Sarv Devaraj, associate professor of management, was appointed an associate editor of Information Systems Research.

Jay P. Dolan, professor emeritus of history, has been appointed to the History Advisory Committee for the Statue of Liberty-Ellis Island Foundation, which is designing a new immigration museum at Ellis Island.

Jinesh C Jain, associate professional specialist of civil engineering and geological sciences, received a plaque of honor for his invited presentation "Is It Safe to Consume Herbal Dietary Supplements?" in the international symposium on recent advances in pharmacology, Jan 7-8.

Scott Mainwaring, professor of political science, was named a member of the editorial board of Legislative Studies Quarterly for 2004, a member of the editorial board of Latin American Politics and society, and a member of the Sage Prize Committee, Comparative Politics Section, American Political Science Association, for the best paper in comparative politics presented at the 2003 AOSPSA meetings.

George Marsden, the McAnaney Professor of History, had his book Jonathan Edwards: A Life chosen as one of five finalists for the National Book Critics Circle award for a biography.

James J. McKenna, chair and the Joyce Professor of Anthropology, was elected a member-at-large of the Biological Anthropology Section, American Anthropological Association.

Patrick Murphy, professor of marketing and Smith Codirector of the Institute for Ethical business Worldwide, was appointed to the core faculty of the Institute for Corporate Ethics, housed at the Univ. of Virginia.

Terrence W. Rettig, professor of physics, was elected a member of the International Astronomical Union by the 20th IAU General Assembly in Sidney, Australia, in July.

Rev. Timothy R. Scully, C.S.C., professor of political science and director of the Institute for Educational Initiatives, was appointed a member of the Council on Foreign Relations, 2003, and is the 2004 recipient of the Blessed Pauline Award, awarded by the board of directors of Josephinum School, Chicago, for his dedication and leadership in education.

Robert P. Vecchio, the Schurz Professor of Management, was appointed to the editorial board of the Journal of Occupational and Organizational Psychology.

Gordon Wishon, chief information officer, was selected a 2004 Premier 100 IT Leader by Computerworld based on career accomplishments, peer recommendations, and professional references. He serves as a member of the Software Security Task Force and as participated in the U.S. Department of Home Land Security's National Cyber Security Summit in Santa Clara, Calif. He also conducted a peer review at Emory Univ. and wrote a report for the office of the president at Emory.

Activities

John H. Adams, associate professor of biological sciences, chaired the molecular parasitology portion of the program, The Young Investigator Award, Session D, and Symposium 6: Immune Evasions and Immunomodulation by Parasites of the American Committee for Molecular, Cellular and Immunoparasitology (ACMCIP) Symposium I; presided over the business meeting for the American Committee for Molecular, Cellular and Immunoparasitology; and presented "Polymorphisms in the Plasmodium Vivax Duffy Binding Protein Ligand Domain Change Antigen Character and Sensitivity to Inhibitory Antibodies," written with K.M. vanBuskirk, J.L. Cote-Tobian, M. Baisor, E.S. Sevoa, W. Kastens, M. Boekairie, and C.L. King, at the annual meeting of the American Society of Tropical Medicine and Hygiene in Philadelphia, Dec. 3-7. He also copresented a poster titled "Analysis of the Plasmodium Falciparum RhopH Complex by Immunological Characterisation at that meeting.

Asma Afsaruddin, associate professor of Arabic and Kroc Institute fellow, presented "Obedience to Political Authority: An Evolutionary Concept," at the second international conference on The Qur'an: Text, Translation, and Interpretation, the Centre of Islamic Studies, School of Oriental and African Studies, Univ. of London, Oct. 16-17; presented the invited lecture "The Kitab al-Nisa' of al-Sakhawi" at the Islamic Texts seminar, Institute of Oriental Studies, Oxford Univ., Nov 27; presented the invited lecture "The Book of Women and Medieval Women Scholars" at the Centre of Islamic Studies, School of Oriental and African Studies, Univ. of London, Dec. 3; and the invited lecture "Knowledge and Legitimate Leadership: Sunni-Shi'i Perspectives" at the Institute of Islamic Studies, Dec. 11; presented "Activist and Quietist Struggle in the Path of God" and chaired the panel "The Qur'an: Concept of Peace and Security" at the conference "The Qur'an: Peace and Morality," at the University of Leeds, U.K., Dec. 16.

