Midwestern hospitality?

By MEGHANN DOWNES
News Editor

“Though there are challenges, this is an exciting time in the Church and in Holy Cross.” As provincial superior, Tyson is responsible for the spiritual and physical welfare of every member of the order of the Congregation of Holy Cross. Tyson was elected in 1999, succeeding Father William Durward, who served as provincial superior since 1997. Tyson did not officially leave his post as president of the University of Portland, which is also a Holy Cross province, until October. The provincial superior works with the other provincials worldwide and the general administration of the order to coordinate the many ministries, Tyson said.

Tensions high between fans as Michigan blows out ND

By SHEILA FLYNN
News Writer

Students avert their eyes from the field during the Notre Dame-Michigan football game on Saturday.

Entire band squeezes into Michigan

By ANDREW THAGARD
Assistant News Editor

The University of Michigan Athletic Department’s warnings that the number of Notre Dame band members allowed in Michigan Stadium would be limited never materialized Saturday. Members of the Marching Band were personally escorted inside the stadium by Michigan’s band without reaction from ushers, band officials said. "We received 11th hour assistance from the Michigan band," said Ken Dye, director of University Bands. "Everybody got to everybody performed. There were no problems."

The Chair of University Bands, Tom Barbour, said Notre Dame’s Athletic Department that limited space would force officials to cut 50 members from the sections. The band staff went out an e-mail to members asking for volunteers to sit out parts of the game, but said the entire band would perform during pre-game and post-game festivities and the half-time show.

"Even though I have been in Holy Cross many years now, I am enjoying engaging our membership through my new role."

David Tyson named provincial superior - Former ND vice president returns to Indiana

By SHEILA FLYNN
News Writer

University trustee and former Notre Dame Vice President Father David Tyson has returned as provincial superior of the Indiana Province of the Congregation of Holy Cross.

David Tyson was selected as president of the University of Portland in 1990. Tyson’s master’s degree, earned in 1974, was selected as the University of Portland’s first president in the history of the university. Tyson has been involved with University Bands since 1966, when he entered the University as a freshman. He has two Notre Dame degrees: a bachelor’s degree, earned in 1970, and a master’s degree, earned in 1974.

Tyson has been involved with Notre Dame since 1966, when he entered the University as a freshman. He has two Notre Dame degrees: a bachelor’s degree, earned in 1970, and a master’s degree, earned in 1974.

Closing arguments begin today in second of four sexual assault trials

Dykes’ fate almost in jury’s

By ANDREW THAGARD
Assistant News Editor

The defense rested Friday after calling only three witnesses, while the prosecution had called 13 since the trial began Tuesday. Dykes, who pled not guilty, did not testify during his trial. He is charged with rape, conspiracy

see Dykes/page 9

see TENSION/page 6

see BAND/page 6

see DYKES/page 9

see BAND/page 6

see BAND/page 6

see BAND/page 6

see BAND/page 6

see BAND/page 6

see BAND/page 6

see BAND/page 6

see BAND/page 6

see BAND/page 6

see BAND/page 6

see BAND/page 6

see BAND/page 6

see BAND/page 6

see BAND/page 6

see BAND/page 6

see BAND/page 6

see BAND/page 6

see BAND/page 6

see BAND/page 6

see BAND/page 6
Inside Column
First impressions
I learned a lot about first impressions this weekend in Michigan. I learned that Ann Arbor is, in fact, not a woman of ill repute as I had been repeatedly told and was beginning to believe. Rather, it is a pretty amazing college town that, upon first glimpse, outdoes the city of South Bend in every way possible, as asserted by our ranking as "Great Campus, Bad Town" by Sports Illustrated On Campus.

I also believed that Michigan fans couldn't be all that different than Notre Dame fans. We both came in hopes of good times and a good game, although I was forced to drive home without the latter. Upon entering one State Street locale and hearing a rowdy rendition of the Notre Dame fight song, my first thought was to keep an eye out for locals. Soon I realized, however, that throwing insults back and forth with the enemy can be a source of entertainment for all.

"Overrated," they chanted in response to our rounds of "25-23," the score of last year's encounter. For the next half hour, as both tables tried to one-up the other, the Irish "gave Notre Dame students reassurance as to our institution's admittance of individuals of higher intelligence.

Every time eye saw a Notre Dame fan come of Saturday's game, I learned a lot about first impressions. I learned that Ann Arbor is, in fact, not a woman of ill repute as I had been repeatedly told. I learned that Ann Arbor is, in fact, a pretty amazing college town. I learned that Ann Arbor is, in fact, a second-rate student body. And I learned that Ann Arbor is, in fact, a second-rate city than to live amongst a second-rate student body.

Contact Allison Walsh of awalsh@nd.edu. The views expressed in the Inside Column are those of the author and not necessarily those of The Observer.

Question of the day: What did you think of Saturday's football game against Michigan?

Mel Tray  St. Edwards Freshman  "Like elastic, we still bounce back to championship form and win the national title."
Shiee Ghiaiseddin  Keough Sophomore  "It was tough but I support our players."
Dan Brown  St. Edwards Freshman  "Lance Armstrong had some bumps on his Tour de France victories."
Lisa Sustman  Lyons Junior  "I want to be led before halftime."
Geet Paul  O'Neill Freshman  "Chris Perry is probably one of the best running backs in the nation, it was a tough game."
Adam Kaufmann  Off-campus Junior  "Man, let's never let that happen again."

Offbeat
Man uses nose to roll nut across London
LONDON — A protester rolled a nut to Prime Minister Tony Blair's doorstep with his nose on Friday, completing a 7-mile journey across London aimed at highlighting the issue of student debt.

Mark McGowan, 37, crawled on his hands and knees for 11 days as he pushed the nut from Goldsmiths College in southeast London to Downing Street using his nose. "I wanted to do something that was particularly difficult, so I think I've proved the point there," said McGowan, who wore a sandwich on the tip of his nose. He had spent eight hours a day since Sept. 1 pushing the nut through the capital.

McGowan gave the nut to a member of Blair's office with a letter asking the prime minister to accept it as payment for his 15,000 pounds ($24,000) of student debt.

Police evict man from cave
A man was evicted from a cave he had lived in for 11 years after pleading guilty to using a national forest for residential purposes.

Thomas Crawford had a bed, books and clothes arranged on hangers, along with pots and cutlery for cooking in his cave in the Coconino National Forest in northern Arizona. He was arrested Friday after a Flagstaff resident reported a suspicious camp. Crawford pleaded guilty in U.S. District Court on Monday and was sentenced to one year of probation and banned from the forest.

Information compiled from the Associated Press.

Correction
The Observer regrets such a professional publication and network for the highest standards of journalism at all times. We do, however, recognize that we will make mistakes. If you have made a mistake, please contact us at 631-4541 so we can correct our error.

In brief
The Center for Social Concerns is sponsoring "Discerning One's Future." The reflection session, scheduled from 5 to 7 p.m. at the Siegfried Hall TV Lounge, will be led by Father Michael Himes.

The Engineering Department is hosting "Engineering Industry Day." Learn more about engineering programs and opportunities from 6 to 9 p.m. in the McKenna Hall Atrium.

Ellie Goodblatt will deliver a lecture entitled "Mating, Dating and Relating," at 7 p.m. at Saint Mary's Carroll Auditorium.

Come watch "Johnny Stecchino" with the Italian Club on Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Hesburgh Library Auditorium.

The Irish film "Bloody Sunday" will be shown at 7 and 11 p.m. on Tuesday in the Montgomery Theatre of LaFortune. The event is sponsored by International Student Services and Activities.

The Nanovic Fellows Forum presents "Americans are from Mars, Europeans are from Venus: Can we still talk?" The panel discussion will feature experts on the current tensions between Europe and the United States. The event begins at 4:30 p.m. at the Hesburgh Center Auditorium.

To submit information to be included in this section of The Observer, e-mail detailed information about an event to obsnews@nd.edu.
Gov. Frank O'Bannon dies Saturday following stroke

Notre Dame graduate Joe Kernan sworn in

Associated Press

INDIANAPOLIS — Newly sworn-in Indiana Gov. Joe Kernan declared Sunday a statewide day of remembrance in honor of the late Gov. Frank O’Bannon but remained out of the public eye in preparation for the week ahead.

Kernan was to return to the Statehouse Monday facing some pressing problems, including a controversial death-penalty case, a growing budget deficit and a property-tax overhaul stinging thousands of homeowners with much higher bills.

He also must choose someone to take over his job as lieutenant governor and begin melding his own staff with that of O’Bannon’s.

There was confidence among leaders in both parties that Kernan could corral consensus to address the state’s biggest problems during next year’s legislative session and run the state’s business for the next 15 months without pulling partisan surprises or throwing political punches.

Kernan, a Democrat who had been lieutenant governor since 1997, announced in December he would not run for governor in 2004. The decision stunned Democrats, who had banked on him as their best chance for keeping a 16-year hold on the office.

But in the week since O’Bannon suffered a stroke, Kernan has said he does not anticipate changing his mind.

“I think it will be steady as she goes,” House Speaker Patrick Bauer, a fellow Democrat, said Sunday. "I don’t think he’s going to reinvent the wheel or step out of bounds. I think he will do the duty that was thrust upon him.”

Said longtime Senate Finance Chairman Larry Bosret, a Republican: “The state will do well in his hands.”

The state Supreme Court formally transferred power to Kernan, 57, on Wednesday, two days after O’Bannon was found unconscious in his hotel room while attending a trade conference. O’Bannon, 73, died Saturday at a Chicago hospital, and Kernan was sworn in as governor about six hours later.

In brief remarks after the ceremony, Kernan asked Hoosiers to remember O’Bannon on Sunday, suggesting the day be one “of reflection, sorrow and joy for a life that was lived to the fullest in the service of the people of Indiana.”

Parishioners at a church where Kernan has attended services prayed Sunday for the new governor and for Frank O’Bannon.

O’Bannon and the family decided to use no further means of support and care, and the governor died naturally,” a written statement from his office said.

O’Bannon designated himself an organ donor, so his body was not immediately returned to Indianapolis, the statement said.

Lt. Gov. Joe Kernan, who had served as acting governor since Wednesday, was sworn in as governor Saturday night.

By late afternoon, mourners, many in tears, were leaving flowers outside the governor’s office. Flags fell to half-staff at the Statehouse and other locations in downtown Indianapolis.

“If a measure of a person is how he lives, he measured up to a very, very high standard,” said Indiana House Speaker Patrick Bauer, a fellow Democrat from South Bend.

President Bush called O’Bannon “a dedicated public servant and a good and decent man.”

“He has served the people of his state with integrity and devotion,” Bush said in a written statement.
Center for Spirituality launches lecture series

By MICHELLE EGGERS
News Writer

Saint Mary’s Center for Spirituality launches its “More Than One Way to Be Catholic” fall lecture series on Tuesday. The series will help the Saint Mary’s community rediscover its Catholic identity in a time when the Church is facing great resistance to the notion of pluralism, organizers said.

“The Catholic Church is at a point in its long history where the notion of pluralism is falling on hard times,” said Sister Kathleen Dolphin, Center for Spirituality director. “The world and the church are both facing confusion, which results in a lack of clarity on what the church really is. There is resistance to the notion of more than one way to be Catholic.”

Dolphin approaches the notion of pluralism Tuesday in the first of the three lectures. In her talk, “More Than One Way to Be Catholic: Catholic Identity Revisited,” she will stress spirituality as both a way of life and an academic discipline.

“I hope to show students and community members how to integrate theory and practice in helpful ways,” said Dolphin.

The second lecture on Wednesday, “Guadalupe and the Catholic Church: Identity and Community,” will focus on the institutional differences within the Catholic Church.

There are a number of rites within the Catholic Church that are in communion with Rome. However many Catholics do not realize the different ways of being Catholic, such as the Byzantine Rites.

The lecture series is the first among several planned for the year to promote awareness of the Catholic discipline.

“My overall hope for the lecture series would be that the Saint Mary’s community and general public would develop a healthy attitude toward pluralism within the church,” said Dolphin. “In everything we do, we should be aware that we honor Catholic tradition while pioneering change.”

All lectures are free and open to the public. Each will be held at 12:15 p.m. in LeMans Hall’s Stapleton Lounge.

Contact Michelle Egggers at egg2272@ saintmarys.edu

Singer Owens rocks Legends

By AMANDA MICHAELS
News Writer

After performances by “The Rutabega” and “The Love of Everything,” singer and songwriter Owen headlined Saturday night’s WVFI concert at Legends, the first in a six-show series that will span the school year and feature bands a few steps out of the mainstream.

Expanding on its one concert a year “quadrock” program, WVFI has six shows booked at Legends’ prime staging area. The next concert is set for Oct. 4 featuring Erin Mckown and Sara Slean. In doing so, the station hopes to bring musical diversity to campus and provide an outlet for fans of more alternative music, said Mairead Case, co-director of MINeSt, Notre Dame’s independent on-line music resource. Future dates are tentatively set for Nov. 22, Feb. 7, March 27 and April 17, though they may be changed to suit negotiations with bands.

Also on the agenda for the series is making Notre Dame a more popular concert stop.

“Many bands make the Midwest college circuit every year, and usually they don’t stop at Notre Dame,” Case said. “We hope to change this.”

A crowd of approximately 290 students greeted the three bands and the show started at 9 p.m. and ran until the club section of Legends opened at midnight.

The two opening acts, “The Rutabega” and “The Love of Owls,” worked with some of Chicago’s most popular alternative bands, including American Football, Cap’n Jazz, Jean of Arc and Owls.

For most, Owen was the biggest draw of the evening, but some students said Legends in itself was a strong attraction.

“I haven’t heard of any of these bands. I like Legends in general, and the lighting set-up is great,” said Notre Dame freshman Mike McConnell. “There’s not much else going on tonight anywhere.”

Case and her fellow station manager Emily Earthman explained that, even if Saturday night’s concert was not in a student’s style, their presence and input not only supported Notre Dame’s artistic community, but improved chances that future shows would be more their taste.

“There’s nothing to lose in coming out to the show — you might just like who you see,” Earthman said.

Contact Amanda Michaels at amichael@nd.edu
INTERNATIONAL NEWS

Israeli official threatens Arafat

RAMALLAH, West Bank — The second-ranking official in the Israeli government said Sunday that killing Yasser Arafat is an option, as thousands of Palestinians took to the streets across the West Bank and Gaza Strip to protect their leader.

Israeli presses Arafat for blocking peace efforts and preventing a crackdown against militants who have carried out two suicide bombings in the last week. Villages in the Gaza Strip and west of Nablus, in the West Bank, were blocked to public transport.

Israeli troops have killed at least 12 Palestinians in the past two days.

Fort Wayne zoo claims Tasmanian devil not living in Australia

FORT WAYNE, Ind. — The Fort Wayne Zoo is the last devil not living under Slovakian's former communist regime.

The Fort Wayne zoo is the last devil not living under Slovakian's former communist regime.

Army seizes Guinea-Bissau in coup

LISBON, Portugal — Soldiers ousted the provisional government of Guinea-Bissau on Sunday, taking advantage of a dispute among government leaders that had raised fresh doubts about its ability to keep traveling. The 83-year-old pope appeared alert, but clearly weakened during the 2-hour service honoring two clerics imprisoned and tortured under Slovakian's former communist regime.

The findings could become the basis for additional pollution-control requirements to be tightened, according to an internal government report.

The findings could become the basis for additional pollution-control requirements to be tightened, according to an internal government report.

National News

Stunt jet crashes at air show

MOUNTAIN HOME, Idaho — A jet in the Air Force's vaunted Thunderbirds flight unit crashed at an air show Sunday, but the pilot ejected with only minor injuries and no injuries were reported.

About 85,000 spectators looked on as one of the six Lockheed Martin F-16C Fighting Falcons went down during the "Gunfighter Skies 2003" air show at Mountain Home Air Force Base, about 50 miles southeast of Boise.

Report: Soot regulations too lax

WASHINGTON — New federal health standards that set limits of the amount of soot in the air do not adequately protect the elderly and people with respiratory problems and should be tightened, according to an internal government report.

The findings could become the basis for additional pollution-control requirements to reduce the amount of microscopic soot emitted by diesel-burning trucks, cars, factories and power plants.

Such a step would put the Bush administration at odds with environmental groups.

They have argued the current federal soot control standards, issued by the Clinton administration, are based on uncertain science.

Local News

Zoo has last Tasmanian devil in U.S.

FORT WAYNE, Ind. — The Fort Wayne Children's Zoo is home to the only Tasmanian devil outside Australia, now that the great Tasmanian devil named Gillian died at the San Diego Zoo.

A Tasmanian devil named Gillian died at the San Diego Zoo last month of age-related health problems.

The findings could become the basis for additional pollution-control requirements to reduce the amount of microscopic soot emitted by diesel-burning trucks, cars, factories and power plants.

Associated Press

Baghdad confirms Bagram military agreement

BAGHDAD — Secretary of State Colin Powell said Sunday he is convinced the "winds of freedom are blowing" across Iraq as the United States acknowledged the possibility that terrorists will try to make their way into the country and sabotage the process toward self-rule.

Powell spent 12 hours in talks with the team of American officials guiding Iraq in the post-Saddam period and with the U.S-appointed Iraqi Governing Council.

On his first visit to the nation that has dominated his attention since the early days of the Bush administration, Powell attended a Baghdad City Council meeting, met with Foreign Minister Hoshyar Zebari and joined the U.S-appointed Iraqi Governing Council.

He described impressive moves toward self-government and seemed impressed with what he heard as he made his rounds.

