Students admit taking Reason copies

University announces Goldwater scholars

Conference highlights ‘collaborative leadership’
Dig the Pig

We spend the fall tailgating through parking lots and fields holding warm National Lights and trying to weasel our way into the Kentucky Fried Chicken any tailgate with fields in sight. We relive past years and share stories with each other. It's not just Friday, Saturday or Sunday afternoon taking a break and spending time hanging out with virtually all of your friends and a pig in the middle of the parking lot. It's the unseasonably cold weather and spent the block party to a whole new level. With the average rating at 10, the Toyota Land Cruiser rated 2,340 and the Monterra 1,894. The Chevrolet Blazer and the Mitsubishi Monterra both sport utility vehicles were the two 1993-95 model vehicles with the highest theft loss ratings.

Two sport utility vehicles were top choices for thieves. The tip in theft losses:

1. Land Cruiser—Toyota
2. Monterra—Mitsubishi
3. S-Class—Mercedes
4. Legend 2-door—Acura
5. 300C convertible—BMW
6. SL convertible—Mercedes
7. Legend 4-door—Acura
8. GS 300—Lexus
9. 300ZX—Nissan
10. 300 2-door—BMW

The Observer is a member of the Southwest Florida Press. All association rights are reserved. The Associated Press. All reproduction rights are reserved.
Visitation hours set for Monday for Shephard

Observer Staff Report
Barbara Shephard, wife of Notre Dame physics professor Bill Shephard, passed away Friday. Visitation hours will be held today from 2-4 p.m. and 6-8 p.m. at Welsummer North funeral home, 17033 Cleveland Rd.

A memorial service will be held Tuesday at 11 a.m. at the First Presbyterian Church, 333 W. Collak Ave.

The University of Notre Dame’s computer engineering major from Wabash, Ind., and Neumann, a computer science major from Jewell, Iowa, solved five problems in the allotted time. Working individually, junior Benjamin Peterson, a computer science major from Waupaca, Wis., finished second.

Notre Dame’s Higgins Labor Research Center has given its first John Joyce Award to two undergraduate students for excellence in labor research and writing.

Students include Curtis Norvett as SMC director. New members include Curtis Norvett as sports director, Rebecca Gerben as news director, Sandra Nashif as business manager, and Erica Havag as staff liaison.

Lemons using a computer

The Observer regrets the error.

Elizabeth Tucker, University staff member, was misidentified in an article, "Harassment Happens at ND," that reported. Neither Tucker nor McGrath referred to the Resources as "inept."

Megan McGrath did not speak referred to the paper en titled "Beyond the Light of Catholic Social Union of the AFL-CIO. Joyce, who is graduating.

Rackiewicz has worked at the station as a news reporter and Nocturne DJ for two years now. This past year, he served on the station’s executive as the Nocturne and publicity director. In addition, he has been hired as an intern at a radio station in Washington, D.C., for the summer.

Matthew Loughran, a junior who has been a classi­fier race to solve seven prob­lems using a computer

Baritek, a computer science major from Wabash, Ind., and Neumann, a computer science major from Jewell, Iowa, solved five problems in the allotted time. Working individually, junior Benjamin Peterson, a computer science major from Waupaca, Wis., finished second.

UNLIMITED TANNING
$31 for the entire month of April!

STRONG • FAST • CLEAN WOLFF BEDS

The University of Notre Dame’s Higgins Labor Research Center has given its first John Joyce Award to two undergraduate students for excellence in labor research and writing.

Students include Curtis Norvett as SMC director. New members include Curtis Norvett as sports director, Rebecca Gerben as news director, Sandra Nashif as business manager, and Erica Havag as staff liaison.

Lemons using a computer

Baritek, a computer science major from Wabash, Ind., and Neumann, a computer science major from Jewell, Iowa, solved five problems in the allotted time. Working individually, junior Benjamin Peterson, a computer science major from Waupaca, Wis., finished second.

May is Sunglass Month

What do you look for in selecting a pair of Premium Sunglasses or Performance Sport Eyewear?

- Designer Brands • Style and Sophistication with an Emphasis on Fashion • Comfort, Protection and Performance • Advanced Eyewear Technology • Great Choices for Adults and Children • Great Values and Prices

Guaranteed Customer Satisfaction*

For the first time in Michiana, you can meet ALL of your Premium Sunglass and Performance Sport Eyewear needs with confidence!

During the entire month of May, the INDIANA EYE INSTITUTE is hosting the premier DESIGNER, FASHION & SPORT SUNGLASSES EXTRAVAGANZA.

30% OFF on each pair of prescription or non-prescription sunglasses.

MAIL BOXES ETC®
“May Move Out ‘96” Notre Dame & St. Mary's

10 am - 5 pm
Stepan Basketball Courts
Monday, May 6th - Saturday, May 11th
Wednesday, May 15th - Saturday, May 18th
Monday, May 20th
Lyons Basketball Courts
Wednesday, May 8th - Saturday, May 11th

In The Lobby of Le Mans Hall
Wednesday, May 8th - Saturday, May 11th
Friday, May 17th

$1.00 Off Shipping
PER BOX

FREE PICK UP
Pickup is free, but no discounts will be accepted onudge
Permanant Location
Martin's Plaza - S.R. 23
Hours: M-F: 9am-7pm
Sat: 10am-6pm
277-6245

M A I L  B O X E S  E T C ®
Comming Soon to a Pillow Near You...

In 1993, Notre Dame funded a 5.3 million dollar project to connect the residence halls to the campus network. The original plan was to provide a network connection per room. In April 1996, the University increased the budget by 34%. Now Notre Dame students will have a network connection per pillow.

The office of Information technologies (OIT) has been working overtime to integrate 27 undergraduate residence halls, and Fischer and O'Hara-Grace graduate residences into the campus network. In addition to a network connection, the University will provide free network drivers and software for the Web, e-mail, file transfer, Usenet news and terminal emulation.

