Capitol tour turns into brush with history

Pair from Saint Mary’s get snapshot they’ll never forget from White House gunman

By LAURA FERGUSON

Saint Mary's News Editor

During the mid-semester break, Tanya Wilson and Esti Mutidjo saw the sights of the nation’s capital — Arlington Cemetery, the Lincoln Memorial, the Washington Monument and the lone gunman who fired 30 rounds into the White House grounds.

On October 29, Wilson and Mutidjo, both Saint Mary’s students, were scheduled to attend a wedding in the Washington D.C. area, but instead they ventured into the city to visit some of the points of interest which they missed the day before, including the White House.

Like many other tourists, Wilson and Mutidjo stood on Pennsylvania Avenue in front of the White House to take photos, but a man wearing a tan trench coat was standing in the way of their picture.

"The man wasn’t doing anything strange, he just acted like a normal tourist," said Wilson. "We only noticed him because he was wearing a coat and it was gorgeous out but it was unbtrieved so it didn’t look like he was hiding anything. He turned around to look at us and he moved a little but he was still in the shot."

According to Mutidjo the man, later identified as Francisco Martin Duran of Colorado Springs, was not very tall. Spanish-looking with dark curly hair and it looked as though he hadn’t shaved.

Since they were looking for someone to take their picture with the White House in the background, Wilson asked Duran to take their picture. He agreed.

After snapping their picture, Duran returned their camera and wished them a good day.

Wilson and Mutidjo heard the shots from Duran’s Chinese made semi-automatic rifle while they were on the south-west side of the White House.

"At first we thought it was fire crackers so everyone was looking up at the sky and laughing," said Wilson. "The Secret Service in the area then realized that the noise was gunfire. They told everyone to get down on the ground while at least 40 Secret Service men ran into the White House and black vans appeared from nowhere."

"As the Secret Service men started running I started to hear this, Wilson spoke up and said she may have seen the gunman while they were on Pennsylvania Avenue."

According to Wilson, the secret service said they might have to take their camera and film but because Duran was caught by two civilian bystanders. The camera was never confiscated.

If we had been there four minutes later we would have seen the whole thing and been two feet behind him," said Wilson. "It was crazy and exciting."

Wilson also commented how it was strange that the Secret Service was not able to catch Duran before he sprayed the White House grounds with bullets.

---

Rita testifies in own defense

Letter to Observer

has eerie twist

John Rita wrote an early premonitory letter to the editor of the Observer last fall, shortly before the death of then Notre Dame Freshman Marc Fox.

Rita, a May 1994 graduate of Notre Dame Law School, is now standing trial in St. Joseph County Superior Court, charged with causing Fox’s death while driving under the influence of alcohol and leaving the scene of the accident.

Rita’s letter urged caution in connection with the upcoming Notre Dame-Florida State game, as excitement around the caign built to a feverish pitch. He urged students to be careful if the occasion arose to officeres connected with the investigation testified that those were Rita’s first words to them that morning.

Rita also maintained that he made every attempt to comply with police officers’ requests. He said he did not ask questions, of the officers, nor did he refuse to cooperate in any way. Rita said he did not refuse a breath test when authorities confronted him about taking one.

"They told me there was an unofficial one is a portable test, police had with them and an official one (the intoxilizer at St. Joseph County jail). I said ‘Give me the official one,’ Rita testified.

---

Heart and Soul

A participant sings as people look on at Halloiijah Night II, held at Stepan Center on Saturday night.
A church worth fighting for

I had a good, normal, Catholic upbringing. Since I was young, I've gone to Mass, attended CCD classes and served as both an altar boy and a lector. Until about a year ago, I was an average Catholic. I really didn't think too much about the issues facing our church. But recently, I really took a hard look at the church and I'm not sure if I like everything I've learned.

Strange enough, this started last summer after I began interning for an Archdiocesan newspaper. It's probably a little ironic that my working for the church started last summer after I began questioning the Pope's position on contraceptives.

In order to gear up for beliefs like these and fight for change, I needed to find my church. I decided to check out the National Catholic Reporter, a weekly Catholic newspaper devoted an issue to reaction to the Pope's statement. The cover of the issue showed a white cross with a black shadow, the headline read "Not Now... But Someday," implying that a day for women will come.

Every day I read the news stories that came in over the wire. Many were about Catholics from all over the country, doing good works and having good experiences.

One of the biggest issues that bothered me came from the papal proclamation on the ordination of women. In essence, the Pope is saying that women are not able to fulfill the priestly role in the Church.

On the other hand, my working for the church has given me the opportunity to meet other people who are fighting for the church to wake up to the issues I'm interested in. For example, I recently met up with someone who is working for the church to accept the ordination of women.

One of the biggest questions I have is, "Who am I to judge anyone else for their choice of a different lifestyle? Jesus loved everyone, didn't he?"

I only hope we have the wisdom that is currently lacking. "Tell me I'm wrong, call me a heretic, whatever," he said. "I grabbed hold of him and hugged him and my son." It's probably more than a little ironic that my working for the church started last summer after I began questioning the Pope's position on contraceptives.

John Lucas
Managing Editor

Archdiocesan newspaper.

Achmet Cevdet Annaçoğlu, founder of the weekly newspaper "Kutsal Mescid" (Holy Mosque) in Istanbul, has been arrested.

The newspaper, established in 1923, has been critical of the government and has been accused of propagating religious extremism. The government has shut down the newspaper several times in the past.

The arrest of Annaçoğlu comes amid a broader crackdown on media outlets critical of the government. The authorities have increased pressure on the media in recent years, with journalists facing harassment, arrests and closures.

The arrest has sparked widespread condemnation, with many calling for the release of Annaçoğlu. Human rights groups have also condemned the action, saying it is a violation of freedom of expression.

Four other journalists, including two editors and a reporter, were also arrested in a separate operation. The government has not provided details on the charges against them.

The arrests come as Turkey faces growing tensions with the European Union and the United States over its human rights record.

Reagan's Alzheimer's prompts prayers

The final moments of Flight 4184

Woman decided at last moment not to take fatal flight 4184

When the airplane said there would be a $35 penalty to change her flight plans, Mary Peterson agreed to pay. She didn't know it was the notice of her life and that of her 2-year-old son.

The National Catholic Reporter, a weekly Catholic newspaper, devoted an issue to reaction to the Pope's statement. The cover of the issue showed a white cross with a black shadow, the headline read "Not Now... But Someday," implying that a day for women will come.

I'm sure I'm not alone in these beliefs. Sooner or later, people like me will be heard. Tell me I'm wrong, call me a heretic, whatever. I think my cane will too," he said at Saturday's youth rally. He also made his first public mention of his recently published book, "Crowning the Threshold of Hope," telling the young people: "If you haven't read it, don't bother. It's not a book, it's an interview." The book was based on questions submitted by an Italian journalist in a series of TV interviews that was later canceled.

200 arrested in neo-Nazi meeting raid

Eight officers were injured as police arrested nearly 200 people a raid on a neo-Nazi meeting said Sunday. The 47-year-old organizer of the meeting was arrested after an officer in the hand with a knife as he was being arrested, police said. Other officers were injured when attendees threw beer bottles and glasses. Police also dispersed by a group of neo-Nazis and emblems bearing swastikas as a weapon, John Paul appears to be striking back at critics who say his papacy is slowing down. The pope even knocked his own recently published book, which has been a best seller in Italy and in the U.S. After months of walking almost surreptitiously with a cane, Pope John Paul appears to be striking back at critics who say his papacy is slowing down. The pope even knocked his own recently published book, which has become a best seller in Italy and in the U.S. And I'm not sure if I like everything I've learned.

I only hope we have the wisdom that is currently lacking. "Tell me I'm wrong, call me a heretic, whatever," he said. "I grabbed hold of him and hugged him and my son." It's probably more than a little ironic that my working for the church started last summer after I began questioning the Pope's position on contraceptives.

John Lucas
Managing Editor

Archdiocesan newspaper.

Achmet Cevdet Annaçoğlu, founder of the weekly newspaper "Kutsal Mescid" (Holy Mosque) in Istanbul, has been arrested.

The newspaper, established in 1923, has been critical of the government and has been accused of propagating religious extremism. The government has shut down the newspaper several times in the past.

The arrest of Annaçoğlu comes amid a broader crackdown on media outlets critical of the government. The authorities have increased pressure on the media in recent years, with journalists facing harassment, arrests and closures.

The arrest has sparked widespread condemnation, with many calling for the release of Annaçoğlu. Human rights groups have also condemned the action, saying it is a violation of freedom of expression.

Four other journalists, including two editors and a reporter, were also arrested in a separate operation. The government has not provided details on the charges against them.

The arrests come as Turkey faces growing tensions with the European Union and the United States over its human rights record.
Community reclaims area

By ETHAN HAYWARD
News Writer

Hundreds of Notre Dame students were busy Saturday doing yard and clean-up work and enjoying a block party in South Bend's northeast neighborhood. The efforts were part of the resurrected Fall Festival program, a joint project of several student groups and the Northeast Neighborhood Center.

