Stanford apologizes to ND for band performance

Stanford's band (above) gave a performance on Oct. 4 that outraged many Catholics and people of Irish descent. The band has a reputation for controversy, and was barred from Notre Dame's campus in 1991.

By HEATHER COCKS
News Editor

Stanford University issued a formal apology to Notre Dame for the content of its marching band's pre-game and halftime shows, performed at the Oct. 4 football game. University President Father Edward Malloy said yesterday.

During the program that sparked the controversy, Irish people were referred to as 'slinking drunks,' while the band parodied the Irish potato famine and staged a debate between the devil and a Catholic 'Cardinal.' 'Our students should know better than to insult others' religion and heritage,' Stanford University President Gerhard Casper wrote Monday to Malloy.

"The band's purported satire was uncivil and improper.'

The work of an artist...

Two artists, Susan Bradt and Charles Johnson, will be bringing their work to Saint Mary's College to post-college, setting up in the state of Indiana.

By MELANIE GARMAN
Assistant News Editor

The work of an artist...

Students use fall break in the service of others

By SARAH HANSEN
News Writer

Early Sunday morning, 203 Notre Dame students will board over 20 buses on route to earning one credit in total sites.

Three fall service projects are offered by the University this year, each one allowing students to visit Appalachia, Washington, D.C., and Chicago for a hands-on education in serving others.

This year 165 students will partake within the program, students are given the opportunity to learn about the environmental issues within the region, while pre-med students focus on rural health care.

At many sites, Notre Dame alumni will accompany students over the break. The students and alumni plan to work side by side in an effort to make the greatest impact on their site in the smallest amount of time.

Students involved in the Washington Seminar expect to learn about environmental concerns in the District of Columbia. The 24 participants plan to meet with governmental and religious agencies in an effort to gain a deeper understanding of the various points of view regarding the environment.

George Howard, author of a recently released book on Ecological Psychology, spoke to the group as part of the orientation session, offering one of the many views of the environment they hope to encounter over the week.

Upon their return to campus, the participating Washington Seminar will meet with campus environmental groups for collaborative discussion and planning.

Fourteen Notre Dame students will witness diversity through work with the Urban Life Center in Chicago as part of the Washington Seminar.

LONI grant helps recruit Latinas, small town residents

By MELANIE GARMAN
Assistant News Editor

The Observer/Laura Giuliani

Increasing the number of Indiana students attending college, especially Saint Mary's, is the goal of the newly founded Leaders of New Indiana (LONI) program.

The program, which is supported by the Lilly Endowment, supports the leadership development and education of both Latina students and students from communities smaller than 25,000 people in the state of Indiana.

Each of the 18 private colleges which are participating in the LONI program were given a variety of options on the focus of their individual programs. Saint Mary's decided to cover the entire spectrum from pre-college to post-college, setting up events to entire high school students to attend Saint Mary's, as well as continuing on in their career in the state of Indiana.

"We decided that by starting early in the high schools, it would allow these students to have a chance to visit Saint Mary's knowing that there is additional help offered to them through the LONI program," said Mary Pat Nowak, director of admission.

Beginning in their sophomores, juniors and seniors of high school, students eligible for the LONI program are invited to the summer Leadership and Community Development Academy, which is staffed on campus by Saint Mary's faculty, administration, and students.

During this week, students experience intense leadership challenges that will benefit them not only in the present, but in their future educational and career-oriented decisions.

"We worked with students on issues and ways to exercise leadership, college placement, self-esteem and ways to meet the physical challenges needed to succeed," said Patrick White, associate dean of faculty, who served as co-director of the academy this summer with Georganna Rosenbush.

"We emphasized collaborative leadership which is needed in the real world," White added.

The second phase of the program offers a $3,500 grant to those students who demonstrate financial need after admission to Saint Mary's. Students are still eligible to be a participant in the LONI project and any of its programs, even if they do not qualify for the LONI grant.

In its first year, Saint Mary's gave out 33 grants to students who qualified and the college hopes to double that number by next year.

see LONI | page 4

Stanford apologizes to ND for band performance

Stanford's band (above) gave a performance on Oct. 4 that outraged many Catholics and people of Irish descent. The band has a reputation for controversy, and was barred from Notre Dame's campus in 1991.

By HEATHER COCKS
News Editor

Stanford University issued a formal apology to Notre Dame for the content of its marching band's pre-game and halftime shows, performed at the Oct. 4 football game. University President Father Edward Malloy said yesterday.

During the program that sparked the controversy, Irish people were referred to as 'slinking drunks,' while the band parodied the Irish potato famine and staged a debate between the devil and a Catholic 'Cardinal.' 'Our students should know better than to insult others' religion and heritage.'

The band's purported satire was uncivil and improper.'

The work of an artist...

Two artists, Susan Bradt and Charles Johnson, will be bringing their work to Saint Mary's College to post-college, setting up in the state of Indiana.

By MELANIE GARMAN
Assistant News Editor

The work of an artist...

Students use fall break in the service of others

By SARAH HANSEN
News Writer

Early Sunday morning, 203 Notre Dame students will board over 20 buses on route to earning one credit in total sites.

Three fall service projects are offered by the University this year, each one allowing students to visit Appalachia, Washington, D.C., and Chicago for a hands-on education in serving others.

This year 165 students will partake within the program, students are given the opportunity to learn about the environmental issues within the region, while pre-med students focus on rural health care.

At many sites, Notre Dame alumni will accompany students over the break. The students and alumni plan to work side by side in an effort to make the greatest impact on their site in the smallest amount of time.

Students involved in the Washington Seminar expect to learn about environmental concerns in the District of Columbia. The 24 participants plan to meet with governmental and religious agencies in an effort to gain a deeper understanding of the various points of view regarding the environment.

George Howard, author of a recently released book on Ecological Psychology, spoke to the group as part of the orientation session, offering one of the many views of the environment they hope to encounter over the week.

Upon their return to campus, the participating Washington Seminar will meet with campus environmental groups for collaborative discussion and planning.

Fourteen Notre Dame students will witness diversity through work with the Urban Life Center in Chicago as part of the Washington Seminar.

LONI grant helps recruit Latinas, small town residents

By MELANIE GARMAN
Assistant News Editor

The Observer/Laura Giuliani

Increasing the number of Indiana students attending college, especially Saint Mary's, is the goal of the newly founded Leaders of New Indiana (LONI) program.

The program, which is supported by the Lilly Endowment, supports the leadership development and education of both Latina students and students from communities smaller than 25,000 people in the state of Indiana.

Each of the 18 private colleges which are participating in the LONI program were given a variety of options on the focus of their individual programs. Saint Mary's decided to cover the entire spectrum from pre-college to post-college, setting up events to entire high school students to attend Saint Mary's, as well as continuing on in their career in the state of Indiana.

"We decided that by starting early in the high schools, it would allow these students to have a chance to visit Saint Mary's knowing that there is additional help offered to them through the LONI program," said Mary Pat Nowak, director of admission.

Beginning in their sophomores, juniors and seniors of high school, students eligible for the LONI program are invited to the summer Leadership and Community Development Academy, which is staffed on campus by Saint Mary's faculty, administration, and students.

During this week, students experience intense leadership challenges that will benefit them not only in the present, but in their future educational and career-oriented decisions.

"We worked with students on issues and ways to exercise leadership, college placement, self-esteem and ways to meet the physical challenges needed to succeed," said Patrick White, associate dean of faculty, who served as co-director of the academy this summer with Georganna Rosenbush.

"We emphasized collaborative leadership which is needed in the real world," White added.

The second phase of the program offers a $3,500 grant to those students who demonstrate financial need after admission to Saint Mary's. Students are still eligible to be a participant in the LONI project and any of its programs, even if they do not qualify for the LONI grant.

In its first year, Saint Mary's gave out 33 grants to students who qualified and the college hopes to double that number by next year.

see LONI | page 4
Think tank report reaffirms U.S. military dominance

LONDON
Regional conflicts show little sign of winding down, the think tank said Tuesday. The think tank said Tuesday. It is also "considerable concern" about nuclear, biological and chemical weapons, the International Institute for Strategic Studies said in its study, "The Military Balance 1997-98." A special focus of that concern is that which has defined U.N. resolutions to disclose details of its nuclear and biological weapons programs, the institute said.

The annual assessment of military capabilities and defense spending in 169 countries concluded that preventing or controlling civil wars was becoming more difficult. Several observers suggested that the U.S. was growing more concerned about the potential for conflict in countries that have economic strife that was encountered, can be a source of instability for the U.S.

HASSAHI, Brazil
Avoid distractions from home, President Clinton tried to smooth over misunderstandings about U.S. views on trade in Latin America in Brazil. "We apologize to Brazil for a U.S. govern­ment slight. "The document was wrong," Clinton said of a U.S. embassy commercial guide that outraged Brazilians by asserting corruption was endemic here. "And it represented an appalling error of judgment."

The president said referring to the alliance of Brazil, Argentina, Paraguay and Uruguay. "We can create a free-trade area of Americas consistent with Mercosur, but we need investment and economic ties that will benefit Brazil, the Argentineans, the other members of Mercosur and the U.S."

