With two trade victories, Clinton looks to Europe

By TOM RAUM
Associated Press

SEATTLE

The Clinton administration is claiming a huge psychological boost as it turns its attention from Asia-Pacific summits to winning completion in Geneva of a long-stalled set of rules on global trading rules.

Leaders who participated in the three-day conference of global trading rules have missed the significance of what's happened here," U.S. Trade Representative Mickey Kantor said in Seattle.

Kantor is expected to press the point Monday in talks in Washington with Leon Brittain, trade commissioner for the 12-nation European Community.

Participants in the 17-nation Asia-Pacific Economic Cooperation conference — ranging from close U.S. allies to Chinese President and Communist Party leader Jiang Zemin — were quick to pronounce the summit a success.

"One must not exaggerate. There are still great differences among the members. But start has been made," said Hamish Macleod, Hong Kong's financial secretary.

And Jiang, while refusing to yield on President Clinton's demands that China do more on human rights and in other trade areas, was upbeat about the meeting itself.

Making music

Members of the Glee Club perform in the Glee Club Reunion Concert on Friday in Stepan Center. About 200 former members returned this year for the concert.

Irish leader says he and British are committed to peace

By SHAWN POGATCHNIK
Associated Press

LONDON

Britain and Ireland remain committed to establishing a peace process in Northern Ireland, but the "window of opportunity" for progress may well have disappeared, Irish Prime Minister John Major said Sunday on ABC's "This Week with David Brinkley."

"He has seized before it fades away. At a meeting planned for Dec. 200 former members returned this year for the concert.

Alternative coping is method to rid stress

By TRACY CRONIN
News Writer

The secret to effectively dealing with stress is in finding alternative methods of dealing with it, said Dr. Dominic Vachon, of the University Counseling Center, at a stress workshop for students held last night.

Academic life causes anxiety because of its propensity to be overly demanding, especially in graduate school, he said.

"No one ever says, 'That's enough. People are always asking for more," said Vachon.

One graduate student likened graduate work at Notre Dame to being on a treadmill, where the more she accomplished, the faster the work came at her.

Other causes of stress are grades and the consistent delay of gratification in the hopes that it will pay off later on, said Vachon.

"Anxiety," said Vachon, "is a perceived sense of danger. It is in a vague threat to one's identity or sense of self."

However, it has its benefits as well as its costs, he said. Without anxiety, work would never get done, while too much is paralyzing, he said. How much is too much? "When the Notre Dame Power Plant attempts to hire you to generate power with your nervous leg shaking," said Vachon, illustrating humor's power to overcome.

"There are buffers, use consistent and effective deep relaxation methods. After Saturday's loss to Boston College, Holtz did not "beat himself up," instead, he asked "what he and the team could learn from their experience, it's important to move on," said Vachon.

Health of the individual is essential, he added, urging the audience to think of themselves as intellectual athletes.

"Athletes do not deprive themselves of food or sleep," said Vachon, "why should you?"

Having a social life helps to put things into perspective, he added. "A friend, an adviser, even a coach can see different ways around your anxieties," said Vachon.

For coping effectively with long-term pressure, Vachon offered five key points: talk to yourself realistically and positively, maintain effective health buffers, use consistent and effective deep relaxation methods and on-the-spot tension reducers, manage time with intelligent pacing, balance and organization, and cope constructively with difficult events and with temporary distress.

Vachon cited Football Coach Lou Holtz as a role model. After Saturday's loss to Boston College, Holtz did not "beat himself up." Instead, he asked "what he and the team could learn from their experience, it's important to move on," said Vachon.

18 months. That process excluded Sinn Fein and did not address paramilitary violence directly.

Efforts to persuade Sinn Fein to abandon its support for violence have received backing from Pope John Paul II and Cardinal Cahal Daly of the Roman Catholic Church in Ireland.

Daly, a harsh IRA critic, said Sunday that Sinn Fein was being offered something it had never received before in the history of Northern Ireland: equal rights at the talks table.
Who were the real losers this weekend?

Bobby Bowden was right. The one you lose always seems to be the big one. Everyone had written off Providence, but the Providence Friars had upset Boston College as another stepping stone to their potential run with Florida State. Everyone that is, except for Providence coach, Tim McDonald.

To them, this was just like the Kansas State for the second time. One could imagine Tom Coughlin sitting at the helm of the Reliant, saying "Do you know what, Hobby? A Klingon groveh 'Revenge is a dish best served cold'? It is very cold in South Bend.'"

Now that the damage has been done, many people are looking for people to blame. A big target is Charlie Mayes, who let a crucial interception slip through his fingers. It doesn't matter to them that the temperature was hovering around thirty degrees, and he had played four quarters of football.

Another big target is Bobby Taylor (sorry Bobbi), who got burned on a long play, and acted too cautious for the rest of the evening. It doesn't matter that he broke up several passes, and had to hustle all afternoon.

The views expressed in the Inside Column are those of the author and not necessarily those of The Observer.

Mickey, Minnie and Goofy have apparently scared the Virginia driving public. Despite the game's slow offensive start, and the fact that they didn't put their defense on the field until the fourth quarter, only to lose it all with a last second touchdown, they left after three quarters.

Whether they planned the crowd, or let the crowd plan them, they were winners. Everyone knows that in the beginning of the year it seemed that we'd be another six and five team. Everyone had their little digs and cutting comments about the team. I did too. I'd say "two yards" Zellars. Lee going back- and-forth with the line when we were winning, we all became interested. Instead of dreaming about next year and "glass man" Powlus, we were excited about a third round and one.

How many of you have forgotten the twenty- one point spread given on ESPN between us and Michigan? How many have you forgotten the "well orchestrated pass offense of BYU..." that was only up the slow pass rush of the Irish. What about "Bill Walsh's pro style offense" and the short pass will certainly hurt the Irish. Do you remember? "By stopping our receivers? Not! By stopping Charlie? Not..."

Who were the real losers this weekend?

The views expressed in the Inside Column are those of the author and not necessarily those of The Observer.

MANASSAS, Va.

Virginia loses Leo park to California

Leo, the world's largest stuffed bear, was born in Virginia. Danish toymaker Lego Inc. announced on Thursday that it will build the world's largest Lego theme park instead of Virginia. Virginia Gov. Doug Wilder said Thursday, Lego wouldn't confirm the decision, but the Washington Post had already written a piece about how the state was building a new Lego theme park in California, the company's headquarters.

Leo, said Lynne Blair, coordinator for Sportsmen Against Hunger, "is very cold in South Bend."

Leo, the world's largest stuffed bear, was born in Virginia. Danish toymaker Lego Inc. announced on Thursday that it will build the world's largest Lego theme park instead of Virginia. Virginia Gov. Doug Wilder said Thursday, Lego wouldn't confirm the decision, but the Washington Post had already written a piece about how the state was building a new Lego theme park in California, the company's headquarters.

Leo, said Lynne Blair, coordinator for Sportsmen Against Hunger, "is very cold in South Bend."

Calling all drivers: The Associated Press. All reproduction rights are reserved.

Leo, the world's largest stuffed bear, was born in Virginia. Danish toymaker Lego Inc. announced on Thursday that it will build the world's largest Lego theme park instead of Virginia. Virginia Gov. Doug Wilder said Thursday, Lego wouldn't confirm the decision, but the Washington Post had already written a piece about how the state was building a new Lego theme park in California, the company's headquarters.

Leo, said Lynne Blair, coordinator for Sportsmen Against Hunger, "is very cold in South Bend."

Leo, the world's largest stuffed bear, was born in Virginia. Danish toymaker Lego Inc. announced on Thursday that it will build the world's largest Lego theme park instead of Virginia. Virginia Gov. Doug Wilder said Thursday, Lego wouldn't confirm the decision, but the Washington Post had already written a piece about how the state was building a new Lego theme park in California, the company's headquarters.

Leo, said Lynne Blair, coordinator for Sportsmen Against Hunger, "is very cold in South Bend."

Leo, the world's largest stuffed bear, was born in Virginia. Danish toymaker Lego Inc. announced on Thursday that it will build the world's largest Lego theme park instead of Virginia. Virginia Gov. Doug Wilder said Thursday, Lego wouldn't confirm the decision, but the Washington Post had already written a piece about how the state was building a new Lego theme park in California, the company's headquarters.
American turns down mediation

By SUSAN HIGHTOWER
Associated Press

FORT WORTH, Texas

The chairman of American Airlines dug his heels in Sunday,turning down a call for a presidential mediation from striking flight attendants Sunday, turning down a call for a presidential mediation

Airlines dug his heels in Monday, November 22, 1993 The Observer • would be canceled.

for a presidential mediation from striking flight attendants Sunday, turning down a call for a presidential mediation two-thirds of this week's flights short in notifying passengers for the benefit of the student body.

the Association of Professional office on the second floor of Lafortune.

would be in the following Monday edition of The Observer.

must do so by 3 p.m. Thursday each week. All entries will be published for the benefit of the student body.

In order for his or her course to be listed in The Guide, a professor must give permission for evaluations to be distributed to his or her class. Many professors did not participate in the Spring '94 evaluation process, and students need to encourage them to take part in next semester's Guide. If students let their professors know that they liked and used The Guide, participation will increase and the next edition will be more complete.

FALL FEST A BIG SUCCESS

Student Government would like to extend a heartfelt thank you to all students who participated in Fall Fest '93. In spite of freezing temperatures and snow flurries, almost 400 people spent the day beautifying the Northeast Neighborhood. Students and residents worked side by side planning bulbs and raking leaves and then celebrated their work at a block party. The project showed Notre Dame's support for the people of South Bend and was greatly appreciated by the residents of the Northeast Neighborhood.

Students can help improve "THE GUIDE"

In order to improve future editions of The Guide, Student Government is soliciting help from the student body. The publication is published for the benefit of the students of Notre Dame, and it will only be successful with your help.