From 9 a.m. until noon, nearly 400 students raked leaves, removed trash and unwanted trees, and planted flower bulbs in the Georgiana-DuBay area.

The Fall Festival was active in the early 1980's, but was discontinued because of a lack of organization. It was revived last year due to the elderly neighborhood residents' need for help in maintaining their yards.

Phil Boelter, the Northeast Neighborhood organizer for the project, was instrumental in resurrecting the program. "The Fall Festival represents the efforts of the residents to reclaim the neighborhood as a group," he said. "Notre Dame is a part of the Northeast neighborhood, and the neighborhood is a part of Notre Dame. The neighborhood doesn't stop at Angola."

Boelter said the festival was very important in light of the assaults committed against students in the neighborhood recently.

"This is an attempt to let people see that northeast residents have families, needs, and things to share."

Boelter said he was very pleased with the student turnout and with the project's progress, although a larger number of utility trucks would have been helpful. He expressed his gratitude to the students for coming out despite the wet weather, as well as to the City of South Bend for providing equipment.

"The credit belongs to the Northeast Neighborhood Council, the Notre Dame students, and the residents of Georgiana-DuBay," said Boelter.

Another key party in launching the Fall Festival was Karen DuBay, Notre Dame's Student Volunteer Coordinator. DuBay became involved in the project through the Center for Social Concerns and through student government.

DuBay pulled together an executive student committee to help organize the project alongside all three campus ROTC departments. She commended the Hall Presidents Council, student government, and the sophomore and senior classes for their individual efforts.

"Our aim is to break down the stereotypes that students may have of neighbors and that neighbors may have of students," said DuBay.

Peter Thomsen, a sophomore Army ROTC member, agreed that the project's general purpose was to improve the relationship between students and residents. He was impressed with how involved the residents were in the clean-up and how cooperative they were with the students.

The project did have a festival aspect to it despite all the work that took place. A block party followed the planting and cleaning up.

NEWS ANALYSIS

Independent votes popular

By VIVIAN GEMBARA
News Writer

With public sentiment for political parties at an all-time low, candidates are seeking the middle ground in an effort to appease an increasing number of independent voters.

Notable news from this year's race are Republican Giuliani's endorsement of Democratic Cuomo and Republican Riordan's endorsement of Democratic candidate Feinstein. Both Giuliani and Riordan's actions represent a decreased power of the two political parties as well as the public's overall discontentment with the political system.

Robert Schmuhl, chairman of the Department of American Studies, attributes the decline of party loyalty to numerous factors. First is the number of Americans who identify themselves as independents. Led by Ross Perot in the 1992 presidential election, this segment of the public is steadily gathering strength as the public moves to "voting the person, not the party."

Television and political propaganda is another force behind weakened political parties. Candidates are now more than ever able to construe issues, attack candidates and draw attention away from key issues. Add on pressures from political interest groups and party unity is further disintegrating.

"Political parties are becoming weakened institutions. They no longer have the strength and power they once had. Party discipline is no longer. Individual candidates tend to do things on their own now," Schmuhl said.

The rise of independent candidates and "moderate" politicians is therefore understandable. By endorsing candidates of the opposing party, politicians not only weaken their own political institutions unity-discipline factor but are likewise looking out for themselves.

Schmuhl says it is a case of self-interest whereby politicians are building their own constituencies and acquiring a greater share of potential resources by supporting other candidates.

VOTE

Sheila Bergeron
for School Board

Education
+ Experience
+ Time
+ Common Sense
= Good Decisions
for our schools!

Paid for by:
Sheila Bergeron for School Board Committee, Anita Blom, Treasurer
Trial
continued from page 1
the accident as the prosecution charged. He recalled for the court the moments immediately after the fatal crash.
"I heard a thud and everyone in the car said "What was that?" I did not see anything to explain it, so I decided to drive around the block to see what it was," he said. It was only after Rita had turned onto Grape Road, and into better lighting, that his front seat passenger noticed the radial cracks in Rita's windshield and told him to pull over.

Rita said he did not see Fox or her friends before or after he heard the thud. He said the only motion he made with his car was to pull it over to the right slightly to avoid an oncoming car he believed was a little too close to the center lines.

When he parked under a parking lot light at a children's beddng store, Rita said he began to realize something was wrong. Rita saw the cracked windshield and was overtaken by "a feeling of absolute shock and horror," he said.

Looking back at that moment, Rita said he now can notice a difference in his mental profile as he stood with his friends in that parking lot. Rita told the jury he began to view things "...as if they were pictures," and "I lost the feeling of the continuity of time." Rita said he and his friends agreed to leave the car in the lot because it might not be safe to drive, he said.

Rita testified that the next thing he remembered was be­ ingar in his University Park apartment. "I guess we walked but I have no recollection of Special Offer!

Students Only!

Autographed by Joe Theismann, award-winning book Notre Dame Football Today, reg $49, now just $19.95. Says Coach Lou Holtz: "It's the finest and most dramatic coffee­ table book ever produced on ND football." A great gift for every student and an ideal gift for all Irish fans.

Call Kyle Day.
(219)534-1740

that walk, or how long it took," he said.

He stated he could not remember with any precision the conversations of that walk or in the parking lot because of the fog that came over him. He described this mental change as very powerful. "It was horrified at the possibilities. It was as if things weren't really there," Rita said.

Once in the apartment, Rita said he really only remembered having two thoughts. "I thought, if something bad happened, I'm responsible, and that we have to fi nd out what happened," Rita said his friend noticed his state, and told him to stay at the apartment.

"They told me I needed to calm down," said Rita. They agreed to go survey the scene, and notifying the police became necessary, Rita said his friends agreed to do so.

When Asher asked Rita if his friends contacted police against his will, Rita simply said, "no."

Asher continued by questioning Rita about his breathalizer test, in an attempt to attack its credibility. Rita said police never advised him of a printing problem, with the results, or about the reliability of breath testing for blood alcohol content. Rita said police never informed him that a blood test was the most accurate way to determine intoxication levels.

Under cross-examination by prosecutor Michael Barnes, Rita reiterated his statements that he made no attempt to run or hide. Barnes asked Rita why he circled the area, rather than duck into one of the numerous commercial parking areas, or take a shortcut through University Park Mall on the circuit he drove after the accident.

"I don't know," Rita said. "Perhaps it was not the best decision, but I had made a decision to circle around and try to find out what happened." Rita denied Barnes' accusation that Rita only pulled his car over when he saw flashing lights ahead of him and heard sirens.

Rita did admit that as he looked at his cracked windshield he began to think that he may have struck a human being. "The though started to creep into the back of my mind: My God, what if I hit a person?" he said.

Rita will be back on the stand this morning. The defense may rest its case sometime today.

Who goes out on Monday nights?

Hope it was Happy
Any!

FR. JOSEPH WALTER, C.S.C.
Chairman of Preprofessional Studies

speaks on

"How to get into a
good medical school"

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 9
7:00 P.M.
at
ST. EDWARDS HALL

INNSBRUCK, AUSTRIA
Information Meeting
WITH
Professor Marie-Antoinette Kremser
MONDAY NOVEMBER 7, 1994
4:30 PM
207 DEBARTOLO
Returning students will be on hand to answer questions

MEDITORIAL SCHOLARSHIPS
PROFESSIONALISM FROM THE START

As a scholarship student, the NAVY will pay:
• Full tuition, authorized fees and educational expenses.
• The cost for required books and supplies.
• Rental fees for necessary equipment.
• Monthly cash payment of over $843.

New 4-year scholarships now available for both MEDICAL and DENTAL* students.

For more information, call (708) 729-5210.

* Dental applications are due December 30,1994.

NAVY OFFICER
You and the Navy. Full Speed Ahead.

Panel: Parents must be involved in TV viewing

By GWENDOLYN NORGLE
News Writer

Parents must be involved in their children's viewing of television in order for it to be used as a positive influence, according to the panelists present at yesterday's telecast of "Media Violence and the Family: Finding Solutions," at WNDU-TV studios.

Among the topics discussed during the show were: television violence from a child's perspective, the effects of media violence on children, the manner in which children's interpretation of televised violence differs according to age, how television affects cultural perceptions of women and minorities, and suggestions for controlling family exposure to televised violence.

Present in the studio as panelists were James Collins, associate professor at Notre Dame, and Judith Myers-Walls, professor of child development at Purdue University.

Guests included George Gerber, dean emeritus of the Annenberg School of Communications at the University of Pennsylvania, who was linked by satellite during the live presentation. Video interviews were presented of Gordon Berry, a consultant for children's programs at CBS and NBC, Barbara Wilson, a communications expert from the University of California at Santa Barbara, and Jeffrey Cole, director of a UCLA study on violence in network television.

According to Myers-Walls, there are various types of violence on television: (1) "the good guys and the bad guys" type of violence, (2) violence of supernatural things, like monsters, (3) natural forces, like natural disasters and wildlife, (4) evil villains that are Satan-like, such as Freddy Krueger, (5) historical violence, like wars and lynchings, (6) people fighting, where there may not be a distinct "good guy" and "bad guy," and (7) sports, like boxing, football, and including various games when the benches clear or fans get into arguments.

