A trip to the Bookstore

Sports • 18

Tuesday
APRIL 20, 1999

THE O
The Independent Newspaper Serving Notre Dame and Saint Mary's

VOL XXXII NO. 126 WWW.ND.EDU/~OBSERVER

Damage Control

Erlendson: prophets must 'walk the walk'

By CHRISTINE KRALY Ancient News Editor

Society has a "hunger for great Catholic voices," said Greg Erlendson, editor-in-chief of the weekly Catholic newspaper Our Sunday Visitor, Monday in his lecture on modern-day prophets and the Catholic Church.

"Our community is in need of great Catholic voices, calling us to follow the conduct of our Lord," Erlendson said today's youth is losing the Catholic way of expressing itself. Catholics ages 18-30 tend to express ideas in a generally Christian manner instead of in a particularly Catholic one, he said.

This problem is not the Church's, he said, but rather society's. Erlendson said society faces a task that has lost the sense of Catholic faith. Catholic America has generally distinguishable views and tends to be more "American" than Catholic.

Even people labeled as Catholic become lobbyists, preaching for their own causes, he said.

"Not everyone who 'talks the talk' is a prophet," he said.

Community, celebrities to 'roast' Hesburgh for charity

By DEREK RETCHEr Senior Staff Writer

A roast-style roast of Notre Dame's president emeritus, Father Theodore Hesburgh, will take place 8 p.m. Tuesday night in the Joyce Center to raise money for the Life Treatment Center's annual roast featured Holtz and Coretta Scott King.

"It has to 'walk the walk,'" Erlendson said he is wary of naming someone a prophet who doesn't follow the Church's "timeless standard for prophets."

According to Erlendson, a prophet is not a fortuneteller who predicts some future utopia. A prophet dares us to learn a new language... and see things in a new way, he said.

Southern novelist Walker Percy, Erlendson's personal prophet, was a "modern-day Jeremiah," he said. Percy, who died in 1999 at age 74, experienced early tragedy that led to a change in his life.

Percy's father killed himself when Percy was very young, and his mother died in a car accident when he was only 16. These hard things, he recognized that the most amazing thing about life in the 20th century is that people ceased to be amazed. They ceased to be metaphysical, and Percy expressed this in "crude, Anglo-Saxon words."

The Solutions Center and all OIT computer clusters also have copies of the Norton 2000 package to test PCs. The OIT will make the software convenient, even if it wasn't 2000, creating problems in both hardware and software programs.

Because PCs format dates in the standard two-digit MM/DD/YYYY style, these programs are not 2000, creating problems in both hardware and software programs.

Recent efforts of the Office of Information Technologies (OIT) aim to help students prepare for and avert potential problems concerning the technological crisis of the new millennium, known as Y2K.

Because PC's format dates in the standard two-digit MM/DD/YYYY style, these computers will interpret "00" as 1900, not 2000, creating problems in both hardware and software programs.

Y2K problems

By KATE STEER News Writer

Recent efforts of the Office of Information Technologies (OIT) aim to help students prepare for and avert potential problems concerning the technological crisis of the new millennium, known as Y2K.

Because PC's format dates in the standard two-digit MM/DD/YYYY style, these computers will interpret "00" as 1900, not 2000, creating problems in both hardware and software programs.

Beginning April 19, this software will be available by free download from www.nd.edu/~Y2K.

We got a site license for Symantec's Norton 2000 package to test PCs. The University relies on students to use the residence hall services, and we felt that we owed something to the students to make sure they are Y2K compliant," said Rapagnani.

The Solutions Center and all OIT computer clusters also have copies of the software for students to use.

We realized that students live are complex and complicated, especially with finals coming up, so we are trying to make the software convenient, especially if they pick them up now and use them later," said Larry Rapagnani, assistant...
God’s love for the draft

After watching the NFL draft this past weekend, I have come to one simple conclusion: God cares even more about football than I do.

I had always thought that football was the world’s biggest football fan and that no one loved football more than I did, but apparently, the Big Guy Upstairs also loves football. While watching football, I am a fairly active participant. Ask any of my friends who have watched football with me before and they will tell you that I never sit around and actually intervening in the game. Never will I run into the field and change the outcome of the game. As much as I care about the draft and voice my opinions on draft choices, you won’t find me calling up Bill Cowher and telling him who the Steelers should select.

God apparently doesn’t follow these guidelines. After listening to the comments of some draft picks and coaches, I have concluded that God plays an even bigger role in the draft than Mel Kiper Jr. believes he does.

When Mike Ditka was asked about his role in the draft, he made the up in the draft and select Heisman Trophy Winner Ricky Williams, unlike all others who so-called move “divine intervention.” It seems that Jesus has a special place in his heart for the New Orleans Saints, winning the Super Bowl the previous year.

Ditka wasn’t the only NFL figure to claim an even higher power’s role in his selection. Cecil “The Diesel” Collins attributed his off-the-field problems and eventual death to “divine intervention.” It seems that Jesus has a special place in his heart for the New Orleans Saints, winning the Super Bowl the previous year.

Collins of Louisiana State University, who was a defensive star and, more recently, Louisiana State Prison has been arrested numerous times from violations ranging from drug possession to assaulting a guard. Maybe it’s just me, but I have trouble seeing God’s hand in breaking and entering.

Collins and Ditka’s comments are not rare coming from an NFL personality. Retired defensive tackle Reggie White, who ordained minister, seemed to be on God’s speed dial throughout his NFL career. In addition to enlightenment on the evil of homosexuality, God also told Baggio that it was his divine plan for him to go to Green Bay as a free agent.

Baggio, I hate to break this to you, but God doesn’t care if you played for Green Bay or Tampa Bay.

Now don’t get me wrong, I would love to think that God really cared about football. I would love to believe that God heard my prayer for Jim Saniot to hit that field goal against Texas in Austin, God answered it. But that would be foolish. Saniot’s hit that field goal because he made a great kick, not because God told him to do it.

I hope that God doesn’t care about sports. There are a million more important things in the world like world hunger, AIDS in Africa, and Haiti need God more than the New Orleans Saints and Cecil Collins.

But that won’t stop me from saying an extra Hail Mary if the Irish get in a tight situation next year.
American studies prof receives Lilly grant
Special to The Observer

Paul Wilkes, the Visiting W. Harold and Martha Welch professor of American studies, has received a $190,000 Lilly Endowment grant to study the components common to outstanding Catholic parishes and Protestant congregations in the United States.

Through personal observation, individual surveys and focus groups, Wilkes will analyze parishes and congregations that display characteristics such as a joyful spirit, a welcoming and accessible staff, effective outreach to the greater community, an ability to adapt to members' needs, and a sense of collaboration.

An award-winning author and documentary film producer, Wilkes plans to publish the results of his research in two books, first "The Soul of Great Catholic Parishes," to be followed by "The Soul of Great Protestant Congregations."

Wilkes writes extensively about the role of religious belief in individual lives, as well as the place and impact of religion in public life. He is the author of 13 nonfiction books and one novel, and has been the host, writer, director or producer of seven PBS documentaries. Another book, "Beyond the Walls: Monastic Spirituality for Everyday Life," will be published this fall.

Wilkes' 1990 book, "In Mysterious Ways: The death and Life of a Parish Priest," was a Book of the Month Club selection and won a Christopher Award. Among his television credits is "Six American Families," an acclaimed PBS series for which he was host, writer and associate producer. He is teaching two courses this spring at the University, "American Catholic Prophets" and "Spiritual Biography and Autobiography."

Students defend case win
Special to The Observer

A team of four Notre Dame undergraduate students successfully defended the University's championship in the Deloitte & Touche Foundation National Student Case Study Seminar April 9-10 in Scottsdale, Ariz.

Junior accounting majors Gabriel Alejandro from Miami, Erica Siciliano from Redmond, Wash., Jennifer Steffel from Glen Ellyn, Ill., and Kevin Wietzke from Burbank, Ill., defeated teams from Indiana and Penn State Universities, the Universities of Illinois and Washington, and Florida A&M.

David Bleichhuber, who coincidentally holds a chaired professorship in accounting funded by Deloitte & Touche, served as the team's faculty advisor.

The teams studied a case involving actual accounting problems and were given 20-25 minutes to present solutions to a panel comprised of scholars and Deloitte & Touche professionals.

Teams were judged on the overall quality of their presentations, identification of relevant accounting issues, support for their recommendations, and response to follow-up questions from the panel.

Deloitte & Touche invites the top three teams to return the following year. Notre Dame finished first last year and second in the inaugural competition in 1997.
Erlandson
continued from page 1
said Erlandson.
Erlandson said he has "flirted" with the idea of naming Matt Groening, creator of The Simpsons, as a modern-day prophet.
"What other television show incorporates a preacher, God, the devil, a family who goes to church every week and a main character who sells his soul for five dollars?" he asked.