The OIT will bring the halls online as they are completed rather than wait a year until all of the halls are networked. In August of 1996, 13 halls will be activated and the rest will be brought online gradually. All halls will be finished by November 1997. The schedule was set by a number of factors, including physically wiring the residence halls and coordinating the schedule with other construction projects on campus.

Just think, before long, you won't have to see that short frustrating message "Busy..." because waiting for a modem connection will soon be a thing of the past.

Get the real story. Shortly after students get home in May, they will receive the Byteline, a publication of the OIT. Faculty and staff will receive the Byteline at their campus addresses. Look for it to find out more about ResNet, including what computers are recommended to run on the network, the activation schedule, examples of how the network is used in Notre Dame courses, and support plans to help students get online.
FDA studies smokeless cigarette

By LAURAN NEERGAARD
Associated Press

WASHINGTON
R.J. Reynolds attorney Charles Blais smoked 20 Eclipse cigarettes, tapping them onto an ashtray as RJR unveiled its long-promised "smokeless" cigarette at a closed-door meeting with four leading tobacco critics.

Skeptical, Dr. Michael Cummings peeked into the ashtray — and saw no ash.

Cummings isn't convinced Eclipse is a safer cigarette, but with that ashtray, RJR got its attention. "It was amazing to see," recalled Cummings, of the Roswell Park Cancer Center.

That private meeting at RJR's headquarters has some anti-smokers crying foul, fearing the broader question that divides a tobacco giant could defuse critics and smokers crying foul, fearing the tobacco industry will co-opt anti-tobacco radicals, molecules linked to heart disease and cancer.

While most cigarettes burn more than 500 milligrams of tobacco, Eclipse burns just 25.5 milligrams when the carbon is lighted, heats the tobacco instead of burning it, RJR insists in a advertisement that Eclipse produces 90 percent less smoke than regular cigarettes, not that it's safer, although experts say that is implied.

Yet scientists fear Eclipse may give smokers more carbon monoxide, something they say RJR's own tests on 20 employees showed. Concerns exist about whether Eclipse could increase heart disease by putting more of the gas into smokers' blood than existing light cigarettes do. Eclipse has a shorter, unlike regular cigarettes that burn to a butt, so it's hard to know when to quit.

Antismokers "are schizophrenic about it," said researcher Richard Kluger. "They recognize if they could get a less toxic cigarette out, fewer people will die, but the fear is it will keep people smoking," he explained. Some asked the FDA to block Eclipse, saying it's not a "light" cigarette.

Eclipse is not RJR's only attempt at a less toxic cigarette. It is testing a cigarette-like tube packed with nicotine salt — but no tobacco — that smokers would inhale. RJR's Eclipse looks like a regular cigarette, too, except for a small carbon tip that, when
Books
continued from page 1
signed to offer students the maximum number of options in a simple manner.
"We really tried to make this as convenient as possible. You can either print a list of books in which you are interested or you can directly contact other people via University e-mail. The Student Government Book Fair is a worthwhile and simple resource that will help you earn more and pay less for your books," said Stephen Marshall, Executive Coordinator of Information Technology.
Student Government has worked closely with the Office of Information Technology to make the program available as quickly as possible on the campus computer network.
"They [OIT] have been involved in the more formal aspects involved in getting the program integrated in University wide computing," said Miller.
Once ResNet—a computer network offering University access to residence halls—is established, students will be able to access the Book Fair from their rooms, making the process even more convenient.
"We are moving to stay in step with the University community as they improve computing on campus," said Miller. The Web page can be located at: http://www.nd.edu/~studegov/after May 3.

Leaders
continued from page 6
more Anne Werring.
Tomorrow the "celebration of leadership" continues, as senior Teresa Radostits, a member of the Leadership Development Committee, will address the issue of leadership at Saint Mary's in a luncheon at 12:15 p.m. in the dining hall. At that time, the Student Government Leadership Appreciation Award will be presented. Later in the afternoon, an All-College picnic at Library Green will take place from 4:30 to 6 p.m.
The two-day event culminates when the 1996-97 student government leaders, resident advisers, residence hall leaders and class officers will be commissioned by their predecessors and advisors at the Student Leader Commissioning Ceremony. The ceremony will take place at 7:30 p.m. in the Church of Loretto.

Right
continued from page 1
happen, it made me so angry that I didn't want anyone to see it," he said.
Dan Maloney defended the journalistic standards of his newspaper. "We tried to be very reasonable not to make broad sweeping claims," he said. "I'm disappointed that some students don't want to treat conservative views with respect.
"In the way we dealt with [Gays and Lesbians at Notre Dame and Saint Mary's College], we went out of our way to make sure that nothing was inflammatory," he continued.
Earls and Silva disagreed.
"There is a space for academic discourse, but we didn't feel this fit that space," said Earl. "It was a pretty cowardly thing that they did because it was at the end of the semester with no way for people to respond."
"What I did was censorship and censorship is wrong," said Silva. "... But what is more wrong — to commit this act or for people like incoming freshmen to pick this (Right Reason) up and see how hurtful this community can be?"
Both Silva and Earls stressed that their actions were in no way connected or sponsored by GLND/SMC.
"We acted as individuals," Earls said. "I am a member of the student organization of gay and lesbian students, but we were not motivated by them. We did it on our own as students of Notre Dame. It was independent and we were individuals. We did this as humans, not as part of a minority."
GLND/SMC co-president John Blandford said his group was not involved. "It was absolutely nothing that GLND/SMC was a part of," he said.
Blandford did, however, share the complaints of Silva and Earls. "I've got a lot of issues with Right Reason. Its journalistic standards are low and there are a lot of inaccuracies," he said. "They are dangerously loose with the truth."
Nevertheless, Blandford did not condone the censorship of Right Reason. "I would be the last to support its right to publish," he said. "I think that in a university community, people should be allowed to express their opinions.
Right Reason said that replacing the missing issues would cost about $475. The newspaper is seeking reimbursement and a public apology from Silva and Earls.
Earls stood by her decision to remove the papers. "I'm not sorry for what I did and I believe in what I did," she said.