Myers-Walls said it is important for parents to simply turn off the television, realizing it is an important concept to prevent children from being exposed to this violence.

Collins said he was watching "Terminator 2," a movie in which actress Linda Hamilton frequently uses weapons with which to fight and protect her family, with his 13-year-old daughter. He said, "What was I going to tell her, Look honey, you can use a grenade launcher, too."

Gerber said that "victimization was an important consequence of showing violence. Parents have a responsibility to watch TV with their kids."

According to Collins, parents need to "use that influence (of television) constructively."

Berr said that parents should sit down with their children and explain to them that what is on television is "designed for entertainment."

According to Wilson, "things that might be appropriate for one age group might not be appropriate for another...which makes it difficult (for parents) because siblings watch TV together."

Speaking on the topic of multicultural programming, Berry said that it is important that "adolescents of color" watch television programs that are "not just violent interaction of people that look like them and act like them" because such shows "build stereotypes."

The four-hour, live telecast was 10th in a series sponsored by the Notre Dame Alumni Association's office of Alumni Continuing Education.

Notre Dame is the first university to provide educational television programs for its alumni through satellite technology.

The Alumni Association has two hundred clubs, some of which are in foreign countries, according to Jim Bottling, the head of continuing education for the St. Joe Valley Club.

Bottling, a member of the class of '61, has been a part of every one of the programs sponsored by the Alumni Association. He said one could gain a lot by watching the series. "That's the idea of it," he said, "to learn something."

Executive Director of the Alumni Association Charles Lennon, Jr. explained that continuing education is one of five committees in the Alumni Association, which selects a topic for each program based on "value-centered education."
If you are interested in learning how to confront oppression, then sign up now!

The Multicultural Executive Council is offering students, staff, and professors the opportunity to participate in this diversity sensitivity workshop.

Limited Enrollment—Call Immediately

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 20
8:30 A.M. – 1:30 P.M.
EARTH SCIENCE BUILDING
ROOM 101

BREAKFAST AND LUNCH WILL BE PROVIDED

THIS WORKSHOP IS BEING PRESENTED BY THE NOTRE DAME AFFILIATE OF THE NATIONAL COALITION BUILDING INSTITUTE

Contact:
Mickey Franco • 631-4355
Adele Lanan • 631-7308
Students fights cost of vandalism

By MARCY DI N I US

A student at Stanford University charged with the vandalism of the sculpture "Gay Campuses Editor" is being made to pay for damage that was previously done to the statute.

Senior Thomas Irwin pled no contest to his felony charge, yet at a preliminary hearing, Irwin's attorney argued that the actual damage done to the statue was less than $5,000, and that, as a result, the charge should be decreased to a misdemeanor. Already, the university has paid $950 for repairs done by a professional in art restoration.

At the hearing, the head of conservation and registration at Stanford Art Museum, Susan Roberts-Manganeli stated that "the statue would not have been done had the vandalism not occurred" and that only expert repairs have been planned before the incident involving Irwin took place.

Deputy District Attorney Valerie Marchant stated, "it's like if you had a dent in your car and then someone came and broadened you. When you repair your car door for being broadened, you will also repair the dent."

Irwin's lawyer also argued that the university should have found someone to repair the statue at a lower cost.

The race to his felony charge, yet at a preliminary hearing, Irwin's attorney argued that the actual damage done to the statue was less than $5,000, and that, as a result, the charge should be decreased to a misdemeanor. Already, the university has paid $950 for repairs done by a professional in art restoration.

Students exposed to radiation

By ZOE MARIN

A group of people at the University of Miami are taking the hemp plant pretty seriously.

The group, unofficially known as the Hemp Awareness Council (HAC), is concerned with the commercial uses of the plant as well as the medical benefits it offers. HAC believes that hemp is a favorable natural resource, usable in many industries.

"The fact is that it is ridiculous that it is not used. Food, fuel, fiber, and medicine are all used and these are the uses," said Brent Gimpel, the president of the HAC, to the Miami Herald. "You can run your car on it!"

Hemp can be used to produce oil, methanol for fuel, and biomass for energy. The plant is also an efficient crop as it is a beneficial environmental. Hemp can produce four times more protein than one acre of trees in less than one quarter of the time," said Gimpel.

Hemp has been known to aid in the treatment of asthma, glaucoma, tumors, nausea, epilepsy, multiple sclerotics, back pain and muscle spasms. Currently, only eight people in the United States are allowed to use hemp legally for medical purposes.

The council reaches out to people by planning fun events and projects, which recently included a concert held in October featuring four local bands.

The money the council raises from the benefits is usually used for flies and making information concerning hemp readily available. The cost of obtaining research reports can be high.

However, the group has had a hard time with people taking their cause seriously. "The main reason the council is so concerned with presenting the truth is because the people tend to be misinformed," Gimpel said.

Gimpel has attempted to submit a letter to the Miami Herald, but was denied saying, "I was offended because the main reason of the letter was to truly present facts and give people an idea about our cause," said Gimpel.

Council promotes hemp at U. of Miami

WASHINGTON

A record 45,365 people applied to the 126 U.S. medical schools, including almost 19,000 women.

The bumper pool of applicants included 5,060 members of minority groups in medicine, including blacks, Mexican-Americans, mainland Puerto Ricans, American Indians and Alaska natives, the Association of American Medical Colleges said Wednesday.

The 16,287 students who began their medical education this fall included more than 2,000 of those minority applicants, or 12.4 percent.

The cost of obtaining research reports can be high.

However, the group has had a hard time with people taking their cause seriously. "The main reason the council is so concerned with presenting the truth is because the people tend to be misinformed," Gimpel said.

Gimpel has attempted to submit a letter to the Miami Herald, but was denied saying, "I was offended because the main reason of the letter was to truly present facts and give people an idea about our cause," said Gimpel.

Students apply to med schools in record numbers

WASHINGTON

A record 45,365 people applied to the 126 U.S. medical schools, including almost 19,000 women.

The bumper pool of applicants included 5,060 members of minority groups in medicine, including blacks, Mexican-Americans, mainland Puerto Ricans, American Indians and Alaska natives, the Association of American Medical Colleges said Wednesday.

The 16,287 students who began their medical education this fall included more than 2,000 of those minority applicants, or 12.4 percent.

The cost of obtaining research reports can be high.

However, the group has had a hard time with people taking their cause seriously. "The main reason the council is so concerned with presenting the truth is because the people tend to be misinformed," Gimpel said.

Gimpel has attempted to submit a letter to the Miami Herald, but was denied saying, "I was offended because the main reason of the letter was to truly present facts and give people an idea about our cause," said Gimpel.

Students apply to med schools in record numbers

WASHINGTON

A record 45,365 people applied to the 126 U.S. medical schools, including almost 19,000 women.

The bumper pool of applicants included 5,060 members of minority groups in medicine, including blacks, Mexican-Americans, mainland Puerto Ricans, American Indians and Alaska natives, the Association of American Medical Colleges said Wednesday.

The 16,287 students who began their medical education this fall included more than 2,000 of those minority applicants, or 12.4 percent.

The cost of obtaining research reports can be high.

However, the group has had a hard time with people taking their cause seriously. "The main reason the council is so concerned with presenting the truth is because the people tend to be misinformed," Gimpel said.

Gimpel has attempted to submit a letter to the Miami Herald, but was denied saying, "I was offended because the main reason of the letter was to truly present facts and give people an idea about our cause," said Gimpel.

Students apply to med schools in record numbers

WASHINGTON

A record 45,365 people applied to the 126 U.S. medical schools, including almost 19,000 women.

The bumper pool of applicants included 5,060 members of minority groups in medicine, including blacks, Mexican-Americans, mainland Puerto Ricans, American Indians and Alaska natives, the Association of American Medical Colleges said Wednesday.

The 16,287 students who began their medical education this fall included more than 2,000 of those minority applicants, or 12.4 percent.
The Observer is the independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame. It is edited and managed by Notre Dame students as persons, the quality of the teaching, and the general recognition of subjective but supported by the views of undergraduates at Notre Dame every year in the Catholic tradition, with graduate students in the Catholic tradition for faculty, career, marriage and family options. Though it is far from the worst offender, it is immoral—a betrayal of trust—for Notre Dame to play this exploitative game. Meanwhile, the Endowment approach—es one billion dollars, with a balance of $487 million on June 30, 1994, and with little observable impact in relieving the financial burdens on students. We are, however, rising in the ranking of endowments among the major universities. Finally, one of the least accessible statistics at Notre Dame is the size and growth of the non-faculty staff (or bureaucracy). Would it not be in the interest to the students who borrow the money to pay the bill, for the University to dis- close in detail the size of the University staff for each year over the past two decades? 4. “Roll-your-own” Catholicism as the Religion of Notre Dame. The ongoing debate on its “Catholic character” assumes that it is up to the Notre Dame community to define the term, “Catholic university,” and that the definition of that term by the teaching Church—defined by the Second Vatican Council and the bishops in union with the Pope—is not binding on Notre Dame. Last year Notre Dame and other “Catholic” universi- ties rejected the ordinances proposed by the American bishops to implement Ex Corde Ecclesiae, the constitu- tion on Catholic higher education issued by the Pope in 1990. Ex Corde requires, among other things, that “Catholic theologians, aware that they fulfill a mandate received from the Church, are to be faithful to the magisterium of the Church as the authentic interpreter of sacred Scripture and sacred tradition.” As the end of the O’Meara stewardship nears, it will be important to assess the “truth-in-labeling” issue presented by Notre Dame’s claim, especially in fund-raising, to be a Catholic university while it is reluctant to accept the definition of that term by the Pope—the Pope—has ultimate authority to define it. Indeed, Notre Dame’s determination to define “Catholic university” according to its own terms, is at the root of the other problems noted here. Notre Dame has substituted, for the authority of the Vicar of Christ, the more peremptory authority and criteria of the secular aca- demic establishment. This is an appropriate time for recon- sideration of all these policies.

