...a part of college life!

As low as $1.20 per week Monday – Saturday!

Mail coupon to Chicago Tribune, 2000 York Rd., Suite 104, Oak Brook, IL 60521-0001

FOR THE BEST DEAL, PAY IN ADVANCE FOR 39 WEEKS!

□ I want to subscribe to the Chicago Tribune for a FULL-TERM (32 weeks) at a 50% savings.

Deliver:

□ Daily only (Mon-Sat)
□ Daily & Sunday

Campus Delivery
$18.30
$27.00

Students pro only
$18.00

□ Daily only (Mon-Sat)
□ Daily & Sunday

Campus Delivery
$15.00
$24.00

Students pro only
$14.50

□ Daily only (Mon-Sat)
□ Daily & Sunday

Campus Delivery
$13.00
$20.00

Students pro only
$12.50

□ I want to subscribe to the Chicago Tribune for a HALF-TERM (16 weeks) at a 40% savings.

Deliver:

□ Daily only (Mon-Sat)
□ Daily & Sunday

Campus Delivery
$11.40
$18.00

Students pro only
$11.00

□ Daily only (Mon-Sat)
□ Daily & Sunday

Campus Delivery
$9.60

Payment by:
□ Check □ MasterCard □ Visa □ American Express □ Discover Card

Account No. ____________
Name ____________________________
Address/Dept. ______________________
City ____________________________State ________ Zip ____________
Phone ____________________________

The Observer/Brian McDonough

---

Welcome Back Special
$3.99 with purchase of a 22 oz. medium drink (must present coupon for this special)

* Based on school year.

---

Reesports

RECREATIONAL SPORTS
UNIVERSITY OF NOTRE DAME

INTRAMURALS
CLUB SPORTS
CHALLENGE U FITNESS
RECREATION SERVICES

LOCATED IN THE JACC
1ST FLOOR

COLLEGE STUDENTS! PAGERS
$7.00 per month* (Purchase at $89) WHILE THEY LAST!

PageAmerica
254-9924

---

EVER GET SOMEBODY TOTALLY WASTED!

The Observer/Brian McDonough
✓ Over 40 Aerobics classes per week
✓ Reebok Step Classes
✓ Weekend Aerobics
✓ State of the art Aerobics Platform
✓ Cardiovascular equipment including steps, cycles, rowers and treadmills
✓ Weight Loss/Gain Programs
✓ Schwinn Airdyne Ergometers
✓ Nutritional Supplements & guidance
✓ Individualized exercise programs and personal supervision
✓ KAMAN pin selectorized resistance equipment
✓ Sports Conditioning
✓ Universal and Camstar Equipment
✓ Over 25,000 lbs. of free weights
✓ Tanning Center
✓ Juice Bar and Nutrition Center
✓ Sportswear & Accessory retail area

Use of over 1,500 facilities world-wide

FREE 2-WEEK TRIAL MEMBERSHIP

Ask About Our Student Rates
Winning the national title is Michigan's only goal

By RUSTY MILLER
Associated Press

Ann Arbor, Mich. — After capturing five straight Big Ten championships, the Michigan football team is looking to win a different kind of ring this season.

"This year, we want the ring with diamonds on it," senior cornerback Albie Burich said. "Miami doesn't talk about winning the Big East, and Florida doesn't talk about winning their conference. The national championship has been out of our reach the past four years and it's time we made a move."

The Wolverines will begin their quest for that goal at home Saturday against Washington State. While winning a national championship has been in the back of the players' minds in the past, this year, the seniors are voicing their aspirations.

"Our motto is, 'We want it all,'" co-captain Ricky Powers said. "I've been here four years and all we talk about is Big Ten championships. We want more."

Coach Gary Moeller said Monday he is pleased with his team's enthusiasm, but he hopes the players can maintain it. "I think everybody starts to talk about (national championships) early in the season," Moeller said. "They know we've got a long way to go. I want to see where they are in October and November."

One of the biggest determinants on how the Wolverines will progress this season is the offensive line. Left tackle Trezzelle Jenkins is the only returning starter from last year."

Much of the responsibility of this year's line will fall on senior center Marc Milia. Milia will have to replace All-American Steve Evertt, who now plays for the Cleveland Browns.

"There's a lot of pressure on me because I'm the only fifth-year senior," Milia said. "These guys realize they have the talent and they just have to reach their potential."

