Klee celebrates literary, artistic creativity

By MYRNA MALONEY
News Writer

Beatrix Potter, noted illustrator and author of children's books, has remained a prominent female figure in the past 100 years because of her literary and artistic creativity, according to recently retired staff member Lee Klee.

Klee, who worked for 15 years as a children's librarian, related the life and work of Potter in a lecture held last night at the Saint Mary's library as part of this month's Sesquicentennial Celebration. "It is conceivable that some of these goals may not be achieved," Horning said. "But a number of these goals will be met by then although we don't know which ones come the most realistic. It depends on the prioritization. Any way these goals are met we support the necessary financial resources."

The event for the current "Honoring Tradition, Pioneering Change," by Kathleen Wiegert, faculty liaison to the LRPC.

The workshop will be divided into two parts. The morning session will have a structural focus, emphasizing the theory and practice of linking these objectives.

The afternoon session will feature both faculty members that have incorporated social concerns into their curricula and also representatives of a number of agencies that provide services to the community and that encourage student participation.

For more information contact Professor Maas Wiegert at 631-5142.

ND faculty tries to incorporate service

By MICHAEL MARTIN
News Writer

The Center for Social Concerns will hold its annual Notre Dame Faculty Senate for initial discussion.

"Linking Social Concerns with Academic Programs," according to Kathleen Maas Wiegert, faculty liaison to the LRPC.

The workshop will deal with major questions such as why and how to incorporate service into the teaching curriculum and advising. Many accomplishments is her tradition in the cultural arts.

The Center for Social Concerns, the Committee on National and Community Service, and the Provost of the University will allow a limited number of honors to be made available to professors who attend the workshop and agree to integrate community awareness with their curricular goals.

Due to the increased national awareness and the initiatives of the Clinton administration, people are thinking about their relationships with their fellow human being on more than ever, said Wiegert.

Service is larger than the diagram of someone like feeding the poor and clothing the naked," she added. "Service is also our addressing the multiplicity of needs in the communities in ways that use our expertise."

According to Klee, Potter will be featured in the workshop as part of this month's Sesquicentennial Celebration honoring female figures in history.

The faculty Senate Benefits Committee distributed the Annual Notre Dame Faculty Senate Compensation Report for the 1992-93 academic year to the Senate's next meeting in January. The Senate's Student Affairs Committee, chaired by Professor James Collins, is scheduled to meet with the student representatives for "The Guide" to discuss increased faculty support for the project.

The Academic Affairs Committee, chaired by Professor David Burrell, is planning to review questionnaires sent out earlier this year to University departments regarding the position of such departments on the Catholic nature of the University as outlined in the University's Mission Statement.

The Ad Hoc Committee on the Senate Faculty Self Study discussed the questionnaire it distributed to the senators. The questionnaire's intent, according to Committee Chair Professor James Collins, is to rate the merits and limitations of the senate's recent activity. A suggestion was made that the senate consider bringing in outside evaluators to aid in the committee's work.

Faculty discusses Annual Compensation Report

By DAVID CLAIRMONT
News Writer

The Faculty Senate Benefits Committee, chaired by Professor John Affleck-Graves, is planning to discuss increased faculty support for the project.

The Academic Affairs Committee, chaired by Professor David Burrell, is planning to review questionnaires sent out earlier this year to University departments regarding the position of such departments on the Catholic nature of the University as outlined in the University's Mission Statement.

The Ad Hoc Committee on the Senate Faculty Self Study discussed the questionnaire it distributed to the senators. The questionnaire's intent, according to Committee Chair Professor James Collins, is to rate the merits and limitations of the senate's recent activity. A suggestion was made that the senate consider bringing in outside evaluators to aid in the committee's work.
No more cynicism in this space

I find it an extreme shame that the Inside Column has evolved into the mental playpen for a bunch of crying babies. Most of the stories which appear in this conspicuous space do nothing but irritate, incite, and incite. Rarely does anyone say anything positive about anything.

I find this profoundly disturbing. Is this whole thing really not that easy to put pen to words of sarcastic complaint. All too often the Inside Column is just a cliched revamping of age-old student complaints. With an idealistic heart I hope that this situation can be remedied, and as a gesture of good will, I would like to start off the new era with a positive note. Before I start it, I would like to say a few words:

First, does it not stick about that Cavanaugh thing? I mean, the nerve of that backward administration! Next time you know they will be turned out in the street. For a good thing they didn't try Zahn or Dillen or the dome might be burned down again for the first time in about a hundred years!

Moving along, what's up with those unbelievable parking prices? That place must be run by retired bookies from Las Vegas. Rumor has it that soon the parking will be a cover charge at Scammies (I mean Hammes), which is just cause in my mind for renaming the place the "Crackerbox".

After your ordeal at the bookstore you might want a decent meal, right? So you head to the dining hall expecting something edible. Guess again. The dining hall is the cream that even a vulture would turn its nose up at.

And how about that guy who we said should have been turned out in the street. We got good and foiled with sheep and goats after hoisting Florida State to the nation's Most charming. Hey buddy, we had a good time after the game. OK? And besides, everybody knows that goal posts aren't human sized.

I don't think the administration has anything to worry about, especially in this space. Farriers take care of that. And sheep and goats just hate twenty-four hour luges anyways.

And the snowball rules? Do I understand correctly? We cannot throw snowballs? Not even a vulture would turn its nose up at. It's twenty-four hour luges anways.

Besides, everybody knows that goal posts aren't human sized.

I prefer a good agreement which can survive without any future problems and is reached weeks later, rather than an agreement which may not survive and which will create more outbursts, said Ziyad Abu Ziyad, a Palestinian negotiator. Officials say they may take another summit between Rabah and Arafa next week. I'm sure there will be a smooth way for activating the peace agreement.

Under the accord, Israel is to start withdrawing its forces in the next four weeks. But with violence increasing in the territories, Israeli leaders are not yet ready to rejoice.

Victories boost Clinton can do image

Recent victories for the White House have revived the presidential campaign of whether President Clinton can get things done, according to a new poll that also shows a string of good economic news hasn't convinced most Americans the recovery is for real. Sixty-three percent of respondents in the new survey said Clinton was able to get things done in Washington, up dramatically from 36 percent who though so last summer.

But with violence increasing in the territories, Israeli leaders are not yet ready to rejoice.

Abductions, killings leave youngsters terrified

New research casts doubt on a highly publicized analysis that average temperature was about four degrees higher than 115,000 years ago, a period when the global environment was in a state of warming. Such rapid shifts in climate have been little studied and occurred at times of rapid change in the earth's magnetic field, which controls the distribution of sun's heat.

Indiana weather forecast

Thursday, Dec. 9

The Accu-Weather Forecast for deposit conditions and high temperature.

INDIANA Weather

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Location</th>
<th>Temp (°F)</th>
<th>Humidity (%)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Lafayette</td>
<td>50</td>
<td>70</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lafayette</td>
<td>52</td>
<td>75</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lafayette</td>
<td>54</td>
<td>80</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lafayette</td>
<td>56</td>
<td>85</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lafayette</td>
<td>56</td>
<td>85</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lafayette</td>
<td>54</td>
<td>70</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lafayette</td>
<td>52</td>
<td>65</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Lafayette</td>
<td>50</td>
<td>60</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

NATIONAL Weather

The Accu-Weather Forecast for deposit conditions and high temperature.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Location</th>
<th>Temp (°F)</th>
<th>Humidity (%)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Atlantic City</td>
<td>43</td>
<td>50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Atlanta</td>
<td>44</td>
<td>51</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Atlanta</td>
<td>45</td>
<td>52</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Atlanta</td>
<td>46</td>
<td>53</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Atlanta</td>
<td>47</td>
<td>54</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Atlanta</td>
<td>48</td>
<td>55</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Atlanta</td>
<td>49</td>
<td>56</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Atlantic City</td>
<td>42</td>
<td>49</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Atlanta</td>
<td>43</td>
<td>50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Atlanta</td>
<td>44</td>
<td>51</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Atlanta</td>
<td>45</td>
<td>52</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Atlanta</td>
<td>46</td>
<td>53</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Atlanta</td>
<td>47</td>
<td>54</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Atlanta</td>
<td>48</td>
<td>55</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Atlanta</td>
<td>49</td>
<td>56</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

WASHING

WASHINGTON

HOT WEATHER STATIONARY SHOWERS RAIN T-STORMS FLURRIES SNOW ICE SUNNY PT. CLOUDY CLOUDY

West Bank, with full autonomy due by April. But with violence increasing in the territories, Israeli leaders are not yet ready to rejoice.
Gunman kills 4, wounds 19 in crowded commuter train terror

By FARRELL KRAMER

GARDEN CITY, N.Y.

The gunman accused of opening fire on a commuter train was driven by racial hatred and waited until the train left New York City to avoid embarrassing Mayor David Dinkins, authorities said today.

The black suspect, accused of killing four passengers and wounding 19 others during the three-minute spree, carried notes expressing his hatred for Negroes,' said Nassau County Police Commissioner Donald Kane.

The four pages of notes mention New York Gov. Mario Cuomo, rich black attorneys, "so-called civil rights leaders" and a number of institutions, including the workers' compensation office, Kane said.