Hesburgh
continued from page 1
Hesburgh served as president of Notre Dame from 1952-1987. His tenure saw broad growth in the University’s size and stature. Hesburgh also played a prominent public service role in civil rights and international relations.
Hesburgh, 82, participated in local events even before he served as University president. He first came to Notre Dame as an undergraduate, earned his degree in 1934 and joined the priesthood before becoming president.
Students interested in attending "Toastin’ Fr. Ted" can purchase tickets at 7:30 Tuesday night at the Joyce Center for a discount rate of five dollars.
"We’d love to see people support the roast, support the Life Treatment Centers and support Father Ted," Nowak said.

Y2K
continued from page 1

The workshop is just our first attempt at helping students. This way they have all summer to make adjustments," Rapagnani said.
Further efforts will include the mailing distribution of software to all incoming first-year students.
"When January 2000 rolls around, OIT wants students to be able to engage in their academic mission without having to worry about these other issues," said Rapagnani.
"There are a lot of unknowns, and we’re doing our best to help people out, but ultimately, it’s up to the students to pay attention and test their PCs themselves."

Homes for Rent

- Domus Properties has two, five, six and nine bedroom student housing available
- Student neighborhoods close to campus
- Security systems provided
- Well maintained homes
- Maintenance staff on call

Available for the 1999/2000 school year

Contact Kramer (219) 276-7020 or (219) 674-2571 or (219) 233-4509

ROTC Review Ceremony

WHERE: THE LOFTUS CENTER
WHEN: WEDNESDAY
WHO: ARMY, NAVY AND AIR FORCE ROTC

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT FATHER EDWARD MALLOY WILL SPEAK AT THE ANNUAL TRI-MILITARY PRESIDENTIAL REVIEW CEREMONY. THE U.S. NAVY BAND FROM THE GREAT LAKES NAVAL TRAINING CENTER WILL ALSO MAKE AN APPEARANCE.

TUESDAY: 11:30-1:00 P.M. VEGAN LUNCHEON AT THE CSC COFFEEHOUSE, $3 PER PERSON

THURSDAY: 11:30-1:00 P.M. VEGAN LUNCHEON AT THE CSC COFFEEHOUSE, $3 PER PERSON

THURSDAY-SATURDAY: SUB MOVIE AT CUSHING AUDITORIUM: A CIVIL ACTION

SATURDAY: GREENFEST FROM 12-4 P.M. AT STONEHENGE FEATURING CAMPUS BANDS: CHRIS GODDAD, DOC BROWN, HOTEL PRATI, AND FUNK HARMONY PARK

SATURDAY: EARTH DAY MASS AT 5 PM AT THE GROTTO (RAIN LOCATION: FARLEY CHAPEL)

SUNDAY: 11:00A.M. BIKE RIDE LEAVES FROM MAIN CIRCLE.

TREE PLANTING WITH LIVING EARTH REFORESTATION PROJECT AT 1:00 P.M. MEET AT THE CSC.
Fugitive lawyer surrenders

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)--Six weeks after he vanished, a prominent lawyer surrendered today and pleaded innocent to charges of misusing hundreds of thousands of dollars in clients' funds. F. Mac-Buckley, 57, a former federal prosecutor, was released on $200,000 bail and the condition that he immediately enter a psychiatric hospital and keep a locked ward. Couri officials identified Buckley as being here.

Animal parts with a note reading, "You'll see the moment of truth arrived when mar­ ting for Dan Stern, brought Stern's Akita, Zhang dolled his clothes and lay face-down on the lawn. Then eight dogs were brought in, one by one. The city councilor accused of mailing a lamb' s rials would not explain why that condition setup to hurt me, just like when they forced Arribas mailing the package. "It was all a
Tuesday, April 20, 1999

hurt from office," Arribas said.

popular party censure motion that forced her husband from office last November. A Popular Press said. Arribas was accused of sending the

Dog bites hot-dog artist

SAN FRANCISCO

If you smear yourself with paraed hot dogs and invite a bunch of poachers over for a sell you have to expect some problems. That's a lesson performance artist Zhang Huan learned the hard way when a dog taking part in one of his pieces took a bite out of his butt.
Zhang's dog, named Bubu, went to pick up an express branch. A assistant sprinted hot dog purses over all him and sprinkled him with bile. The dog's teeth were broken. Bubu, one by one. The moment of truth arrived when mar-kane, who dabbled as a boxing

Dow

Avila, Spain

A city councilor accused of mailing a lamb's head and a chicken neck with a death threat to a businessman. The businessman's husband was clearly stated on Monday. A judge said there was no proof to link the allegations against Maria Victoria Arribas, whose husband had been the Socialist mayor of San Martin de Pimpollar in central Spain, the state news agency Europa Press said. Arribas was accused of sending the animal parts with a note reading, "I'm pretty em barassed," said McCay. "I was afraid that Buckley might pee on the tree, but he hit him in the head... When Dan found out I didn't take his dog to the beach."

Judge clears suspect in lamb's head death threat

Market Watch: 4/19

DOW JONES

AMEX:

Nasdaq:

NYSE:

S&P 500:

VOLUME LEADERS

10440.53

53.36

2345.64

1.76

64.53

59.02

1258.55

0.39

1,001,910,881

"New' Reichstag symbolizes confidence

Germany's restored parliamentary building officially opened to politicians Monday. The return to Berlin indicates a stronger political and a status democracy.

Germans' role as a "historic responsibility" to revalue the Nazi legacy by fighting repression in

Germany's role as a "historic responsibility" to revalue the Nazi legacy by
fighting repression in

New' Reichstag symbolizes confidence

"Our democracy and our parliament are strong and stable," Schroeder declared as German flags flapped on all four corners of the stately Grune Hundred building. "The move to Berlin is not a break in the continuity of German postwar history.

Yet the dawn of Schroeder's so-called Berlin Republic mixed with unease as some lawmakers as it coincided with Germany's participation in NATO airstrikes on Yugoslavia, its first combat since World War II.

Schroeder, speaking inside the building's glass-walled parliament chamber, defended the era after the end of the Cold War forces as to give Europe a new political definition, "he declared.

While several other political leaders of raised German's dark past more equivocally than Schroeder,
foreign observers said
Germans can take pride in what they've accomplished
since the war.

"It's a very important day
that a democratic parliament returns to the Reichstag for the first time since 1933," said
Ambassador Joseph
Kernblum.

Luciano Violante, speaker of the Italian parliament, sent congratulations. "The unity of Germany at the close of this century is a strength and guarantee for Europe," he said.

Monday's ceremony set the German government
back on the path to Berlin after 20 years in the province western city of Bonn, shifting the nation's capital from eastward to a metropolis 60 miles from the Polish bor-des.

Berlin, Schroeder said, could become "the hinge" of a united continent now also including eastern Europe.

The First German chancellor without personal wartime memories, Schroeder, 55, has been the move's most prominent busting since his election last fall. Parliament returns to Bonn to finish its spring session but will move for good when the government takes up regular business in Berlin in September.

Clinton seeks money for conflict

WASHINGTON

The United States sought NATO support today in block oil from reaching Yugoslavia by sea, as the Clinton administration asked Congress for $6 billion in emergency money for the Kosovo conflict. "There are literally lives hanging in the balance," a
President administration said.

Administration officials proposed boarding and searching ships in the Adriatic suspected of assisting
Yugoslav President Slobodan
Milosevic's war effort against ethnic Albanians in the Serbian province of Kosovo. "We think it's important that, working through the alliance, that we choke off any efforts of oil being brought in from the outside," said
White House spokesman Joe Lockhart.

Clinton discussed developments in the Balkans in a 45-minute phone conversation with Russian President Boris Yeltsin, who told Clinton he decided against sending additional ships into the region "and reaffounced that he will not allow Russia to be drawn into this conflict," Lockhart said. Russia opposes the NATO airstrikes.

The administration's spending package would cover both the U.S. share of the air campaign, which began March 24, and assistance for refugees who have streamed out of Kosovo. It touched off an immediate scramble in Congress as majority-party
Republicans pledged to expand it to most long-range Pentagon needs as well.

House Speaker Dennis Hastert, R-
Ill., called it "shambled" and suggested it would do little more than
"replace bullets for bullets and bombs for bombs spent in Kosovo."

"The Clinton administration has been downsizing the military for the last seven years, and the Kosovo crisis attracts attention of" the political center now also including eastern Europe.

The bulk of the $8.05 billion request, $5.12 billion, would pay for the air campaign itself and related military expenses — through Sept. 30,
the end of the fiscal year, if necessary.

The rest would go largely to refugees aid, with an additional $150 million in aid to front line countries, including Albania and Macedonia, which are among the least stable in the region.

The request also includes $274 million to pay for the deployment of forces for the recent Desert Fox and Desert Thunder operations against Iraq and stopped up patrols in the northern and southern "no-fly zones."

Lockhart said the administration hoped that "the judgment of the Pentagon about what we need will prevail here and we won't get bogged down there."