"I think our running backs will really build confidence in our line, because you can fall off a block and Tyrene Wheatley can still break it 80 yards," Milia said. "That makes you feel really good."

Starting linebackers Steve Morrisson and Matt Dixon have missed most of preseason practice with injuries, but Moeller said the two should start practicing with the team this week.

"We won't know much about them until later in this week," defensive lineman Buster Stanley said. "I can't wait until Saturday to put on the pads."

Buckeyes set to face Rice

By RUSTY MILLER
Associated Press

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Ohio State coach John Cooper says he's been cautious his team against taking Rice lightly in Saturday's season opener.

But first-year starting quarterback Bob Hoying said he won't be satisfied just with a victory. He wants a convincing victory.

"We have to dominate them for ourselves, not to show anybody else," Hoying said.

"We all know Rice has some good people and is capable of beating us. We know that, but we shouldn't beat Rice and beat them bad. That's the bottom line right there," he said.

Asked if the Buckeyes could be looking past Rice to a showdown with Washington, the following Saturday, Cooper said: "I don't think there's any chance of that at all. We've done everything we can to keep that from happening.

Ohio State, coming off an 8-3-1 season and second-place finish in the Big Ten, is a 15-point favorite over Rice of the Southwest Conference. The Owls were 6-5 last season — their first winning record since 1963.

There's good reason to not overlook Rice. In Bert Emanuel, the Owls boast a quarterback who can create havoc with the best of defenses. A year ago, the 5-foot-11, 190-pounder rushed for 680 yards and was fourth in the country in passing efficiency.

"From all of the films we've seen on him, he's an outstanding athlete," Cooper said. "But more than an athlete, he's a polished quarterback."
Steffi Graf cruised to a first round win over Robin White at the U.S. Open.

The Observer

Graf rolls, Seles rails as U.S. Open begins

By STEVE WILSTEIN
Associated Press

NEW YORK

Monica Seles talked almost as long as Steffi Graf and Martina Navratilova played, upstaging them on the first day of the U.S. Open and taking swipes at her peers without lifting a racket.

Graf dashed off in a hurry, dinner waiting. She beat Robin White 6-3, 6-0 in 42 minutes.

Monday and felt ready to play her next match right away. She could have won three matches and still not missed evening appetizers.

Graf covered the court with such speed and ease there wasn’t a hint of the swollen bone in her foot, which required ice and anti-inflammatory drugs after she won the French Open and Wimbledon. There’s a danger, though, the hard courts in New York could take a toll on her foot toward the end of the two-week tournament.

“I hope it won’t come back,” she said. “There is nothing that really bothers me right now.”

With most of the marquee players off until Tuesday, fans spent more time hobnobbing at the gourmet emporiums and sipping champagne than they did watching the lackluster matches. And behind the scenes, the main buzz was about Seles, who returned to the Open a year after winning the French Open and Wimbledon. Exactly four months had passed since a man obsessed with Graf stabbed Seles in Hamburg, Germany. And the shock of that event and the emotions it brought out in other players have given way to an uncomfortable frostiness.

Graf hasn’t seen Seles, spoken to her or even sent a get-well card since an emotional visit with her in the hospital shortly after the attack.

“It would have been nice of her if (she sent) a letter or something after that, if she could have asked how am I doing,” Seles said.

Most of the other top players sent letters or faxes but kept their distance, as she has from them by isolating herself during recuperation in Vail, Colo.

Seles expressed annoyance with the women for voting not to freeze her No. 1 ranking — if not alone, at least as co-No. 1 with Graf.

“I think for me (the vote) was very hard,” Seles said. “Because the person who did this to me stabbed me for that reason, and pretty much he got his wish.”

Graf, who won the French Open and Wimbledon in Seles’ absence and is heavily favored to win again in New York, offered no support for placing Seles in a special category to preserve her No. 1 ranking.

“You’ve got to understand,” she said. “All of us, we have to play all year long. I mean we all have to struggle through injuries, through our problems, through tough matches and through tough tournaments. You know, it has been a very sad incident and it is tough for everybody.

“But I think it is difficult for us as players to choose what to do. I think it is not up to us. It is difficult to say if it is the right thing or not, but I think it has been handled as good as possible.”

Navratilova agreed, noting Seles will be given special provisions for her seeding when she comes back.

