Nobel laureates visiting campus

By BRAD PRINDERGAST
News Editor

If the athletic power is on full display Saturday at Notre Dame Stadium, then the brain power will be ever greater on campus this weekend.

Nobel Prize winners Eric Wieschaus, a 1969 Notre Dame graduate, and Ireland's Seamus Heaney will deliver presentations during appearances in honor of distinguished faculty.

Heaney, the 1995 Nobel laureate for literature, will read from his poetry as he gives the annual Joseph M. Duffy Jr. Lecture at 8 p.m. tonight in the auditorium of the Center for Continuing Education. Wieschaus, also a 1995 laureate, will deliver the... see NOBEL / page 4

Gottlieb now faces criminal charges

By MIKE DAY
Assistant Sports Editor

Doug Gottlieb's days of sunning himself on the beaches of California may be put on hold.

The sophomore point guard, who claimed to have left Notre Dame this summer to play closer to home, now faces criminal charges in St. Joseph County, according to Prosecutor Michael Barnes.

On Wednesday, Barnes filed a Class D felony charge against Gottlieb, who, if convicted, could receive six months to three years in jail and a fine of up to $10,000. The 20-year-old resident of Tustin, Ca., is accused of charging $900 on the credit cards of three Dillon Hall residents.

Gottlieb's lawyer, William Stanley of South Bend, made a deal with Barnes that Gottlieb will surrender on Monday prior to his initial court appearance. Thus, a warrant for his arrest will not be issued.

The three sophomore students who reported the incidents to the police include Patrick Johnson of Gosben, Ind., and Joseph "Joe" Hand of Monroe...

see GOTTIEB / page 6

Kirk: Alcohol rules will be enforced

Editor's Note: This is the third in a three-art series focusing on alcohol policies at Notre Dame and Saint Mary's. Today, we focus on University enforcement of alcohol policy.

By LIZ FORAN
Editor-in-Chief

On the eve of the first home game of the year, where spirits traditionally run high and liquor supplies run low, rumors of new attitudes by campus authorities toward alcohol consumption have floated to student ears.

But some smell trouble wafting in on the winds of change.

"There is no more important issue in Student Affairs than the issue of alcohol," said Bill Kirk, assistant vice president for Student Affairs at the Campus Life Council meeting Monday night.

"When you think about what problems or issues are facing college students, alcohol is a perennial problem. Every student would... see ALCOHOL/ page 10

Drinking Out? Part 3 of 3

Drinking at Notre Dame may become a little tougher this year, after University officials have decided to enforce more strictly all drinking regulations at Saturday's game, urchers will be on a heightened alert for students smuggling in alcoholic beverages... see ALCOHOL/ page 10
A freshman learns the ropes

I never fully realized the impact of first impressions until I came to Notre Dame. Long-time veterans of the college experience promised me many things. I was assured great weather, recognizable cafeteria food, studying broken by nights of drunken splendor, and cramming for killer fifty-page exams. Most of these are true, but isn’t there something more to college life?

My vision of a party was confined to over-planned “gatherings” over liquor raided from our parents’ bar stash, afterwards refilling the half-empty bottles with tap water in the hopes that no one would notice.

In college, my first party included a less discreet clientele. Some students had actually set up full-fledged bars complete with a qualified “bouncer,” passing-out couches, and a dance floor slick with spilled alcohol. Other rooms were crushed-ining-out couches, and a dance floor slick with spilled alcohol. I was amazed by the tremendous selection, particularly the tape or board against the town’s streets.

The observer (USPS 5992-4000) is published Monday through Friday by the Observer. The views expressed in the Inside Column are those of the author and not necessarily those of The Observer.

Hurricane Fausto Scraps Tip of Baja California

Hurricane Fausto

As of 2 p.m EDT Tuesday

Position: 21.3°N, 110.7°W
Moving: NW at 10 mph
Sustained winds: 120 mph
Gusts: at 150 mph

250 miles
450 km

Cabo San Lucas, México
Mexico

Showers T-storms Rain Flurries Snow Ice Sunny Pt Cloudy Cloudy

NEW YORK: Panhandlers would have to stand at least 10 feet away from automatic cash machines, and couldn’t wash car windows without the driver’s OK, under a proposal approved by the City Council Wednesday. Mayor Rudolph Giuliani, who has called for steps improving New York’s quality of life, was expected to sign the measure, passed on a 34-12 vote. It is similar to laws enacted in Washington, Baltimore, and New Orleans, and Democrats complained that it would victimize needy people and trample on Constitutional rights.

Jewell Lawyers Press for Documents

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.

Lawyers for Susan McDougal asked a judge to free her from jail, saying she will not change her mind about answering questions before a White House grand jury about President Clinton. “Continued incarceration in connection with this civil contempt action would be punitive,” said the motion filed by Earl J. Martin. and Jennifer Horan said in a request filed in District Court Wednesday. McDougal, President Clinton’s former Arkansas travel secretary, faces contempt charges for refusing to answer questions last week from the grand jury about Clinton. McDougal had sufficient time to reflect on her decision, and she has not changed her mind. Nor will she do so in the future,” the lawyers said. McDougal was convicted in May of obtaining a fraudulent $300,000 loan.

Hurricane Fausto

POSITION: 21.3°N 110.7°W
MOVING: NW at 10 mph
SUSTAINED WINDS: 120 mph
GUSTS: at 150 mph

CABO SAN LUCAS, Mexico Hurricane Fausto coursed toward resort tourists at the tip of the Baja California Peninsula Thursday afternoon, pounding the beaches before luxury hotels and threatening heavy flooding.

Restaurants and shops were closed by dusk in this tourist resort, their windows boarded or boarded against the spordic but heavy squalls that flooded the town’s streets.

High waves rose from a cobalt blue sea to thunder against the beaches, their spray blown back by tropical storm-force winds.

The storm’s approach kept children away from school recesses during the day and drove fishermen to port along the lower half of the peninsula.

By evening, the center of the storm was about 90 miles southwest of here. After stalking steadily, it had begun to move toward the north-northwest near 5 mph and was expected to pass about 50 miles east of here by very near, then northeast across the peninsula and toward the Mexican mainland.

The force of the storm declined slightly during the afternoon, to about 105 mph from 120 mph, and further weakening was expected.

A hurricane watch was in effect all along Baja California Sun day and parallel south. The Mexican government posted a hurricane warning Thursday for Guaymas south to El Dorado. Rain from Fausto began falling about noon, said Veronica Vela, an employee at the Hotel Hacienda Beach Resort in San Lucas.

Perot running mate not on ballot

FRANKFORT, Ky.

Ross Perot’s running mate, Pat Choate, will not be on Kentucky’s ballot in November, Secretary of State John Y. Brown III said. The ballot instead will list a stand-in, Carl Owenby, as the Reform Party’s candidate for vice president.

Brown, the state’s top election officer, said Wednesday that it makes little difference since voters actually choose a slate of electors to cast Kentucky’s eight votes in the Electoral College. “Since it’s the electoral votes that count, should Mr. Perot win Kentucky, the Reform Party would be represented in the Electoral College by the candidate who chose him as his running mate,” Brown said in an interview. Choate is an economist from Washington, D.C. Perot announced his selection Tuesday night, four days beyond Kentucky’s deadline for ballot certification. Ballots must be printed by Monday, 50 days before the election, under state law. Brown estimated that three-fourths of the counties have printed them already. Kentucky permitted stand-in candidates for parties that held nominating conventions after Aug. 13, the state’s deadline for ballot petitions. Nominees could be substituted until Sept. 5, when candidates had to be finally certified by Brown’s staff so county clerks could begin printing ballots. Owenby was the vice presidential candidate in other states.

Whitewater partner remains jailed

WASHINGTON, D.C.

Opponents complained that it would victimize needy people and trample on Constitutional rights. Supporters said too many New Yorkers — particularly the elderly — are being intimidated by panhandlers who refuse to take “No” for an answer. A main target of the legislation is aggressive panhandlers at banks, who hound customers after they make cash withdrawals at automatic teller machines. The bill also provides new legal tools to prosecute notorious “squeegee men,” who pounce on motorists stopped at traffic lights and try to extract cash donations by cleaning their windshield wipers — whether the driver wants it or not. Specifically, the proposal would outlaw conduct by panhandlers that would make a “reasonable person” fear for his or her safety.

Neither Joanna nor I could be there. I’m lucky if I get to bed before 2 a.m. and I would gladly turn in at 1 a.m. to prove I could cope

I went to bed at 1 a.m. to prove I could cope

as a student for the cafeteria at my high school. I won’t dignify you with gory descriptions of cafeteria food chez moi. Two words: “The worst.”

As for studying in college, I have to agree. I have too much math material in my life. High school was a breeze of cut-and-paste collages, groups, and faces—night study groups involving into “friends” sessions. You could scar off your homework in a matter of minutes, a time to soak up the last rays of sunshine.

But I couldn’t prove I could cope

or Tingles. Is there anything more to college life?

Mrs. McDougal asked a judge to release her Tuesday afternoon, to about 105 mph from 120 mph, and further weakening was expected.

The force of the storm declined slightly during the afternoon, to about 105 mph from 120 mph, and further weakening was expected.

A hurricane watch was in effect all along Baja California Sun day and parallel south. The Mexican government posted a hurricane warning Thursday for Guaymas south to El Dorado. Rain from Fausto began falling about noon, said Veronica Vela, an employee at the Hotel Hacienda Beach Resort in San Lucas.

Perot running mate not on ballot

FRANKFORT, Ky.

Ross Perot’s running mate, Pat Choate, will not be on Kentucky’s ballot in November, Secretary of State John Y. Brown III said. The ballot instead will list a stand-in, Carl Owenby, as the Reform Party’s candidate for vice president.

Brown, the state’s top election officer, said Wednesday that it makes little difference since voters actually choose a slate of electors to cast Kentucky’s eight votes in the Electoral College. “Since it’s the electoral votes that count, should Mr. Perot win Kentucky, the Reform Party would be represented in the Electoral College by the candidate who chose him as his running mate,” Brown said in an interview. Choate is an economist from Washington, D.C. Perot announced his selection Tuesday night, four days beyond Kentucky’s deadline for ballot certification. Ballots must be printed by Monday, 50 days before the election, under state law. Brown estimated that three-fourths of the counties have printed them already. Kentucky permitted stand-in candidates for parties that held nominating conventions after Aug. 13, the state’s deadline for ballot petitions. Nominees could be substituted until Sept. 5, when candidates had to be finally certified by Brown’s staff so county clerks could begin printing ballots. Owenby was the vice presidential candidate in other states.

Whitewater partner remains jailed

WASHINGTON, D.C.

Opponents complained that it would victimize needy people and trample on Constitutional rights. Supporters said too many New Yorkers — particularly the elderly — are being intimidated by panhandlers who refuse to take “No” for an answer. A main target of the legislation is aggressive panhandlers at banks, who hound customers after they make cash withdrawals at automatic teller machines. The bill also provides new legal tools to prosecute notorious “squeegee men,” who pounce on motorists stopped at traffic lights and try to extract cash donations by cleaning their windshield wipers — whether the driver wants it or not. Specifically, the proposal would outlaw conduct by panhandlers that would make a “reasonable person” fear for his or her safety.

Neither Joanna nor I could be there. I’m lucky if I get to bed before 2 a.m. and I would gladly turn in at 1 a.m. to prove I could cope

I went to bed at 1 a.m. to prove I could cope with the college. I’m lucky if I get to bed before 2 a.m. and I would gladly turn in at 1 a.m. to prove I could cope as a student for the cafeteria at my high school. I won’t dignify you with gory descriptions of cafeteria food chez moi. Two words: “The worst.”

As for studying in college, I have to agree. I have too much math material in my life. High school was a breeze of cut-and-paste collages, groups, and faces—night study groups involving into “friends” sessions. You could scar off your homework in a matter of minutes, a time to soak up the last rays of sunshine.

But I couldn’t prove I could cope

or Tingles. Is there anything more to college life?

Mrs. McDougal asked a judge to release her Tuesday afternoon, to about 105 mph from 120 mph, and further weakening was expected.

The force of the storm declined slightly during the afternoon, to about 105 mph from 120 mph, and further weakening was expected.

A hurricane watch was in effect all along Baja California Sun day and parallel south. The Mexican government posted a hurricane warning Thursday for Guaymas south to El Dorado. Rain from Fausto began falling about noon, said Veronica Vela, an employee at the Hotel Hacienda Beach Resort in San Lucas.
Remember to share the warmth in the true Notre Dame spirit.

Contact the Hammes Bookstore or the Center for Social Concerns for details.

PROJECT WARMTH

CHESAPEAKE BAGEL BAKERY.

• Fresh Baked Bagels
• Homemade Soups & Salads
• Hot & Cold Deli Sandwiches
• Gourmet Coffees
• Cappuccino & Espresso

5920 Grape Road, Mishawaka, IN 46545
Phone: 219-272-9415 • Fax: 219-272-7775

Free
Buy 1 deli sandwich & get 1 of equal or lesser value FREE.
Must be presented at time of purchase. Not valid with other offers or promotions. One per customer. Valid only at Grape Road. EXPIRES 12/31/96

Cappuccino Specials
Short - $1.00
Tall - $1.50
With coupon only. Not valid with Any Other Coupons. Limit one coupon per customer.

It isn't always clear which one of the big six firms is focused on your future. However...