"On a hot, sunny day, Clinton spoke at a news conference with President Fernando Henrique Cardoso in the Alvarado Palace garden where everyone was enjoying a light meal." Scientists: Garlic wards off infections

JERUSALEM

Israeli researchers announced today that they have found additional evidence for what grandmothers have known all along: eating plenty of garlic wards off infections. Scientists at the Weizman Institute of Science in Rehovot said they have isolated large quantities of alllicin's main biologically active ingredient. The researchers found, through numerous tests, that allicin can disable infection-causing viruses in test tubes. "We are now checking it on different kinds of cells," said Meir Wilbick of the institute's Biological Chemistry Department. Wilbick said the group is interested in using garlic to fight infectious disease-causing organisms, garlic may become the "foundation of the future of medicine," and that it may become resistant to currently known antibiotics such as penicillin and amoxicillin.

One doctor, however, said more tests are needed. "This is an interesting preliminary finding, but it needs to be taken further," said Dr. Eliot Berry of Hadassah Hospital. Berry urged caution in further predictions before more-complete research is done.

Clayton apologizes to Brazilians

BERLIN

An African law student fired by a Berlin luxury hotel because his cornrowed hair did not conform to an "average" European style is demanding an apology, his lawyer said Tuesday. The young man from Senegal, who has been fired from his job as a receptionist at the Hotel Adlon in June. He was let go on the second day, how­ever, because his braided hair did not conform with the international hotel's standards, his lawyer Hans-Joachim Jungbluth. Jungbluth notified the woman's lawyer, Martin Pouli, that the hotel's requirements included an "average middle-European haircut and style." Pouli called the phrase racist. Jungbluth said it "was legal language taken from the hotel's rules list and had nothing to do with race. "If a German with light skin had the same hairstyle, she couldn’t have continued to work there either," he said. Hotel manager Jean van Daelen's office referred calls to their lawyer. But he told the Tagesspiegel newspaper last week that the woman's rejection had nothing to do with her national origin. "It was an employee overreacted in the hotel's opening phase, but in any case it was not meant person­ally," he said. Pouli said his client wanted "an apology first of all" and $571 for the last day's wages. Jungbluth said he would not consider apologizing because the hotel had done nothing wrong.

Harsho, Gaolob win 'Star Wars'

NEW YORK

Harsho Inc. and Gaolob Toys Inc. — the No. 2 and No. 3 U.S. toymakers — won the rights to produce toys for the three new Star Wars movies Tuesday in a deal analysts called the biggest toy licensing agreement ever. While both companies declined to disclose terms of the agreement, Star Wars creator George Lucas has been seeking a license to date, with millions of dollars in revenues each year. Harsho and Gaolob stock to the films’ producers at an attractive price. “Star Wars is the biggest success story in the toy industry,” said Frank Reynolds, editor of Playthings magazine. “A New York-based trade publication. “Since the original movie was released a quarter century ago, the fans are passionate about the films. The fans are passionate about the films.” Analysts called the biggest toy licensing agreement ever. While both companies declined to disclose terms of the agreement, Star Wars creator George Lucas has been seeking a license to date, with millions of dollars in revenues each year. Harsho and Gaolob stock to the films’ producers at an attractive price. “Star Wars is the biggest success story in the toy industry,” said Frank Reynolds, editor of Playthings magazine. “A New York-based trade publication. “Since the original movie was released a quarter century ago, the fans are passionate about the films.”

The views expressed in the Inside Column are those of the author and not necessarily those of The Observer.

The Observer • INSIDE

Tuesday, October 15, 1997

Do n't V olunteer

Well, fall has arrived, bell week is in effect, past, and many of you are looking forward to settling into life here in South Bend with welcome relief. McNamara is over, but life for all of us can sometimes be a lot more free on our own hands. So, what pray tell, do we do to fill the void of extracurricular activities? Watch TV. Get drunk and have fun? Study? Well, I can tell you one thing that you would not do under ANY CIRCUMSTANCES:

Volunteer.

You should not, don’t volunteer. I cannot think of a more deleterious waste of time in the world than some random stranger who probably deserves whatever economy of the world, been homeless, can have his or her hardships worked out for free.

You need to work on your resume! In a word, internships. After all, I think I speak for everybody when I say that I didn’t get into college by helping little old women across the street. The underprivileged cannot get a job after college, you better making connections that you will never be able to use in the end.

Your time is valuable. You need to study. You need to spend hours thinking about this world you have been put on. Maybe you will watch 90210 reruns. What you don’t need to do, however, is volunteer. Why? Because the situation is a lot worse. You can have your time back. Free now? You, Notre Dame Community, are beginning to settle -----------------------------
Artists' works come to Moreau

By ARIANN BUTLER

Moreau Galleries at Saint Mary's College will display the works of Susan Brandt and Charles Johnson until Nov. 7.

According to Brandt, her work combines the "feminine virtue of quilt making with materials of questionable virtue."

Her quilts are made from scrap materials that balance conceptual ideas with craft. She claims that she challenges the established definitions of domesticity, femininity, and quilt making in relation to "high" art.

"Her work actually and most importantly acknowledges women's historical and contemporary roles as producers of meaning, not just makers of quilts," said Alison Ferris, curator of the John Michael Kohler Art Center.

Brandt, an instructor at Adirondack Community College in New York, holds a masters in fine art degree from The School of Art Institute of Chicago. She obtained her bachelor's degree from Philadelphia College of Art.

Her work has been exhibited in New York, Wisconsin, North Carolina, New Jersey and Minnesota. Brandt has received grants from the New York Foundation for the Arts and Art's Space.

Johnson's work centers on the idea that "humans are a part of the natural environment and must coexist with the rest of nature."

He incorporates realistically rendered endangered animals and architectural structures into the style of ceramic totems. The animals are presented in a rough and organic fashion that contrasts the hard-edged linear portions of the building, which are primarily Medieval churches and ancient structures. These contrasts emphasize the "temporary and vulnerable quality" of the animals.

In the future, Johnson said he plans to "push the dialogue of stacked objects even further" in his series of endangered animals. He also hopes to incorporate a "series of multiple-part wall pieces" into public places.

Johnson is an assistant professor of art at Edinboro University of Pennsylvania. He has been awarded an individual Artist's Grant from the Wisconsin Arts Board as well as an ArtMediaResidency in Boston from the John Michael Kohler Art Center.

Most recently his work has been exhibited at the University of Kansas, the University of Nevada, and the University of North Texas. He holds a masters in fine arts and a masters in art from the University of Wisconsin-Madison, where he also obtained his bachelor's degree.

Brandt and Johnson opened their exhibits last Friday with a reception and a lecture by Johnson on his pieces.

The Moreau Galleries are open to the public Tuesday through Friday, 10 a.m. to 12 p.m. and 1 p.m. to 4 p.m., Saturday, 10 a.m. to 12 p.m. and Sunday, 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. or by special appointment.

---

Fitzgibbon takes the reins, makes plans

The host family program matches Notre Dame's international students with local families to promote and introduce American community relations into the lives of the international students.

Also on Fitzgibbon's agenda is the institution of a field trip program, allowing international students to expand their view of the United States by visiting other portions of the country.

Fitzgibbon began her career at the University of Iowa, serving as an international student and scholar advisor from 1984-87.

She graduated from the University of Iowa with a bachelor's degree in English in 1980 and received a master's degree in student development in post-secondary education in 1996.

Prior to serving at Notre Dame, Fitzgibbon spent 10 years at Grinnell College in Iowa as the director of international student services and the assistant director of admissions, coordinator of international admissions and assistant director of off-campus studies.

Fitzgibbon replaces Arthur Grubert, who recently was appointed director of international education relations and student visas.

---

Recycle The Observer — or else!

---

Midnight Madness

Irish Style

Fri., Oct. 17 11:00pm

Giveaways Including:

Season Tickets

10 Roundtrip Airfares

ND T-shirts to

First 1,000 Fans

Free admission to all Joyce Center

---

Fitzgibbon takes the reins, makes plans

Director chosen for international student affairs

By ANNE HOSINSKI

New cultural and educational experiences are on the horizon for Notre Dame's international students, according to Maureen Fitzgibbon, the newly appointed director of international student affairs.

"Our international students are here for more than just the education. They have a strong desire to experience the culture of America as well," she said.

Fitzgibbon plans on instituting a language exchange program between international and American students, in which both groups of students can share experiences with one another related to their respective cultures.

"My hope is to enhance the support service for international students through the expansion of the host family program," commented Fitzgibbon.

---

Think of us as your school bus!

---

United Limo to the Chicago Airports

United Limo to the Chicago Airports

United Limo to the Chicago Airports

United Limo to the Chicago Airports

---

Think of us as your school bus!

---

Fitzgibbon takes the reins, makes plans

Director chosen for international student affairs

By ANNE HOSINSKI

New cultural and educational experiences are on the horizon for Notre Dame's international students, according to Maureen Fitzgibbon, the newly appointed director of international student affairs.

"Our international students are here for more than just the education. They have a strong desire to experience the culture of America as well," she said.

Fitzgibbon plans on instituting a language exchange program between international and American students, in which both groups of students can share experiences with one another related to their respective cultures. .

"My hope is to enhance the support service for international students through the expansion of the host family program," commented Fitzgibbon.

---

Think of us as your school bus!

---

United Limo to the Chicago Airports

United Limo to the Chicago Airports

United Limo to the Chicago Airports

---

Think of us as your school bus!

---

Fitzgibbon takes the reins, makes plans

Director chosen for international student affairs

By ANNE HOSINSKI

New cultural and educational experiences are on the horizon for Notre Dame's international students, according to Maureen Fitzgibbon, the newly appointed director of international student affairs.

"Our international students are here for more than just the education. They have a strong desire to experience the culture of America as well," she said.

