Many a woman smokes the cigarette her husband or her friends prefer. But maybe it wouldn't be her choice at all, if she let her taste decide.

May we suggest that you put aside your usual brand for a few days and try OLD GOLDS? Notice the appealing natural flavor of this pure-tobacco cigarette; its honey-smoothness.

Many women discover, in OLD GOLD, their favorite cigarette. Give your taste a fair chance to decide.

No better tobacco grows than is used in OLD GOLDS. And they are PURE. (No artificial flavoring)

MONOGRAMS FOR THE MONOGRAM MEN: EXTERIOR DECORATIONS II

At a meeting held last Tuesday evening, the Notre Dame Monogram Club adopted a resolution to enforce the removal of block ND monograms from articles of clothing worn by students on the campus who have not merited a monogram in athletic competition. That resolution was in line with the current campus movement to restrict the use of the Notre Dame monogram to official monogram winners.

In adopting such a resolution, and in appointing a committee to take action upon the matter, the Monogram Club was definitely and justifiably acting within its rights. Because other abuses than the ones entailing the use of the block monogram are possibly outside the province of the club, the monogram group took no action concerning the widespread use of the various insignias, the University seal and coat of arms among them, by individuals not entitled to the privilege of such use. That limitation placed by the club on its own action, is likewise consistent with the nature and proper function of the club.

But someone should do something in regard to the whole matter of jacket- and coat-decorations existing on the campus. A month ago THE SCHOLASTIC pointed out that the monogram is out of place on the backs of jackets and coats; the individuals who wear it there are guilty of violations of Notre Dame tradition and University regulations. Similarly, the right to the use of the University's official seal and coat-of-arms is not public property. Now that the monogram winners themselves have happily assumed the task of regulating the use of the block ND, it may be hoped that some other organization will take an all-inclusive action to remove all of the objectionable Notre Dame advertising from the walking bill-boards of the campus.
Shane Leslie

Shane Leslie, whom you will hear Tuesday night if you are wise, has a blood tie with this country. His mother was an American, a Vermonter. Leslie himself, a thoroughly Irishman, must have absorbed the point of view of most of the English-speaking peoples. He was educated at Eton and Cambridge, for the English; his mother gave him the American; and he comes naturally by the Irish. Few people have chances so excellent for thorough education and thorough culture.

He is a member of that distinguished group which has sought to bring back Gaelic culture and the Gaelic language into Ireland. His work with some of the old Irish literature has been artistic in nature and delightful in result. Nor has he confined himself to literature. His work on the Oxford Movement, on which he will speak to us, has shown that he can be scholarly as well as artistic.

Mr. Leslie's visit is a curious complement to that of Dr. John A. Ryan on Saturday evening. They both represent a Catholic point of view from entirely opposite approaches. It is a nice question as to which of these types has done and can do more for the modern Church, and one which we will not attempt to answer.

New Deal

The regrettable state of affairs in the cafeteria has at last been decently remedied. For the last few weeks, due to one thing and another, they were badly off for glasses. Not a man among us but was ashamed to see the shabby shift they were making, with orange-juice glasses at the drinking fountain, and tall, insecure glasses with the milk. Nobody said anything, of course, but we felt badly about it all the same. Who knew but that dread day was not far off when the old order should rock on its heels and they no longer led off the bill of fare with "Roast Prime Ribs of Beef 30"?

But they snapped out of it with some elegant new glasses, of which they have plenty. The new ware is simple and plain, but serviceable, and no doubt will do for many generations to come. Things are blooming up. The cafeteria is on the up-and-up.

The new Sevres is practically unbreakable, by the way. We tried one of them on the floor.

Faculty Stunts

One of the better items of the past week concerns the Lay Faculty party, at which they had a magician to entertain the pedagogues, with Mr. Henry Staunton acting as stooge! As if a magician could teach those people any tricks.

Our Feathered Friends

Every time spring comes up the land, with Father O'Donnell's poetic contradiction of Algernon Swinburne in mind, we take a particular interest in the birds. This year's crew, except for an enormously fat and rather officious robin hasn't caught us much; though in general you will find Notre Dame birds not quite like those any place else. We have some nice families nesting in the arms of the outdoor stations over on the west end of St. Joseph's Lake—a nice compliment, we think, but hardly the place for close observation. There was a time when we had a nest right outside our window, and there we noticed something we'd not known before. When the mother was hatching out the eggs, now and then she'd want to pop off some place for a while, and during such times she would persuade papa to brood o'er the eggs. Father didn't like the idea at all; he would ruffle his feathers and fuss around quite a bit, but in the end he did it.

Which brings us around to the canary Dillon's industrious pet-seekers have acquired.

Registration at Terce

From all we hear the new system of registration did not stand up so well under the strain. Certainly it created a deal of furore. We are assured that some of the blither Morrissey spirits arose at 4:30 in order to be first in line, and that the same spirit held good for members of the other classes. The offices are supposed to have looked more like the box-office at a World's Series than the sacred repositories of our sacred grades. First come, first serve—to the bleachers.

No Soul

Father Rational Ward and some of the boys were going through a copy of the "Dictionary of Philosophical Terms" the Department got out some years ago when somehow the occasion came up to look up the word "soul." Imagine the good Catholic chagrin when they discovered that "soul" had been omitted!

FR. J. RYAN TO SPEAK

REV. JOHN A. RYAN visits campus again.

The Indiana Association of Economists and Sociologists bringing together the outstanding sociologists and economists of the state of Indiana will convene here today for its annual meeting. Problems in the sociological and economic field will be discussed by the representatives of various Indiana colleges.

The schedule for today includes a tour of the campus and a visit to the Art Gallery followed by a dinner at the University Faculty Dining Room at which Lester M. Jones, of DePauw University the president of the association will be toastmaster.

The Rev. William Bolger, C.S.C., University of Notre Dame will deliver the address of welcome at the dinner.

Tomorrow, April 21, in the auditorium of the Law Building, Mark C. Mills of Indiana University, president, reports on special projects will be given. “Probation—An Individualized Form of Social Control,” will be the topic of an address by Maurice L. Pettit, University of Notre Dame.

The highlights of the meeting will be the address Saturday morning by the Right Rev. John A. Ryan, Catholic University. He will speak on “Economic Opinion and the Industrial Recovery Act.” Father Ryan is recognized as the outstanding authority on Distributive Justice, a subject which falls under the sociological scope.

C. B. Camp of Butler University will lead a symposium on Managed Currency in which Joseph L. Apodaca of the University of Notre Dame will present a paper on “The Managed

Harry Sosnik’s Orchestra to Play At Senior Ball; Price Set at $8.25

TEA DANCE ON SATURDAY

Harry Sosnik and his orchestra have been definitely selected by Chairman Russell J. Leonard as the band for the Notre Dame senior ball of 1934. The dance will be held in South Bend at the Palais Royale on the evening of May 11. The price of the tickets has been set at $8.25.