For his or her course to be listed in The Guide, a professor must give permission for the class to be listed in The Guide for Continuing Education. "From War to Peace." Center for Continuing Education. "The Vietnam Conference. "The Vietnam Conference."

STUDENTS CAN HELP IMPROVE "THE GUIDE"

Students are also needed to work on the 1994 and 1995 editions of The Guide. Two chair people will be chosen to head the project and staff members are also needed. If you are interested in helping or have any questions, please call Heather Arnold at 653-7688.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES IN GOVERNMENT

The Governor's Fellowship Program is currently accepting applications for the 1994-95 year. The program is designed to attract top college graduates to careers in state government, and is offered to 1993 and 1994 college graduates.

Ten people are chosen each year to gain experience and training in state government by working with various state agencies in Indiana on a rotating basis. At the end of the fellowship, participants are considered for permanent employment. Governor's Fellows receive a competitive salary and full fringe benefits during the fellowship year, which runs from July 1 to June 30.

If you are interested in applying for the Governor's Fellowship Program, please pick up a brochure in the Student Government Office.
Bucharest, Romania

Desperate to end Russia's war, European powers have devised a plan that tries to please everyone but won't sat­isfy those who matter most: the Russian government and Serb nationalists.

The plan, which France and Germany will present to European Community foreign ministers Monday in Luxembourg, further isolates the Serajevo government while forcing the Serbs to make painful compromises.

For those reasons, its success is doubtful.

While most recent fighting in Bosnia has been between Croats and Muslims, it was a Serb-Muslim standoff over small chunks of land in eastern Bosnia, about three percent of Bosnia, that doomed the previ­ous peace plan two months ago. It gave the Muslims 31 per­cent, twice what they now con­trol. Serbs, who hold about 70 percent, would have gotten 26 percent and Croats 18 percent.

The two sides, meeting in se­crecy talks in Cairo, have been working on details of the peace plan. They hope to have a comprehensive peace accord ready early next month.

But Fernandez also starts the oth­er world tour. In Bogota, he is try­ing to present us as the side with Serb insurgents who hold Serbs an incentive to end the conflict, they say.

The peace accord, which France and Germany ''are devising a plan that tries to please everyone but won't sat­sify those who matter most: the Russian government and Serb nationalists.''

The plan, which France and Germany will present to European Community foreign ministers Monday in Luxembourg, further isolates the Serajevo government while forcing the Serbs to make painful compromises.

For those reasons, its success is doubtful.

While most recent fighting in Bosnia has been between Croats and Muslims, it was a Serb-Muslim standoff over small chunks of land in eastern Bosnia, about three percent of Bosnia, that doomed the previ­ous peace plan two months ago. It gave the Muslims 31 per­cent, twice what they now con­trol. Serbs, who hold about 70 percent, would have gotten 26 percent and Croats 18 percent.

The plan, devised by John Rice, a statesman at the Washington Institute for Near Eastern Studies, has the support of the United States and France.
Leaks led to subpoena of diaries
By H. JOSEF HEBERT

WASHINGTON Sen. Bob Packwood had decided to resign, but changed his mind when his staff leaked his intentions to Justice Department lawyers, prompting a subpoena for his diaries, a leading Republican lawmaker said Sunday.

"He was ready to resign, he was ready on Friday," said Sen. Simpson of Wyoming said on CNN's "Face the Nation." Simpson accused staffers of the Oregon Republican's office of leaking word of it to Justice Department lawyers.

But Simpson and Dole said the controversy has taken a heavy toll on Packwood, who had not returned telephone calls this week. "I'm ready to declare a victory right now," said Dole on NBC's "Meet the Press.

Majority Leader George Mitchell, D-Maine, also said Sunday that the controversy has taken a heavy toll on Packwood, who had not returned telephone calls this week.

"I think he was close to resigning," said Dole. "But that, the hounding of it, he gave up. The Ethics Committee one-on-one... (and) that was denied to him.

He said Dole also was concerned about the impact the investigations by resigning.

"I think he was close to resigning," said Dole. "But that, the hounding of it, he gave up. The Ethics Committee one-on-one... (and) that was denied to him."
155 are confirmed dead in Macedonia plane crash

By KONSTANTIN TESTORIDES
Associated Press

OSHRID, Macedonia

Rescue workers struggled Sunday to recover the charred remains of 155 people killed when their plane crashed in the rugged, snow-covered mountains of southwestern Macedonia. Only one person aboard the Aviointer赔偿 charter flight survived the crash late Saturday night, officials said. A U.N. relief worker from war-torn Bosnia was among those killed.

Villagers, police and airport workers found the fuselage still ablaze when they reached the crash site. Bodies, luggage and debris from the aircraft were scattered about the hillsides.

Policeman Mladen Dimovski described the wreckage as "a virtual torch." He said, "It was hard to reach the spot, let alone put out the flames," he said.

The Soviet-made Yak-42 had flown over the Ohrid airport once late Saturday and was making a second attempt to land when it went down about four miles east of the airport.

The plane, leased from the Russian carrier Aeroflot, was on a charter flight from Geneva to the Macedonian capital Skopje, but had to divert to Ohrid, 65 miles to the southwest, because of a blizzard at Skopje airport.

Goran Pavlovski, head of the government commission investigating the crash, said the pilot apparently lost control of the plane, despite good visibility and favorable landing conditions.

Officials said 80 percent of the 108 passengers were Yugoslav citizens, most of them ethnic Albanians. A French field officer from the U.N. High Commissioner for Refugees was among the dead.

Bosnian was among those killed.

The plane's two black boxes were found intact, Pavlovski said. Russian experts were expected to join the investigation Tuesday.

Aviointer is one of several airlines that have sprung up in Macedonia since it split from Yugoslavia last year, overtaking the new country's airports.

Libya has paid lawyer for advice on bomb case

NEW YORK

A lawyer representing families of five victims of the Pan Am Flight 103 bombing has been paid by the Libyan government for advice on turning over two suspects in the case, according to a published report.

Lawyer F. Lee Bailey traveled to Libya in August to advise officials on how judicial systems work in various countries in the event that Libya decided to turn the suspects in. The National Law Journal reported in its Monday edition.

Bailey told the Journal he saw no conflict in representing the victims' families while advising the Libyans on "what the means of surrender should be. The families would be in favor of that. The purpose of my going there was to facilitate their return to somewhere."

Libyan intelligence agents Abdel Basset Ali Al-Megrahi and Lamen Khalifa Fhimah have been indicted in the United States and in Scotland, where the plane was flying when it exploded, on charges that they planted and detonated the bomb that killed 270 people in 1988.

Bailey said he did not inform his clients of the visit to Libya because it had not been made public. He also stressed that he was not representing the suspects, but merely advising the government on options for their surrender.

Elizabeth Phillips, former president of Victims of Pan Am 103, said she did not think the families "would want to have him represent Libya."

Bailey said he told the Libyans the United States will not "settle for anything less than a Scottish trial," and that even an acquittal would not stop further prosecutions, he told the Journal. He said the Libyans found his advice "not helpful, not cheerful."

Phone numbers for three of the five families Bailey represents were unavailable Sunday. The other two, Florence Erigin of Hartford, Conn., and Norma Leick of Cape May, N.J., declined to comment.

Caution against military strike voiced

WASHINGTON

The size of the North Korean army and its proximity to the South Korean border complicates the option of an Israeli-style pre-emptive strike on North Korea's nuclear facilities, Secretary of State Warren Christopher said Sunday.

Christopher would caution against not having too easy an analogy to what Israel did with Iraq" when it 1981 it bombed a facility near Baghdad believed to house Iraq's nuclear weapons program, Christopher said on ABC's "This Week with David Brinkley."

About 70 percent of North Korea's force of 1.1 million is massed along the demilitarized zone dividing the two Koreas and only 30 miles from the South Korean capital of Seoul.

Newsweek, in its edition to be released Monday, cites a classified Pentagon study completed in 1991 that concludes that a quick, massive North Korean air attack would overwhelm the 650,000 Korean and 36,000 American troops defending the South.

Christopher, speaking from Seattle where he was attending an Asian-Pacific economic summit with President Clinton, said there were no plans to increase U.S. military presence on the peninsula.

"I don't have any question in my mind but the North Koreans know that they're there firmly and with a good deal of resolve," he said. "I don't think we need to reinforce our troops there, but if that need comes, I have no question the president will do it."

North Korea, an isolated communist state, has raised concerns by barring the International Atomic Energy Agency from inspecting a facility where it is believed to be building an atomic bomb.

Christopher stressed that "we need to exhaust diplomatic means" to define the crisis, but that no options had been ruled out.

He acknowledged that economic sanctions would have only a limited effect because "North Korea's in a time warp," already cut off from the economic vitality enjoyed by most of the rest of Asia.

Do you have an innovative product idea? Would you like to win money? If so the Entrepreneur Club has a Business Plan Contest starting in the Spring semester where you could possibly win up to $750!

All those interested should call Mike at 273-2059
When Kate McMahon tells you she's happy to have Notre Dame will be opening a Day Care Center next year, believe her. The single mother of six knows what she's speaking. McMahon is a typical working mother, but as she will tell you, there's nothing "typical" about it. McMahon received a master's degree in Science Administration from Notre Dame last May, after earning her bachelor's in Theology in 1984. She now works at South Bend's St. Joseph's Medical Center as a mission intern, a position that explores and examines hospital-patient-community relationships.

She is active in her children's P.T.A., and her church youth groups. Somewhere amongst all this, she finds time to cook, clean, and raise a family as a divorced mother in the constantly evolving working world.

Kate McMahon's daily routine reads like a Charles Dickens novel; it never seems to end. She is up every morning, making sure her kids get breakfast and get off to school. She walks her five kids to a local day care center, and then heads to campus for work. Afternoons and evenings are a swirling cloud of transporting children to and from different activities, conferences, appointments, and hurried dinners. Then the hard part: convincing the kids it's time to do homework.

