 Kellogg Grant Finances
New Education Center

The W. K. Kellogg Foundation of Battle Creek, Michigan, has given Notre Dame a $1,543,000 grant for the construction of the Noble Center, a new extension of the Education Center. The building will be erected opposite Morris Inn across Notre Dame Avenue. Construction is expected to start late this year.

Of the grant funds, $1,354,000 will be used for the erection of the building on the campus with the remaining $189,000 to be used for the construction of three major buildings.

The new facility, with 345,000 square feet of space, will be an addition to the University’s existing campus and will provide for the construction of three major buildings.

The Noble Center, which will be the first of its kind in the country, will be a comprehensive, $20,000,000 project designed to provide for the construction of the University’s needs.

The facility will be a hub of the University’s activities and will provide for the construction of three major buildings.

D’Antonio Discusses Birth Control Love
By Steve Pope

Dr. D’Antonio of the Sociology Department discussed before an overflow crowd, last Thursday in the Law Auditorium, the problems, responsibilities and duties of married couples facing the dilemma of birth control.

He emphasized the changing attitude toward marriage and population control developed in society and the Church today and outlined active steps the laity might take to insure a more thorough and open examination of this issue.

Proposed: Renovate Campus Election

A constitutional amendment requiring all four officers of the student body to be chosen in a comprehensive election was read at the Student Senate meeting Jan. 25. The amendment would also provide that this election would be held on a separate day from the election for college senators and class officers.

Presently the student body president is the only officer elected by the entire campus. He appoints the vice-president, secretary and treasurer.

Also at the meeting a motion was passed recommending the following dates for the current year: Christmas Vacation, from Wednesday, Dec. 16, to Monday, Jan. 4; and Easter vacation from Sunday, April 20, to Monday, April 21.

There will be a student body referendum to determine whether the Senate should recommend that these dates be changed.

Terry McManus, chairman of the Senate’s resolution committee, said that several classes would be installed in the halls. The proposal was made by the finance committee in the halls and will quadrennial.

Terry O’Connor announced that the week of Feb. 16 to 22 will be named Cuba Week on campus. During this week, six to eight Peace Corps staff members will be on campus to conduct a recruiting program, consisting of study, discussions, interviews and testing.

Exam Dates Switched

The semester, exam schedule will be changed this semester proceeding in a three-week period, President in charge of Academic Affairs. The announcement was made by President.

Although the student body has been kept in the dark about the switch, the schedule will be the same as the one found in the second semester schedule at the end of the month.

There will be no tests on Thursday, Jan. 30.

An Honor Code

Most students have by now been informed of the proposals for an Honor Code, and it is time that the bogey to occupy the serious concern of each member of the student body. An Honor System demands deep, mature reflection and self-discovery in matters of individual responsibility and integrity, and offers a fuller experience of self through a period of discussion and debate on the nature of an academic community — the feelings of students.

We like to call ourselves Notre Dame men because of our outstanding tradition of school spirit. This is an obvious, fundamental bond, but it is not an athletic team bond. We are fortunate opportunity of participating in the responsibilities of the higher educational pro- cess as an equal member of a community, and this situation places a very strong demand upon personal honesty. Each student should expect it of the other.

Now the honestly assumed by an Honor System extends beyond the confidence that students will not cheat into an understanding that students will realize the corporate nature of his scholastic endeavor.

However, without a mechanism of enforcement, a code would probably remain only an abstract ideal. In order to make it an effec- tive instrument, the Honor Commission is being established.

The proposal now under consideration runs like this. If a student is alleged guilty of cheating as he is required to go before a commission of students of his class selected by the S.B.P., chairman of the Blue Circle, Class Presidents, representatives of the four col- leges, the honor and character: and an elected member of the faculty. The commit- tee will then meet to decide if the student's Membership in the court will rotate and no judicial commission would sit twice in the same semester. If it should be necessary to convict suspected violators, The committee would immediately convene to consider the facts of the case in relation to the gravity of the offense. First conviction, suspension for one semester; second conviction, suspension for one semester and three years; but a violation occurring as a result of a new conviction would bring suspension and a second conviction the permanent dismissal of the student.