At the State Department, spokesman
James Rubin said Secretary of State
Madeleine Albright discussed blocking dollar to Yugoslavia with her counterparts over the weekend, while Clinton spoke to French President Jacques Chirac. "We think it is appropriate to look at ways to try to cut off the supplies that fuel that war machine," he said.
U.S. troops bomb post

Two U.S. Marine jets dropped bombs on a lookout post at a remote training ground in Puerto Rico on Monday, killing one civilian and injuring four people.

The two F-18 jets based on the USS John F. Kennedy aircraft carrier were on a night training run over Vieques, an island off the coast of Puerto Rico, at about 7:30 p.m., said Roberto Nelson, spokesman for Roosevelt Roads Naval Station. The Navy base operates the training ground in the U.S. territory.

Their bombs missed a target area and landed near the post where four civilian contractors and one military observer were working. The blasts killed one contractor, who said they received a call from a security guard in the area asking for ambulances soon after the explosions.

The U.S. Navy controls about 75 percent of Vieques for military maneuvers and weapons storage. The island is 21 miles long and four miles wide, located about eight miles east of Puerto Rico.

Residents oppose the use of live munitions there, saying the frequent explosions disturb fishing grounds and have thwarted the island's efforts to attract tourism.

Opponents of the U.S. military presence on the island said the accident had confirmed their worst fears.

"What happened is what for years they have been saying was going to happen," said Robert Rabin, who manages the Conde de Mirasol local history museum.

"Vieques lives under the continual danger that this type of situation will have if the Navy makes a mistake in its bombardment from ships and airplanes."

But Nelson defended the training ground's importance, noting that most of the Navy and Marine aircraft involved in the Kosovo conflict trained there.

"All of those pilots who are in Kosovo have dropped live ordnance in Vieques," Nelson said. "That is the importance of Vieques in this [Kosovo] operation."

Got something to say? Use Observer classifieds.

The delicious BIG KING. It's just like a Big Mac® except it's got 75% more beef. And it's flame broiled.

Interested in writing for news? Call Tim at 1-5323, or stop by the basement of SDH.
Serbs turn away refugees as NATO missiles target cities

Associated Press

BELGRADE
Yugoslavia slammed shut the main crossing point for ethnic Albanian refugees fleeing Kosovo, leaving uncertainty Monday about the fate of the tens of thousands of refugees believed to be on their way to the border. On the diplomatic front, U.N. Secretary-General Kofi Annan scheduled a trip to Moscow next week to discuss the Kosovo conflict. President Bill Clinton and Russian President Boris Yeltsin held a 45-minute telephone conversation on the crisis in the Balkans, their first talks since the air campaign began March 24. Russia opposes the NATO airstrikes.

Tangj, the Serbian Yugoslavia news agency, reported that Rep. James Saxton, was on a mission to Belgrade and had spoken to the Yugoslav foreign minister, Jeffrey Sagarin, a Saxton aide, confirmed that Saxton, a member of the House Armed Services Committee, was in Belgrade, but declined to elaborate on the visit.

On the 27th night of allied bombing, Serbian media reported attacks against a military barrage in Nic and communications relay facilities in Prilike, 50 miles south of Belgrade, and Mount Zlatibor - near the town of Uzice in the west.

The state-run news agency Tanjug said the Prilike relay station was a military-civilian telecommunications facility for interior telephone and satellite television relay.

A Belgrade television station, Politika TV, also said NATO hit a tobacco factory in Nic, setting off a huge fire. Several other missiles struck Casak, an industrial town 60 miles south of Belgrade that has been attacked repeatedly since the air campaign began.

The headquarters of Serbian state television in Belgrade was partially evacuated Monday night because of fears of a NATO attack. NATO has repeatedly accused state television of "spreading lies" about the air campaign.

"Since when are journalists military targets that should be destroyed?" asked Goran Matic, a Serbian official. Serbian television continued operating, but some staff members were sent home along with some foreign television crews that had been using the facilities to transmit reports abroad.

Despite continuing defiance by Yugoslav President Slobodan Milosevic and his military forces in Kosovo, NATO's chief spokesman expressed confidence the alliance's strategy will pay off.

"Since when was a dictator defeated in 24 hours?" Jamie Shea, NATO press chief spokesman, added. "Since when are journalists military targets that should be destroyed?" asked Goran Matic, a Serbian official. Serbian television continued operating, but some staff members were sent home along with some foreign television crews that had been using the facilities to transmit reports abroad.

Despite continuing defiance by Yugoslav President Slobodan Milosevic and his military forces in Kosovo, NATO's chief spokesman expressed confidence the alliance's strategy will pay off.

"Since when was a dictator defeated in 24 hours?" Jamie Shea, NATO press chief spokesman, added. "Since when are journalists military targets that should be destroyed?" asked Goran Matic, a Serbian official. Serbian television continued operating, but some staff members were sent home along with some foreign television crews that had been using the facilities to transmit reports abroad.

Despite continuing defiance by Yugoslav President Slobodan Milosevic and his military forces in Kosovo, NATO's chief spokesman expressed confidence the alliance's strategy will pay off.

"Since when was a dictator defeated in 24 hours?" Jamie Shea, NATO press chief spokesman, added. "Since when are journalists military targets that should be destroyed?" asked Goran Matic, a Serbian official. Serbian television continued operating, but some staff members were sent home along with some foreign television crews that had been using the facilities to transmit reports abroad.

Despite continuing defiance by Yugoslav President Slobodan Milosevic and his military forces in Kosovo, NATO's chief spokesman expressed confidence the alliance's strategy will pay off.
Another Man Waits for Justice on Death Row

I've got a small cross on my wall. It's made of wood from a (local) burial. Below it, an eye-catching poster with a man in dreadlocks reads, "On August 17 they will execute Mumia unless..."

Aaron Kreider

Mumia Abu-Jamal began his FBI file at age 15 for protesting against racist presidential candidate George Wallace. As a teenager, he wrote for the local Black Panther Party newspaper. He continued writing about police brutality, covering telephones down a row of 60 houses. Mumia strong and spiritual organization that the police issues like the Philadelphia police's May 13, 1985 attack (tear gas, 10,000 rounds) of a house of MOVE, a revolutionary Panther Party newspaper. He continued covering the Philadelphia police's May 13, 1985 attack (tear gas, 10,000 rounds) of a house of MOVE, a revolutionary Panther Party newspaper. He continued covering the Philadelphia police's May 13, 1985 attack (tear gas, 10,000 rounds) of a house of MOVE, a revolutionary Panther Party newspaper.

Two were people of color. Judge Sabo is upon police officer Daniel Faulkner beat­ last-ditch attempt or is it the radicals-We also believed and protested. We marched on the U.S. consulate. Without a permit. On the street. And much to my surprise, no one was arrested (and all of our protests were completely non-vio­ lent). The consulate closed for the after­ noon. People were protesting all over the U.S., Canada, Italy, France, Scandinavia and beyond. Everywhere people were mobilizing. I illegally posted downtown Vancouver, covering telephones poles, walls and even a couple bus-stops. We were orga­ nizing a big rally on Aug. 10 as part of a global last­ ditch attempt to stop the execu­ tion. I really thought Mumia was going to die. On Aug. 7, Mumia got a stay. On Aug. 10, Mumia was still on death row, and we marched through downtown Vancouver. I remem­ ber marching down Robson St. (the busiest commercial street in Vancouver) at night with the blaring torches that we'd made by stapling cloth and dipping them in wax. I remember blocking off two intersections, passing out leaflets and getting soaked in the rain. I don't know what impact the 100 prayers I said had, nor that of the 100 or 200 protesters who took over the streets of Vancouver. I do know Mumia is still alive.

Unfortunately, Mumia's latest appeal was denied in October and he may soon be executed. This Saturday a ton of people are going to Philadelphia for the biggest political prisoner protest ever in the U.S. Buses are leaving from everywhere. See if the corporate-controlled media covers it to.

This story is not just about Mumia. It's about the $3,000 people on death row. It's about people of color being disparo­ tionally jailed. It's about approximately 45 percent of prisoners being African American. It's about political prisoners existing in a country that claims to be a democracy (Leonard Peltier anyone?) Why are over a million Americans in fed­ eral jails? It's about one justice system for white rich people and one of injustice and persecution for the poor and people of color. And it's about liberals who are complacent in this oppression through silence.

Mumia might be in jail because he's a revolutionary and because he's black. Probably not because he's pro-life. No matter. Whatever the case, the solution that the pulpits and I share is to over­ throw this racist, sexist, heterosexual, capitalist system that is creating its own Third World within the U.S. by coloniz­ ing, exploiting and KILLING people of color and the poor.

They will execute Mumia and many more Mumias unless...

Revolution now!

Aaron was originally going to write an editorial for the anti-apartheid movement in the power plant explosion, but he decid­ ed he no one would believe it.

The views expressed in this column are those of the author and not necessarily those of The Observer.

"Work as if you were to live a hundred years. Pray as if you were to die tomorrow."