Fitzgibbon plans on instituting a language exchange program between international and American students, in which both groups of students can share experiences with one another related to their respective cultures. .

"My hope is to enhance the support service for international students through the expansion of the host family program," commented Fitzgibbon.

---

Think of us as your school bus!

---

United Limo to the Chicago Airports

United Limo to the Chicago Airports

United Limo to the Chicago Airports

---

Think of us as your school bus!

---

Fitzgibbon takes the reins, makes plans

Director chosen for international student affairs

By ANNE HOSINSKI

New cultural and educational experiences are on the horizon for Notre Dame's international students, according to Maureen Fitzgibbon, the newly appointed director of international student affairs.

"Our international students are here for more than just the education. They have a strong desire to experience the culture of America as well," she said.

Fitzgibbon plans on instituting a language exchange program between international and American students, in which both groups of students can share experiences with one another related to their respective cultures. .

"My hope is to enhance the support service for international students through the expansion of the host family program," commented Fitzgibbon.

---

Think of us as your school bus!

---

United Limo to the Chicago Airports

United Limo to the Chicago Airports

United Limo to the Chicago Airports

---

Think of us as your school bus!

---

Fitzgibbon takes the reins, makes plans

Director chosen for international student affairs

By ANNE HOSINSKI

New cultural and educational experiences are on the horizon for Notre Dame's international students, according to Maureen Fitzgibbon, the newly appointed director of international student affairs.

"Our international students are here for more than just the education. They have a strong desire to experience the culture of America as well," she said.

Fitzgibbon plans on instituting a language exchange program between international and American students, in which both groups of students can share experiences with one another related to their respective cultures. .

"My hope is to enhance the support service for international students through the expansion of the host family program," commented Fitzgibbon.

---

Think of us as your school bus!

---

United Limo to the Chicago Airports

United Limo to the Chicago Airports

United Limo to the Chicago Airports

---

Think of us as your school bus!

---

Fitzgibbon takes the reins, makes plans

Director chosen for international student affairs

By ANNE HOSINSKI

New cultural and educational experiences are on the horizon for Notre Dame's international students, according to Maureen Fitzgibbon, the newly appointed director of international student affairs.

"Our international students are here for more than just the education. They have a strong desire to experience the culture of America as well," she said.

Fitzgibbon plans on instituting a language exchange program between international and American students, in which both groups of students can share experiences with one another related to their respective cultures. .

"My hope is to enhance the support service for international students through the expansion of the host family program," commented Fitzgibbon.
LONI
continued from page 1

"We were very impressed with the number of students we were able to help in the program's first year of existence," said Maria Thompson, LONI project educational director.

"We currently have 1,000 Indiana prospects for next year who, we hope, will consider Saint Mary's as their college choice," she added.

Once admitted to Saint Mary's as an undergraduate, students are then entered into the mentoring program. Within the mentoring program, they are assigned faculty and student mentors who work closely with each woman and assist them with any questions that may arise.

"Our goal was to have each mentor meet with their students at least once a month, however, they have actually been meeting at least once a week," White said.

The next phase of the program offers students the opportunity to participate in summer internships between their junior and senior years. Having paid summer employment offers real world experience in the state of Indiana, while allowing students to stay close to home.

"Many times students in smaller communities tend to want a quality education while being close to home," White stated.

Since the invention of the program, Saint Mary's has been given the opportunity to hire two additional members to their counseling staff.

"With the additional staff members we are able to intensify our recruitment program," said Nolan. "We are able to make ourselves visible to communities that we have never reached before, which we hope will strengthen our enrollment."

The LONI program is twofold in that it benefits students in the state of Indiana, while at the same time contributing to the progress of the state. According to a 1995 "working paper" of the Indiana Commission for Higher Education, Indiana ranks 47th out of the 50 states in the percentage of residents over 25 years old with baccalaureate or higher degrees.

"So far we have been very impressed with those who came from all over the state to participate," said White. "They all seem extremely proud to be a part of the program and are excited to go back to their hometowns to promote the program."

Have something to say? Use Observer Classifieds!

Office of Multicultural Student Affairs, plan to tour ethnic neighborhoods in Chicago, hear the blues, and meet those working in the Windy City to promote equality and integration.

All three programs require orientation and follow-up sessions stressing relevant Catholic social teachings.

Service
continued from page 1

part of the Cultural Diversity Seminar

The participants in the Cultural Diversity Seminar, working in conjunction with the

Stanford
continued from page 1

his own strong denunciation of the group's behavior.

"As a community formed largely by Irish-American Catholics, we find the behavior of the Stanford band not merely boorish, but personally offensive," Malloy said in a statement.

"Such bigotry — whether directed at Catholics, Jews, the Irish, African-Americans, Native Americans, or any other group — is absolutely unacceptable, especially from a student organization representing an institution that rightfully prides itself on diversity," he added.

The incident in Palo Alto is not the first time Stanford's band has upset the Notre Dame community.

In 1991, Malloy barred the school's marching band from Notre Dame's annual football game in South Bend.

The band members' immediate response to the controversy was one of confusion, claiming spectators overreacted to what was meant as a mere joke.

"Our field show was meant to poke fun at the Notre Dame mascot and not at a group of people," band manager Scott McKissen told a Knight-Ridder/Tribune reporter. "Unfortunately, some people took it far more seriously than it was intended."

Knight-Ridder/Tribune Media Services contributed to this report.

Rumor has it, Mona Lisa had pasta on her mind.

Kind of like the authentic Italian pasta you'll find at Fazoli's.

Fettuccine Alfredo, Spaghetti with rich Marinara sauce. And hearty Lasagna, just to name a few.

Come by soon for a real work of art. You'll smile, too.

52770 US Route 33N, 277-4008, South Bend

classified ad

Invite A Professor to Lunch.

Starting October 27th....... Want to get to know your professor better? All you have to do is ask them! Professors will be given free meal tickets through their departments so that you can invite your professor to lunch or dinner.

Student Academic Council Committee

Notre Dame Student Union
Americans Merton and Scholes win economics Nobel

By ERIC QUINONES

Two Americans won the Nobel Prize in economics Tuesday for their work on derivatives, the risky investments that have brought riches to some but ruin to Britain's oldest bank and California's Orange County.

Professors Robert C. Merton of Harvard University and Myron S. Scholes of Stanford University were honored by the Royal Swedish Academy of Sciences for devising a formula for pricing derivatives, such as stock options. The work helped build what is now a $70 trillion global financial market.

"People don’t recognize it, but their contributions helped make 'everybody’s life a little better,'" said Robert Rubin, chief economist at Nikko Securities International in New York. "Securities are linked to, or derived from, an underlying asset as stocks, interest rates or a currency."

One common form of derivative is a stock option, which gives the holder the right but not the obligation to buy or sell a stock at a specific price within a specific period. Companies routinely use derivatives to hedge against unforeseen losses due to currency and interest-rate volatility. But the risk of big losses also attendant.

Two information-packed meetings:

15 October: Brenda, ND ’98 and Angela, SMC ’98, went back for one more semester in Linsbruck. Find out why! Focus: classes getting around West for experiences culture, life, work, and success; 119 DeBartolo, 4:30 pm

16 October: Prof. Dr. Gernot Gurtler, Notre Dame’s Innsbruck Academic Coordinator, will be visiting from Innsbruck with the latest news about the school’s 35th Nobel laureate, earned his PhD in economics in 1970 at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Scholes earned his at the University of Chicago in 1969.
PROJECT WARMTH

Give away your coat... and

SHARE THE WARMTH.

THINGS ARE HEATING UP AGAIN!

The Center for Social Concerns is gearing up for another successful run of Project Warmth. Last year, approximately 1600 coats were received which were later sent to sites all across the country, including the Appalachia region, reservations in the Dakotas, and places in need around the South Bend area.

Starting October 27, coats or jackets can be turned in at:

- Residence Halls
- Notre Dame Bookstore
- LaFortune Information Desk
- Alumni Association Office
- St. Michael's Laundry Distribution Center
- Center for Social Concerns
- Locations in Brownson, Hurley, and Grace Hall
- To be announced...

There will also be additional sites at concession trailers around the stadium during the football weekends of November 1 and 22.

Each donor will receive a 25% discount certificate to be used in purchasing a new GEAR for Sports jacket at the Notre Dame Bookstore.

Hall Competition

As Project Warmth heats up again, so do the prizes for the two dorms with the highest percentage of participation. The first place dorm will win $1000 and the second place dorm will win $500. Now is your chance to make the big bucks!

Congratulations to last year's winner, Carroll, who had 116% participation and the second runner-up, Welsh Family (formerly Siegfried), who had 67% participation. The race is on for this year's winner!
Orthodox Jews issue ultimatum to Netanyahu

The Manitoba Power Company Presents
For Undergraduate and MBA Students in All Majors

- Steve Dee ('62) vice president of Corporate Marketing and former Notre Dame College of Business Administration professor, teaching an OMEGA class on "Leadership Management and Marketing," Friday, October 17, from 8:45-10:15 a.m. in COBA Room 159.
- An informal, university-wide discussion of the energy industry and full time and summer internship career opportunities with Gannon, Dee, and Jack Haffey (MBA '72), executive vice president and chief operating officer of Manitoba Power's Energy Communications and Services Division, Friday, October 17, from 10:30-11:45 a.m. in COBA Room 162.

The Manitoba Power Company (NYSE:MTP) is a $1.1 billion revenue, diversified energy and telecommunications company based in Butte, Montana.