The Honor Code demands much of the individual student. The success of the system depends entirely upon his full cooperation and active participation if he feels that an Honor Code is an attempt to stifle his growth, he is the general best interest. This is a new experience for him, and one which would demand self-analysis and self-discipline of support. Opponents of an Honor Code fear a dwindling of student in- tegrity, but the Alumni has not the worst of successes of a few years. This can come only by implementing the code seriously and what should happen is a code compiled a few years ago.

A study was made of the laundry's allotment of 3 sets of underwear. No event was found, discussed, and outlined. A sub-committee has been organized in an effort to study the apparent lack of effort on the part of each member of the student body.

The recognition of the student's academic and personal character in the ap- plication of the code is necessary to the student's self-determination to personal honor. This would be prudent to re-examine the code each year. This trend would tend to sus- tain student control in the system by re- minding us that is of deep personal in- terest and dependent upon student support, in re-evaluation would be a continuing sense of self-commitment. If after a few years the code is not in use, the system refer- ence on page 21 should be the same, or so-called: The code would likely become a permanent institution of the University.

End of Ara

The Christmas holidays were brightened with Ara Parseghian's first appearance as a head coach when he led the Irish to a win over Idaho, 21-7. Ara was an able successor for Coach (Hugh) Devore, who died earlier this year. Ara par- doned at Northwestern, including a string of wins against the Irish.

Ara Parseghian has indicated respect for the "discipline" of Notre Dame, to which we are all accustomed. The enthusiasm of the student body, a product of Ara's marvelous style of football. It is hoped that these two qualities — discipline and ingenuity — will prove to be invariable. The near future have shown that a spirit based ex- ecution is the key to success. There can be no con- ection. A football team needs imaginative play, besides muscle and heart, to win with any consistency. Nor can spirit long prevail without muscle. Our new coach is an excel- lent man to rejuvenate that winning spirit — to make it exciting again.

As the student body of Notre Dame is quite distinct from that of any other school, there will be a lot of interest. This will be summed up on the most part in the most part in the most that they have learned to mean to winning football back to the school that started it all Notre Dame.

'63 in Review

Over the first semester of existence as a football team, the Notre Dame Voice editorial staff has tried to cover topics in- fluencing every phase of life here at the University. We have tried to criticize, emphasis, to analyze, and to illuminate, and to communicate those things which have a di- rect bearing on our campus life. We have tried to deal with every subject comprehensively and applied our knowledge and ability in presenting it well. We now give you a quick recapitulation of what we have done in the past semester so that you, in turn, can look at the things we have said.

An explanation of the unfair conversion factor adopted by the Academic Council was presented by the Academic Commission. It was explained by Tom O'Brien was presented editorially and ac- cepted.

A statement favoring more hall and so- cial functions consistent with the expanded hall and social function regulations was presented. The sophomore class has been invited to suggest further changes.

An examination and evaluation of the nature and needs of the student body, habits and the campus in general was given.

An exploration of the influence of for- eign students in the campus and their reluctant to American college life was delineated.

A reevaluation of the "cut-system" was urged by the Voice. We are still hoping for its acceptance.

A suggestion, was made in a proposal, specific, non-statutory and immediate in registration. The English Department has also made a suggestion with something to look forward to. The idea is what is the least harm we can do to the students.

A study was made of the laundry's allotment of 3 sets of underwear. No event was found, discussed, and outlined. A sub-committee has been organized.

The over-all educational process at our Catholic University was examined under the title "In-".

The institution of new traditions in the Homilies is starting to get a little bit more thought. We need to stick to our roots.

The Sunday breakfast hour was changed to 8:30 a.m., in agreement with suggestions a more rea- sonable hour.

Our faculty member of the editorial board, was honored.

The Voice was compared to the Scholas- tic paper and even over the air. The factual policy of Student Government was fine into a table in the School of Business.

The football team was the only one in the nation to win the academic title.

The Academic Commission was reviewed and examined for the academic year-

The tragic death of John Kennedy, our 35th President, brought a disheartened editorial and a special edition of the paper in his honor.

There are the major topics we tried to cov- er in depth during the scholastic year of 1963.

Challenge II, Faculties, Students

June 30, 1963, Notre Dame received a total of $19,661,575 in gifts and grants from $2,628 donors. Of this $13,285,000 was cash, qualifying the University for the first $1,000,000 Ford Foundation grant. The unprecedented $19,661,575 is a record-avgrting $454 from a record 89 per cent of Notre Dame alumni.