The Observer • CAMPUS NEWS Stadium

continued from page 1

While structural work is clearly finished for the myriad of concourses and ramps which will feed 20,000 new seats, the expanded areas are far from usable and are off-limits for the 1996 season. What remains for fans to use is essentially the same as it has been for the past 65 years.

Security concerns brought on by playing a half-dozen games in the midst of a construction zone headline the short list of changes students will experience.

"If people respect the fences, it'll be a safe weekend... For the most part, students will have everything available to them that they had last year," Mike Smith, the University's director of facilities engineering, asserted.

Perceptions that a logjam will form as fans try to pass more easily from the outer to the inner concourse.

"We were asleep when there was this..." Rakow warned.

The increased diligence will start with ushers, who will begin conducting better inspections of fans entering on Saturdays. Violators caught drinking or with alcohol inside the Stadium face expulsion from the game and an ensuing notification of Student Affairs.

Although not directly related to the construction, Security also announced a renewed effort to curb illegal drinking within the Stadium.

"We'll be monitoring closer than ever before," Rakow warned.

The experience of being notified was a construction zone. These fenced-off areas are dangerous and are extremely non-public. We'll be enforcing that," Director of Security Rex Rakow said.

Few of Saturday's spectators will miss the course 10-foot combination for anything other than a barricade.

For Notre Dame Security as well, a renewed effort to curb illegal drinking was a theme. "We're really trying to keep people away from the expanded areas," Rakow said.

Nobel

continued from page 1

Emil T. Hofman address Saturday at 10 a.m. in 101 DeBartolo.

Wieschaus, the first Nobel laureate from Notre Dame, will offer an account about his journey from the days as an undergraduate to winning the Nobel Prize last October.

Wieschaus shared the Nobel Prize in medicine with Edward Lewis of the California Institute of Technology and Christiane Nusslein-Volhard of Germany's Max Planck Institute. The trio were honored for their work in the genetic control of early embryonic development.

"When I was a young scientist, I was just so thrilled to be in the lab, so excited to do experiments," Wieschaus said upon receiving the award. "During that time, in the late 1970s, I never really thought about a Nobel."

"It's going to be a little different, having a football season in the midst of a construction zone. These fenced-off areas are dangerous and are extremely non-public. We'll be enforcing that," Director of Security Rex Rakow said.

Although not directly related to the construction, Security also announced a renewed effort to curb illegal drinking within the Stadium.

"We'll be monitoring closer than ever before," Rakow warned.

The increased diligence will start with ushers, who will begin conducting better inspections of fans entering on Saturdays. Violators caught drinking or with alcohol inside the Stadium face expulsion from the game and an ensuing notification of Student Affairs.

"We are serious about it," Rakow said.
Not even rain can dampen Dillon spirit

Two Dillon Hall students scurry to protect band equipment from a downpour during last night’s pep rally on South Quad.

Truman Scholarship

Information Meeting for Juniors interested in Public Service

Monday, September 16, 1996
4:30 - 5:15PM
117 O’Shaughnessy Hall

Four new professors join SMC, enjoy first few weeks

By DONNA MIRANDOLA
News Writer

While 1996 welcomed many new students to Saint Mary’s campus, the year also brought new professors to the college.

This year Saint Mary’s College welcomes four new professors to the faculty — Professors Nancy Morris and Barbara Johnson-Farmer of the nursing department, Professor Betty Budlow-King of the social work department, and Professor Amber Katherine of the philosophy department.

All of the new professors have been extremely pleased with their experiences at Saint Mary’s College so far, and are looking forward to what the future may hold.

The professors were aware of the reputation of SMC and eager to begin the new year.

“I was interested in Saint Mary’s College because I saw that it was a great environment and I was impressed overall with the College,” said Morris.

“I was attracted by the fine reputation of Saint Mary’s College and its commitment to teaching. There are few institutions where teaching is prized, encouraged and mentored like it is here,” said King.

The atmosphere in the classroom and all around campus has been positive and enjoyable for the new faculty members.

“Everyone is so helpful here. You are not a number here like you are at other institutions,” Morris said.

“People here are genuinely concerned about how you feel and what you want to do. It’s little things here that make the big differences.”

UNIVERSITY CLUB OF NOTRE DAME

Is accepting membership applications for ND, SMC, & Holy Cross Faculty and full-time staff.

Dues = $50 per year

Call 631-4678 for membership applications or for more information.
Dole pushes for debates

By TOM RAUM
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON
Negotiators for Bob Dole and President Clinton opened debate talks Thursday with the Dole camp proposing four one-on-one hour-long presidential face-offs and two vice presidential exchanges.

The Clinton team did not respond directly to the Dole proposal although a senior campaign official, speaking on the condition of anonymity, later called it "a clever propos­al but not serious."

The negotiators broke off talks after about two hours to await a recommendation by the Commission on Presidential Debates on whether Ross Perot should be part of the debates.

Commission Co-chairman Frank Fahrenkopf promised a recommendation on Perot by noon Tuesday.

The privately financed, non-partisan commission has sponsored presidential debates since 1988.
Christian Coalition contributions decline for first time in five years

By JIM DRINKARD

WASHINGTON

After five years of explosive growth, contributions to the Christian Coalition declined last year for the first time, tax records show.

The bad financial news comes as the conservative religious group gathers here for its annual meeting, a session also dogged by a government lawsuit and an investigation by federal prosecutors of billing by one of the group's vendors. The conservative religious group reported donations of $18.7 million in 1995 — a decline of nearly 12 percent from the previous year, when supporters gave $21.2 million.

Coalition spokesman Mike Russell said the decline meant little because 1995 was a non-election year that gave the group's state affiliates a chance to concentrate on their own local fund raising. Those dollars don't show up on the national organization's reports, he said.

"We're on track for a $24 million budget this year," Russell said. The actual figure won't be disclosed to the Internal Revenue Service until next July.

The coalition claims some 1.7 million members nationwide, but its primary publication, the magazine Christian American, was sent to 310,296 people in September of last year, the most recent figure reported. That was down from 310,296 people in September of the previous year, the most recent figure reported.

Russell said those figures also do not reflect all income, because circulation varies as copies of the magazine are mailed to encourage people to contribute.

In a separate disclosure, the coalition reported spending $5.5 million during the first six months of this year on lobbying, including fights against abortion and gambling and support for many of the items in the Republican "Contract With America." The figure ranks the group among the top lobbying spenders.

More than 3,500 coalition members are expected for the group's annual conference and strategy session in Washington this weekend.

From the beginning, you were a domer.

Happy Birthday KC!

Love, Mom & Dad

University of Notre Dame
International Study Program

Santiago, Chile

Information meeting with Professor Silvia Rojas-Anadon

Monday, September 16, 1996
4:30 pm
117 DeBartolo

Slide presentation and opportunity to learn more about service projects in Chile. Returning students will be on hand to answer questions.

Twila Paris with Special Guest
Aaron Jefffrey & Avalon
SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 8
Elco Theatre • Elkhart, IN
TICKETS: $12.50/$11.00
Charities Affiliated: Monday, July 29

JD Summer & the Stamps
SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 14
First Church of God
Quakertown, PA
TICKETS: $8.50 Tickets on Sale: Monday, August 5

Kathy Troccoli and Phillips, Craig & Dean with Special Guest Scott Krippayne
THURSDAY, OCTOBER 3
Maine Civic Auditorium
South Bend, IN
TICKETS: $12.50/$10.50/$8.50
Tickets on Sale: Monday, August 5

Jim Cole & Kelly Willard
FRIDAY, OCTOBER 4
First Baptist Church • Peru, IN
TICKETS: $8.50 Tickets on Sale: Saturday, August 21

Michael Card & Wes King
SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 16
Elco Theatre • Elkhart, IN
TICKETS: $12.50/$10.50
Tickets on Sale: Friday, October 4

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 17
Elko Theater • Elkhart, IN
TICKETS: $12.50 Tickets on Sale: Friday, October 4

For tickets call WFRN Radio:
219-876-6000 • 219-875-2166 • 800-522-WFRN

Did you know...?

That you could own a condominium or townhome just minutes from Notre Dame for as little as $379* per month?

A wise investment for students, parents, alumni and faculty.

• Condominiums and townhomes as low as $56,000
• Perfect for game weekends
• Beautiful waterfront settings

Learn about maximizing your future with Ernst & Young LLP

at the Accounting Career Night, in the Monogram Room on September 18th, 6:00 to 9:00pm

DENON D-1000 MINI SYSTEM
Dolby Pro-logic space savor

Amplifier section
- Total Power: 115W
- Stereo mode: 38W+38W (6 ohms, 65Hz-15kHz, THD 1%)
- Surround mode: Front 35W+35W, Center 30W, Rear 15W
- Dynamic Bass
- Spectrum Analyzer
- In-Dash Frequencies
- Dolby Pro-Logic Surround System
- Four Surround Modes
- Front Graphic Equalizer
- Four-Band Specturm Analyzer
- 45-Key Full Remote Commander

Cassette Deck section
- Power Loading System
- Auto Reverse Double Cassette Deck
- Full Logic Tape Transport
- Dolby B NR
- Music Search
- Auto Tape Selector
- Tape Dubbing
- Tape Edit Function
- Headphone Output
- Mic Mixing Function
- Karaoke Function
- Super Wide Stereophonic

Remote Control
- 45-Key Full Remote Commander

DENON DC30 MINI SYSTEM

Amplifier section
- 15W + 15W
- 4-Band Graphic Equalizer
- CD / Tuner / Tape / Aux. Input
- Dynamic Bass
- Spectrum Analyzer
- Balanced Input
- 45-Key Full Remote Commander

Cassette Deck section
- Auto Reverse Cassette Deck
- Full Logic Tape Transport
- Dolby B Noise Reduction
- Music Search
- Auto Tape Selector
- Edit Function
- Tape Dubbing Function

Tuner section
- FM / AM Stereo Tuner
- 10FM, 10AM Preset Memory
- Daily & Sleep Timer
- Timer Recording

Remote Control
- 36-Key Full Remote Commander

DENON DC1 MINI SYSTEM

Amplifier section
- 9W + 9W
- Front Graphic Equalizer
- CD / Tuner / Tape / Aux. Input
- Dynamic Bass
- Spectrum Analyzer
- Balanced Input
- 36-Key Full Remote Commander

Cassette Deck section
- Auto Reverse Cassette Deck
- Full Logic Tape Transport
- Dolby B Noise Reduction
- Music Search
- Auto Tape Selector (Normal / High)
- Edit Function

Tuner section
- FM / AM Stereo Tuner
- 10FM, 10AM Preset Memory
- Daily & Sleep Timer

Remote Control
- 45-Key Full Remote Commander

ALTRONICS
3915 Grape Rd., Mishawaka
One Block South from Day Road in Front of Basney Honda 277-1801
Iraq continues to ‘makes statement’ by firing in no-fly zone

By WAIEL FALEH
Associated Press Writer

BAGHDAD, Iraq
Iraq and the United States moved closer to a showdown Thursday, with more U.S. firepower sent to the Persian Gulf, raising the stakes but neither looking prepared to make a decisive move.

Iraq said it fired missiles at U.S. warplanes over a no-fly zone for a second straight day Thursday, hours after accusing Kuwait of an “act of war” for agreeing to open its airfields to American jets.

Pentagon officials confirmed that Iraq fired three surface-to-air missiles Thursday, but said they were aimed at an area near the southern “no-fly” zone where allied aircraft were not flying.

“We had nothing in the area. Clearly he released them only to create an appearance of a confrontation,” a military official said on condition of anonymity. “There were no (radar) tracks,” indicating guided systems were not left on long enough to direct the missiles to an intended target. “It took a hard search to find them.”

For days, Iraq has reported firing on U.S. and allied aircraft in the no-fly zones in the north and south. The only other confirmed attack came Wednesday, when Iraqi forces fired a missile at two F-16s in the northern no-fly zone. That missile missed its target.

The United States responded by sending four B-52 bombers and eight F-117 fighter planes to fortify the same 200 aircraft in the region. The Pentagon also said a second aircraft carrier, the USS Enterprise, will join the USS Carl Vinson already in the Gulf.

Kuwait agreed to let the United States base some of the American jets on its territory, a move Iraq’s Deputy Prime Minister Tariq Aziz called “a flagrant act of aggression against the people of Iraq and an act of war against the Iraqi state.”

U.S. Defense Secretary William Perry, in Washington, called Aziz’s comments “rash” and “totally unacceptable.”

“U.S. military forces do not pose a threat to Iraq,” he said. But, noting that American forces moved into the area in force only after Iraq invaded Kuwait in 1990, Perry said: “If there is any challenge to those forces, we have the responsibility to protect them. The United States will take all necessary and appropriate actions.”

Aziz, in a rambling commentary run by the official Iraqi News Agency, likened the recent turmoil to the period six years ago just before Iraq’s invasion of Kuwait. He said Kuwait’s rulers were in “evil collaboration with America in conspiring against Iraq’s people.”

He did not say if Iraq would take any military action to counter the Kuwaiti move.

The past two weeks have seen Saddam undertake his biggest military venture since the end of the 1991 Persian Gulf War, sending troops Aug. 31 into the north to help Kurdish allies rout a rival Iranian-backed Kurdish group.

With that victory, Saddam effectively wiped out the Kurdish safe haven that the United States and its allies established at the end of the war, giving him control of the territory for the first time in five years.

In response, the Americans showered cruise missiles on Iraqi air defense sites in southern Iraq last week and expanded a southern no-fly zone set up to protect Shiite Muslims.