Harry Sosnik and his orchestra are now playing at the Edgewater Beach Hotel, Chicago, and are featured regularly on the Swift radio program with Olsen and Johnson over the Columbia Broadcasting System. They have also been featured at the Bismarck Hotel, Chicago, and for sixty weeks on the Pennzoil program over WBBM.

Tea Dance At Chain-o-Lakes

The tea dance, held each year in conjunction with the senior ball, will be held at the Chain-O-Lakes Country Club, eight miles west of South Bend, Saturday, May 12, from 4 to 7 o'clock in the afternoon. No orchestra has as yet been selected for the dance.

The admission price of $8.25 a couple includes both the ball proper and the tea dance. It is the lowest price for ball tickets in some time at Notre Dame. Last year the tickets were $8.50 a couple.

Unusually attractive favors are being planned by Chairman Leonard and the committee on favors, the nature of which will be announced at an early date.

Tickets will go on sale Thursday, May 3, under the direction of ticket chairman Edward J. O’Brien.

Wrangler Applications To Close At Noon Tomorrow

“Applications for membership into the Wranglers, honorary forensic society, will be accepted until Saturday noon, April 21st,” says Thomas Proctor, chairman of the membership committee. In order to be eligible for membership a student must be in good standing with the University and must have participated in some forensic activity on the campus.

At the regular Tuesday night meeting of the group the chairman appointed Justin Hannen, Franklyn Hochreiter, and John Hayes to serve on the membership committee. New members will be taken in as soon as they have completed the requirements of the society for entrance.

Proctor will speak at the next meeting of the club.

Tickets - - -

The Faculty Dance Committee at a recent meeting passed a new regulation concerning the sale of tickets to all “class dances.” In the future the ticket sale will be confined to three days and at a specified place. Therefore, the sale of tickets for the Senior Ball of 1934 will be on May 3 and 4, respectively, and the place, the conference room in the central office of the Main Building. The hours of the sale have been announced by the ticket committee of the Senior Ball as follows:

Thursday, May 3, 2:00 to 5:00 o’clock, afternoon.
Friday, May 4, 2:00 to 5:00 o’clock, afternoon.
Saturday, May 5, 9:00 to 12:00 o’clock, morning.

Rhode Island Club Holds First Communion Breakfast

The Rhode Island Club of Notre Dame led the way in a new state club activity. Last Sunday, at the 8 o’clock Mass, the 15 members of the club approached the altar for Holy Communion.

Following Mass a Communion Breakfast was held in the faculty dining-hall. The honored guests and speakers were Father Brennan of the Philosophy Department and Mr. Robert Riordon, Registrar of the University. Other invitations were accepted by Frank Mcgarhen, president of St. Vincent de Paul Society and Harold Noonan of the Boston Club. Father Brennan complimented the club in a talk, “Psychology of Good Example.” Mr. Riordan told of “Great Rhode Islanders I Have Known.”

The committee in charge was composed of Tom Murphy, George Grimes and Henry McConnell.

Symphony Plays at St. Mary’s

The Notre Dame Symphony orchestra, under the direction of Professor Richard H. Seidel, will present a concert for the students of St. Mary’s College, Monday, April 30, at St. Angela’s hall. The concert, an annual affair, has been arranged by St. Mary’s officials in cooperation with Director Seidel.

The orchestra, with its personnel of 55 members, is continuing its biweekly rehearsals in preparation for the last concert of the school year to be given in May.

“Juggler” To Present Esquire Number Soon

Appearing in the form of a parody on Esquire, that well known magazine for men, the semi-final issue of the Juggler will be available for purchase early next week. As in the past the staff have put forth their best efforts and succeeded in producing an excellent edition.

Columnists Busy

The columnists continue to provide some interesting material as a result of the special opportunities afforded them by the lately begun social whirl. Rody Crnkovic in his “Rhythm Beats” puts out the low down on the bands which are to play at the local recreational center in the near future.

All in all the spring number continues to maintain the prestige established by the first issue appearing long ago last fall under the capable hand of the editor.

New Superintendent Of Buildings Appointed Here

Mr. Patrick J. McGuiness, Chicago, has been appointed to fill the newly created position of Superintendent of buildings. He comes to this position after a long experience at the Hotel Sherman, Midwest Club, Sheridan Plaza and other hotels in Chicago.

Freshman Preregistration

The preregistration of present freshmen for September, 1934, will begin at the Secretary’s office 1:00 p.m. Monday, April 23. Freshmen are requested not to congregate in the General Offices until after the noon meal on Monday. Preregistration on the following days will begin at 8:30 a.m.

The Scholastic
Sweet, Hot Tunes In 'Music's The Thing'

Music in all its forms is the keynote to the Linnet show, "Music's The Thing." Swaying melodies, tuneful ballads, and excellent instrumentation will bring to life the age old saying, "When it's Spring, a young man's fancy turns to love." Such will be the atmosphere created by the Linnets in Washington Hall, April 29, 30, and May 1.

The Linnet orchestra of some fourteen pieces will play for the revue. They will be directed by Al Stewart, known about the campus for his musical ability. The other members of the orchestra will be Tom Bott and Jim Keough, pianos; William Ellis, Raymond Marre, trumpets; Charles Morris, Thomas Carroll, John McAuliff, saxophones; Joseph Petritz, John McNell, Robert Klaiber, violins; Frank Joyce, string bass; Robert Gibbs, guitar; and Robert LeMire, drums; Terrill Austin, trombones.

Especially amusing will be the act known as the Fu Manchu Skit, in which the musical selection, "Mr. Magician" will be featured. Jim Masterson, senior, and champion presidigitator of the campus, will present an array of mystifying tricks. He will be assisted by a soloist and a chorus of tap dancers. John Dasso, director of tap dances, who scored such a hit in "Thanks For The Blow" is in charge of the routines. The whole act will be executed in a background of mystic India.

The nominal admission charge of twenty-five cents is being made for the revue. Those who attended the last presentation in December will want to see the Linnets come forth in a bigger and better show. The profits will go to the Bengal Missions. Tickets will be on sale very shortly in all the halls on the campus.

Prior to this week rehearsals were being held in parts, however, the entire production is now being woven into one unit. The Reverend Charles C. McAllister, C.S.C, head of the Linnets, is in charge of the presentation.

ECONOMICS MEET

Currency Program.

The meeting will close with a summary critique, "The Program as a Whole," by William C. Cleveland of Indiana University, to be followed by a general discussion.

Besides the speakers mentioned, representatives from Purdue, Indiana State Teachers College, and Evansville College will take part.

Professor Louis F. Buckley of Notre Dame is in charge of local arrangements.

April 20, 1934

Shane Leslie, Author, Will Speak On Oxford Movement Tuesday

The tickets for the Annual Lawyers' Ball, which is to be held at the Palais Royale on April 27, are selling rapidly. The price is $2.50.