Passengers ran screaming for the exits as the stony-faced man wielding a semiautomatic 9 mm pistol walked down the aisle of the packed commuter train Tuesday evening, shooting at random and pausing only to reload.

Kane said he thought all the victims were white or Asian.

Three passengers tackled the gunman as he tried to reload after the train came to a stop in the suburban Long Island town of Garden City. One of his captors quoted the man as saying, "I've done a bad thing," the Daily News reported.

The gunman was carrying a bag with another 100 rounds, Kane said. He held up at least one; his gun held 16 bullets, Kane said.

The suspect, Colin Ferguson, 35, of the New York City borough of Brooklyn, is a native of Jamaica. He is single, unemployed and previously attended Adelphi University on Long Island. He has no criminal record, police said.

Ferguson appeared in court on Thursday with a bond of $5 million, and was ordered held without bail. He stood quietly, hands cuffed behind him, during the hearing in Nassau County Court in Hauppauge.

Authorities said he boarded the train in each direction, crushing 18 passengers. The train rumbled through Nassau County, Carl Petersen, a banker, was in a window seat up front, doing paperwork.

Gene Mason, an insurance underwriter, and Kevin Blum, a bond trader, were near the doors, waiting for the Merrick Avenue stop.

Then Colin Ferguson, an unemployed Jamaican immigrant, stood up.

Police say Ferguson boarded the train at Jamaica station in Queens, carrying a 9mm Ruger semiautomatic pistol and a bag of ammunition. In his pockets were four pages of drawings that suggested an obsession with race and an irrational anger at people he had never met.

According to police, he boarded the train to kill. But the slaughter could not occur in the city. Ferguson, according to his notes, had too much respect for black Mayor David Dinkins.

So he did not explode when the conductor asked him for a few bucks for the difference between his off-peak ticket and the rush hour fare.

But as the 5:33 left New Hyde Park station Tuesday, the gunman rose from his seat on the right of the aisle in the back of the car. Without saying a word, he began shooting passengers sitting to his left.

In front, Mason heard pops. Firecrackers, thought Blum. To Petersen, the sounds behind him sounded like claps.

He looked back and beheld the surreal. An ordinary-looking black man, medium height and build, was shooting passengers — in the neck, the throat, the arms — as calmly as a conductor taking tickets.

"He would turn one way and shoot, then turn the other and shoot, and I thought to myself, 'This can't be happening,'" Mason said.

But — as one passenger yelled — "This is real life, evil. It is ugly.

Mason and Petersen and everyone else dove to the floor.

Authorities said he boarded the train at Jamaica station in Queens, carrying a 9mm Ruger semiautomatic pistol and a bag of ammunition. In his pockets were four pages of drawings that suggested an obsession with race and an irrational anger at people he had never met.

According to police, he boarded the train to kill. But the slaughter could not occur in the city. Ferguson, according to his notes, had too much respect for black Mayor David Dinkins.

So he did not explode when the conductor asked him for a few bucks for the difference between his off-peak ticket and the rush hour fare.

But as the 5:33 left New Hyde Park station Tuesday, the gunman rose from his seat on the right of the aisle in the back of the car. Without saying a word, he began shooting passengers sitting to his left.

In front, Mason heard pops. Firecrackers, thought Blum. To Petersen, the sounds behind him sounded like claps.

He looked back and beheld the surreal. An ordinary-looking black man, medium height and build, was shooting passengers — in the neck, the throat, the arms — as calmly as a conductor taking tickets.

"He would turn one way and shoot, then turn the other and shoot, and I thought to myself, 'This can't be happening,'" Mason said.

But — as one passenger yelled — "This is real life, evil. It is ugly.

Mason and Petersen and everyone else dove to the floor.

Firecrackers, thought Blum. To Petersen, the sounds behind him sounded like claps.

He looked back and beheld the surreal. An ordinary-looking black man, medium height and build, was shooting passengers — in the neck, the throat, the arms — as calmly as a conductor taking tickets.

"He would turn one way and shoot, then turn the other and shoot, and I thought to myself, 'This can't be happening,'" Mason said.

But — as one passenger yelled — "This is real life, evil. It is ugly.

Mason and Petersen and everyone else dove to the floor.

"He would turn one way and shoot, then turn the other and shoot, and I thought to myself, 'This can't be happening,'" Mason said.

But — as one passenger yelled — "This is real life, evil. It is ugly.

Mason and Petersen and everyone else dove to the floor.

"He would turn one way and shoot, then turn the other and shoot, and I thought to myself, 'This can't be happening,'" Mason said.

But — as one passenger yelled — "This is real life, evil. It is ugly.

Mason and Petersen and everyone else dove to the floor.

"He would turn one way and shoot, then turn the other and shoot, and I thought to myself, 'This can't be happening,'" Mason said.

But — as one passenger yelled — "This is real life, evil. It is ugly.

Mason and Petersen and everyone else dove to the floor.

"He would turn one way and shoot, then turn the other and shoot, and I thought to myself, 'This can't be happening,'" Mason said.

But — as one passenger yelled — "This is real life, evil. It is ugly.

Mason and Petersen and everyone else dove to the floor.

"He would turn one way and shoot, then turn the other and shoot, and I thought to myself, 'This can't be happening,'" Mason said.

But — as one passenger yelled — "This is real life, evil. It is ugly.

Mason and Petersen and everyone else dove to the floor.

"He would turn one way and shoot, then turn the other and shoot, and I thought to myself, 'This can't be happening,'" Mason said.

But — as one passenger yelled — "This is real life, evil. It is ugly.

Mason and Petersen and everyone else dove to the floor.

"He would turn one way and shoot, then turn the other and shoot, and I thought to myself, 'This can't be happening,'" Mason said.

But — as one passenger yelled — "This is real life, evil. It is ugly.

Mason and Petersen and everyone else dove to the floor.

"He would turn one way and shoot, then turn the other and shoot, and I thought to myself, 'This can't be happening,'" Mason said.

But — as one passenger yelled — "This is real life, evil. It is ugly.

Mason and Petersen and everyone else dove to the floor.

"He would turn one way and shoot, then turn the other and shoot, and I thought to myself, 'This can't be happening,'" Mason said.

But — as one passenger yelled — "This is real life, evil. It is ugly.

Mason and Petersen and everyone else dove to the floor.

"He would turn one way and shoot, then turn the other and shoot, and I thought to myself, 'This can't be happening,'" Mason said.

But — as one passenger yelled — "This is real life, evil. It is ugly.

Mason and Petersen and everyone else dove to the floor.

"He would turn one way and shoot, then turn the other and shoot, and I thought to myself, 'This can't be happening,'" Mason said.

But — as one passenger yelled — "This is real life, evil. It is ugly.

Mason and Petersen and everyone else dove to the floor.

"He would turn one way and shoot, then turn the other and shoot, and I thought to myself, 'This can't be happening,'" Mason said.

But — as one passenger yelled — "This is real life, evil. It is ugly.

Mason and Petersen and everyone else dove to the floor.

"He would turn one way and shoot, then turn the other and shoot, and I thought to myself, 'This can't be happening,'" Mason said.

But — as one passenger yelled — "This is real life, evil. It is ugly.

Mason and Petersen and everyone else dove to the floor.

"He would turn one way and shoot, then turn the other and shoot, and I thought to myself, 'This can't be happening,'" Mason said.

But — as one passenger yelled — "This is real life, evil. It is ugly.

Mason and Petersen and everyone else dove to the floor.

"He would turn one way and shoot, then turn the other and shoot, and I thought to myself, 'This can't be happening,'" Mason said.

But — as one passenger yelled — "This is real life, evil. It is ugly.

Mason and Petersen and everyone else dove to the floor.

"He would turn one way and shoot, then turn the other and shoot, and I thought to myself, 'This can't be happening,'" Mason said.

But — as one passenger yelled — "This is real life, evil. It is ugly.

Mason and Petersen and everyone else dove to the floor.

"He would turn one way and shoot, then turn the other and shoot, and I thought to myself, 'This can't be happening,'" Mason said.

But — as one passenger yelled — "This is real life, evil. It is ugly.

Mason and Petersen and everyone else dove to the floor.

"He would turn one way and shoot, then turn the other and shoot, and I thought to myself, 'This can't be happening,'" Mason said.

But — as one passenger yelled — "This is real life, evil. It is ugly.

Mason and Petersen and everyone else dove to the floor.

"He would turn one way and shoot, then turn the other and shoot, and I thought to myself, 'This can't be happening,'" Mason said.

But — as one passenger yelled — "This is real life, evil. It is ugly.

Mason and Petersen and everyone else dove to the floor.

"He would turn one way and shoot, then turn the other and shoot, and I thought to myself, 'This can't be happening,'" Mason said.

But — as one passenger yelled — "This is real life, evil. It is ugly.

Mason and Petersen and everyone else dove to the floor.

"He would turn one way and shoot, then turn the other and shoot, and I thought to myself, 'This can't be happening,'" Mason said.

But — as one passenger yelled — "This is real life, evil. It is ugly.

Mason and Petersen and everyone else dove to the floor.

"He would turn one way and shoot, then turn the other and shoot, and I thought to myself, 'This can't be happening,'" Mason said.

