Organizational Car Policy In Effect; SMC Bus Ready

The Organizational Car Policy and the Notre Dame-St. Mary's policy that has been in effect since October 1 are changing this week. Though the new car policy, certifies student organizations will be allowed to operate cars only out their functions. The selection of student organizations who are allowed the use of cars to carry employees and their employees to and from the car park lot is to be signed off before any use of the car. The head of each organization will be responsible for the reasonable use of the car. The use of cars will result in the loss of privileges for the student. Except for initial requests and approvals, which will be handled by the Judicial Council, the application of the policy will meet with the Office or the Dean of Students.

LUNA Signups

Signups for delegations (127 of them) in the United Nations Assembly will be held for the remainder of this semester, Nov. 15, and Tuesday, Nov. 16, in the dining hall, noon to 3 p.m. in room 215. Each car will be $1,200.

Controversial 'Black Flag' Returns

The Black Flag is back on N.D. again, after almost a year of silence. The week before last, I don't know, Egan, the editor, had just been arrested and could not edit the "flag," but he was back ready to print.

The tone of the programs is interesting, to be sure. The programs are printed on the back of a prayer card, with enough space to write. The programs are not designed to be returned to the student body, but to be kept for future reference.

The Black Flag program will broadcast eight times this year, approximately once a week. The first program was aired October 31, 1965. The program is not new this year, however.

Corrigan originated the Black Flag program. He was convinced that a student-run radio station would be a valuable asset to the student body. He wanted to create a student-run station that would be available to the student body, and that would be a source of information and entertainment. He wanted to create a station that would be a source of information and entertainment, and that would be a source of information and entertainment.

Where Whose Action Is?

by Hugh McGready

Questions: Where cannot a priest be just a priest? Answer: At Notre Dame.

The case in point is the situation within our own walls. The situation is presently a shambles. The system purports to be one of a priori, a chaplain and several priest-professors in each hall who are in close, meaningful contact with the students residing in each hall.

Obviously, that is a misrepresentation of the actual situation. In fact, in the vast majority of cases, such meaningful priest and student contact does not exist within our halls; for the simple reason that our hall personnel are part-time personnel — they are not even primarily hall personnel, with few exceptions, the role of teacher, administrator or business agent takes precedence over the role of rector, chaplain or prefect.

Father Hindbaugh, magnificent businessman that he is, remedied at a recent Student Government banquet something to the effect that it is necessary to have these dual roles if the C.C.G. order is to realize an adequate return on the money it invests in the training and education of its members assigned to our halls. He also stated, with a straight face, that our Administration is doing its best to place the most highly qualified priests as rectors in our halls.

Personally, I am not at all positive that the C.C.G.'s investments in its men should be an occasion for the planning and grading of the quality and status of our hall personnel. My concern is, I find the presentment mentality of Father Hindbaugh in this matter to be distinctly disturbing. It seems to me that somewhere along the line we have lost sight of the correlation of the role of the priest. If the President of the "Catholic Catholic University in the world" holds that, of course, University cannot afford to maintain a minimum of seventeen priests as full-time hall personnel, then just who is kidding whom?

In our Christian charity we will not continue upon Father Hindbaugh's confidence in our rectors. Admittedly, it would be pretty expensive to maintain full-time hall personnel, nonetheless Notre Dame claims to be a great Catholic institution, and as such it should be able to afford the price of a good priest, who knows, it really might be worth spending some money to improve the moral and social qualities of Notre Dame students.

Sincerely yours,

John S. Parrett

Field all year," said Joe Pellicone, who has coached the Irish, "they cannot afford to play a 29-3 football team. They are just as good as they were before.

"The key to their defense is the front four," said Pellicone, "Dick Aragon is regarded by many as the strongest person ever to play football for Notre Dame.

"Read Dick's name," added Joe Pellicone, "it will appear in the next year or two in the Notre Dame Hall of Fame."
Behind The Scenes With The Irish
A Week With An Assistant Coach

This is the first of a series of short stories related to pre-game, on the road, all that goes on behind the scenes until players - ed.

by Mike Gannager

The Notre Dame football coach can be very dull and tedious at times. He gets up at 7 a.m. to 10 a.m. and unless you’re a player or a player's family member, you’ll hear very little about the team’s preparation.