---

Announcing:
William Shakespeare's
A Midsummer Night's Dream!
(Dedicated to Mandy Abdo)
Washington Hall
May 15 at Noon
May 19 at Noon
May 17 at 11:30 A.M.
of Senior Week
Directed by Paul Rathburn, ND Department of English
Artistic Design: Paul Down, ND Department of Art Design
Music: Lakeya Cook, ND Department of Music
Stage Manager: Maria Thieneman
No Admission Charge! Pick up tickets at La Fortune Info. Desk: Friends, Parents, Seniors, All Welcome! Be Advised: Remaining tickets going very fast!
A little bird tells me that Student Affairs has some big plans for next year that might require espionage professionals. It seems that in pursuance of preventing student tailgaters at football games next year, Student Affairs is going to once again be using roving undercover operatives.

scheme may be to pose as touris-alumnus types making a video and get you to identify yourself on their tape, only to be ni types making a video and get you to identify yourself later. In other words, if anyone with a thick Russian accent and a camcorder asks you any questions before a football game next fall, lie.

Hey, I understand that the Student Affairs gang has a thankless task and are just trying to do their jobs. But what exactly is their job with regard to these prefootball tailgaters? Their beloved du Lac seems to contradict itself on this point. For example page 21, section II of the "Alcohol Policy and Regulations" chapter of the current edition of everyone's favorite pamphlet makes it quite clear that "No open container of alcoholic beverage may be the possession of a student in the library of campus buildings "and campus grounds." This regulation makes no provision for legality, so it would seems that a 21-year-old student having a beer at a parent's tailgater would be in violation of good ol' du Lac. A mere page later (p. 22, section III, du Lac comes back and says that "Students are responsible for compliance with Indiana laws regarding alcohol possession and use when they attend tailgaters sponsored by alumni or outside organizations." This seems to imply that a legal student drinking at a tailgater is in the clear.

So which is it? This is a policy that's begging for clarification—especially if they plans to increase enforcement efforts on this front.

Whose Reason, Which Right? It seems that that gang of would-be Buckleyes over at Right Reason doesn't much like my little crusade to end gender segregation in living arrangements on this campus. Indeed, they recently elected to write a typically absurd and self-righteous article condemning any inquires into co-residentiality as de facto heresy (their favorite and most frequent accusation). That's fine—I'm glad somebody finally stood up and tried to defend the anarchistic and patronizing system of "parietals" that exists on this campus.

Christopher Kratovil

Another year is coming to an end, so I suppose that this piece represents my last opportunity to prognosticate and pontificate on these pages until next August. That being the case, I don't feel I can confine myself to a single topic in this weeks editorials. There are so many issues that I want to address and so little time to do it in. In other words, its time for little scatter shooting and settling as I ramble through a series of issues that probably deserve entire volumes of their own but which there just aren't time for.

Christopher Kratovil

VIEWS

Heckling and Racial Tension

For starters, there is the matter of Racial Tension. Heckling is going to deny that it is a great event. It's probably the largest student-run happening of the year and the commissioners do a great job setting up and supervising the tournament. Bookstore has been a lot of people genuinely happy and is one of the great modern student traditions at this University.

that said, I feel compelled to comment on what I see as a very ugly undercurrent developing in this otherwise wonderful event. Bookstore is becoming a forum for the expression of inter-racial tension on this campus. I know this sounds a bit melodramatic, but it really distresses me to see an innocuous basketball tournament turned into a performance of racial taunting—rarely direct but real nonetheless—is becoming an unfortunate part of late round Bookstore games. I'm not sure how pervasive this problem is, but to deny it altogether is to be naive and blind.

I know that the Bookstore Tournament is competitive and passionately fought, but allowing it to develop into a flash point for racial tension is irresponsible and dangerous. Since most of the problems that seem to be crowed inducted, maybe some sort of new anti-hooligan rules need be drawn up and enforced. Perhaps having comments from the crowd to the players in general—and not just those with racial undertones—need to be more closely regulated.

There's simply no place for hatred in what should be an enjoyable and unifying event. I'd never deny that there exists a lot of tacit racial tension on this campus, but I would also question the wisdom of the Bookstore. Heckling is not only once the surface in the midst of a very public and non-political event. I don't want to make more out of this situation than there is, but then again I'd like to see something done about it because it is becoming a tradition.

Help Wanted at Student Affairs?

Periodically you'll read about a story in the newspaper concerning all of the old KGB and GRU operatives who where put out of their jobs with the end of the Cold War. Rather than return to a frigid and impoverished Russia, many of these ex-spies seem to have chosen to stay here in America, but I suppose work is somewhat hard to come by if you list "deep cover operative for the Committee for Soviet State Security as your most recent employment. Perhaps all those unemployed Boris Badinov types should consider moving to Northern Indiana where a promising career with NIP's own office of Student Affairs could be in the clear.

For example, a little bird tells me that Student Affairs has some big plans for next year that might require espionage professionals. It seems that in pursuance of preventing student tailgaters at football games next year, Student Affairs is going to once again be using roving undercover operatives—some equipped with video cameras. It seems their new gater would have sung to the "Cipper" but Scholastic long ago closed up shop for the year. It seems that in pursuance of preventing student tailgaters at football games next year, Student Affairs is going to once again be using roving undercover operatives—some equipped with video cameras. It seems their new
A ‘truth’ better off unknown

The Truth About Cats & Dogs

Directed by Michael Lehmann

Synopsis: Ye-heeau! Another romance movie! If you have seen one, quickly recall its plot and put it in the emotional rubbish. Its pretensions are stellar vein of “Up Close and Personal”...and, for the love of Baby Jesus, don’t see the movie!