Professor Rice is on the Law School faculty. His column appears every other Monday.

Drobeck

4. "Roll-your-own" Catholicism as the Religion of Notre Dame. The ongoing debate on its "Catholic character" assumes that it is up to the Notre Dame community to define the term, "Catholic university," and that the definition of that term by the teaching Church—defined by the Second Vatican Council and the bishops in union with the Pope—is not binding on Notre Dame. Last year Notre Dame and other "Catholic" universi- ties rejected the ordinances proposed by the American bishops to implement Ex Corde Ecclesiae, the constitu- tion on Catholic higher education issued by the Pope in 1990. Ex Corde requires, among other things, that "Catholic theologians, aware that they fulfill a mandate received from the Church, are to be faithful to the magisterium of the Church as the authentic interpreter of sacred Scripture and sacred tradition." As the end of the O'Meara stewardship nears, it will be important to assess the "truth-in-labeling" issue presented by Notre Dame's claim, especially in fund-raising, to be a Catholic university while it is reluctant to accept the definition of that term by the Pope—the Pope—has ultimate authority to define it. Indeed, Notre Dame's determination to define "Catholic university" according to its own terms, is at the root of the other problems noted here. Notre Dame has substituted, for the authority of the Vicar of Christ, the more peremptory authority and criteria of the secular aca- demic establishment. This is an appropriate time for recon- sideration of all these policies.

Prof. Rice on the Law School faculty. His column appears every other Monday.
At Notre Dame, where such annoying practices are looked upon as an embarrassment, they have blossomed into long-term relationships as they grow in each other as they share their affection, aside from holding hands and sloppily drinking coffee as they walk their loved ones to their dorms.

I went to the library to discover the lack of affection because I came from a high school where couples engaged in affectionate behavior, dressed punchable by death in Du Lac, in the middle of the halls. I considered myself lucky to attend a university where such annoying practices are looked upon as an embarrassment.

Beginning in 1990, the Shirt project was a fund-raiser for Antostal. Since then, it has come out from under the wings of the Student Union Board and has become its own project. The Shirt has become increasingly popular, especially in the last three years beginning with the annual forest green design featuring Linda Holmes and Marge Rushmore's design. Alumni and fans are starting to ask for the shirt by name and the project continues to grow according to Matt Macura, Executive Coordinator of the Shirt project.

The Shirt project, Notre Dame's unique tradition, is beginning its fifth year with a new twist. For the first time, a contest is being held to determine the design for the 1995 Shirt. In the past, the design has been determined by the coordinators of the Shirt project. As the official shirt of the student body, the design contest offers students the opportunity to showcase the image Notre Dame conjures up in their mind, and possibly have it worn on the backs of nearly 50,000 people.

Wednesday night's film is entitled "Finze" by Cheick Oumar Sissoko from Mali. This film illustrates the story of two women's rebellion. Nanyuma, a young widow, refuses plans for her husband's-in-law to marry her. After being told by her conservative father, he becomes brutalized and is deserted by the women who are appalled when she resists her age-old custom. Thursday night's film is entitled "Zan Boko" by Gaston Kabore from Burkina Faso. This film tells the story of a village swallowed up by one of Africa's sprawling cities. Through this event, the film reveals the transformation of both an agrarian, subsistence society into an industrialized, commodity economy and an oral culture into a mass media culture.

The Dark Continent
Revealed through film

Dave Griffith
Accent Columnist

This year, Michigan was blinked by a sea of green. Last year, Northwestern was engulfed by navy blue waves. And... The year before that, Michigan was attacked by the white and yellow waves. But then I thought, 'what right does this couple have to single-handedly bring about the fall of the Notre Dame student body, the design contest offers students the opportunity to showcase the image Notre Dame conjures up in their mind, and possibly have it worn on the backs of nearly 50,000 people.'

Just then I looked up and right there in front of me was a large, comfy chair. I sat in it and began to read. This dog was my love for the first time, a contest is being held to determine the design for the 1995 Shirt. In the past, the design has been determined by the coordinators of the Shirt project. As the official shirt of the student body, the design contest offers students the opportunity to showcase the image Notre Dame conjures up in their mind, and possibly have it worn on the backs of nearly 50,000 people.

Shannon Forbes
Accent Writer

Africa, long known as the "dark continent," is still a mystery to many people. This week's part of the "dark continent" will be revealed. Notre Dame and Saint Mary's students have an opportunity to open their minds to the mystery that has remained hidden within Africa for many decades, thanks to the Notre Dame African Students' Association and Educational Media.

This week the Notre Dame African Students' Association and Educational Media are hosting the annual African Film Festival. Each night at 7 p.m. a different film will be showing in room 110 of DeBartolo hall. Guillaume Zollinome, President of the African Students' Association, hopes that the films will inform people about African heritage, hardships, and experiences. According to Zollinome, "The goal of the film festival is to help bring the races together and to alleviate tensions that may exist between different African Students' Association wishes to inform people about African life and to share our experiences with them so people will be aware of and understand our lifestyles."
The Observer • SPORTS

Monday, November 7, 1994

Games highlighted by last minute victories

By Richard ROSENBLATT
Associated Press

Dan Marino and Warren Moon are used to winning games in the final seconds. So is Pittsburgh's Gary Anderson. But Doug Pelfrey?

Pelfrey garnered Cincinnati its first victory of the season with his sixth field goal, a 26-yarder, with 4:46 left in overtime to beat Seattle 20-17 in the Seahawks' return to the Kingdome.

Marino rallied the Miami Dolphins for 10 points in the final four minutes Sunday, lifting them to a 22-21 victory over the Indianapolis Colts on Pete Stoyanovskiy's 34-yard field goal with four seconds left.

When you need to do it, Warren will come in and say, 'This is what we've got to do, everybody listen,'" Vikings receiver Jake Reed said. "And everybody listen, this is the time to win the game.

And then there was Anderson, who kicked a 40-yarder with four seconds left in the game — with 3:36 left in overtime to lift the Steelers to a 12-9 win over the Houston Oilers.

"I like to kick it every time," Anderson said. "It's just like playing golf. If you take a good swing at the ball you're going to hit it well." The victories left the Dolphins (7-2) atop the AFC East, the Vikings (7-2) in first in the NFC Central and the Steelers at 6-3 in the second division of the AFC West.

In other games, it was:

Philadelphia, Arizona; 7
Cleveland, New England; 6
Los Angeles Rams 27, Denver 21, Atlanta 10, San Diego 9, San Francisco 37, Washington 22, Chicago 20, Tampa Bay 6 and Green Bay 35, Detroit 30. The Los Angeles Raiders were at Kansas City in a Sunday night game.

Bengals 20, Seahawks 17, OT
At Seattle, the Bengals didn't score in the first half, but got the points they needed from Pelfrey, who set a club record by converting six kicks 34, 46, 44, 37 and 28 yards before his game-winner.

A 76-yard pass from Jeff Blake (31-for-43 for 387 yards) to rookie Darnay Scott set up the winning points. Pelfrey forced the overtime with his 28-yarder with 4:27 left in regulation.

Cincinnati (1-8) didn't win until its 11th game last season.

The Kingdom had been closed since July 19 after ceiling tiles fell before a baseball game.

Dolphins 22, Colts 21
At Miami, Marino (30-for-41 for 261 yards) bounced back from a color-coded quarterback interception to rally Miami. Cornerback Bay Buchanan appeared to sew up a victory for the Colts (4-6) when he intercepted a Marino pass and returned it 28 yards for a TD with 7:32 left.

Marino then hit O.J. McCuffen on a 28-yard TD pass with 3:52 left and the Dolphins got the ball right back. Marino completed the game-winning drive in the 17 to 21 victory over St. Louis.

Anderson kicked the winner.

Steelers 12, Oilers 9, OT
At Pittsburgh, Anderson's 46-yarder gave Anderson the only turnover set up Anderson's winning field goal.

Anderson also kicked field goals of 50, 39 and 37 yards. Al Del Greco made kicks of 32 and 49 yards for the Titans, but also had a kick with seven seconds left in regulation tied at 9. The Oilers (1-8) lost their fifth in a row.