With these thoughts in mind, we paid a visit to Offensive Coach Tom Pagna, to discuss what the life of a ND coach is like before the game, and what it is like in the locker room before the game.

On Friday, there is a small pre-game practice to remind players of their assignments and to polish certain plays. Following dinner, the coaches will see a movie with the team, or when they are on the road, they will meet friends and watch the Notre Dame basketball game.

The Notre Dame sailing club hosted its annual fall invitational regatta at the Eagle Lake Yacht Club in Edwardsburg, Michigan last weekend. Ohio State, Purdue, and Marquette found ND's flying Colombian Junior sailors easy to catch in the 6 to 10 foot southeast to southwest breezes, but the Irish, with both "A" and "B" divisions on the modified Gold cup course finished first with 29 points in the category. Racing team captain Fox was more than happy with the results not only because the team won the regatta, but because as he put it, "more skippers and crews can get a taste of intercollegiate regatta politics."

For invited participants for the Irish are Bob Funk, Mike Weil and Andy O'Connor, Larry William, Mike Thiel, Art Bergers, Jim Culley, Jerry McCabe, and Dan Davis. The team will travel to Wisconsin on Sunday for a Saturday contest.

Joe Landauer announced the formation of a geographic club basketball league with 16 processes. All interested clubs are invited to contact Landauer at 317-593.
Debates On Rise

Last week Ronald Burke and Howard Dodder of the ND Debate Council scored a major success at a tournament in California State College in Los Angeles. The duo won 9 of 11 rounds in five days of exhibition debates.

This team also debated in the Southern California — Loyola tournament. They helped to make up what has so far been a mediocre season by advancing into the elimination rounds, before being defeated by Loyola in a split decision.

This year, under the direction of Professor Leonard Sommer and President Dodder, the forty members of the Council are debating the topics “Resolved: That law enforcement agencies in the United States should be allowed greater freedom in the investigation and prosecution of crime.”

According to Dodder, “The topic is unusual in that it involves a large amount of research into legal topics. Whereas in recent years the trend has been toward economic and social problems, among the subjects studied are spying, organization crime, sex and the law, police problems, and antiquated court procedures.”

Since the season opened October 13, ND debate teams have debated in tournaments at the University of Kentucky, Massachusetts College, the University of Wisconsin at Milwaukee, Brandeis University, the University of Chicago, and Wayne State University.

Voice ‘Experts’ Try Again

The Voice staff met with varying success last week in their football pool. Bill (Expert) Decker proved to be one, ranking up at 8 for 10 rounds. Lumpy (Giant) Stoak and the Pollack scored 7 times in 10 totals. Isadore (The Professor) Long and the Pollack also defeated the late Pair Eliot’s Illini Club to defeat brother Bump’s incoming team.

News Editors Steve the Stargazer and Dick the Prophet enlisted Student, while Bob Smith and Gene (The Professor) Long could only manage 3 correct picks. The overall champion was the above four with 4 winners.

The Council has been replaced this week by Kent (the Small) Socha, Voice Business Manager.

For information sale Chico State will be held later in the year. The 31.0 year old team was 1–9. Nevada’s only with competition over (you guessed it) Chico State.

Now! New Chevelle SS 396 by Chevrolet

Equipped with a Turbo-Jet 396 V8, special suspension and red stripe tires.

These cars weren’t meant for the driver who is willing to settle for Frills. They’re engineered from the chassis up as no-compromise road machines.

Standard output of the new Turbo-Jet 396 V8—which powers both models—is 325 hp. This remarkably efficient power plant is also available in a 360-hp version. So much for what happens on straightaways. How about curves? You ride on a special SS 396 chassis—with flat-cornering suspension and wide-base wheels.

A fully synchronized 3-speed transmission is standard. Or you can order a 4-speed or Powerglide—also Strato-backet front seats, center console and full instrumentation.

Sound like a car you could get serious over? That, as you see at your Chevrolet dealer, precisely how Chevrolet engineers planned it. Seriously.

VOICE: Could you define the role of the Dean? Mr. Mr. Le Roy Corbett within your departments?

FR. WALLETH. Mr. Stewart is my immediate assistant. In the same sense that Father Joyce is Father Beagle’s associate, Mr. Corbett is what you might call our technical assistant. He handles all the technical problems of the Department, such as class schedules, registration, and academic records. He also fulfills the role which many universities assign to a registrar.