-Benjamin Franklin
Kosovo and the Draft Threat

"If they reinstate the draft, I do not have to go." In light of Kosovo, that question may occur to a few more of Notre Dame's incarcerated women. Let's talk about it.

Some regard the Kosovar campaign as a just war required to stop genocide. Others regard it as another "Wag the Dog" to divert attention from the provisions of the United Nations to the Church and other embarrassments. Whatever the reality, you might ask, "Why should I pay my fees for the line just because some politician says so?"

And, of course, President Hesburgh was the Nation in "aggression" back in 1969; "That shows that war is never a solution of any problem." "Never again war, never aggression. If you want to be brothers, let the arms fall from your hands. A personal weapon is as offensive as an offensive weapon in his hands." But he went on to say, "So long as man remains that weak..."

Chapter 2: Universal peace is not parliaments; it does not make a basic and significant concept of life, but it proclaims the highest and most universal values of life: truth, justice, freedom, love.

Universal pacifism raises a vexed theoretical question. Of more perimence, the selective pacifist refuses to fight, not in all wars, but only in an unjust war. The question is presented in three concepts: "ius ad bellum," determines when recourse to war is permissible. "Ius in bello" relates to the conduct of the just war once it has begun. The Catholic Catechism (1994) specifies the requirements for just war: "the damage inflicted by the aggressor on the nation or community of nations must be lasting, grave, and certain; all other means of putting an end to it [are] impractical or ineffective; a last resort must be available to ensure a serious prospect of success; the use of arms must not produce evils and disorders greater than the evil to be eliminated.;" The "ius in bello" criteria for continuing a war are proportionality and discrimination. Proportionality relates not only to the war itself, which must be for a proportionate good, but also to the use of tactics or weapons. Discrimination prohibits directly intended attacks on noncombatants and mutilating the laity of war, nos. 2312-14.

So what happens if you think the Kosovo campaign, or some other war, is unjust? An unjust war, as St. Thomas teaches, may not be morally binding. The decision of the state on war, as on other questions, however, carries a strong presumption of its justice. The state, whose authority is derived from God, has a duty to defend the community by force. But if it is a just war, not merely an obligation to do its duty to assist in that defense? As the Catholic Catechism has it, "Public authorities... must not produce evils and disorders greater than the evil to be eliminated."

Chapter 3: Those objectors are "obliged to serve... in some other way." It may be practically impossible for conscientious objectors to avoid military service. The Catechism says that a constitutional right to conscientious objection must be respected, but that defense, as St. Thomas teaches, may not be morally binding.

Is Anyone Listening?

I was saddened to read the well-written Viewpoint letter concerning the unsupported firing of the eminently popular faculty member, Professor Blanchard. What most disturbed me as I read the distressing column by my former student was his position that I have read that same letter too many times in this Viewpoint section — letters about the inconsequesnt weight given to student input in student matters.

Because you are an editor of The Observer and the student input was a topic of the Viewpoint section, I submit this 800-word draft of an article for the Viewpoint section of The Observer over the past few years, shows a Monk who is completely indifferent to the majority student and faculty opinion. And more recently, the grossly unjust and unjustified Blanchard firing, which outraged his former students, is just another chapter in this redefinition of the Notre Dame family.

President emeritus Father Theodore Hesburgh is quoted as saying that this University exists for its alumni. Our current president contends that Notre Dame exists for her students. If one or both are true, then why are such fundamental policy decisions made wholly independent of those people who are immediately affected? Based on recent observations, my conclusion is that this university exists not for its students or even its alumni, but for its endowment, its Board of Trustees and for those people sitting behind the desks of redundant namesakes in the corporate labyrinth of Hayes-Healy. I hope I'm wrong.

James O'Connell
Jousseran Haye
Senior
Way Off Campus
April 8, 1999

Attention Seniors!

Interested in writing a column for the senior edition of The Observer?

Submit your 800-word draft to Colleen in the basement of SDH no later than Monday, May 10.

Call 1-5303 with any questions.

Charles Rice
Professor
Law School Faculty
The views in this column are those of the author and not necessarily those of the Observer.
AnTostal '99 soothes campuses with a bit of Hollywood

By MICAELA LARKIN

As spring has arrived in South Bend, bringing the realization that summer is just around the corner. But the idea of the approaching summer is still a distant dream to Notre Dame and Saint Mary's students who still face an onslaught of term papers and finals. The group of events collectively known as AnTostal will mark the end of the final full week of classes and will help students enjoy themselves one more time before the semester ends.

AnTostal has been the last hurrah for students for 30 years. This grand tradition came to Notre Dame, like so many other traditions, from Ireland. The name of the festival derives from the Gaelic term meaning "muster," "pageant" or "array." AnTostal began in Ireland in 1953 as an effort to save the country from its sagging economy and eroding patriotism. For the Irish, it was a chance to have a good time while reawakening the Irish culture and creating unity and a sense of home among the Irish people. The tradition started in Northern Indiana as a way to celebrate unity and a sense of home here for one last time before the craziness of finals week. Over the years, AnTostal has continued to combat lethargy and apathy with heavy doses of fun and camaraderie.

This tradition has continued at Saint Mary's as well, in the form of Thursday's SMC Tostal, which will take place on the Saint Mary's Library Green.

AnTostal '99, with the theme of "AnTostal Goes to Hollywood," will carry the tradition into the new millennium. Tobin Finwall, 1999 AnTostal coordinator, said that Notre Dame students should feel proud of this unique tradition. "We are one of the few universities that has a long-standing tradition like AnTostal," she said. "(I hope) that the students continue to enjoy AnTostal for years to come.

One change for this year is that AnTostal is an action-packed, three-day event instead of the usual week-long event. This change is mainly due to budget constraints. Each day celebrates a different aspect of Hollywood.

Wednesday is Comedy Day. The fun begins Wednesday with Comedy Day. A campus "Singled Out" game will take place at Fieldhouse Mall at 4 p.m. Playing "Singled Out" during AnTostal has become somewhat of a minor campus tradition. This time around, Matt Quirion and Kathy Klos will emcee the event, attempting to set up "Singled Out" guests Justin Dunn, Evan Oliver, Lindsay Williams and Melissa Trujillo. In addition to the entertainment of the game, Troop ND and First Class Steppers, which includes newly picked leprechaun Mike Brown, will also perform. The theme of Wednesday's meal in both Notre Dame dining halls will be circus dinner. Cotton candy and crazy decorations will create a comedic atmosphere that students have often enjoyed during circus luncheons. Instead of the almost psychedelic circus music playing over and over again, students will be treated to the soundtracks from comedies like "Austin Powers." The evening will come to a close with a free showing of the comedy classic "National Lampoon's Animal House" in Cushing Auditorium.

Sci-Fi Day and Horror Night will provide students with exciting diversions Thursday afternoon and evening. Galactic Café will take place at the Reckers patio from 4 to 6 p.m. The Galactic Café will feature campus bands, prizes, a dress up-as-someone-famous contest and of course a little "Intergalactic" Beatrice Roys. The Meteors, who hail from Planet Keenan, will perform. The Dillon Hall band Sexual Chocolate is also scheduled to play.

Throughout the afternoon, students can participate in such games as a haggle run, a climbing wall and hippity-hoppa bouncy balls. Music will also be played throughout the day and into the evening. SMC Tostal wraps up with a showing of "Armageddon" at 10 p.m.

Movie Soundtracks Day on Friday wraps up AnTostal, which like many other great Hollywood things is a trilogy this year. A giant laser tag arena with the "latest in laser tag" technology will be near Crown-Phillips and Cavanaugh Halls. From 2 to 8 p.m., students will have the opportunity to test their skills while listening to blasting music soundtracks, of course. Great soundtracks will also provide the music for students at the dining halls.

The week comes to an end with a dance at Nefert Center. Admission will be free for those arriving between 11 p.m. and midnight. This hour will be free of charge. After midnight, there will be a cost of $1 to get into the dance. The dance will continue until 2 a.m., and will be transformed into a video dance party. There will be cameras, screens and all kinds of music for students to enjoy the end of the semester.

Spring is here and finals are on the horizon, but students have the chance to put their worries and work aside to celebrate this final time through the events of AnTostal. So put those books and assignments aside and go out and enjoy some Hollywood action during this year's AnTostal.
GOT NOTHING TO DO?

HATE STUDYING?

RELAX THE SOUL WITH SOME THEATER, MOVIES AND MUSIC.

THEATER

April 22
ND Opera presents Francis Poulenc’s Dialogues of the Carmelites (in English)
Washington Hall, 7:30 p.m.

April 23-24
Opera: Viva La Mamma
Little Theater, Saint Mary’s, 8 p.m.

May 5
Snap Entertainment presents The Devil Made Me Do It
O’Laughlin Auditorium, Saint Mary’s, 8 p.m.

MOVIES

April 22
Armageddon
SMC Tostal event, Library Green, 10 p.m.

