Wayward Trains Make International Trip

Return Delayed 9 Hours

Trains listed as the Blue Circle Honor Society Specials 1 and 2 left New York’s Grand Central Station, Sunday afternoon. Before they completed the trip to South Bend 9 hours later, 9 hours behind schedule, they each had been up the Hudson River, re-routed because of two freight train derailments, gone through 2 countries and 3 states, and through customs. They lost two complete cases at the border, swarmed over a town for food and were nicknamed the Wayward Train, “slumbering by day and running wild over the countryside by night.”

A wrecked freight on the main line between Rochester and Buffalo forced the trains onto a mile long detour. In what night proved to be an event fraught, conductors and brakemen at Rochester realized that it was a chance the dispatcher had been able to route the trains so quickly. "Otherwise we might have had a long delay.”

Over Niagara.

The original rerouting was to have taken the trains to Buffalo way of Niagara Falls. The final trip took them from Rochester, over Niagara, the Train to Canada, across Canada to Detroit and down Michigan, through Jackson to South Bend.

The first train lost its engine, its heat, its water. its food and 9 hours but it never lost its humor. Prepared cocktails poisoned and cranked from Rochester to South Bend.

In St. Thomas, Ontario at 5 a.m. one pointed out that, "Some drugstore owner could get up and open his store and make a rich man of himself. We've even got our own barber and hairdresser’s for the journey."" Our barber's coat when the heat went out, and complained that their daughter was failing them. When the train stopped after moving 200 cars in St. Thomas it was he was at the last minute, "We just lost our priority on that hard card again."

"We're moving," someone finally noticed. Another seeing an old woman walking on the platform overheard, "We have to. This woman was running the train from Buffalo and is whispering us.”

Any thing to Shop

The car lights were disconnected in most of the cars, and a few restrooms were crapped up into the baggage rack for the night. They could see through the uncurtained, unscreened windows, in the passenger cars, and under the tables in the dining car.

Norwegian smallhorns in little towns were cried over when they heard the trains were headed for South Bend. "What ya doin' going up here?"

The train got dirtier as the originally planned 10-hour trip went to 18, 20, then 24 hours. Paper and electronic dirt were to be found in some of the cars. Toilets and urinals were clogged with paper and orange peels.

Smear At Jackson

Complaints for something to eat to the north on the top and down the trains. Even a station rat became a "nasty, little fellow." After telegraphing about it, it was announced for food to be available at Jackson, Michigan, and the line was kept clean with deals of economic problems faced in dealing with economic problems.

Following this, Callisto Madavo, a Notre Dame student from Southern Rhodesia, will speak on the African student in the United States, on Monday, October 14, at 3:30 p.m., in the auditorium for international African students. "A informal breakfast at 11:00 a.m., by a talk by Miss Rita Cassidy, Professor of History at SMU, who will speak on the top in Africa. Her topic will be "Africa Faces the World: A Challenge for the African Negro: A Perspective into the Future."

NSA Sponsors African Meet

The National Student Association will sponsor an African Conference with the theme "Africa Faces the World" at St. Mary’s this weekend.

Registration will take place Friiday, October 11, in the Student Center.

Northwestern University Students, who will be able to enter on the first day of the conference, will be available at the Student Center. M. Dohoua has travelled extensively across Africa and has issued various reports on various countries, including deals with economic problems faced in dealing with economic problems.

Debaters Finish 3rd At Bradley Tournay

Notre Dame’s debate team placed first in two of the three divisions, taking third place overall in the 1963 American Debating Invitational Speech Tournament, Nov. 22 and 23.

John Roe and Larry Petrohus, both juniors were first place in the championship round of the preliminary debate division. In the novice four man debate division, Paul Freddolino, affirmative, and Tom Oddo, negative, finished second. Jim Czarnecki, negative, took another first. Over 700 students from over 60 schools participated in the tournament, one of the largest in the country.

Earlier in Nov. 15, the novice squad took second place behind Maryland in the St. Mary’s Debate Tournament. At that tournament, the Notre Dame team of Bill Stallings, Steve Hogan and John Harrison, and McCIlland placed third. Jim Czarnecki was the top individual in this tournament.
John F. Kennedy

The obvious firsthand reaction to Presi dent Kennedy's assassination was the shocking impact of the news, which caused the majority of Americans to refuse to believe the fact of the asser tion, the unspeakable eating within.
It is the extreme that spread violence.

If we look at the nature of this target, the extremes that serve as a model for the majority, the thought of the first moment has been achieved, but it is inconclusive, and anachronistic.

In the next moment, people took a haggard look at the ramifications of the act for the American order, as if it could have become a reality in their eyes. Every relationship was centered in confusion.

People recognized the event for what it was, a reality, and they were afraid. They were, helplessly afraid.

The political order is the duration of a political order, as the United States is a political order, and the political order is the shape of the political order, the preservation of the political order.

Basketball Overcrowding

With the advent of a new basketball seaso n, and the strong prospect of a winning team, the basketball season has been the talk of the campus. The high interest in the sport, as well as the excitement of the season, has led to an crowded atmosphere at the different games.

The Basketball season has been fantastic, with the games always packed to the limit. The fans have been loud and enthusiastic, creating a lively atmosphere at each game.