Fatman: As Daddy and I strolled into the theater, I felt an overwhelming sense of nausia take hold of my heart. My eyes scanned the prepubescent audi­ence gawing on gum and clinging to their boyfriends’ hands, and I felt my very sanity slipping away onto the sticky, littered, jello-covered steps. Unexpectedly, for the next hour and a half, “The Truth About Cats and Dogs” did very little to improve my disposition.

This newest romance film, in the stellar vein of “Up Close and Personal” and “Sleeping With Seattle,” plays with all the usual stereotypes and shallow emotional rubbish. Its pretensions are thwarted by its ignorance. Its romance is stifled by its idiocy.

The story might be the wet dream of a patron of a T.V. talk show and a well-read radio talk show host. They talk on the phone, they masturbate, they both are dullards. It is all elitist and trite. As the hand-holding minions siged with empathy, I wanted to proclaim that we, the fifth world of Marxism, would ban this pathetic display of kitsch and shallow emotional com­pletion of our revolt.

I do not mean to wallow in bitter­petulance. Romantic films can be done quite well, and can succeed in convinc­ing us of their meaningfulness. But, “The Truth About Cats and Dogs” does little but perpetuate the cultural programming that it tries to demolish.

The film strives to argue that we should not entrust our individual minds with depth and intelligence, not as mere sexual objects. No contention here, yet, the film intiminates in this stinker. You might like this trash if you find stereotyping interesting. Unfortunately, the theater was cluttered with teenagers who will be driving home with their boyfriends. Listen to Richard Marx on their tape decks. Sadly enough, Daddy and I forget our baseball caps. We wanted to start a rumble to end the insanity. We wanted to kill the people who liked this movie. This might sound a little extreme, but if you can demonstrate the patience and ignorance to sit through this film, I would probably want to kill you too.

Daddy: I would like to take this moment, this special moment not to be the lowest point of the movie...and, for the love of Baby Jesus, don’t see the movie!

I still reflexively check my pulse, hoping to receive the reassurance that “The Truth About Cats and Dogs” sapped not my very life in the fashion that it drained my diner.

The film was for all of its boasting to over­come our culture’s stereotypes, simply subscribing to them again. This spoils the only semi-interesting aspect of its conclusion that the less attractive woman only gets her man because he grants her that privilege. She still feels inadequate for something worse than beyond her control—namely, her physical appearance.

The film, for all of its boasting to over­come our culture’s stereotypes, simply subscribing to them again. This spoils the only semi-interesting aspect of its conclusion that the less attractive woman only gets her man because he grants her that privilege. She still feels inadequate for something worse than beyond her control—namely, her physical appearance.

“Primal Fear”

(out of four)

Starring Richard Gere and Edward Norton

Directed by Greg Hoblit

By MARK TORMA

Question: Um, can you explain some things about this movie “Primal Fear” for me—you know, give me the truth about this movie.

Answer: And nothing but the truth, yeah, yeah, whatever you want to know.

Q: Well, what are the chances that a real-life defense attorney would take on a hopeless case—say, an altar boy covered in blood who is being pulled by police officers outside the county courthouse? And there is a county-appointed prosecutor who will be a tall, blonde, leggy, Holly Hunter-type, with whom Martin Vail had a not-so-fleeting fling?

A: Perhaps. I despise this film and its rat bastard family because I despise romance movies themselves. I find them astonishing, for their approach to liberal, I mean romantic, and shallow, to me it is trite, ludicrous and insipid romance movies are all about being in bad faith, and about looking ever at who is stronger than who. I despise this film and its rat bastard family because I despise romance movies themselves. I find them astonishing, for their approach to liberal, I mean romantic, and shallow, to me it is trite, ludicrous and insipid.

Q: Do you look forward to seeing other movies made in this mold?

A: No, never. I have found its role in the insane and murder­ous boy. I want to watch movie that is not so shallow, about traits, less intelligent than they are, I guess tripe, ludicrous and insipid movie are all about being in bad faith, and about looking ever at who is stronger than who. I despise this film and its rat bastard family because I despise romance movies themselves. I find them astonishing, for their approach to liberal, I mean romantic, and shallow, to me it is trite, ludicrous and insipid. I want to watch movie that is not so shallow, about traits, less intelligent than they are, I guess tripe, ludicrous and insipid movie are all about being in bad faith, and about looking ever at who is stronger than who. I despise this film and its rat bastard family because I despise romance movies themselves. I find them astonishing, for their approach to liberal, I mean romantic, and shallow, to me it is trite, ludicrous and insipid.

Q: But, what about, you in the lowest point of the movie?

A: The title shot—no, the very end, when I realized the title had nothing to do with the movie at all. This is the most inappropriately named film I have ever seen. There was absolutely nothing “primal” about anything, and “fear” had exactly no place in this story. “Primal Fear” is a terrible title for this movie—which is a good thing, because it would have been a huge disappointment in this case.

Q: Do you think you follow that, and how about that sub­plot about the crooked dealings in city development, what was with that?

A: I was really just a gloss, accentuating the power struggle—you know, “high-shot lawyer not only good to make his name defending impossible clients, but he also wants to bring down some head honchos”, that kind of thing. It worked its way into this story surpris­ing­ly well, I thought.

Q: What was, for you, the lowest point of the movie?

A: The title shot—no, the very end, when I realized the title had nothing to do with the movie at all. This is the most inappropriately named film I have ever seen. There was absolutely nothing “primal” about anything, and “fear” had exactly no place in this story. “Primal Fear” is a terrible title for this movie—which is a good thing, because it would have been a huge disappointment in this case.

Q: What was Frances McDormand and Alfre Woodard thinking when they signed on with this produc­tion?