"There is vibrancy to this effort, a vibrancy that I attribute to the winds of freedom that are now blowing through this land," he said after the city council meeting.

Powell's day began with a flight from Kuwait aboard a C-130 cargo plane and ended with a dinner with a leading Baghdad-based Shiite cleric.

He said the United States is committed to having Iraqis run their government, but wants to cede power over "a deliberate process," rather than an early irreversible transition as the Bush administration has proposed.

Powell acknowledged that the security situation remains challenging, with a major new threat coming from "terrorists who are trying to infiltrate into the country for the purpose of disrupting this whole process.

The secretary gave a rough estimate of 100 such infiltrators and said he was confident that the U.S. military can handle the problem.

The attacks on American occupying forces, an almost daily occurrence in Iraq, continued when a roadside bomb hit a convoy in the city of Fallujah, killing a U.S. soldier and injuring three others, the military said.

Some 155 soldiers have died in Iraq since President Bush declared an end to major combat on May 1. During the heavy fighting before that date, 138 soldiers died.

"This security threat comes from those who do not want to see [deposed President] Saddam Hussein go and those who want to foment trouble here, terrorists who are coming in, as well as remnants of the old regime," Powell told "Fox News Sunday" in Washington.

He said military commanders told him they are confident they can handle both threats, though it will take time.

Almost nine in 10 Americans, in an ABC-Washington Post poll released Sunday, said they were concerned that the United States is going to get bogged down in a long and costly peacekeeping mission in Iraq.

Powerful hurricane eyes E. Coast

Associated Press

Miami — Hurricane Isabel weakened slightly Monday but was still a powerful Category 4 storm as it plowed across the Atlantic Ocean on a course that could make it the central East Coast late this week.

"It's looking more and more likely that this is going to be a big event for the eastern United States," National Hurricane Center meteorologist Eric Blake said Sunday.

The center models predict that weather conditions over the East Coast should prevent Isabel from turning back out to sea and missing land.

Powell warned of terror risks

WASHINGTON — Powell spent 12 hours in talks with the team of American officials guiding Iraq in the post-Saddam period and with the U.S-appointed Iraqi Governing Council.

On his first visit to the nation that has dominated his attention since the early days of the Bush administration, Powell attended a Baghdad City Council meeting, met with Foreign Minister Hoshyar Zebari and joined the U.S-appointed Iraqi Governing Council.

He described impressive moves toward self-government and seemed impressed with what he heard as he made his rounds.

"There is vibrancy to this effort, a vibrancy that I attribute to the winds of freedom that are now blowing through this land," he said after the city council meeting.

Powell's day began with a flight from Kuwait aboard a C-130 cargo plane and ended with a dinner with a leading Baghdad-based Shiite cleric.

He said the United States is committed to having Iraqis run their government, but wants to cede power over "a deliberate process," rather than an early irreversible transition as the Bush administration has proposed.

Powell acknowledged that the security situation remains challenging, with a major new threat coming from "terrorists who are trying to infiltrate into the country for the purpose of disrupting this whole process.

The secretary gave a rough estimate of 100 such infiltrators and said he was confident that the U.S. military can handle the problem.

The attacks on American occupying forces, an almost daily occurrence in Iraq, continued when a roadside bomb hit a convoy in the city of Fallujah, killing a U.S. soldier and injuring three others, the military said.

Some 155 soldiers have died in Iraq since President Bush declared an end to major combat on May 1. During the heavy fighting before that date, 138 soldiers died.

"This security threat comes from those who do not want to see [deposed President] Saddam Hussein go and those who want to foment trouble here, terrorists who are coming in, as well as remnants of the old regime," Powell told "Fox News Sunday" in Washington.

He said military commanders told him they are confident they can handle both threats, though it will take time.

Almost nine in 10 Americans, in an ABC-Washington Post poll released Sunday, said they were concerned that the United States is going to get bogged down in a long and costly peacekeeping mission in Iraq.
Tension
continued from page 1

Several students said Michigan fans would approach them in lines or while they were walking and make obscene comments or gestures.

"I enjoy going to the game and having the competition, but I think the line was crossed in many areas and that takes away from the fun of going," Walsh sophomore Patty Rose said.

"Friendy banter is fine but when there are older men yelling profanity at you it's uncalled for." At one golf course tailgate, a stuffed dummy with Notre Dame gear was lynched from a tree.

A Michigan T-shirt hawkers countered Notre Dame fans — who wore either The Shirt or one that read "Att'N Arber is a whoore... We are here to score" with "Rudy Sucks... The Irish Swallow" and others that contained obscenities.

A law enforcement officer, who directed traffic outside Michigan Stadium, made negative comments about Notre Dame throughout the day, saying "Go home Irish" and sing- ing Irish fans out in the crowd over a bullhorn.

The questionable fan behavior carried over into "The Big House" where the Michigan student section began cheering with "F--- the Irish" several minutes before kickoff.

Though several students found the stadium personnel to be accommodating and helpful, the Michigan fans, outside of the student section, argued with and taunted the Irish.

Several band members said they were warned prior to the game to avoid confrontation with Michigan fans who attempted to take part of their uniforms.

Kenneth Dye, director of University bands, said he expects problems at certain away games, but generally the band has been well received.

He said the general audience, stadium personnel and Michigan's band were helpful; however, he did encounter rowdy fans.

"There were some fans who sat right behind the band and they said all kinds of things," Dye said. "The favorite thing was that they would substitute 'Fighting Irish' with a bad word.

Irish cheerleader Mike Riess said he expected the taunting to continue from part of their uniforms.

"We got some rude comments. They were up there with what we experienced at USC," Riess said. "We kind of expected stuff like that to happen."

Contact Meghanne Downes at mdownes1@nd.edu

Band
continued from page 1

assistant band director.

The band obtained the required number of volunteers, but everyone, including security and support staff, was able to enter the stadium.

"There was a contingency plan but they asked us when we were entering the stadium," said drum major Jeff Serpas. "No one told us anything when we got there."

There was nobody there counting heads." Dye attributed the outcome to hospitality on the part of Michigan band members and Notre Dame's reputation of being courteous.

"Leprechaun Dame" throughout the day, saying "Go home Irish" and sing- ing "The House" where the Michigan student section began cheering with "F--- the Irish" several minutes before kickoff.

Though several students found the stadium personnel to be accommodating and helpful, the Michigan fans, outside of the student section, argued with and taunted the Irish.

Several band members said they were warned prior to the game to avoid confrontation with Michigan fans who attempted to take part of their uniforms.

Kenneth Dye, director of University bands, said he expects problems at certain away games, but generally the band has been well received.

He said the general audience, stadium personnel and Michigan's band were helpful; however, he did encounter rowdy fans.

"There were some fans who sat right behind the band and they said all kinds of things," Dye said. "The favorite thing was that they would substitute 'Fighting Irish' with a bad word.

Irish cheerleader Mike Riess said he expected the taunting to continue from part of their uniforms.

"We got some rude comments. They were up there with what we experienced at USC," Riess said. "We kind of expected stuff like that to happen."

Contact Meghanne Downes at mdownes1@nd.edu

University of Notre Dame International Study Program in

Angers, France

"Should I stay, or should I go?"

INFORMATION MEETING

WithProf. Paul McDowell and returnees of the program

Tuesday, September 16, 2003

7:30 PM

118 DeBartolo

Application Deadline: Dec. 1, 2003
Academic Year 2004-2005
Fall 2004-Spring 2005
Applications available: www.nd.edu/~intstud

Clint on rallies Dems against Davis recall

AssOCIATED PRESS

LOS ANGELES — Former President Clinton rallied against the gubernatorial recall campaign Sunday in an effort to energize California Democrats who are increasingly hopeful they can defeat the attempt to oust Gov. Gray Davis.

Clinton, still a highly popular and polarizing figure nearly three years after leaving office, mixed Scripture with politics in his 40-minute address during a midmorning service at the First African Methodist Episcopal Church in Los Angeles, the city's oldest black congregation.

He repeated Democrats' theme that the Oct. 7 recall election is part of a right-wing power grab, and said removing Davis could scare future officeholders away from making tough choices.

"Gray Davis and I have been friends for a long time, and I don't want this happening to him," Clinton said. "This is bigger than him. It's you I'm worried about. It's California I worry about. I don't want you to become a laughingstock or the beginning of a circus in America where we throw people out for making tough decisions.

After a pause, he continued, "Don't do this. Don't do this," as the congregation erupted in applause.

Clinton is the first of several prominent national Democrats who have scheduled visits this week to campaign alongside Davis against the recall. The list includes Al Gore, Jesse Jackson and several Democratic presidential candidates.

When it's the prestigious Luce scholarship, finding you an exciting 1-year job in the Far East, strategically chosen to match your career goal. Apply by November 7, 2003.

Interested? 29 or younger? Have you now (or will you have by the end of May 2004) an ND degree? No east-Asia experience?
Conseco skids after relisting
NEW YORK — Shares of Conseco Inc. fell Friday as they returned to the New York Stock Exchange, a day after the insurer emerged from bankruptcy.

Conseco’s stock closed at $20.29, down $1.38, or 6.4 percent, from its closing level of $21.67 Thursday in over-the-counter dealing.

The shares, which now trade under the new symbol CNO, had been trading on a “when issued” basis in the over-the-counter market.

Conseco’s new stock will total about 100 million shares. Its former common stock, trading under the symbol CNGQ over the counter, has been canceled.

Talks go on as UAW deal runs out
DETROIT — United Auto Workers President Ron Gettelfinger said Saturday the union had reached no agreements with any of Detroit’s Big Three automakers and that intense negotiations continued.

Gettelfinger, who spoke Saturday afternoon at the AFL-CIO-sponsored Labor Fest at Ford Field, declined to speculate when new agreements would be reached. The current labor pact, negotiated in 1999, expire at midnight Sunday.

“We’re keeping all options open,” Gettelfinger told reporter’s afterward his speech.

Sources familiar with the talks have told The Associated Press the automakers are seeking a return to a historical, simultaneous resolution is likely before the current four-year pact runs out.

Representatives of General Motors Corp., Ford Motor Co. and DaimlerChrysler AG’s Chrysler Group declined Friday to discuss the talks substantively, saying only they were ongoing.

Gasoline prices leveling out
CAMBRILLO, Calif. — Retail gasoline prices rose a fraction of a penny in the past three weeks, stabilizing after a steep climb of 21 cents a gallon since early June, an analyst said Sunday.

The average price for a gallon of self-serve gasoline nationwide, including all grades and taxes, was $1.75 on Friday, according to the Lundberg Survey. The survey includes prices from 250 stations in 80 U.S. cities.

That was up about 0.29 of a cent since the Lundberg Survey was taken Aug. 22.

Lyons Forecasting, which had predicted that gasoline prices would climb even further, said that gas prices had in fact topped out.

Economists see no Fed rate cut
WASHINGTON — Even though U.S. companies are reluctant to hire workers, the economy over the second half of this year is expected to grow at the fastest pace since 1999.

That was surprisingly upbeat news that means that the Federal Reserve will see no need to cut interest rates this month, according to this week’s meeting, private economists believe.

In recent weeks, analysts have kept revising upward their economic forecasts, given a series of favorable government reports.

MARKET RECAP

Dow Jones

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Same Day</th>
<th>One Week</th>
<th>Composite Volume</th>
<th>Close/2000</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>AMEX</td>
<td>9,471.55</td>
<td>+11.79</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>NASDAQ</td>
<td>1,655.03</td>
<td>+8.94</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>NYSE</td>
<td>671.24</td>
<td>+0.80</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>S&amp;P 500</td>
<td>1,018.63</td>
<td>+2.21</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

COMPANY% CHANGE AGAIN PRICE

ORACLE CORP (ORCL) -3.31 -0.43 12.55
CORAS CORP (COR) -2.76 -0.51 1.47
MICROSOFT CORP (MSFT) +1.80 +0.50 28.34
NETCOM (NETC) +1.11 +0.31 28.94
CISCO SYSTEMS (CSCO) -0.24 -0.05 20.66

In Brief

Conseco skids after relisting

New York — Shares of Conseco Inc. fell Friday as they returned to the New York Stock Exchange, a day after the insurer emerged from bankruptcy.

Conseco’s stock closed at $20.29, down $1.38, or 6.4 percent, from its closing level of $21.67 Thursday in over-the-counter dealing.

The shares, which now trade under the new symbol CNO, had been trading on a “when issued” basis in the over-the-counter market.

Conseco’s new stock will total about 100 million shares. Its former common stock, trading under the symbol CNGQ over the counter, has been canceled.

Talks go on as UAW deal runs out

Detroit — United Auto Workers President Ron Gettelfinger said Saturday the union had reached no agreements with any of Detroit’s Big Three automakers and that intense negotiations continued.

Gettelfinger, who spoke Saturday afternoon at the AFL-CIO-sponsored Labor Fest at Ford Field, declined to speculate when new agreements would be reached. The current labor pact, negotiated in 1999, expire at midnight Sunday.

“We’re keeping all options open,” Gettelfinger told reporters afterward his speech.

Sources familiar with the talks have told The Associated Press the automakers are seeking a return to a historical, simultaneous resolution is likely before the current four-year pact runs out.

Representatives of General Motors Corp., Ford Motor Co. and DaimlerChrysler AG’s Chrysler Group declined Friday to discuss the talks substantively, saying only they were ongoing.

Gasoline prices leveling out

Cambrillo, Calif. — Retail gasoline prices rose a fraction of a penny in the past three weeks, stabilizing after a steep climb of 21 cents a gallon since early June, an analyst said Sunday.

The average price for a gallon of self-serve gasoline nationwide, including all grades and taxes, was $1.75 on Friday, according to the Lundberg Survey. The survey includes prices from 250 stations in 80 U.S. cities.

That was up about 0.29 of a cent since the Lundberg Survey was taken Aug. 22.

Lyons Forecasting, which had predicted that gasoline prices would climb even further, said that gas prices had in fact topped out.

Economists see no Fed rate cut

Washington — Even though U.S. companies are reluctant to hire workers, the economy over the second half of this year is expected to grow at the fastest pace since 1999.

That was surprisingly upbeat news that means that the Federal Reserve will see no need to cut interest rates this month, according to this week’s meeting, private economists believe.

In recent weeks, analysts have kept revising upward their economic forecasts, given a series of favorable government reports.
2003 career fair

Wednesday, September 17
4:00 pm – 9:00 pm

All students regardless of degree, major, college, or year
Student ID card required Attire is business formal joyce center north dome

(hockey rink side), enter gate 3

---

Participating Companies

Abbott Laboratories
Abercrombie & Fitch
Accenture
A.G. Edwards
Allstate Insurance Company
American Express
Financial Advisors AMS
Aon Corporation
Bain & Company
Bank One Corporation
BDO Seidman
Boeing
Boys & Girls Clubs of America by careersINsite
Carson Pirie Scott & Co.
CDW
Central Intelligence Agency
Chicago Consulting Actuaries
CIGNA
Coachmen Industries
Crowe Chizik and Company
Deloitte & Touche
Deloitte Consulting
DirectEmployers
E & J Gallo Winery
Eli Lilly & Company
Ernst & Young
FactSet Research Systems
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Fifth Third Bank
General Electric
General Mills
Hartford Financial Services Group
H-E-B Grocery Company
Hewlett-Packard
Honeywell
Houlihan Lokey Howard & Zukin
Humana
Huron Consulting Group
IBM
Indiaalex Aluminum Solutions
InteCap
IRISH Online
Johnson & Johnson – Finance
Johnson & Johnson – Information Management
Johnson & Johnson – Marketing
Johnson & Johnson – Sales
Jones Lang LaSalle
Katz Media Group
KeyBank
Kirkland & Ellis
KPMG
Kraft
LaSalle Bank
McGladey & Pullen
Morgan Stanley
Morningstar
Motorola
National City Corporation
Navigant Consulting
News America Marketing
Northwestern Mutual Financial Network – Hoops Financial Pfizer
PNC Financial Services Group
PricewaterhouseCoopers
Procter & Gamble
Progressive Insurance
Protiviti
Pulte Homes
SBC Communications
SCORE Small Business Development Center
SCORE! Educational Centers
SIRVA
Smart and Associates
State Farm
Strong Financial Corporation
Stryker Instruments
Sun Life Financial Target Corporation
Teach for America
The Boston Beer Company
The Boston Consulting Group
The Gallup Organization
The Horton Group
The Vanguard Group
Towers Perrin
Travelers
Tucker Alan
U.S. Cellular
U.S. Dept. of Treasury, Internal Revenue Service
U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission
Wachovia Securities
Walgreens
Wells Fargo
William Blair & Company
WPS Resources Corporation
YAI/National Institute for People with Disabilities*
Zurface, Sanders & Rasor*

---

* Resume drop
EPA suggests tougher soot laws

WASHINGTON — New federal health standards that limit the amount of soot in the air do not adequately protect the elderly and people with respiratory problems and should be tightened, according to an internal government report.

The findings could be the basis for additional pollution-control requirements to reduce the amount of microscopic soot emitted by diesel-burning trucks, cars, factories and power plants.

Such a step would put the Bush administration at odds with business groups. They have argued the current federal soot-control standards, issued by the Clinton administration, are based on uncertain science and have cost industry tens of billions of dollars.

The new findings are in a draft paper by Environmental Protection Agency staff and are being circulated for review by outside scientists.

The 1997 standards have not yet had significant impact. They were delayed by several years of litigation as industry opponents unsuccessfully challenged the rules all the way to the Supreme Court, which eventually upheld them.

The EPA soon expects to determine what areas of the country will have to impose additional pollution-control measures because their air is so dirty it does not meet the standard.