Brian Baker, assistant professor of chemistry and biochemistry, gave an invited seminar "Biophysical Investigations of Ligand Recognition by T Cell Receptors and Class I MHC Molecules" at the Univ. of Iowa, Iowa City, Dec. 6.

H. Gordon Berry, professor of physics, presented "Atomic New Measurements of the Weak Charge Qw" for the High Energy Group, Univ. of Chicago, July 9.

John Blacklow, pianist, assistant professor of music, was an invited judge for the Bronislaw Kaper Awards, sponsored by the Los Angeles Philharmonic, a competition for young artists held at Walt Disney Concert Hall in Los Angeles on Jan. 17.

David E. Campbell, assistant professor political science and fellow of the Institute for Educational Initiatives, presented "Putting Religion in Context by Putting Context into the Study of Religion" at the annual meeting of Southern Political Science Association, New Orleans, Jan. 9.
Kathleen Cannon, O.P., associate dean of the College of Science and concurrent associate professor of theology, presented "God's Future: Not Yet Fully Born" as an invited presenter at Emory Univ., Oct. 18; and led a day of retreat on "The Spiritual Ground of Leadership" at Holy Cross Abbey, Berryville, Va., Oct. 25.

Jianguo Cao, professor of mathematics, presented the four invited lectures: "Boundary Regularity of $\overline{\partial}$-Neumann Problem on $\omega$ -Kähler Manifolds" at the Institute of Mathematics, Chinese Academy of Sciences, Beijing, Dec. 26; a colloquium lecture "Geometric Analysis on Manifolds of Non-Positive Sectional Curvature" at the Dept. of Mathematics, Beijing Normal Univ., China, Dec. 26; and a geometric analysis seminar "Geometric Analysis on Manifolds of Non-Negative Sectional Curvature" at the Institute of Mathematics, Chinese Academy of Sciences, Beijing, Jan. 2; and a geometric analysis seminar "Geometric Analysis on Manifolds of Non-Positive Sectional Curvature" at the Dept. of Mathematics, Beijing Normal Univ., China, Dec. 26; a colloquium lecture "The $\overline{\partial}$-Neumann Problem on Manifolds with Boundary" at the Institute of Mathematics, Chinese Academy of Sciences, Beijing, Jan. 2; and a geometric analysis seminar "Geometric Analysis on Manifolds of Non-Negative Sectional Curvature" at the Institute of Mathematics, Chinese Academy of Sciences, Beijing, Jan. 2.

Paul M. Cobb, assistant professor of history and Medieval Institute and Kroc Institute fellow, served as commentator for the panel "Representations of War in the Medieval Middle East" at the annual meeting of the American Historical Association in Washington, D.C., Jan. 8-11.

Malgorzata Dobrowolska-Furdyna, professor of physics, presented the invited talk "Mechanisms Limiting the Curie Temperature in GdMnAs" with T. Wojtowicz, W.L. Lim, X. Liu, Jacek K. Furdyna, the Marzec Professor of Physics and fellow in the Nanovic Institute for European Studies, K.M. Yu, W. Walukiewicz, I. Vurgaftmann, and J.R. Meyer, at the International Congress and School on Semiconductor Spintronics and Quantum Information Technology, Spintech II., Brugge, Belgium, Aug. 4-8.

E. Jane Doering, professional specialist and concurrent assistant professor of the Core Course Program, gave an invited presentation "Réception faite aux premiers écrits de Simone Weil lors de leur parution aux États-Unis : dilemme de la guerre" to L'Association pour l'étude de la pensée de Simone Weil in Paris, October.

Crislynn D'Souza-Schorey, the Walther Assistant Professor of Biology, chaired a session on "Endocytosis" along with S. Schmid at the American Society for Cell Biology Meeting, San Francisco in December.