“You can’t just keep somebody No. 1 forever,” Navratilova said. “Hopefully, it is only going to happen once, and she will have ample time to get her ranking back if she backs it up.”

Navratilova was surprised Seles even showed up at the Open, and saw it as a good sign.

---

Saint Mary’s Day Editors

Applicants must be available weekday afternoons.

For more information, call Jennifer Habrych at 631-4540.

---

Happy Birthday, Mollie

We Love You!

Mom, Dad and Mark

(8 - 31 - 72)

---

Speed Up Your College Courses.

$9.99 Each, Great Buy

Hamilton Beach hand blender makes drinks, dips and more.

Hamilton Beach 3-speed hand mixer.

Hamilton Beach can opener with knife sharpener.

TARGET

RIGHT ON THE MONEY

Advertised prices good through September 25, 1993.

---

Tuesday, August 31, 1993 The Observer • U.S. OPEN  page 21

[Image 0x0 to 819x1224]
#1) What’s Bigger than BIGFOOT?

#2) What’s over 2 Feet Long?

#3) What has 30 Flavor-Filled Slices?

#4) What’s the BEST VALUE ON CAMPUS?

DOMINO'S
PIZZAS and SUBS

NOTRE DAME 271-0300 SAINT MARY'S 289-0033

ZESTY ITALIAN (Lettuce-Onions-Tomatoes)
HAM & CHEESE (Lettuce-Onions-Tomatoes)
TURKEY BREAST (Lettuce-Onions-Tomatoes)
PHILLY STEAK (Lettuce-Onions)

FREE ADD ONs: Green Peppers • Mushrooms • Mayo • Mustard • Oil & Vinegar

6"... $3.49 FOOT LONG... $5.49
CHIPS...$ .60
COKE or DIET COKE... $.65 / can... $1.95 / 2-Liter

DOMINATOR CHEESE

$ 8.95
EXTRA TOPPINGS...$1.00 each

6"... $3.49 FOOT LONG... $5.49
CHIPS...$ .60
COKE or DIET COKE... $.65 / can... $1.95 / 2-Liter

(MINIMUM ORDER FOR DELIVERY...$6.00)

HOURS:
SUN-SAT 11AM TO MIDNIGHT
FRI & SAT 11AM TO 2AM

Order Today...
FREE Premium Item with Every Order
(While Supplies Last)

ALUMINUM recycling kits are available upon request to all students & faculty.
Return bag full of cans for a FREE 2-liter with any pizza purchase.
New recycling bag will be given out at no charge.

ONIONS
GREEN PEPPER
PEPPERONI
HAM
MUSHROOMS
SAUSAGE
BLACK OLIVES
CHEDDAR CHEESE
HOT PEPPERS
BACON
PINEAPPLE

PIZZAS 12" MEDIUM 15" X-LARGE
1-Topping 5.95 6.95
2-Toppings 6.95 7.95

Additional Toppings Available - $1.00 each

GET A 2nd PIZZA (SAME SIZE) FOR ONLY $4.00 MORE!!!!!!

SPECIALTY PIZZAS 12" MEDIUM 15" X-LARGE
Veggie 7.95 8.95
Meatzza 7.95 8.95
Bacon Cheesburger 7.95 8.95
Hawaiian 6.95 7.95
Delux 7.95 8.95

PARTY PACK* 11.99 13.95

*PARTY PACK includes... 2 PIZZAS (1-Topping) + 1 TWISTY BREAD w/SAUCE + 1 COKE or DIET COKE (2-Liter)

CRUST STYLES
THIN HAND-TOSSED PAN

EXTRAS
TWISTY BREAD & SAUCE ... 1.95
Garlic Sauce or Pizza Sauce Available Upon Request
GARDEN SALAD & DRESSING ... 1.95
COKE or DIET COKE ... $.65 / can... 1.95 / 2-Liter

(VOID OF PORID PIZZA STORES ONLY NOT VALID WITH ANY OTHER OFFERS. PRICES MAY VARY CUSTOMER PAYS SALES TAX WHERE APPLICABLE DEPARTMENTS SUBJECT TO CHANGES WITHOUT NOTICE. DUE TO OUT OF STOCK ITEMS, OUR MENUS MAY BE SUBJECT TO CHANGE. CALL FOR THE MOST CURRENT INFORMATION)

The Observer • PAID ADVERTISMENT Tuesday, August 31, 1993
The Observer • SPORTS

Tuesday, August 31, 1993

The injury to freshman quarterback Ron Powlus is expected to hand Kevin McDougal the starting job Saturday against Northwestern.