The expanded zone makes it even more difficult for Saddam to move his troops around the region without attracting notice from the U.S.-led air forces, which fly scores of sorties every day.

The U.S. actions against Iraq received a cool reception in the Arab world, even among partners from the Gulf War coalition. But Kuwait, which still considers Iraq a serious threat, has been fully supportive.

A spokesman for U.S. Secretary of State Warren Christopher, who met Thursday with a delegation of ambassadors from Persian Gulf countries, said regional support for the U.S. effort remains strong.

“The coalition remains very much in place and remains very much active and engaged,” a spokesman, said.

After the U.S. missile attack, Saddam immediately vowed to see Saddam u n d er take his “due revenge.”

Iraqi air defense sites in southern Iraq this week. The United Nations cites 30,000 hardback and paperback books
• Appraisals large and small
• Open Monday through Sunday
• 1027 E. Wayne
South Bend, IN 46617
(219) 232-8444

ERASMUS BOOKS

Kickoff Explosion
Start the football season off right

One of the best college bands in the Midwest
Open Saturday Right after the game

Fourth Annual
Emil T. Hofman Lecture
“Of Flies and Men: Genes and Embryonic Development of the Fruit Fly”
From a Notre Dame Student to the Nobel Prize: A Long Journey

Introduction by
Theodore M. Hesburgh, CSC
Presented by Eric Wieczeus, PhD ‘69
1995 Nobel Prize Winner

Friday September 13th
Doors open 8:00 PM

P.S. Dump Your Boyfriend

Friday September 13th
Doors open 8:00 PM

Alumni-Senior Club Presents

Alumni-Senior Club

Open on Saturday Right after the game

Fourt Annual
Emil T. Hofman Lecture
“Of Flies and Men: Genes and Embryonic Development of the Fruit Fly”
From a Notre Dame Student to the Nobel Prize: A Long Journey

September 14, 1996
10:00-11:30 a.m
(before ND - Purdue game)
DeBartolo Hall
Alcohol
continued from page 1

But Judicial Council President Ryan Mcinerney questioned other potential motives behind the adjustments. “Enforcement has always been pretty lenient,” he said. “They’re making gradual changes in the alcohol policy. It could be seen as a move toward a dry campus. Gradual attrition would be the way to do it.”

“This is not a negative system of oppression of student behavior,” Kirk asserted. “We have to look at the moral implications of that as well. The negative affects of alcohol use are pretty clear.”

Vandalism, rapes and even student deaths usually involve alcohol in some capacity, according to Kirk. “We need to recognize that this choice to drink under age is a matter of life and death,” he said. “Students could offer a valid perspective in forming new policies.”

Mcinerney expressed concern about the lack of student input into an issue which affects student life so intimately. “Students received no forewarning about these policy changes,” he said. “Decisions that affect campus life are consistently made without any input from students.”

But student requests for additional social space and alternatives to weekend nights centered on alcohol were also impeded for the new approach, Kirk said. Rectors are approached by freshmen every year who do not drink and are looking for other avenues of entertainment, he said.

“That made us sit up and take notice,” he said. Students perceive an absence of things to do on campus, or are conditioned to looking for a party on weekends, according to Kirk.

“We need to find other means of entertainment,” he said. The expansion of South Dining Hall and the new daytime hours for Alumni Senior Club are also positive moves toward more social space as outlined in Colleque 2000, Kirk said, hinting that increased space may provide an alternative to drinking.

“The social space issue will focus some positive attention on the issue,” he said. We have to look at the moral implications of that as well. The negative affects of alcohol use are pretty clear.”

Vandalism, rapes and even student deaths usually involve alcohol in some capacity, according to Kirk. “Students think that as long as they aren’t driving, that drinking should be allowed,” he said. “A lot of things can happen, not just from drinking and driving.”

Kirk also pointed out the dangers of frudging off-campus to find a party every weekend, especially in the wake of a drive-by shooting two weeks ago in the area of St. Louis Street.

“Notre Dame is a very residential college,” he said. “South Bend is not a typical college town. But like any other city, it has its share of crime.”

Regardless of the University’s intentions, Mcinerney would still rather have student input into any decision that will alter, drastically for some, social life at Notre Dame.

“There should be a forum or something along those lines,” he said. “Students could offer a valid perspective in forming new policies.”

Mcinerney’s concerns could have a factual basis in the past. In April of 1984, the University attempted to drastically alter the campus alcohol policy, including the prohibition of private parties in dorm rooms.

About 2,000 students gathered outside the Dome to protest, many drinking alcohol, waving signs and voicing their displeasure. The changes were later revoked by the University. Kirk asserted that the University had no plans to add new regulations — only to adhere to the old ones, and reiterated that there were no plans to make the campus dry.

“Without thinking through what the students would do to fill that void, it would be irresponsible.”

If you see news happening, call The Observer at 1-5323.

The Education of Girls and Women as Challenge to Catholicism

Monday, September 16, 1996 from 7:30 to 9:00 p.m.
Center for Continuing Education Auditorium

Refreshments will follow.

PANELISTS

Sr. Cathy Campbell
President of Mother Gillen High School, River Grove, IL

Annette Kane
Executive Director of the National Council of Catholic Women

Dolores Leckey
Director of Family, Laity, Women, and Youth for the National Conference of Catholic Bishops

Maura A. Ryan
Assistant Professor of Theology at the University of Notre Dame

The panel will be convened by Todd David Whitmore

Discussion will be moderated by Regina Coll

The aim of the panel is to generate further dialogue within the Catholic Community on the issue of the education of girls and women as an outgrowth of last year’s United Nations conference in Beijing.

Go Irish!
Beat Purdue!

Every since you were a little boy... #13 has been our lucky number!

HAPPY
21st BIRTHDAY
SEAN!

Love,
Mom, Dad, Bill, Meghan, Molly, and Daisy.

The University of Notre Dame, with support from the Pech Charitable Trusts, will host an evening panel discussion entitled

Beyond Beijing:

The Education of Girls and Women as Challenge to Catholicism
Clinton supports inmate drug testing in rehab programs

By RON FOURNIER
Associated Press Writer

PUEBLO, Colo.

Answering a cascade of criticism from Bob Dole, President Clinton moved Wednesday to bolster his drug-fighting resume with a warning to states: test inmates and parolees for drugs or lose federal cash.

He also flexed his political muscle in traditionally Republican territory with a rally in Sun City, Ariz., where he bragged about vetoing GOP budgets.

Appealing to the elderly crowd, Clinton said he protected health care for "poor women and little babies" and people "in nursing homes." Harry Truman in 1948 was the last Democratic presidential candidate to win Arizona, but the Clinton-Gore campaign narrowly leads in the polls now.

Clinton is in the middle of a three-day cross-country trip to solidify leads in key states. Pueblo is a Democratic stronghold that must deliver big for Clinton to carry Colorado again.

Under the president's latest anti-crime proposal, states would be required to establish drug testing and rehabilitation programs for inmates and parolees if they want their share of federal jail-building funds.

The idea requires congressional approval, and that is not likely during the little time left in this election year. Still, like most of the proposals the White House has put out in recent weeks, the drug initiative gives Clinton something to point to in the important anti-crime debate.
Work
continued from page 1
by rough empty spaces signifying work left to do.

From fresh masonry on the stadium's north facade to the bare skeleton of the north facade press box, home games this season will take on a new appearance of being played in the middle of a construction zone.

Casteel Construction, the company handling the $50 million project for the University, finds itself suddenly switching gears in the middle of the project.

"Right now, and for the last week, we've been in a cleanup phase more than anything," project engineer Tim Conley said.

"We're getting the site ready for 60,000 visitors... Preparations are certainly keeping us busy," Jeff Corson, Casteel's project manager offered.

The roughly 200 workers currently on the project have spent an increasing amount of time affixing signs, sweeping up debris, and putting finishing touches on end details like turnstiles.

During the playing season, Conley explains, "Our activity will be limited, but we won't shut down, that's for sure. Masonry and roofs on the seating area and other projects involved in the completion of the expansion are our goals to have done by winter."

The expansion's architect, C.W. Keller of Elberbe Becket, flew in from Kansas City to survey the efforts being made to realize his brainchild for the general public.

"It's really exciting to see the structure take shape... I think everyone will really enjoy the place," he predicted.

The magnitude of the rough structural and utility progress that has occupied contractors hides the multitude of work required. skeleton steel will withstand all variety of forming, troweling, and hammering in the coming months before the stadium expansion is complete.

New stair halls are to be installed, and the varsity and visitors' locker rooms are to be doubled in size. Souvenir vending areas, upper level concessions, and refreshments to current foodsales areas also remain to be done.

"Everybody will keep working from Mondays to Fridays. You'll see a lot more brick, block, and construction," Conley said.

Perhaps even more visible, permanent lights topping the four corners and press box of the Stadium are expected to be in place by the end of this month. Pittsburgh. Requested and paid for by NRG the Stadium's first permanent lights will eliminate the need to continually transport portable lights to South Bend to facilitate televising dark late-season games.

Considerable remaining work will stem from the new press box. Following the 1996 season, the current structure will be demolished, and the metal frame currently taking shape above it should transform into a three-story state-of-the-art media headquarters. A doubling of existing square footage, an entire tier reserved for camera equipment, and the addition of two high-speed elevators highlight the proposed plans.

While the erection of hundreds of truck-sized pre-cast support beams is finished, the 20 new rows of seating will require substantial effort to be made usable. A finishing coat of surface concrete has been smoothed over the entire structure, seating has been fastened, stairs need to be poured, and railings need to be affixed. Furthermore, significant demolition of the original stadium's scoreboard, external wall, and final two rows of seating will smooth the interior bow's appearance and unite the new with the old.

A permanent concourse ringed at the bottom of the expansion is planned, in addition to increased handicapped seating. Final touches will include a green, a scoreboard, and new landscaping around the Stadium's exterior.

Despite the complexity and sheer size of the project, however, University Director of Facilities Engineering Mike Smith asserts that the project remains both on schedule and on budget.
Swiss investigate British claims of stolen Nazi gold

By BALZ BRUPPACHER
Associated Press Writer

BERN, Switzerland — Swiss authorities promised Thursday a full investigation into British government claims that Swiss banks knowingly held millions of dollars in gold stolen by the Nazis during World War II.

The British report has unleashed a new round of international criticism of Switzerland’s wartime activities.

“We have a great interest in seeing that everything is laid on the table,” said a Ministry for Foreign Affairs spokesman who requested anonymity.

Parliament this fall is expected to pass a bill that would create a commission to investigate the wartime role of private individuals, the Swiss government and the Swiss National Bank, Swiss officials said.

Tuesday’s report by the British Foreign Office said the Nazis stole more than $550 million in gold — now worth more than $6 billion — from occupied countries and hid it in Swiss banks.

The United States, Britain and France, who knew about the plunder, managed to recover only about 10 percent of the gold, much of which had been taken from the 6 million Jews killed by the Nazis, the report said.

Hortense heads toward northeastern U.S.

By NIKO PRICE
Associated Press Writer

NASSAU, Bahamas — Hurricane Hortense took a swipe at the Turks and Caicos islands and barreled past the Bahamas Thursday on a track that could threaten the northeastern United States over the weekend.

In Puerto Rico, where at least 14 people died in the storm Tuesday, residents and workers continued their arduous cleanup — from sorting through soiled clothing to clearing roads and bridges.

Their misery was compounded by widespread water and power outages — about 40 percent of the island’s 3.6 million people still had no power Thursday — but federal help was on the way. More than 7,600 people were registered at 115 shelters Thursday.

At 5 p.m. EDT Thursday, Hortense was centered about 730 miles south-southeast of Cape Hatteras, N.C., or about 310 miles east of Nassau. It was moving north at 12 mph, with hurricane-force winds extending outward up to 70 miles from its center.

Heavy surf from the storm could reach southeastern U.S. shores by Friday, and there was a slight chance the storm could threaten Long Island, N.Y., Rhode Island, or Cape Cod, Mass., on Sunday, forecasters said.

Meanwhile, another hurricane was menacing Mexico’s Pacific coast. On the lower half of Mexico’s Baja California peninsula, flights were canceled and ports closed to all vessels as Hurricane Fausto moved closer, with sustained winds of 115 mph, up from 90 mph on Wednesday.

Thursday afternoon, Fausto was located about 115 miles south-southwest of Cabo San Lucas, on the peninsula’s southern tip. Its outer winds were already buffeting the peninsula. The hurricane was moving northward at 10 mph, possibly reaching the southern portion of the peninsula by Thursday night.

Hortense was expected to continue north and increase speed to 20 mph on Friday, according to the National Hurricane Center in Miami.

The hurricane pounded the Turks and Caicos islands with 96-mph winds but inflicted little serious damage, and no injuries were reported. In the Bahamas, residents stowed property and boarded up windows for the second time in two weeks — Hurricane Fran narrowly missed the islands last week — only to awaken Thursday to sunny skies.

"Everybody battened up and did hurricane preparations and no one was allowed to go to work yesterday, but nothing happened," said Marion Cartwright, a telephone operator in Great Inagua Island.

The death toll from Hortense reached 16 Thursday with the discovery of a man’s body near the Rio Grande river in the northeastern Puerto Rican town of Luiza. Another body was recovered from a beach in Patillas in southeastern Puerto Rico late Wednesday.