In a move to strengthen its educational programs and to further the social sciences and humanities, Notre Dame plans to establish a department of experimental psychology, it was announced. With funds earmarked for Challenge II, the University will also create new programs in such related fields as anthropology, linguistics, and religious sociology. Planning is also underway for an interdisciplinary institute for Latin America and later Africa.

Increased student aid resources are an urgent need, too, the Notre Dame vice president said. In this day of rising educational costs and higher tuition, Notre Dame is offering additional funds to create supplementary or general educational and graduate fellowships. Funds are needed, he explained, to create and expand University-operated low-interest loan funds for qualified students requiring financial assistance.

Fleishman

The Athletic and Conventive Program, replacing the year-old Fleishman, will be erected out of the many, many funds avenging 454% from a record 89 per cent of Notre Dame alumni.

Mock Convention Positions Filled

Several new positions have been created for the Republican Mock Convention, slated for the first week in March.

Mike Dillon, senior head of the public relations committee, will be convention chairman, Gene McGurk, junior chairman of the delegate body. John G. Young, youngest member, and Mary McGurk, Lee McCarty of WNDYJWMT, accepted as keynote speaker after placing first in the speaker competition held on Jan. 6.

Sunday, Jan. 12, the state delegations met in the Law and Engineering Auditorium. Many Convention officials spoke to the delegates on their duties. Nominations were taken in each state for a state chairman of the delegation. The delegations will select their chairmen when each state convenes this Sunday, Jan. 19.
Ara Signs -- Jordan Resigns

On Saturday, Dec. 14, Ara Parseghian announced that Hugh Devore, who served as interim coach this past season, was elevated to the post of Assistant Athletic Director. Devore also said that Parseghian would sign a four-year contract.

Parseghian had been the head coach since 1961. He was the head man at the All-State, Mather, M. Ulm, University of Ohio, from 1951 through 1955, and had been the coach at Northwestern since 1566. That 1955 team won five up four lost four. The Northwestern teams gained victory over Notre Dame from 1959 through 1952 (9-0, 7-0, 0-0, and 8-0). The two schools did not play this past season.

Parseghian is a native of Al-" parasite who was born May 21, 1923. After graduating from high school, he enlisted in the Navy where he played football under Coach Paul Brown at Great Lakes.

Following his discharge, he enrolled in a University of Miami, where he had been a football and basketball star. He was All-City halfback honors and received All-American mention in 1957 when he played quarterback for Notre Dame.

Following his graduation, Parseghian moved to the Cleveland Browns but an injury brought a quick end to his professional playing career. He launched his coaching career when retired as an assistant at Miami.

In making the announcement, Father Joyce also said, "I feel very fortunate in securing the services of such an outstanding coach as Mr. Parseghian. He has had a national record of great success at Miami University and at Northwestern University, and he is one of the most respected men in the coaching profession. On behalf of Father Heurich, our principal, and the Faculty Board in Control of Athletics, I welcome him to the post of head football coach at the University of Notre Dame.

From Devore came the following statement: "First, my congratulations to Ara Parseghian. He has been a good assistant coach and it will be a privilege to cooperate with him for the new task as Assistant Athletic Director. I am happy to serve my alma mater in the capacity assigned to me in being appointed to this position.

Irish Sink Ohio; Sunk By Wisconsin

Exciting and suspenseful are the only words to describe the two meets that the Notre Dame senior team had over the weekend. In all, four varsity and five junior records were set. The first meet was with Ohio University. Friday night. From the first event on, the head coach handled three times before the meet was completed with the meet being won by the head coach. Coach Creighton, who was the head coach for the first 84-41 victory, by setting a 210-yard time, 210 yards in 2:00-2:10, and by winning the 200-yard freestyle event.

The next day the Irish had the University of Wisconsin. In this meet allowed five records were set, one by Terry Cuthbert with a time of 2:23.99, the 200-yard Freestyle. Going into the final two events, N.D. was ahead 12-10. Wisconsin took the two events, defeated the Irish for the first time in 55 years. The meet ended with a 13-11 victory. Tom Kennett and Mike Schrock took the win for Wisconsin, and Tom Kristi and John Woodie did the same for Wisconsin. An Irish victory over 13-11 with Tom setting a new varsity record of 2:47.