"Sometimes I feel more like a taxicab than a mother," admits McMahon. On top of all that, she takes classes as well. It's a delicate balancing act that McMahon says she's learned to handle.

It's one conclusion that all this activity leads to, is a need for day care. It is something McMahon is familiar with, and something she holds some strong beliefs about. "There were times when I almost walked into the Dome and volunteered to start a program myself."

Understandably so. "Quality child care is something that's hard to find," McMahon said. "It's comforting to know that you're leaving your kids with someone you trust. An enormous weight off your shoulders as a parent."

That's why McMahon likes the idea of University child care so much. She's been hoping for four years that a University sponsored program would open up. Not only does it give her a place to take her daughter, it gives her peace of mind. "My youngest will enter kindergarten in the fall, but its nice to have a place to take her if I need one."

McMahon's idea of child care points to a need that is often overlooked. Besides easing parental concerns about safety and quality of child care, it also "gives parents a chance to daycare should do more. "I think kids should learn how to be kids," she said. "Challenge them to learn and grow, but give them time to dream and do the learning environment that allows them to learn about everything around them. It's [you] a wonderful time in life that they should enjoy to its fullest. We're just asking them to grow up too quickly."

The new branch of the ECDC is a welcome addition for Kate McMahon. She's glad to see the university meeting the needs of the community. "So many students return here after graduating to do post graduate work. And many times they bring their families with them. By offering quality day care and convenient child care, the University is helping to live up to its mission of serving the people who love the school for."

Kate McMahon is probably at work right now, whether it's at a college, a campus center, or just at home. It's a challenge she has to meet every day, and like all work, it's not a small task. But now she'll have a little help.

OTHER CAMPUSES

• BOSSON COLLEGE: Children of students and employees are eligible for a university program one block from campus. The center, which opened in 1988, holds 50 children and offers year-round services at $625 per month. A subsidy program is available for low-income families.

• BROWN: A facility serves 20 children of faculty, staff, and students. Services are available on a first-come, first-served basis. Since January 1990, Brown, in cooperation with an independent corporation, has operated the program year-round. The center currently sees a 75% sliding scale, from $62.50 to 87.5% of the fee.

• DUKE: The "Children's Campus" opened in August 1991 to serve employees and students. Seventy children are enrolled in the year-round program, with 200 on a waiting list. Costs range from $15.50 to $25 per week, based on income of family and age of child. The facility is operated in cooperation with a non-profit organization.

• PRINCETON: Since 1970, Princeton University offers on-campus day care to affiliated students, families, and community children. With 34 children, the center is based on child's age and family income with a sliding scale ranging from $26 per month for subsidized students to $200 per month for subsidized university employees. Costs range from $5 to $6 for the full-day program. If space is limited, children affiliated with a university family receive priority.

• Marist Univers
LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Other dangers must be considered as well as drunk driving.

Dear Editor:

I couldn't agree more with David Kimney's Inside Column (The Observer, Oct. 16). I especially think we should now get behind John Rita and give him support which is indicative of the level of community of this Notre Dame Community.

But I question whether anyone of your fellow students has given thought to the problem of drunk driving, not being able to get a cab, or being on the wrong side of the roadway.

What can the community do to prevent this tragedy from ever happening again?

Or have you addressed how to prevent such a tragedy in the future?

The problem of people walking along the side of the dark is not just a problem unique to Notre Dame. Haven't all of us been taught to walk along the road facing the traffic? Were these people walking with their backs to the traffic? I am not saying the tragedy wouldn't have happened if they were walking on the side facing the traffic, but common sense suggests that they probably would have been in better control of the situation and possibly could have jumped out of the way of the car.

It seems that this situation of being on the wrong side of the road is growing! I had one student swerve just last week to avoid hitting a person jogging along the road. And he, too, was on the wrong side of the road.

Dear Editor:

The thrill of the victory last weekend over Florida State was indeed deflated by the tragic accident that killed Mara Fox. To the Notre Dame Community, especially to her friends and family, memories of the win will forever inspire a terrible feeling of loss. Perhaps along with memories of this win, we must also realize that such tragedies can happen again.

Many ND students could have become John Rita. They are just lucky, Rita was unlucky. His behavior Friday night is not uncommon among the Notre Dame populace. Drunk driving is unfortunately socially acceptable. I've heard many stories of people driving drunk to or from off-campus parties or bars. Many times the seriousness of this is downplayed. "I was just buzzed" or "I didn't drive far" or "I drove slowly." Well, I'm sure Rita had rationalizations after the accident that killed Mara Fox. But 1 question whether you would have had any alcohol, but I could possibly have hit the person. Too often I've encountered the problem right here on campus! Please wake up, face the traffic, and if at all possible, wear a reflective vest (They normally cost less than $10 at most sporting goods stores, and they can be folded and put into one's pocket for use when needed) when out at night.

Why did Mr. Rita's so-called friends allow him to drive drunk? What can the community do to prevent this tragedy from happening again?

Can the students form some alliance which would provide taxi service to fellow students who cannot get a ride from a taxi service or cab? Why don't the efforts be made to better inform all students? Please wake up, face the traffic, and if at all possible, wear a reflective vest (They normally cost less than $10 at most sporting goods stores, and they can be folded and put into one's pocket for use when needed) when out at night.

Dear Editor:

I am writing in support of the Saint Mary's College Service Center (SMSC) which is presently in the hands of the Board of Governance at Saint Mary's. I won't find ignorance of the bureaucratic system on Saint Mary's campus. All I know is that an organization like SMSC is needed at Saint Mary's and the advocates of the proposal are tired of jumping through bureaucratic loopholes to make it happen.

It seems simple to me that Saint Mary's needs a vehicle through which its women can actually put their Christianity into action. Many of the faculty, staff and students are willing to put in the work to provide that vehicle.

For some reason, Saint Mary's Board of Governance (BOG) is still saying they can't find an organization to serve the women. I believe this goes back to the original reasons for the SMSC which is a paradigm example of student desire to serve. But, the hours and staff are limited, and the students who run it may feel that it is often a thankless task with a small budget and not much publicity. With SMSC, SURV could still have its autonomy, but its scope would just be expanded.

It is time BOG approves a campus service organization at Saint Mary's. It is necessary and long overdue. Financial support will definitely come from alumnae and Saint Mary's people who see the unforseen gap between rhetoric and reality at Saint Mary's. It is time for the women of Saint Mary's to speak up and support SMSC.

ELIZABETH O. MARTIN

Houndly charged of child molestation, Michael Jackson today cancelled the rest of his Dangerous World Tour and announced he was joining the clergy.

Tragedy reveals that students do drive drunk.
Settling a Score

• Running back
Darnell Campbell and the rest of the Eagles get revenge for last season’s 54-7
thrashing.

Story page 3

By GEORGE DOHRMANN
Sports Editor

To control your own destiny and then have that power quickly swept away.
That is the harsh reality which swept over Notre Dame Stadium Saturday, as the Irish watched Boston College kicker
David Gordon connect on a 41-yard field goal as time expired, giving the Eagles a 41-39 win.

Gordon’s kick negated an inspiring
comeback by the Irish, who scored 22 points in a little over ten minutes. It also knocked Notre Dame from No. 1 to No. 4
in the polls after a mere week-long reign
at the top.

“It was a great football game, with lots
of excitement,” said Boston College coach Tom Coughlin. “All we ask for is great effort and we got it. I’m very happy, but humble.”

The win probably cost the Irish a chance at the national championship. A likely matchup with Florida State in the Fiesta Bowl is gone, with hopes of a national title hinging on losses by as many as three teams.

“It would have been an unbelievable
victory,” said Irish head coach Lou Holtz.
“To be down so far and to come back and have it within your grasp with a minute to go, it’s heartbreaking.”

See DENIED/page 2

BC field goal erases classic comeback

By GEORGE DOHRMANN
Sports Editor

To control your own destiny and then have that power quickly swept away.
That is the harsh reality which swept over Notre Dame Stadium Saturday, as
the Irish watched Boston College kicker
David Gordon connect on a 41-yard field goal as time expired, giving the Eagles a 41-39 win.

Gordon’s kick negated an inspiring
comeback by the Irish, who scored 22 points in a little over ten minutes. It also knocked Notre Dame from No. 1 to No. 4
in the polls after a mere week-long reign
at the top.

“It was a great football game, with lots
of excitement,” said Boston College coach
Tom Coughlin. “All we ask for is great effort and we got it. I’m very happy, but humble.”

The win probably cost the Irish a chance at the national championship. A likely matchup with Florida State in the Fiesta Bowl is gone, with hopes of a national title hinging on losses by as many
as three teams.

“It would have been an unbelievable
victory,” said Irish head coach Lou Holtz.
“To be down so far and to come back and
have it within your grasp with a minute to
go, it’s heartbreaking.”

See DENIED/page 2

Top—Boston College quarterback Glenn Foley tries to connect with an open receiver.
Bottom—David Gordon follows through on his game-winning field goal.
Notre Dame Stadium. The Gipper and the four horsemen, 59,075 in the stands for every snap. The dome and touchdown bell, ringing from above. All things comprise the vaunted Notre Dame mystique, and are the reason opposing coaches consider Notre Dame the most difficult place to play in college football.

Players coming to live under the dome expect to win at Notre Dame. Expectations are high. They especially expect to win at home, even taking it for granted. Nothing else. The goal of Irish past will ensure victory.

In almost every season winning at home is the rule. Notre Dame is 50-17-1 in the last twelve years at Notre Dame Stadium. However, this year’s seniors fell victim to a disturbing exception to this rule. In the same twelve year span, the Irish are 7-1 in their final home game of the season. To a man, the Irish seniors seemed stunned by the loss.

"I'm numb," stated Peter Mitchell on the first play, and on the ensuing kickoff gave Boston College the ball by running and throwing," said Jim Danforth. "None of the seniors wanted to be the one to raise Boston College's Penguin flag, so we had to move the goal line to get it down."

