The Hon. Everett McKinley Dirksen, Senator from Illinois, has been selected by the Senior Class as Notre Dame's 1966 Patriot of the Year.

"This is a novel project," he said at a press conference on the campus Monday, "but it was a natural selection for the administration, as well as the St. Mary's student government, who were working together to provide the selection.

The proposed social uses of the bus had been marked in legal red tape for some time past. After applying to the Illinois laws, vehicles traveling on public roads which charge a fare are classified as "cross carrier," and drivers are subject to heavy licensing fees and penalties, regular buses would have to cross US 31 to reach the campus, and the bus would come under the laws.

With this difficulty, student government arranged to finance buses from two sources. Scott Atwell, coordinator for the shuttle service, solicited funds from the student body.

Hegge Opens Birth Control Series

by Tom Chena

Room 128, William J. Hegge, O.S.C., opened a series of three lectures under the title "Birth Control/Releveland" on Monday, Feb. 21, at 8:00 in the Biology Auditorium. The theme of the lecture was to be presented by Hegge, who is an expert in the field of birth control.

The lecture was sponsored by the Student Senate and the Notre Dame Observatory, and was attended by a large audience. The lecture was well-received by the audience, and there were several questions from the audience.

Hegge told the audience that birth control is an important issue in today's society, and that it is crucial for individuals to make informed decisions about their reproductive health.

Hegge also discussed the history of birth control, and how it has evolved over time. He talked about the various methods of birth control, and how they work to prevent pregnancy.

The lecture was followed by a question-and-answer session, where Hegge answered questions from the audience.

WSND's Bryce Parker Sets Endurance Mark

WSND's Bryce Parker took first place in the national collegiate broadcasting record for continuous announcing last Saturday, when at 3:29 a.m., amid many hour-long features in the studio center, he posted 53 sleepless hours, to match Bruce Tellerhall, a University of Notre Dame collegiate announcer, Parker then went on to better Teller's record and finished out with 69 hours at 3 a.m., Sun.,

expatriate, actually handles

Thirdly, anthropologists tell us that early man made no connection between sexual intercourse and bearing children. In fact, there are primitive tribes today who associate reproduction with some object of superstition. Furthermore, sexuality is not merely biological; it is HUMAN, i.e., it is not only measurable from the body but also from the spirit of man. It is the capacity to determine himself and his actions within his own humanity. This transcends the nature of the result of the participation of the body in the spirit and thereby increases the human body, the converse of body and spirit makes it more than a mere biological reality. Since sexuality is essentially love, we are not bereft of our ethical systems upon the falsity of biology, but we must ground it in what is human. Sexuality is rooted in love; the conjugal love, love of the children who will be born, love of the children already born, and love of one's country. Therefore, Fr. Hegge proposes to substitute a personal and human criteria which states that, "Whenever you damage a person, be it person, it is a violation." Can this liberal point of view be reconciled with the teaching of the Church? According to Fr. Hegge, it can and does, though the Church in this moment is apparently unaware of the compatibility of doctrine. The Church today says it "doesn't know" what the correct stance should be with regard to the morality of birth control, but in fact the CONSTANT necessity for a clear doctrine on sexuality is deeply embedded in the basic dogmas of the Church. The constant is the VALUE OF THE PERSON or human dignity. This doctrine was expressed by the Church Fathers and it underlines the entire teaching of the Church. It is not

Two Get ROTC Award

Vice-president Edward P. Joyce presented the Legion of Valor Bronze Cross for Achievement to two cadets in the ND Army and Air Force ROTC programs last week. The recipient's presentation was made apparent for the circumstances of the previous appearance were much different than those of today—then birth control was not even considered as a moral problem. Consequently, if the end of the project appropriately contrasts with the constant in the Church's teaching, there is no moral difficulty. However, there was difficulty between Fr. Hegge and a segment of his audience, who argued that Fr. Hegge's interpretation of the Church's present position was incorrect. Fathers Miller and O'Connor argued that the statements of three popes bind us not to practice birth control, whereas Fr. Joyce asserted that in fact the Church's position is that "it does not know."