Mark Fisher and his Edgewater Beach Hotel orchestra will supply the music and the entertainment.

Each member of the club is entitled to two guests.

Thomas Gately is general chairman of the 1934 Lawyers' Ball and is in charge of all the plans and preparations for the affair. Joseph Laughlin is president of the Notre Dame Law Club which is sponsoring the dance.

McNichols Reads Paper At Economics Seminar

The problem of the Far East, "Man ch u r i a" was discussed by Charles G. McNichols, Jr., Law 1, in a paper delivered before fellow-members of the Economics Seminar last Tuesday evening at 6:45 in the Law Building.

Treating the geographical and historical background of the disputed territory the speaker showed the great possibility of war because of the interests of the various countries concerned, positionally and economically with Manchuria. He pointed to the vast natural wealth of this area in agriculture and in minerals as a source of the dispute.

Recent Chino-Japanese War

From the recent book, The Tinder Box by George Sakalsky, this paradoxical statement was quoted: "The recent war between China and Japan was an act of peace because none of the recognized formalities of war were gone through, except the seizure of territory, the marching of troops and the killing of human beings!" and was considered by the speaker as befitting the topic.

McNichols, in conclusion, characterized the matter stating, "Like this so-called 'war' Manchuria presents strange, unusual aspects and well deserves for itself the title "The Craziest Problem in the World Today!"

After the customary discussion following the paper it was announced that the next meeting of the Seminar would be held on April 24, at which time Maurice Garland and Harry Black will deliver papers on Italy and Spain.

HISTORIAN, BIOGRAPHER

Shane Leslie, noted Catholic author and lecturer, will speak in Washington Hall, Tuesday night, April 24. "The Oxford Movement" is the title of the lecture to be delivered here. His book under this title appeared last year.

Mr. Leslie received his education at Eton, King’s College, University of Paris, and Cambridge. He married an American, Marjorie Ide, daughter of the Honorable H. C. Ide, former governor general of the Philippines, and U. S. minister to Spain. In 1907, a year before he became a Catholic, he visited Tolstoy in Russia. Leslie, a resident of Glaslough, Ireland, was for nine years editor of the Dublin Review. He is also the author of many reviews, biographies, and dramas.

Wrote For "Ave Maria"

Of Mr. Leslie's contributions to the Ave Maria the one on the Rheims Bible in October 1920 is of special interest to Notre Dame. The "Rheims Bible" takes its name from the fact that it was done into English in the Belgian city by some scholars exiled from England. In 1617 one Fulke brought out an edition of the Bible with the Rheims and the Old English versions in parallel columns, together with the Rheims annotations and vi­olent "anti-popish" comments. The purpose seems to have been to circulate the Catholic Bible in this dis­guise among the subjects of the benign Elizabeth whose rigid laws forbade anything Catholic from enter­ring the realm. Mr. Leslie is of the opinion that Fulke was certainly a Catholic or a Jesuit in disguise. He compares critically the Fulke edition with the Authorized or King James Version which it antedated and con­cludes that the compilers of the latter made liberal use of it. Mr. Leslie's copy of the Fulke Bible is one of the treasured possessions of the Univer­sity library through the courtesy of Monsignor Shannon, editor of the New World, Chicago. It is on view in the exhibition case in the library.

STAFF NOTICE

The regular meetings of the Editorial, news, and sports staffs of The Scholastic will be held this evening at 6:30 and 7:00 o'clock, in the Editorial Offices.

Candidates as well as regular staff members are requested to be present to receive assignments.
Prof. Frederick and Fr. Ward Write Book

Good Writing, a book designed generally for use in college writing but specially for freshman courses in composition, has been written by Professor John T. Frederick and the Rev. Leo L. Ward, C.S.C., both members of the local Department of English.

The book was accepted early this year by F. S. Crofts, and Company, New York City publishers, and will probably be published in May.

The usual elements of rhetoric and composition will be combined in the text. In addition, it will contain a handbook, or Manual of Writing, as the co-authors call it. The outstanding feature of Good Writing lies in its fresh treatment of the matters usually covered by the many texts on composition.

Professor Frederick, who has edited the Midland magazine for nearly 20 years, is the author of two novels and a Handbook of Short Story Writing. He has taught at Pittsburgh U., the University of Iowa, and at present teaches at Northwestern and Notre Dame.

Father Ward, a frequent contributor to the Midland and Commonweal magazines, has won considerable recognition in the short story field. During the past several years, he has had stories reprinted in the annual volumes of E. J. O'Brien's Best Short Stories.

Engineer's Ball Pleases

The Engineers' Ball which was held last Friday evening at the Palace Royale attracted 300 couples.

Robert FitzSimon, in charge of the dance, said that the dance was a success. The dance committee plans to hold a meeting this evening.

Mickey Isley and his orchestra from the Ballyhoo Night Club in Gary furnished the music and entertainment. Many numbers were heard by the orchestra's trio of Eddie Skinner, John Austey, and Ward Macken.

K. of C. News

By Ray Martin

The meeting held Monday night was thoroughly a business meeting, and was conducted in such a speedy fashion that more things were covered than at any meeting this year.

Plans for the council picnic were discussed. A tentative date, May 10, Ascension Thursday, and a tentative place, Indian Lake, were discussed, and a committee appointed to find out the suitability of this site. Clarence Hellwig is chairman of the picnic committee.

The council is beginning this year an indoor baseball team. There will be practice every night at 4:15 behind Alumni Hall, probably, if enough in the council are interested to come out for an hour's clean sport. It is possible that the council will enter one or two teams in the interhall league.

Elections from the floor were held last meeting to the nominating committee. Brothers Boeskei and Flannery were elected. Nominations for offices are now open. All nominations must be approved by the nominating committee.

Another of those fine features of Columbianism will be held soon, the Communion breakfast. It was tentatively set at the last Sunday of this month, but the matter was finally referred to a committee. Notices will be mailed as to the results of the committee's decision on the time.

Brother Eli Abraham was elected delegate to the state convention June 4 and 5.

John Egan won the cash attendance prize of $2.00, on about the eighth drawing. Zinn was one of those drawn and absent.

St. Vincent de Paul Society

Completes Plans For Drive

At a meeting of the St. Vincent de Paul society Tuesday night in the basement of Walsh Hall minor details of the Old Clothes Drive were completed.

Placards have been placed in all the halls, and committees have been appointed to canvas these halls. The chairman of the committee is to bring the collected clothes to the basement of Walsh Hall not later than 1:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, April 21.

Father John Kelley, C.S.C., displayed the eiborium which the society has personally donated to Reverend George O'Connor, C.S.C., for use in his new church in South Bend.