Wall Street Forum
-Presentations on-

Commercial Banking ✦ Investment Banking ✦ Asset Management

Executives from
Chase Manhattan ✦ Credit Suisse/First Boston
Goldman Sachs ✦ Lehman Brothers ✦ Merrill Lynch
Morgan Stanley, Dean Witter, Discover & Co.
Robert Baird ✦ Salomon Smith Barney ✦ T. Rowe Price

Who:
All Majors & Classes Welcome

When:
Friday, October 31, 1997 ✦ 10:00 a.m. - 3:30 p.m.

Where:
Jordan Auditorium - College of Business Administration

For further information contact:
Prof. John Affleck-Graves
631-6370 ✦ affleck-graves.1@nd.edu

Students may submit resumes to COBA 102 by October 30 for inclusion in the Wall Street Resume Book.
THE OBSERVER
1997-98 General Board
Editor in Chief
Real Pendegartha
Business Manager
Time Sheldon
Managing Editor
Jamil Nazeer
Assistant Managing Editor
Noa Dachfol
Advising Manager
Jill Newby
Ad Design Manager
Mark Albright
Web Design Manager
Elyse Moutrey
Theme Editor
Candice Miller
Editors in Chief
Diane Day
Managing Editor
Maggie Albro
News Editor
Katie Kroener
Sports Editor
Mike Day
Features Editor
Lauren Klein
Lifestyles Editor
Tina Allevi
Assistant Editors
Kathleen Hernandez
Katie Kroener
Katie Tony
Mary Anne
Samantha McCreary
Deanna Shoemaker
General Information
Lara Bernier

NWU DAILY NEWS
1001 N. University Blvd.
Muncie, IN 47306
(765) 237-9570

Editorial

The Observer is an independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame du Lac and Saint Mary's College. It does not necessarily reflect the policies of the editors-in-chief or other university officials. The editors-in-chief, staff editors, and other contributors are solely responsible for the opinions of the Editors-in-Chief, Managing Editor, Assistant Managing Editor, News Editor, Sports Editor, Features Editor, Editor-in-Chief, Photo Editor, and Associate News Editor. Comments, letters and the like are submitted at the risk of the writers, and are subject to the rules of The Observer. Viewpoints are available to all members of the Notre Dame du Lac and Saint Mary's community and all students. The free expression of varying opinions through letters is encouraged.

The Observer Phone Lines
631-4541 Advertising 631-3900/8840
631-4542 Business Office 631-5313
631-4540 Fax 631-6927
631-4543 Office Manager 631-7471
631-631-7471

THE OBSERVER

Wednesday, October 15, 1997

Parties Face Critical Test in November

With the recent buzz around Washington over independent counsellors and missing videotapes, it is easy to forget that there are some key state and city elections taking place in November. The gubernatorial races in New Jersey and Virginia (the only two in the country) and the mayoral campaign in New York promise to captivate political intrigue. Who knows — they may even jolt the political climate as we prepare for the 1998 midterm elections.

J.P. Cooney

In years past, the results of these three elections have had a national impact on the following year's congressional elections. As a result, the national party organizations are intimately involved, spending large amounts of campaign money in an attempt to gain visibility and momentum for 1998. The question is, why is there so much at stake in these seemingly small elections?

Rewind back to 1993. Republican Rudolph Giuliani praises fiscal responsibility and governmental reform in the New York mayoral race, defeating the popular Democratic incumbent David Dinkins in a major Democratic stronghold. Across the George Washington Bridge in New Jersey, Republican Christine Todd Whitman's aggressive tax-cut proposal brings her from more than 10 points behind to upset Democratic incumbent Jim Florio. Just 250 miles down south in Virginia, George Allen, the tobacco-chewing son of a football coaching legend, scores a major gubernatorial victory for the GOP by promising to get tough on crime through the elimination of parole.

Fast forward from 1993 to 1994. The New Gingrich-led GOP drafts a unified platform called "Contract With America." Its cornerstone issues are reducing the size of government, eliminating deficits through fiscal moderation, cutting taxes, and getting tough on crime. Do those issues seem familiar? They are the exact same critical issues which swept three underdog Republicans into office in New York City, New Jersey, and Virginia in 1993. The Republican Party went ot a landslide congressional victory, pinning control of both houses for the first time in decades. No wonder the national parties are so concerned.

In 1993, the Republican challengers echoed central conservative tenets to make their way from behind. The themes expounded in the New York, New Jersey, and Virginia elections had universal appeal and were a nerve that resonated with voters nationwide. It was these races which helped motivate Gingrich to unite Republicans under the Contract. These 1993 races served as accurate predictors of voter preferences in the proceeding midterm election, and 1997 holds similar potential. This time the challenges are Democrats. Ruth Messinger in New York, James McGreevey in New Jersey, and Donald Beyer in Virginia. Actually, Beyer does not face the incumbent Allen because Virginia does not allow governors to serve consecutive terms. But Beyer's opponent, Attorney General James Gilmore, might as well be the incumbent. Unlike the 1993 Republican candidates, these three are strikingly dissimilar. Each represents one of the fragmented wings of the Democratic Party. Messinger hails from the Democrat's old liberal wing. In the 1970s and '80s, she was a staunch advocate for the poor, homeless, and underprivileged. While she has attempted to change her image for the 1997 race, a victory for Messinger would be a victory for Gephardt Democrats, and may signal a potential liberal-reform wave in the electorate. Messinger's challengers are slim, however. McGreevey is a young politician with scant experience. He was once a mayor and is now a state senator. His ideology, like many 1990s Democrats, is somewhat undefined. He is waging an all-out war with Whitman on the issue of car insurance rates, which is higher in New Jersey than anywhere in the country. He is also highly critical of Whitman's tax-cut package. A victory for McGreevey, whose chances increase each day as Whitman's popularity wanes and his name recognition increases, might signal a rejection of "foolishly" Republican "tax schemes" and cause the GOP's trump card issue to lose credibility. Beyer is the classic New Democrat. He is fiscally conservative, socially liberal, and willing to go head-on into traditionally Republican issue areas. He is combative with Gilmore on two hot-button issues: abortion and punishment for sex offenders. This critical, for he is posing a direct challenge to the Christian Coalition in a southern state and seeking to dispel voter concerns that Democrats are soft on crime. Also significant is the distinct gender cleavage in Virginia. — women overwhelmingly favor Beyer while men prefer Gilmore. A Beyer victory would further exploit the gender gap in the Republican Party and solidify the Democrats' strength among women voters.

Messinger, McGreevey, and Beyer all serve as major issue balloons for the Democrat's 1998 congressional campaign. The three distinct candidates' successes and their Republican opponents' ability to deflect their attacks over the next months will dictate the pace of play for 1998. A Messinger comeback in New York might revitalize the liberal-wing, a victory in New Jersey for McGreevey would signal the need to appeal to the pockethole, and a victory for Beyer would invigorate New Democrats and deliver a blow to fundamental conservatives.

In all likelihood, the two Republican incumbents will coast to victory and Beyer will score a close last-minute win in Virginia. And that's exactly how 1998 will probably go — the Republicans will maintain their narrow majority and the Democrats will remain moderate and in the minority. But don't count out the possibility of some upset victories and a disrupting of the current political climate — it happened in 1993 and could happen again.

J.P. Cooney is a junior economics and political science major at Notre Dame du Lac and Saint Mary's College. It does not necessarily reflect the policies of the administrations of either institution. The views are those of the author and not necessarily those of the majority of the Editor-in-Chief, Managing Editor, Assistant Managing Editor, News Editor, Sports Editor, Features Editor, Editor-in-Chief, Senior Editor, and Associate News Editor. Comments, letters and the like are submitted at the risk of the writers, and are subject to the rules of The Observer. Viewpoints are available to all members of the Notre Dame du Lac and Saint Mary's community and all students.
S
d Caesar took the stage earlier this year at the Golden Globe Awards with a new friend, director Rob Reiner. Caesar received a standing ovation, and the audience was treated to some of his most famous routines. As he took his place, Caesar said, “I am the ‘King of Comedy’ when television was young. He had a staff of writers who knew what made people laugh: good, clean jokes and hilarious slapstick. The ongoing popularity of Sid Caesar indicates that this kind of comedy still brings laughs from an audience. It is a sad reflection on the state of modern comedy.

Neil Simon, one of Sid Caesar’s own writers for his television shows, went on to work on many of his writing comedies for the stage and movies. The fact that most of his plays have spent years on Broadway is evidence of his skills as a writer. He has written for his television shows, and his name has become synonymous with good, clean, funny comedy. It is a success story.

The Mighty Oak

Julie Ferraro

There are few sciences of humanity that can so utterly demolish the work of God as can the高新 clearcuts that are perpetrated on the American West, the tropical rainforests of Latin America, and the great forested landscapes of the world. The horrible clearance of the world’s forests is one of the great woes of our civilization. The streams that we see them; great unnatural things which can be seen from space. Whatever fool would advocate this sort of rapacious economic-ecologic damage to our only home would be considered an idiot.

Julie Ferraro, Notre Dame ‘97, is a first-year graduate student at Notre Dame. She can be reached at Julie.A.Ferraro@3rd.edu. The views expressed in this column are those of the author and not necessarily those of The Observer.

With your help in the fight forest fires, these forests, that have already been sacrificed. The view expressed in this column are those of the author and not necessarily those of The Observer.