But — as one passenger yelled — "This is real life, evil. It is ugly.

Mason and Petersen and everyone else dove to the floor.

"He would turn one way and shoot, then turn the other and shoot, and I thought to myself, 'This can't be happening,'" Mason said.
Supreme Court scrutinizes abortion clinic

By RICHARD CARELLI

WASHINGTON

Protesters who employ the tactic known as "Operation Rescue," to stop abortions, have been told the Supreme Court yesterday that their actions violate the law.

Lawyers for the National Organization for Women and the Justice Department argued that the law applies when peaceful political protest escalates to violence.

But a lawyer representing anti-abortion groups and their leaders said Congress never intended the law to be used in a way that threatens freedom of speech.

Lower courts have thrown out a nationwide class-action lawsuit that invoked the anti-racketeering law. Now, the administration is asking the justices to reinstate the lawsuit.

Ray Clayton, a Chicago lawyer representing NOW, said the lawsuit's defendants — Operation Rescue, the Pro-Life Action League and others — members of "a nationwide conspiracy of terror" engaged in "forcible, violent conduct" or "any means necessary" to stop abortions.

Justice Department lawyer Miguel Estrada said the courts' rulings threaten to "really cripple" government efforts to get at terrorists and their conspiracies.

Petitioner NOW, the Chicago-based 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals ruled that RICO "requires either an economically motivated enterprise or economically motivated predicate acts." The appeals court said the anti-abortion groups had no such motivation.

Two radically differing views of anti-abortion protesters have emerged from the closely watched case.

Anti-abortion leaders such as Randall Terry of Operation Rescue and Joseph Scheidler of the Pro-Life Action League say they are civil rights activists, not terrorists. Distance themselves from those responsible for killing Dr. David Gunn outside a Pensacola, Fla., abortion clinic this year and other violent acts.

But Patricia Ireland, NOW's president, said the case "is not about peaceful protesters who pray on the sidewalks," but about "bricks through the windows and bombs in the night."

Congress is expected to pass a law soon giving new federal protection to abortion clinics, their employees and patients. But the law, already approved by the Senate, would not allow lawsuits against alleged national conspiracies and their leaders.

A Supreme Court decision is expected by July. The case is NOW vs. Scheidler, 92-780.

Translation

HRH ROSENTHAL

SPACE CENTER, Houston

With new eyeglasses installed, the Hubble Space Telescope's repairs were nearly complete Wednesday and spacerocker Jeffrey Hoffman exclaimed: "We've almost done it."

"Only a few tasks remained for the fifth and final spacewalk overnight — the third for the teams of Hoffman and Story Musgrave."

Happy NASA managers planned to mark the end of the sky-high repair effort with two events as symbolic as those were vital: raising the telescope's orbit slightly and spreading its new solar wings. "We've got basically a new telescope up there," said Hoffman, an astronaut.

"It's going to be real exciting for the astronomical community and for the whole world to see what Hubble really can do with a good set of eyeballs."

Hoffman and Musgrave were in an electronics unit for one of the solar panels put in place Monday and another electronic system.

The job was time-consuming because of the difficulty of making electrical connections with clunky space-gloved hands.

The astronauts also had an unforeseen task, installing a control box.

"We've got basically a new solar wing attached to an orbit four miles higher — with twice the power," said Hoffman.

Installation of the mirror package was the final step, at least for the crew of the Endeavour, toward correcting Hubble's fuzzy vision.

"It is extremely difficult to keep from getting excited right now," he said. "But I gotta try."

Take the keys

Call a cab.

Take a stand.

Friends don't let friends drive drunk!

Happy Holidays to all the Ho-Ho-Ho's on 27th Floor McCordelles

Love,

St. Aene, St. Jane, St. Katy

& St. Maureen

End of page 1

LOOK

continued from page 1

LRRC

• Preparing proposals for public service projects to enable current students and graduates to repay student loans

• Improving classrooms, faculty offices, and administrative offices

• Undertaking a technology program to meet the needs of students, faculty and staff

• Developing a master campus plan to determine immediate needs regarding construction of new buildings and modifications on old ones

• Increasing endowment to support the operating budget

Look for the eight page Sports Extra in tomorrow's Observer!

More Selection

More Savings

1841 SOUTH BEND AVE 277-8338

MORRISON

The Definitive Otis Redding

John Coltrane

The Sand And The Beach

Frank Zappa

Tracks Has Hundreds of CDs Under Ten Dollars

FTS

$53.99 4 CD SET

$25.99 2 CD SET

THE HISTORY OF FUNK IN YOUR FACE!

$9.99 11 VOLUME COMPACT DISC

THE BAND

$11.99

IFHAHK ZAPPA

$11.99

$11.99

$11.99

$11.99

$11.99

$11.99

$11.99
Clinton signs NAFTA, urges GATT

By TOM RAUM
Associated Press

WASHINGTON
President Clinton signed legislation Wednesday creating the world's largest free-trade zone and used the ceremony to prod other nations to "seize the moment and close the deal" on liberalized global trading rules.

With considerable fanfare and eight pens, Clinton signed the North American Free Trade Agreement, which links the United States, Canada and Mexico into a single market.

"This whole issue turns out to be a defining moment for our nation," Clinton told an audience as well as to the community as well as to the world's largest and richest trading bloc, covering 360 million people and stretching from the tropics to the Arctic.

The United States has had a separate free-trade agreement with Canada since 1989.

Clinton used the ceremony — held in a government auditorium because too many people were invited to fit into a room in the White House — to call for completing 116-nation trade talks in Geneva.

Expressing frustration with continuing snags, Clinton said: "We are prepared to make our contributions to the success of this negotiation. But we insist that other nations do their part as well. We must not squander this opportunity. I call on all the nations of the world to seize this moment and close the deal on a strong GATT agreement within the next week."

"I say to everyone, even to our negotiators: Don't rest, don't sleep, close the deal," he added.

The trade agreement already has been ratified by Canada and Mexico.

It takes effect Jan. 1 and over stretching from the tropics to the Arctic.

"This whole issue turned out to be a defining moment for our nation," Clinton told an audience as well as to the community as well as to the world's largest and richest trading bloc, covering 360 million people and stretching from the tropics to the Arctic.

The United States has had a separate free-trade agreement with Canada since 1989.

Clinton used the ceremony — held in a government auditorium because too many people were invited to fit into a room in the White House — to call for completing 116-nation trade talks in Geneva.

Expressing frustration with continuing snags, Clinton said: "We are prepared to make our contributions to the success of this negotiation. But we insist that other nations do their part as well. We must not squander this opportunity. I call on all the nations of the world to seize this moment and close the deal on a strong GATT agreement within the next week."

"I say to everyone, even to our negotiators: Don't rest, don't sleep, close the deal," he added.

The trade agreement already has been ratified by Canada and Mexico.

It takes effect Jan. 1 and over stretching from the tropics to the Arctic.
Morale drops, tensions rise in Algeria

By ELAINE GANLEY

ALGIERS, Algeria Morale is low, nerves are on edge. And no end is in sight to the guerrilla war by Islamic extremists that has pushed Algeria to the brink of chaos.

People count the friends and relatives who have fled, disappeared or been killed.

Two years ago, rebel fundamentalists paraded around the capital with conquering troops after winning the first round of parliamentary elections. Today, they’re in jail, in hiding or joining the “jihad,” an increasingly nasty holy war now said to feature mutilations and other stare tactics to bolster its ranks.

Allegations of fundamentalist brutality are countered by equally grim reports of torture and executions by government security forces.

Algeria is becoming a Kafkaesque world of confusion and loss, where nearly everyone is afraid.

It is still a mystery who will take power Jan. 1, when the military-backed ruling council is scheduled to step down. No one seems to know the way out of the crisis sparked in January 1992 when the nation’s first free parliamentary elections were canceled to thwart an impending victory by the Islamic Salvation Front, the main fundamentalist party.

Diplomats cautiously raise the possibility that an Islamic state could arise from the chaos or that the bloodletting could degenerate into civil war.

“Those taken by force will return by force,” reads graffiti in the dirt-poor fundamentalist bastion of Guelma, part of a network of Algerian suburbs that produces recruits for the rebellion.

Estimates of the dead — civilians, security forces and Islamic radicals — range from more than 2,000 to 4,500 in 22 months of violence.

The warriors are making good on their threat to kill foreigners remaining in Algeria after a Nov. 31 deadline. Four have died since then, 13 since late September.

There is growing speculation the army, which controls the army, could take control in January.

“We are in a world of all possibilities,” said an official close to Prime Minister Redha Malek. “The one thing we will not allow is the country be abandoned to a sort of chaos.”

The army’s presence has been visible since the elections were canceled. Roadblocks and jeeps carrying masked soldiers, their rifles bristling from windows, are now part of the busy street scene. House-to-house searches and bus checks are part of daily life.

Even the Cheva ski resort, a getaway for Algerians trying to escape crowded housing, has been billed a danger zone.

“American action movies are small-time cinema compared to this,” said a police officer at a station near the Casbah, whose winding alleys and tomblike homes have sheltered insurgents.