"Gold In The Hills"
Pleases 3 Audiences

"Gold in the Hills," directed by Professor Frank Kelly was greeted last Monday, and Tuesday, April 16 and 17 in Washington Hall and last night at the Palace theatre by appreciative and receptive audiences. The students showed, as they did two years ago, that they were wholeheartedly with the hero and wholeheartedly against the villain. Last night at the Palace a large audience approved and disappproved with cheers and hisses the actions of Richard Murgatroyd and Jack Dalton.

Eugene Blish as the villain gave an excellent performance. His mannerisms and facial expressions fitted perfectly with his dastardly antics. As Jack Dalton, the hero, John Henry was the essence of true manhood. His undaunting spirit caused much applause as he went about freeing his only love from the coniving Murgatroyd.

Boyle Makes Hit

Miss Irene Pyle as Nell Stanley capably portrayed the sweet, innocent farmer's daughter. As Lizzie Jones the fidgety housekeeper, Miss Helen Peterson received well-deserved applause.

The remainder of the Stanley family, Robert Ward as the best listener, and Miss Charlotte Mourer, as Nell's younger sister, were well pictured. Jim Boyle, as Big Mike Slattery, the bartender was all one would want for a true Bowery saloonkeeper.

The supporting members of the cast as Bowery folk and New York sightseers contributed much to revive the spirit of the nineties. The accompanying music of the collegians enhanced the East Side atmosphere.

A Bowery saloon was well depicted in the second act. The costumes, dances, setting and music, made up a typical rendezvous of the people of suds-over-the-bar days.

R. O. T. C. Backers Plan

Survey Of Student Body

Although no R. O. T. C. unit will be formed this year, members of the Military Club and others are showing much interest in the formation of such an organization, and it is hoped that sometime in the near future, perhaps next school year, such a unit will be instituted on the campus.

To obtain student opinion upon the plan, a petition survey of all students will probably be begun next week or soon after. By this organizers wish to ascertain the number of students who desire to have an R. O. T. C. exist here on the campus.
Fr. Bolger Named On Regional Labor Board

The appointment of the Reverend William A. Bolger, C.S.C., head of the department of economics at the University, to the Regional Labor Board for Chicago was made known yesterday.

The appointment of Father Bolger was made by President F. D. Roosevelt, who Acted for the President. He announced his acceptance after notification of the appointment reached him in the following wire from Robert F. Wagner, chairman of the National Labor Board:

"By the direction of the President you have been appointed on the Regional Labor Board for Chicago as one of the members representing labor in the mediation of labor controversies in your area. Acceptance and service will constitute a most substantial contribution of the highest patriotism to the solution of the present industrial unrest. Please advise acceptance by wire."

Mr. Insull, the modern "Homeric wanderer," after evading fraud charges for 18 months, seems to have reached the end of his struggle for freedom and is probably thinking that the world is very small as he returns to this country a prisoner. By refusing to stand trial in the vice-scape of his former triumphs, he has been built up as a symbol of the wealth and power of the utilities and the losses of investors. It is possible that if Mr. Insull had stayed at home and seen things through, he would have suffered much less than he already has.

Huey Long added a little color and almost a fight to the hearing of the Senate Finance Committee with his sizzling repartee, centering around the appointment of Daniel D. Moore as Collector of Internal Revenue for the State of Louisiana. The melodrama and comedy of Huey's rantings on race horses and insane asylums provided laughter for the mass of spectators who always enjoy a free theatrical show, but it destroyed what little respect the Kingfish still might have held in the Senate.

Dr. Wirt of Gary had his day in Washington before the House Committee, but failed to produce any specific evidence that a group of new fangled thinkers were dominating New Deal legislation, or that Mr. Roosevelt is merely putty in the hands of radicals who intend to lead him on to a more and more extreme change in our system of government.

The educator's plea for light and truth about governmental policies was justified, since no one can deny him that privilege. The people are entitled to know whether or not they are being secretly deprived of their constitutional rights by the cleverly worded phrases written into the legislation by a few political overlords or braintrusters.

Instead of a revolution, there may be more possibility of a counter-revolution. As the country continues to climb out of the depression, there seems to be a reaction toward the right. Already the first revolutionary act of Mr. Roosevelts' — the cutting down of payments to war veterans — has been restored after 12 months. The Fletcher-Rayburn stock exchange regulation bill, the Wagner Labor bill, the Securities Act and the Tug-well food and drug bill also seem to have been watered down by strong lobbies and a wave of counter-reform.

Opportunity For N. D. Man

Expenses at the Harvard Business School for one year are about $1,200, including expenses; and it is possible for the student who obtains this scholarship, and who has a good scholastic standing at mid-year, to borrow from the student loan fund the sum of $300.00; and in his second year he may borrow up to $600.00. This scholarship offers to some outstanding man from Notre Dame an opportunity to do graduate work in accounting, management, statistics, and many other business and economic subjects. Ninety-two percent of the school's graduates in 1933 had positions by January, 1934.

Music Professors To Give Concert Here

A very ambitious list of music has been chosen by Professors Seidel and Groom for their Washington Hall concert Monday, April 23, at 8 p. m. The program will include Brahms's A Major sonata for violin and piano, an exciting and difficult adventure in ensemble craftsmanship. Following that, Mr. Groom will touch off Miaskovsky's relatively unfamiliar "Reminiscences," as well as Brahms' glowing "Rhapsody in G Minor," and Gossens' "Northland."

Violin Solos

Mr. Seidel will match the mood of the recital with his solo violin contributions. There will be a subdued "Romance" by Ries, a bouncing Mozart rondos arraigned by Kreisler, Czerny's waggish and colorful "Harlequin," and an "Air Varie" by Vieuxtemps, whose impossible cadenzas have been black death to most violinists since 1870. The evening will close with the allegro from Grieg's sonata in G major.

Harvard Business School Offers Scholarship of $300

A $300.00 scholarship to the Harvard School of Business Administration is being offered to graduates of Indiana colleges by the Harvard Business School Club of Indianapolis, the award to be made on the basis of need of financial assistance, scholarship, and character. The offer was made known to officials at Notre Dame in a letter from C. F. Mead, P. Mead, Chairman of the Scholarship Committee of the Indianapolis Harvard Business School Club. This is the only scholarship of its kind offered in Indiana. Applications, which may be made through the University, or by writing directly to R. F. Mead, Mead-Balch Construction Company, 26 S. Reichwein Street, Indianapolis, Indiana, must be made by May 15, 1934.

April 20, 1934
Monogram Show Is Set for May 17, 18, 20

In spite of the weather and outdoor activities of spring, there is a group of campus athletes who remain closely indoors, and bend themselves to their work. They are the re hearing stars of the coming Monogram Absurdities, the annual campus stage presentation of the Notre Dame Monogram Club.