The storm, which delivered as much as 20 inches of rain, also killed two in the Dominican Republic. Most of the victims drowned.

President Clinton declared four Puerto Rican towns disaster areas, making residents eligible for federal grants, low-interest loans and emergency housing. More towns could be added to the list as Federal Emergency Management Agency officials survey the island.

Damage estimates for Puerto Rico reached $155 million and were certain to rise, Gov. Pedro Rossello said.

SHOP EXTENDED HOURS FRIDAY 9 AM-11 PM

TOMMY HILFIGER
AN ALL-AMERICAN FRAGRANCE

TOMMY HILFIGER
2-PC. SLEEP SHORTS SET, $47
(A $67 VALUE)

Set includes Tommy Hilfiger sleep shorts and Tommy Hilfiger cotton sleep shorts.

ORDER ANY TIME TOLL-FREE 1-800-528-2345

L'S-AYRES
Located at the Joyce center with 2 locations. On the concourse (enter gate 1 or 2) and the fieldhouse (enter gate 3).
Democracies: Start chilling your champagne

Gary Caruso

Dole is so dull, just call off the election.

On several occasions during my career on Capitol Hill, I would have been run into "big named" officials in the halls of Congress. Bob Dole and Jack Kemp are two of the friendliest, authentic people ever to serve in the Legislative Branch of government. In fact, when Newt Gingrich became Speaker, even he whistled out loud and praised staff members who happened his way while walking along through the vacant halls on late evening occasions.

One day, while I conducted a tour for an ND friend of mine and his family from Kansas, we happened to run into Dole himself in his leadership office in the Capitol. Of course Dole would be interested in constituents from Kansas. However, we did not tell him until we were almost out of the building. I cannot say enough about how polite and kind Dole was to us before he knew that my friends were voters from back home.

So what has happened to Bob Dole on his way to the presidency that makes him so boring? I, like millions of political junkies across the country, watched both conventions, stayed from start to finish. Both Dole and President Clinton accomplished what they needed in presenting the flag in Green Bay. Rush Limbaugh makes a priority against Democrats in an American Legion hall. Nobody knew if he gave the American Legion a flag, or was going to present the flag. Dole simply walked away, and the Legion's officers on stage did not know what to do. Finally, one of the officers took the flag from the table, read the certificate accompanying the flag, and then thanked Dole who was almost off the stage.

I have seen junior congressional staff members, fresh out of college at the age of 22, make better presentations while substituting for their congressional representatives who could not attend an event. A polished and savvy individual would have read the certificate, handed the flag over to the Legion's officers, and connected with the audience by tying his military career and legislative career together. Who would have a dry eye in the convention hall if Dole would convey the message that the flag is his way of showing that his heart is always with his brothers and sisters?

Presidential rhetoric consists of both the spoken word as well as the action taken to complement a president's message. The public's perception of a president's actions is the label that sticks with each president. Reagan had conviction. Carter was weak. Bush had little fluctuation. His habit of calling himself "Bob Dole" drove me crazy after ten minutes.

Dole's conclusion was the saddest part of his speech. He said that when he knew that he was leaving the Senate earlier this year, he had several flags flown over the Capitol on Memorial Day. "I can't think of a better national symbol of our freedom that the U.S. Capitol. And I can't think of another better symbol than the national headquarters of the American Legion," he said. Dole then walked away from the microphone.

Nobody knew if he gave the American Legion a flag, or was going to present the flag. Dole simply walked away, and the Legion's officers on stage did not know what to do. Finally, one of them took the flag from the table, read the certificate accompanying the flag, and then thanked Dole who was almost off the stage.

Dole has gone through the motions of his campaign almost as though he is resigned to the fact that he will lose. He does not inspire, which is the quality Americans want in a president. Today, Clinton leads in 37 states. Following the first presidential debate later this month, Americans will see just how dull and slow-witted Bob Dole can be without a script. By mid-October, watch how Republican candidates for Congress distance themselves from Dole in an effort to retain control of Congress. On election night in early November, voters on the west coast will once more know who the next president will be before their polling places are closed. Democrats, start chilling your champagne now.

Gary J. Caruso, Notre Dame '73, worked at the U.S. House of Representatives for eighteen years and is now a publicist with the International Union of Electronic Workers (IUE) in Washington, D.C. His column appears every Friday and his Internet address is hotline@nd.edu.
Editor's Note: The Observer introduces a new weekly special section that focuses on life at Notre Dame and Saint Mary's. Today, we take a behind-the-scenes look at the Band of the Fighting Irish.

"Day after day, you just think 'I'm going to band practice,' but every time I run through the tunnel it's just an amazing experience. You think of it as this big legend, and when you're in the limelight... you think 'I am in the Notre Dame marching band.'"

Senior Betsy Hodgson reflects on moments perceived during her past three years in the Fighting Irish Marching Band. The band will open its musical season of supporting the Irish tonight during the pep rally at 7 p.m. in the Joyce Center, but members have felt a spirit pervade their daily practices for weeks now.

"It's a complete rush," Freshman Sarah Ketchum said. "There's so much spirit involved. It's a blast. It's taken a lot of work — one and a half hours everyday — and I'm nervous, but I'm so excited. We have so much spirit, so much dedication, for our school. How many times other than now can you be with your friends and just start screaming the fight song? Never."

Father George Wiskirchen, C.S.C. (left), his voice full of animation, calls out the beat to the band members as they prepare for this weekend.

Rich Fowler (right), an off-campus senior, belts out the notes of the Victory March while playing his trombone.

Observer Photos by Rob Finch
Story by Michelle Krupa
The Alumni

Purdue boasts more than 300,000 living alumni. Among the more famous ones, living or dead, are:

☆ New York Yankees owner George Steinbrenner (pictured above), was an assistant football coach at Purdue in 1956.
☆ Twenty astronauts including Neil Armstrong, the first man to walk on the moon; Eugene Cernan, the last man on the moon; Virgil Grissom; and Roger Chaffee
☆ Former U.S. Senator Birch Bayh
☆ Nobel Prize recipients Edward Purcell and Ben Roy Mottelson, both in physics
☆ Basketball coaching legend John Wooden
☆ Super Bowl Champion quarterbacks Bob Griese (Miami Dolphins) and Len Dawson (Kansas City Chiefs)
☆ Popcorn Guru Orville Redenbacher

The Alumni Program boasts more than 280,000 living alumni. Among the more famous ones, living or dead, are:

☆ New York Yankees owner George Steinbrenner (pictured above), was an assistant football coach at Purdue in 1956.
☆ Twenty astronauts including Neil Armstrong, the first man to walk on the moon; Eugene Cernan, the last man on the moon; Virgil Grissom; and Roger Chaffee
☆ Former U.S. Senator Birch Bayh
☆ Nobel Prize recipients Edward Purcell and Ben Roy Mottelson, both in physics
☆ Basketball coaching legend John Wooden
☆ Super Bowl Champion quarterbacks Bob Griese (Miami Dolphins) and Len Dawson (Kansas City Chiefs)
☆ Popcorn Guru Orville Redenbacher

Purdue Quick Facts
Location: West Lafayette, Ind. 47907
Founded: 1869
Total Enrollment: 64,878 (fall 1994, all campuses)
Nickname: Boilermakers
Colors: Old Gold and Black
Song: Hail Purdue
Mascot: Boilermaker Special

The Shillelagh
Fourteen miniature gold footballs signifying Purdue victories adorn the base of the Shillelagh, the trophy that goes to the winner of the annual Purdue-Notre Dame football game. The Irish have "ND" in 25 such footballs.

The Shillelagh was donated in 1957 by the late Joe McLaughlin, a merchant seaman and an Irish fan who brought the club from Ireland. Following each Boilermaker-Fighting Irish football game, a football with the winner's initial and the final score are attached to the Shillelagh's stand.

(Compiled and designed by Dan Cichalski with help from the Purdue Media Guide and Ashleigh Thompson. Awesome art by Ryan Meinerding.)

The Mascot II
The personification of Purdue athletics is celebrating his 38th year in athletic cheering competition. Three students are selected to don the costume, provided they meet the 6-foot, 180-pound size requirements. "Boilermaker" or "Purdue" Pete will likely make the trip to South Bend this weekend, and may tower physically over Notre Dame's Leprechaun, Ryan Gee. But Domers will likely remember the story of David and Goliath when the two mascots meet on the sidelines tomorrow.
Today, O'Neill Hall will be the first male dorm dedicated at Notre Dame since Grace and Flanner Hall in 1969. The dedication of O'Neill Hall has been anxiously awaited by the residents of the new dorm. Since the students arrived on campus at the end of August, O'Neill's Rector Fr. Mark Ghyselinck, C.S.C. and the entire hall staff have reminded O'Neill residents of the upcoming special event. After much anxious, enthusiastic anticipation, the day has finally arrived on Golf Quad.

Fr. Ghyselinck offered, "After hearing rumors about it in the springtime, getting letters about it in the summertime, after receiving timetables and invitations since arriving back at Notre Dame, the time of the dedication has arrived and the O'Neill Family will be here in the flesh." The $9 million dormitory was donated almost entirely by Joseph I. O'Neill, III and his sister Helen O'Neill-Schwab, wife of insurance broker Charles Schwab. The dorm was donated primarily in memory of the late Joseph I. O'Neill, Jr. but bears the name O'Neill Family Hall because it is actually in memory of the entire O'Neill family, Mr. O'Neill and Mrs. O'Neill-Schwab will bring approximately 120 guests to today's events including three generations of O'Neill's.

After hearing rumors about it in the springtime, getting letters about it in the summertime, after receiving timetables and invitations since arriving back at Notre Dame, the time of the dedication has arrived. (Fr. Mark Ghyselinck)

All of the residents of O'Neill Hall will be involved in the dedication. Many exciting events have been planned for students. Students received formal invitations to the day's festivities from the O'Neill's a few weeks ago. The invitations included a timetable for dedication weekend. Beginning at 4:00 p.m., the O'Neill family and their guests, the O'Neill Hall Staff, and all of the residents of O'Neill will attend a Mass of Thanksgiving at the Basilica of the Sacred Heart. The celebrant will be Fr. Edward "Monk" Malloy, C.S.C. The family will be given by Fr. Tim Scully, C.S.C.

Following mass, all will proceed back to O'Neill for the hall blessing by Fr. Malloy. O'Neill Hall President Robert Stalsman put the weekend in a thoughtful light. "The O'Neill dedication offers a unique opportunity for the men of O'Neill Hall to celebrate our new home with its benefactors. We hope to show the O'Neill family that their investment in Notre Dame will bring great returns through our growth," he said.

O'Neill residents will have the opportunity to impress the benefactors following the blessing of the hall. Bob and his Vice President Rajil Basu selected O'Neill students to give personal tours of the new dorm to the O'Neill's, Schwab's, and their guests. During this time, all residents will be in their rooms, doors ajar, waiting to greet guests and as they proceed through O'Neill on their guided tours. At approximately 6:00 p.m., immediately after the tours of the dorm, a dorm photograph will be taken in front of O'Neill Family Hall. Included in this photograph will be the donors, the O'Neill Hall Staff, and all dorm residents. Upon its development, this picture of O'Neill Hall's first residents family will be permanently displayed inside O'Neill Family Hall. In addition, everyone in the photograph will receive a personal complimentary copy. A catered reception outside of O'Neill Hall will be formal events at O'Neill Hall, but the perks will continue for the hall staff and residents alike. The O'Neill Family has reserved two hundred seats at the Purdue pep rally for O'Neill residents only. So, presumably, O'Neill students will proceed to the pep rally together and cheer the Irish together as well.

Meanwhile, the O'Neill's, Schwab's, their guests, dignitaries of the University of Notre Dame, rectors from all dorms on campus, and the O'Neill Hall Staff will converge on South Dining Hall for a formal dinner celebrating the completed dedication. Notre Dame dignitaries expected to attend include: Fr. Edward "Monk" Malloy, C.S.C., Fr. William Beauchamp, C.S.C., Fr. Richard Warnen, C.S.C., and Dr. Patricia O'Hara to name a few.

All of the O'Neill Hall Residents, Associates will be attending the dinner as well. Marilyn Keough Hall kindly "donated" three RAs to patrol O'Neill until the conclusion of the gala. O'Neill Family Hall will recoup the favor when Keough celebrates its dedication on September 27.

The mood at O'Neill remains upbeat. Assistant Rector Duane Jundt commented, "It is a historic occasion. We are all looking forward to the dedication. We are going to be the centerpiece of the first home football game. O'Neill is going to be the limelight."

Assistant Rector Tom Cummins shared Jundt's enthusiasm and looked forward to the dedication.

And the feelings of the students? Fr. Ghyselinck offered an insider's perspective. He confided, "Freshmen say that this picture will be the ultimate homecoming picture for their homes. They're not used to having our dorm rooms, carpeting all over, air conditioning, brand new furniture, and large bedrooms. Now they have it all.

What more could anyone ask for? Welcome to O'Neill Hall!

Schedule of Events

4:00 O'Neill Mass of Thanksgiving at the Basilica with special guests Monk Malloy and Father Scully.

Following mass
Hall blessing and dorm tour.

6:00 Dorm photograph and then catered reception.

7:00 O'Neill residents get reserved seats at the Purdue Pep Rally.

Autumn Canoeing in the St. Joseph River

Available Sundays from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. $15 will get you a canoe for up to four hours. The route begins at the Brown Barn at St. Patrick's Park and continues up to Niles, Michigan. A shuttle service returns canoers to their vehicles. Call 277-4828 for information.