Police officers, judges, journalists and foreigners, all concerned potential targets, have transformed their lifestyles in a cat-and-mouse game with an invisible enemy.

For some, the real culprit is a vague mafia of power brokers and small-time cinema compared to an Islamic state that has been working in Algeria for 30 years of corrupt leadership by the former ruling party, the National Liberation Front.

The army’s presence has been visible since the elections were canceled. Roadblocks and jeeps carrying masked soldiers, their rifles bristling from windows, are now part of the busy street scene. House-to-house searches and bus checks are part of daily life.

Even the Cheva ski resort, a getaway for Algerians trying to escape crowded housing, has been billed a danger zone.

“American action movies are small-time cinema compared to this,” said a police officer at a station near the Casbah, whose winding alleys and tomblike homes have sheltered insurgents.

Police officers, judges, journalists and foreigners, all concerned potential targets, have transformed their lifestyles in a cat-and-mouse game with an invisible enemy.

For some, the real culprit is a vague mafia of power brokers and small-time cinema compared to an Islamic state that has been working in Algeria for 30 years of corrupt leadership by the former ruling party, the National Liberation Front.

The army’s presence has been visible since the elections were canceled. Roadblocks and jeeps carrying masked soldiers, their rifles bristling from windows, are now part of the busy street scene. House-to-house searches and bus checks are part of daily life.

Even the Cheva ski resort, a getaway for Algerians trying to escape crowded housing, has been billed a danger zone.

“American action movies are small-time cinema compared to this,” said a police officer at a station near the Casbah, whose winding alleys and tomblike homes have sheltered insurgents.

Police officers, judges, journalists and foreigners, all concerned potential targets, have transformed their lifestyles in a cat-and-mouse game with an invisible enemy.

For some, the real culprit is a vague mafia of power brokers and small-time cinema compared to an Islamic state that has been working in Algeria for 30 years of corrupt leadership by the former ruling party, the National Liberation Front.

The army’s presence has been visible since the elections were canceled. Roadblocks and jeeps carrying masked soldiers, their rifles bristling from windows, are now part of the busy street scene. House-to-house searches and bus checks are part of daily life.

Even the Cheva ski resort, a getaway for Algerians trying to escape crowded housing, has been billed a danger zone.

“American action movies are small-time cinema compared to this,” said a police officer at a station near the Casbah, whose winding alleys and tomblike homes have sheltered insurgents.

Police officers, judges, journalists and foreigners, all concerned potential targets, have transformed their lifestyles in a cat-and-mouse game with an invisible enemy.

For some, the real culprit is a vague mafia of power brokers and small-time cinema compared to an Islamic state that has been working in Algeria for 30 years of corrupt leadership by the former ruling party, the National Liberation Front.

The army’s presence has been visible since the elections were canceled. Roadblocks and jeeps carrying masked soldiers, their rifles bristling from windows, are now part of the busy street scene. House-to-house searches and bus checks are part of daily life.

Even the Cheva ski resort, a getaway for Algerians trying to escape crowded housing, has been billed a danger zone.

“American action movies are small-time cinema compared to this,” said a police officer at a station near the Casbah, whose winding alleys and tomblike homes have sheltered insurgents.

Police officers, judges, journalists and foreigners, all concerned potential targets, have transformed their lifestyles in a cat-and-mouse game with an invisible enemy.

For some, the real culprit is a vague mafia of power brokers and small-time cinema compared to an Islamic state that has been working in Algeria for 30 years of corrupt leadership by the former ruling party, the National Liberation Front.

The army’s presence has been visible since the elections were canceled. Roadblocks and jeeps carrying masked soldiers, their rifles bristling from windows, are now part of the busy street scene. House-to-house searches and bus checks are part of daily life.

Even the Cheva ski resort, a getaway for Algerians trying to escape crowded housing, has been billed a danger zone.

“American action movies are small-time cinema compared to this,” said a police officer at a station near the Casbah, whose winding alleys and tomblike homes have sheltered insurgents.

Police officers, judges, journalists and foreigners, all concerned potential targets, have transformed their lifestyles in a cat-and-mouse game with an invisible enemy.

For some, the real culprit is a vague mafia of power brokers and small-time cinema compared to an Islamic state that has been working in Algeria for 30 years of corrupt leadership by the former ruling party, the National Liberation Front.
CLOSE YOUR ACCOUNT WITH THE BANK OF DAD.

OKAY, SO YOU'RE NOT INDEPENDENTLY WEALTHY, BUT YOU CAN BE INDEPENDENT. WITH DISCOVER® CARD YOU GET A $1,000 CREDIT LINE, NO ANNUAL FEE, AND WE DON'T CARE WHAT TIME YOU GET HOME.

IF YOU DON'T GOT IT, GET IT.
LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

‘Quota’ meant realism, not sexism

Dear Editor,

Though I agree with one of the points made by Ashley Shannon in her retort to John Ruskusky’s letter about the conversion of his dorm (“Cavanaugh an example of dysfunctional Notre Dame family,” the Observer, December 2, 1993), many more of her points are completely off-base.

I will agree that the men of Cavanaugh deserve sympathy for their forced abandonment of their home. I too would not look kindly on being kicked out of my dorm. But to pass off his opinions about “a group of quotas” moving into his dorm as unfair to him as well as those not holding the opinions of those of us in isolation.

First of all, quotas have everything to do with the situation. They are the main reason why more women have been admitted to Notre Dame over the past few years. The administration has announced that Notre Dame community its intent to stabilize the male-female ratio on campus to as close to 50-50 as possible. Without guidelines stipulating how many more females must be admitted in order to achieve this goal, how does Miss Shannon propose that the University accomplish this?

An important fact to remember in this situation is that though the number of admitted female students might increase, this is no reason to assume that the quality of those admitted will decline. Many overly-qualified applicants are turned down for admission to Notre Dame every year. The quality of the female students admitted to Notre Dame will not go down as a result of increased numbers.

As another point which I wish to address is his accusation of sexist opinions held by Mr. Ruskusky. After reading his letter, I felt that Mr. Ruskusky had produced a high-quality and extremely accurate description of the situation regarding Cavanaugh Hall.

KATIE MORRILL
Junior, Welsh Hall

Are we no longer a vital part of the Notre Dame community?

Dear Editor,

We, the London Programme residents of Cavanaugh Hall, have a question to ask.

A vicious rumor has been circulating around London. Everywhere we turn, pubs, the alums, the Underground, people are whispering about our dorm. They say that “Nough” has been converted to a female residence. Is this true, since not a single one of us has received written notification of Ms. O’Flara’s edict?

If these rumors are in fact true, why have we been ignored? Are we no longer a vital part of the Notre Dame community?

Any help the Observer could give in answering these questions would be greatly appreciated by each of us in isolation.

Thank you.

SEAN BARD
MICHAEL BARTISH
SEAN CAHILL
JOHN CHUNG
THOMAS HICKS
TYLER HOWER
MATTHEW JANZARUK
CHRISTOPHER POE
The London Program

Write the songs to make the whole world sing.

Friday’s is The Observer’s last issue of 1993. Don’t forget to submit.
Observer.Viewpoint.1@nd.edu
PO Box 9 • Notre Dame

GARY TRUDEAU
QUOTE OF THE DAY

“A ll men are frauds. The only difference between them is that some admit it. I myself deny it.”

- H.L. Mencken
Attempts to drive safely, whether impaired by alcohol or other substances, are not always possible. The young driver, struggling to remain conscious and maintain control under duress, may have impaired reaction times and motor functions. The driver may be unable to comprehend the danger of the situation or may lack the mental capability to execute proper traffic laws.

The student body at Notre Dame must continue to coordinate with the University in establishing an effective anti-drunk driving campaign that will effectively address this issue. This is not the time for complacency or attempts to skirt the issue. Avoidance of drunk driving is a must. Students must see the issue as a public safety concern and not just a personal matter. If a student knows someone who is to drive or who has driven in a drunk driving situation, it is extremely important that students intervene to ensure that a possible drunk driving situation is avoided. The student body must work hard in the months to come to prevent a tragedy.

THOMAS J. BOSNIK
Senior
Cavanaugh Hall
9) Digable Planets, "Reachin."

8) Darling Buds, "Erotica."

7) Lewis, vocals

6) Pharcyde, "Bizarre.

5) Lenny Kravitz, "Mama Said.

4) Jamiroquai, "Emergency on Planet Earth."

3) Jamiroquai, "Emergency on Planet Earth.

2) New Order, "Breathe."

1) Journey, "Greatest Hits."

ROB'S PICKS

COLLEEN'S PICKS

10) Tripping Daisy. "Having much potential, Tripping Daisy will eventually make it onto the heavy rotation play lists of radio stations around the country.

"It may not be a household name like R.E.M., but their popularity is starting to grow. The sound that they carry through the entire CD is completely different from the norm. Some of their favorite songs on the CD are "Change of Mind," "On the Ground," and "My Umbrella." If you're in the mood to listen to something different, check this one out."

"With the theme of differing from the norm, Blues Traveler, "Save His Soul."

"Save His Soul" would make a great final exam study break.

"ND/SMC Collegiate Choirs, "Choirs, One Voice." This CD is a little out of the ordinary in a Top Ten CD list, but there's so much talent, hard work, time and dedication represented on it that it deserves a spot on the list.