Eagles 17, Cardinals 7
At Philadelphia, Randall Cunningham threw two long TD passes to Fred Barnett in the third quarter as the Eagles spoiled Buddy Ryan's return to the city with five sacks against Arizona (3-6).

Ryan was greeted by a cascade of boos as he came on the field before the game. There were several signs and banners hung inside the stadium that greeted the coach and others praising the former coach.

Sawing Minnesota was 15-for-24 for 201 yards and also chipped 63 yards on eight carries for Philadelphia's 127. Barnett's scoring passes were 47 and 50 yards in a 11-7 lead after the second quarter.

Cowboys 13, Patriots 6
At Arlington, Tony Romo ran for 123 yards and scored on a 1-yarder. He also forced two turnovers. Rypien as the Browns (7-2) are off to their best since start.

Drew Bledsoe threw for 166 yards, nearly half of it in the fourth quarter, and was intercepted four times as the operated passing game was both ended wind gusts to 30 mph. Eric Turner had two of the three interceptions.

Rypien filled in for Vinny Testeverde (concussion) and led the Vikings to 10-6. Minnesota fell to 3-6.

Rams 27, Broncos 21
At Anaheim, Calif., Charlie Tuddrue threw two TD passes that helped the Rams to 21-13 lead and the Rams (4-5) held off another fourth-quarter comeback by John Elway.

Elway threw a pair of TDs in the final quarter, and a final chance when the Broncos (3-6) took over at the Los Angeles 48 with 2:38 left. The Rams later roped out two yards on two completions and then skipped a pass to Shannon Sharpe on fourth down.

Falcons 10, Chargers 9
At Atlanta, no touchdowns for either. The victory for the Chargers in the third time for games, San Diego got its points on John Cappelletti's two field goals.

For More Information:

The Observer accepts classifieds every business day from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Notre Dame office, 314 LaFortune and from 12 p.m. to 3 p.m. at 309 Haggar College Center.

Deadline for next-day classifieds is 3p.m. All classifieds must be prepaid. The charge is 2 cents per character, including all spaces.

Classifieds

EARN INCOME

KNOWING PHILADELPHIA??

Fun Marketing positions are available for experienced employees. Part-time and full-time positions available. Apply today at 202-639-8635.

Spring Brook Early Specialties
Babysathy Family 828, 11 Harveys Blvd.
50% off, bring your own baby or bring your own Dinner.

EARN INCOME

NOTICES

HELP!! Need 2 GA's or stud tix for FSU Game. Call 288-1186.

HELP!! Need 2 FSU TIX for sale. Call Christina @284-5543

HELP!! Need 1 AF Student Ticket for sale. Call Dave at 234-6825 after 5 PM. Mon.

HELP!! Need 2 Student Tickets for sale. Call J-Sans 243-6325, ext 345 by 5 PM. Mon.

PERSONAL 50% off, bring your own baby or bring your own Dinner.

QUALITY COPIES

STARTER SALE

CLASSIFIEDS

LAURENTIAN UNIVERSITY 12th Annual Sportsmen's Banquet
February 4th, 1995

KIDS NEEDED for UF dormitory

Quality Copies Discounted print and bind services. Save money. Call 202-639-8635.

WE BUY COLLEGE TEXTBOOKS

The Observer offers classifieds every business day from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the Notre Dame office, 314 LaFortune and from 12 p.m. to 3 p.m. in 309 Haggar College Center. Deadline for non-prepaid ads for classifieds must be prepaid. The charge is 2 cents per character, including all spaces.
Double serves up victory
Crabtree, Lord

capture title,
Sprouse

advances to semi-finals in singles

Observer Staff Report

The semi-finals in the Rolex Regional tennis team s competed over the weekend in the Rolex Championships.

Crabtree and Lord battled their way through the tournament with two-set victories in the first and second round. In their last three matches, the Notre Dame duo dropped the first set and came back to win the next two.

In singles action, Crabtree advanced to the semifinals before losing to Lauren Gavaris of Wisconsin. Crabtree is the No. 11-ranked player in the country, while Gavaris is No. 47.

The Notre Dame doubles teams of Steve Flanigan and Pietrowski and Sprouse and Jason Pun also advanced to the quarterfinals yesterday.

The Robinson era had begun.

"It was a great feeling," Robinson said. "It was something I've been dreaming about since I picked up a basketball, playing at the pro level."

Less than an hour earlier, Robinson's agent, Charles Tucker, and the Bucks had scrambled to put the finishing touches on the No. 1 draft pick's 10-year, $68.15 million contract.

Robinson, a 6-7, 240-pound All-American forward who led the nation in scoring last year at Purdue, sat out all of training camp before rethinking his goal of becoming pro sports' first $100 million athlete.

Robinson smiles in debut

By ARNIE STAPLETON

MILWAUKEE

The Milwaukee Bucks had been waiting for this moment ever since they won the NBA lottery on May 22.

Former Purdue star Glenn Robinson said he'd been waiting for it ever since he first picked up a basketball when he was about 3 years old.

When he walked out onto the Bradley Center floor Saturday night, the centerpiece of a dazzling pre-game ceremony that included laser lights and fire-works, Robinson couldn't help but smile.

The Robinson era had begun.

"It was a great feeling," Robinson said. "It was something I've been dreaming about since I picked up a basketball, playing at the pro level."

Less than an hour earlier, Robinson's agent, Charles Tucker, and the Bucks had scrambled to put the finishing touches on the No. 1 draft pick's 10-year, $68.15 million contract.

Robinson, a 6-7, 240-pound All-American forward who led the nation in scoring last year at Purdue, sat out all of training camp before rethinking his goal of becoming pro sports' first $100 million athlete.

The sides agreed in principle to a deal Thursday, but they spent three days finalizing the pact.

Robinson, armed with four or five players from coach Mike Dunleavy's playbook, received a tremendous ovation when he started the second quarter against the Los Angeles Lakers. The crowd was on edge as he came spinning off a pick and put up his first shot as a pro. The 15-footer rimmed out.

He finished with eight points and four rebounds in 13 minutes. But he also picked up three fouls and five turnovers.

All in all, Robinson said he was pleased.

Robinson regains title with lucky jab

By ED SCHUYLER Jr.
Associated Press

LAS VEGAS

It was a last-second pass caught in the end zone, a bases-loaded homer in the bottom of the ninth, a buzzer-beating basket from midcourt.

All of those things were packed into the winning blow that crashed against Michael Moorer's jaw and made George Foreman a heavyweight champion at the ripe old age of 45.

But was Foreman's dramatic 10th-round knockout victory Saturday night good for boxing? What does it say about the state of the sport, particularly the heavyweight division?

"George got lucky, but it just shows what boxing is like today," said Larry Holmes, a champion from 1978 to 1985, who will challenge Oliver McCall on Jan. 21 for the WBC heavyweight title.

"These young guys can't fight. We old people have to teach these young people that we know what we're doing," Holmes said from his home in Easton, Pa.

Foreman took advantage of a lapse of concentration by the 26-year-old Moorer in delivering the winning two-punch combination.

"All he (Moorer) had to do was use the jab and move side to side," Holmes said.

In the 10th round, however, Moorer stood in front of Foreman.

"George is a big truck, but if he runs over you, he'll kill you," Holmes said. "That's why I moved him from Chicago and said, 'I'm coming,' and the foot went there for him."

Promoter Bob Arum bristled at the suggestion that a 45-year-old man winning a share of boxing's biggest prize — the IBF and WBA titles — made a mockery of the sport.

"When Nolan Ryan pitched a no-hitter, did they say baseball was over?" Arum asked, referring to the pitcher who was 46 when he retired.

"George is going to bring new fans to the sport," said Seth Abraham, president of Time-Warner Sports. "The combined live and delayed telecast will make it the must-watch fight ever on HBO."

"When miracles like this happen, how are we to be had for boxing?" said Angelo Dundee, who worked in Foreman's corner and was in Muhammad Ali's corner when Foreman lost the undisputed title 20 years ago in Zaire.

"Yeah, George's win is good for boxing because people know who George Foreman is," Holmes said. "What's wrong with boxing is the money. People don't get to see fights because the money's so big fighters don't fight much."

Big purses lead to inactivity, which keep fighters from developing a marketable name or making them fade from the public consciousness.

Another cause of dry spells between attractive bouts is that long negotiations are needed between megabuck fighters over issues such as television and live-site rights.

Boxing suffers from not enough names that are known to the general public. It is cluttered with needless weight divisions and championships recognized by a growing number of governing bodies, seemingly set up overnight.

As for the state of the heavy-weight division, with the ex­ceptions of the 1970s when Ali, Foreman, Holmes, Joe Frazier, Earnie Shavers, Ken Norton and Larry Holmes, practiced their craft, it has never been deep in talent.

And recently, heavyweight champions have done little to add prestige to the title. So Foreman's victory was a badly needed shot in the arm for a sport that awaits the return of Mike Tyson.
Belles finish season with pair of losses

By JENNIFER LEWIS
Saint Mary's Sport Editor

Goshen College and Saint Mary's college went into Saturday's volleyball match with a tied record of 12-16. However, Goshen swept the Belles in three games (11-15, 4-15, 12-15), causing Saint Mary's to finish their season with a disappointing loss.