Presidential Campaigns 1844-1972

An exhibition of political campaign memorabilia at the Northern Indiana Center for History. The exhibit begins Sunday, September 15, and runs until Sunday, December 8. There will be a public reception at 2 p.m. this Sunday to open the exhibition. The Northern Indiana Center for History is located at 808 West Washington. 239-9664.

Classes at the South Bend Regional Museum of Art

More than 55 art classes and workshops for artists of all ages are available at the South Bend Regional Museum of Art. The ten-week classes begin the week of September 16. Classes are available in drawing, painting, photography, fibers, ceramics, sculpture, glass, calligraphy, jewelry, printmaking, and more. The South Bend Regional Museum of Art is located at 120 South Street in South Bend's Century Center. For more information, call 235-9102.

By TIMOTHY BOWERS

Accent Writer

Friday, September 13, 1996

Autumn Canoeing in the St. Joseph River

Available Sundays from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. $15 will get you a canoe for up to four hours. The route begins at the Brown Barn at St. Patrick's Park and continues up to Niles, Michigan. A shuttle service returns canoers to their vehicles. Call 277-4828 for information.

Presidential Campaigns 1844-1972

An exhibition of political campaign memorabilia at the Northern Indiana Center for History. The exhibit begins Sunday, September 15, and runs until Sunday, December 8. There will be a public reception at 2 p.m. this Sunday to open the exhibition. The Northern Indiana Center for History is located at 808 West Washington. 239-9664.

Classes at the South Bend Regional Museum of Art

More than 55 art classes and workshops for artists of all ages are available at the South Bend Regional Museum of Art. The ten-week classes begin the week of September 16. Classes are available in drawing, painting, photography, fibers, ceramics, sculpture, glass, calligraphy, jewelry, printmaking, and more. The South Bend Regional Museum of Art is located at 120 South Street in South Bend's Century Center. For more information, call 235-9102.
U.S. overcomes Canadians to force third game

Le Clair scores a key pair of goals against Richter
By JOHN KEKIS
Associated Press Writer

MONTREAL

John LeClair scored twice and Brett Hull added a key goal as the United States skated to a gutsy 5-2 victory over Canada on Thursday night to force a deciding third game in the World Cup of Hockey championship.

The victory by the feisty Americans set up a dramatic finale, to be played Saturday night at the Molson Centre.

The United States played its worst game of the tournament on Tuesday night, losing 4-3 in overtime on a goal by Steve Yzerman.

It was the first loss for the Americans after four wins, and they were determined not to duplicate it.

The United States ignored the cascade of boos that rained down continuously from the partisan sellout crowd of 21,273 at the Molson Centre, jumping to an early lead, settling the game in the second period, and letting goaltender Mike Richter protect the lead.

LeClair, who scored the game's first goal at 7:06 of the first period, broke a 1-1 tie at 1:20 of the second period with his tournament-leading sixth goal.

LeClair, who helped lead the Montreal Canadiens to the 1993 Stanley Cup, disappointed his former teammates in the United States.

Keith Tkachuk and Scott Young ended the rally, though, each scoring into an empty net in the final 1:08, with Joseph on the bench for an extra attacker.

Richter was the difference in the third, stopping 16 shots. And when he didn't get in the way, the goalposts did. Yzerman's deflection attempt midway through the period clanged off the right post and slid along the goal line before Richter managed to cover it.

Wayne Gretzky had the first good chance of the third, hitting Richter's skates with a shot from the sideboards. The puck rolled near the goal line, but Richter managed to kick it aside.

Memos later, Claude Lemieux slammed a hard drive off the goalpost behind Richter, but the puck caromed harmlessly away.

Just how intense the rivalry has become was never more evident than early in the second period, when 5-foot-10, 180-pound Pat LaFontaine slammed the 6-4, 230-pound Lindros into the boards, starting a series of hard hits that lasted the remainder of the game.

The first period nearly started ignominiously for the United States.

Defenseman Gary Suter was whistled for a penalty on Canada's first rush up ice, heading down Gretzky near the United States goal.

But Canada, playing without its spiritual leader, Mark Messier, sick in his hotel bed with stomach flu, managed just one shot on goal during the ensuing power play and Suter quickly atoned for his mistake.

Just as it had in had in three of its tournament victories, the United States scored the first goal, this one on a power play. With the Americans pressing the attack, Mike Modano dug the puck free along the boards and fed Suter at the left point. Joseph stopped Suter's drive, but LeClair pounced on the rebound and slid it past Joseph's pad at 7:06.

Reed Olson Shanahan sent the crowd into a frenzy at 9:23, tying the game on a Canadian power play.

Lindros led a rush into the American zone, and Shanahan blasted his drop pass from the top of the left circle past Richter, who was partially screened on the play.

The United States, outshot and outplayed in the opening game, held a 14-11 shot advantage in the first period and a 13-8 edge in the second. But Canada had an 18-8 advantage in the third period to finish with a 37-35 edge.

ATTENTION

Quality Care Hair

* Special Haircut Rates For College Students
* Haircuts For Only $7.00 (With Student ID)
* Shampoo, Cut, & Blow Dry Only $11.00

Screen Gems

A film series offering movies as they were meant to be experienced. tickets. Big Screen. Bargain price.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 18
2:00 and 7:00 P.M.
Cresta Garbo stars in
Anna Karenina

$1 Students
LITTLE THEATRE
for information, call 219/284-4626.

SYRACUSE STUDY ABROAD

* Generous grants & academic scholarships
* Coursework, internships & more
* Business programs in 3 countries
* Placement in foreign universities

ZIMBABWE • ENGLAND • ITALY
HONG KONG • SPAIN • FRANCE

SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY • 119 Euclid Avenue • Syracuse, NY 13244-4170
1-800-235-3472 • DPAT@suadm.syr.edu • http://sumweb.syr.edu/dpa

POLL

Get the most recent ratings for your favorite cinema. Get the most recent feedback for your favorite cinema.

EARN

WHILE YOU LEARN

Without losing valuable study and social time!

Varsity Clubs of America, South Bend Chapter, has been helping Notre students a quick and easy way to earn extra cash.

If you think your parents or a family friend may be interested in exploring the benefits of vacation ownership at Michiana's deluxe all-suite resort, you may be eligible to earn $250!

The next time you have visitors, stop by VCA at the corner of Main and Edision in Mishawaka to see what we have to offer.

For more information, contact Ron Moser at Varsity Clubs of America, 277-9032.
Friday, September 13, 1996

Classifieds
continued from page 19

LAWRENCE A. COLLECTABLES
Store and Museum
Devote your room, den, office
Note Dame items - posters, programs, pets, sports and movie celebrities' autographs.
Photos matted & framed. Early 1900's equipment - bats, gloves, hockey sticks, game-used shoes, etc.
Southwinds Mishawaka
100 WAB
237-0606
BUT AND SELL
Kevin Gayhazey- We of the SAW Trip are very interested in this story. Do let me know.
Hello One Penny! Hello One Penny! Hello One Penny!
2nd Floor PW - Thanks for making my birthday the best one yet! You guys are the greatest!
Love "Priscilla" Sarah

The Observer • SPORTS

FRIDAY THE 12TH

FLYING THE 12TH

IT'S YOUR LUCKY DAY,
KERRY CAVALUAGHI!

HAPPY 12TH BIRTHDAY TO LITTLE BROTHER AND FELLOW DOVER!

CALL THE NEWEST DAWGS AT 4-1048
AND WISH HIM A HAPPY BIRTHDAY TOO!

FRIDAY THE 12TH

Sarah - I miss you schoolkums! Are you keeping those cats warm for me? I'd find someone to saddle you bromine. Love, M.
Rosanne- Hey there woman, listen up. The Pooch is back. Prepare yourself. Love, L.P.
This is war. Peacock! You can't make an ounce without having nips, any cock will tell you that! But look what happened to the cat!
C Gilbes announces the beginning of The Bob Enyst fan club meeting weekdays at midnight. For info, call C Gilbes at 4-1229.

Citing the pulse of technology

Deloitte & Touche Consulting Group, one of the world's leading consulting firms, has fast-track opportunities reserved exclusively for Notre Dame's top students.

Systems Analyst Program

By joining us you'll be entering the challenging and rewarding world of information technology consulting.
You will apply the latest technologies to our clients' most challenging business and technical initiatives. We provide opportunities to expand your skills through formal training, teamwork with our senior staff and education programs.
You will gain skills in planning, building, testing and implementing systems by actually doing the work that we believe is the best way to learn.

Deloitte & Touche Consulting Group
Presentation/Reception
Lafortune Student Center
Notre Dame Room
Sept 19 @ 8 p.m.

Deloitte & Touche Consulting Group

change that produces results

NO TIME? NO PROBLEM!

Weight Watchers

AT WORK PROGRAM

Come to a FREE Information/Registration Meeting at Notre Dame!
Date: Wednesday, September 18, 1996
Time: 12:10 to 12:50
Location: LaFortune Center, Foster Room
Contact Jessica at 631-5829 for more information!

Register by September 19th for this series to start September 25th!
Welcome Faculty, Staff and Students!
Bring Your Lunch! Payroll deduction Available!
Come see yourself 20 lbs. thinner in the Magic Mirror!
This series has over 700 lbs. lost since 1994.

COOL DOWN AFTER WORK

Summer is here! Do you have any swimming plans this summer?
If you do, be sure to stay cool.

Rocksies shell Smoltz
in 16-8 drubbing

Denver

For once, the Colorado Rockies got a chance to beat on John Smoltz and the Atlanta Braves.

Tormented by Smoltz and Atlanta throughout their four years of existence, the Rockies made a small measure of revenge against both as Ellis
Barks hit his 37th homer and Danzo demoted his mark set last year.

Burks became the 19th player to hit 30 home runs and steal
30 bases in the same season.
He also set a team record with 263 total bases, breaking Dante Bichette's mark set last season.

Bichette stole his 30th base, leaving him one home run short of the 30-30 club. Nett Perez got his first big league hit and drove in two runs for the Rockies, won the sea son series against Atlanta 7-3.
John Burke (1-0), the third of seven Rockies pitchers, pitched a perfect sixth to earn his first major league victory.

"We knew Smoltz was going to be aggressive and come right after us," Burks said. "I think the home run hit let some of the air out of those guys and we just piled it on and continued from there.

Atlanta Braves.

2-1 in his last six starts, he gave up six runs in the first two innings against the Rockies. He has given up 19 earned runs in his last 46 1-3 innings for a 3.69 ERA.

Barka and Smoltz (21-8) had been 7-
years of existence, the Rockies
beat the Braves 16-8.

Barka hit his 37th homer and Brooks also stole his 30th base
as the Rockies won their first two innings against the Braves.

Barka's hit was on an 0-2 delivery by a pitch before Klesko hit it. But the Rockies got a chance to beat the 3-0-3
Barka.

"We have to do a better job than what we did today and that has to do with the whole game," Atlanta manager Bobby Cox said. "We had bad pitching, bad hitting and we didn't play well in the field.

Klesko keyed a three-run first inning with his 33rd homer. Chipper Jones hit two out and McGriw was hit by a pitch before Klesko popped up for the first.

Burks tied at his homer in the fifth inning and added a two-run single in the second.

"It's frustrating because I pitched the same way I did when I held them to one run in Atlanta," Burks said. "I broke some bats, but they managed to drop in some hits where we weren't playing them.

Burks also stole his 30th base
as the Rockies won their first game in a row, pulling within six games of the wild-card spot. The NL East-leading Braves have lost four in a row and 10 of 15.

Burks became the 19th play-ter to hit 30 home runs and steal
30 bases in the same season.

Of course opportunities like these will disappear faster than your student e-mail account. To qualify you need to have a superior academic record, demonstrated leadership ability and boundaries initiative. Plan now to meet
Deloitte & Touche Consulting Group
when we visit Notre Dame. Sign up in the placement office for our campus sessions. Deloitte & Touche Consulting
Group is an equal opportunity firm.
We recruit, train, compensate and promote without regard to race, creed, color, national origin, age, veteran status or disabilities. Web browsers are encouraged to visit our web page
POLIAN SEEMS TO BE BUILDING ANOTHER WINNER

By JOE MACENKA
Associated Press Writer

CHARLOTTE, N.C.

To understand how the Carolina Panthers reached the $500 mark just 18 games into their existence, go back to Feb. 20, 1995.

That was the day Carolina began what would be an aggressive foray into the NFL's market of unrestricted free agents, a journey that's been shaped largely by general manager Bill Polian.

After engineering the transformation of the Buffalo Bills from longtime losers to the only team to go to four straight Super Bowls, Polian helped Carolina make the most successful expansion debut in NFL history.

The Panthers, who have a bye this weekend, are off to a 2-0 start in their second season and tied with San Francisco for the NFC West lead.

Can a winning franchise really be built that fast?

“We all realize there's still a long way to go before we're in position to be even thought of as the San Franciscos or the Green Bayss or the Dallases or the people who are legitimate, legitimate contenders in this league,” he added.

Polian joined the Bills in 1984 as their pro personnel director. He was promoted general manager the following year. By 1988, the Bills had made it to the AFC championship game, and in another two years, they were in the Super Bowl.

Polian’s track record helped when the Panthers went looking for players to start up the franchise.