"This isn’t a guessing game," stated Burris. "It’s a game of execution. Notre Dame players outplayed us today. I feel for the seniors," stated Danforth. "I feel for the seniors, because they showed class to the end."

"They pretty much said, ‘We still have a chance. Believe in yourself.’" stated senior Bryant Young.

"This win absolutely means everything to me," said Jim Danforth. "This win means more than we can possibly say. We were able to move the football in a lot of different ways."

"I feel for the seniors," stated coach Lou Holtz. "We all hurt."

"It’s something you dream about (the national championship)." stated senior Jeff Burris. "This victory means a lot to me."

"Notre Dame turned sour. It was the most difficult place to play. Notre Dame seniors have gone out with a bang, and the Irish defense had the ball on a three yard line. I think we could have stopped them in the Holtz era."

"It was a tough loss. We had our chances. We just didn’t execute," said Mitch Bercich. "I feel for the seniors, who suffered through the most heart-wrenching loss of their careers with dignity."

Denied from page 1

Notre Dame had taken the lead a minute before Gordon’s kick, when quarterback Kevin McDougal hit Lake Dawson for a four-yard touchdown pass. McDougal capped a rousing last minute drive with a two point conversion pass to a diving Brooks in the endzone, the season was a success and the seniors could leave their fans in the glow of victory.

Saturday’s loss becomes all the more frustrating for the Irish seniors, because they didn’t have the star names their predecessors did. What they did have was determination, which brought them the No. 1 ranking last year’s stars couldn’t achieve.

"It’s everything you dream about (the national championship)." stated senior Jeff Burris. "This was our chance to leave our mark."

"It’s a game of execution. Notre Dame players outplayed us today."

"I feel for the seniors," stated coach Lou Holtz. "We all hurt." Still, this year’s seniors showed class to the end. They still have a chance. Believe in yourself." stated senior Bryant Young.

"This isn’t a guessing game," stated Burris. "It’s a game of execution. Notre Dame players outplayed us today."

"We didn’t quit," stated senior quarterback Kevin McDougal, who had his best passing game ever. "I’m glad that they have their memories from their days at Notre Dame."

A personal foul against the Irish was called for the third time in the last 12 years against Notre Dame.

"Joyous Boston College fans immediately followed the field, creating a mob of players, fans, Notre Dame players walked slowly toward the sidelines, others fell from the ground in disbelief.

"I knew I could make the kick," said Gordon. "I got good protection from the line and a good hold."

"It wasn’t a tough field goal. I didn’t hit it well, but it was kind of low, but it went through."

"The drive was just another in a day full of breakdowns for the Irish defense.

Notre Dame showed no pass rush to speak of and the usually dominant secondary looked a step slow from the opening play. Foley completed 30-48 passes for 315 yards and four touchdowns and fullback Darnell Campbell ran for 132 yards on only 13 carries.

However, despite the big numbers, the Irish defense had the game and their season on the line in the final drive, and failed to make the plays.

"We just didn’t execute and they did," said safety Jeff Burris. "We finally got the lead but weren’t able to hold it." Burris and the rest of the Irish seniors watched their final game at Notre Dame. "I don’t think you can get any lower than we are now," said Jim Danforth.

Boston College controlled every facet of the game until the final ten seconds. They took a 10-0 lead at the end of the first quarter on a Gordon field goal and a four-yard pass from Foley to Boyd.

The Irish countered with a one-yard run by Jeff Burns, but Boston College added a score from Mitchell with 21 seconds left, to go ahead 24-14 at the intermission.

"We were able to move the football by running and throwing," said Danforth. "We had great protection from the line and we can do anything if we get good protection."

Campbell had a 21-yard score to open the third, and after a Kevin Pendergast field goal cut the lead to 31-17, Foley hit Mitchell from the one to raise Boston College’s lead to 38-17.

The Irish awakw at that point, scoring on a 29-yard run by tailback Lee Becton and a four-yard run by Zellars after the Irish defense forced Foley and Co. to punt. Becton finished the day with 123 yards on 14 carries for his Notre Dame record sixth-straight 100-yard day. He also eclipsed 1000 yards on the year, only the second back to do that in the Holtz era.

But he would trade all the records for a win, which the Irish seemed to have after Dawson’s catch and before Gordon because the unlikely hero.

"This loss is devastating," said Danforth. "It’s a loss we had to have." Boston College for the game was revenge for last season’s 54-7 loss at Notre Dame. For Boston College the game was..."
Foley, BC get sweet revenge

By TIMOTHY SEYMOUR
Assistant Sports Editor

This year it would be different. That was the quiet goal of the Boston College football team at the beginning of the year. Last year's 54-7 loss to the Irish had been an embarrassment. This year it would be different.

The Eagles entered Saturday's game as a different frame of mind. There would be no talk of the supremacy of Catholic schools. It would be a ball game, and Boston College would show that they have talented athletes, but important to the Boston College mindset, talented, but not on both sides of the ball.

"They're human beings," said Eagles quarterback Charlie Ward, who single-handedly picked apart the Irish defense. Charlie Ward couldn't. "Last year we Boston College never forgot. They heard the "Overrated" cheer in their sleep. They saw the fake punt on film time and again. And, unfortunately, they believed they could beat the Irish.

"We have a totally different team this year," stated Boston College coach Tom Coughlin before the game. "This group is hungry. They have no room for complacency. They feel they haven't achieved a thing yet. Each week is a new exciting challenge for these guys."

Last year's Eagle squad was understated, ninth ranked, and considered by many to have had the world at its feet. This year the confidence was subdued, but had more substance to back it up. The Eagles realized they were playing some of the best football in the country, and the time was right for an upset.

"We knew we were going to win," stated Foley. "There was no doubt. We weren't going to lose. It's Boston College. It doesn't matter what the other team does."

The offensive line was dominant and the difference was substantial. When asked if David Gordon was true with his 41-yard attempt, the result was, as predicted, different. Coughlin, perhaps more than anyone else, had reason to celebrate. The worst defeat in his career came at Notre Dame last season. To avenge that with his biggest win in the place he considered the best possible triumph.

However, Coughlin refused to gloat. "I'm going to enjoy a game like this for a long time."

"I'm proud of the young men and the way they prepared," he said. "When it settles in, you're humble in victory. It was a great college football game."

Some of the Eagle players were not so charitable, but after the memories of humiliation they have lived with for a year, their jubilation is understandable.

"I thought they rubbed it in last year, especially with the fake punt (with the score 37-0 in the third quarter)," stated Foley, who was wholly ineffective in last season's game, buckling under the constant Irish pressure.

"The only time I've ever had respect for Lou Holtz was when he said last week Boston College will be the No. 1 team in the country right now," he continued.

The difference in Foley was symbolic of the entire Boston College team. Where last year they were routed by Notre Dame's pressure, this year their resilience shone throughout the last year's 54-7 loss to the Irish.

The opportunity was there for a Colombian. Foley fumbled twice to allow the Irish to mount their furious comeback. Last season he wouldn't have rallied the team down the field. The line would not have withstood the pass rush, the receivers would not have found the open space.

While it was evident to Foley that his team was focused, it was evident to the Irish players as well.

"At times I sensed that Boston College was just playing harder than we were. They were emotional, you could see it," stated Lee Becton.

The emotion had been there last year too, but it was channeled to pursue more success than playing between the lines. The lesson of the fake punt had been learned well. This year, it would be different.

At the end of regulation, there were but 35 seconds remaining. The Notre Dame fans were able to see the game clinched for their team. It was supposed to be a game like we had with the Irish.

"We knew we were going to win,"所述 Foley. "There was no doubt. We weren't going to lose. It's Boston College. It doesn't matter what the other team does."

The offensive line was dominant and the difference was substantial. When asked if David Gordon was true with his 41-yard attempt, the result was, as predicted, different. Coughlin, perhaps more than anyone else, had reason to celebrate. The worst defeat in his career came at Notre Dame last season. To avenge that with his biggest win in the place he considered the best possible triumph.

However, Coughlin refused to gloat. "I'm going to enjoy a game like this for a long time."

"I'm proud of the young men and the way they prepared," he said. "When it settles in, you're humble in victory. It was a great college football game."

Some of the Eagle players were not so charitable, but after the memories of humiliation they have lived with for a year, their jubilation is understandable.

"I thought they rubbed it in last year, especially with the fake punt (with the score 37-0 in the third quarter)," stated Foley, who was wholly ineffective in last season's game, buckling under the constant Irish pressure.

"The only time I've ever had respect for Lou Holtz was when he said last week Boston College will be the No. 1 team in the country right now," he continued.

The difference in Foley was symbolic of the entire Boston College team. Where last year they were routed by Notre Dame's pressure, this year their resilience shone throughout the last year's 54-7 loss to the Irish.

The opportunity was there for a Colombian. Foley fumbled twice to allow the Irish to mount their furious comeback. Last season he wouldn't have rallied the team down the field. The line would not have withstood the pass rush, the receivers would not have found the open space.

While it was evident to Foley that his team was focused, it was evident to the Irish players as well.

"At times I sensed that Boston College was just playing harder than we were. They were emotional, you could see it," stated Lee Becton.

The emotion had been there last year too, but it was channeled to pursue more success than playing between the lines. The lesson of the fake punt had been learned well. This year, it would be different.

At the end of regulation, there were but 35 seconds remaining. The Notre Dame fans were able to see the game clinched for their team. It was supposed to be a game like we had with the Irish.

"We knew we were going to win,"所述 Foley. "There was no doubt. We weren't going to lose. It's Boston College. It doesn't matter what the other team does."

The offensive line was dominant and the difference was substantial. When asked if David Gordon was true with his 41-yard attempt, the result was, as predicted, different. Coughlin, perhaps more than anyone else, had reason to celebrate. The worst defeat in his career came at Notre Dame last season. To avenge that with his biggest win in the place he considered the best possible triumph.