Welcome Students
BAPTIST Student Union Bible Study - Fellowship - Fun
Join September 13 7 p.m. at the Center for Social Concerns

Lincolnway Cafe' Free Delivery Limited Area

"Party Trays"
A variety of premium gourmet deli meats, cheeses, sandwich platters, and party trays, customized to your needs and available in 16" and 12" sizes.

48 hour notice necessary

1. The Cheese Taster
A great party nibbler. American, Swiss, Provolone, and Cheddar cheeses centered with a spreader garlic spread and assorted crackers.
Large $20.95 Small $12.95

2. The Snacker
Pastrami with Swiss cheese - Ham, Turkey, and Cheddar. Large $36.50 Small $26.50

3. The Deli Sandwich Maker
Corned Beef, served with American and Swiss cheese.
Large $35.50 Small $29.50

4. Cornucopia of Fruit and Cheese
Seasonal fruits with Cheddar, American and Swiss cheese.
Large $25.95 Small $19.95

5. Italian Antipasto
Salami, Pepperoncini, Beef, Provolone, and Swiss cheese with olives and peppers.
Large $37.75 Small $23.95

6. Mixed Tray
Diced Eggs and Stuffed Celery - a nice addition to the deli tray.
Large $11.95 Small $9.95

7. Beef and Ham Rolls
Stuffed with smoked cheese sauce - excellent finger food for your party.
Large $36.95 Small $21.95

8. The Entertainer
Roasted Mixed Medley - Chicken, Egg, and Tuna salad.
Large $34.00 Small $25.00

9. Cheese Spread
Cheese Spread along with assorted crackers.
Large $16.00 Small $12.00

10. The Vegetable Garden
An assortment of fresh seasonal vegetables with ranch or bleu cheese dip.
Large $19.00 Small $14.00

11. Chicken Liver Pate'
A delightful spread with assorted crackers.
Large $18.50 Small $16.00

12. Smoked Oysters and Sardines
Garnished with chopped eggs, onions, and lemon slices.
Large $23.95 Small $18.50

13. The Seafarer
Shrimp Tray with cocktail sauce and lemon wedges.

The Lincolnway Cafe'
2524 Lincolnway West Mishawaka, IN 46544
256-7024

Orders accepted Tuesday - Saturday, 8:30am-2:30pm
We will deliver to Notre Dame and Saint Mary's with 60 Hours Notice. A $20.00 minimum order is required for our free campus delivery service.

Powlus

continued from page 28
and he landed on the shoulder. I didn’t think it was one of those where you whim - com -mented Holtz. “It was just the way he landed on it. It was one of those freak things that hap­pened.

“He’s a competitor and wouldn’t throw the ball away. We’ve always told our athletes quarterbacks are ‘live’ but don’t hit them from the blind side or do anything to drive them into the ground. He got hit passing the ball. It’s the only time I ever got anybody injured passing the ball.”

A bright side, if it can be called that, is that there was no dislocation of the shoulder so surgery won’t be needed. Powlus was fitted for a sling immediately after practice to immobilize the arm, allowing it to heal.

“To lose Ron Powlus for the year, I feel terrible. I feel terri­ble for the team and I feel terri­ble for him,” said Holtz. “He has really been an incredible freshman and has done some wonderful things.”

“I never thought it possible for a high school player to come in on a team and learn a system as complex as ours and compete for a starting position. He was dead-even at worst, for the race for the starting posi­tion.”

The press is unable to talk to Powlus due to a team rule for­bidding interviews with fresh­man until after the first game. The Berwick, Pa. native did attend yesterday’s practice, watching from the sidelines.

“I can’t describe how I feel,” concluded Holtz. “I have a lot of confidence in Kevin McDougal and Paul Failla but he (Powlus) was special coming in. It’s not just that he could have made a tremendous contribution to our offensive football team, but he made an excellent preparation. We’re not talking about an average bird.

"I’ve never seen anything like it. The peripheral vision, the quick release, his throwing motion. I never thought that a freshman could come in at Notre Dame, with the caliber of competition we have, and pick up such an intricate offense and execute it as flawlessly as he did.”

The South Bend Tribune con­tributed to this report.