April 22-23
Enemy of the State
Library Green, Saint Mary’s, 10 p.m.

April 22-24
A Civil Action
Cushing Auditorium 8 p.m., 10:30 p.m.
(April 22, 10:30 p.m. only)

April 29-May 1
Stepmom
Cushing Auditorium 8 p.m., 10:30 p.m.
(April 29, 10:30 p.m. only)

MUSIC

April 21
Moreau Chamber Ensemble
Little Theater, Saint Mary’s, 7:30 p.m.

April 25
Brass Ensemble and Woodwind Ensemble
Spring Concert
Band Building, 3 p.m.

April 29
Notre Dame Symphony Orchestra
Spring Concert
Washington Hall, 8 p.m.

April 29
Saint Mary’s Women’s Choir and Collegiate Choir
Little Theater, Saint Mary’s, 7:30 p.m.

May 1
South Bend Symphony Orchestra
Concert
O’Laughlin Auditorium, Saint Mary’s, 8 p.m.
The Charlotte Hornets extended their winning streak to eight games and continued their incredible turnaround, moving within a half-game of a playoff spot Monday night with a 120-113 victory over the New Jersey Nets.

David Wesley had a three-point play and a three-point basket in the final 1:49 as the Hornets (20-20), who lost right off their first nine games, reached 580 for the first time this season.

Ricky Davis had 27 points and 13 assists for New Jersey, which was eliminated from the playoff race. Keith Van Horn added 26 points, but none in the fourth quarter, and Lumie Ferrell had a career-high 17 points and 15 rebounds.

After being down by as many as 13 points in the third quarter, the Nets closed the gap in one early point in the fourth quarter and they were still within 94-92 after Kerry Kittles slammed the rebound of his own missed foul shot.

Wesley then took over. He converted a three-point play after Ferrell was called for foul driving on his drive, then came back downhill seconds later and hit a three-pointer for a 100-92 lead with 11:71 to go.

Classifieds

NOTICES

       .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....   .....
Mustilli wins sabre at National Championships

By MIKE CONNOLLY
Assistant Sports Editor

Versatility (n.) — 1. Being competent in many things 2. Nicole Mustilli

Perhaps no one else personifies versatility quite as much as Mustilli. The senior from South Orange, N.J., has proven herself in all three weapons.

As a bulb, she holds the seventh-highest career winning percentage in Irish history. Her 69 wins as a freshman rank her 10th in single season wins.

Her epee career is even more distinguished. Captaining the epee squad this past season, she earned distinguished. Captaining the epee team in order to spread the talent. Mustilli was at the National Championship.

Despite the pressure of such a high-profile tournament, Mustilli defeated Sue Bartholomew 15-6 to win the overall title.

"I put no pressure on myself," she said. "I had no expectations. I entered the tournament as high-profile tournament, Mustilli. The senior from South Orange, N.J., has proven herself competent in many things.

"I wanted to have fun," she said. "I had no expectations. I entered the tournament as high-profile tournament, Mustilli. The senior from South Orange, N.J., has proven herself competent in many things."

Mustilli, however, has never shied away from a challenge. Due to her style which she describes as being full of "a lot of heart and a lot of aggressive," she has met every challenge in her fencing career and excelled. Her success is impart due to her determination.

"She doesn't ever give up on herself," foil captain Nicole Paulina said. "No matter what happens, she always has a smile and is ready for the next bout. She is very dedicated and works harder than anyone I know."

After having only fenced for four years, Mustilli arrived at Notre Dame and immediately made an impact in one of the top collegiate fencing programs in the country. Teaming with classmates Sara Walsh, Myriah Brown and Paulina for 274 wins in a single season, Mustilli proved that she could succeed at the collegiate level.

While she was mainly a foil fencer in high school, she had begun fencing both epee and sabre near the end of her prep career. Between her freshman and sophomore seasons, she was called upon by the team to switch from foil to epee. With Walsh and Brown both earning All-American honors as freshmen, she became clear that the full team had a solid foundation for four years.

Thus, Mustilli was moved to the epee team in order to spread out the talent. Mustilli was at first reluctant to make the transition.

"That was a really hard decision for me because I kind of felt I was giving up and not sticking with what I had come here to fence," she said. "I didn't really know how it was going to go. I was a little bit harder for me to fence as well. There was a lot more pressure to fence well in epee."

The pressure of a new weapon did not seem to effect Mustilli on the strip where she led the epee team with 84 wins — good for third place finish in the NCAA tournament.

In her first trip to the tournament, she finished fourth and earned a spot in the World Championships. Since she entered the tournament as high-profile tournament, Mustilli. The senior from South Orange, N.J., has proven herself competent in many things.

"I really took control of her squad this year and really made them come together as a team," Paulina said. "They had a lot of problems but they fought through them and really did well in the end."

Closing her career with 304 career wins — second all-time at Notre Dame — Mustilli will be remembered as not only a great fencer, but also as a person who always put the team first and gave the Irish fencing their best chance for success.

"The pressure of a new weapon did not seem to effect Mustilli on the strip where she led the epee team with 84 wins — good for third place finish in the NCAA tournament."

"I really took control of her squad this year and really made them come together as a team," Paulina said. "They had a lot of problems but they fought through them and really did well in the end."

Closing her career with 304 career wins — second all-time at Notre Dame — Mustilli will be remembered as not only a great fencer, but also as a person who always put the team first and gave the Irish fencing their best chance for success.
Deeter qualifies for NCAA’s at Mt. SAC meet

The Observer Staff Report

The men’s and women’s track and field teams saw both ends of the barometer last weekend. While selected athletes traveled to California to compete in meets at Pomona-Pitzer, Long Beach State and Mt. San Antonio College, the remaining competitors dealt with the cold weather responsible for the cancellation of the Pac-10 Invitational at Indiana State.

Sprinters and hurdlers competed at the Pomona meet Friday.

Junior Chris Cochran competed in the 400-meter dash, running a time of 48.03 seconds, close to his personal best. In the 200-meters, junior Marshaun West continued his successful season, equaling his personal-best time of 53.74 seconds in the 400.

At Pomona, Schmiedt beat her personal best in the 400 hurdles, placing second at 1:04.41. The time was a school record and automatically qualified her for the NCAA championships.

“It was a really exciting race because there were lots of professionals in the race,” said Deeter. “Basically I drafted off of them. My teammates cheering on the sidelines also helped a lot.”

On the final day of competition Sunday, Antonio Arce capped off the distance team’s great weekend with a victory in the 1500. His time of 3:47.23 is his best so far this season.

In the field events, three Irish athletes made the trip. Freshman Dore DeBartolo placed ninth in the discus at Mt. SAC, throwing 138 feel, 10 inches. An possibly devastating development arose over All-American pole-vaulter Mike Brown’s pole. Apparently, the team’s airliner lost his seven-foot-long piece of luggage. Using a replacement pole, Brown was able to clear the 16-foot, 11-inch mark, well below his outdoor best of 17 feet, 5 1/2 inches.

The final competitor of the weekend was perhaps the Irish’s most successful. High jumper Jennifer Engelhardt won at Mt. SAC Sunday with a jump of 6 feet, 3 1/4 inches, over two inches higher than her previous best.

“I’m really excited about it,” said Engelhardt, “I didn’t sleep much last night.”

The 13-team invitational at Indiana State was to be a final chance for some athletes to put up times before Saturday’s Drake Relays and the Big East Championships next weekend.

Instead, these athletes received e-mail and voice-mail messages informing them that the weather had earned them a weekend of rest.

Survival outside the Dome

Stories from Notre Dame Off-Campus Students

Are you and your friends planning to move off-campus next year? Along with the excitement and new freedoms you will experience have you thought about:

- What you will do for food when you don’t know how to cook?
- What will happen if you get cited by the police for a loud party?
- How living off campus will effect your academics?
- What you will do if your landlord sues you?
- How you are going to get along living with 8 other people?
- How you will get back and forth to campus without a car?

These are just some of the topics that will be discussed at an Off Campus Student Panel. Come and bring questions! Find out what life is really like outside of the Residence Halls.

April 21, 1999
7:00 p.m.
The Foster Room - LaFortune Student Center
Irish take two from defending champion Eagles

By MATT OLIVA
Sports Writer

The Notre Dame softball team defeated defending Big East champion Boston College twice on Saturday by scores of 7-0 and 8-1. The two losses were the first for the Eagles at Notre Dame’s Ivy Field and moved the Irish record to 30-16 and a perfect 8-0 conference record. The two losses dropped BC’s record to 14-16, 3-3 in the conference.

Game one looked to be a pitcher’s duel, as it matched Notre Dame’s Jennifer Sharron, last year’s Big East pitcher of the year, against Boston College’s Mary Dietz, who was picked as the Big East preseason pitcher of the year. Sharron (12-6) worked the first five innings for the Irish, allowing no runs and only two hits. She also had five strikeouts, before being relieved by Michelle Moschel, who pitched the final two innings to preserve the victory and shutout.