Althieism Revisited

Editor: I was both pleased and disappointed to read the article in The VOICE on the subject of Althieism. I believe the article was very fair and the arguments of its author were very well presented. However, I feel that the author did not fully address the issue of the relationship between Althieism and the Judeo-Christian tradition. In my opinion, Althieism is not a viable alternative to the Judeo-Christian tradition, and I believe that the author should have made this point more clearly.

Prayer For Peace Day Slated

The Interdenominational Prayer for Peace Day will be held this Sunday, February 27, in Sacred Heart Church.

The Day was conceived by members of the campus Young Christian Students and carried out with the planning and support of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, Bishop Leo A. Persky of the Fort Wayne-South Bend diocese, Rabbi Albert M. Shifman, and the Council of Church of St. Joseph Valley.

During the afternoon and early evening of Sunday, priests, ministers, and rabbis from South Bend will speak in Sacred Hearts and lead the Notre Dame-South Bend community in prayer. Father Carter, one of the students assisting the planning of the day, explained:

"At one time the question of war and peace might have been a rather academic question to most of us. But now this is on the other side of the globe between people we didn't know. But the war in Viet Nam is much closer. We may have friends there. We may soon be there ourselves. Suffering and death stare us in the face every day from newspapers and TV's. It becomes clearer to us how much the world needs peace.

"In PACEM IN TERRIS Pope John XXIII, however, emphasized that the only true peace can come from God. But no matter what the good will of the people working for peace, unless we pray to the Lord for the peace which he brings, our own efforts will never succeed. The Prayerfor Peace Day gives the students at Notre Dame and the residents of South Bend the opportunity to gather together as a community, united by the distinctions of religious organizations to pray for peace. The witness that they give is the witness to their concern for the world's war-torn and to their confidence in prayer. In this community and sacramental day of prayer, political differences fall by the wayside.

"But the idea of prayer is important not only because it brings together in prayer people of many faiths and beliefs. It is also important because it is a way in which we can rely upon God if we are to hope that our efforts for peace among men are ever to lead to the peace that Christ gave when he said, "Peace is my legacy to you. My own peace, I give to you. My giving to you is not like the world's way of giving." The day of Prayer for Peace is a day when we express our sorrow that men are still dying at the hands of their brothers and our trust in power of God to bring to men his peace.

The activities of the day will begin in Sacred Heart Church at 8:00 p.m. and continue through the afternoon. At 5:20 a final session will close the day.

Limited Freshman Competition Likely

(First editorial is the first of a series concerning freshman intercollegiate competition at Notre Dame. This edition is concerned with the first round of freshmen at the University Faculty Board in Control of Athletics, which has to consider. Next Tuesday Freshman Football and Baseball will be Against the 75 Skullers, the varsity football team."

"Meyer's 89-yard punt high to Cortland."

"McCorry's senior hits 25 as Frisbee against Notre Dame, you say. Everyone knows the freshman football is the better, according to the intercollegiate schedule. You're right."

It is possible that freshmen intercollegiate competition at Notre Dame may become a reality this year. Last month when the Big Ten announced that a two-game football schedule would be permitted. Since Notre Dame adheres to Big Ten athletic policy, the future of freshman competition depends upon the action taken by the University Faculty Board on the application which will probably be filed by the football staff. If this passes, other sports may be approached and freshman competition as the Big Ten expands the freshman program.

In light of this, I interviewed some of the freshmen coaches and from their responses and their opinions, it is obvious that freshman competition should become a reality. The number of games and the program could and must be set up so that the major concern was the academic, instead of the athletic, and that the advantages and disadvantages are minimalized almost completely.