A: Probably “I’ll have a chance to upstage Richard Gere.” But I have to admit the character was quite fine. The characters meshed, no one was shown up, and every performance was believable. If these two talented actresses had been allowed to shine more brightly in their supporting roles, it might have ruined the fine performance they gave.

Q: Did Ed Norton find a break-out role in poor little altar boy Aaron Stampler?

A: No, he found it in the role of the insane and murder­ous boy. I want to watch movie that is not so shallow, about traits, less intelligent than they are, I guess tripe, ludicrous and insipid.

Q: Do you look forward to seeing other movies made in this mold?

A: Definitely not. This film was as good as a cliché­ heavy, overly-formulaic movie. I can want to watch paint dry on the Dome before I watch any stereotypical attempt at emulating “Primal Fear”. It is not exactly the first in line for consumption, and I must leave it to Nick Noite.

Mark Torma is a soon-to-be senior Anthropology major from Alliance, Ohio.
Perhaps the most shocking thing about Ellen Coleman is that she's actually sitting still long enough for an interview. The Saint Mary's sophomore class president is taking a breather in her nun's-cell-turned-dorm-room in Regina Hall, talking about the time and effort she devotes so much of her time to serving.

"Saint Mary's was my one and only choice and the only place I applied to. Some students from the high school I graduated from went here—how's that I first heard about it," she says. "I also learned about the merits of a women's college through someone who knew who I am if I need help. It's nice to not just be another face in a crowd. I sort of think about that when I applied to a lot of people don't understand what it's like to have a gripe and doing nothing, and having a gripe and trying to change things."

"Being in the community has affected my spiritual life in a positive way because when you go to church, it's not a bunch of people who have to be there because their parents are making them do it. They want to be there," she explains. "That attitude has helped me a lot."

Ellen Coleman

To Coleman, student government is a means to a great end for the Saint Mary's community: "There's a difference between having a gripe and doing nothing, and having a gripe and trying to change things. This year has been a great opportunity for me to learn how to work with a larger group of people in order to accomplish a goal."

Adding to what she learns in the classroom and the experience she has gained in her extracurricular roles, Coleman says, the impact Saint Mary's has had on her relationship with God.

"There's a difference between having a gripe and doing nothing, and having a gripe and trying to change things."

Ellen Coleman

General Hospital

This week led to a remarkable number of surprises, the biggest being an arrest in the Damien Smith murder case. While all clues seemed to lead to Luke (i.e., motive and opportunity), it was his almost-chastity wife, Laura, who was linked to the murder. Or so Garcia thinks. In truth, we found out that it was actually Port Charles' famous lawyer, Justus Ward, who committed the murder. Of course, Marlena learned what he was doing and was surprised to find out that he was behind the lady-in-white.

The Commissioner's job is open, and Katherine's decided Mac should be the next one in the line of Port Charles' finest, although she disagrees. She's been seeing Damien's money around, happy as a pig in mud. She's convinced Mac can handle the job. He has more money than he does, and he tells her that's not true. He claims that he doesn't like how much money means to her, but doesn't object too strenuously when she buys him and Robin a big screen television.

Meanwhile, somewhere in Canada, Brenda has managed to plant the idea that Sonny, Jax, and Tracy are in the same skidoo. All are having fun until they run into each other. Sonny, Lily and Jax all get really mad. Brenda's still going with the completely unbelievable consequence excuse. She talks about Jake and the things he tells her "things have changed" since they decided to spend time together. Brenda makes Sony feel good about herself, now that she has found someone who has even a (remember her crush on him during the whole Karen-Jason-Alison thing?). Brenda's now pregnant and is preparing with the story of Sami, Vivian, and the scheme to keep it quiet. Everyone fell for Sami's story—except Kate—and it appeared as though she was off the hook. However, Vivian then offered to help with the confession of the murder. If Vivian would go to Titan and tell everyone the truth about Sami. They went to Kate's office, but when Vivian was asked, she supplied Sami's story.

The woman-in-white, meanwhile, had a strange week. Laura gave her a psychotropic drug that made her remember her past. The lady walked before the mirror, took off her veil, and was horrified by what she saw. Concerned about her, Kristen went to check on what was wrong, but when SHI saw the woman without her veil, she screamed and collapsed. After Marlena, John, and Kristen left, the woman-in-white packed her bags and prepared to leave Salem...but not before she vindicated Peter by telling everyone that he had nothing to do with Jude. Peter couldn't understand why the woman was helping him, but he was thrilled to be free of the Jude connection. He decided to find out the truth behind the lady-in-white.

To Coleman, student government is a means to a great end for the Saint Mary's community: "There's a difference between having a gripe and doing nothing, and having a gripe and trying to change things. This year has been a great opportunity for me to learn how to work with a larger group of people in order to accomplish a goal."

Adding to what she learns in the classroom and the experience she has gained in her extracurricular roles, Coleman says, the impact Saint Mary's has had on her relationship with God.

"There's a difference between having a gripe and doing nothing, and having a gripe and trying to change things."

Ellen Coleman

The Commissioner's job is open, and Katherine's decided Mac should be the next one in the line of Port Charles' finest, although she disagrees. She's been seeing Damien's money around, happy as a pig in mud. She's convinced Mac can handle the job. He has more money than he does, and he tells her that's not true. He claims that he doesn't like how much money means to her, but doesn't object too strenuously when she buys him and Robin a big screen television.

Meanwhile, somewhere in Canada, Brenda has managed to plant the idea that Sonny, Jax, and Tracy are in the same skidoo. All are having fun until they run into each other. Sonny, Lily and Jax all get really mad. Brenda's still going with the completely unbelievable consequence excuse. She talks about Jake and the things he tells her "things have changed" since they decided to spend time together. Brenda makes Sony feel good about herself, now that she has found someone who has even a (remember her crush on him during the whole Karen-Jason-Alison thing?). Brenda's now pregnant and is preparing with the story of Sami, Vivian, and the scheme to keep it quiet. Everyone fell for Sami's story—except Kate—and it appeared as though she was off the hook. However, Vivian then offered to help with the confession of the murder. If Vivian would go to Titan and tell everyone the truth about Sami. They went to Kate's office, but when Vivian was asked, she supplied Sami's story.