Dietz was not as fortunate, as she only lasted two and one-third innings while giving up five runs of nine hits. Brooke Shull, who relieved Dietz in the third, allowed only two more runs for the rest of the game.

The Irish jumped on the board right away, by scoring three runs in the bottom of the first. Jarrah Myers hit a two-out single with the bases loaded scoring Jenny Kriech from third. Sharron then followed with a double to right center, scoring two more runs. The Irish added one more run in the second, one in the third, and two in the sixth for what was eventually a 7-0 win.

Rightfielder Jenny Kriech went 4-for-4 in the game with one BBI, while shortstop Mel Alkire was 3-for-3 with one RBI for the Irish.

“We got after Boston College right away and Jenny Kriech had a great day,” said Sharron. “We have a young group of freshmen that are really contributing for us. We came out very intense. We were focused and driven, I think we set a tone for the rest of the conference.”

In game two, Angela Bessolo (10-5) picked up the victory for the Irish by pitching five innings, allowing only one run on five hits. Moschel once again came in to pitch the final two scoreless innings and preserve the game for Notre Dame.

Boston College scored first in the game by breaking through with a run in the top of the second inning. Notre Dame then countered by picking up two runs in the bottom of the inning. Kathleen Hoag hit a single to right field with runners on second and third to tie the game at one. Lizzy Lemire then scored from third on a sac-fly by pinch-hitter Sarah Kirkman.

In the fifth inning, the Irish added five runs off BC pitcher Gretchen Thompson. She was removed after registering only one out in the fifth and was credited with the loss. Brooke Shull again came in to pitch the final innings of the game and allowed only one more run to the Irish.

Kriech, Amy Laboe, Kris McCleary and Rebecca Eimon each had two hits for the Irish. The Irish totaled 15 runs on 27 hits against the Eagles. They also added five stolen bases, including two by Eimon.

“We played two great games and they were team wins,” said Sharron. “They [Boston College] were the preseason favorites and we beat them pretty well. Hopefully it will intimidate the rest of the conference. We have eight more conference games left and we are undoubtedly the team to beat.”

The Irish game that was scheduled for Sunday against DePaul was postponed due to rain. It has not been rescheduled yet. Notre Dame will host Loyola (Chicago) on Tuesday for a doubleheader.

Recycle
The Observer
By GENE BRTALIK

After beating up on lower opponents this season on route to an 8-3 record, the Notre Dame women's lacrosse could not come up with upset victories last weekend, losing to No. 3 Duke, 14-5, and No. 16 Yale, 14-10.

The team's record dropped to 8-5 with two games remaining.

Facing their second ranked opponent in less than a week, the Irish looked to correct the mistakes they had made against Vanderbilt and came out ready in the first half.

Duke built an early 3-0 lead with 13 minutes, 9 seconds to go in the half but managed only one goal for the rest of the half. Notre Dame had several chances to score in the opening moments but were turned away by Duke goalie Shannon Shaney.

After Notre Dame's leading scorer Lael O'Shaughnessy put her team on the scoreboard, the Irish shut down Duke's attack and closed the gap between the teams to 4-3 with 45 seconds left in the half.

Shaney then stonewalled an Irish free position shot with nine seconds left to preserve Duke's 4-3 lead into halftime.

"The way we played in the first half is good if we can play with the top teams in the country," said Irish head coach Tracy Coyne.

In the second half, though, the Bulldogs scored two goals by O'Shaughnessy and Maura Igoe.

Yale's Kate Flatley then traded goals with O'Shaughnessy to tie the game at 3-3.

Yale went on to score four goals, taking a 7-3 lead, but Callahan answered with two goals to cut into the lead.

Rain then made playing conditions almost impossible. Yale scored during the delay, taking an 8-5 lead into halftime.

As soggy weather continued, referees ordered players to finish the game at the Loftus Sports Center. When the game resumed, Notre Dame scored quickly and cut the deficit to two goals, but Yale responded with two of its own goals, making the score 10-6.

The Bulldogs and Irish went back and forth for the next 20 minutes, ending in a 14-10 final. Notre Dame's biggest deficit was the Irish have incurred to a ranked team since losing 19-5 to Duke last year, 18-11 to Vanderbilt last Tuesday and 14-5 to Duke Friday.

With a little under eight minutes remaining in the game, Notre Dame captain Kerry Callahan raced the ball on the right side of the goal and with a quick move to her left blew past her defender, putting the ball into the back of the net for the 26th straight game.

Both teams traded goals and the final horn sounded, and Duke emerged with a 14-5 victory.

"Duke finished their scoring chances better in the second half and showed why they are the third-ranked team in the country," said Coyne.

Sunday, the Irish looked to stop their two-game losing streak as they took on Yale. The Bulldogs scored two goals in the first 50 seconds, but the Irish rallied back with goals by O'Shaughnessy and Maura Igoe.

Yale's Kate Flatley then traded goals with O'Shaughnessy to tie the game at 3-3.

Yale went on to score four goals, taking a 7-3 lead, but Callahan answered with two goals to cut into the lead.

Rain then made playing conditions almost impossible. Yale scored during the delay, taking an 8-5 lead into halftime.

As soggy weather continued, referees ordered players to finish the game at the Loftus Sports Center. When the game resumed, Notre Dame scored quickly and cut the deficit to two goals, but Yale responded with two of its own goals, making the score 10-6.

The Bulldogs and Irish went back and forth for the next 20 minutes, ending in a 14-10 final. Notre Dame's biggest deficit was the Irish have incurred to a ranked team since losing 19-5 to Duke last year, 18-11 to Vanderbilt last Tuesday and 14-5 to Duke Friday.

With a little under eight minutes remaining in the game, Notre Dame captain Kerry Callahan raced the ball on the right side of the goal and with a quick move to her left blew past her defender, putting the ball into the back of the net for the 26th straight game.

Both teams traded goals and the final horn sounded, and Duke emerged with a 14-5 victory.

"Duke finished their scoring chances better in the second half and showed why they are the third-ranked team in the country," said Coyne.

Sunday, the Irish looked to stop their two-game losing streak as they took on Yale. The Bulldogs scored two goals in the first 50 seconds, but the Irish rallied back with goals by O'Shaughnessy and Maura Igoe.

Yale's Kate Flatley then traded goals with O'Shaughnessy to tie the game at 3-3.

Yale went on to score four goals, taking a 7-3 lead, but Callahan answered with two goals to cut into the lead.

Rain then made playing conditions almost impossible. Yale scored during the delay, taking an 8-5 lead into halftime.

As soggy weather continued, referees ordered players to finish the game at the Loftus Sports Center. When the game resumed, Notre Dame scored quickly and cut the deficit to two goals, but Yale responded with two of its own goals, making the score 10-6.

The Bulldogs and Irish went back and forth for the next 20 minutes, ending in a 14-10 final. Notre Dame's biggest deficit was the Irish have incurred to a ranked team since losing 19-5 to Duke last year, 18-11 to Vanderbilt last Tuesday and 14-5 to Duke Friday.

E very year, a lot of people make a huge mistake on their taxes. They wind up sending Uncle Sam money they could be saving for retirement.

Fortunately, that's a mistake you can avoid with SRAs—tax-deferred annuities from TIAA-CREF. SRAs not only ease your current tax bite, they offer an easy way to build retirement income—especially for the "extras" that your pension and Social Security benefits may not cover. Because your contributions are made in pretax dollars, you pay less in taxes now. And since earnings on your SRAs are tax deferred, your money works even harder for you.

Today, we offer other before- and after-tax financial solutions, including IRAs and mutual funds. They're backed by the same investment expertise, low expenses, and personal service that have made TIAA-CREF the choice of America's educational and research community.

Why write off the chance for a more rewarding retirement? Stop by your benefits office or call us at 1 800 842-2776 and find out how TIAA-CREF SRAs can help you enjoy happier returns.

www.tiaa-cref.org
Notre Dame men place ninth at Ohio State tourney

By GENE BRTALIK
Sports Writer

As the Notre Dame golf team played in one of its last tournaments of the year, it looked to its senior players to lead it in the right direction.

Unfortunately, the squad did not get the kind of support it had expected from other players, as the Irish fell two spots in the final day of the Ohio State Kepler intercollegiate and finished ninth in the 15-team field.

The team was led by two seniors, Willie Kent and Brad Hardin. Hardin was coming off last week's second-place finish at the Marshall Invitational and led the Irish to a tied for seventh after the first day by shooting a 76 and 75. Kent shot a 152 and was just seven strokes off the lead. The Irish stood four strokes out of fourth place.

Unfortunately, Kent was the only one who shot his lowest round of the tournament that day, earning a 74. The other four members averaged 79, resulting in the drop to seventh place for the Irish.

Kent's final round 74 gave him a total score of 228 and a 13th-place finish, five strokes out of second place. Hardin finished in 14th with a 224 after a final round 77.