The Mighty Oak

Julie Ferraro

There are few sciences of humanity that can so utterly demolish the work of God as can the高新 clearcuts that are perpetrated on the American West, the tropical rainforests of Latin America, and the great forested landscapes of the world. The horrible clearance of the world’s forests is one of the great woes of our civilization. The streams that we see them; great unnatural things which can be seen from space. Whatever fool would advocate this sort of rapacious economic-ecologic damage to our only home would be considered an idiot.

Julie Ferraro, Notre Dame ‘97, is a first-year graduate student at Notre Dame. She can be reached at Julie.A.Ferraro@3rd.edu. The views expressed in this column are those of the author and not necessarily those of The Observer.

With your help in the fight forest fires, these forests, that have already been sacrificed. The view expressed in this column are those of the author and not necessarily those of The Observer.

The Mighty Oak

Julie Ferraro

There are few sciences of humanity that can so utterly demolish the work of God as can the高新 clearcuts that are perpetrated on the American West, the tropical rainforests of Latin America, and the great forested landscapes of the world. The horrible clearance of the world’s forests is one of the great woes of our civilization. The streams that we see them; great unnatural things which can be seen from space. Whatever fool would advocate this sort of rapacious economic-ecologic damage to our only home would be considered an idiot.

Julie Ferraro, Notre Dame ‘97, is a first-year graduate student at Notre Dame. She can be reached at Julie.A.Ferraro@3rd.edu. The views expressed in this column are those of the author and not necessarily those of The Observer.

With your help in the fight forest fires, these forests, that have already been sacrificed. The view expressed in this column are those of the author and not necessarily those of The Observer.

The Mighty Oak

Julie Ferraro

There are few sciences of humanity that can so utterly demolish the work of God as can the高新 clearcuts that are perpetrated on the American West, the tropical rainforests of Latin America, and the great forested landscapes of the world. The horrible clearance of the world’s forests is one of the great woes of our civilization. The streams that we see them; great unnatural things which can be seen from space. Whatever fool would advocate this sort of rapacious economic-ecologic damage to our only home would be considered an idiot.

Julie Ferraro, Notre Dame ‘97, is a first-year graduate student at Notre Dame. She can be reached at Julie.A.Ferraro@3rd.edu. The views expressed in this column are those of the author and not necessarily those of The Observer.

With your help in the fight forest fires, these forests, that have already been sacrificed. The view expressed in this column are those of the author and not necessarily those of The Observer.
ACCENT ASKS...

What is your favorite piece of artwork?

"Picasso's 'Nudes Dancing' because there are nude people in it!"

Luther Groth
Junior, Alumni

"Starry Night" by Van Gogh. There's a deep meaning behind it, which I have yet to uncover."

Dannel Maloney
Junior, Regina

"Far Side: School for the Gifted," because it expresses deep truths of gifted students."

Scotch Herrity
Freshman, St. Edward's

"Michaelangelo's 'Pieta,' because it portrays Jesus' divine suffering."

Lauren Herring
Sophomore, Cavanaugh

"The LaFortune Barbeque Mural" because it makes me so hungry!"

Donald Doan
Freshman, Carroll

---

Wedding Cake, Anyone?

By BRIDGET RZEZUTKO
Accent Writer

Most people know a little something about art. If anything, you know a Picasso from a Monet, or at the very least, your red crayon from the blue crayon. Maybe you even remember the color wheel, or know that "yellow and blue make green," a lesson learned from Zip-Lock commercials. However, there are some very talented students on this campus who know even more than that. The ISIS Gallery inside Riley Hall of Art and Design sponsors either student artwork or an up-and-coming artist each month.

This month's featured artist is Annie Kammerer, a second year graduate student in painting. The mural in the football office and this show in the ISIS gallery are just a few of the credits given to her name and talent. Kammerer's main interests are art and food, and with that in mind she created seven works of art to create a show entitled "Consuming Rituals."

"I wanted to study food and its role in rituals, especially weddings. The wedding cake plays a big role in the ceremony," Kammerer said.

Most people aren't aware of it, but the wedding cake has both history and a symbolic meaning. We often lose touch with these meanings through constant repetition. Let's face it, no one tells us the story behind these rituals; people tend to do them without knowing why.

The traditional Anglo-Saxon wedding cake, with its tall, white and extravagantly decorated tiers, symbolizes the bride. Dating back to the Victorian era, married couples have cut the wedding cake together. The cutting of the cake is the first act the couple performs together after marriage. Once it is cut into pieces and eaten by all the guests present, it represents the act of consummation, publicly sanctifying the marriage.

Kammerer brings the meaning of cake cutting into question by blurring the distinction between the bride and the cake.

"I don't have any criticism toward weddings or women. I am just slightly critical of the food ritual. The cake has such an original meaning, but over the top is a layer of futility," she commented.

Kammerer painted four oil paintings, all on canvas, each of different wedding cakes. Each painting represents a part or aspect of the ceremony. For example, the painting entitled "Bridal Cake" has an obvious body reference to a woman with distinctive imprints made by using a doily. Another painting, titled "Baptismal Cake," illustrates the baptism of the ceremony.

Another piece, called "Bustle," occurred to Kammerer during a stroll workout. It is made of paper and tulle and is quite large, which is meant as a parody. This bustle is exaggerated to show how much planning and effort are put into a moment that always disappears so fast.

Even the veil holds a symbol in Kammerer's artwork; it is not just a veil but also a recipe. This is another way to show that the cake represents the bride — the "recipe" is clearly visible while the bride is at the altar or walking down the aisle.

A recipe of the cake is also neatly handwritten on large sheets of homemade paper tacked to the wall. This is to emphasize the many ingredients and amount of energy put into the event, which is stressed by Kammerer's use of the phrase "gently combine," listed in the ingredients.

"Consuming Rituals" is on display through Oct. 26. The ISIS hours are from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. Although the schedule may be subject to change, a slew of students and up and coming artists are scheduled to be featured throughout the year.

From Oct. 30 to Nov. 29, sculptures by Christopher Furnar will be on show at the gallery, and from Nov. 4 through Jan. 18 the first-year studio graduate group will display a show entitled, "New Faces."

Paintings by Dan Addington can be seen from Jan. 22 to Feb. 13. To follow, a theme show of juried art works will appear from Feb. 29 to Mar. 2. Ceramics by Corrine Peterson will be on display from Mar. 6 through Apr. 6.

Finally, to close out the year, the BA show will be held Apr. 20 to May 17, featuring undergraduate seniors.

Check out these art displays while they are here. There is no price for admission and everyone free to wander about the gallery at their leisure. Don't worry about not understanding art — the featured artist always places an "artist statement" on the wall to explain his or her intent and the meaning behind the work.
Ten Ways to Better Understand Art

By KRISTIN DOYLE Accent Copy Editor

Do you dread visits to art museums? Do you regard contemporary art as an over-hyped, over-priced scam?

Do you sink away whenever the conversation turns to art interpretation?

If you must answer "yes" to any of these questions, perhaps you are afflicted with a common ailment identified by physicians as artophobia.

The symptoms range from anxiety and loss of speech to nervous blurriness. There is hope, however. A gradual increase in exposure to art coupled with the prescription of our very own Gina Costa, the Snite Museum's Curator of Education, virtually guarantees relief.

The treatment is founded on an increased awareness of your own ability to create a valuable interpretation of a piece based solely on your membership with the human race. A series of questions that highlight contrasts between different works and their features lie at the core of the treatment.

1. Frame and pictorial area: What is the proportion of the frame's height to its width? What is the relation of shapes to the frame? Is it harmonious or discordant? Are they "respected" by the frame or cut by it?

2. Techniques: What materials are used? What type of paint? How is the paint applied? (Strokes, layers, spots? Thickly or smoothly?) Are the colors transparent or opaque?

3. Organization: Is it simple or complex? Geometrically ordered or free and seemingly accidental? Do some forms dominate over others? Is there symmetry? Is the space crowded? Is there variety or repetition of form?

4. Individual units: Are there many objects in the space? Are they large or small? Are they regular or irregular shapes? Is there any dominant color? Are they warm, cool, dark or light? Are there moderate or extreme contrasts? What about repetitions or "echoes"?

5. Lines: Are they clear or obscure, angular or curved?

6. Colors: Are they bright or subdued, "plain," "rare" or elaborately mixed? Are there any dominant colors? Are they warm, cool, dark or light? Are there moderate or extreme contrasts? What about repetitions or "echoes"?

7. Light: Is there a consistent source? Do the sources lie inside or outside of the picture or birth? Is there a strong or muted contrast? What about shadows? What are their function? (Clarifying form or space? Emphasizing mood?)

8. Space: Is it shallow or deep? Is it open or screened off? What kind of space is it? Is it perfect?

9. General Observations: How consistent is the structure of the whole? Does the work seem spontaneous or calculated? Does it seem carefully planned or improvised? How meaningful are the various formal elements and their organization for the interpretation of theme? How about for the conveyance of mood or for the creation of a sustained "visual" interest? Is the effect loud or intimate, monumental or trifling, solemn or gay, aesthetic or opulent, etc.?