"The season did not end on a positive note," said freshman Brenda Hoban. "We could have beaten Goshen, but we didn't start off to win." Because of Kelly Meyer's sprained ankle, Julie Schroeder-Biek decided to run a 6-2 offense, instead of their usual 5-1 offense. In order to rest up Meyer, middle hitter, Sara Stronzcek stepped up and aided in assisting in the first two matches.

"For some reason, we do not play well using the 6-2 offense," said Schroeder-Biek. "It's definitely a mental block, the team is uncertain of their positions." Serving errors were an absolute downfall for the Belles. Saint Mary's played hard on the court, by making numerous side outs; however, they were unable to make four serves over the net in the first game.

"We were matching them on defense," said Schroeder-Biek. "But, we couldn't get the points." The individual stats were relatively low compared to previous games. Stronzcek lead the Belles with 6 kills, 10 digs, and 4 blocks. Meg Kelly had 3 kills, and Susie Aldridge had 9 digs. Perhaps the reason why Kelly's number of kills decreased was due to her spending Friday evening, prior to the game, in the emergency room. Kelly had several test runs on her stomach.

Although the season has come to an end, the Belles still plan to practice up to six hours a week, in the off season.

The Belles finish season

Cross Country Championships

Men

John Cowan Notre Dame
Nathaniel Ruder Notre Dame
Joe Dunlop Notre Dame
Mathew Althoff Notre Dame
Chad Zahms Wis-Milwaukeee
Mark Miller Loyola
Peter Dougherty La Salle
Scott Lidskin Butler
Jason Rexing Notre Dame
Ed Reilly Loyola

Women

Kristi Kramer Notre Dame
Sarah Riley Notre Dame
Maureen Kelly Notre Dame
Kristen Dudas Notre Dame
Heather Holzer Butler
Angie Moler Wis-Milwaukeee
Emily Hood Notre Dame
Becky Alferi Notre Dame
Joette Buehning Wis-Milwaukeee
Lindsay Dutton Notre Dame

Men's Newcomer-of-the-Year: Jason Rexing, Notre Dame
Women's Newcomer-of-the-Year: Lindsay Dutton, Notre Dame

Men's Coach-of-the-Year: Joe Plane, Notre Dame
Women's Coach-of-the-Year: Tim Comelly, Notre Dame

Swimmers improve at relays

By ANGELA OLSON
Sports Writer

The Saint Mary's swim team made a splash in last Friday's Notre Dame Relay Invitational which was held at Rolfs Aquatic Center. The team competed against three division one schools; Notre Dame, Xavier College of Cincinnati, and Texas Christian. The division III Belles took third place only defeating Xavier.

"The team did very well. The competition was strong in many races," said Captain Tara Krull. "It was a fun meet to swim in." Second year coach, Greg Janson, also felt the team did well.

We definitely were swimming season best times," said Janson. "Compared to the prior week, we swam much better." So far this year, two school records have been set by freshman Allison Smith. In last week's meet at Wabash College, Smith broke both a school and pool record in the 200 Butterfly. At the ND Relays, Smith set a new school record in the 500 Freestyle.

"That (Smith's new record) came after her thirteenth swim of the day," said Janson, "In terms of track that is compared to running her eight 800 of the day."

Janson feels the team strengths lie in events 200 yards or longer. "We want to work to improve individually and as a team to improve on performance over last year," said Janson. "We've almost accomplished our goals already."

Cross Country Championships

Men: John Cowan Notre Dame
Nathaniel Ruder Notre Dame
Joe Dunlop Notre Dame
Mathew Althoff Notre Dame
Chad Zahms Wis-Milwaukeee
Mark Miller Loyola
Peter Dougherty La Salle
Scott Lidskin Butler
Jason Rexing Notre Dame
Ed Reilly Loyola

Women: Kristi Kramer Notre Dame
Sarah Riley Notre Dame
Maureen Kelly Notre Dame
Kristen Dudas Notre Dame
Heather Holzer Butler
Angie Moler Wis-Milwaukeee
Emily Hood Notre Dame
Becky Alferi Notre Dame
Joette Buehning Wis-Milwaukeee
Lindsay Dutton Notre Dame

Men's Newcomer-of-the-Year: Jason Rexing, Notre Dame
Women's Newcomer-of-the-Year: Lindsay Dutton, Notre Dame

Men's Coach-of-the-Year: Joe Plane, Notre Dame
Women's Coach-of-the-Year: Tim Comelly, Notre Dame

Swimmers improve at relays

By ANGELA OLSON
Sports Writer

The Saint Mary's swim team made a splash in last Friday's Notre Dame Relay Invitational which was held at Rolfs Aquatic Center. The team competed against three division one schools; Notre Dame, Xavier College of Cincinnati, and Texas Christian. The division III Belles took third place only defeating Xavier.

"The team did very well. The competition was strong in many races," said Captain Tara Krull. "It was a fun meet to swim in." Second year coach, Greg Janson, also felt the team did well.

We definitely were swimming season best times," said Janson. "Compared to the prior week, we swam much better." So far this year, two school records have been set by freshman Allison Smith. In last week's meet at Wabash College, Smith broke both a school and pool record in the 200 Butterfly. At the ND Relays, Smith set a new school record in the 500 Freestyle.

"That (Smith's new record) came after her thirteenth swim of the day," said Janson, "In terms of track that is compared to running her eight 800 of the day."

Janson feels the team strengths lie in events 200 yards or longer. "We want to work to improve individually and as a team to improve on performance over last year," said Janson. "We've almost accomplished our goals already."

Swimmers improve at relays

By ANGELA OLSON
Sports Writer

The Saint Mary's swim team made a splash in last Friday's Notre Dame Relay Invitational which was held at Rolfs Aquatic Center. The team competed against three division one schools; Notre Dame, Xavier College of Cincinnati, and Texas Christian. The division III Belles took third place only defeating Xavier.

"The team did very well. The competition was strong in many races," said Captain Tara Krull. "It was a fun meet to swim in." Second year coach, Greg Janson, also felt the team did well.

We definitely were swimming season best times," said Janson. "Compared to the prior week, we swam much better." So far this year, two school records have been set by freshman Allison Smith. In last week's meet at Wabash College, Smith broke both a school and pool record in the 200 Butterfly. At the ND Relays, Smith set a new school record in the 500 Freestyle.

"That (Smith's new record) came after her thirteenth swim of the day," said Janson, "In terms of track that is compared to running her eight 800 of the day."

Janson feels the team strengths lie in events 200 yards or longer. "We want to work to improve individually and as a team to improve on performance over last year," said Janson. "We've almost accomplished our goals already."

Screen Gems '94-'95

The movies as they were meant to be: Classic films, Big screen. Bargain prices.

Tuesday, Nov. 15, 1:30 and 7:30 p.m.
Cary Grant Irene Dunne

The Awful Truth

One of the great screwball comedies. Grant and Dunne are a soon-to-be-divorced couple who outdo themselves trying to sabotage each other's new love interest.

O'Laughlin Auditorium
$2 adults, $1 students

COMING ATTRACTIONS: Stanley Kubrick's PATHS OF GLORY, Jan. 24; ON THE WATERFRONT, March 7; Alfred Hitchcock's VERTIGO, April 11.
Irish dominate the MCC

By BETHY BAKER
Sports Writer

The Notre Dame volleyball team continued its Midwestern Collegiate Conference winning streak this weekend with its 29th and 30th consecutive conference victories. The wins came over Wright State on Saturday and Cleveland State on Sunday.

The Irish, now 6-0 in the MCC this season, took Wright State in three games with scores of 15-7, 15-11, and 15-10. The dominating Irish performance was led by freshman outside hitter Angie Harris who led the team with 21 kills and 3 service aces. Senior co-captain Nicole Coates also added to the victory with 18 kills and 5 digs.

On Sunday, the 10th ranked Irish team once again impressed fans with a 15-15, 15-13, 15-11 victory over Cleveland State. The Irish held the Vikings to a 0.061 hitting percentage and forced many receiving and blocking errors. Nicole Coates and sophomore Kristina Ervin led the team as they both contributed 9 kills to the Irish effort.

Sophomore Jen Briggs and the Irish volleyball team dominated both Wright State and Cleveland State last weekend in conference play.

Title
continued from page 16

against Butler. The win against Butler came in the final game of MCC play for Notre Dame. The Irish will move to the Big East Conference next season, closing their MCC affiliation without ever losing a conference match. The lone Menish on their 23-0-1 record was a 0-0 tie with Dayton in their first-ever MCC match.

"I continue to be impressed by the way we handle difficult situations," Irish coach Chris Petrucci said. "Even tied 0-0 at half, we didn't panic or lose control of the game. Our offense really jelled this weekend. With the exception of the first half today, we finished our scoring opportunities.