If the Irish want to qualify for NCAA tournament for the first time since 1996, they will have to finish within the top three in their remaining events and make the NCAA committee members into believers.

Women's Track and Field

Belles make statement at Taylor Invitational

By MOLLY McVOY
Assistant Sports Editor

The St. Mary's track team proved it can compete against Division I, II and III schools at Saturday's Taylor Invitational.

"The weather was not great but the performances were superb," said head coach Larry Szczewkowski. "The meet was very exciting to watch."

No team score was given, but individual Belles had very strong performances.

Junior Allison Treloar, undeated in the MIAA, continued to be unbeatable, winning the javelin with a throw of 115 feet, 10 1/2 inches.

"I usually don't think about it. I just throw," Treloar said of her strategy.

Junior AshleyDickerson placed sixth in the discus with a throw of 109 feet, 8 inches and placed sixth in the discus with a distance of 32 feet, 8 inches and fifth in the 100 hurdles with a time of 16.7 seconds.

The Belles will run at Defiance College Saturday. While the Belles are ranked behind Defiance, the teams are both 1-5 on the season in league play.

"We worked well as a team," said sophomore Tara Langman. "Our team work is unbelievable," said assistant coach Larry Szczewkowski. "We have finishe with in the top three in their remaining events and make the NCAA committee members into believers.

Women's Track and Field

1999 Hammerin' Irish Summer Blitz Build

Interested in Volunteering this summer?

Notre Dame Habitat for Humanity will be building houses in the South Bend area from Sunday, June 20th to Friday, June 25th and we need YOUR HELP to make this build possible. We will be working side by side with Notre Dame Alumni and South Bend residents to build FIVE HOUSES IN ONE WEEK!

This will truly be an exciting event! The cost for this event is $120, which includes room, board, and materials. If you are interested in participating or would like more information, please call the ND Habitat office at 1-3066 and leave your name and number.
"They pulled a zone on us and we haven’t had much success so early in the game. The No. 2 defense has a lot of experience with that type of defense, but once we started moving the ball around quickly things started flowing a little better."

Touloukian said Godish. "We stepped it up with our defense and got things under control." Fourth-ranked Chastity Belt started off slowly in its match-up with unranked Team 136. Mark Godish, Tim Monahan, Todd Titus, Dan Kirzoder and Dan O’Leary had trouble early, allowing Team 136 to build a 4-1 lead. Settling down after several early turnovers, the chosen tied the game at five and never looked back.

"Switching to man-to-man was key," said Godish. "We stopped it up with our defense and got things under control." Titus led the offensive attack with eight baskets and Monahan followed right behind with seven.

Godish was a force on the inside with seven rebounds and two stuffs. Sixth-ranked The Chosen started off strong in its match-up with unrated Team 15. Repeated turnovers left the game scoreless for seven minutes. Team 15 with Errol Rove, Jordan Banks and Scottie D. were aggressive on the boards and quick on defense, hanging with the ranked team for much of the first half. Chastity Belt with Coley Brady, Kevin McLean, Al Altman, Dan Irving and Jared Palmer, eventually slowed down, controlled the ball and pulled ahead for an 11-5 lead at the half. McLean’s outside shot was on the mark as he scored nine points to lead Chastity Belt’s offense. Irving had a big game defensively, coming up with three steals and eight rebounds. Chastity Belt’s tight defense and domination on the boards was enough to give them a 21-12 win.

The round of 32 kicks off tonight at 7 p.m. on the Student basketball courts.

---

Bookstore Basketball XXVIII

Contest

- Primetime vs. Instructional Video
- Keyplay.com vs. Mourning Wood
- Malicious Prosecution vs. Grundle
- Versatility vs. Jumbalaya
- Whoaavey! vs. Nunc Dinitiss
- The Chosen vs. Punching Clown
- Watch for the Hook vs. Chastity Belt
- Majestics vs. Pass the Ball
- Robert Don’t Feel Bad vs. Moneyballs
- Coco-Butter vs. Minor’s Magnums
- Show Me the Money vs. Wax
- License to Thrill vs. Seth Green
- Thugs vs. E. G. O.
- Chanel vs. Mue-Tang Clan
- Burn and Shoot vs. What
- Nylon Strokers vs. Nelson’s
- Deitrich came up big with five points and Schrenkel added four. More dropped in two baskets to seal the win.

Sixth-ranked The Chosen started off slowly in its match-up with unrated Team 136. Mark Godish, Tim Monahan, Todd Titus, Dan Kirzoder and Dan O’Leary had trouble early, allowing Team 136 to build a 4-1 lead. Settling down after several early turnovers, the chosen tied the game at five and never looked back.

"Switching to man-to-man was key," said Godish. "We stepped it up with our defense and got things under control." Titus led the offensive attack with eight baskets and Monahan followed right behind with seven.

Godish was a force on the inside with seven rebounds and two stuffs. Sixth-ranked The Chosen started off strong in its match-up with unrated Team 15. Repeated turnovers left the game scoreless for seven minutes. Team 15 with Errol Rove, Jordan Banks and Scottie D. were aggressive on the boards and quick on defense, hanging with the ranked team for much of the first half. Chastity Belt with Coley Brady, Kevin McLean, Al Altman, Dan Irving and Jared Palmer, eventually slowed down, controlled the ball and pulled ahead for an 11-5 lead at the half. McLean’s outside shot was on the mark as he scored nine points to lead Chastity Belt’s offense. Irving had a big game defensively, coming up with three steals and eight rebounds. Chastity Belt’s tight defense and domination on the boards was enough to give them a 21-12 win.

The round of 32 kicks off tonight at 7 p.m. on the Student basketball courts.

---

We Want You!!

Education & Communication, Office of Information Technologies, is looking for a few good students for summer employment in the areas of office assistance and training assistance. Great working environment - no weekends or evenings!

If you are planning to be around this summer and feel you meet the below qualifications, please stop by the office in Room G001A, CCMB and ask Sandra for an application.

Training Assistant

- good computer skills (Mac & Windows)
- well organized
- detail oriented
- teaching skills helpful
- ability to update web pages
- ability to work independently
- excellent verbal and written communication skills
- likes to work with people

Office Help

- typing and computer entry skills
- well organized
- likes to work with people
- customer focused
- good phone skills
- will help with the summer training programs, including the preparation of instructor materials

---

Charity Run to Benefit the RED CROSS

Sunday, April 25, 1999

@ 2 p.m.

Sponsored by

US ND COM

United States Notre Dame Command

ARMY

5k

10k

NAVY

MARINES

$8 includes t-shirt & refreshments

($10 race day)

Register: Monday, April 19
Tuesday, April 20
Lunchtime @ LaFortune
Dinner time @ NDH/SDH
- or - @ Rec Sports Desk

CONGRATULATIONS! LEWIS HALL

1998-1999 Hall of the Year!

A special thanks to our hall council and hall officers:

Colleen Beavino and Rosemary Sage, co-presidents
Mari Pyle, treasurer
Becca Mitsch, secretary and Becky Magee, assistant rector

Thanks for all of your hard work!
The Observer • TODAY

CROSSWORD

ACROSS

1. Not shut tight
2. Royal crown
3. D.K. in any order
4. Like Silver's now
5. Up to
6. "Oop's!"
7. Green salad ingredient
8. Dolly, for one
9. Tear
10. RAMSEYS
11. Schencking opera "Moses lidded...
12. "Boosa Basia" singer
13. POWELLS
14. Or: in a Psychology

DOWN

1. Landlord of politics
2. One of the seven tons
3. It's just for openers
4. Arouse
5. Popular interjection: destination
6. Not on the shore
7. Heaps and help
8. Zest
9. Teas's刘备 in "Tess of the "
10. Hearing-related
11. Ben Hur, e.g.
12. Deduct from
13. Fugitive with Fido
14. Roth offerings
15. Groucho's expression
16. Twist or stomp
17. Poker player

SOLUTION

"Crossing Legs Will Save the Day!" Check out these brochures I made.

THIS NEW PRODUCT WILL ALLOW US TO DOMINATE THE MARKET!

BUT WE DON'T MAKE OUR SALES PRODUCT SO FAR.

SLURRED SPEECH

THAT WON'T HAPPEN TO US.

SLURRED SPEECH

I THINK ABOUT IT FOR A SEC, DAD. I'LL DO MY JOURNAL.

BETE! WHAT'S THIS "SEC" MAY TAKE A WHILE. LET ME SEE: FILL MY SIA.

THE MARKETING DEPARTMENT SAVES THE DAY! CHECK OUT THESE BROCHURES I MADE.