Georges Enderle, the O'Neil Professor of International Business Ethics and Kellogg Institute fellow, gave the keynote address "Global Competition and Corporate Responsibilities of Small and Medium-Sized Companies," International Conference "Business Ethics and Improvement of the Socialist Market Economy," Shanghai, China, Nov. 20; presented lectures on "Business Ethics in America after Enron," Shanghai Teachers Univ., Nov. 27, and at the School of Management, Fudan Univ., Shanghai, Dec. 19; and lectured on "In Search for a Common Ethical Ground in China," Institute of Philosophy at the Shanghai Academy of Social Sciences, Dec. 9.

Umesh Garg, professor of physics, presented the invited colloquia "Nuclear Incompressibility from the Squeezing Mode" at the Saha Institute of Nuclear Physics, Kolkata, India, Dec. 19; "Exotic Quantal Rotation in Nuclei" at the Inter University Center for DAE Facilities, Kolkata, Dec. 22; and "Squeezing the Nucleus to Get the Nuclear Incompressibility" at the Institute of Physics, Bhubaneswar, India, Jan. 7.

Alyssa Gillespie, the Notre Dame Assistant Professor of Russian Language and Literature, presented "Looking Back from Beyond: The Poetics of Pushkin's 'Stone Island Cycle'" on the panel "The Poetics of Closure: The End of the Poem/Poet and Death in Russian Poetry" at the national convention of the American Association for the Advancement of Slavic Studies in Toronto, Canada, Nov. 23.

Dirk M. Guld, associate professional specialist in the Radiation Laboratory, presented the seminar "Japan Novel Multifunctional Nanoarchitectures in Energy Conversion" on Jan. 7 at Hokkaido Univ., Sapporo; on Jan. 9 presented "Novel Multifunctional Nanoarchitectures in Energy Conversion" at the COE Symposium "Elements Science" at Kyoto Univ., Japan; on Jan. 13 presented "Multifunctional Nanoarchitectures" at the Univ. of Tsukuba, Japan; on Jan. 14 presented "Integration of Fullerences and Nanotubes into Nanoarchitectures" at the Univ. of Tokyo; on Jan. 17 presented "Supramolecular Fullerenes—and Nanotube-Architectures in Energy Conversion" at Kyushu Univ., Fukuoka, Japan; and on Jan. 17 presented "Nanotubes: Versatile Platform for Donor-Acceptor Chemistry" at Osaka Univ.

Hans Heide, assistant professor of finance, presented "Is There Evidence of Front-Running before Analyst Recommendations? An Analysis of the Quoting Behavior of Nasdaq Market Makers" with coauthor X. Li at the American Finance Association annual meeting, San Diego, Jan 3-5.

Gordon Hug, associate professional specialist in the Radiation Laboratory, presented "Photochemistry of 1,3,5 Trithianes in Solution, Steady-State and Laser Flash Photolysis Studies," written with E. Andrzejewska, B. Marcinski, and Ian Carmichael, professional specialist in the Radiation Laboratory, at the Third Trivandrum International Symposium on Recent Trends in Photochemical Sciences, Trivandrum, India, Jan. 5-7; and "Time-Resolved ESR in the Pulse Radiolysis of (alkyl thio) Carbonyl Compounds: β-Scission," written with P. Wisniowski, K. Bobrowski, F. Filipiak, and Ian Carmichael, at the Biennial Trombay Symposium on Radiation and Photochemistry, Jan. 8-12, Mumbai (Bombay), India.

Prashant V. Kamat, professional specialist, Radiation Laboratory, and concurrent professor of chemical and biomolecular engineering, presented "Organic-Inorganic Hybrid Nanostructures for Light Energy Conversion Advanced Oxidation Technology for Environmental Remediation," at the Symposium on Recent Trends in Photochemical Sciences, Trivandrum, India, Jan. 4-7; and "Advanced Oxidation Technology for Environmental Remediation," written with J. Peller and Olaf Wiest, associate professor of chemistry and biochemistry, at the Trombay Symposium on Radiation and Photochemistry, Mumbai, India, Jan. 8-12.
Kwan S. Kim, professor of economics and policy studies and fellow of the Kellogg Institute, presented "Development Crisis in Sub-Saharan Africa: Globalization, Adjustment, and Roles of International Institutions" during the Third International CSI Conference hosted by the Center for the Study of International Institutions, Innsbruck, Austria, Nov. 20.