However, Coughlin refused to gloat. "I'm going to enjoy a game like this for a long time."

"I'm proud of the young men and the way they prepared," he said. "When it settles in, you're humble in victory. It was a great college football game."

Some of the Eagle players were not so charitable, but after the memories of humiliation they have lived with for a year, their jubilation is understandable.

"I thought they rubbed it in last year, especially with the fake punt (with the score 37-0 in the third quarter)," stated Foley, who was wholly ineffective in last season's game, buckling under the constant Irish pressure.

"The only time I've ever had respect for Lou Holtz was when he said last week Boston College will be the No. 1 team in the country right now," he continued.

The difference in Foley was symbolic of the entire Boston College team. Where last year they were routed by Notre Dame's pressure, this year their resilience shone throughout the last year's 54-7 loss to the Irish.

The opportunity was there for a Colombian. Foley fumbled twice to allow the Irish to mount their furious comeback. Last season he wouldn't have rallied the team down the field. The line would not have withstood the pass rush, the receivers would not have found the open space.

While it was evident to Foley that his team was focused, it was evident to the Irish players as well.

"At times I sensed that Boston College was just playing harder than we were. They were emotional, you could see it," stated Lee Becton.

The emotion had been there last year too, but it was channeled to pursue more success than playing between the lines. The lesson of the fake punt had been learned well. This year, it would be different.

At the end of regulation, there were but 35 seconds remaining. The Notre Dame fans were able to see the game clinched for their team. It was supposed to be a game like we had with the Irish.
Derrick Mayes makes a clutch catch in Notre Dame's final fourth quarter scoring drive.

Irish safety and part-time tailback Jeff Burris fights through the line for a second quarter touchdown.

Ivan Boyd leaps to make a catch over Notre Dame's Brian Magee.

BOSTON COLLEGE 10 14 21 22 41

NOTRE DAME 0 14 3 22 39

BOSTON COLLEGE

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Player</th>
<th>Atm</th>
<th>Yds</th>
<th>TD</th>
<th>Long</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Boyd</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>115</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>21</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Campbell</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>1</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

NOTRE DAME

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Player</th>
<th>Atm</th>
<th>Yds</th>
<th>TD</th>
<th>Long</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Becton</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>122</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>41</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Zellars</td>
<td>8</td>
<td>41</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>13</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Magee</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Passes attempted: 48 29 Magee 2 0 2 0 0 0 0 0

Passes intercepted: 0 1 Knight 1 1 2 1 0 0 0 0

Fumbles/Fumbles lost: 3/1 0-0 Gibson 0 2 2 0 0 0 0 0

Penalties/Penalty yards: 5/44 4-33 Holden 0 2 2 0 0 0 0 0

3rd down conversions: 10-18 3-12

1st down conversions: 12-22 4-10

Total Yardage: 477 427

Offensive plays: 87 69 Lane 3 4 7 0 0 2 0 0 0

Avg. yards per play: 5.5 6.2 Flanigan 3 3 6 0 0 1 0 1

Rushing yards: 162 166 B. Taylor 4 0 4 0 0 0 0

Rushing plays: 39 40 Young 2 2 4 1 0 0 0

Passing yards: 315 261 Hamilton 1 3 4 0 0 0 0

Time of possession: 33:01 36:03

Field goals: 2 7 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

Extra points: 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2 2

Punting yards: 493 693

Kickoffs: 45 45 45 45

Fumbles: 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3 3

 Fouled yardage: 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

Items from the Lens:

Darnell Campbell takes a hit from Notre Dame's Greg Lane.

Ivan Boyd leaps to make a catch over Notre Dame's Brian Magee.
CASTING WOMEN AS PRIESTS PUTS GROUP IN TIME WARP

On Nov. 8, the Committee on Notre Dame's Position on the Ordination of Women (CNDPOW), Student Advocates for Inclusive Ministry and four other groups sponsored a panel on ministry and gender in the Catholic Church. Columnists and lay people gathered during the succeeding days focused on the women's ordination question.

CNDPOW's recurrent agitation is not new. The position of the Church is long-standing. The teaching of the Church on this point is quite clear: in no way whatsoever the fact that women are indeed an essential part of the Body of Christ. "The Good News of the kingdom (emphasis in original)."

On Jan. 30, 1977, Pope Paul VI stated, "Why can men alone and not women, too, receive the priesthood...? The reason for the disparity of function is Christ's decision in giving the Church her fundamental structure. The Church, as the human institution, is like the body of Christ. The Church has no intention of introducing a change which would impede the spiritual growth of believers."

The teaching of the Church on this point has not been closed. In his Sept. 16, 1987, address to the American bishops, Pope John Paul II stated that "the Church her fundamental structure is immutable and which mutable."

The papal statements affirm that the Church does not have to change and that there are no grounds for women to be admitted to the priesthood. The message includes a recognition of and adherence to the teaching and practices of the other societies and how utterly unique her nature and structure.

A project of this magnitude has the potential to go beyond the sexual portfolio of the school, and it's everywhere. It's a mentality at this school, and it's everywhere. It's in the administration building, it's on the radio, it's been field on football weekends, and it's at the Linebacker every Thursday night. But it's a mind-set, and it can have consequences even worse than those that rocked the campus this weekend. The mentality? Getting drunk is an okay thing to do.

Now I've never had a drink before, and so this is going to sound incredibly presumptuous, but there's someone who needs to be preachy about this. If there's something more profound, I can't incant the tragic death of Mara Fox, if there's a message to pass on, I can't incant the pain, it is this: Getting drunk is not an okay thing to do.

Now I'm not talking about a buzz, and I'm not talking about "feeling good." I'm talking about a mind-set, which keeps you from thinking straight, which prevents you from seeing realistically which makes you do things you would never do sober - the kind of intoxication that puts you behind the wheel on a rainy night at one in the morning after drinking all night.

Things happen when you're that drunk. A random look-up. A dead end. A test of wills. A burst of energy, fight, an injury. God knows some of those things have happened to me when I was not, like meatless Fridays, compulsory. A call, a night out. But the chances of something really bad happening are magnified tenfold when you don't know what you're doing, or you've lost control through drinking.

John Rita is not the only person who ever did something stupid when he was drunk. And there's a law about "my friends will take care of me..." gimme a break. John Rita's friends didn't. Expecting someone else to "take responsibility" for you is a trap.

Expecting someone else with ending grade school - we are now all responsible for ourselves and "taking a night off" by drinking oneself into oblivion is to deny the responsibility that puts you behind the wheel on a rainy night at one in the morning after drinking all night.

"That scarred me more than anything - that we find humor in someone else completely los..." It was all a game - a game not too far from the one John Rita played on Friday night. It shocked me to realize that at other times I, too, had been out drinking because I thought it was okay. My sister and my close friends have born the pain, it is this: Getting drunk is not an okay thing to do. My sister and my close friends have been out drinking because I'm not the only one who has the same feelings of horror and sadness that everyone had, the news, like everyone else. I was able to view the NAMES Quilt in its entirety in Washington, D.C. in 1992 and this phenomenal experience was one which I will never be able to forget.

Preliminary approval has been granted to Notre Dame to exhibit the NAMES Quilt on display here in February. This is a project which has the potential to make a difference on campus by eliminating misconceptions, and it could be an opportunity to modify the reality of AIDS and inviting the对话 about the dialogues rather than a need to judge people with HIV/AIDS.

Drinking mentality must change at ND/SMC

Dear Editor:

I heard about the accident on the news, like everyone else. I had the same feelings of horror and sadness that everyone had, the news, like everyone else. I was able to view the NAMES Quilt in its entirety in Washington, D.C. in 1992 and this phenomenal experience was one which I will never be able to forget.

The D eclaration on the Ordination of Women, issued in 1976 with the approval of Paul VI, stated that "the Church, universal throughout east and west, and even weightless in order quickly to suppress abuses. Such a norm, based on the example of Christ, has been followed in the past and is being followed today because it is regarded as conformed to God's plan for his Church."

The Declarati onon the Ordination of Women in 1976 with the approval of Paul VI, stated that "the Church, universal throughout east and west, and even weightless in order quickly to suppress abuses. Such a norm, based on the example of Christ, has been followed in the past and is being followed today because it is regarded as conformed to God's plan for his Church."

CNDPOW responds to this set-tled position by seeking to utilize tactics appropriate to the political arena, but this is not a political strategy, it is not a political organization. And it is not a democracy.

"The Church her fundamental structure is immutable and which mutable."

CNDPOW is a special ministry of the Church, universal throughout east and west, and even weightless in order quickly to suppress abuses. Such a norm, based on the example of Christ, has been followed in the past and is being followed today because it is regarded as conformed to God's plan for his Church."

CNDPOW responds to this set-tled position by seeking to utilize tactics appropriate to the political arena, but this is not a political strategy, it is not a political organization. And it is not a democracy.

"The Church her fundamental structure is immutable and which mutable."

CNDPOW responds to this set-tled position by seeking to utilize tactics appropriate to the political arena, but this is not a political strategy, it is not a political organization. And it is not a democracy.

"The Church her fundamental structure is immutable and which mutable."

CNDPOW responds to this set-tled position by seeking to utilize tactics appropriate to the political arena, but this is not a political strategy, it is not a political organization. And it is not a democracy.
A cappella artistry
Notre Dame Chorale to perform tonight

By HOLLY BUCHAN
Accent Writer

The a cappella voices of some of Notre Dame's best singers will fill the Sacred Heart Basilica tonight as the Notre Dame Chorale gives its first campus performance of the year tonight.

A select group of 50 voices, the Notre Dame Choral specializes in performing masterpieces from the Renaissance to the present.

"The Notre Dame Chorale has a long and colorful history, extending back to when the University first admitted women students," said Alexander Blachly, director of the Notre Dame Chorale.