10. Closing Notes: Remember in your observations to distinguish between the given "data" and your own associations. It is also important to consider alternate choices that the artist may have made. Compare a given work with others which are near, or which you remember, and try to articulate what makes it similar or different. Make sure to notice not only what is shown but also what is omitted.
Stockton to miss two months

By GREG BEACHAM

SALT LAKE CITY The Utah Jazz are suddenly an army without a general.
John Stockton, who missed only four games during his entire NBA career, had knee surgery Monday night and will be out for at least six to eight weeks of the regular season and the first round of the playoffs, an agonizing game for seven straight seasons.
"It's weird without Stock here," Karl Malone said at practice Tuesday. "It's tough to get that going to be the same until he gets back."
Just a year earlier, star guard, the NBA career leader in assists and steals, had undergone knee surgery on his left knee after injuring it during the season finale against Seattle.
"I've seen organizations destroyed over situations like this, but that won't happen to us," Malone said.
"I'll tell me next week," I'll see you in two weeks," Malone said. "I told him to just sit down. It's a great loss for us, but this will definitely help the organization later on by getting some young guys more minutes.
"The Jazz re-signed backup point guard Howard Eisley during the offseason, and he has played in 17 consecutive games for Utah and will start in Stockton's place.
"It's unfortunate, but we must move on," Eisley said. "I still have a lot of learning to do and finding the perspective.
"The Jazz also drafted Jaquie Vaughn and intended to keep three point guards until Stockton returns.
"This is a terrible thing, but at the same time it's an opportunity for me," Vaughn said. "I just want him on the bench yelling at me.
"The third big-name player who will miss the start of the season with a major injury for Miami's Alonzo Mourning (knee surgery) will be out eight to 12 weeks and Chicago's Scottie Pippen (foot surgery) will be out two to three months."
Marlins oust Braves

By STEVEN WINE
Associated Press Writer

MARLINS OUST BRAVES

his hand on his chest as if braced for the final dugout step and ran onto the field as the biggest victory of his career.

When the national anthem played Tuesday night, Jim Leyland stood with his hand on his chest as if braced for heartache. He had been here before. But the Miami Marlins were headed back to Atlanta for the first time in the five-year history of the franchise.

He may not be back in 1998. Huizenga put the team up for sale in June, and the payroll will likely be slashed during the offseason. But the team of rented millionaires is to cry, he took off.

"It's over," he said. "I still can't believe it."

Leyland has led the Irish in 12 career tournaments, second in the program's history behind Phares (17) and one better than Melby and Klein (1990-94).

Kasey Gant shot a first-round 69 en route to medalist honors (222), while Irish co-captain Katie King carded a 75 on Sunday to finish at 224. Notre Dame's three-round total of 943 beats the team 54-hole record set at the 1991-92 Michigan State Invitational (949). The Irish finished just a shot behind Arkansas, four shots behind the College of Charleston, and eight behind fifth-place Vanderbilt.

Pittsburgh Pirates, and came against the Braves -- manager Bobby Cox.

In 1991, the Pirates led the NLCS 3-2 but failed to close out the final two games. Five years ago Tuesday night, the Pirates led 2-0 in the ninth inning of Game 7, but a double by Francisco Cabrera sent Atlanta to the 1992 World Series.

Leyland analyst Matt Rotondo reflected on his team's mood.

The result was a 1-2-3 inning. Six outs later, the Marlins were headed back to Atlanta to try to find the formula of their opening-tournament.

"I was probably going to take Brown out in the seventh ... but I left him in. He's my best, and I left him out there," Leyland said.

Brown said he asked his manager to let him face "one hitter at a time."

"I said if they got someone on, you can't come get me," he said.

The result was a 1-2-3 inning. Six outs later, the Marlins were headed back to Miami for the World Series.

"Sorry, ladies.... I still can't legally consent."

HAPPY 17TH, JAMES. YOU THE MAN!

Knockout Workout

Round 1 Beginners

Mondays & Wednesdays
4:15-5:30
10/24 to 12/10
$20

Round 2 Advanced

Tuesdays & Thursdays
4:30-7:45
10/28 to 12/9
$15

Sign-ups begin
Thursday, October 16
8:00 am

Space is limited!
Contact 1-916-808-8282 with any questions.

CARWASH

We Vacuum & Towel Dry

Pamper Your Car...You Will Be Delighted

4006 N. Matt • Mishawaka • 271-7788
Take Douglas East to Main Street

Hours of Operation: 8-7 M-Sat; 9-5 Sun

$3.00 OFF CARWASH

Good for any Extra Value Lube
Limit one coupon per vehicle visit.
May not be combined with any other offer.
Expires 11/30/97

$5.00 OFF DETAIL

Good for any Extra Value Detail.
Limit one coupon per vehicle visit.
May not be combined with any other offer.
Expires 11/30/97

$3.00 OFF LUBE

Good for any Extra Value Lube.
Limit one coupon per vehicle visit.
May not be combined with any other offer.
Expires 11/30/97

"Sorry, ladies.... I still can't legally consent."

HAPPY 17TH, JAMES. YOU THE MAN!
Badin picks up first victory, Chaos denied playoff berth

By ANTHONY BIANCO
Sports Writer

Cavanaugh headed into Monday's game needing a win to secure a playoff spot. Badin, winless on the season, came into its last contest hoping to turn things around.

The underdog Bullfrogs prevailed with a 12-6 win, ending any chance of a Chaos post-season.

The scoring began with a Cavanaugh touchdown early in the first half. Quarterback Katie King connected with Allison Krilla on a deflected pass that fell into her hands. The Bullfrogs came back in the second half by the Badin offense. On a quarterback draw, Clements capped its drive with a touchdown run from three yards out. The score gave them a 12-6 lead that they would carry to end the game and the season.

Cavanaugh, 2-3-1, will miss the playoffs with the loss. Badin, finishing with a 1-4-1 record, came out with a more positive outlook.

This game was the first time all season that the Bullfrogs put on the scoreboard.

"The loss is good for the team," comments Morrill. "It was the last time we could afford one before the playoffs."

BONUS
Register now and receive a free booklet on how to invest.

Pre-Register for your Convenience
Name: ____________________________
Address: _________________________
Phone: __________________________
E-Mail: __________________________

Send to PMC, 302 Stanford Hall, Campus Mail with a $20 check for your registration fee made payable to NDCIBD.

Portfolio Management Challenge
• $2,000 in Prizes
• Learn how to invest for your future in the stock market
• Make trades using the internet, e-mail, or fax
• Separate division for Freshmen and Sophomores
• Attend one of our informational meetings on Oct. 27th & 28th to learn more about our contest.

Time and place of meetings will be announced in the Observer.

 PMC **
Portfolio Management Challenge

| Name: ____________________________ |
| Address: _________________________ |
| Phone: __________________________ |
| E-Mail: __________________________ |

Send to PMC, 302 Stanford Hall, Campus Mail with a $20 check for your registration fee made payable to NDCIBD.

 PMC **
Portfolio Management Challenge

| Name: ____________________________ |
| Address: _________________________ |
| Phone: __________________________ |
| E-Mail: __________________________ |

Send to PMC, 302 Stanford Hall, Campus Mail with a $20 check for your registration fee made payable to NDCIBD.

 PMC **
Portfolio Management Challenge

| Name: ____________________________ |
| Address: _________________________ |
| Phone: __________________________ |
| E-Mail: __________________________ |

Send to PMC, 302 Stanford Hall, Campus Mail with a $20 check for your registration fee made payable to NDCIBD.
Student Award

RecSports "Champion Student Award" recipients are selected by the Office of Recreational Sports. Honorees are chosen for their involvement in RecSports, including excellence in sportsmanship, leadership and participation.

Christy Egart is a junior marketing major from Anoka, Minnesota. Christy's strong belief in the "sound mind, sound body" philosophy and subsequent dedication to her health and fitness, has made her the RecSports Champion student. Christy can be found in the Rockne weight room on a regular basis perfecting her body building techniques. To round out her fitness regimen, Christy also participates in aerobic fitness activities several days a week. Personally, Christy sees fitness as a way to push oneself both physically and mentally. In the future, Christy hopes to utilize her marketing skills in the sport, health and fitness fields.

Recipients receive Champion merchandise from the

VARSITY SHOP

"Specializing in Authentic Notre Dame Sportswear"
(Joyce Center)

www.nd.edu/~recsport

Upcoming Events & Deadlines

RecSports on the Web!
Check-out the latest offerings, intramural standings, athletic facility hours, and much, much more at www.nd.edu/~recsport.

Fitness
All Fitness Classes will be offered at 1/2 price after October Break. Call RecSports to find out class availability.

STUDENTS
15% off any Regular Priced Champion Jacket!

Must have this ad and valid student id to receive discount.

Look for this award to appear in the Observer every other Wednesday. Students selected receive Champion merchandise courtesy of Champion and the VARSITY SHOP located on the second floor of the Joyce Center. The VARSITY SHOP is open Monday-Saturday 11:00am to 5:00pm and Sunday 1:00pm to 4:00pm. (Phone: 631-8560).
Irish sailors will attend national championships

Special to The Observer

The Irish sailing team has been breezing by the competition this fall. The team has qualified for all three fall national championships after defeating 15 midwestern schools in recent district qualifiers. In order to qualify for a national championship, a sailor must finish in first or second at district qualifiers. The Irish sailing team has qualified to attend all three of the national championships.

Junior Stephanie Doyle has qualified to attend the women's single-handed nationals at the Coast Guard Academy in Connecticut. R.J. Wolney, Margaret Ruffling, and Paul Kaseburg have qualified to attend the sloop nationals in Santa Cruz, California. Junior Paul Kaseburg also made the men’s single-handed nationals in Michigan.

No other midwestern team has qualified for all three nationals this year, making Notre Dame’s success even more impressive. In November, the Notre Dame sailors will compete against the best college sailors in the country to claim the coveted national title.