Notre Dame's 25-goal total set the all-time MCC mark for goals in a tournament, and the 10-goal performance against Xavier set the all-time single-game scoring mark.

The Irish placed six players on the all-tournament team, including conference player of the year Manthei, McCarthy, freshman Julie Maund, sophomore Cindy Dow, and sophomore Jen Renola.

Coates also led the team defensively with 11 digs. Her performance was a key to both victories over the weekend.

Middle blockers Jen Briggs and Molly McCarthy also added a strong net attack. Briggs, a sophomore, was right behind Ervin and Coates with 8 kills, while McCarthy had 6. Junior Shannon Tuttle, whose 1032 assists have set the Irish to victory in every one of the previous 26 matches, was given a bit of a break as freshman setter Carey May stepped in and produced a match-high 24 assists and 5 digs.

One of the goals for the Irish is going undefeated in the conference and winning the MCC crown. The conference does not offer much challenge for the top-ten Irish.

"If we continue to win in the MCC, one of our goals will be achieved," said senior co-captain Christy Peters. "But it does not give us much of a challenge."

"It's always difficult around midseason," said Peters.

"But things will pick up as we move toward the end, and we'll start playing with more of a focus."

Spring Writer

The Observer/Eric Ruthling

Tuttle, whose 1032 assists have set the season, closing their MCC affiliation without such a call considering the bad luck they encountered during the season.

"It feels great," Koloskov exclaimed. "It's a bit disappointing to have it decided, taken from the players," coach Tompkins said. "It's no way to end a game when two teams fought so hard. It leaves a bitter taste."

Yet, the Irish may deserve such a call considering the bad luck they encountered during the season.

"It feels great," Koloskov explained. "We were struggling during the year, but we've returned to the way we were playing in the beginning."

Mary's Celebrating Again!

Happy 21st Birthday!

Love,
Dad, Mom, Bo & Bean

SPORTS Writer

The Observer/Betsy Baker

Title

continued from page 16

against Butler. The win against Butler came in the final game of MCC play for Notre Dame. The Irish will move to the Big East Conference next season, closing their MCC affiliation without ever losing a conference match. The lone Menish on their 23-0-1 record was a 0-0 tie with Dayton in their first-ever MCC match.

"I continue to be impressed by the way we handle difficult situations," Irish coach Chris Petrucci said. "Even tied 0-0 at half, we didn't panic or lose control of the game. Our offense really jelled this weekend. With the exception of the first half today, we finished our scoring opportunities.

Notre Dame's 25-goal total set the all-time MCC mark for goals in a tournament, and the 10-goal performance against Xavier set the all-time single-game scoring mark.

The Irish placed six players on the all-tournament team, including conference player of the year Manthei, McCarthy, freshman Julie Maund, sophomore Cindy Dow, and sophomore Jen Renola.

Coates also led the team defensively with 11 digs. Her performance was a key to both victories over the weekend.

Middle blockers Jen Briggs and Molly McCarthy also added a strong net attack. Briggs, a sophomore, was right behind Ervin and Coates with 8 kills, while McCarthy had 6. Junior Shannon Tuttle, whose 1032 assists have set the Irish to victory in every one of the previous 26 matches, was given a bit of a break as freshman setter Carey May stepped in and produced a match-high 24 assists and 5 digs.

One of the goals for the Irish is going undefeated in the conference and winning the MCC crown. The conference does not offer much challenge for the top-ten Irish.

"If we continue to win in the MCC, one of our goals will be achieved," said senior co-captain Christy Peters. "But it does not give us much of a challenge."

"It's always difficult around midseason," said Peters.

"But things will pick up as we move toward the end, and we'll start playing with more of a focus."

Spring Writer

The Observer/Eric Ruthling

Tuttle, whose 1032 assists have set the season, closing their MCC affiliation without such a call considering the bad luck they encountered during the season.

"It feels great," Koloskov exclaimed. "It's a bit disappointing to have it decided, taken from the players," coach Tompkins said. "It's no way to end a game when two teams fought so hard. It leaves a bitter taste."

Yet, the Irish may deserve such a call considering the bad luck they encountered during the season.

"It feels great," Koloskov explained. "We were struggling during the year, but we've returned to the way we were playing in the beginning."

Mary's Celebrating Again!

Happy 21st Birthday!

Love,
Dad, Mom, Bo & Bean

SPORTS Writer

The Observer/Betsy Baker

Title

continued from page 16

against Butler. The win against Butler came in the final game of MCC play for Notre Dame. The Irish will move to the Big East Conference next season, closing their MCC affiliation without ever losing a conference match. The lone Menish on their 23-0-1 record was a 0-0 tie with Dayton in their first-ever MCC match.

"I continue to be impressed by the way we handle difficult situations," Irish coach Chris Petrucci said. "Even tied 0-0 at half, we didn't panic or lose control of the game. Our offense really jelled this weekend. With the exception of the first half today, we finished our scoring opportunities.

Notre Dame's 25-goal total set the all-time MCC mark for goals in a tournament, and the 10-goal performance against Xavier set the all-time single-game scoring mark.

The Irish placed six players on the all-tournament team, including conference player of the year Manthei, McCarthy, freshman Julie Maund, sophomore Cindy Dow, and sophomore Jen Renola.

Coates also led the team defensively with 11 digs. Her performance was a key to both victories over the weekend.

Middle blockers Jen Briggs and Molly McCarthy also added a strong net attack. Briggs, a sophomore, was right behind Ervin and Coates with 8 kills, while McCarthy had 6. Junior Shannon Tuttle, whose 1032 assists have set the Irish to victory in every one of the previous 26 matches, was given a bit of a break as freshman setter Carey May stepped in and produced a match-high 24 assists and 5 digs.

One of the goals for the Irish is going undefeated in the conference and winning the MCC crown. The conference does not offer much challenge for the top-ten Irish.

"If we continue to win in the MCC, one of our goals will be achieved," said senior co-captain Christy Peters. "But it does not give us much of a challenge."

"It's always difficult around midseason," said Peters.

"But things will pick up as we move toward the end, and we'll start playing with more of a focus."

Spring Writer

The Observer/Eric Ruthling

Tuttle, whose 1032 assists have set the season, closing their MCC affiliation without such a call considering the bad luck they encountered during the season.

"It feels great," Koloskov exclaimed. "It's a bit disappointing to have it decided, taken from the players," coach Tompkins said. "It's no way to end a game when two teams fought so hard. It leaves a bitter taste."

Yet, the Irish may deserve such a call considering the bad luck they encountered during the season.

"It feels great," Koloskov explained. "We were struggling during the year, but we've returned to the way we were playing in the beginning."

Mary's Celebrating Again!

Happy 21st Birthday!

Love,
Dad, Mom, Bo & Bean

SPORTS Writer

The Observer/Betsy Baker
Flames melt Irish in weekend series

By MICHAEL DAY
Sports Writer

To say the Notre Dame hockey team felt only a slightly negative effect in the aftermath of their pair of tough losses to Lake Superior the previous weekend (Oct. 28-29) would be an understatement.

The University of Illinois at Chicago proved to be the beneficiary of the Irish letdown, stunning Notre Dame 3-2 on Friday night at the JACC and trouncing the Irish 6-2 on Saturday.

Friday night turned out to be a heartbreaker for the Notre Dame squad and faithful. The Flames overcame a 2-0 deficit to shock the Irish by scoring the game winning and emotionally draining goal with just 20 seconds remaining in the contest.

After advancing the puck to within 20 feet of the Irish goal, Hutson found Kevin O'Keefe wide open with an angle on Notre Dame goaltender Matt Eiler. In turn, O'Keefe slid the puck past Eiler and into the net for his first goal of the season and to give the Flames the 3-2 victory in the process.

"It was a big disappointment because we had the opportunities to win," said defenseman Garry Gruber. "We just didn't put 60 minutes of good hockey together."

After the game remained scoreless for the entire first period and nearly half of the second period, the Irish offense exploded for two goals within a 30 second interval. Irish left wing Jamie Morshead stole the puck from a Flame defender and shot it past Spencer to put Notre Dame on the scoreboard with 12:10 remaining in the second period.

Morshead wasn't finished. Just seconds later, he set up Gruber for a tough goal from long range with 11:40 left in the second period.

"We didn't play our style of hockey," said Gruber following the second game. "They played harder, wanted the loose pucks more, and played the body more."

The only bright spot in the game for the Irish in the loss was the play of Tim Herberts. The sophomore center scored both goals for Notre Dame, but it was not enough to overcome a fired up UIC squad.

After starting the season 2-0, the Irish have dropped their last four games. It was apparent from the team's disappointing showing over the weekend that they were still showing some effects from their tough losses to Lake Superior.

SOPHOMORES!!!

Get Involved:

Sign up to be a member of the Sophomore Committee for this year's JPW!!!

Sign up at LaFortune Info desk or call Regis at x2695.

Deadline Fri., Nov. 11

THIS WEEKEND
NOTRE DAME HOCKEY
vs. FERRIS STATE
FRI. & SAT. NIGHTS • 7 P.M.
Joyce Center Fieldhouse

• FREE ADMISSION (with student ID)
• other prizes, contests and giveaways
THE BLOOD DRIVE IS NEXT WEEK, THIS YEAR IT'S MANDATORY AND A THREE-PINT MINIMUM.