"The Notre Dame Glee Club sings a great version of "Emergency on Planet Earth" (originally performed by Carly Simon).

In addition, there is the Saint Mary's Women's Choir performing "The Bells of Saint Mary's" and the Liturgical Choir singing "Ave Maria."

"If the above isn't enough to convince you to check it out, then think about the people you'll be supporting if you do.

"7) "Aladdin" has captured not only the hearts of animation fans, but also music lovers everywhere. It contains songs that end up on mix tapes forever.

"Another Day in Paradise" is one of the few songs that the audience always lobes.

"Aladdin" is a rock classic you'll never get tired of hearing.

"If you like jazz, you'll find The New Order appealing. If you like acoustic guitar, you'll listen to The Sisters of Mercy and Emily Lordi over and over.

"If you like brass and a driving beat, you'll want to check out the Crescent City Brass Band."

"If you like rock on "Incubus." Bands that can be danceable, folksy, and hardcore, David Baerwald has written his own songs for every taste.

"I won't even touch."

"In a world marked by environmental, social and lovey-dovey lyrics, psychedelic bass and a horn section, it is so in synch with lead singer Jay Kay's vocals that they seem to be having a conversation. Jamiroquai caused me to admire songwriters more than ever, and the Uninvited is one of the best CD's I've ever heard.

"It was more than a CD and a multitude of synthesis was their main aspect of synthesized sound. They make a great deal of synching and bringing harmony to the song."

"Rather than attempting to ignore the fact that they are now dominating today's music scene, New Order decided to admit it humbly and accept it with grace.

"Republic" mixes melancholy lyrics created one ordering on ecstasy, resulting in simply wonderful dance music that you can think to.

"10) Tripping Daisy, "Triage.

"Triage is a term used by govemments to describe the U.S. treatment of third world countries, and Baerwald writes lyrics read like one angry third world resident.

"He has no boundaries and explores all realms of history and politics. Eight of "Triage's" ten songs explore current social themes of racism, greed and corruption, gentrification, and the current American issues that most artists won't even touch.

"With an almost palpable intensity, he is treated to a dosage of optimism as well.

"Socially, politically, lyrically and vocally untouchable and sporting his biggest hits live in concert will almost make up for missing it live.

"Who can forget the magic of "A Whole New World" and the vivid animation during "Aladdin Nights?" The creators of the Aladdin soundtrack capture the emotion and magic of the movie in such a way that it enthralles the listener.

"An Oxford Arms" and "In the Air Tonight" are some of my favorites, but their live renditions add another dimension to the original tunes.

"With those Phil Collins fans out there who missed his concert, and even for those who didn't, this compilation creates a great new album."

This is a classic CD from a man who will always be the cream of the music industry. For a Billy Joel fan, that's a perfect holiday gift.

"I can't say enough about this CD. It seems to be one of those CDs which you either love or hate, or which lovers have over time.

"W" and "A" is one of my favorite tracks on the CD. It has a great percussion and bass guitar duet which in turn produces an awesome rhythm."

"Pearl Jam explores new territory with "Vs." Instead of staying within the musical boundaries of their unprecedented debut "Ten," they experiment and explore, and have created new standards of musical excellence.

"Journey," "Greatest Hits," is a hit record that contains all-time classic bands. You can still hear their hits on heavy rotation on music stations.

"Instead of his songwriting, his vocals were critically released, as two generations of music lovers were grown up with their music."
Costner saves Eastwood's "A Perfect World"

The opening image of Clint Eastwood's "A Perfect World" is puzzling yet engrossing, two characteristics of the film itself. A man is lying in a meadow, a scene, explained in the film's final sequence, takes on immense symbolic importance, and shows the directorial skills of Eastwood. "A Perfect World" is essentially a chase film, with Butch Haynes (Kevin Costner), the fugitive, being pursued by Red Garnett (Clint Eastwood), the Texas Ranger.

Eastwood, a career criminal, escapes from jail with his psychotic friend. The two raid a house and end up taking a young boy hostage.

The chase thus begins. Eastwood is equipped with a high-tech search van and is aided somewhat reluctantly by a criminal (Laura Dern). At the center of "A Perfect World" is the blossoming relationship between Butch and Phillip Perry (T. J. Lowther), the young boy.

The two have several things in common, one of which is that their fathers left each at an early age. Butch grows very fond of Phillip and never intendts to hurt him. Phillip, at first obviously shy and scared, warms to Butch and becomes his sidekick.

Butch caters to the boy's interests and shows him the wild side of life. As is common in the "On the Road" genre of filmmaking, freedom and spontaneity are the core themes of the movie.

The film falters mainly in its plot. The plot halts constantly and the characters in the van are not interesting.

Eastwood seems to make up the story as he goes along. As with most Eastwood films, the material is depressing.

Eastwood's acting ironically suffers from poor direction. He doesn't give his character much to do or a distinctive personal-ty.

Butch's character is a distinctive personal-ty. He lends a creative touch to the deranged Haynes; his character is not your average Hollywood psychopath.

We sympathize with Butch and end up rooting for his survival.

Fortunately, "A Perfect World" sticks with Costner most of the way. When it doesn't, there are major problems.

GRADE: B-

Kevin Costner stars in Clint Eastwood's "A Perfect World." Costner gives a brilliant performance and may be headed for an Oscar.

By MATT CARBONE
Accent writer

Bells will be ringing and children will be singing at Notre Dame this Sunday evening. In what has become one of the most enjoyable and special Christmas traditions at this tradition-rich school, the Glee Club will perform its annual Christmas Concert this Sunday evening at the Joyce Athletic and Convocation Center.

"This is a special time of year on campus," said Mark White, senior bass singer and public manager for the Glee Club. "Traditionally, the Christmas concert has been the Glee Club's gift to the community."

Toward that end, the Glee Club is donating all proceeds, after rental, lighting and sound expenses (which have been largely defrayed by Notre Dame's Office of Student Activities), to the South Bend Center for the Homeless, as it has done for the last three years.

Last year, the Glee Club was able to give almost $3,000 to the homeless center, an amount White and his fellow members hope to surpass this year.

"Last year we drew $5,000 to the Christmas concert," said White. "This year, we'd like to draw $7,000-7,000 people." White also commented that advance sales for this year's concert have been brisk, with over 2,000 tickets sold.

The Glee Club also hopes to increase the money donated to the homeless center through sales of the poster which has been used to promote the concert.

This poster features a reproduction of "The Adoration of the Shepherds: With the Lambs," by Rembrandt. Copies will be on sale at the concert.

This concert is also special for the Glee Club because it is the first conducted by Daniel Stowe, an assistant professor who came to Notre Dame's music department from Cornell this year.

"He's been just great," said White. "He's very refreshing. He's enlivened the latent spirit within us and brought us all together."

This excitement is not reserved solely for the singers. Senior Todd McNamee is one of many past attendees who has been bitten by the Glee Club's Christmas spirit.

"I've attended the Christmas concert for the past three years," said McNamee. "If these guys can't get you into the Christmas spirit, then I don't know who can."

The Glee Club has several portions of its program intended to do just that. Interwoven throughout the concert will be traditional Christmas carols with which the audience will be encouraged to participate.

Among these are "O Come, All Ye Faithful," "Joy to the World" and "Hark the Herald Angels Sing." With 5,000 people strong singing these hymns, it can make for a moving Christmas experience.

Other songs to be sung are older Latin Christmas songs by Jacob Handl and Claudio Monteverdi, as well as a crowd favorite, "The Sleigh (A la Russe)," in which the Glee Club has awaken the pace of the song until it is a breakneck, rollicking number.

All of this is planned in the hopes that the audience will go away full of the Christmas spirit.

"This is a special time of the year for the Glee Club," said White. "The singers really get up for this concert. It's certainly the most exciting concert of the year for us," he added.

The concert will take place on Sun., Dec. 12 at 7:30 p.m. in the JACC. Admission is $2 or more, if you wish to donate extra to the homeless shelter.

Advance tickets are on sale at the JACC box office, the Lafortune information desk and the Morris Civic Auditorium.
TOP Ten Reasons to Join Communities ND

10. No papers, finals or grades
9. Free candles
8. Monk wants you to
7. Better than an SYR for making new friends
6. Chance to talk about Sunday's Gospel ahead of time
5. Discover the challenge of adult Christianity
4. Easier to get into than an NDE
2. Terrific way to learn about your faith
1. Nobody goes to heaven by themselves

New Communities begin in January -- find out what they're all about NOW!

Sign-ups and information sheets are available at the Library and Badin Hall Campus Ministry offices. Any undergraduate student may sign up before the end of the semester. The initial commitment is for the Rally Day (January 15, 1994) and six meetings throughout the spring semester.
Thursday, December 9, 1993

The Observer • College Basketball

No. 1 Arkansas posts fourth win

By HARRY KING
Associated Press

MEmPHIS, Tenn.

Consecutive 3-pointers by center Dwight Stewart started a 17-2 run and defensive specialist Corey Beck contributed two big baskets down the stretch as No. 1 Arkansas beat Memphis State 96-78 Friday night.