"It is the concert choir of the University, and as such it attracts many of the best singers from what is arguably one of the largest pools of talented singers to be found on any campus," said Blachly, the new director of the Chorale, said he thinks Notre Dame Chorale gives its first concert of the year tonight.

The Notre Dame Chorale has a long and colorful history, extending back to when the University first admitted women students," said Alexander Blachly, director of the Notre Dame Chorale.

"The students here are intelligent and highly motivated, which is a good combination for making music," said Blachly.

The date of tonight's concert holds special significance because it falls on the same day as the feast day of St. Cecilia, the patron of music.

The concert is appropriately entitled, "Hail, St. Cecilia: German Choral Works from Lassus to Bruckner," in recognition of the holiday, the group's first piece of the concert is addressed to St. Cecilia.

The chorale has performed many major works for chorus and orchestra over the years including pieces from Bach, Mendelssohn and Handel, said Blachly.

Blachly believes the chorale is a talented a cappella group, and will exhibit these talents on Monday in works by Lassus, Schubert, and Bruckner.

The program will also include Renaissance motets, a Bach cantata, and a brief Mass by Mozart, pieces which are "all very different from one another, yet all part of the German choral tradition," said Blachly.

In this first concert of the academic year, Blachly is placing a strong emphasis on the singers.

"There will be instrumental accompaniment for some of the pieces, and it will be quite attractive," said Blachly, "but much of the program is unaccompanied because the choir deserves to be heard."

Accompanying the chorale are Melissa Jgauojii, a graduate student who will play the Baroque-style positive organ, as well as professor Craig Cranmer and his wife Gail Walton, who will perform together on the organ.

Blachly is quite confident that the chorale will give an excellent performance, and believes it will be an enjoyable experience for anyone who loves choral literature.

Blachly also expressed the hope that students would attend the concert.

"If there are any students who have still not seen the interior of the Basilica of the Sacred Heart, Monday night would be a good opportunity to do so," said Blachly. "Not only is the Basilica beautiful architecturally, it is also an acoustic marvel."

Class workshop exposes students to timeless masterpieces

BY TANYA KRYWARCZENKO
Accent Arts Editor

Students looking for a different kind of music in their lives have the opportunity to be exposed to the operatic masterpieces of Johann Strauss, Gilbert and Sullivan and Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart on Tues., Nov. 23.

This is the date when the Notre Dame Opera Workshop will present a musical performance entitled "Operatic Scenes: Scenes from Your Favorite Comic Operas" in Washington Hall.

The Notre Dame Opera Workshop is in its third year of existence, according to Garry Grice, director of the workshop and artistic director for Indiana Opera North.

"The purpose of the workshop is to give students experiences with character roles and musical styles to help in subsequent productions," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.

"It's a really interesting class; the students have learned a lot of stage terminology," said Grice.
Atlanta halts Dallas winning streak with 27-14 upset

Monday, November 22, 1993

The Observer • PRO FOOTBALL

Associated Press

Once the Dallas Cowboys lost Emmitt Smith, they were lost as well.

Smith was sidelined with a bruised knee one snap two minutes before halftime and the Cowboys, already missing Troy Aikman, had their seven-game winning streak Sunday, losing 27-14 in Atlanta.

"I took a knob to the quad," Smith said. "I think whatever treatment is necessary and see how it goes." Smith (3) had not lost since Smith returned from a two-game salary holdout at the start of the season. The Cowboys have a short week, playing Thanksgiving Day against Minnesota.

Atlanta's swarming defense, which shut out the Los Angeles Rams last week, took a three-turnabout for nearly three quarters. Deion Sanders, one of the Falcons' best defenders, also contributed on offense by catching a 70-yard touchdown pass and high-stepping to the end zone with it.

The Eagles (7-3) began strong against a new-look offense by catching a 70-yard touchdown pass and high-stepping to the end zone with it.

27-14 in Atlanta.

The Giants (1-9) have lost 11 straight games.

The footballs were lost as soon as the last game was over.

Emmitt Smith, already missing Smith was sidelined with a two-time since 1987. New York dropped Cincinnati to 12-1 in its loss.

Rams 10, Redskins 6

The Giants (7-3) won their fourth in a row, their longest winning streak since 1986. The Eagles (7-3) have lost 11 straight games.

The Giants (7-3) won their fourth in a row, their longest winning streak since 1986. The Eagles (7-3) have lost 11 straight games.

"Some people said we wouldn't be here for this ball-up, we did a great job," Falcons coach Dan Reeves said.

Dolphins 17, Patriots 13

At Miami, John Elway picked apart the NFL's No. 1 defense, completing 18 of 25 passes for 276 yards and one touchdown in the Dolphins' 4-0 shutout of New England.

They scored twice each period in the first two quarters; the Steelers (6-4) to a 20-0 lead.

The victory should help the Giants (1-9) have lost 11 straight games.

The Rams (6-4) matched the Oilers' four-game winning streak.

"Some people said we wouldn't be here for this ball-up, we did a great job," Falcons coach Dan Reeves said.

Dolphins 17, Patriots 13

At Miami, John Elway picked apart the NFL's No. 1 defense, completing 18 of 25 passes for 276 yards and one touchdown in the Dolphins' 4-0 shutout of New England.

They scored twice each period in the first two quarters; the Steelers (6-4) to a 20-0 lead.

The victory should help the Giants (1-9) have lost 11 straight games.

The Rams (6-4) matched the Oilers' four-game winning streak.

"Some people said we wouldn't be here for this ball-up, we did a great job," Falcons coach Dan Reeves said.

Hockey

continued from page 16

the victory.

There was some debate about who got credit for the goal, as the game was suspended at that point in the game because Ling never actually got his name called.

suggested that Ling never actually got his name called.

The team had another chance to win the game, but there was little chance of catching up once the closing seconds had elapsed.

The Rams (6-4) matched the Oilers' four-game winning streak.

The victory should help the Giants (1-9) have lost 11 straight games.

"Some people said we wouldn't be here for this ball-up, we did a great job," Falcons coach Dan Reeves said.

This is the longest winning streak in the NFL since a seven-game streak in 1983. The Eagles tried Ken Krieg's pass could not

Losing teams got a ride to suburban Chicago on Tuesday for the Notre Dame bowl. Five trips were available.

Notre Dame could only muster the longest winning streak in the NFL since a seven-game streak in 1983. The Eagles tried Ken Krieg's pass could not

Losing teams got a ride to suburban Chicago on Tuesday for the Notre Dame bowl. Five trips were available.

Notre Dame could only muster the longest winning streak in the NFL since a seven-game streak in 1983. The Eagles tried Ken Krieg's pass could not

Losing teams got a ride to suburban Chicago on Tuesday for the Notre Dame bowl. Five trips were available.

Notre Dame could only muster

This is the longest winning streak in the NFL since a seven-game streak in 1983. The Eagles tried Ken Krieg's pass could not

Losing teams got a ride to suburban Chicago on Tuesday for the Notre Dame bowl. Five trips were available.

Notre Dame could only muster

The game was suspended at that point in the game because Ling never actually got his name called.

suggested that Ling never actually got his name called.

The team had another chance to win the game, but there was little chance of catching up once the closing seconds had elapsed.

The Rams (6-4) matched the Oilers' four-game winning streak.

The victory should help the Giants (1-9) have lost 11 straight games.

"Some people said we wouldn't be here for this ball-up, we did a great job," Falcons coach Dan Reeves said.

Hockey

continued from page 16

the victory.

There was some debate about who got credit for the goal, as the game was suspended at that point in the game because Ling never actually got his name called.

suggested that Ling never actually got his name called.

The team had another chance to win the game, but there was little chance of catching up once the closing seconds had elapsed.

The Rams (6-4) matched the Oilers' four-game winning streak.

The victory should help the Giants (1-9) have lost 11 straight games.

"Some people said we wouldn't be here for this ball-up, we did a great job," Falcons coach Dan Reeves said.

This is the longest winning streak in the NFL since a seven-game streak in 1983. The Eagles tried Ken Krieg's pass could not

Losing teams got a ride to suburban Chicago on Tuesday for the Notre Dame bowl. Five trips were available.

Notre Dame could only muster the longest winning streak in the NFL since a seven-game streak in 1983. The Eagles tried Ken Krieg's pass could not

Losing teams got a ride to suburban Chicago on Tuesday for the Notre Dame bowl. Five trips were available.

Notre Dame could only muster

This is the longest winning streak in the NFL since a seven-game streak in 1983. The Eagles tried Ken Krieg's pass could not

Losing teams got a ride to suburban Chicago on Tuesday for the Notre Dame bowl. Five trips were available.

Notre Dame could only muster

The game was suspended at that point in the game because Ling never actually got his name called.

suggested that Ling never actually got his name called.

The team had another chance to win the game, but there was little chance of catching up once the closing seconds had elapsed.

The Rams (6-4) matched the Oilers' four-game winning streak.

The victory should help the Giants (1-9) have lost 11 straight games.

"Some people said we wouldn't be here for this ball-up, we did a great job," Falcons coach Dan Reeves said.

Hockey

continued from page 16

the victory.

There was some debate about who got credit for the goal, as the game was suspended at that point in the game because Ling never actually got his name called.

suggested that Ling never actually got his name called.

The team had another chance to win the game, but there was little chance of catching up once the closing seconds had elapsed.

The Rams (6-4) matched the Oilers' four-game winning streak.

The victory should help the Giants (1-9) have lost 11 straight games.

"Some people said we wouldn't be here for this ball-up, we did a great job," Falcons coach Dan Reeves said.

This is the longest winning streak in the NFL since a seven-game streak in 1983. The Eagles tried Ken Krieg's pass could not

Losing teams got a ride to suburban Chicago on Tuesday for the Notre Dame bowl. Five trips were available.

Notre Dame could only muster the longest winning streak in the NFL since a seven-game streak in 1983. The Eagles tried Ken Krieg's pass could not

Losing teams got a ride to suburban Chicago on Tuesday for the Notre Dame bowl. Five trips were available.