Even as the rules are being put in place, the EPA staff review of the latest scientific studies on the effects of soot on health has concluded that the standards may not produce the intended health benefits.

The 400-page draft paper says that since 1997, some scientific studies “have confirmed and strengthened” the association between exposure to microscopic soot and premature deaths, cardiovascular problems and respiratory illnesses. Such soot contains particles and gases 20 times smaller than a strand of human hair.

Furthermore, the paper says, in many cases these studies showed adverse health effects when airborne soot concentrations were well below the maximum allowed by the 1997 standard, particularly during days when the air is especially dirty.

As a result, the staff analysis recommends the allowable concentrations be reduced further, possibly as much as 50 percent for the 24-hour standard and 20 percent for the annual average standard.

The annual average under the 1997 rule of no more than 15 micrograms of soot per cubic meter of air might have to be cut to 12 micrograms to achieve adequate health benefits, and the 24-hour standard of 65 micrograms per cubic meter to between 30 and 50 micrograms, according to the staff paper.

EPA spokeswoman Lisa Harrison said the draft paper has not been peer-reviewed by scientists and that no new soot regulations are imminent.

“EPA will not base any regulatory decision on this draft staff paper,” said Harrison. “It’s very early in a lengthy [review] process.” She said a final draft paper, expected next year, “will include recommend options for the administrator to consider.”

Health advocates cited the EPA staff finding as a major development, supporting their contention that tougher air quality standards are needed for microscopic soot because it can become easily lodged deep inside lung tissue.

“This represents the best judgment of the EPA staff in their interpretation of the science,” said Deborah Shirentz, a consultant for the American Lung Association. She said it reflects that numerous studies support aggressive actions to curtail this type of air pollution.

“New research has shown that even short-term exposure to particulate pollution can be dangerous for some people, particularly the elderly, young children and people with asthma and other serious lung diseases,” said John Kirkwood, the association’s president.

Industry spokesmen questioned the staff conclusions and indicated they are ready to challenge the analysis’ scientific underpinnings.

Law & . . .
An Interdisciplinary Colloquium Series

September 17, 2003
4:00 p.m., Law School Courthouse

“When Republicans Were Feminists: Explaining Party Change”

Presenter
Christina Wolbrecht
Packey J. Dee Associate Professor Department of Political Science

Commentator
Anthony J. Bellia, Jr.
Associate Professor Law School
LONDON PROGRAM

APPLICATION MEETING

FOR FALL 2004 AND SPRING 2005

Tuesday, September 16, 2003
101 DeBartolo
6:30 pm

ALL SOPHOMORES WELCOME!
Ben, Jen reportedly break off wedding

Associated Press

LOS ANGELES — Have they gone from Jennifer back to Ben and Jennifer? The most overexposed couple on the planet was supposed to exchange wedding vows Sunday, but instead there was a report that they had ended their tabloid-chronicled storybook romance.

Amid the frantic speculation surrounding the pair last week, their tabloid-chronicled story was "dumped Lopez due to "second thoughts" about their impending wedding."

"The pair planned to wed at a mansion estate near Santa Barbara. But they postponed the ceremony Wednesday, saying excessive media attention was turning the event into a circus.

Citing unidentified "sources close to the couple," People reported that Affleck initiated the breakup with Lopez, who was "devastated" and "in tears." However, the magazine hedged its scoop by adding "it was unclear whether the separation was permanent."

A representative for Affleck, Ken Sunshine, declined to comment on the breakup rumor. Lopez's publicist, Dan Klores, did not return The Associated Press's call for comment. Klores told People he believed the couple was still together, but had not spoken to Lopez in several days if the wedding happens, it will be the third for Lopez, 33, and the first for Affleck, 31. They met while filming this summer's infamous bomb, "Gigli."

Their second film together, writer-director Kevin Smith's "Jersey Girl," is set for release next year.

"I'm so glad Estonians made this right choice."

Kristiina Ojuland
Estonian foreign minister

Estonia

Estonians approve entrance to EU

Associated Press

TALLINN — Estonians voted Sunday to join a historic expansion of the European Union, fulfilling what once seemed an unattainable dream for the small Baltic state.

The supporters of joining the overwhelmingly powerful economic bloc had 67 percent of the vote, according to results from nearly all polling stations. The other 33 percent voted no on the referendum, Estonia's Central Election Commission reported.

"This decision will guarantee the future of Estonia," a smiling Kristiina Ojuland, the country's Foreign Minister, told The Associated Press. "I'm so glad Estonians made this right choice."

At a festive gathering at the Scotland Yard pub in the capital, Tallinn, Prime Minister Juhan Parts compared the results to the day in 1918 when Estonia first declared independence from the Soviet Union. Leaders of the Baltic state have insisted it would boost living standards - at least for future generations. Twelve years ago, it looked like it would take decades for Estonia to meet EU requirements. The economy was in free-fall - with annual inflation topping 10 percent and Russian troops, remnants of a 56-year Soviet occupation force, stationed throughout the country.

Janet Jackson, hotter-than-Estonians hoped EU membership would bring greater opportunities to travel and work abroad. One-off tax income "we will belong to a family ... a country's Foreign Minister, told The Associated Press. "I'm so glad Estonians made this right choice."

Entry in the gilded union has been a primary goal since Estonia regained independence amid the 1991 collapse of the Soviet Union. Leaders of the Baltic state have insisted it would boost living standards - at least for future generations. Twelve years ago, it looked like it would take decades for Estonia to meet EU requirements. The economy was in free-fall - with annual inflation topping 10 percent and Russian troops, remnants of a 56-year Soviet occupation force, stationed throughout the country.

The most overexposed couple on the planet was supposed to exchange wedding vows Sunday, but instead there was a report that they had ended their tabloid-chronicled storybook romance.

Amid the frantic speculation surrounding the pair last week, their tabloid-chronicled story was "dumped Lopez due to "second thoughts" about their impending wedding."

"The pair planned to wed at a mansion estate near Santa Barbara. But they postponed the ceremony Wednesday, saying excessive media attention was turning the event into a circus.

Citing unidentified "sources close to the couple," People reported that Affleck initiated the breakup with Lopez, who was "devastated" and "in tears." However, the magazine hedged its scoop by adding "it was unclear whether the separation was permanent."

A representative for Affleck, Ken Sunshine, declined to comment on the breakup rumor. Lopez's publicist, Dan Klores, did not return The Associated Press's call for comment. Klores told People he believed the couple was still together, but had not spoken to Lopez in several days if the wedding happens, it will be the third for Lopez, 33, and the first for Affleck, 31. They met while filming this summer's infamous bomb, "Gigli."

Their second film together, writer-director Kevin Smith's "Jersey Girl," is set for release next year.

"I'm so glad Estonians made this right choice."

Kristiina Ojuland
Estonian foreign minister

Estonia

Estonians approve entrance to EU

Associated Press

TALLINN — Estonians voted Sunday to join a historic expansion of the European Union, fulfilling what once seemed an unattainable dream for the small Baltic state.

The supporters of joining the overwhelmingly powerful economic bloc had 67 percent of the vote, according to results from nearly all polling stations. The other 33 percent voted no on the referendum, Estonia's Central Election Commission reported.

"This decision will guarantee the future of Estonia," a smiling Kristiina Ojuland, the country's Foreign Minister, told The Associated Press. "I'm so glad Estonians made this right choice."

At a festive gathering at the Scotland Yard pub in the capital, Tallinn, Prime Minister Juhan Parts compared the results to the day in 1918 when Estonia first declared independence from the Soviet Union. Leaders of the Baltic state have insisted it would boost living standards - at least for future generations. Twelve years ago, it looked like it would take decades for Estonia to meet EU requirements. The economy was in free-fall - with annual inflation topping 10 percent and Russian troops, remnants of a 56-year Soviet occupation force, stationed throughout the country.

Janet Jackson, hotter-than-Estonians hoped EU membership would bring greater opportunities to travel and work abroad. One-off tax income "we will belong to a family ... a country's Foreign Minister, told The Associated Press. "I'm so glad Estonians made this right choice."

Entry in the gilded union has been a primary goal since Estonia regained independence amid the 1991 collapse of the Soviet Union. Leaders of the Baltic state have insisted it would boost living standards - at least for future generations. Twelve years ago, it looked like it would take decades for Estonia to meet EU requirements. The economy was in free-fall - with annual inflation topping 10 percent and Russian troops, remnants of a 56-year Soviet occupation force, stationed throughout the country.
The Observer
No. 1, Student-run, Daily Newspaper, Serving Notre Dame and Saint Mary's
301 Dever Hall, Notre Dame, IN 46556
24 South Dining Hall, Notre Dame, IN 46556
EDITOR in CHIEF
Andrew Jankowski
MANAGING EDITOR
BUSINESS MANAGER
Sara Busby
Art Director
Kermit Gwinn
NEWS EDITOR
Stephanie Downes
VIEWPOINT EDITOR
Bella Flynn
SPOTTED EDITOR
Joe Weigel
SCENE EDITOR
Sarah Valente
SUNDAY'S EDITOR
Jennifer Wolford
PHOTO EDITOR
Tim Kaczmar
GRAPHICS EDITOR
Mike Hanski
CONTRIBUTING EDITORS
Maura Cannella
AD DESIGN MANAGERS
Tom Haugaard
WEB ADMINISTRATION
Ted Benigni
CONTROLLER
Mike Flanagan

Contact Us
Office Manager & General Info
(574) 631-7471
Fax
(574) 631-0127
Advertising
(574) 631-6600 observer@nd.edu
Editor in Chief
(574) 635-4942
MANAGING EDITOR & BUSINESS MANAGER
(574) 631-4541
bella@nd.edu
BUSINESS
(574) 631-5135 newspaper@nd.edu
VIEWPOINT
(574) 631-7392 newsroom@nd.edu SCENE
(574) 631-5300
viewpoint@nd.edu
SPORTS
(574) 631-5141
sport@nd.edu
ARTS
(574) 631-4540
scene@nd.edu
THE OBSERVER ONLINE
www.ndsmcobserver.com

Policies
The Observer is the independent, daily newspaper published in print and online by the students of the University of Notre Dame du Lac and Saint Mary's College. All content, including advertisements, is not governed by policies of the administration of either institution. The Observer reserves the right to publish anything based on content.

The news is reported as accurately and objectively as possible. Unidentified sources represent the opinions of the majority of the editors in Chief. Managing Editors, Assistant Managing Editor and temporary editors, Coordinators, editors and columnists protect the views of the editors and columns of The Observer.

Viewpoint space is available to all readers. The free expression of all opinions through letters is encouraged. Letters to the Editor must be signed and must include contact information.

Questions regarding Observer policies should be directed to Editor in Chief, Andrew Jankowski.

POST OFFICE INFORMATION
The Observer's mailing address is Notre Dame, IN 46556. The Observer is published Monday through Thursday. Published by the students of Notre Dame du Lac and Saint Mary's College. Distributed in print and online. First class postage paid at Notre Dame, IN 46556.

THE OBSERVER is a proud member of the American College Press. The Observer is published on recycled paper. A subscription for a one-year is $100.

Today's Staff
News
Andrew Thagard
Joe Trombello
Matt Bramanti
Viewpoint
Dolores Diaz
Illustrator
Pat Quill
Graphics
Mike Harkins
Sports
Chris Federico
Justin Schuber
Joe Lindsley Scenes
Emily Howald

Observer Poll
Do you think that you will be able to obtain a job or an internship this summer?
Vote by 5 p.m. Thursday at www.ndsmcobserver.com

QUOTE OF THE DAY
"Being a sports fan is a complex matter in part irrational, but not unworthy... a relief from the seriousness of the real world, with its unending pressures and often grave obligations."
Richard Gilman Journalist

U.S. and WTO must embrace fair trade

The brand-name products you buy, from cardigans to coffee, almost certainly come from a wealthy public corporation based in a wealthy country. Chances are this company is a sprawling multinational, pushing its profit-driven agenda across the globe, with help from the World Trade Organization and the bloc of First World countries at its helm.

Yesterday, the WTO wrapped up its fifth Ministerial Conference in the tropical resort city of Cancun, where global leaders from both developed and developing countries convened to discuss international trade. Perhaps the most hotly debated issue was fair trade, an issue with which the WTO has a less than stellar history.

Because the First World stays its course, favoring "free trade" over fair trade, the vast corporations meet little opposition when pushing their agendas. This is a bad thing, but for whom? Obviously not for the rich G8 countries — it's bad for the developing countries of the Third World, because they can't push back. "Free trade" is still a myth. I would like to do away with this dichotomy, a Cold War relic, but it remains useful in underscoring the rift between the First and Third Worlds, which widens daily. It is strikingly clear which side comprises which nations: in one country, someone gets $2 for making a pair of trainers; in another, some middle-schooler pays $27 for them.

An admixture of protectionist tariffs and trade-disturbing subsidies are to blame for the rift, taking a pretty toll on developing countries. On top of this peculiar combo, the developed countries hypocritically compel their developing counterparts to liberalize. Desperate for foreign investment, poorer nations must kowtow to First World demands, because they can't push back. "Free trade" is still a myth. I would like to do away with this dichotomy, a Cold War relic, but it remains useful in underscoring the rift between the First and Third Worlds.

I would like to do away with this dichotomy, a Cold War relic, but it remains useful in underscoring the rift between the First and Third Worlds. This is the brutal conception of so-called free trade, one that benefits the First World at the expense of its poorer neighbors. This is the brutal conception of so-called free trade, which benefits the First World at the expense of its poorer neighbors. Perhaps most distressing is the fact that First World farmers are lavishly subsidized — at $1 billion a day. Since the Great Depression, American farmers have received increasingly hefty sums of federal assistance. In fact, a recent farm bill upped subsidies by 70 percent, with the lion's share pocketed by the wealthiest producers. This trend is mirrored across the pond, where the European Union's Common Agricultural Policy accounts for 85 percent of the agricultural subsidies worldwide, more or less supplying welfare to an elite handful of European farmers. This practice legally robs the Third World of opportunity and the ability to compete, with poverty and social unrest proceeding thenceforth. With such an asymmetric advantage, the developed countries end up with a surplus of produce, which they "dump" in the Third World markets. This immense oversupply drives down the price of local goods, devastating the local economy in turn. Not only does it make poor farmers (and countries) poorer, it often forces them off their own land.

Tortifs, on the other hand, offer another obstacle to fair trade. If Africa, East Asia, South Asia and Latin America increased their share of world exports by just one percent, 128 million could be lifted out of poverty.

Many coffee farmers earn less than it costs them to grow. Do you partake of Fair Trade coffee wherever you can — at Starbucks, at3 Reckers, anywhere? Show the demand exists for goods ethically produced and environmentally friendly.

On a related note, every year, 14 million die from treatable diseases. Denied access to simple, anti-retroviral med­icine, parents in the Third World pass HIV on to their children. This is just one example of the immorality of the glob­al patent rules. Any decent person believes that public health trumps patent protection. But the pharmaceutical lobbies on K Street in Washington beg to differ, claiming they must be compensated for the funds they pour into research and development, at the annual cost of 14 million lives.

It is a little disconcerting, and perhaps testimony to lean­ings of the media across the board, that injustice on such a scale goes unreported. It verges on media blackout. And without coverage, the media become party to the continued injustices.

So if this is news to you, you should already be wondering how this came to pass — and why it continues to. You should, at least, be troubled by the unfairness of it.

You should not dismiss this as a bee buzzing in the ultra­liberal bonnet — anyone who abhors injustice ought to be outraged and ought to know that radical change is needed here. You should not dismiss this as a topic too remote to warrant a moment of attention — anyone reading this undoubtedly reaps the benefits of the unjust practice of "free trade," directly or indirectly. You should not dismiss this period.

The exploitation of the Third World by the First World must not carry on. For world trade to work for the poor as it does for the rich, fair trade must be established. Sign petitions, buy Fair Trade goods, reject neoliberalism at the ballot box, write your senators, do anything you can to speed up the process.

BJ Strew is a junior English major. His columns appear every other Monday. Contact him at unstrew@nd.edu.

The views expressed in this column are those of the author and not necessarily those of The Observer.
Notre Dame students ruin the game

Treat opposing fans the way you would want to be treated

On Saturday I was at Ann Arbor at the big house with my wife and two of my three sons. I have been going to Notre Dame games since 1972. In all those years, I have had some problems with fans in the stadium but I never thought my worst game that I ever had attended would be the fault of the Notre Dame students.

I have driven all night in the rain and snow to games at Penn State and Ohio State and even Miami. All of these have a reputation for being a hostile environment for the opposing team’s fans. But Saturday, Sept. 13 is a day I won’t forget.

We got there early in the morning and tailgated with the Michigan fans. We joked together about how the game would be played — a very enjoyable time. When getting to our seats I was happy that Notre Dame fans and mostly students of Notre Dame surrounded me. My sons have been raised in the state of Michigan and were wearing Michigan shirts while my wife and I were in the 2003 Shirt.

The five male students behind us had been drinking and were very loud and were raining down four letter words on all the Michigan fans. If you’re a fan of any organization you can only tolerate so much before you start looking for a confrontation. One of the Notre Dame students slipped off the bleacher and into one of my boys. A shoving match started, words were exchanged and I had to stand in between them. I was asked why I was standing up for them because they were Michigan fans. I would have done the same for any fans and I would hope that most Notre Dame fans would do the same. This was not frustration from what was happening on field because there was no score yet. I have always believed that it didn’t matter what school you supported as long as you could respect the opposing team. This is what makes college football so great.