Stephanie Doyle earned first place at the women's Midwest qualifiers held at the University of Wisconsin on Sept. 20-21. Fifteen girls competed in Tech dinghies in difficult wind conditions. Doyle won five of the twelve races in heavy winds on Saturday, and she won the final race on Sunday. That helped to solidify Notre Dame’s number one women’s sailing ranking in the midwest for the second year in a row.

Doyle was ranked sixth in the country last year and is optimistic about her chances to do well this year. She will sail a single person Laser Radial at the Coast Guard Academy in three weeks in hopes of giving the Irish their first ever national women’s title.

R.J. Wolney, Margaret Ruffling, and Paul Kaseburg also faced trying wind conditions at their district regatta on Sept. 27-28. Sixteen sailors were held at the Detroit Yacht Club in Flying Scots. The regatta was sailed in a river with a strong current and complicated wind patterns.

The team started the final day of racing in sixth place. Wolney, Kaseburg, and Ruffling skillfully defeated Purdue in the final four races of Sunday, capturing second place. All three sailors used their extensive sailing experience to maneuver past their competition and crush an 18-point deficit that would have kept them out of nationals qualification. Wolney began his sailing career at Notre Dame with a bang, proving that he will be a force to be reckoned with over the next four years.

Ruffling was another key component to the Irish’s come from behind victory. Ruffling executed the operation of the spin-naker beautifully, allowing the Irish to capture second place and a spot at nationals. Skipper Paul Kaseburg capped off the team’s most successful fall ever with a win at the men’s single-handed qualifier at Wisconsin. Kaseburg defeated 16 other sailors to earn the right to compete against some of the fastest Laser sailors in the country at Western Michigan.

The regatta was sailed in medium to heavy winds which was perfect for Kaseburg, who sails particularly fast in stronger wind. Kaseburg is a former youth champion in windsurfing who is sponsored by several prestigious sailing companies.

The Irish sailing team is on a mission to bring Notre Dame back to its glory days of the 1960-70s. In the past, Notre Dame sailing has been home to several all-Americans and the team hopes to have at least two all-Americans in the next two years and maintain a successful “team to sail program” that has taught hundreds of Notre Dame students how to sail.

The team returned several talented members this year, including Lauren Mack, Becky Murray, Nate Sniadecki, Jeff Rauenhorst, and Ann Halhorn. Freshmen Liz Broz and Darren Madden also showed lots of promise.

Team advisor Pat Leonardo is another key component in Notre Dame’s recent success. Leonardo maintains a key role as leader for the Irish. In the past four years, the racing team has traveled all over the country and even to Japan.

The team is excited about its success and hopes to do well at nationals. The rejuvenation of Notre Dame’s sailing as a national threat is possible within the next four years. The determination and talent of its members are leading the team onward to victory and back to its days of glory.
MORGAN STANLEY invites members of the Class of 1998 interested in career opportunities in Investment Banking to our presentation on Thursday, October 16, 1997 at 7:00 p.m.

LaFortune Student Center
Reception to follow
Morgan Stanley & Co. Incorporated
1585 Broadway, New York, NY 10036
www.morganstanley.com

Morgan Stanley is an Equal Opportunity Employer

ATTENTION ALPP MAJORS

THERE WILL BE AN IMPORTANT MEETING FOR

ALL ALPP STUDENTS
THURSDAY, OCTOBER 16 in 210 DE BARTOLO HALL

ACCORDING TO THE FOLLOWING SCHEDULE:

SENIORS
4:30-5:00

JUNIORS
5:00-5:30

SOPHOMORES
5:30-6:00

W. Soccer

continued from page 20

text to record her 11th shutout. Bence is quickly approaching Jen Benoist's season record of 13 and has lowered her nation-leading goals against average to 0.29.

Notre Dame outshot Wisconsin 26-1, allowing its lone shot with less than three minutes remaining in the game.

Notre Dame has now beaten Wisconsin eight straight times since a 4-0 loss in 1989. The win also marks the team's 30th consecutive win against Big Ten opponents, including three in 1997.

The Irish now prepare for their final road game of the regular season, a matchup with Big East foe Syracuse on Sunday.

Women's Soccer Schedule

Continued from page 20

Oct. 19 at Syracuse Syracuse, NY
Oct. 24 Seton Hall Notre Dame, IN
Oct. 26 Connecticut Notre Dame, IN
Oct. 31 Michigan Notre Dame, IN
Nov. 2 Providence Notre Dame, IN
Nov. 7-9 at BIG EAST Piscataway, NJ
Nov. 15-16 NCAA 1st Round TBA
Nov. 21-23 NCAA 2nd Round TBA
Nov. 28-30 NCAA 3rd Round TBA
Dec. 5 NCAA Semifinals Greensboro, NC
Dec. 7 NCAA Finals Greensboro, NC

Irish

continued from page 20

Gallo and was able to maneuver through the entire defense before beating Alexander.

Savino scored his second goal of the game on a one-on-one with the keeper. He dribbled in from the side and was able to slip a shot past the diving Alexander. Turner and Bocklage added one goal each to cap off the offensive fireworks for Notre Dame. The final four goals were all scored within a 10-minute span late in the second half.

"We were forcing things a little too much in the first half. This could have been a carry-over from the Syracuse game in which we played well for 90 minutes and were unable to score," Berticelli commented.

"We needed to relax, spread the field, and play our game. We are a good enough team that the goals will come. We do not need to force them."

The offensive production for the Irish was tremendous against the Broncos. Notre Dame hopes to continue its offensive output against Georgetown this weekend. The Hoyas are in first place in the Big East standings, and the Irish would love to gain some ground in hopes of a late season run.

"We are a good enough team on the field, and play our game. We do not need to force them."

"We were forcing things a little too much in the first half."

"We needed to relax, spread the field, and play our game."

"We are a good enough team that the goals will come. We do not need to force them."

"The offensive production for the Irish was tremendous against the Broncos. Notre Dame hopes to continue its offensive output against Georgetown this weekend. The Hoyas are in first place in the Big East standings, and the Irish would love to gain some ground in hopes of a late season run."
Men place fourth at Furman Invitational

Women also put in strong performance

By ERIK KUSHTO
Sports Writer

The men's and women's cross country teams put in solid performances this past weekend, placing fourth and 14th respectively, at the Furman Invitational. The men garnered 185 points, finishing ahead of four ranked teams and behind such talent-ed programs as Stanford, Colorado, and Wisconsin. The women finished 14th out of a field of 23.

Junior Antonio Arce led the men's team, which placed four runners in the top 50.

"The team performed really well," said Arce. "We came in with a need for a win after we lost to Eastern Michigan. We got out faster and got in better position. Everybody ran well."

Arce finished 19th overall with a time of 25:06. Also running well for the Irish were freshman Ryan Shay, who finished in 28th place with a time of 25:21. Senior all-American Jason Foxxing came in third for the Irish and placed 37th in the meet with a time of 25:34, and junior Ryan Maxwell finished 42nd with a time of 25:34.

The Furman Invitational gave the cross country teams a taste of what to expect later on this season at the NCAA championships.

"Stanford and Colorado were deeper than us, but Wisconsin was not too far away," said Arce.

Based on the performance at the invitational, Arce expects big things as the season progresses.

"This past weekend, we showed that we can beat teams not in our district, and that is important to get an at-large bid [in the NCAA championships]. But our key concern is to defend as district champs and not have to wait for an at-large bid."

The women's team struggled a bit on Saturday. Alison Klemmer was the first Irish runner to finish, placing 42nd with a time of 18:08. Sophomore all-American Joanna Deeter followed in 48th place with a time of 18:12.

The cross country team returns to action on Friday at the Central Collegiate Championships in Ypsilanti, Mich.

Appalachian-Washington Diversity Seminars
Send-off Mass

Saturday, October 18, 10:00 pm, Stanford-Keenan Chapel
Celebrant: Fr. Jim Lies, C.S.C.

Freshmen Retreat #13, Nov. 7-8
Application forms for the retreat for residents of Badin, Keenan, Lewis, O'Neill, Pasquerilla East, St. Ed's, Siegfried, Walsh and Zahm are available through the rectors and at Campus Ministry at 103 Hesburgh Library.
Deadline: October 30. Don't miss the sign-up!

Notre Dame Encounter Retreat
Sign-up for Retreat #48 (Nov. 14-16)
Monday-Friday, October 13-17, 103 Hesburgh Library
ANSWER TO PREVIOUS PUZZLE

CROSSWORD

ACROSS
1 They sweep at the noggin — 5 Malay for "man"
10 Come to a — 15 Rhyming pattern in poetry
16 Spindle — 17 Leaf projection
18 City near Boys Town — 19 Strike
20 Oscar winner for "Jury Maguire"
23 Words to no one in particular — 24 Star Wars program: Abb.
25 Bluesman — 26 Born aboard

COSTS

29 Certain tennis stroke 31 A subub
33 Grape like runnights — 37 Wheel
38 Noted Italian religious philosopher — 39 Advance
40 Apple mayor — 41 Certain knot
42 Author of "LeShan" — 43 John
44 Help wanted abbr — 45 Exclusive, as circles
46 Mule

DOWN
1 Garbage squatter — 2 A pig singer
3 A Time
4 Matte spin — 5 Sequoia the "Typee"
6 Spun — 7 Italy
8 Not much
9 Certain grape soda
11 Like some
12 Requirement of Islam
13 Sweat
14 Everyone
15 Scoinic Scottish rh
16 Small lizard
17 Ingredient in a loomboard
18 Or Neill’s — 19 Christie
20 Disney frame
21 Broadway hit locake
22 Show off
23 Transparent
24 Guitare, e, g
25 Pet
26 Noveltly item
27 Horrors
28 Wise guy
29 Mother’s need
30 Kind of list
31 Relax
32 Sin — non
33 Free, as clothing 50-100.