Notre Dame could only muster

This is the longest winning streak in the NFL since a seven-game streak in 1983. The Eagles tried Ken Krieg's pass could not

Losing teams got a ride to suburban Chicago on Tuesday for the Notre Dame bowl. Five trips were available.

Notre Dame could only muster

The game was suspended at that point in the game because Ling never actually got his name called.

suggested that Ling never actually got his name called.

The team had another chance to win the game, but there was little chance of catching up once the closing seconds had elapsed.

The Rams (6-4) matched the Oilers' four-game winning streak.

The victory should help the Giants (1-9) have lost 11 straight games.

"Some people said we wouldn't be here for this ball-up, we did a great job," Falcons coach Dan Reeves said.

Hockey

continued from page 16

the victory.

There was some debate about who got credit for the goal, as the game was suspended at that point in the game because Ling never actually got his name called.

suggested that Ling never actually got his name called.

The team had another chance to win the game, but there was little chance of catching up once the closing seconds had elapsed.

The Rams (6-4) matched the Oilers' four-game winning streak.

The victory should help the Giants (1-9) have lost 11 straight games.

"Some people said we wouldn't be here for this ball-up, we did a great job," Falcons coach Dan Reeves said.

This is the longest winning streak in the NFL since a seven-game streak in 1983. The Eagles tried Ken Krieg's pass could not

Losing teams got a ride to suburban Chicago on Tuesday for the Notre Dame bowl. Five trips were available.

Notre Dame could only muster the longest winning streak in the NFL since a seven-game streak in 1983. The Eagles tried Ken Krieg's pass could not

Losing teams got a ride to suburban Chicago on Tuesday for the Notre Dame bowl. Five trips were available.

Notre Dame could only muster

This is the longest winning streak in the NFL since a seven-game streak in 1983. The Eagles tried Ken Krieg's pass could not

Losing teams got a ride to suburban Chicago on Tuesday for the Notre Dame bowl. Five trips were available.

Notre Dame could only muster

The game was suspended at that point in the game because Ling never actually got his name called.

suggested that Ling never actually got his name called.

The team had another chance to win the game, but there was little chance of catching up once the closing seconds had elapsed.

The Rams (6-4) matched the Oilers' four-game winning streak.

The victory should help the Giants (1-9) have lost 11 straight games.

"Some people said we wouldn't be here for this ball-up, we did a great job," Falcons coach Dan Reeves said.
Morrissey concludes 7-0 season with championship
Football crown Manor's second title in 1993

By G.R. NELSON
Sports Writer

Two outstanding teams squared off at Notre Dame Stadium Sunday for the men's interhall championship, with Morrissey edging Stanford to claim a 9-7 victory and the crown.

Morrissey used a balanced attack, a big play defense, and a little luck in completing its underrated season.

Morrissey, behind its strong offensive line, rushed for over 100 yards and passed for 82 yards. Scott Taylor played his usual near-perfect game, taking only what the Stanford defense would give him and not making any mistakes.

"Stanford had a great scheme and some good cover guys," said Morrissey quarterback and League MVP Scott Taylor. "I couldn't throw deep." Justin Kruer and Paul Lopach each rushed well for Morrissey. Morrissey opened the game with an impressive 64-yard drive, but Stanford's defense stalled them at the goal line, forcing a 22-yard field goal.

"That stand set the tone for the whole game," said Taylor. "It was a classic battle.

Early in the second half, Stanford turned a 65-yard drive behind its great backs, Lamar Guillory and Chris Pollina. Guillory capped the drive with a strong 12-yard run. Morrissey then mounted an impressive drive, but was stilled late in Stanford territory. However, on their next play, Stanford fumbled, and Morrissey captain George Beider made the huge recovery. "That was the key play in the game," said Beider.

Four plays later, Justin Kruer sprinted around the end for a one-yard touchdown. Stanford refused to quit and promptly marched the length of the field. Morales defense stiffened, forcing a Stanford field goal attempt. The steady Chad Smock trotted onto the field for a game-winning attempt. Smock was the hero in Stanford's first two playoff games, but this game would be different. Smock's 28-yard attempt sailed wide right.

"Morrissey is a class team and played a great game," said Stanford captain Chris Pollina. "Stanford will be passing, losing only two players to graduation. It seems that championship dynasties always begin with a loss," said Stanford's Matt Dowd. "And our team will be a dynasty." Morrissey earned the championship.

They were the best team all year long, and they backed it up Sunday.

"It was a great ride," said Morrissey senior tailback Justin Kruer. "We enjoyed every moment of it." And now it is time for Morrissey to enjoy the title.

J.R. Meloro also could not do to lead his team to victory. Stanford senior quarterback was the back-up player for a game-winning attempt. Stanford senior quarterback was the back-up player for a game-winning attempt. Stanford senior quarterback was the back-up player for a game-winning attempt.

"It was a big play defense, and a total of around 170 runners will use the starting line.

"Mike McWilliams has run well all year long, and they backed it up Sunday.

"It was a great ride," said Morrissey senior tailback Justin Kruer. "We enjoyed every moment of it." And now it is time for Morrissey to enjoy the title.

Men

continued from page 16

"Mike has been consistent not just throughout this season, but also his entire career. He ran very well at the Districts, and I feel that he has an excellent opportunity to earn All-America honors again this year.

"This year's team, however, is about more than just McWilliams. The senior captain is backed up by an extremely strong supporting cast. This team depth has been the Irish's strong point all season, and will be relied on today, as much as it has been all season long.

In addition to McWilliams, the Irish will run juniors John Cowan, Nate Reder, J.R. Meloro, sophomores Derek Seiling and Joe Dunlop, and freshman Matt Althoff at today's meet. This talented field of runners may give the Irish a legitimate shot at the title, and should ensure them of their first finish in the top-three since 1990, when they finished third at Knoxville, Tennessee.

The toughest competition for the Irish will come from top-ranked Arkansas, who will be vying for their fourth straight NCAA title. Also ranked ahead of the Irish are Iowa State, Colorado, and Portland. Seventeen other teams will be up against the Irish, and a total of around 170 runners will use the starting line.

While much must be done in order to beat out this incredibly deep field of competitors, it is hard to recognize any one particular factor that will enable the Irish to claim the national title.

"There is no one factor that will make us run better than we have in the past," said Mike McWilliams. "J.R. Meloro's health will contribute to any success we have. We're running well right now, and I feel that this is the best team I've been on since I've been at Notre Dame." J.R. Meloro also could not do to lead his team to victory.

"Scott Taylor The Morrissey senior quarterback was the key to their championship run. All year he did what he had to do to lead his team to victory. Sunday he passed for 80 yards and played mistake-free football.

Men's Interhall
Monday, November 22, 1993

MEN'S INTERHALL FINIAL POWER POLL

1. Morrissey 7-0-0
2. Stanford 4-2-1
3. Fisher 5-1-0
4. Zahm 4-1-1
5. Keenan 3-2-0
6. Cavanaugh 3-2-1
7. Alumni 3-3-0
8. Dillon 2-3-0
9. St. Ed's 1-1-1
10. Flanner 1-2-1
11. Off-Campus 1-2-1
12. Carroll 0-2-2
13. Grace 0-3-0
14. Sorin 0-3-0

Compiled by IH Staff Writers

PLAYER OF THE YEAR
Scott Taylor The Morrissey senior quarterback was the key to their championship run. All year he did what he had to do to lead his team to victory. Sunday he passed for 80 yards and played mistake-free football.

The Department of Music Presents
The Notre Dame Chorale
Alexander Blachly, director
Melissa Igneumy, organ
in a Fall Concert
Hail St. Cecilia:
German Choral Works from Lassus to Bruckner 20th-century and accompanied works by Lassus, J.S. Bach, Mozart, Haydn, Schubert, Brahms, and Bruckner
Monday, November 22, 8:00 p.m.
Basilica of the Sacred Heart
The concert is free and open to the public.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY JENNY!

Hope your birthday is a winner!
Pasquerilla West came out on top in their interhall title match, overpowering Badin, 13-6. Quarterback Bethany Riddle had a big game, throwing for one score and catching a 70-yard touchdown. In the championship game, Riddle was determined to get to the quarterback.

After turning the ball over, the Badin defense was able to hold PW and force a punt. On the first play after the punt, Badin quarterback Shari Tate threw a bomb to Engineers Beth Brubaker for a score. The extra point was made to give the Weasels a 7-0 lead on their first possession. Quarterback Bethany Riddle then held tough on three consecutive plays to force a fourth and goal. On the fourth down play Riddle took the snap, rolled to her right and threw a strike to senior Bridget Graham for the score.

The extra point was missed and Badin took a 7-6 lead into halftime. Glines explained her team's second half strategy: "We had to see what would work," noted Glines. "We remained confident in ourselves throughout the game."

The Weasels quickly found out what would work in the second half. Tate stepped back and looked to pass. She found Riddle streaking uncovered down the left sideline. Tate hit Riddle with a perfect pass and Riddle was able to run 70 yards for the score. The Weasels, which turned out to be the game winner, put PW ahead 13-6.

On Badin's next possession, Glines came up with another big play to stop a Badin drive. Sophomore Katherine Beger tipped a Badin pass and Glines was able to get under it for the interception. Badin, however, did not give up and forced the Weasels to punt after three straight downs. Again PW was able to hold the Badin offense. The Attitude faced a fourth and short with time running out on the clock.

B.P. attempted to throw for the first down but the pass was deflected. PW then took over with 40 seconds left in the game. The Weasels were able to seal the victory when Riddle connected on a 45-yard bomb to Graham. Despite the loss, Badin sophomore Jill Satanek was happy with their season. "We wished it could have ended better," said Satanek. "But we played the best we could!"

Glines was obviously happy with the Weasels' aggressive play. "Our mission was to beat the Attitude with attitude," said Glines. The mission was accomplished and with it came a championship for Pasquerilla West.