The over-crowding at the games has caused some problems, including difficulties in accessing the games and congestion on the field. However, the enthusiasm and support of the fans have made the season very exciting.
Advent Symposium Dec. 7-8

The Advent Symposium, sponsored by the N.P.C.C.S., will be held at the University of Notre Dame on Dec. 7 and 8, 1963. The theme will be "The Convergent Revolution in Religion and Education." Co-chairmen, Richard Hennessy and John Gordon, are the two leaders of the symposium. Series of talks by distinguished educators: Dr. Otto Paul Kutzman, Dr. Alvan S. Ryan and Dr. George N. Shuster.

Christmas Concert Next Wed. Eve

"The University of Notre Dame Glee Club, under the direction of the Reverend Paul H. Ryan, C.S.C., will present its annual Christmas concert Wednesday evening, Dec. 11, at 8:15 p.m. in Washington Hall.

"The Christmas program is presented only once, mainly for the students, faculty, and employees of the University of Notre Dame in free.

"Featured in this year's program are traditional carols such as Little Town of Bethlehem" and various songs from Handel's "Messiah."

"The popularity of the Glee Club's Christmas program has become so widespread that for the past three years, television stations in the Midwest have videotaped the program. Last year, television producers of "The National Radio Hour" selected the Club and featured it in a program along with Raymond Massey and soprano Phyllis Curtin. This year, WSB-TV in Indianapolis and WCAU in Philadelphia are taping the program for use in their areas.

$110 Ski Trip: 9 Days In Colo.

The Ski Club is running a ski trip to four major Colorado ski areas from Jan. 14 to 23. This trip is being run in place of the originally planned European trip which was canceled. There are ample accommodations available.

On Dec. 14, the group will travel by train for once remarked in an article that "College should be a friendly place, where relationships are taken seriously indeed." Van Winkle, faculty director, pointed out that while adequate training is offered in all aspects of reading, little attention is focused upon the written word. Thus the purpose of the symposium, exhibited by Dr. Connell, is to prevent good films from being a source of embarrassment for the student, with its educational values.

Due to financial surpluses acquired last year, Cinemas '64 has been expanded. Twelve films, originally "Pippen" and "Raven," are being shown at a price of $4.00 for a series subscription of six tickets. The films are selected by the faculty, and the students are paid $1.00 each for their subscriptions.

The legal age in Cinemas '64 is 18 to 23. 110 Hear Final Argument In Annual Moot Court

The final argument of the 14th Annual Moot Court Competition was presented before 110 people in the Engineering Auditorium, Nov. 20. Robert E. Frantz, a graduate of the University of Dayton, was chosen the winner and recipient of the Award and cash prizes totaling $160.

Michael J. Stephenson, Jr., of Notre Dame, placed second and received $100. These awards were presented by Mr. A. Harold Welur, '22, of South Bend, Ind., president of the Student University of Dayton, who is being retired a third place.

The case which was tried concerned a brutal murder committed by the use of illegally seized evidence. It was decided that the case, Warren of the Maryland Penitentiary vs. Leonard Hall, 22, that the decision of the Maryland Penitentiary, which is the home of Leonard Hall, Jr., which is the home of Leonard Hall, Jr., will be "Maryland vs. Ohio," in which it held that the use of illegally seized evidence in a state trial violated the federal constitution.

Following this decision, Hall petitioned the federal circuit court in Maryland for his release. The court decided that the search had been legal. The U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit reversed the decision and set Hall free. The warrant of the Maryland Penitentiary opened the decision of the circuit court to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Ave Maria Choral Sings At S.M.C.

The "Ave Maria Choral" will perform their 1963-64 season program at O'Lahmigh Auditorium, Sixth and Spruce streets, Philadelphia, Dec. 10. This group is composed of the combined Glee Clubs of St. Mary's and the first year members of the Notre Dame Glee Club, directed by Mr. Williams Cole, of Namech. The program entitled "A Christmas Cantata" by John and "The Gloria" by Vitalii, "O Holy Night," "Jingle Bells" and "The Robert Shaw arrangement of "Mary had a Baby." The singing of "Last Words of David" will be presented by the main choir.

Maryland permitted the use of such evidence and the U.S. Supreme Court held decided that the case dealt with the due process of the state.

Irish Meet Hoosiers

The Irish meet Indiana tonight at Fort Wayne in what could be the game that sets the precedent for the remainder of the season. "The Hurriin' Hoosiers," who have three starters back from their Big Ten runner-up team of a year ago, are expected to be two points high in the final standings.

With two of the finest forwards in the land in the persons of Tom Dick Vanilla and Bill Hunter, and the Irish defense - will be put to an early test by Max Walker, a talented sophomore, breaking the game wide open with his surprise motion. The only question mark in the Hootenants at this time is the position where Ron Feyser (6-6) and Jon McChlochin (6-6) have been battling for the starting role. Coach Branch McCrochen would definitely like to have them both high in all positions, but if he doesn't come around, he says he won't have the most confidence in the more experienced McClochin.

However, if the Irish concentrate too heavily on the Van Awkiss, they will find themselves staking the possibility of Steve Redenbach, who will be back this year, or Red Walker, a talented sophomore, breaking the game wide open with his surprise motion.