CROSSWORD

1. Not shut tight
2. Royal crown
3. D.K. in any order
4. Like Silver's now
5. Up to
6. "Oop's!"
7. Green salad ingredient
8. Dolly, for one
9. Tear
10. RAMSEYS
11. Schencking opera "Moses lidded...
12. "Boosa Basia" singer
13. POWELLS
14. Or: in a Psychology

DOWN

1. Landlord of politics
2. One of the seven tons
3. It's just for openers
4. Arouse
5. Popular interjection: destination
6. Not on the shore
7. Heaps and help
8. Zest
9. Teas's刘备 in "Tess of the "
10. Hearing-related
11. Ben Hur, e.g.
12. Deduct from
13. Fugitive with Fido
14. Roth offerings
15. Groucho's expression
16. Twist or stomp
17. Poker player

SOLUTION

"Crossing Legs Will Save the Day!" Check out these brochures I made.

THIS NEW PRODUCT WILL ALLOW US TO DOMINATE THE MARKET!

BUT WE DON'T MAKE OUR SALES PRODUCT SO FAR.

SLURRED SPEECH

THAT WON'T HAPPEN TO US.

SLURRED SPEECH

I THINK ABOUT IT FOR A SEC, DAD. I'LL DO MY JOURNAL.

BETE! WHAT'S THIS "SEC" MAY TAKE A WHILE. LET ME SEE: FILL MY SIA.

THE MARKETING DEPARTMENT SAVES THE DAY! CHECK OUT THESE BROCHURES I MADE.

CROSSWORD

1. Not shut tight
2. Royal crown
3. D.K. in any order
4. Like Silver's now
5. Up to
6. "Oop's!"
7. Green salad ingredient
8. Dolly, for one
9. Tear
10. RAMSEYS
11. Schencking opera "Moses lidded...
12. "Boosa Basia" singer
13. POWELLS
14. Or: in a Psychology

DOWN

1. Landlord of politics
2. One of the seven tons
3. It's just for openers
4. Arouse
5. Popular interjection: destination
6. Not on the shore
7. Heaps and help
8. Zest
9. Teas's刘备 in "Tess of the "
10. Hearing-related
11. Ben Hur, e.g.
12. Deduct from
13. Fugitive with Fido
14. Roth offerings
15. Groucho's expression
16. Twist or stomp
17. Poker player

SOLUTION

"Crossing Legs Will Save the Day!" Check out these brochures I made.

THIS NEW PRODUCT WILL ALLOW US TO DOMINATE THE MARKET!

BUT WE DON'T MAKE OUR SALES PRODUCT SO FAR.

SLURRED SPEECH

THAT WON'T HAPPEN TO US.

SLURRED SPEECH

I THINK ABOUT IT FOR A SEC, DAD. I'LL DO MY JOURNAL.

BETE! WHAT'S THIS "SEC" MAY TAKE A WHILE. LET ME SEE: FILL MY SIA.

THE MARKETING DEPARTMENT SAVES THE DAY! CHECK OUT THESE BROCHURES I MADE.

CROSSWORD

1. Not shut tight
2. Royal crown
3. D.K. in any order
4. Like Silver's now
5. Up to
6. "Oop's!"
7. Green salad ingredient
8. Dolly, for one
9. Tear
10. RAMSEYS
11. Schencking opera "Moses lidded...
12. "Boosa Basia" singer
13. POWELLS
14. Or: in a Psychology

DOWN

1. Landlord of politics
2. One of the seven tons
3. It's just for openers
4. Arouse
5. Popular interjection: destination
6. Not on the shore
7. Heaps and help
8. Zest
9. Teas's刘备 in "Tess of the "
10. Hearing-related
11. Ben Hur, e.g.
12. Deduct from
13. Fugitive with Fido
14. Roth offerings
15. Groucho's expression
16. Twist or stomp
17. Poker player

SOLUTION

"Crossing Legs Will Save the Day!" Check out these brochures I made.

THIS NEW PRODUCT WILL ALLOW US TO DOMINATE THE MARKET!

BUT WE DON'T MAKE OUR SALES PRODUCT SO FAR.

SLURRED SPEECH

THAT WON'T HAPPEN TO US.

SLURRED SPEECH

I THINK ABOUT IT FOR A SEC, DAD. I'LL DO MY JOURNAL.

BETE! WHAT'S THIS "SEC" MAY TAKE A WHILE. LET ME SEE: FILL MY SIA.
Irish look to claw Wolverines in neutral-site game

By ANTHONY BIANCO
Assistant Sports Editor

With a 28-9 record boosting it into the national rankings, the Notre Dame baseball team is focusing on the style that got it 12 of 28 wins during the last at-bats. We’ve had a good focus going out there,” pitcher Scott Cavey said. “That is to take things one game at a time. This team understands that you don’t mess with a good thing.”

The Irish will take that focus with them on the road to Grand Rapids, Mich., today to face the Wolverines of Michigan (21-19) in a neutral-site contest that will be more than just a mid-week, non-conference warm-up.

“These games keep everything right where we want it,” pitcher Aaron Heilman said about the non-conference games. “We don’t take those games lightly, especially as we’re in the national rankings."

Budding on a 16-7 record in the early season, Notre Dame is riding a 2-1 April in a month that has traditionally been strong for the Irish.

Tonight’s the second and final time the Irish will play outside Frank Eck Stadium this month.

The first road trip was on April 6, when Northwestern hosted the Irish and beat the visitors in a 20-10 final.

Cavey will be called to keep the Wolverines in check at the plate as he pitches his first game in nine days. His last outing came in a one-and-two-thirds-innings effort against Pittsburgh that allowed the Panthers to rally two runs in the eighth before another dramatic Irish come-from-behind win.

A pair of freshmen helped lead Notre Dame to two of the three victories last weekend against Boston College. Catcher Paul O’Toole knocked in four RBIs, while Steve Stanley added another three in the three-game series.

Stanley’s 9-for-13 weekend helped win him Big East co-rookie of the week honors last week.

Michigan enters the game tied for third in the Big Ten after facing ranked opponents (including the Irish) for the third-straight week.

The Wolverines are coming off a four-game weekend series which they split with Minnesota. Michigan will take a 10-day break for finals after facing Notre Dame before completing its Big Ten conference schedule.

No. 4 En Fuego cooled off by Versatility

By KERRY SMITH
Sports Writer

En Fuego wasn’t fired up enough to pull off a win Monday night in the round of 64. Unranked Versatility, with players Chris Dillon, Joe Lilik, Jason Childress, James Cochran and John Hille, was hot both offensively and defensively, Downing the No. 4 seed 21-5.

“We were hitting our shots from the outside all game,” said Dillon. “Our offensive strategy was basically if you’re open, shoot it.”

Versatility had a formidable stop on the way in the round of 32 in the form of senior Irish starting center Phil Hickey. A key player for En Fuego, Hickey played huge in the lane, but Versatility handled his role.

“Every time Phil caught the ball we were doubling him,” said Dillon. “And we rebounded against him pretty well.”

En Fuego, with Justin Meko, David Allen, Rufus Jackson and Scott-Fagan found itself in foul trouble late in the game. A defensive foul against the team sent Cochran in the line with a score of 20-15. A silenced crowd looked on as Cochran sank the clutch shot for the win.

In other tournament action, top-ranked Primetime was in prime form as it took on Tres Es Bueno. With quick offense, ball movement and sharp passes, Primetime was too much for Jason Thompson, James Malloy, Neil Friery, Nick Wilson and Tim Welsh to handle.

Primetime controlled the ball for most of the first half, leading 11-6 at the break. The top seed with Kevin Hughes, Raam Jani, Mikr Empey, Garret Ganske and Steve Craig was unstoppable on offense, utilizing the screen to find the open man.

“It was one of those nights where we made a couple of passes, set a couple of screens and were able to get our shots off,” said Craig. “And tonight our jump shots were falling.”

Jani, usually a deadly offensive weapon, was cold from the outside, scoring only once in each half. Craig stepped up and was the driving offensive force in the first half, scoring six points for a total of a team-high seven. Hughes kept Primetime on offense, coming down with nine rebounds.

Empey’s scrappy defensive play at the guard position kept Tres Es Bueno on edge. Stealing the ball four times, Empey was a key to Primetime’s fast-breaking transition game.

“We like to play man-to-man defense and be as physical as we can,” said Craig. “We like to put a lot of pressure on the ball.”

Tres Es Bueno refused to succumb to the pressure of playing the top-ranked team and played a solid game. Wilson led the team with five baskets and White added four in its 21-12 loss.

“They were definitely the toughest team we’ve faced so far,” said Craig. “They were good athletes — very physical players.”

Primetime is ready for the heightened competition the next round will provide.

“The teams have gotten tougher each game,” said Craig. “From here on out it’s going to be a war.”

At the No. 2 spot, Keyplay.com came up with enough key plays to earn a win and a place in the round of 32. Taking on Team Viagra in an intense match-up, Alex Gese, John Teasdale, Paul Moore, Tom Diettrich and Ges Schnelker combined for 11 steals and relied on a give-and-go fast-break offense in the 21-11 win.

Coming out of the half at 11-6, Keyplay.com let its guard down slightly and Team Viagra took advantage, scoring three unanswered points to close the lead to within two.

“We started off a little sluggish in the second half and they fought back,” said Gese.

See BBALL/ page 18