It has long been a tradition at Notre Dame to stand on the bleachers during the game. I have always been proud to see that at home games. But at an away game there is no student section and there is a mix of fans of all ages. My wife is close to having knee replacement and, at 53, my ability to balance while standing on the bleachers during the whole game is not what it used to be. I could only imagine what the 70 plus people down from me was going through.

I was asked by these same students later, in the game, why I was not cheering for the Irish and stated that they had taken away my spirit. I was embarrassed for Notre Dame by what was happening in the stands, not by what was happening on the field.

The security at Notre Dame stadium is unmatched by any away event and at Michigan there was nowhere to get help. Therefore it should be up to the students to police themselves to uphold the standards of being part of the greatest University.

After all, we are Notre Dame.

Remarks at soccer game offensive to crowd

I have been a long time fan of Notre Dame soccer, going both to the men’s and women’s games. There is a group of Notre Dame students (male) who also go to support both teams forming a single cheering section. They are vigorous, loud and, on rare occasions, funny. The problem is that they are also frequently obnoxious, unremittingly vulgar and a disgrace to the university.

On Friday evening, Sept. 12, they amused themselves with a steady string of homophobic remarks and vulgarities directed at the opposing goalie. On Saturday, Sept. 13, they directed repulsive remarks to the opposing goalie comparing her to various animals. There are not 80,000 people in the stands, so their bravado remarks carry a goodly distance.

People in the stands were appalled by their behavior (e.g. a family with a prospective student, the coaches of a visiting high school team, a man who was restrained by his wife from going down and shutting them up, etc.). I spoke to one of them on Friday but, seemingly, to no effect. I did apologize to the visitors whom I could identify.

I am not proposing some politically correct speech code. I am merely noting how much they besmirch the reputation of the student body by their boisterous activities. I do not know their names. I can only hope that they read this letter and realize what oafs they are and how bad they appear to the people who come to the games. Let them be funny, wild, loud and a little out of control. However, let them be offensive to the crowd and hurtful to the opposition. Cardinal John Newman once said that the gentlemen never consciously offend. These guys don’t seem to have the wit to see how offensive they are. I am ashamed of them and the bad name they give this school.

Michigan fans classless

Congratulations to the University of Michigan Wolverines on their overwheming victory on Saturday. God knows they were the better team, and surely God would reward such a fan base who carries themselves with the dignity of the maize and blue.

That very same dignity seems to have seeped into the very soul of every U of M fan. It has permeated their collective consciousness deep enough to welcome the opponents to Ann Arbor by lynching effigies of the Irish head coach. Yes, all that fight for an affirmative action stance in the Admissions Department seems to be creating quite a revolutionary perception about diversity.

Of course, Lord knows Ty Willingham could use a reprimand for his uncoch behavior on the sidelines and during his press conferences. Instilling a sense of integrity in his players would be the least he could do. His players would do well to imitate the compassionate way Michigan’s Marlon Jackson forgave a fellow bar patron with an absolving blow to the head with a beer bottle.

But, as the team only accounts for a small demographic, let us look to the little people at defining the university. So instead of judging the players for their virtue, let us be equally ready to beg pardon of the students and fans for whom we provided targets at which to throw cans of beer. Heaven forbid the Notre Dame faithful should occupy the hospital beds desperately needed for terminally ill Wolverine fans. After all, it appears a great many require as much care as possible to treat their incurable condition as alcoholic social vegetables.

Such uncivilized behavior characterizes the Irish race and seems especially repulsive in lieu of the example set by the Michigan student body. The classy manner in which “F— the Irish” and “Rudy Swallows” frequently resounded from the student section speaks volumes about the creativity and intelligence that emanates from the Ann Arbor campus. Their new and innovative ways to support their own team are not only not worthy but commendable.

So here’s to the University of Michigan. Kudos for establishing yourselves as both worthy of a top five football ranking and also as the people we will most enjoy terminating from your jobs.

Lawrence Cunningham
department of theology

Sept. 14

Michigan fans classless

Congratulations to the University of Michigan Wolverines on their overwheming victory on Saturday. God knows they were the better team, and surely God would reward such a fan base who carries themselves with the dignity of the maize and blue.

That very same dignity seems to have seeped into the very soul of every U of M fan. It has permeated their collective consciousness deep enough to welcome the opponents to Ann Arbor by lynching effigies of the Irish head coach. Yes, all that fight for an affirmative action stance in the Admissions Department seems to be creating quite a revolutionary perception about diversity.

Of course, Lord knows Ty Willingham could use a reprimand for his uncoch behavior on the sidelines and during his press conferenc

Congratulations to the University of Michigan Wolverines on their overwheming victory on Saturday. God knows they were the better team, and surely God would reward such a fan base who carries themselves with the dignity of the maize and blue.

That very same dignity seems to have seeped into the very soul of every U of M fan. It has permeated their collective consciousness deep enough to welcome the opponents to Ann Arbor by lynching effigies of the Irish head coach. Yes, all that fight for an affirmative action stance in the Admissions Department seems to be creating quite a revolutionary perception about diversity.

Of course, Lord knows Ty Willingham could use a reprimand for his uncoch behavior on the sidelines and during his press conferences. Instilling a sense of integrity in his players would be the least he could do. His players would do well to imitate the compassionate way Michigan's Marlon Jackson forgave a fellow bar patron with an absolving blow to the head with a beer bottle.

But, as the team only accounts for a small demographic, let us look to the little people at defining the university. So instead of judging the players for their virtue, let us be equally ready to beg pardon of the students and fans for whom we provided targets at which to throw cans of beer. Heaven forbid the Notre Dame faithful should occupy the hospital beds desperately needed for terminally ill Wolverine fans. After all, it appears a great many require as much care as possible to treat their incurable condition as alcoholic social vegetables.

Such uncivilized behavior characterizes the Irish race and seems especially repulsive in lieu of the example set by the Michigan student body. The classy manner in which “F— the Irish” and “Rudy Swallows” frequently resounded from the student section speaks volumes about the creativity and intelligence that emanates from the Ann Arbor campus. Their new and innovative ways to support their own team are not only not worthy but commendable.

So here’s to the University of Michigan. Kudos for establishing yourselves as both worthy of a top five football ranking and also as the people we will most enjoy terminating from your jobs.

Lawrence Cunningham
department of theology

Sept. 14
Wondering what to wear next weekend? The '80s are 'it' in the upcoming fashion world

By CHRISTIE BOLSEN
Assistant Scene Editor

At any given time on the University's campus, someone is about to break into song. Although many students choose to sing only when the band plays the Fight Song or during Mass, there are talented singers all over campus who have many groups they may choose to join. At the beginning of each year there are general auditions for some of these groups, from Glee Club to Liturgical Choir. Students indicate their preferences on which groups they would most like to join and then show off their skills for a chance to be a part of one of them.

Like snowflakes and fingerprints, no two choirs are the same. Do you prefer "Amazing Grace" or "Stick Shills and Safety Belts"? Do you mark "M" or "F" on official forms? Would you prefer a non-religiously affiliated group or are you interested in learning spiritual music from different cultures? There's something for everyone who has a stunning voice and dedication. Here is a rundown of just a few of the choirs that can be heard around campus.

Glee Club
This all-male choral group is a favorite for musical performances. It's over 85 years old and has more than 2,000 men who have been members of the club. New members are added during the general tryout, so if you are interested, call. New members may choose to join. At the beginning of the year, but Glee Club also adds members before spring semester and interviews potential members to make sure they are sighted and will mesh with the group.

The main events for Glee Club that are held every year are a fall concert, a Christmas concert, a spring concert, a concert in the Basilica and a commencement concert. Every three years there is also a reunion year. This year is the 50th reunion year. On Sept. 19, about 250 Glee Club alumni will be returning to Notre Dame to sing with the current members at a concert that night and to reminisce about their years singing under the Dome. Everyone is encouraged to attend the Reunion Concert at Stepan Center at 8 p.m. Tickets are $3 at the LaFortune Box Office.

Glee Club members can be seen all over campus, though, and not just at their concerts. Every Saturday morning of a football game they can be heard singing "ND in Revue" in the Joyce Center. For the alumni reunion, there will be so many singers that they will be performing in front of the Refectory Pool at 11:30 a.m. before the Irish take on Michigan State. They will also be singing the National Anthem for the Michigan State game. Besides these big events, members keep busy with numerous appearances that the University or other groups' requests.

Sean Sprigg is one of the returning members of Glee Club. "For the audience, I think it's about enjoying great music and learning something sometimes because there are a lot of obscure pieces...that are great pieces of music and no one's heard them much."

Sean Sprigg
Glee Club

Remember how you laugh at how ridiculous you looked back during those horrible days in the '80s? Get ready for yet another dose.

Emily Howald is far better at giving advice on clothes than really anything else. She is a pro at damage control. She just does it far too often and is a bit too sarcastic for her own good. Contact her at howald@nd.edu but be nice!
For the members, it's about brotherhood and music. Members take tours together during the academic year, and every other year they take an international tour during the summer. This past summer the group toured Europe, traveling to Italy, Austria, the Czech Republic, Germany, Switzerland, France, Spain and Ireland about a month.

"No one had fun," member Javier Hernandez said. "It was just different; we basically lived on a bus. I also wondered what it was like to tour as a real group, and of course you just bonded with all the people because you grew up in the Bookstore about hours a day from country to country and you've got nothing to do but talk to each other.

For an exciting summer, the Glee Club has an eventful year coming up as well, where they would be able to enjoy numerous performances.

Undertones
This subset of the Glee Club is an all-male group that currently has 10 members from different classes and all vocal parts. The Glee Club members can be in the Undertones, and they also stick with arrangements of popular songs like tunes from the Bee Gees, Take Five and more. Sprigg, who is starting his second year in the Undertones, says the group tries to find songs that are fun, recognizable and just sound good.

"We have a lot of fun doing our own arrangements of these popular songs and performing them for girls' dorms," Sprigg said. "We usually have one big project per year, and last year it was the end of the year concert, so we also do a lot of small concerts for anyone who's looking for entertainment.

This means the Undertones perform for various clubs, organizations and dorms. The Bookstore also has them sing for one hour after every football game. The Bookstore also sells CDs that the Undertones have recorded.

Harmonia
This all-girl a cappella group began when students Brooke Philips, Jessica Rinaldi, Danielle Rinaldi and Jennifer Sprigg noticed that there was no female a cappella group at Notre Dame. When they realized that there were four of them singing four female voice parts, they began their quest to start a new group. Monson, now a senior and president of the group, has been with Harmonia from the start.

"By the beginning of the next year we had a name, Harmonia, we had try-outs to pick the 12 other girls in the group and we were getting gigs. At the end of that year we had established ourselves. We started performing with the Undertones to a sold-out crowd in Washington Hall," Monson said.

Harmonia is now in its third year and still consists of 16 girls who perform frequently at dorm functions, benefits, hangouts, parties and concerts. Their biggest event for the past two years has been a concert with the Undertones in May. Auditions are held each fall for anyone who's looking for a privilege of sharing it. This means the Undertones and Harmonia often share the stage with the Glee Club.

"It's more than just an extracurricular activity, it's a family. We sing an incredible repertoire — its hard to beat eight-part harmony — and have the privilege of sharing it with the faith community at Notre Dame and throughout the world, thanks to the Hallmark Channel.

Teresa Bloemker
Liturgical Choir
We become the closest of friends just through singing, but by going on retreats, hosting weekly movie nights and organizing all sorts of activities to bring us together. Being a member of the Liturgical Choir has made me come to live my Catholic faith all the more through the ministry of music," Bloemker said.

Liturgical Choir
This group is one of the oldest choirs on the ND campus that is not religiously affiliated. The songs we sing are songs you would hear on the radio, and we try to stick to the contemporary stuff. Harmonia continues to grow, continues to improve and continues to rule to the day," Monson said.

The choir usually takes tours each year, its most recent being the May 2003 trip to Italy. The group traveled to many Italian cities and sang at a Papal Audience. Other tours have included upscale New York, Canada, France and the majority of the United States.

"It's more than just an extracurricular activity, it's a family. We sing an incredible repertoire — its hard to beat eight-part harmony — and have the privilege of sharing it with the faith community at Notre Dame and throughout the world, thanks to the Hallmark Channel.

"We become the closest of friends just through singing, but by going on retreats, hosting weekly movie nights and organizing all sorts of activities to bring us together. Being a member of the Liturgical Choir has made me come to live my Catholic faith all the more through the ministry of music," Bloemker said.

"I think God is celebrated in diversity. We belong to a Catholic Church, and the word catholic means universal. That means we see God throughout all the cultures ... some people I think can be very perceptive in their stance toward not liking diversity. But the Catholic Church and all of her wisdom says that diversity is actually a sign of the wonder of God. And if that's the case, then should our music express that diversity or emulate that diversity as well?" Warner said.

To incorporate different sounds, the choir will play instruments from different cultures as well. For the South African pieces, like "Siyahamba" and "Hallelujah Pelo Tsa Bona," a pair of congas is played or a djembe, which means "happy drum." For the Irish pieces, like "Rian Padrigh" (song of Patrick) a bodhran, is played.

The next event for the choir, which was the first to travel internationally in Ireland in 1988, is to travel again to Ireland for Fall Break. Warner describes the state of Irish liturgy right now as "dead on arrival," with short masses and prayers spoken out of sync. Every three or four years, the Folk Choir goes to Ireland to work with the assemblies there to sing their music and learn new music to bring back.

Chorale
Out of all the groups on campus, this is the official concert choir of the University. Over 60 singers perform several times every year, including with the Chamber Orchestra in the Basilica each semester. They also sing Handel's "Messiah" with the Chamber Orchestra in December in Washington Hall and have concerts in the fall, spring and during Commencement Weekend. They also sing at the Baccalaureate Mass during Commencement Weekend.

Members of the Chorale also take tours in winter and spring, as well as international tours about every three years to locations such as Rome, Assisi, Florence, Venice and Padua. They have recorded "Cantate Domino" and "The Notre Dame Chorale in Concert."

Contact Christie Bolen at cholsen@nd.edu

The Notre Dame Folk Choir performed with Desmond Tutu at the Sept. 11 Conference at the McKenna Building. Students and faculty enjoyed the performance.
HOUSTON — The Houston Astros just about ended the playoff chances of the Cardinals.

Tim Redding combined with three relievers on a three-hitter as the Astros beat St. Louis 4-1 earlier Sunday. It was the Reds’ 29th victory in their final at-bat, most in the majors.

“It’s a bump in the road,” Baker said. “There’s 13, 14 games left. You can make up two games in two days. It’s still going to go down.”

Zambrano (13-10) was dazing for most of the day, allowing only three hits and no walks through the first eight innings, retiring 13 straight at one point. But after he came out for the ninth inning, home plate umpire Steve Rippley left the game with a headache.

Rippley had been hit in the chin with a foul tip in the sixth inning, and Zambrano walked 13 minutes while second-string reliever Jerry Meals changed to go behind the plate.

Braves 8, Marlins 4

On the verge of being swept by NL wild-card leader Atlanta, Atlanta Braves manager Bobby Cox turned to his bench.

That’s where Chipper Jones and Javy Lopez sat. The two sluggers came through in pinch-hit roles, sparking Atlanta’s ninth-inning ninth inning against Braden Looper for an 8-4 victory that ended the Marlins’ seven-game winning streak.

The win snapped a three-game series over the Philadelphia Phillies, who beat Pittsburgh 10-7.

Phillies 8, Nationals 2

Bandy Wolf was too sick to pitch at his best, not that it mattered.

The game was much too big to think about missing, so he didn’t tell anyone how bad he felt, nor even his manager.

Jim Thome drove in three runs as the Philadelphia Phillies shook off two weekend losses in Pittsburgh to quickly open an eight-run lead, then hold on for a much-needed 10-7 victory over the Nationals.

Wolf (15-9), the Phillies’ most reliable starter when they need an important victory, pitched 6-1/3 innings despite being up most of the night sick. He also helped himself with two hits as Philadelphia avoided a three-game sweep by the non-contending Pirates.

By losing Friday and Saturday, the Phillies fell 2.5 games behind Florida in the NL wild-card race — the furthest they’ve been behind since June 26. They got back to within 1.5 games Sunday when the Braves rallied with five runs in the ninth to beat the Marlins 8-4.

“This was a great day for us, an awesome day,” Thome said.

Giants 5, Brewers 4

Bryan Bussey’s finger-pointing argument was unusual — and nearly as surprising as his replacement’s game-winning hit.

Todd Linden had a bases-loaded single in the 11th inning as the San Francisco Giants beat the Milwaukee Brewers 5-4.

Though he was on the field for less than five minutes, Bonds made two small bits of history.

He drew his 2,062nd walk when pinch-hitter Allen Warrigan was plunked with the bases loaded, setting up Bonds to become the major league career batter走er leader.

Babe Ruth for second place on the career list.

After Bonds was replaced by a pinch runner and Rick Austin was called out on strikes, Bonds was ejected for arguing from the dugout with plate umpire Jim Reynolds, who had been watching the game on television earlier, sprung out of the dugout for an animated rhubarb.

“I just said, ‘It’s not that difficult, and he threw me out,” Bonds said. “I didn’t say he was a bad umpire, but after I was thrown out, you’re not that great. I didn’t insult anybody.”

It was a surprising burst of passion from Bonds, who rarely dignifies umpires’ calls with even a glance — but Reynolds apparently did something to stir the single-season home run king.