“Bill’s proven that he’s been able to put a club together,” said defensive end Mike Fox, who joined kicker John Kasay as the first unrestricted free agents signed by Carolina. “I got the feeling this was a franchise that wanted to do it right. When you’ve been in the league for a few years and you get to talk to guys around the league, you can pretty much tell when someone’s committed to winning.”

Fox, who played his first five NFL seasons with the New York Giants, recalled Polian’s sales pitch.

“He basically said they wanted to start with a strong defense and they wanted to build it around me,” said Fox, 6-foot-8 and 297 pounds. “It was a nice compliment that they thought I could fill the bill.”

He’s done just that, leading the Panthers’ defensive line in virtually every category last season after signing a five-year deal worth almost $9 million.

Fox and Kasay were among a salary-leading 17 unrestricted free agents the Panthers signed last year.

Most of them were on Carolina’s defense, which finished the season ranked seventh in the NFL, providing the anchor for a team that won seven of 11 after opening 0-5.

The Panthers have taken a different tack on offense, trying to build primarily through the draft. It began last year with the selection of quarterback Kerry Collins as their No. 1 choice and it continued this year, when seven of Carolina’s 10 draft picks were on offense.

“Most of the people who are legitimate, Green Bayss or the Dallases or the San Franciscos or the Washingtontimes, recalled Polian’s sales pitch.

“Demarco Mckenzie, the first unrestricted free agents signed by Carolina. “I got the feeling this was a franchise that wanted to do it right. When you’ve been in the league for a few years and you get to talk to guys around the league, you can pretty much tell when someone’s committed to winning.”

Fox, who played his first five NFL seasons with the New York Giants, recalled Polian’s sales pitch.

“He basically said they wanted to start with a strong defense and they wanted to build it around me,” said Fox, 6-foot-8 and 297 pounds. “It was a nice compliment that they thought I could fill the bill.”

He’s done just that, leading the Panthers’ defensive line in virtually every category last season after signing a five-year deal worth almost $9 million.

Fox and Kasay were among a salary-leading 17 unrestricted free agents the Panthers signed last year.

Most of them were on Carolina’s defense, which finished the season ranked seventh in the NFL, providing the anchor for a team that won seven of 11 after opening 0-5.

The Panthers have taken a different tack on offense, trying to build primarily through the draft. It began last year with the selection of quarterback Kerry Collins as their No. 1 choice and it continued this year, when seven of Carolina’s 10 draft picks were on offense.

“We decided that on offense the focus ought to be on youth,” Polian said. “because it takes them longer to grow. On defense we said we could win with veteran guys.”

Of the 11 defensive starters, six are over 31, led by 37-year-old linebacker Sam Mills.

Collins, who started the final 13 games last year and compiled a 7-6 record, has begun 1996 with his two most solid games as a professional. He has completed 30 of 52 passes for 369 yards and two touchdowns with just one interception.

Halfback Kevin DeMaurice, wide receiver Muhsin Muhammad, the Panthers’ top two draft choices this year, also are contributing.

In the second half of last week’s 22-20 victory over the Saints, Blakshutka and Muhammad combined for 145 yards; the entire New Orleans team had 104.

While the building plan is producing early results, lack of depth remains a potential drawback.

“We’re in a position where we can’t afford a lot of injuries,” Polian said. “It’s going to take time to develop depth in this organization, but that’s certainly to be expected.”

Volunteers Needed

for the NYSP after school program training is Monday, Sept. 16 at 4:30 at the CSC

"Questions?" Call 1-4432

SPORTS

CINEMA AT THE SNITE

presented by Notre Dame Communication and Theatre

"A Must-See For The Whole Family!"
One funny, funny movie!

"A Triumph...Hilarious, Thrilling And Wildly Inviting!"
-Which winning film critics called

"Babe! Is The Rocky Of All Pigs."
A Family Film with Heart.

"A Terrific Family Film!"

A 94. "Babe! Is A Wonderful Film."

FRIDAY SEPT. 13 and SATURDAY SEPT. 14
7:30 and 9:30 PM

http://www.nd.edu/~cothweb/wwnsite.html

"The Shirt '96" LO! & You

Help Lou and the Irish strike fear into the hearts of the Boilermakers by wearing "The Shirt '96". Stand up, show our unity, show our pride. Wear "The Shirt '96" Notre Dame ill win over all!

ON SALE NOW at the Bookstore, LeFortune Information Desk, and Varsity Shop. STUDENTS! Get $4 off "The Shirt '95" with coupon included with your student football tickets.
NFL's basement-dwellers can't climb out of hole

By BARRY WILNER
Associated Press Writer

This year, the NFL's worst franchises of the '90s are perfect. They're 0-8, headed for a winless season. The Bucs, Cardinals and Jets won't all remain winless in 1996. Tampa Bay plays at Arizona on Oct. 20, followed by home games against the Panthers and Falcons. The Jets were next at 32-64. The Bengals, despite having the only winning season of the four (9-7 in 1990) when they won the AFC Central, were the most unproductive at 30-66.

The only other playoff appearance by any of them was in '91, when the Jets made it 3-8-8 and lost in the first round to Houston. The Jets also were 8-8 in '93, and the Cardinals broke even in '94. So there is hope to at least reach mediocrity.

The Bucs and Cardinals are the front office, underachievment and high draft choices this decade. From 1986-95, the Jets were 35-61, the best record of the four, even though they were the NFL's worst team a year ago and might be again this season. The Cardinals and Bucs were next at 32-64.

The staff of Campus Ministry wish the Jewish members of our community A Happy and Healthy 5757

IT'S OUR 3RD ANNIVERSARY
Friday, September 20 • FREE ROSES TO THE FIRST 100 LADIES!
Saturday, September 21 • WIN A DOOR PRIZE!

MICHAEI PACE
Now thru Sept. 5
This L.A. based Comedian is sure to make you laugh.
Catch his hilarious Comedy along with feature act TROY BAXLEY.

BOB CAT GOLDTHWAIT
Sept. 16 & 17
"Special Engagement"
"2 Hours Only!
Comedy and the outstanding Comedy of "Bobcat Goldthwait". He has his own TV Show on "Comedy Central - "Scrooged" and "Shakes The Clown".

AMAZING JONATHAN
Sept. 18 - 22
"Special Engagement"
This Fredo Kroeger from the TV Show "New York Minute" is fast becoming known as the most original and bizarre act to emerge in this era.

DANA GOULD
Sept. 25 - 26
COMING FROM L.A., he has appeared on Conan O'Brien and has written and performed his own Showtime and HBO Special.

FUNNY BONE
AMERICA'S NO. 1 COMEDY NITE CLUB
Group Discounts Available • Call for reservations

Wednesday night is Student ID Night
Bring in ID and receive $3 admission

Call 255-1172
3569 N. Grape Road
(Next Classic Stereo) hours: Mon- Fri: 11-5
Sat: 10-2

Entertainment Electronics Co.
"You break it, we'll fix it!!"

Car & Home Stereo VCRs • TVs • Camcorders CD Players • P Cs

On the occasion of Yom Kippur
The Bengals, Buccaneers, Cardinals and Jets won't all remain winless in 1996. Tampa Bay plays at Arizona on Oct. 20, following by home games against the Panthers and Falcons. The Jets were next at 32-64.

The Bengals, Buccaneers, Cardinals and Jets won't all remain winless in 1996. Tampa Bay plays at Arizona on Oct. 20, following by home games against the Panthers and Falcons. The Jets were next at 32-64.

The Bengals, Buccaneers, Cardinals and Jets won't all remain winless in 1996. Tampa Bay plays at Arizona on Oct. 20, following by home games against the Panthers and Falcons. The Jets were next at 32-64.

The Bengals, Buccaneers, Cardinals and Jets won't all remain winless in 1996. Tampa Bay plays at Arizona on Oct. 20, following by home games against the Panthers and Falcons. The Jets were next at 32-64.

The Bengals, Buccaneers, Cardinals and Jets won't all remain winless in 1996. Tampa Bay plays at Arizona on Oct. 20, following by home games against the Panthers and Falcons. The Jets were next at 32-64.

The Bengals, Buccaneers, Cardinals and Jets won't all remain winless in 1996. Tampa Bay plays at Arizona on Oct. 20, following by home games against the Panthers and Falcons. The Jets were next at 32-64.

The Bengals, Buccaneers, Cardinals and Jets won't all remain winless in 1996. Tampa Bay plays at Arizona on Oct. 20, following by home games against the Panthers and Falcons. The Jets were next at 32-64.

The Bengals, Buccaneers, Cardinals and Jets won't all remain winless in 1996. Tampa Bay plays at Arizona on Oct. 20, following by home games against the Panthers and Falcons. The Jets were next at 32-64.

The Bengals, Buccaneers, Cardinals and Jets won't all remain winless in 1996. Tampa Bay plays at Arizona on Oct. 20, following by home games against the Panthers and Falcons. The Jets were next at 32-64.

The Bengals, Buccaneers, Cardinals and Jets won't all remain winless in 1996. Tampa Bay plays at Arizona on Oct. 20, following by home games against the Panthers and Falcons. The Jets were next at 32-64.

The Bengals, Buccaneers, Cardinals and Jets won't all remain winless in 1996. Tampa Bay plays at Arizona on Oct. 20, following by home games against the Panthers and Falcons. The Jets were next at 32-64.

The Bengals, Buccaneers, Cardinals and Jets won't all remain winless in 1996. Tampa Bay plays at Arizona on Oct. 20, following by home games against the Panthers and Falcons. The Jets were next at 32-64.

The Bengals, Buccaneers, Cardinals and Jets won't all remain winless in 1996. Tampa Bay plays at Arizona on Oct. 20, following by home games against the Panthers and Falcons. The Jets were next at 32-64.

The Bengals, Buccaneers, Cardinals and Jets won't all remain winless in 1996. Tampa Bay plays at Arizona on Oct. 20, following by home games against the Panthers and Falcons. The Jets were next at 32-64.

The Bengals, Buccaneers, Cardinals and Jets won't all remain winless in 1996. Tampa Bay plays at Arizona on Oct. 20, following by home games against the Panthers and Falcons. The Jets were next at 32-64.

The Bengals, Buccaneers, Cardinals and Jets won't all remain winless in 1996. Tampa Bay plays at Arizona on Oct. 20, following by home games against the Panthers and Falcons. The Jets were next at 32-64.

The Bengals, Buccaneers, Cardinals and Jets won't all remain winless in 1996. Tampa Bay plays at Arizona on Oct. 20, following by home games against the Panthers and Falcons. The Jets were next at 32-64.

The Bengals, Buccaneers, Cardinals and Jets won't all remain winless in 1996. Tampa Bay plays at Arizona on Oct. 20, following by home games against the Panthers and Falcons. The Jets were next at 32-64.

The Bengal...
Belle hits No. 45 as Indians crush Angels

CLEVELAND

Jim Thome and Julio Franco each homered twice and Albert Belle hit his 45th homer Thursday night, powering the Cleveland Indians to an 11-2 rout of the California Angels.

The three also connected in succession against Greg Gohr in the seventh inning for the Indians, who completed a four-game sweep and cut their magic number for winning a second straight AL Central title to eight.

Thome hit a pair of two-run homers, and Franco added two solo shots.

Brian Anderson (2-1), acquired from the Angels in February, allowed two runs and four hits over five innings. He is the only left-handed starter to win for the Indians this season.

Kenny Lofton, seeking his fifth straight AL stolen base title, had two more steals raising his season total to 67.

Speed and power gave Cleveland a 3-0 lead in the first inning off Shawn Boskie (12-10).

Lofton led off with an opposite-field single to left, stole second and third and scored as Kevin Seitzer walked on a wild pitch. Thome then drove a 2-1 pitch over the center-field wall for his 34th homer.

Belle's RBI double made it 4-0 in the fourth.

California squeezed out two runs in the fourth. Randy Velarde doubled for the Angels' first hit and advanced on a groundout. Tim Salmon drew a one-out walk and went to second on a single to left by Chili Davis that scored Velarde. Salmon took third on a wild pitch and scored on a groundout.

Seitzer had a two-run single in the fourth and Franco made it 7-2 with his 12th homer in the fifth.

Belle's homer in the seventh inning was his first since Aug. 31.

Other game notes:

Thome's 35 homers are the most by an Indians left-handed hitter since Hal Trosky's 42 in 1936. His 106 RBIs are the most by a Tribe lefty since Vic Wertz's 106 in 1956.

Lofton has had two or more hits in 17 of his last 36 games.

Boskie's last complete game was a 4-3 loss in Cleveland on June 7. California is 1-6 on its 10-game trip.

Over 150,000 Bargain Books.
Molitor swings toward record achievement

Age, injuries not an obstacle for veteran player

BY RON LESKO

MINNEAPOLIS

Paul Molitor doesn't remember when he first started to think 3,000 hits might be possible. He does remember the day he read that his odds of getting there were 1,000-to-1.

"So I quick called Vegas," he joked.

His perseverance is about to pay off.

Overcoming injuries that forced him to miss 592 games during his 19 seasons, Molitor has moved close to a mark reached by just 20 other players.

Molitor had 2,993 hits through Wednesday, putting him in position to reach the milestone only a few miles from his hometown of St. Paul. The Minnesota Twins play at home this weekend against Seattle.

At age 40, the Twins designated hitter is on the verge of playing all 162 games for the first time in his career. That feat, considering how much he'd been hurt in the past, once seemed as unlikely as 3,000 hits.