The Razorbacks (4-0) led 42-40 at halftime, but it was 59-42 just over five minutes into the second half. Memphis State (2-1) closed within nine a few times, but a 3 by Stewart stopped one run. Arkansas' Jeff Williams' two free throws squashed another and McDaniel's 3-pointer completed the last at 79-64.

Two free throws by Stewart made it 81-69 with 4:52 to play and then Beck's steal led to a fast-break basket by McDaniel and a dunk by Williamson.

Chris Garner's basket ended the Razorbacks' 65-38 margin and started the second half, but Williamson converted a three-point play and McDaniel added two free throws and a basket after a steal. Beck's rebound and long pass to Roger Crawford made it a 17-point lead.

Williams led the Razorbacks with 18 points and Stewart and McDaniel had each 16 each. David Vaughn paced Memphis State with 20.

Memphis State was 17-24 from the field in the first half, but hit only 10 of its first 27 attempts in the second half. The Tigers led 8-0 when the Razorbacks missed their first five shots.

Garner scored after a steal and then hit a basket for a 35-33 lead.

A 3-pointer by Al Dillard, Darnell Robinson's nifty move on the baseline, followed by Robinson's tip, gave Memphis State its first lead, 33-30, with 3:36 to play.

Cedric Hudson immediately tied it, the Tigers then came up with a loose ball and had 15 feet for a 35-33 lead.

Arkansas coach Nolan Richardson posted his first win as the number-one team in the nation last night as his Razorbacks beat Memphis State 96-78.

The Observer accepts classified every business day from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Notre Dame office, 314 LaFortune and from 12 p.m. to 3 p.m. at the Fort Smith office. Deadline for next day's classifieds is 3 p.m. All classifieds must be prepaid. The charge is 2 cents per character per day, including all spaces.
Two LSU football players arrested

By JIMMY GOLEN

Associated Press

BATON ROUGE, La. — Two LSU football players, including top-running back Jay Johnson, were arrested Wednesday and accused of stealing items worth more than $5,000 from dormitory rooms.

Johnson, a sophomore from Waco, Texas, started eight games for the Tigers in 1993, gaining 558 yards on 106 carries and scoring six touchdowns. Hawkins, a freshman from Dallas, had five tackles in four games.

According to a news release issued by Maj. Connie Swain, police were called to the Kirby Smith Dormitory at 4 a.m. EST, where they found the two 19-year-olds carrying objects later determined to be stolen.

They were booked into the East Baton Rouge Parish Prison and were being held Wednesday evening until a bond value could be set.

Each count of burglary carries a maximum penalty of 12 years in prison, and each charge involving access (credit or automatic teller machine) cards could bring the two up to 10 years’ imprisonment.

“These are obviously very serious charges against these two young men,” coach Curley Hallman said. “We are cooperating in every way with the police. I have not visited with the young men yet, but I will at the appropriate time.”

The episode was the latest in an alleged series of disciplinary breakdowns in the LSU athletic department.

Last year, free safety Anthony Marshall was charged with beating up a member of the women’s track team, which regularly appears on the Associated Press poll. In such a difficult place to practice, Notre Dame’s experience might be the key.

“We play better under those conditions,” commented Karlan, “but I think that is healthy for the team. We play better under those circumstances.”

The winner of this regional semifinal will take on the Penn State-Colorado winner on Friday night at 7:30.

TUESDAY
9 PM - 12 AM

THURSDAY
TIME BOWL: 9:30 - 11:30 PM Only $10 per lane!

STUDENT SPECIAL: $1.35 per game

Anytime

BEACON BOWL
4210 L. W. W. Phone 233-4167

The Notre Dame Club of North Jersey
Young Alumni Committee Proudly Presents:

1994 Ring in The New Year Mixer

Where: Sports & Games Indoor Amusement Park

When: Thursday, January 6, 1994, 6:00-9:00 pm

How Much: $5 gets you $9 worth of game tokens

Come see your friends, arrange for that ride back to campus, visit with your family and ring in the new year. Sports & Games is an indoor amusement park with rides and games for kids of all ages (3-103 yrs). Batting cages, the latest video games, Bowリングs, pool tables, bumper cars, kids climbing gym, virtual reality and games of skill are some of the many activities awaiting your enjoyment.

How close the Giants will come this year remains to be seen.
Maine hockey coach suspended

By GLENN ADAMS

The coach of the defending national champion Maine hockey team was suspended Wednesday for five games for allowing defenseman Jeff Tory to play three games early this season.

By GLENN ADAMS

Maine hockey coach suspended

By GLENN ADAMS

The coach of the defending national champion Maine hockey team was suspended Wednesday for five games for allowing defenseman Jeff Tory to play three games early this season.

By GLENN ADAMS

Maine hockey coach suspended

By GLENN ADAMS

The coach of the defending national champion Maine hockey team was suspended Wednesday for five games for allowing defenseman Jeff Tory to play three games early this season.

By GLENN ADAMS

Maine hockey coach suspended

By GLENN ADAMS

The coach of the defending national champion Maine hockey team was suspended Wednesday for five games for allowing defenseman Jeff Tory to play three games early this season.

By GLENN ADAMS

Maine hockey coach suspended

By GLENN ADAMS

The coach of the defending national champion Maine hockey team was suspended Wednesday for five games for allowing defenseman Jeff Tory to play three games early this season.

By GLENN ADAMS

Maine hockey coach suspended

By GLENN ADAMS

The coach of the defending national champion Maine hockey team was suspended Wednesday for five games for allowing defenseman Jeff Tory to play three games early this season.

By GLENN ADAMS

Maine hockey coach suspended

By GLENN ADAMS

The coach of the defending national champion Maine hockey team was suspended Wednesday for five games for allowing defenseman Jeff Tory to play three games early this season.

By GLENN ADAMS

Maine hockey coach suspended

By GLENN ADAMS

The coach of the defending national champion Maine hockey team was suspended Wednesday for five games for allowing defenseman Jeff Tory to play three games early this season.

By GLENN ADAMS

Maine hockey coach suspended

By GLENN ADAMS

The coach of the defending national champion Maine hockey team was suspended Wednesday for five games for allowing defenseman Jeff Tory to play three games early this season.

By GLENN ADAMS

Maine hockey coach suspended

By GLENN ADAMS

The coach of the defending national champion Maine hockey team was suspended Wednesday for five games for allowing defenseman Jeff Tory to play three games early this season.

By GLENN ADAMS

Maine hockey coach suspended

By GLENN ADAMS

The coach of the defending national champion Maine hockey team was suspended Wednesday for five games for allowing defenseman Jeff Tory to play three games early this season.

By GLENN ADAMS

Maine hockey coach suspended

By GLENN ADAMS

The coach of the defending national champion Maine hockey team was suspended Wednesday for five games for allowing defenseman Jeff Tory to play three games early this season.

By GLENN ADAMS

Maine hockey coach suspended

By GLENN ADAMS

The coach of the defending national champion Maine hockey team was suspended Wednesday for five games for allowing defenseman Jeff Tory to play three games early this season.

By GLENN ADAMS

Maine hockey coach suspended

By GLENN ADAMS

The coach of the defending national champion Maine hockey team was suspended Wednesday for five games for allowing defenseman Jeff Tory to play three games early this season.

By GLENN ADAMS

Maine hockey coach suspended

By GLENN ADAMS

The coach of the defending national champion Maine hockey team was suspended Wednesday for five games for allowing defenseman Jeff Tory to play three games early this season.

By GLENN ADAMS

Maine hockey coach suspended

By GLENN ADAMS

The coach of the defending national champion Maine hockey team was suspended Wednesday for five games for allowing defenseman Jeff Tory to play three games early this season.

By GLENN ADAMS

Maine hockey coach suspended

By GLENN ADAMS

The coach of the defending national champion Maine hockey team was suspended Wednesday for five games for allowing defenseman Jeff Tory to play three games early this season.

By GLENN ADAMS

Maine hockey coach suspended

By GLENN ADAMS

The coach of the defending national champion Maine hockey team was suspended Wednesday for five games for allowing defenseman Jeff Tory to play three games early this season.

By GLENN ADAMS

Maine hockey coach suspended

By GLENN ADAMS

The coach of the defending national champion Maine hockey team was suspended Wednesday for five games for allowing defenseman Jeff Tory to play three games early this season.

By GLENN ADAMS

Maine hockey coach suspended

By GLENN ADAMS

The coach of the defending national champion Maine hockey team was suspended Wednesday for five games for allowing defenseman Jeff Tory to play three games early this season.

By GLENN ADAMS

Maine hockey coach suspended

By GLENN ADAMS

The coach of the defending national champion Maine hockey team was suspended Wednesday for five games for allowing defenseman Jeff Tory to play three games early this season.

By GLENN ADAMS

Maine hockey coach suspended

By GLENN ADAMS

The coach of the defending national champion Maine hockey team was suspended Wednesday for five games for allowing defenseman Jeff Tory to play three games early this season.

By GLENN ADAMS

Maine hockey coach suspended

By GLENN ADAMS

The coach of the defending national champion Maine hockey team was suspended Wednesday for five games for allowing defenseman Jeff Tory to play three games early this season.