“I asked the umpire if he said anything bad, maybe I didn’t hear it, and he said, ‘No,” Giants manager Felipe Alou said. “I never saw 25 (Bonds’ uniform
Buehrle’s 7-inning effort keeps Sox atop Central

Boston — Mark Buehrle kept the Chicago White Sox in first place and the Boston Red Sox in a slump. Buehrle pitched seven strong innings as the White Sox won 7-2.

Buehrle was solid when he needed to be as Boston got led-off hits in five of his seven innings. And he didn’t have to face Nomar Garciaparra, who missed the game with the flu. “I got myself in a lot of jams, fell behind the count a lot. And I couldn’t throw strike one to save my life,” Buehrle said.

With Boston ahead 5-2 with no outs in the sixth and two on, Buehrle got David Ortiz to ground into a double play. “We were getting ready to unload on him right there,” Boston manager Grady Little said. “That was the pivotal point in the game.”

Buehrle allowed two runs and seven hits, and Damaso Martinez worked two innings for his 11th save in 18 chances. The Red Sox, who lost their second straight, remained 5-5 games behind the AL-East leading Yankees. Boston remained a half-game ahead of Seattle in the wild-card race.

Twins 5, Indians 3
A painful bounce turned into a lucky one for Minnesota as the Twins remained tied for the AL Central lead.

Doug Mientkiewicz delivered a tiebreaking single in the eighth inning and the Twins overcame right fielder Michael Ryan being hit in the head with a flyball to defeat the Cleveland Indians 5-3 Sunday.

Mientkiewicz also hit a two-run homer for the Twins, who moved over .500 for the first time this season and remained tied with the Chicago White Sox for first place. It was 3-all in the Cleveland seventh when Jhonny Peralta led off with a fly ball to right-center.

Ryan shaded his eyes, then lowered his glove and the ball bounced off the side of his face — but was caught on the rebound by center fielder Dustin Mohr for the out. “It was embarrassing more than anything,” Ryan said. “I had three balls hit my way and lost every one in the sun.”

Ryan had a large welt just above his left eye, and was replaced by Torii Hunter. Ryan said he felt his eye and thought he was bleeding — but it was just sweat. “I felt like I was stung when I was hit,” he said. “I wanted to stay in the game, but they wouldn’t let me.”

The Twins took the lead in the eighth after Danyo Batz (2-9) hit the first two batters he faced, Hunter and Cristian Guzman, with pitches. Shannon Stewart sacrificed the runners over, but Hunter was thrown out at the plate when he tried to score on Luis Rivas’ grounder to second baseman Brandon Phillips. Mientkiewicz followed with his go-ahead hit.

“That was a big moment,” Mientkiewicz said. “Every game is a playoff game for us.”

Royals 7, Tigers 2
The Detroit Tigers reached another milestone they’d rather not think about.

The Tigers became the first team in 34 years to lose 110 games in one season as Kansas City beat Detroit 7-2 behind three RBI from Angel Berroa. “At this point, the losses make no difference to me,” said the Tigers’ Bobby Higginson, who was on the 1996 Detroit team that lost 109 games. “It’s just bad. We knew it was coming. If we end at 110 or 119 losses, I don’t think it’s going to make much of a difference. It’s a lot of losses, either way. It’s been a miserable year.”

Detroit (38-110) has the most losses since the Montreal Expos and San Diego Padres each went 52-110 in 1969, their first seasons in the major league.

The Tigers, who set a franchise record for losses, are 93-216 since the start of 2002, tying the 1952-53 Pittsburgh Pirates (92-216) for the sixth-most losses in consecutive years.

Detroit needs at least five wins in its last 14 games to avoid matching the 1962 New York Mets for the most losses in a season since 1900.

The future relies on inventions from GE.
GE’s future relies on people like you.

Upcoming GE Events at WPI
Seeking intern, co-op and full-time hires!
September 17th: Visit us at the Career Fair
September 25th: Resume drop deadline sign up with the CDC imagination at work

www.gecareers.com

Associated Press

White Sox second baseman Roberto Alomar leaps to avoid a Red Sox runner during a double play attempt in Chicago’s 7-2 win.

White Sox runner during a double play attempt in Chicago’s 7-2 win.

Is it the wind that generates electricity?
Or is it the idea that harnessed it?

GE’s future relies on people like you.

The future relies on inventions from GE.

Is it the wind that generates electricity?
Or is it the idea that harnessed it?

GE’s future relies on people like you.

Is it the wind that generates electricity?
Or is it the idea that harnessed it?

GE’s future relies on people like you.

www.gecareers.com

 superscript
PGA

Lewis, Singh lead as tourney runs long

Associated Press

SILVIS, Ill. — J.L. Lewis and Vijay Singh held a one-stroke lead after a long day of golf Sunday didn’t produce a winner at the rain-soaked John Deere Classic.

Lewis, who won the tournament in 1999, and Singh, third on the PGA money list this year, were at 12 under after completing the rain-delayed third round. They only played five holes of the final round, which will resume Monday morning.

A dozen players were within five shots of the lead when play was halted by darkness at the Tournament Players Club at Deere Run, where heavy rains washed out Saturday’s round.

Lewis, who has topped the leaderboard throughout the tournament, couldn’t add to the 12-under total he built with identical 65s during the first two rounds.

He said a north wind and slow putting surface offset rain-softened greens and fairways. He predicted a score of 4 under might be needed to win Monday.

“If it stays calm, they’ll be some birdies made,” Lewis said.

Singh, who started the day four shots back, picked up two strokes with three birdies and a bogey during the third round, then birdied two of five holes in the final round before play was stopped.

He is playing for the seventh straight week in an attempt to win the money title.

Notah Begay III, Chris Riley and Paul Stankowski were one shot back at 11 under, while Jonathan Byrd was alone in sixth place at 10 under. Three players were within three shots at 9 under.

Stankowski, returning after wrist surgery in May, said fatigue wasn’t a factor despite the extra holes on the hilly course.

“I only played 25 holes today so it’s not that bad. It could have been worse,” said Stankowski, who has won two PGA titles — the last in 1997.
SCHEDULE OF EVENTS

Monday, September 15
Industry Day Banquet
McKenna Hall/CCE
Reception, 6:30 p.m.
Dinner, 7:15 p.m.

Tuesday, September 16
Career Fair
North Dome of the Joyce Center
12:00 - 5:00 p.m.

Wednesday, September 17
Interview Day
Flanner Hall
8:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m.

Find out more! Use "GO IRISH!"

For more information about the participating companies, job descriptions, and contacts, access the Career Center Website:
- Go to http://careercenter.nd.edu
- Click on Undergraduates, then click on Go IRISH
- Enter your NetID (AFSID) and Password, then click on Log-in
- Click on Search Jobs/Internships
- Click on Jobs/Internships for Notre Dame Students
- Scroll down to Keyword Search, type in Industry Day 2003, then click on Search
- For an alphabetical list of:
  - Organizations, click on "Organization"
  - Positions, click on "Position Title"

PARTICIPATING COMPANIES*

Accenture
American Electric Power Company
Anson Industries, Inc.
Bank of America
Bechtel Nevada
Biotest, Inc.
Boeing
Boston Consulting Group
BP Energy Company
Bristol-Myers Squibb
careershife
CC Technologies
Central Intelligence Agency
Cowhey Gudmundson Leder, Ltd.
DaimlerChrysler Corporation
Deloitte Consulting
Delphi Automotive Systems
Denso International America, Inc.
DENG0 Mfg. Michigan, Inc.
DuPont
Exelon Corporation
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Federal Mogul Corporation
General Dynamics Advanced Information Systems
General Electric
Hewlett-Packard
IBM Corporation
Indiana Department of Transportation
Johnson and Johnson
Lockheed Martin Corporation
Marathon Ashland Petroleum LLC
McKee Foods
Merck & Co., Inc.
MIT Lincoln Laboratory
Motorola
NAVIR
Northrop Grumman
PPG Industries
Pratt&Whitney, Inc.
Pulte Homes, Inc.
R.A. Smith & Associates, Inc.
Raytheon
Schumacher Technology Corporation
Styker Instruments
Teach for America
Technology Services Group
Travelers Property Casualty
Turner Construction
Unisys Corporation
United Parcel Service
United States Air Force
United States Army Corps of Engineers
United States Marine Corps
United States Navy
United States Navy Civilian Jobs
U.S. Cellular
Vedder, Price, Kaufman & Kammholz
Walsh Construction Group
Westinghouse Electric Company

*Companies listed in bold will be interviewing on Wednesday, September 17.

SPONSORED BY THE JOINT ENGINEERING COUNCIL, NOTRE DAME STUDENT SECTION OF THE SOCIETY OF WOMEN ENGINEERS, THE CAREER CENTER, AND THE COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING
Blocked extra point propels Panthers to victory

Associated Press

TAMPA, Fla. — With Tampa Bay lining up to kick an extra point with no time on the clock, the Carolina Panthers easily could have hung their heads and accepted defeat. The Buccaneers knew they wouldn't.

"It's never over. We fight to the end," Carolina defensive tackle Brenton Bucknor said after Kris Jenkins blocked what would have been a game-winning conversion by Martin Gramatica. That set the stage for the Panthers to beat the Super Bowl champions 12-9 in overtime Sunday.

"We knew they had to go out and make the extra point. We blocked two kicks prior to that, so we thought: 'Hey, we've got a chance.'... By the grace of God we blocked it."

John Kasay's fourth field goal, a 47-yarder with 3:28 remaining in the extra period, capped a wild final few minutes.

The Bucs had tied it with no time left in regulation on Keenan McCardell's 6-yard reception. Considering Gramatica never missed an extra point in his career (129 attempts), the conversion seemed a foregone conclusion.

Jenkins had other ideas.

"I went in and blocked it. I don't think it was rocket science or anything," said Jenkins, who also knocked down a 38-yard field goal try in the second quarter. "It was now or never. We didn't have a choice. Somebody had to get it."

Packers 33, Lions 6

It took a mere 52 seconds for the Green Bay Packers to rediscover their running game and their home-field advantage.

Ahman Green rushed 23 times for 160 yards, including a 65-yarder for a score on his first carry as the Packers rolled past the Detroit Lions 33-6, snapping a two-game home losing streak.

Green topped 100 yards by halftime, and the Packers (1-1) picked off three of Joey Harrington's passes in the second half to send the Lions (1-1) to their 17th straight road loss.

Green scored when he found a hole in the eight-man front created by guard Mike Wahle, broke a tackle by safety Corey Harris and raced 65 yards for the touchdown on a field drenched by nearly 3 inches of rain in 48 hours.

"This is our type of weather," Brett Favre said. "When we're running the ball like that, we're tough to beat. Anybody would be."

The play accounted for more yards than Green had in either of his previous two games. He had 53 yards against Minnesota a week earlier and 34 yards against Atlanta in the playoffs — both of them losses at Lambeau Field.

Redskins 33, Falcons 31

This looked more like a Steve Spurrier-coached team.

Patrick Ramsey threw the ball all over the field, Laveranues Coles had a career-receiving day and the Washington Redskins rallied from a 17-point deficit to claim a 33-31 win and feel good in the second time since 1991, the season of its last Super Bowl championship.

The Falcons (1-1) failed to give coach Dan Reeves his 200th career victory and squandered a chance to win their first two games for only the second time in 17 years.

Rams 27, 49ers 24

Marc Bulger kept the St. Louis Rams' quarterback controversy alive.

Kurt Warner's backup shook off two first-half turnovers, throwing for two touchdowns and keeping his cool on the final drive of a 27-24 overtime win over the San Francisco 49ers. Jeff Wilkins kicked a 24-yard field goal with 13 minutes left in the extra period.

Coach Mike Martz wouldn't say whether Bulger or Warner, who had a concussion in the opener, would be the starter next week at Seattle.

"This is a time to celebrate a win and feel good," Martz said. "We'll deal with that on Monday." Martz couldn't hold back on praise for Bulger, 25-for-36 for 296 yards and two touchdowns, Coles, shaken up early when his head rammed the leg of Falcons safety Kevin McDadam, recovered to set career highs with 11 catches for 180 yards.

Coles had the clinching touchdown on a 19-yard reception with 12:47 to go.

"Whenever things aren't going well, I want to be the guy who steps up and makes things happen," said Coles, acquired by owner Daniel Snyder during an offseason spending spree.

Washington is 2-0 for the first time since 1991, the season of its career victory and squandered a coach Dan Reeves his 200th

"This is a time to celebrate a win and feel good," Martz said. "We'll deal with that on Monday." Martz couldn't hold back on praise for Bulger, 25-for-36 for 296 yards and two touchdowns, Coles, shaken up early when his head rammed the leg of Falcons safety Kevin McDadam, recovered to set career highs with 11 catches for 180 yards.

Coles had the clinching touchdown on a 19-yard reception with 12:47 to go.

"Whenever things aren't going well, I want to be the guy who steps up and makes things happen," said Coles, acquired by owner Daniel Snyder during an offseason spending spree.

Washington is 2-0 for the first time since 1991, the season of its career victory and squandered a coach Dan Reeves his 200th

"This is a time to celebrate a win and feel good," Martz said. "We'll deal with that on Monday." Martz couldn't hold back on praise for Bulger, 25-for-36 for 296 yards and two touchdowns, Coles, shaken up early when his head rammed the leg of Falcons safety Kevin McDadam, recovered to set career highs with 11 catches for 180 yards.

Coles had the clinching touchdown on a 19-yard reception with 12:47 to go.

"Whenever things aren't going well, I want to be the guy who steps up and makes things happen," said Coles, acquired by owner Daniel Snyder during an offseason spending spree.

Washington is 2-0 for the first time since 1991, the season of its career victory and squandered a coach Dan Reeves his 200th

"This is a time to celebrate a win and feel good," Martz said. "We'll deal with that on Monday." Martz couldn't hold back on praise for Bulger, 25-for-36 for 296 yards and two touchdowns, Coles, shaken up early when his head rammed the leg of Falcons safety Kevin McDadam, recovered to set career highs with 11 catches for 180 yards.

Coles had the clinching touchdown on a 19-yard reception with 12:47 to go.

"Whenever things aren't going well, I want to be the guy who steps up and makes things happen," said Coles, acquired by owner Daniel Snyder during an offseason spending spree.

Washington is 2-0 for the first time since 1991, the season of its career victory and squandered a coach Dan Reeves his 200th

"This is a time to celebrate a win and feel good," Martz said. "We'll deal with that on Monday." Martz couldn't hold back on praise for Bulger, 25-for-36 for 296 yards and two touchdowns, Coles, shaken up early when his head rammed the leg of Falcons safety Kevin McDadam, recovered to set career highs with 11 catches for 180 yards.

Coles had the clinching touchdown on a 19-yard reception with 12:47 to go.

"Whenever things aren't going well, I want to be the guy who steps up and makes things happen," said Coles, acquired by owner Daniel Snyder during an offseason spending spree.

Washington is 2-0 for the first time since 1991, the season of its career victory and squandered a coach Dan Reeves his 200th

"This is a time to celebrate a win and feel good," Martz said. "We'll deal with that on Monday." Martz couldn't hold back on praise for Bulger, 25-for-36 for 296 yards and two touchdowns, Coles, shaken up early when his head rammed the leg of Falcons safety Kevin McDadam, recovered to set career highs with 11 catches for 180 yards.

Coles had the clinching touchdown on a 19-yard reception with 12:47 to go.

"Whenever things aren't going well, I want to be the guy who steps up and makes things happen," said Coles, acquired by owner Daniel Snyder during an offseason spending spree.

Washington is 2-0 for the first time since 1991, the season of its career victory and squandered a coach Dan Reeves his 200th

"This is a time to celebrate a win and feel good," Martz said. "We'll deal with that on Monday." Martz couldn't hold back on praise for Bulger, 25-for-36 for 296 yards and two touchdowns, Coles, shaken up early when his head rammed the leg of Falcons safety Kevin McDadam, recovered to set career highs with 11 catches for 180 yards.

Coles had the clinching touchdown on a 19-yard reception with 12:47 to go.

"Whenever things aren't going well, I want to be the guy who steps up and makes things happen," said Coles, acquired by owner Daniel Snyder during an offshore
At Motorola,
you could be the driving force behind our innovation.

You've seen our cell phones and two-way radios. Have you seen them surf the Net? Or explored how we use DigitalDNA to create "living" electronics? Or maybe you're more interested in opening up the world to wireless broadband communications. Everything is possible when you are a company of visionaries with the technical prowess and drive to do things differently. Care enough to join us?

Exciting career opportunities exist for students interested in co-op, intern and new graduate positions in the following areas:

> Accounting / Finance  > Mechanical Engineering
> Electrical Engineering  > Process Engineering
> Human Resources  > Research & Advanced Technology
> Information Technology  > RF Engineering
> Marketing  > Software Engineering

Please visit us at the career fair tomorrow and Wednesday. We look forward to meeting you. Please submit your resume to www.motorola.com/careers/university.

Motorola is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. We welcome and encourage diversity in our workplace.
Baltimore Ravens gave Jamal Lewis the football, as promised, and he delivered on a pledge in setting a single-game NFL record with 295 yards rushing.

Lewis' incredible performance, which included two touchdowns, led Baltimore past the Cleveland Browns 33-13.

He would have had a third score and surpassed 300 yards if not for a holding penalty on Marcus Robinson during a 60-yard run in the first half.

"On a day like today, I can't regret anything," said Lewis, who averaged a whopping 9.8 yards on his 30 carries. "It was beautiful.

Lewis ran for an 82-yard touchdown on the second play from scrimmage, added a 63-yard touchdown in the fourth quarter and broke the record with a 3-yard run with 6:55 left.