YOU'VE TAKEN ALL I HAVE! THERE'S NOTHING LEFT TO GIVE!!

THE FOUR FOOD GROUPS OF THE APOCALYPSE

By Dave Kellett

 Monday, November 7, 1994

DILBERT

The Observer • TODAY

FOUR FOOD GROUPS OF THE APOCALYPSE

By Dave Kellett

1. A SWISS CHEESE AND HAM SANDWICH.

2. A SWISS CHEESE AND HAM SANDWICH.

3. A SWISS CHEESE AND HAM SANDWICH.

4. A SWISS CHEESE AND HAM SANDWICH.

SMOKE FRIENDS DON'T LET FRIENDS DRIVE DRUNK

SOUTH AMERICA

EQUATORIAL GUINEA

THE BLOOD DRIVE IS NEXT WEEK, THIS YEAR IT'S MANDATORY AND A THREE-PINT MINIMUM.

YOU'VE TAKEN ALL I HAVE! THERE'S NOTHING LEFT TO GIVE!!

THE FOUR FOOD GROUPS OF THE APOCALYPSE

By Dave Kellett

Monday, November 7, 1994

DILBERT

The Observer • TODAY

FOUR FOOD GROUPS OF THE APOCALYPSE

By Dave Kellett

1. A SWISS CHEESE AND HAM SANDWICH.

2. A SWISS CHEESE AND HAM SANDWICH.

3. A SWISS CHEESE AND HAM SANDWICH.

4. A SWISS CHEESE AND HAM SANDWICH.

SMOKE FRIENDS DON'T LET FRIENDS DRIVE DRUNK

SOUTH AMERICA

EQUATORIAL GUINEA

THE BLOOD DRIVE IS NEXT WEEK, THIS YEAR IT'S MANDATORY AND A THREE-PINT MINIMUM.

YOU'VE TAKEN ALL I HAVE! THERE'S NOTHING LEFT TO GIVE!!

THE FOUR FOOD GROUPS OF THE APOCALYPSE

By Dave Kellett

Monday, November 7, 1994

DILBERT

The Observer • TODAY

FOUR FOOD GROUPS OF THE APOCALYPSE

By Dave Kellett

1. A SWISS CHEESE AND HAM SANDWICH.

2. A SWISS CHEESE AND HAM SANDWICH.

3. A SWISS CHEESE AND HAM SANDWICH.

4. A SWISS CHEESE AND HAM SANDWICH.

SMOKE FRIENDS DON'T LET FRIENDS DRIVE DRUNK

SOUTH AMERICA

EQUATORIAL GUINEA

THE BLOOD DRIVE IS NEXT WEEK, THIS YEAR IT'S MANDATORY AND A THREE-PINT MINIMUM.

YOU'VE TAKEN ALL I HAVE! THERE'S NOTHING LEFT TO GIVE!!

THE FOUR FOOD GROUPS OF THE APOCALYPSE

By Dave Kellett

Monday, November 7, 1994

DILBERT

The Observer • TODAY

FOUR FOOD GROUPS OF THE APOCALYPSE

By Dave Kellett

1. A SWISS CHEESE AND HAM SANDWICH.

2. A SWISS CHEESE AND HAM SANDWICH.

3. A SWISS CHEESE AND HAM SANDWICH.

4. A SWISS CHEESE AND HAM SANDWICH.

SMOKE FRIENDS DON'T LET FRIENDS DRIVE DRUNK

SOUTH AMERICA

EQUATORIAL GUINEA

THE BLOOD DRIVE IS NEXT WEEK, THIS YEAR IT'S MANDATORY AND A THREE-PINT MINIMUM.

YOU'VE TAKEN ALL I HAVE! THERE'S NOTHING LEFT TO GIVE!!

THE FOUR FOOD GROUPS OF THE APOCALYPSE

By Dave Kellett

Monday, November 7, 1994

DILBERT

The Observer • TODAY

FOUR FOOD GROUPS OF THE APOCALYPSE

By Dave Kellett

1. A SWISS CHEESE AND HAM SANDWICH.

2. A SWISS CHEESE AND HAM SANDWICH.

3. A SWISS CHEESE AND HAM SANDWICH.

4. A SWISS CHEESE AND HAM SANDWICH.

SMOKE FRIENDS DON'T LET FRIENDS DRIVE DRUNK

EQUATORIAL GUINEA

THE BLOOD DRIVE IS NEXT WEEK, THIS YEAR IT'S MANDATORY AND A THREE-PINT MINIMUM.

YOU'VE TAKEN ALL I HAVE! THERE'S NOTHING LEFT TO GIVE!!

THE FOUR FOOD GROUPS OF THE APOCALYPSE

By Dave Kellett

Monday, November 7, 1994

DILBERT

The Observer • TODAY

FOUR FOOD GROUPS OF THE APOCALYPSE

By Dave Kellett

1. A SWISS CHEESE AND HAM SANDWICH.

2. A SWISS CHEESE AND HAM SANDWICH.

3. A SWISS CHEESE AND HAM SANDWICH.

4. A SWISS CHEESE AND HAM SANDWICH.

SMOKE FRIENDS DON'T LET FRIENDS DRIVE DRUNK

EQUATORIAL GUINEA

THE BLOOD DRIVE IS NEXT WEEK, THIS YEAR IT'S MANDATORY AND A THREE-PINT MINIMUM.

YOU'VE TAKEN ALL I HAVE! THERE'S NOTHING LEFT TO GIVE!!

THE FOUR FOOD GROUPS OF THE APOCALYPSE

By Dave Kellett

Monday, November 7, 1994

DILBERT

The Observer • TODAY

FOUR FOOD GROUPS OF THE APOCALYPSE

By Dave Kellett

1. A SWISS CHEESE AND HAM SANDWICH.

2. A SWISS CHEESE AND HAM SANDWICH.

3. A SWISS CHEESE AND HAM SANDWICH.

4. A SWISS CHEESE AND HAM SANDWICH.

SMOKE FRIENDS DON'T LET FRIENDS DRIVE DRUNK

EQUATORIAL GUINEA

THE BLOOD DRIVE IS NEXT WEEK, THIS YEAR IT'S MANDATORY AND A THREE-PINT MINIMUM.

YOU'VE TAKEN ALL I HAVE! THERE'S NOTHING LEFT TO GIVE!!

THE FOUR FOOD GROUPS OF THE APOCALYPSE

By Dave Kellett

Monday, November 7, 1994

DILBERT
Forget the regular season

Irish win MCC title in overtime thriller

By THOMAS SCHLIDT
Sports Writer

This past summer, the world witnessed the hollow victory of Brazil over Italy when Roberto Baggio sent his shot over the net and Brazil won by penalty kicks.

Yesterday, soccer fans witnessed a joyous, yet disappointing end to a hard fought and even matched game when the Notre Dame men's soccer team (11-9-2) defeated Wisconsin-Milwaukee in double overtime on a penalty kick, 3-2.

With the win, the Irish captured their second consecutive Midwestern Collegiate Conference championship, and will face Central Connecticut, the champion of the Mid-Continental Conference, for a berth to the NCAA tournament.

Along with the tournament championship, Konstantin Koloskov, Tony Capasso and Tim Oates were singled out as members of the All-tournament team. Oates was named MVP.

The Irish reached the finals of the MCC tournament with a 4-1 win over Butler last Friday. The Irish continued to show the dominating offense they displayed in the beginning of the season and in their prior victory over Xavier.

The star in the game against the Bulldogs was senior midfielder Trent Richardson, who scored the initial goal of the match and added two assists. The Irish also received two goals from senior Keith Carlson and another from Koloskov.

There is bad news for the Irish, though. They lost Richardson when he received a red card along with Bulldog Dan Golineck for initiating a brawl when the Irish were up 4-0. This red card meant that Richardson would also be suspended for the conference championship game against Wisconsin-Milwaukee.

"Tont should never be in that situation," coach Mike Berticelli said. "That's not the type of player he is. He's never been thrown out before. We have to keep composure, we can't lose players."

The loss of Richardson would be felt.

The Irish scored within the first two minutes of play. A free kick from Koloskov fooled Panther goalkeeper Alan Placek, and when Placek went to tip the kick over the net, he bounced it off the cross bar. Freshman forward Ryan Turner took advantage of this mistake and pushed it in for a 1-0 lead.

From this point on, the Panther offense dominated the majority of the first half. The absence of Richardson clearly affected the Irish midfield as the Irish made multiple substitutions early in hope to find the best unit.

The second half was more balanced, yet with 15 minutes remaining the Panther started to step-up the pressure even further. The Irish took advantage of this, and, with a well played counter-attack, Koloskov drove in a Turner crossing pass to put the Irish up 2-0 with 13 minutes remaining.

Any Panther hopes seemed dashed, but with some great see SEASON/ page 13

SPORTS

Hockey News...

Check inside to see how the hockey team fared this weekend