The Latest Thing in Breakfast. Shoney's Late-Night Breakfast Bar.

$4.99 Friday-Saturday
11:00 PM - 3:00 A.M.

When you're out late on the weekend, only one thing is better than a good meal - Shoney’s Late Night Breakfast Bar. It's the only place to find over 40 delicious items - bacon, eggs, biscuits, fresh fruit and more - for one low price. And it's All-You-Care-To-Eat. So stop by Shoney's and discover the latest in breakfast.

303 Dixie Way South - Southbend
The Observer • SPORTS

Tuesday, August 31, 1993

No. 2 Indiana boots Notre Dame in soccer exhibition

Observer Staff Report

The second-ranked Indiana men’s soccer team exploded early in Saturday’s Golden Boot Soccer Classic and held on to defeat Notre Dame 3-2 in the fifth annual exhibition.

Todd Yeagley and Brian Maione each scored in the first ten minutes for Indiana to propel the Hoosiers.

The Irish responded with two goals from senior Mike Palmer, but the Hoosiers added another late in the opening half to secure the final margin.

Palmer’s first goal came at the 33:25 mark on an assist from Josh Landman. His second goal, 11 minutes later, came off a direct kick.

For the second straight year the teams battled to a scoreless second half.

“I was pleased with the individual things we were trying to accomplish tonight,” said Irish coach Mike Berticelli. “This is a difficult game to play so early in the year, and it’s a game where we like to experiment and use different players.”

Veteran goalkeeper Bert Bader spent the first half on the bench in favor of freshman David Smith, who had two saves and allowed two goals.

Bader played the second half, collecting one save while holding the Hoosiers scoreless.

Notre Dame boasts eight returning starters and fifteen lettermen on their talented roster.

But the talent wasn’t enough to knock off the highly-touted Hoosiers.

“I credit Notre Dame, we wanted a tough game and we got one,” said Indiana coach Jerry Yeagley. “Notre Dame contested every ball. We enjoyed watching them. They seemed a little more aggressive than we did tonight.”

The teams meet for real on September 24 in South Bend.

Basket of Gifts for All Occasions

Parents - Make leaving home a little easier

SPECIAL OCCASION BASKET

2 doz homemade cookies 2 large muffins
8 oz snakens 3 fruits
salsa and chips 2 pkg. gum
$23.95

Free Delivery On Campus

1 - 800- 373- 9716

Check it out

When you buy an HP 48G or HP 48GX, you can get free software (plus games!) and a free cable for connecting to your desktop PC. Write programs for the HP 48 using your PC keyboard, or store HP 48 files and programs on your desktop PC.

Get more ... for less

• Push a button, choose from the pull-down menu, and fill in the blanks. Entering data is that easy.
• View 3-D graphs
• Access over 300 built-in equations
• Perform algebra and calculus operations on equations before entering values.
• Enter and see equations like they appear on paper.
• Work with different units of measure. The HP 48G will convert them for you. For example, enter inches, centimeters, yards, and feet, together in one equation — it’ll convert them.

Get more ... for less

• Compare prices — the HP 48G fits your budget.

Special introductory offer*

*Offer good while supplies last on purchases made from August 1, 1993 through October 31, 1993. See coupon for terms and conditions.

Hewlett Packard

HEWLETT
PACKARD

©Hewlett-Packard Company. PG 12306B
Murphy predicts continued success

By JENNY MARTEN
Associate Sports Editor

Notre Dame head baseball coach Pat Murphy likes to predict things. At the end of the 1992 season, Murphy promised that his Irish would win 45 games and return to the NCAA tournament.

With a 45-16 record and its third NCAA tournament appearance in Murphy's six years, Eric Danapilis and Company helped solidify what the prognosticating coach is calling "Notre Dame's Newest Tradition."

Now, faced with the loss of three pitchers and two of its most consistent and potent batters, the Irish appear to be headed for a rebuilding year, but Murphy remains confident. "There is no such thing as a rebuilding year," said Murphy. "If you have a solid program, it is sold from the ground up. We have a solid program. Guys will step up."

Notre Dame’s run at a berth in the College World Series was aided by several guys who stepped up including Matt Haas, Chris Michalak and Danapilis. The Irish ended just one game short of the College World Series for the second straight year with Haas hitting .350 in East Regional games, Michalak turning in two gutsy performances on the mound and Danapilis tearing through the Midwestern Collegiate Conference tournament.