By GLENN ADAMS

Maine hockey coach suspended

By GLENN ADAMS

The coach of the defending national champion Maine hockey team was suspended Wednesday for five games for allowing defenseman Jeff Tory to play three games early this season.

By GLENN ADAMS

Maine hockey coach suspended

By GLENN ADAMS

The coach of the defending national champion Maine hockey team was suspended Wednesday for five games for allowing defenseman Jeff Tory to play three games early this season.

By GLENN ADAMS

Maine hockey coach suspended

By GLENN ADAMS

The coach of the defending national champion Maine hockey team was suspended Wednesday for five games for allowing defenseman Jeff Tory to play three games early this season.

By GLENN ADAMS

Maine hockey coach suspended

By GLENN ADAMS

The coach of the defending national champion Maine hockey team was suspended Wednesday for five games for allowing defenseman Jeff Tory to play three games early this season.

By GLENN ADAMS

Maine hockey coach suspended

By GLENN ADAMS

The coach of the defending national champion Maine hockey team was suspended Wednesday for five games for allowing defenseman Jeff Tory to play three games early this season.

By GLENN ADAMS

Maine hockey coach suspended

By GLENN ADAMS

The coach of the defending national champion Maine hockey team was suspended Wednesday for five games for allowing defenseman Jeff Tory to play three games early this season.

By GLENN ADAMS

Maine hockey coach suspended

By GLENN ADAMS

The coach of the defending national champion Maine hockey team was suspended Wednesday for five games for allowing defenseman Jeff Tory to play three games early this season.

By GLENN ADAMS

Maine hockey coach suspended

By GLENN ADAMS

The coach of the defending national champion Maine hockey team was suspended Wednesday for five games for allowing defenseman Jeff Tory to play three games early this season.

By GLENN ADAMS

Maine hockey coach suspended

By GLENN ADAMS

The coach of the defending national champion Maine hockey team was suspended Wednesday for five games for allowing defenseman Jeff Tory to play three games early this season.

By GLENN ADAMS

Maine hockey coach suspended

By GLENN ADAMS

The coach of the defending national champion Maine hockey team was suspended Wednesday for five games for allowing defenseman Jeff Tory to play three games early this season.

By GLENN ADAMS

Maine hockey coach suspended

By GLENN ADAMS

The coach of the defending national champion Maine hockey team was suspended Wednesday for five games for allowing defenseman Jeff Tory to play three games early this season.

By GLENN ADAMS

Maine hockey coach suspended

By GLENN ADAMS

The coach of the defending national champion Maine hockey team was suspended Wednesday for five games for allowing defenseman Jeff Tory to play three games early this season.
Taylor and Burris All-Americans

By RICK WARNER
Associated Press

NEW YORK
Heisman Trophy favorite Charlie Ward, Lombardi Award winner Aaron Taylor and three-time selection Marshall Faulk were named to The Associated Press All-America college football team on Wednesday.

Faulk made the team for the third straight year, the first player to do that since Georgia’s Herschel Walker from 1980-82. The San Diego State running back, who will skip his senior season to enter the NFL draft, led the nation with 24 touchdowns and No. 5 in rushing.

Ward directed top-ranked Florida State’s “fast-break” offense, which led the NCAA in scoring with a 43.2-point average. The elusive quarterback, completing 69 percent of his passes for 3,032 yards, 27 touchdowns and four interceptions, was third in all-purpose yards in NCAA history, twice gaining over 300 yards in a game and finished with the fourth highest rushing total (1,976 yards) in NCAA history.

Another record-setter, Wyoming’s Ryan Yarbrough, leads a trio of wide receivers on the AP squad. The other pass catchers are J.J. Stokes of UCLA and Johnnie Morton of Southern Cal.

Yarbrough caught 67 passes for 1,512 yards to become the NCAA’s all-time leader in receiving yardage leader with 4,357. He finished second in career touchdown catches with 42.

Stokes tied a UCLA mark with 17 TD catches, including a school-record 95-yarder against Washington. Morton, Southern Cal’s all-time leading receiver, tied a Pac-10 record with 78 catches this season and set a league mark with 1,373 receiving yards.

The all-purpose player is Alabama’s David Palmer, who was used as a runner, receiver, quarterback, punt returner and kickoff returner. Palmer set school records with 61 receptions for 1,000 yards and gained more than 100 all-purpose yards in every game.

Rounding out the offense are center Jim Pyne of Virginia Tech; tackle Wayne Gandy of Auburn; guards Mark Dixon of Virginia and Stacy Seegars of Clemson; and placekicker Bjorn Merten of UCLA.

Pyne paved the way for the highest scoring team in Virginia Tech history, while Gandy anchored the offensive line for Auburn’s first perfect season since 1957. Dixon was the top lineman on a unit that allowed less than one sack per game, and Seegars led Clemson in knockdown blocks for the third straight year.

Merten, the only freshman on the squad, made 20 of 25 field goal attempts. His 80 percent success rate was best among kickers with at least 20 tries.

Along with Waldrop, the defensive line includes Dan Wilkinson of Ohio State, Sam Adams of Texas A&M and KevinPatrick of Miami.

The linebackers are Trev Alberts of Nebraska, Derrick Brooks of Florida State and Dana Howard of Illinois. The secondary features Antonio Langham of Alabama, Aaron Glenn of Texas A&M, Jeff Burris of Notre Dame and Jaime Mender of Kansas State.

The punter is Auburn’s Terry Daniel, who finished second nationally with a 46.9-yard average.

Wilkinson, a 6-5, 300-pound sophomore nicknamed “Big Daddy,” led Ohio State with 13 tackles for losses even though he was slowed by an ankle injury and double-teamed much of the season. Adams led Texas A&M in tackles, sacks, and. quarterback pressures, caused five fumbles and recovered three.

By RICK WARNER
Associated Press

The Observer is now accepting applications for the following position:

Assistant Systems Manager

Must have knowledge of Macintosh computers and their applications. Please turn your resumes in to the Observer office by December 10. Contact Patrick Barth at 631-5303 for more information.

LAFAYETTE SQUARE TOWNHOMES

“Luxury Living You Can Enjoy & Afford”
“Where Tenants Are Of The Utmost Importance”

- 4 & 5 Bedroom Townhomes
- 2 Bathrooms
- Security Systems & Security Guards
- Kitchens With Dishwasher, Garbage Disposal, Refrigerator & Range
- Washer & Dryer In Each Unit
- Gas Heat
- Central Air Conditioning
- Professional Management
- Skilled & Responsible Maintenance
- Only 1 Mile From Notre Dame Campus

Meet Our Friendly Staff And Let Them Show You Our Beautiful Townhomes

NOW TAKING APPLICATIONS FOR
’94–’95 SCHOOL YEAR
FOR MORE INFORMATION CALL
232-8256
W. Virginia now football country

By MATT HARVEY
Associated Press

CHARLESTON, W.Va. The only thing West Virginia used to lead the nation in was unemployment and hillbilly jokes. But make no joke about it, this is now football country. It would take some doing, but it's not inconceivable that West Virginia could win three national championships this season. West Virginia in Division I-A, Marshall in Division I-AA and Glenville State College in NAIA shall in Division I-AA and II-A and II-B in Division I-A this season. West Virginia is one of three remaining unranked third in the nation and No. 5 in the Associated Press polls. West Virginia is exceeding expectations.

"It speaks well of the state that a state that's as sparsely populated as West Virginia has some of the best high school football players in the country. Marshall is close to Ohio and Kentucky, also recruiting hotbeds. All three schools also have made successful forays far beyond the state line."

"West Virginia is exceeding expectations," ESPN analyst and former college football coach Lee Corso said.

"It is definitely unique that a state that's as sparsely populated as West Virginia has some of the best high school football players in the country. Marshall is close to Ohio and Kentucky, also recruiting hotbeds."

"I think it speaks well of the fact that the high school football in the area is excellent," said ESPN analyst and former college football coach Lee Corso.

West Virginia and Glenville State are within driving distance of Pennsylvania, which has some of the best high school football players in the country. Marshall is close to Ohio and Kentucky, also recruiting hotbeds.

All three schools also have made successful forays far beyond the state line. With about 1.8 million people, West Virginia is smaller in population than Chicago and barely bigger than Houston. The state has 11 football-playing universities and colleges. West Virginia is the only Division I-A team, while Marshall is the only Division I-AA team.

"So, what's the secret?" I think it speaks well of the fact that the high school football in the area is excellent," said ESPN analyst and former college football coach Lee Corso.

"The chances of it ever happening in a big state with a large population and a lot of schools are slim," Rodriguez said.

"The state of West Virginia has some of the best high school football players in the country. The state has 11 football-playing universities and colleges. West Virginia is the only Division I-A team, while Marshall is the only Division I-AA team."
Azinger diagnosed with cancer

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press

DORADO BEACH, Puerto Rico—Paul Azinger, the PGA champion and second-leading money winner on the PGA Tour, has a form of cancer in his right shoulder but hopes to be hitting golf balls again in about six months.

Doctors said Wednesday that the lymphoma in the bone of Azinger’s right shoulder blade is 90 percent curable and that they expect a full recovery. The overall cure rate for lymphoma is about 50 percent, according to the American Cancer Society.