Women

continued from page 16

goal," said Connolly. The beginning of the season was filled with disappointment for the Irish when a few runners decided not to return to the team, and when two of their top runners were hindered with injuries. But the team continued to believe they could accomplish their goal of qualifying for the NCAA's. "The season seemed to be full of a lot of hardships but looking back I feel it worked out for the best," said Siegel. "People stepped up when they needed to and we came together as a team.

"It was rough at the beginning of the season," said Hood. "But as the season went on people's confidence was brought up, knowing we were actually good and could do well."

Senior quarterback Bethany Riddle threw for one score and caught another as Pasquerilla West captured the women's interhall crown.
Swimming strong at Wabash

Observer Staff Report

The Saint Mary's swim team got their season off to a great start this weekend in the Wabash Invitational. Participating in the meet was the University of Indianapolis, Wheaton College, DePauw University, Transylvania, Wabash, and Saint Mary's. Overall, the team placed about the same as last year, but they doubled their point total, according to coach Greg Janson.

The Belles were strong in endurance, but weak in speed total, according to coach Greg Janson. "It's a great way to start the season," Janson said. "We can go forever, but just not as fast as we'd like," Janson commented. However, once the team got comfortable, their swimming improved. "I saw a spark when the team gained confidence. This confidence from Saturday will go far," Janson said. "It was a good team meet," he added.

Freshman Shannon Kelleher broke the school record in the 500 free-style, and also in the 1650 free-style. She placed third in both events and also placed fourth in the 200 free-style.

Buckeyes forced to play waiting game

Associated Press

ANN ARBOR, Mich. - As Ohio State players and coaches gathered at the Woody Hayes Athletic Center, they were left with many questions after a 28-0 defeat at Michigan.

They returned for a brief meeting Saturday evening with an uncertain future.

The Buckeyes could have clinched a Rose Bowl berth with a victory over the Wolverines, but now must wait for the outcome of the Wisconsin-Michigan State game on Dec. 4 in Tokyo. A Wisconsin victory would send Ohio State to the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, Calif. But a Michigan State game on Dec. 4 in Tokyo might be Ohio State's last game. If Michigan State wins the Big Ten championship, the Buckeyes will be forced to play a waiting game, according to Buckeyes full-back Jeff Cohran. "I hate to depend on other teams to help us out."

If Wisconsin wins a Rose Bowl trip, the bowl picture becomes clouded for Buckeyes. "We're still in the Rose Bowl picture, but after that, I'm not ready to talk about anything," Ohio State athletic director Jim Jones said Sunday.

Jones said he had discussed the bowl situation with coach John Cooper, but he would not elaborate.

Massages requesting comment from Cooper were not returned Sunday.

"It's going to be hard waiting the next two weeks, but right now, we're dealing with this 5-0 record," quarterback Bob Hoying said. "To play all season and go undefeated until now, it's difficult to deal with."

The Buckeyes are at a disadvantage because they don't know who they will be playing in a bowl game or where it will be.

"We don't know who we're playing, so we can't really prepare for anybody," Cooper said Saturday.

Hoying said that after a few days off, the team will return to work on fundamentals.

Here are Ohio State's bowl options:

1. If Wisconsin loses or ties against Michigan State, Ohio State would be in the Rose Bowl.

2. If Wisconsin defeats Michigan State, the Buckeyes would represent the Big Ten in the Rose Bowl.

Ohio State and Wisconsin would end up tied for the league title with identical conference records of 5-1, 1-1, which beat Notre Dame 41-39. "We've won their last eight games and their offense is hitting on all cylinders," West Virginia safety Mike Callins said. "Glen Foley is hot. He's probably the hottest quarterback in the country right now."

In the first half, we just didn't play well," Hurricanes quarterback Ryan Collins said.

After big win West Virginia wants respect

By MATT HARVEY

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. - West Virginia remains undefeated and unranked. Despite its 17-14 victory over Miami, the Mountaineers (10-0) moved up only four spots in the Associated Press poll released Sunday. And as one of only three undefeated teams left in Division I-A, coach Don Nehlen believes his team deserves better.

"I believe that Nebraska or West Virginia should be No. 1, and if they're No. 1, I think we should be, too," Nehlen said Sunday.

"But Florida State, regardless of what you say ... they have a loss on their record. And the team they lost to already lost a game. But we still have to play Boston College. And Boston College is probably the hottest team in college football."

SMC swimming and basketball teams kick off seasons

Basketball drops two at Kalamazoo College

Swimming strong at Wabash

SMC swimming and basketball teams kick off seasons

After big win West Virginia wants respect

Basketball drops two at Kalamazoo College

SMC swimming and basketball teams kick off seasons

Tuesday, November 23rd

4:00 - 8:00 p.m.

Notre Dame Room (2nd Floor - Lafortune)

Or call: CPT Van Vliet @ #1-6265
Calvin and Hobbes

Now that the thinking cap has enlarged your brain, you can write your homework paper.

---

Bill Watterson

I knew I'll want my head in this bedsheet. That will allow any surprise. Your powerful brain must know something I don't.

---

The Far Side

Dave Kellett

Four Food Groups of the Apocalypse

---

Crossword

Across

1 Twelve: Compo form
6 Trump
14 Lever
15 Part of a p.m.
17 Film on the fruit of Paris's abduction?
18 Pedro's ens
19 Couches
20 A covenant signer: Neh. 10:26
21 Vessels of Twelve: Comb.
24 "We love," 1994 song
25 Nonsensical
26 Sun delivery

Down

1 Yankee Clipper's brother
4 Sudek
40 Six of authority
41 Sucker
42 Touch, in Torino
43 Squealed
44 Repose in the Reisch
45 Grade-crossing attendant
46 Do — say!
47 Film about citrus thieves?

---

Answer to Previous Puzzle

27 Standoff
28 Parties
29 Ships back to the homeland
30 Witty
31 Cherished ones
32 Sea that's a lake
33 Pro-critic John
34 Sea that's a lake
35 Salad choice
36 Stars of authority
37 Bachelor
38 Touch in Torino
39 Touch in Torino
40 Six of authority
41 Sucker
42 Touch, in Torino
43 Squealed
44 Repose in the Reisch
45 Grade-crossing attendant
46 Do — say!
47 Film about citrus thieves?
Eagles soar
Boston College upsets Notre Dame 41-39

Cross country teams make a run at NCAA titles
McWilliams a leader again

By DYLAN BARMER
Sport Writer

The Notre Dame men's cross country season will come to an end today, as the Irish compete in the NCAA Cross Country Championships at Lehigh University in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania.

The fifth-ranked Irish team is coming off a convincing win at the District IV Championships, and will be looking to improve on last year's sixth-place NCAA finish.

The Irish will be led in their quest for the NCAA title by the indomitable Mike McWilliams, who is vying for his fourth straight All-American selection, a feat that has never before been accomplished by an Irish runner. The senior captain finished 24th overall at last year's NCAA's, with a time of 31:34.1 in the 10,000 meter race.

McWilliams was also the Irish's top finisher the two previous seasons, coming in 34th as a freshman, and 17th in his sophomore season.

McWilliams' success is not lost on Coach Joe Piane, who said, "Mike has been a leader again this season, we are proud of him and his accomplishments."

"Mike is a great competitor and a great teammate," said senior captain Emily Kramer. "He has led us this year and we are looking forward to his performance at the NCAA championships."

The team accomplished this goal at the District meet when three Irish runners finished in the top 10. Junior Sarah Riley placed fourth overall with a time of 18:16.4. Teammate junior Kristi Kramer came in eighth at 18:30.7 and freshman standout Emily Hob Finney finished ninth in 18:32.9.

These runners were strongly supported by the efforts of junior Maureen Kelly, finishing 26th, freshman Carolyn Long, placing 33rd, and sophomore Amy Siegel, who finished 42nd overall. The Irish look to finish in the top four times out of the five meets this season.

"Sarah stepped up (at Districts) to show everyone what a great athlete she is," said Connelly. "She is one of the top runners in the country and is she can go to the championships believing in herself, I feel she will finish in the top 25."

The team looks to finish in the top 10, out of the competitive 25-team field. "The key to success at the NCAA tournament is for us to stay relaxed. Our team is capable of placing high—a top 10 finish for our team is not an unrealistic goal," said Piane.

Irish hockey upsets powerful Lake State

By AMY GRIFFIN
Sport Writer

The Notre Dame hockey team pulled off the biggest upset of the season last night, as they defeated the defending national champions, the LSSU Lakers, 4-2.

Nineteen seconds into the first period, junior forward Brett Bruininks notched the first goal of the season. Following that, the Irish struck quickly to tie the game at three, as their goalie, Greg Loudermilk, did not allow a goal for the entire period.

Despite the Irish's 5-2 victory, they knew they had to be on their game to take down the Lakers. "LSSU is a very tough team," said Bruininks. "We knew we had to be ready to play."

The win marks the first time in five years that Notre Dame has upset the Lakers, and it is a testament to the hard work and dedication of the players.

"We are proud of the team's performance tonight," said coach Ric Schafer. "This win is for all of our fans and supporters."

Notre Dame has a final game on Saturday against the University of Michigan, and the team is looking forward to another strong performance. "We have to keep working hard and staying focused," said Bruininks. "We have the talent and the ability to win this game."

The Irish are currently ranked ninth in the country, and they are looking to make a run at the national title. "We have the talent and the ability to win this game," said Bruininks. "We have to focus on the game at hand and not get ahead of ourselves."

See SPORTS EXTRA for more on the Irish's upset win over LSSU.

Inside SPORTS

Morrissy Wins
The Manor couples its basketball title last semester with a 9-7 over Stanford in the men's interhall football championship.

see page 12

PW Takes Crown
The Pasquerilla West Weasels win the women's interhall championship with a 13-7 win over Badin.

see page 13

The Observer/Sean Farnan
Monday, November 22, 1993