After capturing the MCC championship, Notre Dame headed down to Tallahassee for the East Regional of the NCAA tournament. While there, the Irish crushed Mississippi State and Central Florida and averaged an extra-inning loss to Florida State by eliminating the Seminoles from their own regional before succumbing to Long Beach.

Several individual players also garnered end of the year honors in addition to selections in the draft.

Right fielder Danapilis was named to the 1993 Mizuno NCAA Division I All-American team as a position player and the Baseball America's All-American Freshman Team as well as being voted Most Valuable Player of the team and the MCC. He is only the third Irish All-American and the first since 1989 when Dan Pelletier was likewise honored.

Ryan Topham was selected as an honorable mention member of the Mizuno USA All-American freshman team for his work in the outfield and at the plate and as the team's Rookie of the Year.

The MCC All-Tournament team is dominated by Irish faces including pitcher Tom Price, second baseman Greg Layton, third baseman Matt Haas, shortstop Paul Failla, and outfielders Danapilis and Eddie Hartwell.

Notre Dame lost a sizable chunk of its team to graduation and the draft as seniors Chris Michalak (A's, 12th round), David Simms (Blue Jays, 19th round) and Danapilis (Tigers, 25th round) were all picked early in the draft by major league teams.

But not before the Irish streaked to within reach of the College World Series. The season charge started right here in South Bend at Coveleski Stadium where the Irish crushed Evansville 22-5 in the championship game for the automatic nod to the NCAA tournament.

In its first game in the East Regional, Notre Dame dominated Mississippi State in a 15-4 victory. Danapilis went 3 for 3 with three runs batted in. Pelfier went 3 for 4 and Haas went 4 for 6.

In the next game, Florida State sent the Irish into the losers bracket of the double-elimination tournament with a 7-3 win. Michalak took the extra-inning loss after giving up a grand slam to Ty Mueller in the 10th inning.

The Irish rebounded in the next game with a 12-3 mauling of Central Florida. It was an extra-base hit parade with Danapilis, Rubbie Kent, Topham, Failla (2) Michalak and Hartwell smashing doubles and Haas adding a base-clearing triple.

The winning ways continued for Notre Dame as Michalak contained the Seminole lineup and Haas (3 for 4) drove in three of the runs in the 4-3 victory.

The euphoria didn't last long as Long Beach State sent the Irish home with a 13-3 victory. Haas hit his fourth home run of the year and Michalak hit his second double to drive in the only Notre Dame runs in the second inning.

The Long Beach State pitchers shut the Irish down from there scattering seven hits over nine innings.

This year, Murphy and the Irish are looking forward to another appearance in the NCAA tournament as well as playing in their very own on campus stadium.

---

Dear Students of Notre Dame,

Welcome, on behalf of the University Libraries! By now you have begun to settle into campus life. As you go through this academic year, I want to be sure that you understand that the library faculty and staff are dedicated to making the Libraries an important element in your academic success at Notre Dame. Toward that end, we offer a broad range of services and hours in our eight facilities. Our staff are eager to assist you, and welcome your comments and suggestions for improvement. Most important, we want to be sure that you never hesitate to ask for help — and that we are prepared to provide that help.

In order for us to serve you best, we will also need your help. For the sake of other users, we urge that you observe due dates and recalls. We also want you to recognize that the various libraries are places for work — a laboratory for study and research. We therefore ask that you conduct yourself accordingly. We must also remind you of our food and drink policy, which is designed to ensure litter-free space for your use and a vermin-free environment for our collections. Because both these factors are important, the policy will be enforced. We will try to be reasonable in this and ask the same of you.

One final point. For your convenience and while classes are in session, the Hesburgh Library building is open from 7:30 a.m. Monday through Friday and until 2:00 a.m. every night. In addition, I am pleased to announce that the Hesburgh Library will again be open 24 hours during final exam periods. We do this to provide space for study, not recreation or a substitute for dormitory sleeping facilities. Please keep this in mind.

Best wishes for a successful year. We hope to see you often.

Sincerely,

Robert C. Miller
Director of Libraries

P.S. For Orientation Tours or UNLOC instruction, inquire at the Hesburgh Library Reference desk, 631-6258.