The lymphoma was discovered after Azinger played the Skins Game during Thanksgiving weekend in obvious pain and with a clearly restricted swing.

“My doctors are very optimistic that they have caught this early enough so that a full and complete recovery is expected,” Azinger said in a statement released Wednesday by his management representatives, Leader Enterprises, in Orlando, Fla.

“I plan to be hitting balls again in about six to seven months and I am looking forward to defending my PGA championship at South Hills Country Club in Tulsa” next August.

Earlier this year, Azinger shed his reputation as the best golfer never to win a major championship at South Hills Country Club in Tulsa, winning two other tournaments this year, finishing in the top-five in 1987, winning three of the last seven years, the longest current streak on the PGA Tour.

“Paul epitomizes the spirit you want and expect from a great player,” Tom Watson, captain of the 1993 Ryder Cup team, said from his home in Mission Hills, Kan.

“It is his spirit that sets him above other players in the game. His faith and his spirit will pull him through,” Watson said.

Azinger joined the tour in 1983 and ’84. He finally broke through in 1987, winning three tournaments and $822,481, second best on the tour.

PGA Champion Paul Azinger has been diagnosed with a form of cancer but it is not life-threatening and he may fully recover.

By BOB DORADO BEACH, Puerto Rico—Paul Azinger, the PGA champion and second-leading money winner on the PGA Tour, has a form of cancer in his right shoulder but hopes to be hitting golf balls again in about six months.

Doctors said Wednesday that the lymphoma in the bone of Azinger’s right shoulder blade is 90 percent curable and that they expect a full recovery. The overall cure rate for lymphoma is about 50 percent, according to the American Cancer Society.

The lymphoma was discovered after Azinger played the Skins Game during Thanksgiving weekend in obvious pain and with a clearly restricted swing.

“My doctors are very optimistic that they have caught this early enough so that a full and complete recovery is expected,” Azinger said in a statement released Wednesday by his management representatives, Leader Enterprises, in Orlando, Fla.

“I plan to be hitting balls again in about six to seven months and I am looking forward to defending my PGA championship at South Hills Country Club in Tulsa” next August.

Earlier this year, Azinger shed his reputation as the best golfer never to win a major championship at South Hills Country Club in Tulsa, winning two other tournaments this year, finishing in the top-five in 1987, winning three of the last seven years, the longest current streak on the PGA Tour.

“Paul epitomizes the spirit you want and expect from a great player,” Tom Watson, captain of the 1993 Ryder Cup team, said from his home in Mission Hills, Kan.

“It is his spirit that sets him above other players in the game. His faith and his spirit will pull him through,” Watson said.

Azinger joined the tour in 1983 and ’84. He finally broke through in 1987, winning three tournaments and $822,481, second best on the tour.

PGA Champion Paul Azinger has been diagnosed with a form of cancer but it is not life-threatening and he may fully recover.

By BOB DORADO BEACH, Puerto Rico—Paul Azinger, the PGA champion and second-leading money winner on the PGA Tour, has a form of cancer in his right shoulder but hopes to be hitting golf balls again in about six months.

Doctors said Wednesday that the lymphoma in the bone of Azinger’s right shoulder blade is 90 percent curable and that they expect a full recovery. The overall cure rate for lymphoma is about 50 percent, according to the American Cancer Society.

The lymphoma was discovered after Azinger played the Skins Game during Thanksgiving weekend in obvious pain and with a clearly restricted swing.

“My doctors are very optimistic that they have caught this early enough so that a full and complete recovery is expected,” Azinger said in a statement released Wednesday by his management representatives, Leader Enterprises, in Orlando, Fla.

“I plan to be hitting balls again in about six to seven months and I am looking forward to defending my PGA championship at South Hills Country Club in Tulsa” next August.

Earlier this year, Azinger shed his reputation as the best golfer never to win a major championship at South Hills Country Club in Tulsa, winning two other tournaments this year, finishing in the top-five in 1987, winning three of the last seven years, the longest current streak on the PGA Tour.

“Paul epitomizes the spirit you want and expect from a great player,” Tom Watson, captain of the 1993 Ryder Cup team, said from his home in Mission Hills, Kan.

“It is his spirit that sets him above other players in the game. His faith and his spirit will pull him through,” Watson said.

Azinger joined the tour in 1983 and ’84. He finally broke through in 1987, winning three tournaments and $822,481, second best on the tour.

PGA Champion Paul Azinger has been diagnosed with a form of cancer but it is not life-threatening and he may fully recover.

By BOB DORADO BEACH, Puerto Rico—Paul Azinger, the PGA champion and second-leading money winner on the PGA Tour, has a form of cancer in his right shoulder but hopes to be hitting golf balls again in about six months.

Doctors said Wednesday that the lymphoma in the bone of Azinger’s right shoulder blade is 90 percent curable and that they expect a full recovery. The overall cure rate for lymphoma is about 50 percent, according to the American Cancer Society.

The lymphoma was discovered after Azinger played the Skins Game during Thanksgiving weekend in obvious pain and with a clearly restricted swing.

“My doctors are very optimistic that they have caught this early enough so that a full and complete recovery is expected,” Azinger said in a statement released Wednesday by his management representatives, Leader Enterprises, in Orlando, Fla.

“I plan to be hitting balls again in about six to seven months and I am looking forward to defending my PGA championship at South Hills Country Club in Tulsa” next August.

Earlier this year, Azinger shed his reputation as the best golfer never to win a major championship at South Hills Country Club in Tulsa, winning two other tournaments this year, finishing in the top-five in 1987, winning three of the last seven years, the longest current streak on the PGA Tour.

“Paul epitomizes the spirit you want and expect from a great player,” Tom Watson, captain of the 1993 Ryder Cup team, said from his home in Mission Hills, Kan.

“It is his spirit that sets him above other players in the game. His faith and his spirit will pull him through,” Watson said.

Azinger joined the tour in 1983 and ’84. He finally broke through in 1987, winning three tournaments and $822,481, second best on the tour.

PGA Champion Paul Azinger has been diagnosed with a form of cancer but it is not life-threatening and he may fully recover.
Irish drop first game to Purdue

By AMY GRIFFIN
Sports Writer

The Notre Dame women's basketball team lost their first game of the season last night, a 66-59 setback to No. 22 Purdue at West Lafayette. The Irish's record now stands at 4-1.

Down 38-27 at the half, Notre Dame battled back against the favored Boilermakers in the second half, outscoring Purdue 32-28. Junior Letitia Bowen led Notre Dame with 14 points and 15 rebounds, recording her 17th career double-double. It was the closest season opener has posted double figures in rebounding.

Freshman Beth Morgan tied Bowen with a team-high 14 points. The freshman from Bloomington, Ind. is averaging over 14 points a game and is currently the Irish's leading scorer. Senior Sherri Orlosky also reached double figures with an 11-point performance.

For the Boilermakers, four players scored in double figures. Stacey Lovelace had a game-high 15 points and 11 rebounds. Also contributing to the Purdue victory were Jannan Roland (14 points), Cindy Lamping (11 points), and Shannon Lindsey (10 points).

Purdue had the edge on the boards, with a 31-24 advantage on defensive rebounds. The Irish, however, outrebounded Purdue 18-14 on the offensive boards.

In the first half, Purdue shot 12-20 from the field and made four of nine three-point shots. The Irish defense tightened up in the second half to hold Purdue to 8-24 from the field and one of seven from behind the three-point stripe.

The Purdue defense posted seven blocks against the Irish, limiting Notre Dame to a 29.4% field goal average.

The last time the Irish opened the season with a 4-0 record was in 1977 when Notre Dame won five consecutive games, but the loss is an encouraging one, as the Irish showed they can play with a ranked opponent.

The next action for the Irish is on Saturday when they play host to Seton Hall at 2 p.m. The Pirates beat LaSalle last weekend in the Pal-Mayfair Farms Invitational championship, 73-68. Seton Hall was ranked third in the Big East preseason poll.

The team was unavailable for comment due to a late arrival.

Daws and McCarthy named All-Americans

By BRYAN CONNOLLY
Sports Editor

Notre Dame women's soccer players Cindy Daws and Michutte McCarthy were named to the National Soccer Coaches Association of America/Midwest Regional All-America first and second teams, respectively. The regional All-America selections precede the national All-America selections.

Daws, a freshman midfielder, was named to the first team after leading the Irish in scoring this season with a Notre Dame record-tying 16 goals and 20 assists for a program-record 56 points.

She has already been named to the Midwestern Colleges Conference all-tournament, all-newcomer, and first teams as well as being named MCC Newcomer of the Year and MCC Tournament Most Valuable Player.

She tallied either a goal or an assist in 18 of Notre Dame's 22 games and the Irish were 16-0 in games in which she scored. She set Notre Dame's records for goals, assists and points in a season by a freshman.

Irish All-Americans

Irish safety Jeff Thuris joins Aaron Taylor as a first-team Associated Press All-American.

Knight In Trouble

Indiana coach Bobby Knight is under fire for an on-court incident involving his son.

Making Giant Strides

The New York Giants are this year's surprising team, as they have rebounded from a 4-10 mark last year to go 9-3.

Inside SPORTS

see page 15

see page 14