He shattered the single-game mark held by Corey Dillon of Cincinnati, who ran for 278 yards on Oct. 22, 2000, against Denver.

During a phone call with Cleveland linebacker Andra Davis earlier in the week, Lewis said he would break the record if given 30 carries — twice as many as one week earlier in a 34-15 loss to Pittsburgh.

"Andra told me he wanted me to get the ball 30 times. I told him if I get the ball 30 times it's going to be a career day," Lewis said. "I'm not going to say I predicted it. It was lucky."

Raiders 23, Bengals 20

Jerry Rice won't stand for being embarrassed in his 19th NFL season.

Something had better change in a hurry, because the likely Hall of Famer is annoyed with how the Oakland Raiders are playing.

Shane Lechler kicked a 39-yard field goal, his third of the game, with nine seconds left as the Raiders overcame a lackluster performance in their home opener to beat the Cincinnati Bengals 23-20.

"I didn't come back for this," the 40-year-old Rice said. "We're at home. We won the game, but we didn't play well." Oakland's offense sputtered through another week, barely surviving against the lowliest team of the last decade. The Raiders (1-1) have yet to find a rhythm on offense, and lost their final three exhibition games and their opener last week at Tennessee.

They got a break on their final drive when Jeff Burris was flagged for pass interference against Rice, giving Oakland the ball on the Cincinnati 22 with 23 seconds left.

Rich Gannon completed a 25-yard pass to Charlie Garner with 36 seconds left to put the Raiders on the 37-yard line. Gannon then threw two incomplete passes before Burris was penalized.

The Bengals fell to 0-9 in Oakland. But for more than three quarters, this seemed to be their shot at a win. Cincinnati has beaten the Raiders just once in 13 tries on the West Coast, with that victory coming in 1988 when the Raiders were in Los Angeles.

Broncos 37, Chargers 13

The Denver Broncos lost their starting quarterback midway through the second quarter and their top running back was gone by halftime.

Plummer got a mild separation of his right shoulder when he dived out of bounds after getting a first down. He stayed in for two more plays, long enough to throw his third touchdown pass in less than two quarters. Steve Beuerlein replaced Plummer.

utowired his 19th NFL season. Something had better change in a hurry, because the likely Hall of Famer is annoyed with how the Oakland Raiders are playing.

Shane Lechler kicked a 39-yard field goal, his third of the game, with nine seconds left as the Raiders overcame a lackluster performance in their home opener to beat the Cincinnati Bengals 23-20.

"I didn't come back for this," the 40-year-old Rice said. "We're at home. We won the game, but we didn't play well." Oakland's offense sputtered through another week, barely surviving against the lowliest team of the last decade. The Raiders (1-1) have yet to find a rhythm on offense, and lost their final three exhibition games and their opener last week at Tennessee.

They got a break on their final drive when Jeff Burris was flagged for pass interference against Rice, giving Oakland the ball on the Cincinnati 22 with 23 seconds left.

Rich Gannon completed a 25-yard pass to Charlie Garner with 36 seconds left to put the Raiders on the 37-yard line. Gannon then threw two incomplete passes before Burris was penalized.

The Bengals fell to 0-9 in Oakland. But for more than three quarters, this seemed to be their shot at a win. Cincinnati has beaten the Raiders just once in 13 tries on the West Coast, with that victory coming in 1988 when the Raiders were in Los Angeles.

Broncos 37, Chargers 13

The Denver Broncos lost their starting quarterback midway through the second quarter and their top running back was gone by halftime.

Plummer got a mild separation of his right shoulder when he dived out of bounds after getting a first down. He stayed in for two more plays, long enough to throw his third touchdown pass in less than two quarters. Steve Beuerlein replaced Plummer.

Portis bruised his sternum and missed the second half, when Mike Anderson filled in.

NCAA Football

Ohio State tailback Maurice Clarett, left, who has been suspended for the season, cheers on his team with the help of teammate Angelo Chatam during Ohio State’s season opener against the Washington Huskies in Columbus, Ohio Aug. 30.

Clarett requests NFL rules change

Associated Press

East Rutherford, N.J. — Suspended Ohio State running back Maurice Clarett has asked the NFL to change its rules and make him eligible for the 2004 NFL draft. Commissioner Paul Tagliabue told The Associated Press that a lawyer from his office would meet with a lawyer for Clarett to discuss the case, probably the week after next. Last week, Clarett was suspended by Ohio State for at least one season for violating NCAA bylaws concerning benefits for athletes and for lying to investigators. Also, Ohio State is investigating charges that athletes received impermissible help in classes.

I think it would be better if he stayed in school.

Paul Tagliabue

NFL Commissioner

ESPN/USA Today poll

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Team</th>
<th>Record</th>
<th>Points</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Oklahoma (45)</td>
<td>3-0</td>
<td>1,551</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Miami (6)</td>
<td>3-0</td>
<td>1,498</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>USC (3)</td>
<td>3-0</td>
<td>1,499</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ohio State (7)</td>
<td>3-0</td>
<td>1,397</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Michigan (1)</td>
<td>3-0</td>
<td>1,312</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Arizona State</td>
<td>3-0</td>
<td>1,297</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Oregon State</td>
<td>3-0</td>
<td>1,288</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Florida State</td>
<td>3-0</td>
<td>1,267</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>LSU</td>
<td>3-0</td>
<td>895</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Utah</td>
<td>3-0</td>
<td>885</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tennessee</td>
<td>3-0</td>
<td>812</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Texas</td>
<td>3-0</td>
<td>803</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Iowa</td>
<td>3-0</td>
<td>642</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nebraska</td>
<td>3-0</td>
<td>641</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Arizona State</td>
<td>2-0</td>
<td>837</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Florida</td>
<td>2-0</td>
<td>582</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Arizona</td>
<td>2-0</td>
<td>622</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Iowa</td>
<td>2-0</td>
<td>581</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Iowa</td>
<td>2-0</td>
<td>641</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wyoming</td>
<td>2-0</td>
<td>618</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Boston College</td>
<td>2-0</td>
<td>632</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Texas A&amp;M</td>
<td>2-0</td>
<td>249</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Washington</td>
<td>2-0</td>
<td>200</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Oregon</td>
<td>2-0</td>
<td>368</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Penn State</td>
<td>2-0</td>
<td>342</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Missouri</td>
<td>2-0</td>
<td>302</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mississippi</td>
<td>2-0</td>
<td>222</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Washington State</td>
<td>2-0</td>
<td>1,716</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

NFC

Divisional

- Arizona (9-5-1) d. Minnesota (5-10), 7-6
- Philadelphia (6-6-2) d. Dallas (7-7), 6-3
- Cleveland (7-6) d. New York (11-5), 44-21
- St. Louis (7-6) d. Green Bay (9-6), 7-3
- Green Bay (9-6) d. Chicago (7-8), 29-26
- Chicago (7-8) d. Detroit (7-8), 37-27

AFC

- Miami (11-4-1) d. Buffalo (8-7), 26-20
- New England (8-8-0) d. New York (7-9), 30-20
- Pittsburgh (9-6-1) d. Cincinnati (10-5-1), 37-31
- Cincinnati (10-5-1) d. Baltimore (8-7-1), 31-24
- Carolina (9-6-1) d. Tennessee (6-9-2), 43-35
- Tennessee (6-9-2) d. New Orleans (6-9-2), 15-14

WAC

- Louisiana Tech (5-6) d. Rice (4-7-1), 40-20
- Rice (4-7-1) d. Tulsa (6-5), 30-20

Mid-American

- Akron (9-3) d. Northern Illinois (8-4), 42-13
- Bowling Green (6-6) d. Ball State (7-5), 35-28
- Ball State (7-5) d. Toledo (7-5), 24-14
- Toledo (7-5) d. Bowling Green (6-6), 21-14

Atlantic 10

- Saint Louis (7-5) d. Xavier (7-5), 63-35
- Xavier (7-5) d. Saint Louis (7-5), 57-28

Other

- Louisiana (8-4) d. Southern (6-6-1), 22-20
- Southern (6-6-1) d. Louisiana (8-4), 10-9

Notable

- Tennessee (6-9-2) d. Kentucky (5-7), 28-14
- Kentucky (5-7) d. Tennessee (6-9-2), 14-10
- Alabama (7-6) d. Vanderbilt (5-8-1), 35-7
- Vanderbilt (5-8-1) d. Alabama (7-6), 14-10
- Wake Forest (9-3) d. Virginia Tech (7-5-1), 37-17
- Virginia Tech (7-5-1) d. Wake Forest (9-3), 17-10

In Brief

Williams’ sister shot dead

COMPTON, Calif. — An older sister of tennis stars Venus and Serena Williams was shot to death Sunday following a dispute in suburban Los Angeles, authorities said.

Yetunde Price, 31, was with a man in a spar utility vehicle shortly after midnight and “somehow they had become involved in a confrontation with the local residents,” said Los Angeles County Sheriff’s Deputy Richard Pena.

Sheriff’s deputies searching for three people believed to be involved in the shooting surrounded a house in Compton at about 6 a.m., but it turned out to be empty. No arrests had been made by midday.

Venus and Serena Williams both had been ranked No. 1 in the world and have won a total of 10 Grand Slam singles titles.

Venus and Serena’s agent, Carlos Fleming, said the family was en route to California. Serena has been in Toronto to film a guest role in a cable TV drama series.

“This is sad and very tragic news,” WTA Tour chief executive Larry Scott said in a statement. “The thoughts and prayers of everyone at the WTA Tour are with the entire Williams family at this difficult time.”

Price was shot in the upper torso. Deputies on patrol heard the gunshots and found Price, who was later pronounced dead at a hospital. The man who had been with her in the SUV wasn’t injured and was being interviewed by authorities, Pena said.

Man swims Lake Michigan

HOLLAND, Mich. — An endurance swimmer on Sunday finished the fourth of 16 stages of his attempt to swim the length of Lake Michigan.

Jim Dreyer entered the Lake Sept. 7 in Michigan City, Ind. He finished the fourth stage about 6:20 a.m. Sunday, 13 hours, 13 minutes after he began the stage, according to his Web site.

He was expected to resume swimming after resting.

At the start, Dreyer said his goal was to swim along the lake’s east coast for the Mackinac Bridge, the suspension bridge that links Michigan’s two peninsulas.

Dreyer ran into a problem off Saugatuck, the Web site reported.

“The current from the Kalamazoo River emptying caught Jim and the inflatable and took him far enough out that he was no longer able to see land,” it said.

At one point, he lost his bearings and lost about an hour, it said.

The Byron Center man has said that he expected to swim 340 miles in 16 stages of 20 to 30 miles per stage. He said he hoped to complete the event in less than 20 days.

Dreyer has made direct crossings of all five Great Lakes except Superior. His latest attempt ended Aug. 27 with Dreyer completing about 33 miles of a 70-mile swim across Lake Superior.
Belles dominate SMC Triangular with two wins Saturday

By JUSTIN SCHUVER
Associate Sports Editor

Just two weeks into the 2003 season, the Belles have already matched their win total from last year.

Saint Mary’s improved to 7-3 on the season with two wins in the SMC Triangular this Saturday, defeating Kalamazoo in five games with a score of 26-30, 30-18, 30-17, 24-30, 15-10 and taking down Tri-State in straight sets by a score of 33-31, 30-22.

The Thunder will enter the MIAA next season, with this year being their last to compete in the NAIA.

Playko led the team against Tri-State with 12 kills. Temple led the team with three service aces, and middle hitter Sheil B hinder led the team with three solo blocks.

A continual bright spot for the Belles this season has been the play of Playko.

“Twe was hoping for this kind of play out of (Playko),” Schroeder-Biek said. “She’s just a very dynamic woman who plays with a lot of intensity.”

The Belles received an additional honor this week as outside attacker Alison Shevik was named MIAA specialty player of the week.

Saint Mary’s doesn’t get much rest after their impressive Triangular performance. The Belles are back on the court Monday against University of Chicago.

In the first SMC Triangular on Aug. 30, the University of Chicago defeated Saint Mary’s in a scrimmage game that did not count as a regular season match. For this reason, the Belles’ coach believes there will be a different outcome now that it counts.

“I am really excited to play them,” Schroeder-Biek said. “Our goal when playing them in the scrimmage was not to win, but just to experiment with our lineup.”

“We probably ended up seeing more of their starters than they saw of ours.”

Saint Mary’s faces the University of Chicago at home at 7 p.m.

Contact Justin Schuver
jschuver@nd.edu

The Observer ♦ SPORTS
Monday, September 15, 2003

MENS TENNIS

Irish post undefeated record at weekend meet

By JUSTIN SCHUVER
Assistant Sports Editor

The Notre Dame men’s tennis team completed an outstanding opening weekend of play by recording two wins on an exciting Sunday, the final day of the Crown Plaza Invitational. The Irish won championships in three of four singles flights and one of two doubles flights in a four-team tournament featuring squads that finished ahead of Notre Dame in last year’s final national rankings.

Sophomore Eric Langenkamp led the way, notchting an upset in singles that finished ahead of Notre Dame in last year’s final national rankings.

“I’ve obviously really encouraged by our results, but one tournament does not make a season,” Irish head coach Bob Bayless said. “We competed pretty darn well, and we happened to win a lot. It was a pretty great weekend for us.”

In all, Notre Dame players were 22-5 in singles and 5-3 in doubles. Among the top Irish performers were four players who went undefeated in singles, including a pair of rook­ies who did not lose in singles or doubles in their first collegiate event. Senior Brian Buchanan was a finalist at the USTA Boys 18s National Clay Court Championships over the summer, won three matches in the Irish Flight, including a 6-1, 6-3 decision against Shunsuke Shimizu of Tulsa Sunday, to win the flight championship.

In singles play, McNally also was perfect, winning a trio of Flight D matches, culminating with a triumph over Rice’s Roland Rabb, 7-6, 6-1, Sunday. Freshman Ryan Keckley completed an undefeated weekend by beating Luc Maasdorp of Tulsa 6-1, 6-1, McNally and Keckley shared the flight’s championship.

Senior Eric Langenkamp also came away with a singles title, winning the Flight C Championship with a 6-1, 6-0 victory over Colt Gaston of LSU.

Each of the other five Notre Dame singles players competed against a top-60 player. Scott’s victories both came against ranked players. His 6-2, 6-3 triumph over Barker Sunday marked his second career triumph over a top-20 player. Scott was win­less in eight matches against ranked opponents a year ago and now has four career wins against ranked foes.

Notre Dame struggled early on Friday when rain forced some of the matches indoors to the fast courts of the Met Business and Sports Club. But once the weather cleared up, the Irish took control, winning 24 of 28 matches played outside at Jake Hess Tennis Stadium.

Senior tri-captain Luis Haddock finished third in the A Flight with a 6-7, 6-2, 7-5 win against LSU’s Jason Hazley, while sophomore Patrick Buchan took the same spot in the B Flight, beating Hazley’s teammate, Bryan 7-5, 6-4.

Freshman Iracki won third in the C Flight with a comeback win against Rice’s Jason Mok. Akhvlediani took 5-2 in the third set, but rallied to send it to a tiebreaker. He then fell behind 4-1 in the breaker before coming back for a 7-5, 6-7, 6-7 (6-5, 7-3) win.

Junior Jimmy Bass won a three-setter in the D Flight over Eduardo Gutierrez of Tulsa, 6-2, 7-5, 7-6.

In doubles, Scott and Langenkamp were slated to face Haddock and Keckley in the consolation final of the A Flight, but the match was not played. In B Flight action, Akhvlediani and Buchanan beat Rojas and Gutierrez of Tulsa, 6-0 to win the consolation championship.

Notre Dame’s four freshmen played particularly well in their first collegiate matches, combining to go 11-1 in singles and 7-3 in doubles.

Barry King, another Irish rookie and the national 18- and-under champion of Ireland, missed the season-opening tournament with tendinitis in his wrist.

The Observer ♦ PHOTO BY STEPHEN GRAMMENS

2003-04

THE BEST OF NOTRE DAME THEATRE

Measure for Measure

by William Shakespeare

ACTORS FROM THE LONDON STAGE

Tuesday, September 23, 7:30 p.m.
Wednesday, September 24, 7:30 p.m.
Thursday, September 25, 7:30 p.m.
Friday, September 26, 7:30 p.m.
Saturday, September 27, 7:30 p.m.
Sunday, September 28, 7:30 p.m.

Playing at Washington Hall • Reserved Seats $16
Seniors $14 • All Students $12

Tickets available at LaFortune Student Center Ticket Office.

The Directors are members of the Directors Guild of America.

The Actors’ equity is supported in part by the Harold Fund Trust.

We Deliver
Tel: (574) 271-8899
Fax: 271-3399 for menus

5453 Terrace Lane
South Bend, IN 46635
(US 23 next to Subway)

Tel: (574) 271-8899
We Deliver
Fax: 271-3399 for menus

The Observer ♦ SPORTS
Monday, September 15, 2003

MENS TENNIS

Irish post undefeated record at weekend meet

By JUSTIN SCHUVER
Assistant Sports Editor

The Notre Dame men’s tennis team completed an outstanding opening weekend of play by recording two wins on an exciting Sunday, the final day of the Crown Plaza Invitational. The Irish won championships in three of four singles flights and one of two doubles flights in a four-team tournament featuring squads that finished ahead of Notre Dame in last year’s final national rankings.

Sophomore Eric Langenkamp led the way, notchting an upset in singles that finished ahead of Notre Dame in last year’s final national rankings.

“I’ve obviously really encouraged by our results, but one tournament does not make a season,” Irish head coach Bob Bayless said. “We competed pretty darn well, and we happened to win a lot. It was a pretty great weekend for us.”