---

Observer File Photo

Eric Danapilis helped the Irish baseball team to another 45-win season and an impressive post-season performance.
The Observer • SAINT MARY’S SPORTS

Nester leaves legacy as Saint Mary’s AD

By KILEY COBLE
Spot Writer

The woman who devoted the last decade of her career to bringing Saint Mary’s sports from the NAIA to NCAA Division III has left for the Ivy League.

After fulfilling her goals for Saint Mary’s athletics, Jo-Ann Nester resigned her position as athletic director and tennis coach to fulfill her own personal goal of working in the athletic department of a Division I school. She joined the staff at Dartmouth University as Assistant Athletic Director in charge of Compliance and Administration.

Mary Wood, who has assumed the position of acting athletic director credits Nester with much of the success of Saint Mary’s athletics.

“She came when we had a struggling program,” Wood said. “We had good athletes, but no organization. She gave us guidance and supervision.”

Nester had ten goals when she came to Saint Mary’s ten years ago. The biggest of which was to bring Saint Mary’s up to the Division III level of competition.

Also among her list of goals was the creation of a Saint Mary’s Hall of Fame and Monogram Club, both of which were achieved during her tenure.

“I wanted to develop a real quality program that would attract athletes with the experience to participate and be successful,” Nester said. “I wanted the athletes to know that I cared about the program and that I was always available to them.”

Nester’s resignation will make an impact on the entire Saint Mary’s athletic program, but it will be twice as hard on the tennis team, which also lost its coach.

Senior tennis player Thayma Darby was shocked and surprised when she heard of Nester’s resignation.

“She has definitely upstepped the athletic program,” Darby said. “She not only put tennis in Division III but made us a well-known competitor in Division III.”

The Observer • SAINT MARY’S SPORTS

W e C ouldn’t
Make A Better Case
For College.

We couldn’t
 Create your own work center or shelves with these great-looking, high-tech modular units. Priced with room to spare. Choose from a desk, hutch, open cubes, divided cubes or 2-drawer cubes in white or maple finish. 1/2" construction.

3999 Desk, 30 H x 38 W x 19 D*
1999 Hutch, 23 3/8 H x 38 W x 10 D*
1799 Open Cube, 15 H x 15 W x 15 D*
2299 Divided Cube, 15 H x 15 W x 15 D*
3999 2-Drawer Cube, 15 H x 15 W x 15 D*

This week only, select office furniture is 20% off.

Call for free student travel magazine!
Mom and Dad,

Now that we have your sons and daughters, how are you going to keep track of them?

Subscribe to The Observer!

Keep up with the latest happenings from under the Dome.

Get the news that affects your Notre Dame/Saint Mary's student for $30 a semester or $50 a year.

Name
Address
City State Zip

Mail to:
The Observer
P.O. Box Q
Notre Dame, IN 46556
Prodigy Powlus lost for season

By GEORGE DOHRMANN
Sports Editor

In what Lou Holtz called "one of the saddest days since I've been in coach ing" the Notre Dame football team bade farewell to freshman sensation Ron Powlus a broken collarbone ended his season.

The 6-foot-3, 210-pounder was running with the scout team against the University of Minnesota when his right shoulder hit the ground causing a break in his clavicle.

"He was throwing the ball, he got hit..." Ron Powlus is lost for the season after fracturing his collarbone in Saturday's scrimmage.

QBs confident; Holtz is not

By GEORGE DOHRMANN
Sports Editor

Near the end of yesterday's practice, in a moment of fleet ing rage, a linebacker from the first team defense set his sights on the Kevin McHugh as he dropped back to pass. McHughartly stepped up in the pocket to avoid the defender and then threw deep downfield.

"Don't go near the quarter back," a coach yelled after the play was whistled dead. And did he ever mean it. Both McHughartly and his com miter for the Notre Dame quarterback position, Paul Fiala are as fragile as a Ming vase these days. That partic ular coach's comments mirror the feelings of the entire team, as the injury to Ron Powlus brought a sense of mortality to the Irish.

But both quarterback candi dates are attempting to prove they are anything but mortals in their pursuit of the starting signal-caller slot.

"Both players feel that they are capable of leading this team to the national championship," said head coach Lou Holtz, after a practice which he characterized as the "one of the worst Monday practices prior to a game I have seen."

Holtz pushed both quarter backers hard for the duration of the practice, barking corrections at both players, working on correct footwork and timing.

"Coach Holtz was hard on us..."