"It must have been about five years ago, I was reading some publication, and it had listed in there the odds of the current players to get to 3,000," Molitor said. "Robin (Yount) was like 4-to-1 and (George) Brett was like 8-to-1.

I thought I was like 1,000-to-1 — just because of injuries and I was older.

"I don't know how many hits have come in the last five years, but it seems like it's been heavily weighted to the back side."

Unlike so many players who labored to reach statistical plateaus late in their careers, Molitor is swinging his way into history in style.

He didn't get to 2,000 hits until a single off Bret Saberhagen on July 30, 1991. But Molitor went into Thursday night's game against Oakland with 1,123 hits in his last six years, a stretch that has included three of his four 200-hit seasons.

This year, he leads the majors in hits and is on pace to break his personal mark of 216 set in 1991, the second-to-last of his 15 years with the Milwaukee Brewers.

A likely Hall of Famer, he will be remembered as one of the game's greatest hitters no matter where his hit total stands when he retires, probably after next season.

Yet with his place in history secure, Molitor still holds fast to the blue-collar ideals he learned as a kid in St. Paul, where his mother helped instill in him a love and respect for the game that still drives him.

Kathie Molitor died of an asthma attack in 1988 at age 59. She was her son's biggest inspiration, and one of his greatest regrets is that she didn't get to see his final season, which included his MVP performance in Toronto's 1993 World Series victory and his push for 3,000 hits.

"She was a huge baseball fan," Molitor said.

"I often imagine her being a part of seeing some of the things that have happened. She was there in '87 for the (19-game) hitting streak, but she didn't get to see the World Series or me winding down my career. Nothing finds me thinking about, ""probably more than other things."

Like Molitor, St. Paul native Dave Winfield returned home to play for the Twins late in his career and retired hit No. 3,000 at the Metrodome on Sept. 16, 1993.

If Molitor doesn't get there on the current home stand, that's probably the only time that has happened. If he had stayed healthy throughout his career, Molitor might be pushing Hank Aaron (3,771 hits) for third place on the current list.

But he doesn't look back with regrets.

"There's just too many good things to think about what might have been," he said. "To be sitting here and still be playing with some pretty good things going on, you wouldn't generate a lot of sympathy that way."

Paul Molitor

"I think I was like 1,000-to-1 — just because of injuries and I was older.

I think I was like 1,000-to-1, Robin up and everything, I had no chance."

"So I'm sitting in the on-deck circle watching this thing and it's going through Robin's career and I'm getting a little misty. Then all of a sudden it's over and I'm going up to the plate trying to hit. I had no chance."

"There's no passes," Molitor said.

Winfield, who thought briefly about retiring amid a horrendous slump last season, is closely linked to another member of the 3,000-hit club: Yount.

The two were longtime teammates with the Brewers. Molitor played his first major league game — at shortstop to open the 1978 season, only his second year out of the University of Minnesota — when Yount was hurt late in spring training.

Molitor also was in the on-deck circle at Milwaukee's County Stadium when Yount reached 3,000 in 1992.

"The hard part was, after that few minutes of hoisting Robin up and everything, I went back to the on-deck circle and they started playing a video. And I'm not real good with videos," Molitor said.

"So I'm sitting in the on-deck circle watching this thing and it's going through Robin's career and I'm getting a little misty. Then all of a sudden it's over and I'm going up to the plate trying to hit. I had no chance."

"There's no passes," Molitor said.

Winfield, who thought briefly about retiring amid a horrendous slump last season, is closely linked to another member of the 3,000-hit club: Yount.

The two were longtime teammates with the Brewers. Molitor played his first major league game — at shortstop to open the 1978 season, only his second year out of the University of Minnesota — when Yount was hurt late in spring training.

Molitor also was in the on-deck circle at Milwaukee's County Stadium when Yount reached 3,000 in 1992.

"The hard part was, after that few minutes of hoisting Robin up and everything, I went back to the on-deck circle and they started playing a video. And I'm not real good with videos," Molitor said.

"So I'm sitting in the on-deck circle watching this thing and it's going through Robin's career and I'm getting a little misty. Then all of a sudden it's over and I'm going up to the plate trying to hit. I had no chance."

"There's no passes," Molitor said.
Women’s continued from page 32

"I won’t be an impact on the team right away but hopefully by the pre-national meet in October I’ll be able to be a strong contributor to the team."

The Ohio State meet will be a good indicator of where the Irish will finish in conference competition. The Big East is stacked, as four of the top ten teams in the nation are in the conference.

"Our goal is to get fifth in the conference," said Connely. "We have fifteen girls that can contribute to the team, as four of the top ten girls can realistically be in the top seven competitively." Connely has high aspirations for this squad as he predicts a strong performance.

"The meets get progressively tougher as the season moves on and hopefully so will the team."

With two freshmen leading the Irish the team looks to inexperience for leadership. "I think it’s great that Nicole and Joan can come in and make an instant impact," said Long.

"If everything goes as predict­ed, Connely should direct his work to the group of four seniors: Long, Heidi Reichenbach, Emily Dodds, and Michelle Lavigne. Four juniors and a sophomore also contribute to the team as juniors Amanda Enscoe, Janel Seiling, and Gretchen Welther lead the way for the lone sophomore, Kelly Peterson."

Connely has high aspirations for this squad as he predicts a fifth place finish in conference. "Our goal is to win every meet this year," said Connely. "The meet in progressively tougher as the season moves on and hopefully so will the team."

The Irish have high hopes for two other runners: senior Jeff Hojnicki and sophomore Antonee Arco. Hojnicki is making the adjustment from running middle distances for the track team to the longer cross country distances. Arco showed flashes of brilliance last year as a freshman. He was the second Notre Dame runner to finish as the Big East championships, and fourth to finish at the NCAA’s. After last season ended, Arco competed in the World Junior Cross Country Championships in Cape Town, South Africa. Experience may be needed to combat the wealth of talent in the Big East.

"One of the best sports in the Big East is track and cross country," commented Joe Piane. "Four out of the 22 teams at last year’s NCAA championships were from the Big East."

Challenging Piane’s runners will be the usual suspects in the Big East cross country. Providence tied the Irish for eighth place at the NCAA championships last season and won the Big East championship. Georgetown finished just ahead of the Irish last season and right behind the champion Friars.

Villanova should also be in the thick of the race when the Big East championships begin in November in Boston, Massachusetts.

"Boston College and us should be a lot stronger than last year," added Piane.

This weekend the Irish are on the road for its first two meets of the cross country season. Friday the Irish travel to Ohio State to participate in the Buckeye Invitational.

"We won it (Buckeye Invitational) last year and we hope we will do it again," said Piane.

Saturday the Irish travel to Valparaiso to run in the Valorpoisio Invitational.

---

CELEBRATE A FRIEND’S BIRTHDAY WITH A SPECIAL OBSERVER AD.

Refrigerators for Rent

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Size</th>
<th>Price</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>2.5 CU FT</td>
<td>$4500</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4.0 CU FT</td>
<td>$5000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10 CU FT</td>
<td>$9000</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Pick-up and Delivery available

Burns Rent All Inc.

332 W. Mishawaka Ave.

(219) 259-2833

---

Giannetto’s

Fine Italian Foods

Home of the Original Stuffed Pizza

"Offering a wide variety of fine Italian foods and pizza"

Able to accommodate large groups

Lunch Hours:

Tues.-Fri. 11:00 AM-2:00 PM

Dinner Hours:

Tues.-Sat. 4:00 PM-10:00 PM

Located in Gold Plaza

2010 S. 11th, Niles (U.S. 31)

In front of Golden Corral

Carry out available 687-8595

---

House of Francis Icons, Religious Items, Posters

111 E. Navarre St. (behind Kapel Florists)

233-2523

---

Find out more about the Sacrament of Confirmation

Are you a baptized Catholic who has never been Confirmed?

Would you like to prepare for Confirmation with other Notre Dame Students?

It’s a wonderful opportunity to learn and talk about your faith and meet new friends!

For more information call Darrell Paulsen at 631-5242 or stop by the Badin Campus Ministry office

Visit your campus computer store for the best deals on a Mac.
Junior midfielder Scott Wells has the potential to help the Irish offense rack up some points against the Mountaineers of West Virginia this weekend.

Yesterday, September 13, 1996 The Observer •

SPORTS page 27

The Blue and Gold attack has been a source of consistent offense. Last season, the Irish were rated No. 6 in the national poll which has the Irish defense can prove the coach right for a while, but realistically speaking the team is going to need some scorers. Prime candidates include seniors Tony Capasso and Konstantin Koloskov, sophomore Ben Bocklage, and freshman Andrew Aris.

Capasso, after burying a penalty shot against Valparaiso, moved into a tie with Aris for the team lead in goals with two. Koloskov also has a goal to go with his two assists. Bocklage scored what was probably the biggest Irish goal of the season to date, when he cashed in a 35-yard shot to go up 2-1 on St. John’s in overtime.

At this point, the Irish have gained some respect that not many people figured they would, at least not until later in the season. The key for the Notre Dame players now, according to Berticelli, is to remain focused and forget about the polls.

"Take this poll (the latest national poll which has the Irish at No. 24) and throw it away," stated Berticelli. "It doesn’t mean anything right now."

Notre Dame should not have any trouble ignoring the polls. Last year, after starting the season 3-0, with three shutouts, they were ranked No. 6 in the country. After that, the Irish lost four in a row and five of their next seven. This year’s team knows that they have a long road ahead of them.

And with a Big East opponent like West Virginia coming to town, a letdown is not an option.
Volleyball
continued from page 32

The Observer • SPORTS
Friday, September 13, 1996

NO's schedule has not allowed the team any time to recover, much less catch their breath, as they have had a very busy itinerary. The Joyce Center has hosted seven Irish matches over a span of nine days from August 30 to September 7.

Although the Irish have legitimate excuses with their injuries they refuse to dwell on things out of their control.

"It has obviously been very hard on us, but I have to give the team a lot of credit," Brown assessed. "They haven't used the injuries as excuses and we're just trying to make the best out of the circumstances."

"The injuries have definitely changed the chemistry," sophomore blocker Lindsay Treadwell expressed. "But, everyone is doing their job and accepting their new roles."

This weekend the Irish will face a new challenge mixed with the same old challenges as their schedule refuses to let up. The Domers will leave the Joyce for the first time this weekend as they travel to Chicago for the very competitive and prestigious Mizuno USA Cup. The field is comprised of No 5 Washington State, No 6 Penn State and the Clemson Tigers who return four starters from their 23-10 team from a year ago.

All matches are played at Mother McAuley High School. Semifinals are held tonight with the championship and consolation matches will be played Saturday.

"This tournament is always very good, usually at least three or four of the teams are ranked," stated Brown. "It is always a great event, they pack the stands. The Chicago area has a good volleyball base and a lot of kids come to watch who may have dreams of playing college volleyball."

Tonight they will tangle with the Nittany Lions who have dominated the series over the Irish 7-1. Penn State ended three seasons for the Irish as three of those wins came in the NCAA tournament between 1992-94. So, PSU has a special place in the hearts of the home team.

"Playing them is a big deal because they knocked us out of the tournament," Treadwell stated. "Inside I think it is a grudge match."

Brown explains what usually makes the Lions so tough, "They make you earn your points. They keep the ball in play and let you make the mistakes."

Brown's squad is 0-2 against ranked opponents this season, but they have remained positive and realize the season is still in its early stages.

"We just put things in perspective," Brown said. "Winning or losing is not measured, we need to learn from our past matches and go from there."

Brown echoed Brown's comments, "It is important for us to play well. We need to just worry about ourselves and continue to improve as a team."

So, what does the team need to do differently in order to overcome a highly-ranked team?

Brown looks to the offense to answer this question.

"In the Stanford and Louisville matches our offense was not real good. We can do much better. We relied on our blocking and defense too much. We have been working on our transition offense."

"We need to stay together and have better communication, especially with all the changes in the lineup," expressed Brown.

"The losses do make a difference because we know that we have to step it up a level and keep improving our play," Treadwell said.

The Notre Dame volleyball team, despite all their injuries and obstacles, knows exactly what it needs to do to overcome it's next challenge, Penn State. The only thing that remains to be seen is if the Irish can do it.

Junior outside hitter Jamie Lee, freshman middle blocker Mary Leffers, and senior middle blocker Jen Briggs all must help the 8th-ranked Irish overcome injuries this weekend.

■ SPORTS BRIEFS

Volleyball Tournament - RecSports will be sponsoring a one night tournament on September 19 at Stepan Courts. For more information, contact RecSports by Wednesday, September 18.

Field Hockey - Anyone interested in field hockey, meet at the field across from Stepan Center, Thursday, September 12 at 6 p.m. Call Christy Shannon at 273-2580 or Megan Kennedy at 243-9476 with questions.

Challenge U Fitness - Some classes are still open. Please call RecSports for details. If you are not able to attend for any reason, please contact the RecSports office so that we may give the spot to someone else.

Blood Pressure & Body Composition - Testing will be done on Thursday, September 12, from 11:30 - 1 p.m., in the Foster Room, LaFortune. If you cannot get there, contact Jennie Phillips at 4-5965 to set up.

WEEKDAY SPECIALS
Monday: NFL 7 p.m. to 1 a.m. 25¢ wings!
Tuesday: All Day 20¢ wings!
Wednesday: All Day 50¢ legs!
Thursday: 8 p.m. to 1 a.m. 12 wings and regular buffalo chips $3.50
Friday: 8 p.m. to 1 a.m. Burger and Buffalo Chips $2.50

Always your favorite game on 20 TVs! Up to 6 NFL and college games!