Tom Roach, President of the Monogram Club, has announced that castings have almost been completed and rehearsals are being held daily. The show is to be presented about the middle of May. The tentative dates of May 17, 18, and 20 have been set, subject to revision is a conflict with the spring athletic program intervenes.

The great majority of the work connected with the production of the Absurdities is assumed by the members of the Monogram Club. Clay Johnson is general chairman in charge of the production with Vince Fagan as manager and stage director. But special mention is to be given to Professor Joseph Casasanta, who has generously given his help to the arrangement of the music for the show. Others who are contributing their assistance are Joe Boland, Chet Grant, Joe Degnan, John Sharpe, and a group of campus literary luminaries who are working on the script of the show.

Great activity will be seen in the month to come. And the result will be well worth the work. In keeping with past years, the Absurdities is sure to be one of the outstanding historic presentations of the year.

The general theme of the show is to be a presentation of the life at Notre Dame, past and present. Furthermore than this, the Monogram men refuse to be committed.

Maffe Elected Head of The Metropolitan Club

Andrew Maffe, of Yonkers, N. Y., defeated James Shields, New Rochelle, by a close margin for the presidency of the Metropolitan Club of New York City at the elections held Wednesday evening, April 18, in Brownson Rec. Approximately 130 votes were cast.

First Voting Begins Monday at Primaries

Handshaking, feverish vote getting, talk of committees, etc. will feature the week-end as campus politicians make last minute preparation for the class elections. The Junior primary will be held Monday, April 23. The following day the Sophomores will meet to nominate candidates, while the Freshman primary is slated for Wednesday, the 28th.

As in former years, the candidate for class office must have a good disciplinary record and a good scholastic standing. This means that even one scholastic deficiency is sufficient to bar a candidate from running for office. No Monogram athlete may be a candidate for representation in the S.C.A.
Phillips Added To Cracow Club Name

At the last meeting of the Cracow Club, a week ago last Monday, it was decided to honor Professor Charles Phillips, and his name was added to the name of the organization, because he had originally given it its old name. The name of the group now is the “Charles Phillips Cracow Club.”

The constitution of the organization was amended as follows: “In due recognition of the great service rendered and the interest and love that the late Professor Phillips, a man of Irish descent, has shown in Poland, in Americans of Polish descent, and particularly in the organizing of a Polish student organization at the University of Notre Dame, we deem it proper to rename the organization in his memory and to make the study and appreciation of his literary works one of the aims of this Club.” The vote on this was, of course, unanimous.

A letter from Mr. Phillips’ brother to Pres. Koznesek of the Charles Phillips’ Cracow Club was read at the meeting which was a special one, called for the sole purpose of having the letter read. The following quote is significant of his interest in the Club and in Notre Dame:

“Your club has shown a great love and appreciation of Professor Phillips. The family, I assure you, does highly appreciate this, and we hold a sincere love for you all because of this.

We hope we may be privileged to keep contact with your club as we wish to do always with the University. Thanking you for your thoughts and actions for our dear brother, I am

Yours sincerely,

Frank T. Phillips.”

Italian Club

A meeting of the Italian Club was held Wednesday night, April 18, in Carroll Rec Hall.

Professor James A Reyniers lecturing on Leonardo da Vinci, was the principal speaker of the evening.

A banquet will be held by the club on May 3 in the Faculty Dining Hall. Professor Clarence A. Manion of the Law School will act as toastmaster.

German Club

A meeting of the German Club is to be held Wednesday, April 25 in Carroll Rec Hall.

Plans for the banquet and other matters of importance to the club will be discussed.

Because of the importance of this meeting, President Nachtwey requests as many members as possible to be present.

Pharmacy Club Visits Lilly Plant At Indianapolis

Thirty students and two members of the faculty went to Indianapolis Monday on the trip sponsored by the Pharmacy Club to visit the Eli Lilly laboratories and manufacturing plant.

The group returned to South Bend late Tuesday night. While in Indianapolis, the party was the guests of Lilly’s, and stayed at the Hotel Severin.

Upon arriving in Indianapolis, the group was taken to a hotel where they had lunch, and then went to the pharmaceutical manufacturing unit where they were addressed by J. K. Lilly, Jr., Vice-president of the firm.

The remainder of the afternoon was spent in an inspection tour of the plant. Trained guides escorted the visitors through the various departments.

Some of the more modern medicinal substances seen in the making were: Insulin, Sodium amytal, Liver extract, and Methothiolate.

Banquet Given Monday

Monday night, a banquet was given on the roof of the hotel. Several representatives of Lilly’s addressed the assemblage on the history of the company and the future of pharmacy and medicine.

Reverend Francis J. Wenninger, C.S.C., Dean of the College of Science, and Dr. L. H. Baudring, head of the Department of Pharmacy, also spoke, expressing their appreciation to the Eli Lilly Company for having made the trip possible.

After the banquet, the entertainment provided by the company consisted of a movie.

Tuesday morning, after breakfast in the hotel, the visitors were taken in special busses to the biological farm at Greenfield, Indiana. There, while guides explained the methods used in making biologicals, the group was shown through several laboratories.

The complete procedure, from quarantining the animals to standardization of the finished vaccines, toxins, and antitoxins, was witnessed.

On the route back to the hotel from the farms, the party stopped at Page’s Country Home for lunch where the official itinerary ended.

Father O’Hara Speaks In Chicago On U. N. D. Night

The Reverend John F. O’Hara, C.S.C., Vice-President of the University, sounded the keynote of the Universal Notre Dame night in his speech to the Chicago Alumni Monday night.

Speaking on the true principle, the Catholic principle, of education he said: “I like the name ‘Universal Notre Dame Night.’ The word universal means Catholic, and I like to reflect that the school we all love is Catholic, in every sense of the word—as universal in its love of truth, in its search for knowledge, in its establishment of learning and its appeal to men of all classes, as is the Church from which it derives its principles of education.”

Bookmen Hear Prof. Smithberger In Talk

Professor Andrew T. Smithberger addressed the Bookmen last Monday night on the youth of great figures in English and American literature when they begin their literary careers.

PROF. ANDREW SMITHBERGER
Urges preservation of “duties.”

Starting out with John Lyly as an example, he traced, in chronological order, the names of literary giants who have produced their best work, or at least a significant start on the path of fame before they were thirty. “In fact,” Mr. Smithberger pointed out, “it is the exception rather than the rule for men to achieve fame if they postpone writing until their middle or old age.”

Cites Chatterton, Benet

Every now and then some genius emerges who is worthy of amazement because of his precocity. This is the case of Thomas Chatterton and Stephen Vincent Benet. These two had published significant work while in their middle teens. Another point in Mr. Smithberger’s talk was that there are very few if any titans of literature who did not write some poetry.

In conclusion the speaker urged the Bookmen to prepare all their writings, especially “duties” in duplicate form so that they could preserve a copy for themselves. He told them that the cost of binding such work is very small and that they might leave a copy in the library or in a similar place for safe keeping and reference.