The woman-in-white, meanwhile, had a strange week. Laura gave her a psychotropic drug that made her remember her past. The lady walked before the mirror, took off her veil, and was horrified by what she saw. Concerned about her, Kristen went to check on what was wrong, but when SHI saw the woman without her veil, she screamed and collapsed. After Marlena, John, and Kristen left, the woman-in-white packed her bags and prepared to leave Salem...but not before she vindicated Peter by telling everyone that he had nothing to do with Jude. Peter couldn't understand why the woman was helping him, but he was thrilled to be free of the Jude connection. He decided to find out the truth behind the lady-in-white.
The Observer — SPORTS
Monday, April 26, 1994

By DYLAN BARMER
Assistant Sports Editor

Things didn't exactly go as planned.

Noatre Dame, desperate for conference wins, welcomed Big East rival West Virginia for doubleheader on Saturday. But the Mountaineers came into both games with an 11-game losing streak and outgunning the Irish 6-4 and 8-5.

"They really beat you anything," said head coach Paul Mainieri. "We're 6-7 (in conference) probably, where we deserve to be."

The Irish still managed a comeback sweep of two teams that entered the weekend series just 20-21 overall with a 4-15 conference record.

The Irish, on the other hand, were sporting a flashy 33-12 overall record and a 17-3 mark in conference.

What looked good on paper translated into a nightmare on the field, as the Irish went through a gamut of ups and downs, and a nagging tendency to leave men on base.

"We're obviously going into this with a team that has three guys who have combined for almost 60 errors. Our defense was terrible," said Mainieri.

Noatre Dame struggled from the outset as game-one starter Christian Parker was three for three with three RBIs and a home run in the first inning.

However, a one-out Scott Sollmann triple and a walk to Mike Amrhein set the stage for George Restovich's and Bob Lisanti's RBI singles, closing the gap to 4-2.

After the Mountaineers built up a 4-2 lead, the Irish in the fifth inning tied it at 4-4 when Lisanti knocked the first pitch up the middle, bringing home base runners Tim Scholl and Matt nurse.

In the sixth, another big two-out hit by Abe Barker gave the Irish a 1-4 lead that would never relinquish.

With the Irish strategy of pinch-hitting for Barker, the attempted rally by the Irish fell flat in the seventh and final inning falling short when marker Scott Scholl went 0-4 with a strikeout, Lisanti, meanwhile, whiffed four times.

Perhaps the sole bright spot of the day was Justin Scholl, who really came home off the left-field foul pole in the ninth inning to close the gap from 9-6 to 9-7. West Virginia went 4-0 again, largely due to the Irish futility and mistakes.

Wagner, who of late had been getting more comfortable at the plate finishing with a 3-4 line and four strikeouts, and Restovich, who had also carried the team a week earlier, went 1-3 for the Mountaineers.

"I was just trying to get on base," said Majerini, "Right now our destiny in our own hands."
Bookstore Awards

MVP: Dan Fannon (Dos Kloskas)
Mr. Bookstore: Pete Coleman (Dos Kloskas)
Hoeislper Ryan Raw (CJ's Wooden Shoes)
Hatchett Todd Leafly (Malicious Productions)
Ironman Chad Chayler (CJ's Wooden Shoes)

1st Team All-Bookstore
Mike Kloska
Jeff Kloska
Jason Handley
Ryan Hoover
Bob Baxter

2nd Team All-Bookstore
Travis Brown
Conrad James
Sha Healy
Jason Newcomer
Lamar Justice

Tournament MVP Dan Fannon had reason to celebrate after guiding Dos Kloskas to the title in Bookstore XXV.

Graduating soon? No job yet?

Find out what Scott McNealy makes.

More importantly, find out what you can make.

Put your technical know-how to work! These positions are entry-level, pre-sales positions in our sales and marketing environment. You will demonstrate strong technical aptitude, and be responsible for pre-sales support in Sun's server, storage, and networking areas.

Come see what the Club Council has to offer you and your organization!

Free Advertising brought to you by the Club Coordination Council

Spring Break

See what the Club Council has to offer you

Open Mike Night Coffeehouse

Free Advertising brought to you by the Club Coordination Council

Stop by and see what we are all about.

Stop by our 2nd floor LaFortune office to see what the Club Council has to offer you and your organization!

Monday thru Thursday: Buy 1 Get 1 Free

Of Equal or Lesser Value

North Village Mall • (219) 271 7888

Sun Microsystems, Inc.
University Research Center
Dept CAND249AB/PW
2550 Garcia Ave. M/S: MTV04-118
Mountain View, CA 94043-1100
Fax: (415) 336-3701
Website: www.sun.com
We are an Equal Opportunity Employer.

CJ's Wooden Shoes, when he tallied nine points and five rebounds.

And that's exactly what they did.

The network is the computer.
Cade, Irish stifle Spartans

By TODD FITZPATRICK

After two weeks of disappointment, the Irish lacrosse team answered its critics with complete domination.

Michigan State was Notre Dame's victim on Friday night by a 12-4 score. By winning their first home game of the season, the eleventh-ranked Irish raised their overall record to 8-3. They also remained undefeated in the Great Western Lacrosse League with a 3-0 mark.

The victory greatly improves Notre Dame's chances of gaining a berth in the NCAA tournament. If the Irish win their last regular season game against Ohio State on Saturday, they will earn an automatic conference bid to the twelve-team NCAA tournament. If the Irish win their last game of the regular season, the eleventh-ranked Irish raised their overall record to 8-3. They also remained undefeated in the Great Western Lacrosse League with a 3-0 mark.