In all, Notre Dame players were 22-5 in singles and 5-3 in doubles. Among the top Irish performers were four players who went undefeated in singles, including a pair of rook­ies who did not lose in singles or doubles in their first collegiate event. Stephen Bass, who was a finalist at the USTA Boys 18s National Clay Court Championships over the summer, won three matches in the Irish Flight, including a 6-1, 6-3 decision against Shunsuke Shimizu of Tulsa Sunday, to win the flight championship.

In singles play, McNally also was perfect, winning a trio of Flight D matches, culminating with a triumph over Rice’s Roland Rabb, 7-6, 6-1, Sunday. Freshman Ryan Keckley completed an undefeated weekend by beating Luc Maasdorp of Tulsa 6-1, 6-1, McNally and Keckley shared the flight’s championship.

Senior Eric Langenkamp also came away with a singles title, winning the Flight C Championship with a 6-1, 6-0 victory over Colt Gaston of LSU.

Each of the other five Notre Dame singles players competed against a top-60 player. Scott’s victories both came against ranked players. His 6-2, 6-3 triumph over Barker Sunday marked his second career triumph over a top-20 player. Scott was win­less in eight matches against ranked opponents a year ago and now has four career wins against ranked foes.

Notre Dame struggled early on Friday when rain forced some of the matches indoors to the fast courts of the Met Business and Sports Club. But once the weather cleared up, the Irish took control, winning 24 of 28 matches played outside at Jake Hess Tennis Stadium.

Senior tri-captain Luis Haddock finished third in the A Flight with a 6-7, 6-2, 7-5 win against LSU’s Jason Hazley, while sophomore Patrick Buchan took the same spot in the B Flight, beating Hazley’s teammate, Bryan 7-5, 6-4.

Freshman Iracki won third in the C Flight with a comeback win against Rice’s Jason Mok. Akhvlediani took 5-2 in the third set, but rallied to send it to a tiebreaker. He then fell behind 4-1 in the breaker before coming back for a 7-5, 6-7, 6-7 (6-5, 7-3) win.

Junior Jimmy Bass won a three-setter in the D Flight over Eduardo Gutierrez of Tulsa, 6-2, 7-5, 7-6.

In doubles, Scott and Langenkamp were slated to face Haddock and Keckley in the consolation final of the A Flight, but the match was not played. In B Flight action, Akhvlediani and Buchanan beat Rojas and Gutierrez of Tulsa, 6-0 to win the consolation championship.

Notre Dame’s four freshmen played particularly well in their first collegiate matches, combining to go 11-1 in singles and 7-3 in doubles.

Barry King, another Irish rookie and the national 18- and-under champion of Ireland, missed the season-opening tournament with tendinitis in his wrist.

The Observer ♦ PHOTO BY STEPHEN GRAMMENS
Volleyball

continued from page 28

match: their lowest performance since the 2003 NCAA Tournament against Michigan State.

"We've had a long stretch of games," Kinder said. "We will learn what we need to do.

Kinder also contributed 29 assists to go along with her 14 digs. Sister Jessica led the defense with 23 kills.

Based on the first two days of action, three Irish earned all-tournament honors. Neff and Kristen Kinder earned all-tournament, while Brewster was named MVP, the second tournament in a row in which an Irish player has taken the MVP.

Sunday, the luck of the Irish ran out, as their mediocre play caught up with them.

"We know that looking across the net tonight, we have the tools; we have it, we have the tools, we just need to do it," Kristen Kinder said. "It's a huge disappointment that we beat ourselves."
WOMENS SOCCER

Irish dominating in 50 win over Hilltoppers

By ANDY TROEGER
Sports Writer

After a solid first-half that produced a 2-0 lead, the women's soccer team stuck three times in the first five minutes of the second half to run away from Western Kentucky 5-0 at Alumni Field Saturday night.

Sophomores Annie Scheffer and Katie Thorlakson each had two goals for the Irish, while senior forward Amy Warner added a goal and two assists for the Irish.

The second-ranked Irish dominated from the beginning, out-shooting the Hilltoppers 21-3, including 11-0 in the first half. Erika Bohn and Nikki Westfall combined in goal for a second consecutive shutout for the Irish, who were never severely threatened.

"I think we were just prepared with the way we started," said Irish coach Randy Waldrum. "We talked about a couple ways to get in behind them at halftime. The kids just made it happen. I thought the girls came out and played very well tonight."

Scheffer started the Notre Dame attack in the 16th minute on a long crossing shot from the left side to give the Irish a 1-0 lead. A few minutes later, Scheffer delivered a pass toward the left sideline where midfielder Mary Boland crossed the ball to Warner, whose header gave the Irish a 2-0 lead going into halftime.

Warner and Thorlakson led the assault coming out of the half. Warner's pass down the left side to give the Irish a 1-0 lead set up the third goal, as Manning sent a cross to Thorlakson whose header started the Irish surge.

Warner and Thorlakson struck again less than two minutes later, as Warner took the ball near midfield before racing through the Hilltopper defense. She passed to Thorlakson who scored again to push the lead to 4-0.

The Irish onslaught was completed moments later when Warner's pass was taken down in the box, giving the Irish a penalty kick. Scheffer's low shot easily got past Becky Kasper, giving the Irish the 5-0 margin of victory.

In addition to the goal scoring, all four Irish starters on defense turned in strong performances, including freshman Kim Lorenzen and Lizzie Reed.

"I thought Tacredo was great for us tonight," Waldrum said. "And Kim Lorenzen was solid as well. With that first goal group we had in, this was probably one of our most organized nights since (Gudrun Gunnarsdottir) went down. (Reed) could make a great outside back for us."

In addition to being able to continue pressuring teams with fresh legs, the Irish depth has also helped them play better in their second half of a weekend.

Whereas a year ago the Irish went 4-4 when playing two days after a previous game, this season they are 3-0, outsourcing those opponents 13-0.

"I think it is due to having the depth to being able to change our lineup," Waldrum said. "We're able to keep fresher kids a little more, and we can change people during the game. A few of the younger kids, this year, this may be the best we've been on the second day."

The Irish will next be in action at the Santa Clara Tournament in California. The Irish play Stanford on Friday at 7 p.m. and Santa Clara Sunday at 11:30 a.m. Both games will be televised live on CSTV.

NOTRE DAME 5, WESTERN KENTUCKY 0

Scoring Summary
ND — Scheffer, Annie (0), 15:18, (Guarino, Annika; Warner, Amy 0); Thorlakson (2), 47:26, (Manning, Maggie); Thorlakson, Katie (1), 45:40, (Manning, Maggie); Warner, Amy (1), 58:35, (Manning, Maggie; Guarino, Annika)

Fouls 19

NY — 0

Scoring Summary
ND — 0, 0, 3, 0, 0, 0, 0

Contact Andy Troeger at atroeger@nd.edu

Mens continued from page 28

brilliant save," Clark said. "That what one of the best saves I've seen in a long time."

Sawyer finished the game with two saves, while his Akron counterpart Justin Christafsaris saved seven Irish shots."

The Irish appeared to get on the board in the 12th minute of the first half, after Martin deflected a free kick from Riley past Christafsaris. The referee judged that Martin had played the ball intentionally with his hand, and the goal was disallowed.

Martin received his first yellow card of the season for the intentional handball.

The referee scored three goals for the Irish in the second half, including 11-0 in the first half. Erika Bohn and Nikki Westfall combined in goal for a second consecutive shutout for the Irish, who were never severely threatened.

"I was pretty pleased with the way we started," said Irish coach Randy Waldrum. "We talked about a couple ways to get in behind them at halftime. The kids just made it happen. I thought the girls came out and played very well tonight."

Scheffer started the Notre Dame attack in the 16th minute on a long crossing shot from the left side to give the Irish a 1-0 lead. A few minutes later, Scheffer delivered a pass toward the left sideline where midfielder Mary Boland crossed the ball to Warner, whose header gave the Irish a 2-0 lead going into halftime.

Warner and Thorlakson led the assault coming out of the half. Warner's pass down the left side to give the Irish a 1-0 lead set up the third goal, as Manning sent a cross to Thorlakson whose header started the Irish surge.

Warner and Thorlakson struck again less than two minutes later, as Warner took the ball near midfield before racing through the Hilltopper defense. She passed to Thorlakson who scored again to push the lead to 4-0.

The Irish onslaught was completed moments later when Warner's pass was taken down in the box, giving the Irish a penalty kick. Scheffer's low shot easily got past Becky Kasper, giving the Irish the 5-0 margin of victory.

In addition to the goal scoring, all four Irish starters on defense turned in strong performances, including freshman Kim Lorenzen and Lizzie Reed.

"I thought Tacredo was great for us tonight," Waldrum said. "And Kim Lorenzen was solid as well. With that first goal group we had in, this was probably one of our most organized nights since (Gudrun Gunnarsdottir) went down. (Reed) could make a great outside back for us."

In addition to being able to continue pressuring teams with fresh legs, the Irish depth has also helped them play better in their second half of a weekend.

Whereas a year ago the Irish went 4-4 when playing two days after a previous game, this season they are 3-0, outsourcing those opponents 13-0.

"I think it is due to having the depth to being able to change our lineup," Waldrum said. "We're able to keep fresher kids a little more, and we can change people during the game. A few of the younger kids, this year, this may be the best we've been on the second day."

The Irish will next be in action at the Santa Clara Tournament in California. The Irish play Stanford on Friday at 7 p.m. and Santa Clara Sunday at 11:30 a.m. Both games will be televised live on CSTV.

NOTRE DAME 5, WESTERN KENTUCKY 0

Scoring Summary
ND — Scheffer, Annie (0), 15:18, (Guarino, Annika; Warner, Amy 0); Thorlakson (2), 47:26, (Manning, Maggie); Thorlakson, Katie (1), 45:40, (Manning, Maggie); Warner, Amy (1), 58:35, (Manning, Maggie; Guarino, Annika)

Fouls 19

NY — 0

Scoring Summary
ND — 0, 0, 3, 0, 0, 0, 0

Contact Andy Troeger at atroeger@nd.edu

ATTENTION
Undergraduate Student Groups

Last Chance Club Info Meeting

Tomorrow - Tuesday, September 16, 2003
LaFortune Student Center - Foster Room
5:00 PM - 6:00 PM

Last chance for clubs to send two representatives to the mandatory Club Information Meeting. The meeting will be held in the Foster Room on the 3rd floor of LaFortune Student Center on September 18th at 5:00 PM.

Clubs which fail to have two representatives attend a Club Information Meeting (CIM) will be considered inactive by the Student Activities Office and will lose the following rights associated with good standing:

• room reservations
• poster approvals
• table tent and banner space reservations

Additionally, funds allocated by the Student Senate and by the Cooperative Council will be rescinded from clubs who have not met the requirement of having two representatives attend a CIM. The club may reapply for the funds in the spring if the club is restarted and is in good standing with the CCC and the SAO, but might not receive the full allocation amount.

For more information, please call 631-7308.

BELLES

continued from page 28

goals. On Concordian's final assist. Wendy Irvin headed in a long Concordian pass from close range despite an Adrian defender hanging all over her. Irvin also had an assist in the game.

"That was a great service and a greatheader," Haring said. "That was well done. [Irving] sacrificed herself and just dove and sneaked up in that near post.

Carrrie Orr capped off the scoring with a 20-yard free kick with 10:18 remaining.

That was a great free kick that she bent to the near post," Haring said. "The keeper gave it to her, and [Irving] who can read that really well and wherever the keeper is off-balance in the game. The keeper was back in the post, and the wall wasn't really set up great, and [Orr] saw the seam and just bent that ball to the near post. [Orr]'sdangerous in that fashion."

A second half letdown was feared after the Belles led 3-0 at the half. But the Belles played even harder in the second half in preparation for a difficult upcoming schedule. The Belles had 12 shots on goal while limiting Adrian to only two shots spaced 15 minutes apart. Adrian did not attempt a shot on goal during the last 25:52 of the game.

"At the half, I told them that it's necessary to keep the intensity up because we're going to be playing harder opponents later on," Haring said. "Next week on Saturday we play Hope, which is one of the top programs in the conference.

"I told them that walking away with a 3-0 game can't be acceptable. We have to distance ourselves from the middle group and the bottom group and put ourselves in the top group."

The Belles next test comes Saturday at 1 p.m. at Calvin.
Horoscope

EUGENIA LAST

Sharing this birthday: Tommy Lee Jones, Oliver Stone, Dan Marino, Scott Thompson Baker, Agatha Christie, Prince Harry

Happy Birthday: Stand up for what you believe in and let your thoughts be known. You have a great impact on others if you stick to your convictions. You are a strong competitor who will not admit defeat or back down regardless of the obstacles that face you. Your "do or die" attitude will bring you the rewards you are looking for. Your numbers: 7, 13, 23, 31, 49

ARIES (March 21-April 19): You will not be too happy if members of your family are not pulling their weight. Organize your day well to avoid setbacks that will lead to temporary terrors. ★★★

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Involvement in groups or organizations will be beneficial. You can meet individuals who will listen to your ideas and contribute valuable input. Be sincere about personal matters. ★★★

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Travel will promote secret affairs. You will find that you spread more than anticipated. You will be exceptionally good with words today. ★★★

CANCER (June 21-July 22): A little extra work never hurt anyone, and in your case, it may even bring financial gains. Romance may unfold through social activities with colleagues and clients. ★★★

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Travel will be on your mind, but if you are planning on mixing business with pleasure, be careful. Empty promises and disappointments are likely. ★★★

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): You can come into money if you turn over an investment made some time ago. Your lover will be in a passionate mood. You need to feel that you're accomplishing something if you want to be satisfied today. ★★★★

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Double trouble at a personal level. Be sure to check potential hazards around the house. Bad wiring or problems with the furnace may be worth looking into. ★★★

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Relationships can be highly passionate. Your feelings will intensify if you get a positive response from your mate. Pleasure trips will be entertaining and conducive to starting new friendships. ★★★

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Get involved in physical activities that will increase your self-esteem. You need to find that you're accomplishing something if you want to be satisfied today. ★★★

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): You're now more people-oriented if you allow others to take advantage of your good nature. Be cautious when dealing with others' promises. ★★★

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Try to get involved in group or secret affairs. Be sure that someone who shows an interest in you isn't already married. You need to be discreet in all your dealings. ★★★

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): You will be happy if your professional life isn't moving forward. Set your life in order financially so that you can concentrate on your case, it may even bring financial gains. Romance may unfold through social activities with colleagues and clients. ★★★

CROSSWORD

Clues

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Across</th>
<th>Down</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>ACROSS</td>
<td>DOWN</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Clue Examples

- 1 Across: "Stupid of me not to know" (6)
- 2 Down: Delight (6)
- 3 Across: "If only..." (4)
- 4 Down: "Well, I'll be!" (7)
- 5 Across: Gymnast (6)
- 6 Across: "Get a good thing" (10)
- 7 Across: "Out for the brand or large thing wins" (12)
- 8 Across: "Landers" (6)
- 9 Across: "Battling thing" (13)
- 10 Across: "Greet the day" (12)
- 11 Across: "West Coast gas" (9)
- 12 Across: "Eagle's" (5)
- 13 Across: "Small, medium or large" (12)
- 14 Across: "Crispy" (6)
- 15 Across: "Marines' Hymn" (5)
- 16 Across: "Dumb" girl of e.g. (6)
- 17 Across: "Cat that catches rodents" (8)
- 18 Across: "Photo tint" (9)
- 19 Across: "Got together" (7)
- 20 Across: "Sheriff's closing word" (9)
- 21 Across: "Married" (5)

Answer

- The answer to the previous puzzle is "C'mon, we're falling behind by Henri Arnold and Mike Argirion"

Unscramble

- Unscramble the four Jumble words as suggested by the above cartoon.

Jumbles

- Unscramble these four Jumbles, one letter to each square, to form four ordinary words.
MENS SOCCER

A little something extra
Irish defeat Fresno State in overtime, tie against Akron

By JUSTIN SCHULVER
Assistant Sports Editor

Fans at the Mike Berticelli Memorial Tournament this weekend got a lot more than they paid for. Three of the tournament’s four games went to overtime, including both of the contests in which the Irish participated.

No. 16 Notre Dame defeated Fresno State Friday night in overtime 2-1, and tied Akron 0-0 Sunday afternoon. The Irish currently have a record of 2-1-2 for the season.

Friday night, the Irish got on the board first with an impressive display of teamwork. In the 27th minute, forward Justin Detter tapped the ball to midfielder Greg Martin at the top of the box, who then returned a feed to Detter.

Detter then hit forward Devon Prescod with a short cross, allowing Prescod to shoot the ball and score the equalizer off a golden goal. With less than a minute left in the first overtime, the Irish drew a foul and took a free kick from the deep left wing. Midfielder Chad Riley sliced a perfect kick into the Bulldog defense and Detter headed the ball past Irish goalkeeper Chris Cronberg to give the Irish the 2-1 victory.

"I just told Chad to play it near post," Detter said. "I couldn’t have asked for a better ball. It was really the ball that made the goal."

Detter became the first Irish player other than Prescod to score a goal this season. Prescod, Detter’s partner at the forward position, had scored the first goal for the Irish, whose hitters had been dominating at the nets this season. However, they did have 16 blocks, twice as many as the Hoosiers.

Senior hitter Katie Nef, however, excelled, as she hit for a .375 percentage with 11 kills and just two errors. Sophomore middle blocker Lauren Brewster also had 11 kills on .348 hitting.