LaRaza Soccer Team Ties The South Bend Bluejays

The spring soccer season opened at Notre Dame Sunday when La Raza played the South Bend Bluejays to a 2-2 tie on a field of mud.

La Raza scored first when Busquets booted the ball between the uprights on a pass from Brisa. The Bluejays forged ahead in the second period two goals to one, but La Raza tied the score when Hoyos made a corner kick on a pass from Busquets.

La Raza lineup: Benavides, Valdez, Creel, Bonet, Yriberry, de Landero, Busquets, Hoyos, Gomez, Brisa, Roes.

John Jordan Elected Captain Of Cagers

John Joseph Jordan, a junior in the College of Arts and Letters, and a two year monogram winner, was elected captain of the Notre Dame basketball team for 1934-'35 at the annual banquet given to the cage squad Monday night. Monograms were awarded to ten players.

Jordan, who lives in Chicago, succeeds two fellow townsmen to the cage captaincy. Ed Krause, retiring leader, is also a Chicago native as was Johnny Baldwin captain of the 1932-'33 team.

Three Win Third Letter

Three of the letter winners had previously won two letters in basketball. In addition to Krause, Joe Voegele, high scoring forward and Leo Crowe, stocky guard, earned their third awards. Jordan and Bill Newbold, reserve guard, were awarded their second monograms.

Marty Peters, Joe OKarie, Jolmny Ford, Don Allen and George Ireland, the remaining five monogram men, were awarded letters for the first time.

Four of the monogram winners, Krause, Voegele, Crowe and Newbold, will be graduated in June.

The new Irish cage leader has been one of the most reliable players on the Notre Dame squad for the past two seasons in which the Keoganites won 46 out of 56 games and established a new Notre Dame winning streak of 22 games.

Irish Gridders Try Out Latest Pigskin

The Notre Dame football squad used the new 1934 ball for the first time this week. The ball, designed to aid passing attacks, proved to be easier to throw and catch than the old ball. Punters, however, found that it cut down the yardage of their kicks and had a tendency to bounce to the side when it struck the ground.

The drills on passing offense and defense continued during the first part of the week. Pass scrimmages were held on Monday and Tuesday, and scrimmages, in which most of the plays called for passes, were run off on Wednesday and Thursday. A practice game between two picked squads may be played on Saturday.

Coach Layden intends to take up the greater part of next week with an extensive blocking drill. The Irish coach wishes to get this part of spring practice entirely finished before the warm weather sets in.

According to present plans the annual game between the Varsity and the Old-Timers will be played in the stadium next Sunday. The Old-Timers will go into serious training on Monday and expect to be in fairly good shape by game time. With such men as Hugh Devoe, Norb Racher, Ed Boats, Hal Roach, Kitty Goodman, Harry Wunsch, Joe Pivarnik, Laurie Vejar, Frank Laborne, and Steve Banas available, they should be able to give the Varsity a tough afternoon. Last year the Old-Timers humiliated the Varsity with a 7 to 0 defeat.

Varsity Basketball Spring Practice Sessions Begin

A large group of sophomore candidates met with available varsity veterans, headed by Captain Johnny Jordan, to answer the call for Coach George Keogan's first spring practice session. Feeling is running unusually high, due perhaps to the three large vacancies left in varsity ranks, and the open competition that will necessarily fill them.

Work so far has been limited to offensive and defensive scrimmages, in order to acquaint the erstwhile freshmen with the Keogan style of play.

"The Rockne of basketball" intends to cover about four weeks in his spring conditioning school, with workouts scheduled for three days a week. Ireland, Ford, O'Kane, and Jordan are a few of the veterans who have responded to the call, so with the exception of the football, and baseball squad members, the entire varsity roster is taking advantage of the early drills.

Baseball Team Meets Chicago, Saturday; Northwestern Monday

The Interhall golf tournament will get into full swing on Sunday in an effort to determine the interhall golf champion. This year the links tourney is under the direction of Captain Vince Fehlig of the varsity golf team. Captain Fehlig has announced that a new system of play has been adopted by which the winner is selected. In former years the halls battled for a team championship, but this year the individual champion will be determined.

Each Sunday three halls will take to the field. This will constitute the qualifying round and from these rounds the sixteen lowest scorers will be chosen. During the course of the week the qualifiers will play their first, second, and third round matches so that by the end of the week the individual hall champ will have been selected. The first round matches will be played on Monday or Tuesday, the second round on Wednesday or Thursday, and the final round of qualifying play will be on Friday or Saturday. After all of the individual hall champs have been selected they will be paired together and they will then vie for the coveted title of Interhall champion.

The qualifying round will be of eighteen holes while the final round will be played over thirty-six holes.

Each hall bulletin board will show that the ability to make runs and free. The coming games will probably show Kline's team in a better light. The two defeats which have opened the season for Notre Dame may be attributed to a lack of coordination. That this phase of Notre Dame's playing is due to the short time that the group has been playing can be seen by a review of the games. Both Ohio State and Western State gained their leads during the first few innings. In each game the Irish came back with enough strength, at least, to show that the ability to make runs is present to an unquestionable degree. The coming games will probably show Kline's team in a better light.

IRISH LOOK FOR FIRST WIN

By Cy Stroker

The Irish baseball team, after suffering two defeats at the hands of the Ohio State and Western State Wildcats during the last week, will continue its season in a game tomorrow with the University of Chicago team at Chicago. Monday Kline's men will meet the Northwestern University Wildcats on Carrier Field.

Chicago is generally acknowledged to have a strong aggregation and it was this team that easily defeated the Irish in each of the two games last week with scores of 7 to 0 and 13-1. The windy City men were badly trounced last Saturday, however, by Western State with the same team that beat Notre Dame here Tuesday. The result of tomorrow's game is a toss-up but Chicago seems to have the more powerful team at present.

Wildcats Have Good Pitching

Monday's game is, perhaps, more favorable for Notre Dame. Northwestern's team, although not to be underrated, possesses neither the hard hitting nor the good fielding that the three teams that precede on the Irish card. In their opening game last Saturday, however, the Evanston men showed great pitching strength and reasonably good batting. In last year's tilts with the Irish, Northwestern broke even, winning and losing one game.

Eleven
Irish Win 9th Consecutive Golf Match; Defeat Detroit, 14 to 4

THREE TIE FOR MEDAL

The Irish golfers opened their 1931 season with an overwhelming victory at the expense of the University of Detroit here last Saturday. The final score read 14 to 4. It was the ninth consecutive dual match victory for Notre Dame and the fourth win over Detroit in as many starts.

Playing conditions were extremely unfavorable and effected the games of both squads. The soggy course and chilly blasts were not conducive to low scores. Johnny Banks, Johnny Montedonico, and Win Day tied for medal honors with 76's.