TAILGATE SPECIAL
100 Wings - up to 4 sauces
2 Baskets Onion Rings
2 Baskets Buffalo Chips
$29.95

ND GAME DAY ONLY!

Make Damon's Part of Your Game Plan
Score big this fall at Damon's. Catch all the action on our large screen TVs and enjoy great food, fun and entertainment at a Damon's Clubhouse near you!

Join Damon's & Woody from WAOR for a Tailgate Party
Saturday, September 14th 11:30 a.m.
Damon's Clubhouse
52865 US 31/North
272-5478
VanLaecke leads second-half rally against Spartans

By KATHLEEN LOPEZ
Sports Writer

Last night the women's soccer team encountered their first test of the year. After easily handling the No. 13 Wisconsin Badgers and the No. 14 Washington Huskies, the Irish headed north yesterday to take on the unranked Michigan State Spartans. Despite being down by two in the second half, the Irish rallied to victory, 5-3.

"Things were not working out for us," said sophomore Monica Gerardo. "We just were not playing our game." Senior Amy VanLaecke answered back ten minutes later when she dribbled sophomore Holly Munster's pass into the back of the net. Twenty minutes later, freshman Jenn Grubb sent a direct kick sailing into the goal box. Then sophomore Shannon Boxx headed the ball into the net to tie the game at the 75-minute mark.

Then senior Cindy Daws quickly took a direct kick and sailed it twenty yards into the back of the net. This gave the Irish the lead, 4-3. VanLaecke sealed the victory with three minutes left in the game. The Irish rallied to defeat the Spartans, 5-3.

Gerardo had this to say about VanLaecke's two goal effort, "She did really well, and put away all her chances." In the first half, Michigan State's Becky Ketola split two defenders and shot the ball past goaliekeeper Jen Renola. Grubb quickly answered that goal with one of her own. She launched a free kick into the left corner of the net, from about 25 yards out.

"It wasn't so much that they surprised us," responded Sobrero about MSU's play. "It was that we could not get anything to go our way.

This victory secured the squad's winning streak at sixteen, and they have also won nine road games in a row. The Irish have not lost to a Big Ten team since 1989 when they suffered a loss to Michigan State, 3-0. The Irish are back at home this weekend, as they take on the unranked Indiana Hoosiers at 1 p.m. at Alumni Field. "Indiana is a strong and physical team," said Sobrero. "We are going to have to come out quick in order to the result we want."
Dear Alumni & Friends,

The staff of Campus Ministry extends an invitation to come together and celebrate the Eucharist this weekend.

Purdue University Football Weekend
September 14 and 15, 1996

Saturday Vigil Masses

Basilica
30 minutes after game

Stepan Center
45 minutes after game

Sunday Masses

Basilica
8:00, 10:00 & 11:45 a.m.

Sacred Heart
Parish Crypt
6:00, 7:00, 8:00, 9:30 & 11:00 a.m.
HAPPY BIRTHDAY IN THE NEXT YEAR OF YOUR LIFE: Changing your birthday to 27 N o n e t 22 31 " D o u b l e" or Hip h u g g e ? Certain denim is 19 Villainous sort is 11 Big East s ISIS B Y|E|Ol M O T H E R  G O O S E & GRIMM MIKE PETERS i E q u i v a l e n t Friday, September 13, 1996 T he Observer • page 31

Published Monday through Friday, The Observer is a vital source of information on people and events in Notre Dame and Saint Mary’s Community.

Join the more than 13,000 readers who have found The Observer an indispensable link to the two campuses. Please complete the accompanying form and mail it today to receive The Observer in your home.

Make checks payable to: The Observer and mail to: The Observer
P.O. Box Q
Notre Dame, IN 46556

[Answers to previous crossword puzzle]

YOUR HOROSCOPE

JEANE DIXON

HAPPY BIRTHDAY IN THE NEXT YEAR OF YOUR LIFE: Changing your birthday to 27 N o n e t 22 31 " D o u b l e" or Hip h u g g e ? Certain denim is 19 Villainous sort is 11 Big East s ISIS B Y|E|Ol M O T H E R  G O O S E & GRIMM MIKE PETERS i E q u i v a l e n t Friday, September 13, 1996 T he Observer • page 31

Published Monday through Friday, The Observer is a vital source of information on people and events in Notre Dame and Saint Mary’s Community.

Join the more than 13,000 readers who have found The Observer an indispensable link to the two campuses. Please complete the accompanying form and mail it today to receive The Observer in your home.
Injuries..Hah!

Variety of challenges can’t faze No. 8 Irish
By JOE CAVATO
Sports Writer
The Notre Dame women’s volleyball team has already faced a fair share of challenges in this still young season. The eighth-ranked Irish have battled through two tournaments, winning one, and have suffered two heartbreaking losses to top-twenty competition, No. 2 Stanford and No. 19 Louisville. They currently stand at 5-2 which is quite an accomplishment considering their numerous injuries thus far.

Junior setter Carey May has been sidelined with a dislocated shoulder for a couple of weeks before the first match. Then senior outside hitter Kristina Irvin sprained her ankle in the first match, and is playing through it as she is not quite at 100% yet. In addition, outside hitter Angie Harris is still not at her peak as she recovers from off-season knee surgery.

The hits just kept on coming for Debbie Brown’s squad as fill-in setter Jaimie Lee broke her nose before the Stanford match a week and a half ago. Lee collided with middle blocker Jennifer House, and will be forced to wear a mask for about a month.

Lee played with the fractured nose in all four matches before she finally had surgery this past Monday. She has missed most of practice this week but practiced yesterday in preparation for the weekend. Freshman Lauren Settim has practiced at setter in Lee’s absence.

The Notre Dame women’s volleyball team has already faced a fair share of challenges in this still young season. The eighth-ranked Irish have battled through two tournaments, winning one, and have suffered two heartbreaking losses to top-twenty competition, No. 2 Stanford and No. 19 Louisville. They currently stand at 5-2 which is quite an accomplishment considering their numerous injuries thus far.

Junior setter Carey May has been sidelined with a dislocated shoulder for a couple of weeks before the first match. Then senior outside hitter Kristina Irvin sprained her ankle in the first match, and is playing through it as she is not quite at 100% yet. In addition, outside hitter Angie Harris is still not at her peak as she recovers from off-season knee surgery.

The hits just kept on coming for Debbie Brown’s squad as fill-in setter Jaimie Lee broke her nose before the Stanford match a week and a half ago. Lee collided with middle blocker Jennifer House, and will be forced to wear a mask for about a month.

Lee played with the fractured nose in all four matches before she finally had surgery this past Monday. She has missed most of practice this week but practiced yesterday in preparation for the weekend. Freshman Lauren Settim has practiced at setter in Lee’s absence.

Women aim for NCAA appearance
Ohio State meet could set tone for rest of season
By MARIO ARCE
Sports Writer
The 1996 women’s cross country team looks to make their second appearance at the NCAA championships in November if all goes as predicted by ninth-year coach Tim Connely.

“A top three finish at the district meet in Illinois would take us to nationals in Arizona,” said Connely. “It’s a goal well within our reach.”

The Irish women will compete in their first competition Friday in a six-team meet at Ohio state. The date should not bring forth any bad luck though as a year ago the Irish placed all five of their scoring runners in the top 15. “I really don’t know what to expect from this first meet,” Connely said. “Our goal is to win, and I would be real disappointed if we didn’t score somewhere around 20 points.”

The Irish lost three of its top seven runners to graduation as they finished a disappointing seventh in their debut campaign in the Big East conference. Although losing their top three athletes, the Irish should have immediate impact from this first meet, and could set the tone for rest of season as they aim to make their second appearance at nationals. The eighth-ranked Irish have battled through two tournaments, winning one, and have suffered two heartbreaking losses to top-twenty competition, No. 2 Stanford and No. 19 Louisville. They currently stand at 5-2 which is quite an accomplishment considering their numerous injuries thus far.

Junior setter Carey May has been sidelined with a dislocated shoulder for a couple of weeks before the first match. Then senior outside hitter Kristina Irvin sprained her ankle in the first match, and is playing through it as she is not quite at 100% yet. In addition, outside hitter Angie Harris is still not at her peak as she recovers from off-season knee surgery.

The hits just kept on coming for Debbie Brown’s squad as fill-in setter Jaimie Lee broke her nose before the Stanford match a week and a half ago. Lee collided with middle blocker Jennifer House, and will be forced to wear a mask for about a month.

Lee played with the fractured nose in all four matches before she finally had surgery this past Monday. She has missed most of practice this week but practiced yesterday in preparation for the weekend. Freshman Lauren Settim has practiced at setter in Lee’s absence.

Senior Carolyn Long assumes captain duties for the squad as she leads the young Irish with her running maturity and experience being the only runner who has competed in NCAA competition. Long suffered a stress fracture early in the 1995 outdoor season that sidelined her until mid-July. "I didn’t have as good of a summer training season as I would have liked,” said Long.

Women aim for NCAA appearance
Ohio State meet could set tone for rest of season
By MARIO ARCE
Sports Writer
The 1996 women’s cross country team looks to make their second appearance at the NCAA championships in November if all goes as predicted by ninth-year coach Tim Connely.

“A top three finish at the district meet in Illinois would take us to nationals in Arizona,” said Connely. “It’s a goal well within our reach.”

The Irish women will compete in their first competition Friday in a six-team meet at Ohio state. The date should not bring forth any bad luck though as a year ago the Irish placed all five of their scoring runners in the top 15. “I really don’t know what to expect from this first meet,” Connely said. “Our goal is to win, and I would be real disappointed if we didn’t score somewhere around 20 points.”

The Irish lost three of its top seven runners to graduation as they finished a disappointing seventh in their debut campaign in the Big East conference. Although losing their top three athletes, the Irish should have immediate impact from this first meet, and could set the tone for rest of season as they aim to make their second appearance at nationals. The eighth-ranked Irish have battled through two tournaments, winning one, and have suffered two heartbreaking losses to top-twenty competition, No. 2 Stanford and No. 19 Louisville. They currently stand at 5-2 which is quite an accomplishment considering their numerous injuries thus far.

Junior setter Carey May has been sidelined with a dislocated shoulder for a couple of weeks before the first match. Then senior outside hitter Kristina Irvin sprained her ankle in the first match, and is playing through it as she is not quite at 100% yet. In addition, outside hitter Angie Harris is still not at her peak as she recovers from off-season knee surgery.

The hits just kept on coming for Debbie Brown’s squad as fill-in setter Jaimie Lee broke her nose before the Stanford match a week and a half ago. Lee collided with middle blocker Jennifer House, and will be forced to wear a mask for about a month.

Lee played with the fractured nose in all four matches before she finally had surgery this past Monday. She has missed most of practice this week but practiced yesterday in preparation for the weekend. Freshman Lauren Settim has practiced at setter in Lee’s absence.

Senior Carolyn Long assumes captain duties for the squad as she leads the young Irish with her running maturity and experience being the only runner who has competed in NCAA competition. Long suffered a stress fracture early in the 1995 outdoor season that sidelined her until mid-July. "I didn’t have as good of a summer training season as I would have liked,” said Long.

Women aim for NCAA appearance
Ohio State meet could set tone for rest of season
By MARIO ARCE
Sports Writer
The 1996 women’s cross country team looks to make their second appearance at the NCAA championships in November if all goes as predicted by ninth-year coach Tim Connely.

“A top three finish at the district meet in Illinois would take us to nationals in Arizona,” said Connely. “It’s a goal well within our reach.”

The Irish women will compete in their first competition Friday in a six-team meet at Ohio state. The date should not bring forth any bad luck though as a year ago the Irish placed all five of their scoring runners in the top 15. “I really don’t know what to expect from this first meet,” Connely said. “Our goal is to win, and I would be real disappointed if we didn’t score somewhere around 20 points.”

The Irish lost three of its top seven runners to graduation as they finished a disappointing seventh in their debut campaign in the Big East conference. Although losing their top three athletes, the Irish should have immediate impact from this first meet, and could set the tone for rest of season as they aim to make their second appearance at nationals. The eighth-ranked Irish have battled through two tournaments, winning one, and have suffered two heartbreaking losses to top-twenty competition, No. 2 Stanford and No. 19 Louisville. They currently stand at 5-2 which is quite an accomplishment considering their numerous injuries thus far.

Junior setter Carey May has been sidelined with a dislocated shoulder for a couple of weeks before the first match. Then senior outside hitter Kristina Irvin sprained her ankle in the first match, and is playing through it as she is not quite at 100% yet. In addition, outside hitter Angie Harris is still not at her peak as she recovers from off-season knee surgery.

The hits just kept on coming for Debbie Brown’s squad as fill-in setter Jaimie Lee broke her nose before the Stanford match a week and a half ago. Lee collided with middle blocker Jennifer House, and will be forced to wear a mask for about a month.

Lee played with the fractured nose in all four matches before she finally had surgery this past Monday. She has missed most of practice this week but practiced yesterday in preparation for the weekend. Freshman Lauren Settim has practiced at setter in Lee’s absence.

Senior Carolyn Long assumes captain duties for the squad as she leads the young Irish with her running maturity and experience being the only runner who has competed in NCAA competition. Long suffered a stress fracture early in the 1995 outdoor season that sidelined her until mid-July. "I didn’t have as good of a summer training season as I would have liked,” said Long.