The balanced offensive attack throughout the contest. Anchoring Notre Dame's defense was Alex Cade. The sophomore goaltender, who played brilliantly once again, made a career-high 21 saves. Offensively, Notre Dame found the back of the net early and often against the Spartans. With the exception of a brief lapse during the third quarter, the Irish lit up the scoreboard consistently.

One hat trick for an offensive unit is impressive, but the Irish accomplished the feat twice. Keenan and freshman Chris Dusseau each scored three goals, which accounted for half their team's points. The big assist man for the Irish was Brian Gillillan, who dished off three during the contest. Brian Erickson, Jimmy Keenan, and Will DeRiso added one apiece. "In the UMass game, we weren't going to the cage. But this week, we were more aggressive," commented Keenan. Tony Reid opened the scoring early in the first period off an assist from Gillillan. Michigan State tied the score more than two minutes later on Marc Sullivan's unassisted goal. The 1-1 score in the first period turned out to be the only tie of the game. After that point, the Irish took control and never trailed.

For the remainder of the first half, Notre Dame went on a 6-0 run to lead the Spartans 7-1 at halftime. With one game remaining in the regular season, the NCAA tournament is just around the corner. This part of the season is the best time for a lacrosse team to peak, and the Irish hope another winning streak has just begun.

Intensive Italian Summer Language Program
June - July, 1996

Earn up to Nine Credits in Italian
Fullfils Arts and Letters Language Requirement
Survival Skills for Travel - Grammar - Culture
Music - Movies - Art

ROIT 101, Beginning Italian 6/18 - 7/2
ROIT 102, Continuing Beginning Italian 7/3 - 7/17
ROIT 103, Intermediate Italian 7/18 - 7/30
Classes meet daily from 9:10 - 11:20 a.m.
Tutorial from 1:30 - 2:30 p.m.

Contact: Summer School Director at 631-7282

MERRILL LYNCH CHICAGO
INVESTMENT BANKING

FINANCIAL ANALYST - Mergers & Acquisitions: Two year investment banking analyst position involving extensive analytics, examination of a client's capital structure and strategic objectives, research on all relevant industry and competitive issues, and assistance with presentations and special projects. The position requires attention to detail and an ability to handle numerous projects simultaneously. Nights can get long, but the work is rewarding. Each assignment is different, offering the opportunity to learn at an intense and rapid pace. The analyst would be an integral member of the Merger & Acquisitions team in Merrill Lynch's 35 person Chicago investment banking office. Candidates should have outstanding academic performance and excellent quantitative skills.

Non-Finance related majors welcome.

Please send or fax resumes, transcripts and Board Scores to:

Jill E. Bruner
Investment Banking
Merrill Lynch
5500 Sears Tower
Chicago, Illinois 60606
(312) 906-6221
Fax: (312) 906-6261

Are You Prepared? We Are.
- small classes of 15 or fewer
- free caduceus software
- free extra help with your instructor
- four computer-analyzed diagnostic exams
- independently verified score improvements
- guaranteed satisfaction

Europe is Calling!
Travelmore/Carlson Wagonlit Travel
is your local Europe Travel Expert

AIRFARES
Special student & faculty rates
Low Airfares to Europe

RAIL PASSES
Rail passes issued in our office
No Service Fee
Timetables, prices & tickets available

CAR RENTALS
Discounted car rentals

EXPERIENCE
Over 25 years of sending Notre Dame and Saint Mary's college students and faculty to Europe

We Know Europe - Let us plan your Trip!

Mailing Address: Travelmore/Carlson Wagonlit Travel
1723 South Bend Avenue (219)271-2880
Next to the Notre Dame Campus.

THE OBSERVER/ROB F. Finch
US Postal Service

Get the most for your $$$

Use the Post Office To mail your packages home

For your convenience the Post Office will have a mobile unit set up by the Hammes bookstore/ Badin Hall to handle package mailings.

HOURS

Thursday, 5/9
Friday, 5/10
Saturday, 5/11
8:30-4:30

- We offer more choices than any other company.
- We offer the best prices (as reported by the Observer last year)
- Why pay for insurance unless you need it?

Fast, Affordable Mailing Options

Certified Mail
Ensure receipt of official documents such as tax forms and legal papers.
- For legal proof of sending your mail. The post office records the actual delivery date.
- Certified Mail is used for mail sent within the United States. Recorded Delivery is used for international mail.
- $1.10 in addition to postage.

Return Receipt for Merchandise
Confirm delivery of merchandise
- You'll get a postcard in the mail as proof of who signed for your package and the date it was received.
- Insurance coverage up to $600 for a lost or damaged article. Starts at $5.75 in addition to postage.

U.S. Insured Mail
Insurance coverage for merchandise
- Insurance coverage up to $600 for a lost or damaged article. Starts at $5.75 in addition to postage.
- For an additional $1.10 you'll get a postcard in the mail as proof of who signed for your package and the date it was received.

Registered Mail
Secured delivery for mail with significant value, such as jewelry and stock certificates.
- Absolutely secure mail delivery. Your mail travels safely locked and is tracked and recorded on signed receipts by postal officials.
- Optional Insurance available up to $25,000. Starts at $4.85 in addition to postage.
- For an additional $1.10 you'll get a postcard in the mail as proof of who signed for your package and the date it was received.

Fast, Affordable Mailing Options

Express Mail
Guaranteed Next Day*
For letters & packages up to 70 lbs. Delivered every day of the year including Saturdays, Sundays, & Holidays at no extra charge.
$10.75 and up.

Priority Mail
1-3 Days*
For letters & packages up to 70 lbs. Delivered Saturdays at no extra charge.
$3.00 and up.

First-Class
1-3 Days*
For mail up to 11 oz. $0.32 for 1 oz. $0.23 for each additional ounce.

Parcel Post
3-8 Days*
For packages up to 70 lbs.
Economical rates based on distance.