Win Day made an auspicious beginning as a varsity man by defeating Dawson Taylor 6 and 5, 3 to 0. Previously he had paired with Herman Green to subdue the Detroit combination of Taylor and Beck 7 and 5, 3 to 0. This local team reached the halfway mark 5 up. Day's par four on the tenth made it six up and a similar feat on the 13th clinched the match. Green and Day did not lose a hole during the 18-hole tramp. Day grabbed victory on the 13th in his single match and lost but one hole, the 16th, when he wound up one over par, five.

Bunks And Montedonico Rally

Captain Vince Fehlig defeated Captain Whiting of Detroit 2 and 1, 2 to 1. Vince was out in 38 to lead three up. He was four up on the 13th, but had his lead cut to three on the following green and to two on the 16th. They halved at four on the next hole to give Fehlig the win.

Johnny Banks and Johnny Montedonico staged a last minute rally to mow down their doubles rival's lead and even their match. The Irish pair were trailing, three down, as they entered the home stretch, holed out in birdie fours, and squared the match. The Irish pair then battled their way back to grab victory on the 13th in their single match and lost but one hole, the 16th, when they wound up one over par, five.

Interhall

Balking and sputtering, with forfeits and postponements, the Interhall baseball machine got under way last Sunday with six hard ball teams braving the lack of practice and organization to play three rather top notch contests. The boys who use the softer balls had less luck and were forced to postpone all their first week games. Barring many possible things they will get on the way Saturday when six of their group are scheduled to perform.

St. Ed's Trims Lyons

In Group I of the hardball leagues, St. Edward's rolled over Lyons, 14-2, and Badin stopped Morrissey, 3-2. Therens, Peters, and Walker used the stick to good advantage for the Saints, the former polling a home run, and Walker getting three hits out of four times at bat. Hawley, of the battery team of Barnett and Hawley, held the Lyons hall batsmen to two lone bingles with Penty, cleanup man, getting both. Badin and Morrissey had quite an argument over their game, Montgomery of the Junior hall finally settling it in the sixth with a long triple which scored the tying and winning run. Both Compa, Badin hall twirler, and Dunn, were very effective on the mound.

The following single drawings were released for the next appearance of the teams, both in hardball and soft competition, but complete schedules for the balance of the season are soon to be released. Teams that forfeited last week's play are: Sorin to Dillon, Walsh to Howard, and Off-Campus to Brownson.

Baseball: Morrissey vs. Dillon, Diamond 1, 9 a.m.; Sorin vs. St. Edward's, Diamond 2, 9 a.m.; Lyons vs. Cartier, 9 a.m.; Brownson vs. Freshman, Brownson, 9 a.m.; Carroll vs. Alumni, Freshman, 9 a.m.; Howard vs. Off-Campus, Brownson, 2 p.m.

Softball: Saturday, April 21 at 1:30—Lyons and St. Ed's at Alumni; Morrissey & Badin at Brownson; Dillon & Sorin at St. Ed's.

Tuesday, April 24th, at 3:30—Brownson & Freshman at Alumni; Carroll & Alumni at Brownson; Howard & Off-Campus at St. Edward's.

Thursday, April 26th at 3:30—Morrissey & Dillon at Alumni; Sorin & St. Edward's at Brownson; Lyons & Corby at St. Edward's.

This afternoon on the University tennis courts, the Notre Dame netmen will make their debut against that talented squad of racquet-wielders from Northwestern University of Evanston, Ill. The Notre Dame combination is led by Captain Jack O'Hanlon who has been severely handicapped by the weather. It was planned to select the team through the showing of the players in the spring tournament now being run off, but old man Pluvius put an end to this idea by allowing one match to be played off since last Friday.

From all advance reports it looks like a Northwestern victory. They are coming down here with their usually strong club paced by Combe and Laux, both veterans of two years experience. Last season the Wildcats blanked the Irish tennis devotees 9 to 0, keeping their undefeated record intact against the local netsters. Notre Dame has never been able to topple the Wildcats in a tennis skirmish since the rivalry started, but this does not daunt O'Hanlon and his men who are striving this afternoon for that initial win.

Kazoos Boast Two Victories

The Notre Dame team will be made up of players selected by Capt. O'Hanlon and Manager Fred Sullivan who base their selections on the players' performances in past tournaments. The best looking candidates for the club now, besides the three sure nominees of O'Hanlon, Kelly, and Wendlon, include Joe Waldron and Joe McNulty, sophomores.

Tomorrow the Irish tennis team will meet the Western State Teachers College sextet on the latter's home courts in Kalamazoo, Michigan. The players who will compose the Notre Dame squad will be determined on the basis of showings made today in the match with Northwestern University.

Notre Dame tennis is sweltering under two consecutive defeats at the hands of the Kazoos. In 1931 the teachers handed the Irish a beating by the narrow margin of 4 to 3. The year following, State sent its traditionally strong team here to overwhelm Louis Christ and aides, 7 to 6.

In that affair the visitors won all matches and all but one set. Jack O'Hanlon, present Irish captain, was the odd man in the company that day. He won the second set of his match after losing a close first set, 7 to 5.

The Scholastic
Baseball Team Loses Opener to Ohio State

Between flurries of snow, Notre Dame's baseball team bowed to the Buckeyes of Ohio State by the score of 7 to 5 last Friday afternoon. To less superstitious people, Friday the 13th was just another day, but it proved a bad day for the first official game of Coach Jake Kline's diamond proteges.

Notre Dame rallied in the last half of the ninth inning but a fast double play smothered the comeback two runs short of its goal.

Nob Rascher was the starting pitcher for Notre Dame and held his Ohio opponents in check in the first two innings. He lost control in the third, however, and filled the bases. Wickle of the Buckeyes then hit a roller to Cunha and the Irish shortstop booted the ball into left field, allowing Pros'niack and Clawson to score.

States Scores In Fourth

In the fourth, Ohio State scored two more tallies on Clawson's booming triple with two mates on bases. Lewis, the Buckeye third baseman raised the score to five to nothing by hitting a two-run double off Ulrich. Paul Kane's single to right. On the second Irish twirler, poled out a diving Clawson home with a clean single to start the Notre Dame rally in the ninth. He went to third on Paul Kane's single to right. On the third straight hit of the inning Cunha drove Powell across the plate and advanced to third. Vic Mettler then drove a scorching liner through Blue, p advanced to third. Notre Dame in 1930 and won himself a berth on the tennis team in his sophomore year.

Playing number three man, he won six out of his nine matches for the Irish in his first year of competition. Last year he alternated with Nick Lukats at the number two position and won four out of seven matches.

This afternoon O'Hanlon will lead the Irish netmen in their attempt to chalk up their first victory over the strong Northwestern squad. Last year the Wildcots handed Notre Dame a six to nothing defeat. The only Irish netman who was able to win a set during that afternoon was O'Hanlon who won the second set of his match, 7-5 before going down to a two set to one defeat.