SCRAMBLED

28 The Moon spends another day in Arius’ house, throwing that remarkable tidal pull behind the Ram’s headlong charge. Dare to risk it all today. Defeat is inescapable.
24 Taurus: Apparances matter today, but do so the currents that flow beneath them. Pay attention to your partner’s mood. Some mysteries are meant to be unraveled slowly.
20 Gemini: New ideas and new ways of experiencing them are the currency of the moment. Self-promotion is favored today, as long as it doesn’t happen at a friend’s expense. Your positive charge could benefit everyone.

CROSSWORD

ACROSS
1 They sweep at the noggin — 5 Malay for "man"
10 Come to a — 15 Rhyming pattern in poetry
16 Spindle — 17 Leaf projection
18 City near Boys Town — 19 Strike
20 Oscar winner for "Jury Maguire"
23 Words to no one in particular — 24 Star Wars program: Abb.
25 Bluesman — 26 Born aboard

COSTS

29 Certain tennis stroke 31 A subub
33 Grape like runnights — 37 Wheel
38 Noted Italian religious philosopher — 39 Advance
40 Apple mayor — 41 Certain knot
42 Author of "LeShan" — 43 John
44 Help wanted abbr — 45 Exclusive, as circles
46 Mule

DOWN
1 Garbage squatter — 2 A pig singer
3 A Time
4 Matte spin — 5 Sequoia the "Typee"
6 Spun — 7 Italy
8 Not much
9 Certain grape soda
11 Like some
12 Requirement of Islam
13 Sweat
14 Everyone
15 Scoinic Scottish rh
16 Small lizard
17 Ingredient in a loomboard
18 Or Neill’s — 19 Christie
20 Disney frame
21 Broadway hit locake
22 Show off
23 Transparent
24 Guitare, e, g
25 Pet
26 Noveltly item
27 Horrors
28 Wise guy
29 Mother’s need
30 Kind of list
31 Relax
32 Sin — non
33 Free, as clothing 50-100.

SCRAMBLED

28 The Moon spends another day in Arius’ house, throwing that remarkable tidal pull behind the Ram’s headlong charge. Dare to risk it all today. Defeat is inescapable.
24 Taurus: Apparances matter today, but do so the currents that flow beneath them. Pay attention to your partner’s mood. Some mysteries are meant to be unraveled slowly.
20 Gemini: New ideas and new ways of experiencing them are the currency of the moment. Self-promotion is favored today, as long as it doesn’t happen at a friend’s expense. Your positive charge could benefit everyone.

HEY!! Do You Drink Because You Think There Is Nothing Else To Do??

Stop By The Office of Alcohol & Drug Education For A Free Copy of You Too Can Have Fun In South Bend... This Book Contains Information On Over 380 Fun Places And Things To Do In Our Community.
Sports

Wednesday, October 15, 1997

FOOTBALL

Goodspeed to fill void in Irish linebacker corps

By BETSY BAKER

Much of head coach Bob Davie and the Notre Dame football team's task going into this week's game against Southern Cal lies in building upon last week's 45-21 victory over Pittsburgh and carrying the momentum into Saturday.

However, there is an added element when you put a first-year head coach and a relatively young football team up against one of the oldest and biggest college football programs in the nation. Combine that with the fact that it is the first time the Irish have returned home since going 1-2 on the road, and the team has quite a task ahead of it.

Davie knows the challenge that lies ahead of his team and knows that there will be some necessary adjustments to be made.

In addition to bring untested and inexperienced on defense, the Irish will be going up against a Trojan offense that averages 315 pounds across the front.

One of the major changes that will be made in Davie's defense for Saturday's contest will be not only the return of Joey Goodspeed into the lineup, but also the shifting of him from offense to defense.

Davie announced at his weekly press conference yesterday that Goodspeed has received the high sign to begin working out with the defense as a linebacker.

Goodspeed, who started the season as a fullback for the Irish, was originally recruited as a linebacker but has never seen the defensive side of the ball at Notre Dame. After being sidelined by a shoulder injury for the last four weeks, Goodspeed's return has been much-awaited by the Irish, but the context of it remains an added surprise.

The shift results from a shortage at linebacker due to Ronnie Nichols' knee injury against Pitt last week. Above all, Davie hopes that Goodspeed will provide some big-game experience to the inexperienced linebacker corps.

"The thing I like about Joey Goodspeed — he has played in college football games," Davie said. "He has started in college football games. He knows what it takes to win in college football games."

It remains to be seen just how much, if any, Goodspeed will be used as a linebacker, but Davie remains confident in the sophomore's ability.

"If I had to guess right now, I would say he could probably do it based on what I saw in high school, and just how I see him carry himself on the football field," Davie said.

In addition to Goodspeed's return, the Irish will probably get linebacker Bobbie Howard and defensive end Corey Bennett back from injury. Howard and Bennett's return could play a pivotal role in how the Irish defense adjusts to the Trojans' size on the line and experience at receivers.

The looming question, however, remains how Davie will lead the team in his first contest against USC as a head coach.

An added incentive for victory lies in the fact that the Irish quarterback coach Mike Sanford is the former assistant head coach of the Trojans.

Stiff, it will be imperative for Davie to make sure that the team stays focused if it plans to walk off the field with a victory.

Davie is not concerned about the factors, however, because of the other areas of concern for the Irish.

"I think it is pretty easy [staying focused] because we have got so many other things to address as a team," Davie said. "You know, if we want to enjoy the feeling we had coming back on Saturday night after that game, we have got an awful lot of improvement to do, so I really don't think that is a problem."

MEN'S SOCCER

Irish score seven unanswered goals

By DAN LUZIETTI and TOM STUDEBAKER

The Notre Dame men's soccer team defeated the Western Michigan Broncos 7-1 last night at Alumni Field. It was a tale of two halves for the Irish and Tom Studebaker.

and T O M  S T U D E B A K E R

were out of sync for the better part of the first half. "We knew that we were capable of playing much better than we were in the first half," Davie said. "We were obviously frustrated in the first half, and our play showed that," said head coach Mike Berticelli. "We knew that we were capable of playing much better than we were in the first half."

The second half was one of the best offensive halves in recent Notre Dame soccer history. The Irish dominated the second half, scoring seven unanswered goals while outshooting the Broncos 10-0 with 10 shots on goal.

After the frustrating first half, it did not take long for the Irish to turn it around in the second half. Junior Ben Bocklage put Notre Dame on the scoreboard just 18 seconds into the half. It was Bocklage's second goal of the year.

Five minutes later, senior Bill Savarino scored the second goal of the game for the Irish. Quite possibly one of the best goals of the season, Savarino dribbled into the Bronco zone and blasted a shot from 25 yards out. This goal opened the floodgates, and the rout began.

Sophomore Joey Goodspeed began working out with the linebackers on Monday. Goodspeed had been used as a fullback, but injury on defense called for the shift.

Sophomore Joey Goodspeed began working out with the linebackers on Monday. Goodspeed had been used as a fullback, but injury on defense called for the shift.

Spor

WOMEN'S SOCCER

Grubb ties record as Notre Dame prevails

Irish offense explodes in 10-0 victory

By ALLISON KRILLA

A balanced attack is key to the success of any team, especially a team with national championship aspirations.

Yesterday, the Irish women's soccer team took a 7-0 lead on the art of balanced attack, as eight Irish players netted goals in a 10-0 victory over the Wisconsin Badgers in Madison.

Notre Dame's second-ranked squad built a 7-0 lead at half-time en route to its highest goal total since a 10-1 win over Villanova on Nov. 3, 1996.

Defender Jenny Grubb led the Irish onslaught, dishes out four assists in the first half and netting one goal in the second for a game-high six points. Grubb's four first half assists tied a Notre Dame record.

Notre Dame controlled the ball from the start, capturing a 3-0 advantage in the first 10 minutes on goals from Shannon Boxx, Jenny Heft, and Jenny Streiffer.

Senior defender Kate Bobrycki took a feed from Grubb at the 18-49 mark and found the net for her first goal of the season. Irish Lancaster also netted her first goal of the year less than six minutes later to give Notre Dame a 5-0 lead.

Freshmen Monica Gonzalez and Meitri Epstein got in on the action to close out the first half scoring for the visiting Irish.

Both Streiffer and Gonzalez fired in their second goals of the game in the second half as the Blue and Gold upped its record to 13-0-1 on the year.

Notre Dame's defensive anchor, goalkeeper LaKeysha Beene, made one save on the Badgers' only shot of the game.

Sophomore Corey Bennett back from injury. ND prevailed 7-0 advantage in the first 10 minutes on goals from Shannon Boxx, Jenny Heft, and Jenny Streiffer.

Senior co-captain Ryan Turner was the next to score. Turner collected a pass from senior Jon see IRISH/ page 17 at St. Cloud State, October 17, 7 p.m.

at Central Collegiate, October 17, 4 p.m.

volleyball vs. Defender College.

College, Today, 6:30 p.m.

INSIDE

Marlins win NLCS

see page 13

BP, Badin claim victories for interhall

see page 14