*Depending on distance
Blue-Gold Game

Top Performances

Offense
Jarious Jackson 8 for 19 for 132 yards passing with 2 touchdowns
A’Jani Sanders 6 tackles

Defense
Melvin Dansby 8 tackles, 3 sacks for -21 yards
Benny Guilbeaux 7 tackles, 2 interceptions
A Jami Sanders 6 tackles

Softball

Miller wins 700th with sweep

By WILLY BAUER
Sports Writer

Notre Dame’s tune-up for the Big East softball tournament went as planned as the Irish swept all four games from Seton Hall, giving coach Liz Miller her 700th win.

Action started Saturday, with the Irish winning both games 7-2 and 5-1. The team benefited from the pitching of starters Angela Bressolo, Joy Battersby and reliever Kelly Nichols. The trio allowed only eight hits and struck out ten on the way to mowing down the Pirates.

The Irish offensive was out in force, pounding out 18 hits over the duration of the doubleheader. In the second game, Katie Martin came up a home run short of hitting for the cycle and in the opener Kara McMahon went 4-4.

Sunday, however, gave the Irish some troubles. Not only did the team have to play in cold, rainy conditions, but also the instability was as it appears I would advise him not to do snow or water skiing and to stay away from any sport in which he might be involved in any collision with his head,” Yergler added.

"If the injury is as severe as it appears I would advise him not to do snow or water skiing and to stay away from any sport in which he might be involved in any collision with his head,” Yergler added.

What will you do after graduation?

Why not help us change lives?

We care for young children who are abused, neglected, or HIV+. You can help.

P.O. Box 66581
Houston, TX 77266-6581

Voice (713)529-0639
Fax (713)529-9179

Applications accepted year round.
Room/Board/Stipend/Health Insurance.

CPR/First Aid certification and training provided.

SPORTS

Miller wins 700th with sweep
FOUR FOOD GROUPS OF THE APOCALYPSE

Dave Kellett

MISTER BOFFO

Moo?/ "ItzobN CiE
J'Iaie. 1 7  'TTev' /X .

BANNER

ANSWER TO PREVIOUS PUZZLE

27 Digressed
23 Scrub in the tub
13 Endured
12 Nevada
10 Mosque adjunct
63 Companions
62 Pencil wood,
61 Eminent

WANTED:

Reporters, photographers and editors.

Join The Observer staff.
SPORTS

Rare spinal condition jeopardizes Krug’s career

Doctors not sure if Krug will ever play football again

By THOMAS SCHLIDT
Associate Sports Editor

Almost to the day last year Melvin Dansby was diagnosed with a serious neck injury that threatened his career and his life. Last Friday Dansby was stronger, healthy and preparing to play in the final Blue-Gold Game of the spring, while Irish quarterback Thomas Krug’s nightmare had just begun.

"Tom Krug had a sore neck and they X-rayed the neck and found that where he hurt his neck is not a problem," Holtz said. "They found that two vertebrae were meshed together at birth, it was something he was born with. Whether were meshed together at birth, it was something he was born with. Whether..."

The injury was not of any significance, Yergler explained. "The area of his neck that he sprained was at the base of his neck, and that was OK on the X-ray. But the X-ray showed he had a congenital abnormality in his upper spine which has left him with some instability in that area."

According to the X-rays there is a fusion between the first vertebrae and the base of the skull and another between the second and third vertebrae which have caused an instability in his neck.

"We’ve got X-rays that look like we have a very serious problem here," Yergler added. "If you have an injury to the spinal cord at that level it’s either death or total body paralysis just like..."

Since his arrival to Notre Dame in 1993 Krug has played in the shadow of classmate Ron Powlus. It wasn’t until Powlus’ injury in the Navy game last season that Krug saw substantial playing time.

He led the Irish to victories over Navy and Air Force to end the regular season and despite a strong showing in the Orange Bowl against Florida State the Irish fell to a late rally 31-26. Krug completed 14 of 24 passes for 140 yards and threw for three touchdowns. During that game Krug took some big hits, including one that sent him to the sidelines. Yet, it was his ability to take such hits and still play that led to Holtz claiming Krug as his most durable quarter back.

"You look at all the collisions he’s had while he’s been here, we’re just extremely thankful that we haven’t had a catastrophe on our hands," Yergler said.

Junior quarterback Tom Krug faces the possibility that a spinal cord condition he acquired at birth may end his college football career at Notre Dame.

---

Dos Kloskas powers to victory in April showers

Coleman seals Mr. Bookstore with final shot

By TIM MCCONN
Sports Writer

Another year, and sadly enough, another end to another Bookstore basketball tournament.

The twenty-five year anniversary of the famed five-on-five tournament has come and gone once again. And once again, the commissioners faced the difficult task of determining the post-tournament awards.

More so than any other award that everyone anxiously awaits to hear of is Mr. Bookstore. Going into yesterday’s finals, those selecting the winner still had not been able to make a definitive choice.

The game between Dos Kloskas and Showtime provided more ambiguity as to who would claim the coveted award.

That is, until the very end.

By stepping up at the end of such a hard-fought game and hitting a clutch twenty-two point game winner, Pete Coleman of Dos Kloskas sealed his place in the annals of Bookstore Basketball as the 1996 Mr. Bookstore.

Despite being ice-cold through the large part of the game Coleman stepped it up in the end.

Dos Kloskas: Pete Coleman sets for his jump shot in the drizzling rain during the Bookstore finals yesterday against Showtime. Coleman and his teammates won the title with a 21-19 victory.

---

Lacrosse

vs. Ohio State, May 4, 3 p.m.

Softball

Big East Championships, May 3-5

Baseball

vs. Pitt, April 30, 3 p.m.

---

Men’s Tennis

NCAA Regionals, May 10-12

Women’s Tennis

NCAA Regionals, May 3-5

---

Baseball team suffers weekend losses

Lacrosse back to its winning ways

Coach Liz Miller reaches milestone