O'Hanlon got his first taste of competitive tennis at St. John's Academy in the nation's capital, where he was captain of the net team for four years. During his captivity, St. John's won the Washington Prep championship for two successive years.

During the past five years, O'Hanlon has played in many of the invitational and sectional tournaments. He won the singles championship of the Buena Vista Invitational Tournament in 1929, 1930 and 1931. In 1929 he captured the District of Columbia Prep School Individual Championship. He twice reached the finals of the District of Columbia Boys Tournament before being eliminated by Frank Shore who recently extended George Lott to five sets.

In June O'Hanlon will be graduated cum laude.

was thought to be of minor seriousness, it has not responded enough to treatment to allow the little fellow to run. He will be on the side lines for at least a week or two.

Vince Murphy will be making his first bid for outdoor fame, as will George Meagher. Murphy's leg has shown great improvement in the past month and the elongated high jumper should be at his best tomorrow.

The Kansas Relays will be dedicated to Glenn Cunningham this year. Glenn, the premier American miler, will run a special 1500 meter race or a special mile race. Gene Venzke will appear as Cunningham's chief rival in the meet. Efforts have also been made to bring Bill Bonthron, Princeton's miler, to the Relays.

The coming of Venzke to the Kansas affair is an exchange of courtesies, as Cunningham is to run a similar race in the Penn Relays in Philadelphia on April 28.

Included in the teams entered are Chicago, Northwestern, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Missouri, Montana, Kansas State College, Iowa State College, Washington U., Drake, Texas, and Notre Dame.

Rifle Team Wins From Buchanan and Studebaker

During the last week the Notre Dame Rifle team won two very close matches. On Friday night the Notre Dame team were the hosts to the Buchanan rifle team. The Irish defeated the Michigan shooters 475 to 470. In this shooting contest Captain McGrath and Minarick were the high scorers of the evening each carding a total of 98. Herman and Andrews of the Buchanan team led their squad each with 95.

On Monday night the Notre Dame team again won a tight match this time from the Studebaker A.C., 967 to 965. The shoot was staged at the Studebaker galleries. White of the downtowners had a perfect score of 200. Minarick was again the leader of the Irish with 197.

On Friday night the Notre Dame team will embark for Michigan, where they will take on the Buchanan team for a return engagement.

The plans for the Interhall shooting contest have not yet been settled, but the bulletin for the matches will be carded in the near future. Notices will be posted on the hall bulletin boards notifying contestants of the rules of the shoot.
SPLINTERS FROM THE PRESS BOX

By James S. Kearns

RELAYS

Tomorrow afternoon out at Lawrence, where the Kansas Relays will be run, the Notre Dame track team will launch its outdoor season. For the next ten days, Coach Nicholson's charges will be devoted pretty exclusively to the business of perfecting relay teams.

With a few breaks from the weather, and barring further injuries and a recovery from those already suffered, the Irish runners should do well for themselves tomorrow and at Penn and Drake next Saturday.

For the first time in track history here, Notre Dame will have a shuttle hurdle relay team to enter in the big spring carnivals. Jim Fagan, Carl Link, Mike Layden, and George Meagher are all capable of running the high sticks in :15.5 or better if they are in top form.

A shuttle team able to shade 62 seconds will collect points in almost any meet, and if the Irish all happen to click at the same time, their quartet should be able to better that time.

The other relay teams are a bit doubtful. Nick has the makings of a fine four-mile team in Captain Joe Young, Leo McFarlane, Eddie King, and Clyde Roberts. The recent disability of Young and King has set the team back several days of normal progress.

The mile team, running about as it did indoors, can be expected to come close to 3:20, possibly to get under that mark with favorable conditions. The two-mile team can be made strong, but it would require doubling up by at least one performer. Possibly out of his squad of half-milers including Young, King, Roberts, a couple of the 440 men, and Jim Shells, Jerry Farrell, and Sal Ducassa, Nick can build a 7:52 team or possibly a better one, without weakening the other events too much.

SHORTS

Suggested Saturday occupations: watch the golf team in an intercollegiate match... they're a pretty smooth crew... Congratulations to Captain-elect Johnny Jordan... he'll be a good leader for a team that should be strong... Sorry to bring this up, but we do need a couple of good tennis courts... Sports on the program between now and June: varsity track, baseball, golf, tennis, spring football... Interhall baseball, softball, soccer, golf, track, rifle meets... a bit of intercollegiate soccer, too, by the LaRaza team... and 3,987,932 innings of impromptu softball by the Sorin-Walsh A. C.

Europe Offsets Exchange Rate
With Reduced Travel Charges

In a recent interview with Mr. James Vodak, a world travel expert, who is to be at the La Salle Hotel on Tuesday of this coming week, he said:

"There is a general feeling that because of the fluctuation in the value of the American Dollar that travel in foreign lands this year is going to be very expensive. This is not by any means the case as railroads, hotels, sightseeing companies, etc. throughout the world are alive to the situation and have greatly reduced their rates this year to offset the exchange condition.

"Your American Dollar will go a surprisingly long way in Europe this year, even discounting the reduced prices for travel. For example, in England your Dollar is still worth 97 cents and costs in England are much less than in this country where prices are mounting.

"Russia has reduced their tour prices from 20% to 48% and are quoting rates in American dollars. German railroads have reduced their rates by one-third. Italian Railways have reduced theirs 50% to 70%. Swiss Railroads are down 25%, etc. so that if you have thought of Europe this year do not be afraid of the big bad dollar. Its purchasing power is still exceptionally good."

These humble quatrains are composed

To tell a sprightly tale
Of how a witty junior nosed
A senior with a frail.

The tale, ye hearties, goes like this:
It seems two lads were nuts
About a certain little miss
Whose name, we'll say, was Lutz.

The junior's Christian name was Tom;
The senior's name was Bert.
They both considered for the prom
The same blond, blue-eyed skirt.

Now Bert had honors, letters; he
Was quite the well-known lad.
While two-bucks-ten and faith-in-me
Were all that Tommy had.

When blond Miss Lutz declined to go
With Bert, he wondered why.
That Tommy should get all the show
Was quite a blackened eye.

He learned the night the prom was thrown
Why he had lost the date.
For Tom had made the timely loan
Of someone's Ford V-8!

The way tobacco is cut has a lot to do with the way Chesterfield burns and tastes.

There are many different ways of cutting tobacco. A long time ago, it used to be cut on what was known as a Pease Cutter, but this darkened the tobacco, and it was not uniform.

The cutters today are the most improved, modern, up-to-the-minute type. They cut uniformly, and cut in long shreds.

The tobacco in Chesterfield is cut right — you can judge for yourself how Chesterfields burn and how they taste.

Everything that science knows is used to make Chesterfield the cigarette that's milder... the cigarette that tastes better.