Executive Vice-President Fr. Joyce and the coaches all agreed that the major concern was the athlete's academic development during his freshman year. Freshman basketball coach Fr. Fee feels that if a boy has a problem on the court, he can take care of it at a later date, but he must be eligible for the first three freshman seasons comes so early in an athlete's life here at Notre Dame, freshman football coach George Sisk feels that the boy should concentrate on adjusting to college life and getting an academic footing during his first few months here. And so on down the line. The reason for the overscheduling, the faculty board has to make concessions to the competitive nature of this university, and the freshman program must be administered so that little or no study time is left during game competition and preparation.

The philosophy, therefore, is that academics are the major concern of freshmen athletes and should be taken into consideration before anything else. Experiences and schedules were two other problems that a team of coaches met with freshmen athletes. In addition to the cost of equipment, officials, etc., transportation expenditures must also be considered.

Irish Lose To NYU, Scare Bradley

Last Saturday at Chicago Stadium, Notre Dame surprised overconfident Bradley with skating, ball control and nearly won the bagging game, eventually losing to overtime, 56-44. The Irishofense became very strong in the first time they got the ball, as they worked the ball for three and a half minutes before taking a shot. Bradley's famed zone defense failed to alter Notre Dame's tactics, and the result was a switch, hard fought game, with the largest margin in the second half only a two point difference. Bradley also

McGann In State All-Stars

-Bucky McGann, Irish basketball captain, was selected to play for the Indiana All-Stars against the Kentucky All-Stars to benefit the Scenic Chariot for underprivileged and retarded children. The first game will be April 11 at the Hinkle Fieldhouse in Indianapolis, followed by a game in Lustre's Freedom April 15.

- McGann joins Dave Schaebe of Purdue, Steve Cook and Rich Eysont of Valparaiso, Larry Hamel and Sam Evans of Evansville, Gary Grier and Max Walker of Indiana, Larry Shade of Butler and Morgan Eversohn of DePauw as the Indiana representatives.

- Though slowed this year by a series of minor operations, the former all-state selection in basketball and football at West Palm Beach's Newham high has reversed his points against 34.3 points per game through 22 contests for Coach Joe Dee's Fighting Irish, his ball handling and two-year's varsity development of this year's sophomores and juniors, as Buckey McGann's leadership cannot be evaluated by points alone.

For the Game, for the Irish, scoring 14 points, while limiting Bradley's freshman in the second half, instead of finishing with 14 field goals of 40 attempts and 18 errors, Notre Dame would have another major upset over their credit.

Last Thursday in New York's Madison Square Garden, Notre Dame ran on Mia Graham and a hot NYU sound, losing 102-76. Brian Keller hit nine field goals to lead the Irish scoring with 38 points.

ND Fencers 2nd In 3-Way Meet

Notre Dame's fencers split a pair of close, exciting meets Saturday at East Lansing, falling to Michigan State, 14-13, and then defeating Western Michigan College, 1-0, by the same margin. As an indication of the competitive abilities of the three teams, the Spartans also squared by Ohio State by the same 14-13 score.

Only the Irish fowmen were able to win a showing record. Notre Dame's Dave Petrocik, who had won the 500-yard freestyle by 6.1 seconds in the Michigan meet, followed his own time in the 500-yard backstroke another tenth of a second, setting a new 1966 season record. In the 200-yard individual medley, the third individual record went to Junior Bob Husson, who lowered his 12-year-old record in the 200-yard breasstroke a second and a half to 3:02.5. This even clinched the championship for the Irish, as they now lead the late challenge of the Bortcher team, which faltered from an early point lead to 33-33.

Notre Dame's Stachlow no surprise of the shoulder injury that has plagued him the past few weeks, winning the 500-yard freestyle and running away with the 500-yard freestyle title.

The other Irish record came in the 400-yard Medley relay, as Bauer and Husson teamed with Chuck Peterson and Jim Blom for a 3:48.4 clocking, two seconds better than their previous record. This team effort reflects the entry of the new, as Coach Dennis Stark named twelve best performances for Notre Dame's swimmers in the various events. Notre Dame will be at its peak for "the meet of the week" at 4 p.m., in the Rock against Northwestern, who won the first of the NL Reynolds Last Day 3 seconds. The Wildcats are led by All-Americans and Big Ten sprint champion Rich Abrahams and versatile 300-scull Shaglovik to a possible All-American in the 200-backstroke and will challenge Irish swimmers of superior talent.