Saturday saw Notre Dame struggle with Utah (5-2). The Irish fought hard to earn the victory in five games (34-32, 16-30, 30-26, 30-23, 15-12). "Our big focus this weekend was Utah, and we just barely got the job done," Kinder said. "Our big focus this weekend was Utah, and we just barely got the job done."

Against Utah, the Irish hit .400 in the second game. They had eight kills and eight errors as a team. The Utes, on the other hand, hit .432. However, the Irish were able to rebound to pull out the match.

Emily Loomis had 12 kills, Meg Hinrichs had 11 and 14 digs and Lauren Kelbley had 12 kills to lead the Irish.

Sophomore Lauren Brewster registered a career high 13 blocks while Nef had a career high nine.

The Irish hit .383 for the match, their lowest performance since the 2001 NCAA, Abused in Ann Arbor

Michigan dominates every aspect of game in 38-0 demolition of the Irish

By MATT LOZAR
Associate Sports Editor

ANN ARBOR Mich. — Even the spin doctor couldn’t take something good from this one.

Sounding beating the Irish in every phase of the game, No. 2 Michigan blanked No. 15 Notre Dame 38-0 Saturday at the Big House in front of an NCAA record 111,285 fans.

“There is nothing positive we can take away from this game,” Irish head coach Tyrone Willingham said.

The loss was Notre Dame’s worst since a 58-7 pounding by Miami on Nov. 30, 1985, Gerry Faust’s last game as Notre Dame’s coach. It was the biggest margin of defeat in the Notre Dame-Michigan series since 1902, with the previous mark being a 23-0 win by Michigan.

What the Wolverines did wasn’t a surprise to the Irish. Running back Chris Perry ran for 133 yards on 31 carries and scored four touchdowns — three on the ground and one on a pass from quarterback John Navarre.

Perry’s consistent running — the Irish never stopped him for a loss — set up Navarre’s passing game. Navarre was 14-of-21 for 199 yards and a touchdown.

Michigan did what everyone expected by using the running game to open up the passing game. The Irish simply couldn’t stop it.

“You know what they are going to do,” linebacker Courtney Watson said. “It’s the same thing as last year. We just weren’t ready to play this year.”

In their last three games against ranked opponents, the Irish have been outscored 110-14 with their last offensive touchdown coming in the fourth quarter against Florida State — a span of 190 minutes, 14 seconds.

Nobody can explain it.

“There’s no rhyme or reason. It’s college football,” Notre Dame defensive tackle Darrell Campbell said. “Things happen in this game, and you’ve got to be prepared for them.

“We just didn’t show up today and adjust to their game.”

The defense, just like last season, gave the offense a perfect opportunity to silence the crowd early. Watson flew through the Michigan offensive line on the third play of the game and crushed Navarre, forcing a fumble. Linebacker Brandon Hoyte jumped on the ball and the Irish were in business at the Wolverine 38.

“You know what they are going to do. It’s the same thing as last year. We just weren’t ready to play this year.”

Courtney Watson
Irish linebacker

“Unfortunately it didn’t work out because that was a great opportunity, we had good field position and we didn’t capitalize on it.”

That one completion for three feet turned out to be Notre Dame’s entire passing offense for the first half. Watching his offense regress after its inspiring fourth quarter comeback against Washington State just seven days earlier, Diedrick knew the Irish needed a lot of work.

“Anytime that you don’t score any points and you aren’t very effective in anything, then I think it is always a step backwards because you aren’t moving forward,” he said.

After the Irish forced a Wolverine punt, the offense once again went three-and-out. Nicholas Setia came out to punt and boomed one 50 yards. Steve Breaston utilized perfect blocking from his teammates and returned it 55 yards to the Notre Dame 2. Perry scored his first touchdown on the next play.

Michigan took advantage of a Holiday interception early in the second quarter and went 81 yards in nine plays. Perry caught a third-down 5-yard touchdown pass from Navarre to give the Wolverines a 17-0 advantage going into the locker room.

On the second-half kickoff, Vontez Duff caught the ball three yards deep in the Michigan end zone. He started to run out, hesitated at the goal line and then had to continue forward. The Wolverines tackled him at the 10. The Irish went three and out again and Michigan took over at the Notre Dame 36. Two runs by Perry later, the score was 24-0.

Michigan used a 19-play drive spanning 10:35 to get Perry his fourth touchdown and send Irish fans to the exits.

The coaching staff sent Brady Quinn into the game looking for any sort of spark going into next week. Quinn finished 3-of-10 for 36 yards and an interception.

After games against Michigan State and Purdue during the next two weeks, the Irish play three straight against teams currently ranked in the top 10. In order to salvage this season, the Irish know they have to turn it around — now.

“We’ve just got to do a lot of soul-searching. Obviously, the players just didn’t come to play today,” Watson said. “You can look at the scoreboard and see that. To get shut out, not score any points, to give up 38 points is embarrassing.

“Hopefully we’ll pick it up, if not, it’s going to be a long season.”

Contact Matt Lozar at mlozar@nd.edu

Michigan’s Larry Stevens hits Notre Dame quarterback Carlyle Holiday Saturday at Michigan Stadium in the Wolverines 38-0 defeat of the Irish.

player of the game

Chris Perry
Mowing to the front of the Heisman Trophy race, the senior running back rushed for three touchdowns and caught another as he outgained the Irish offense by 37 inches of passing offense the Irish accumulated in the first half stat of the game

36 play of the game

Steve Breaston’s 55-yard first quarter punt return quote of the game

“There is nothing positive we can take away from this game.”

Tyrone Willingham
Irish head coach
Irish totally embarrassed

The Observer - IRISH INSIDER
Monday, September 15, 2003

Michigan running back Chris Perry hurdles over Notre Dame corner back Jason Beckstrom in the third quarter of Saturday's game. Perry gained 133 yards on the ground and scored four touchdowns in an impressive performance in front of a national television audience.

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — What's the only thing worse than hearing the Michigan student section chant: "Houston's better" to Notre Dame? Hearing them chant it in the third quarter twice.

Then again, maybe the Michigan fans had a point. After all, Houston — the team Michigan panicked 50-3 the week before Saturday — at least managed a field goal. That's more than the Irish could say after they got haggled Saturday, after Carlyle Holiday threw for exactly one yard in the first half and after a defense that worked as well as a broken condom allowed Chris Perry and John Navarre to do anything they wanted.

"For the first time in a long time, I really can't think of any words to explain how I'm feeling right now," said Bob Morton, Notre Dame's center and one of the most quotable players on the team.

A team claiming to be Notre Dame ran out of the tunnel at Michigan Stadium Saturday, but they didn't play like Notre Dame. They donned gold helmets and jerseys that read "Irish" in tiny letters on the front, but they certainly weren't the Fighting Irish.

Who would have thought Notre Dame's 35-0 drubbing would have made the poorly organized Michigan ticket lottery look like a stroke of genius.

So, Tyone, are you humiliated?"Next question," the Irish coach evenly replied, this steel gage doing more damage than anything the Irish tried Saturday.

Whatever magic the Irish had left over from their 8-0 start has totally disappeared. Dating back to last season, the Irish have been outscored 136-48 in their last four games. And that includes a 19-point comeback against unranked Washington State a week ago. Sure, the Irish have faced top-ranked opponents. And Notre Dame Nation shouldn't get caught on the rollercoaster of emotions that often follows tough losses by criticizing anything and everything Notre Dame-related.

But after Saturday's embarrassment, it's hard not to.

An inexperienced offensive line plagued the Irish all afternoon. If it wasn't jumping early on fourth-and-short (like some did to kill a third-quarter drive), they were allowing Michigan's front seven to pitch tents in the Irish backfield. And the rest of the Irish offense wasn't much better.

A sorry performance by a highly-touted defense didn't help, as Michigan's offensive line manhandled one of the best defensive lines in recent Notre Dame history and allowed Chris Perry to stake his claim for the Heisman Trophy. But Carson Palmer knows Perry wouldn't be the first to make his case for the college football's pre-eminent award on national television against the Irish.

The coaches weren't much better. Like the chicken and the egg, does offensive coordinator Bill Diedrick lack the personnel to implement the vaunted West Coast offense or is the Irish offense handicapped by questionable, conservative and predictable play calling? And how many more times will the Irish have to take timeouts on fourth down because it takes too long to send in a play?

When a team comes out as flat as it has against ranked opponents like Notre Dame did, you can't help but wonder what happened to the well-prepared, well-disciplined squad of last year.

"We look at Michigan and we realize what kind of team we could be now," Morton said. "We do have that talent. We do have that capability. Today, we didn't play."

Nobody wants to bring up the "Return to Glory" campaign of last year, but the way the Irish looked Saturday, you couldn't help but wonder if this year will be the "Return to Davie." Notre Dame looked more depressed after Saturday's loss than they did against Boston College or USC or North Carolina State last year. Players tossed around words like "disgusted" and "frustrated" and "shocked." Linebacker Courtney Watson, whoseumble-forcing hit on Navarre marked the high water point for the Irish Saturday, all but called out his teammates by saying the Irish have to do some "soul searching, or it's gonna be a long season."

But after those other big losses, when the Irish had to search their souls, nothing happened.

The Irish have to find the killer instinct that helped propel them into the upper echelons of college football last year. The Notre Dame team that crawled out of Michigan Stadium wasn't the same one that edged the Wolverines at home last year. In fact, the Notre Dame team that suffered its worst loss since 1985 and the eighth-worst in school history wasn't a Notre Dame team.

"We're not that bad of a football team," holiday said. "Trust me. Can Irish fans? After Saturday, nobody knows.

The opinions expressed in this column are those of the author and not necessarily those of The Observer.
Neither Irish quarterback effect— Holiday and Quinn go a combined 8-of-24 for 91 yards and 2 interceptions.

By ANDREW SOUKUP
Sports Writer

ANN ARBOR, Mich.— Just how ineffective was Irish quarterback Carlyle Holiday in the first half Saturday? Using the NCAA's complicated formula for calculating passing efficiency, which relies on attempts, completions, passing yardage, touchdowns and interceptions, Holiday was positively atrocious.

A good quarterback normally has a rating over 160. Anything below 130 is considered a tough day at the office. Holiday, who threw one interception and completed 5-of-14 passes for one-yard, had a rating of -13.09.

"All I know is me personally. I didn’t do what it takes to win today," said Holiday, who finished the game 5-of-14 for 55 yards. "Michigan is a great team, but I think we kind of shot ourselves in the foot today.

Holiday shouldered much of the blame for Notre Dame's ineffective offense, and he was yanked in favor of Brady Quinn. The true freshman, on the other hand, wasn’t much better, completing 3-of-10 passes for 36 yards and 2 interceptions.

So will Holiday start against the Spartans Saturday? Offensive coordinator Bill Diedrick emphatically said yes. But head coach Tyrone Willingham raised more questions by wafting on the issue of Holiday's status.

"It’s very easy for us and it will always stay the same. We’ll play the best player," Willingham said Saturday. "Is there a question about who is the best player? "Possibly, but not yet," the Irish coach responded.

For the record, Holiday's final passer rating Saturday was 54.4. Quinn’s was 19.9.

But the coaching staff contemplated what it takes to win today, " said Holiday. "You are kind of shooting yourself in the foot today.

How ironic that Quinn's jersey number — 10 — is the same as LoVeChivin, who transferred to Indiana following the 2001 season.

"It was more like a pitching change," Diedrick said, "where you are trying to jump-start things and get something created or something going. It gave us a little momentum, but not the boost we needed."

Diedrick's search for a spark is eerily similar to what Irish coaches said two years ago, when fans were clamoring for Holiday to start in favor of Matt LeVechivin, who transferred to Indiana following the 2001 season.

How ironic that Quinn’s jersey number — 10 — is the same as LoVeChivin’s.

"I understand the situation, I wasn’t being very productive," Holiday said. "Coach told me to sit out, watch from the sideline and see things from that perspective. I wasn’t effective and I think Coach did the right thing.

Contact Andrew Soukup at asoukup@nd.edu

scoring summary

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>1st</th>
<th>2nd</th>
<th>3rd</th>
<th>4th</th>
<th>Total</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Notre Dame</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Michigan</td>
<td>7</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>10</td>
<td>14</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Michigan 7, Notre Dame 0
Chris Perry 2-yard run with 6:25 remaining (Adam Finley kick)
Drive: 1 play, 2 yards, 0:04 elapsed

Second quarter
Michigan 10, Notre Dame 0
Finley 24-yard field goal with 14:56 remaining
Drive: 10 plays, 51 yards, 3:57 elapsed

Third quarter
Michigan 24, Notre Dame 0
Perry 9-yard run with 12:35 remaining (Finley kick)
Drive: 2 plays, 36 yards, 0:30 elapsed

Fourth quarter
Michigan 31, Notre Dame 0
Perry 1-yard run with 13:26 remaining (Finley kick)
Drive: 19 plays, 80 yards, 10:25 elapsed

Notre Dame quarterback passes against the Wolverines Saturday. Holiday finished the first half with one passing yard.

Michigan quarterback John Navarre became the school’s all-time passing leader Saturday. Navarre has been Michigan’s full-time starter the past three seasons after getting four starts in his freshman year. Navarre finished Saturday’s game 14-of-23 for 199 yards and now stands at 6,503 yards for his career.

Elvis Grbac previously held the record with 6,460 yards.

Perry grabs attention
With his effort Saturday afternoon, Michigan tailback Chris Perry became one of the front-runners for the Heisman Trophy race. Perry set the tone on the first play of the game when he stiff-armed Notre Dame cornerback Preston Jackson to the ground. Later in the game, Perry hurdled Irish cornerback Jason Beckstrom.

The Wolverines wanted to establish the pace of the game early by pounding the Notre Dame defense with Perry. Michigan gave Perry 14 carries in the first quarter. His success early in the game forced the Irish to go to man-to-man coverage where Navarre took advantage of his wide-open receivers.

Navarre sets Michigan passing total yards
Notre Dame 140
Michigan 439

passing yards
Notre Dame 188
Michigan 251

return yards
Notre Dame 76
Michigan 108

time of possession
Notre Dame 22:13
Michigan 37:47

4th downs
Notre Dame 26/49
Michigan 8/24-2

Field goals
Notre Dame 2
Michigan 0

Doubtful marks from Saturday
After the domination by Michigan Saturday, a number of records were set in this series and in Notre Dame history.

» The 38-0 defeat was the Michigan's shutout of Notre Dame in the first since 1902. The 38 point margin of victory was the largest in the series since 1902. The 38 point margin of victory was the largest in the series since 1902. The 38 point margin of victory was the largest in the series since 1902.

Michigan's shutout of Notre Dame was the first in the series since 1902. The 38 point margin of victory was the largest in the series by 15 points.

» The last time the Irish scored an offensive touchdown was a 31-yard touchdown run by Ryan Grant against Florida State on Oct. 26, 2002.

Gameday captains
Captains for the Irish on Saturday afternoon were quarterback Carlyle Holiday, linbacker Derek Curry, defensive lineman Darrell Williams; and defensive back Aaron Neal.

1st 2nd 3rd 4th Total
Perry 1-yard run with 13:26 remaining (Finley kick)
Drive: 19 plays, 80 yards, 10:25 elapsed

Fourth quarter
Michigan 31, Notre Dame 0
Perry 1-yard run with 13:26 remaining (Finley kick)
Drive: 19 plays, 80 yards, 10:25 elapsed

Notre Dame quarterback passes against the Wolverines Saturday. Holiday finished the first half with one passing yard.

Notre Dame quarterback Brady Quinn receives some encouragement from center Zach Giles.

passing
Quinn 14-21-0
Navarre 14-21-0 receiving

Coles 11-17 (3) Perry 31-33
Jones 14-20 Underwood 9-21
Wittan 14-0 Rembert 4-15
Holiday 3-10 (1) Navarre 5-13

rushing
Jones 11-42 Perry 31-133
Grant 10-20 Underwood 9-21
Wittan 14-0 Rembert 4-15
Holiday (2) Navarre 5-13

offsides
Quinn 3-10-1 Navarre 4-15-1

passing
Coles 2-10 Edwards 4-54
Jones 14-20 Underwood 9-21
Wittan 14-0 Rembert 4-15
Holiday 3-10 Navarre 5-13

rushing
Coles 2-10 Edwards 4-54
Jones 14-20 Underwood 9-21
Wittan 14-0 Rembert 4-15
Holiday 3-10 Navarre 5-13

interceptions
Notre Dame 0 Michigan 2 tackling

Watson 17 Jackson 6
Hope 12 Shander 6
Earl 10 Diggs 4
Jackson 8 Stevens 3
Billy 7 Reid 3
Tuck 5 Curry 3

By ANDREW SOUKUP
Sports Writer

Navarre sets Michigan passing record Saturday. Holiday and Quinn go a combined 8-of-24 for 91 yards and 2 interceptions.

By ANDREW SOUKUP
Sports Writer

Navarre sets Michigan passing record Saturday. Holiday and Quinn go a combined 8-of-24 for 91 yards and 2 interceptions.

By ANDREW SOUKUP
Sports Writer

Navarre sets Michigan passing record Saturday. Holiday and Quinn go a combined 8-of-24 for 91 yards and 2 interceptions.
In every aspect of Saturday's game, the Wolverines outplayed the Irish. Notre Dame's offense amassed a paltry 140 yards while its defense yielded 439 yards. Michigan running back Chris Perry gained 133 yards on the ground and scored four touchdowns. The Irish special teams allowed a 55-yard punt return in the first quarter and made some poor decisions. After the game, Notre Dame coach Tyrone Willingham summed it up simply, "There is nothing positive we can take from this game."