Notre Dame Oil coach Tom Burch, who was recently named the coach of the Irish swimming team for the upcoming season. The Irish swimming team consists of 12 members, all of whom are expected to perform well in the upcoming season.

Sunday the Notre Dame Hockey Club travels to Oak Park, Illinois, to compete against a new team, which tied the Irish in South Bend last season. Notre Dame, a club that includes Notre Dame, also features a football player in the net. Dean Fiske, who does the Willard punt, is the counterpart to ND's punter, a backup on the Irish football team.

The interhall wrestling tournament will continue its regular schedule in the flower later this week, with matches Tuesday, February 24, from 4 to 7 and 7 to 9 p.m., and the finals on Friday, February 27, from 7 to 9 p.m. Additional entries in the tournament are still being accepted. The Open and Novice divisions will be turned to 400 and 800 m., in the interhall of course in the Cook Hall.

The Notre Dame wrestling team will compete in the Meet at Michigan. The heavyweight between Notre Dame and Michigan is expected to be a close battle.

The Irish crew team that won the national regatta for the second time in the recent years will be in the lead at the National Conference meet in the fall.

Irish Crew To Regatta April 25, 1966

Notre Dame's rowing team has launched a nationwide regatta for April 9. Several colleges and universities will participate, and the competition will be held at Michigan State University. The teams will be divided into two groups, the Fremden team, Jr. and Varsity, and Varsity and Varisty participating. There will be no admission charge for anyone wishing to attend the regatta.

Crew Captain Fred Nusselt feels that the meet will be a good one for the Irish. The team has been working hard and is ready for the competition.

John Corrigan

The University of Toledo hockey team won the Eastern Conference meet in April, and Notre Dame's four games without a loss by defeating the Irish in the last game of the season. The Irish, now 1-0-2 in the conference, are led by goalie Bob Husson, who has won both of the team's games in the conference. Husson, a second-hand player, has been impressive in goal, helping the Irish to a 3-2 win over Michigan State University.

Notre Dame's hockey team is currently 15-8-2 on the season, having lost only one game to Michigan State University. The Irish will face off against Michigan State University in the final game of the season.

The Irish hockey team has been playing well, and is expected to continue their strong play in the conference meet.

Irish To Coach Buffalo

On Thursday, February 17, the Notre Dame offensive line coach Bob Spence will be named the head football coach at the State University of New York at Buffalo. Spence is currently in his second season as an assistant coach, having been on the staff since the fall of 1964.

Spence's nomination has been strongly supported by the University's Athletic Committee, which has been impressed by his coaching ability and his dedication to the game of football.

Spence will be taking over a team that has finished in the middle of the pack for the past few seasons. However, with his leadership and guidance, the team is expected to improve significantly.

Spence is a highly respected coach in the football world, having spent many years as an assistant coach at various universities and colleges. He is known for his knowledge of the game and his ability to develop young talent.

The University of Notre Dame's hockey team played a strong game against the University of Pittsburgh on Saturday, winning 3-2. The game was a close one, with both teams putting in an impressive performance.

Notre Dame used a balanced attack, with forwards Timmy O'Meara and John Corrigan scoring the goals. The defense was solid, with goalie Bob Husson making several key saves.

The team's strong performance was highlighted by a goal from Timmy O'Meara, who scored on a breakaway in the third period. The goal gave the Irish a 2-1 lead, which they held onto until the final buzzer.

Despite the loss, the University of Pittsburgh's hockey team played well, with forwards John Corrigan and Timmy O'Meara both scoring goals. However, their efforts were not enough to overcome the Irish defense.

The game was an exciting one, with both teams putting in a strong effort. The University of Notre Dame's hockey team emerged as the victor, thanks to their solid performance and strong defense.