David M. Lodge, professor of biological sciences, spoke on "Scientists to Warn that US Environmental Coalition on Invasive Species" during the Third International CSI Conference hosted by the Center for the Study of International Institutions, Innsbruck, Austria, Nov. 20.

James J. McKenna, chair and the Joyce Professor of Anthropology, presented "Good Night Nobody? It's Not Nice To Fool Mother-Nature" at the World Infant Mental Health Congress, Melbourne, Australia, Jan. 14–18; the plenary address "Breastfeeding, and Breast Feeding: Controversy, Challenge, and Breast Feeding," presented during the Third International Conference hosted by the Center for the Study of International Institutions, Innsbruck, Austria, Nov. 20.

James S. O'Rourke, professional specialist, concurrent professor, and director, Fraction Center for Business Communication, presented "Systematic Errors of Atmospheric Neutrino Analysis" at the Plenary Conference hosted by the Center for the Study of International Institutions, Innsbruck, Austria, Nov. 20.

Szlivia Papai, assistant professor of finance, presented "Random Paths to Stability in Hedonic Coalition Formation" at the Economics Department seminar series, Univ. of Hawaii, Manoa, Honolulu, Oct. 24, and at the California Institute of Technology, Division of the Humanities and Social Sciences: Theory workshop series, Pasadena, Nov. 19.

Hon. Kenneth F. Ripple, professor of law, was an invited faculty member at the Federal Law Clerk Institute at Pepperdine Univ., Malibu, Calif., Jan. 2–4, where he lectured on "Judicial Process and the Law of Habeas Corpus" and participated in a panel discussion on judicial writing.

Jeanne Romero-Severson, associate professor of biology, was an invited speaker at the Plant Genome XII Meeting in San Diego, Jan. 9–12, where she presented "Comparative Genomics in Natural Populations of Red Oaks."

David W. Severson, professor of biological sciences, presented "Progress toward Complete Genome Sequence in Aedes Aegypti D" and was a copresenter for two poster presentations "Relationship among Body Size, Mosquito Strain, and Dengue-2 Infection in Aedes Aegypti" with J.R. Schneider and D.D. Chadee, and "Quantitative Trait Loci Affecting the Ability to Orally Transmit Laccruse Virus in Ochlerotatus Triseriatus and Ochlerotatus Hendersoni" with J.R. Anderson and P.R. Grimstad at the conference of American Journal of Tropical Medicine and Hygiene, Philadelphia, Dec. 3–7.

Christopher Shannon, research associate at the Jacques Maritain Center, has received a Charlotte and Walter Kohler Fellowship in Family Studies from the Howard Center for Family, Religion and Society for research and writing on "Bowery to Broadway; Family, Community and the City in Classic Hollywood Cinema," a study of how Irish Catholics came to symbolize an ideal of the ethnic neighborhood as urban village in the Hollywood films of the 1930s and 1940s.

Sandra Vera-Muñoz, associate professor of accountancy, presented "Can Assurers Interpret Causal Information?" with coauthors Margaret Shackell, assistant professor of accountancy, and M. Buehner at the Midyear Auditing Conference of the American Accounting Association in Clearwater Beach, Fla., Jan. 17.

Samir Younés, associate professor of architecture and director of Rome Studies, presented "G. Valladier's Architectural Proposals for Piazza del Popolo and the Pincio" and "The Pantheon and Campo Marzio" on Jan. 8 and 14 respectively, to the Florence program of Hastings College, Neb.

James A. Burns, C.S.C., Graduate School Award

Nominations are requested for the James A. Burns, C.S.C. Graduate School Award given annually to a faculty member for distinction in graduate teaching or other exemplary contributions to graduate education. Contributions can be in any or all of the following areas: building or developing a graduate program, teaching quality graduate courses, excellence as an adviser or thesis director, and excellence in service as a director of graduate studies or in any other similar position. This honor will be presented at the President's dinner for the faculty in May, and the recipient will receive a citation and cash prize.

The nomination packet should include a minimum of four letters of support (two from students and two from faculty) but no more than six, and a copy of the nominee's CV. All documentation should be sent to the department chair, who will forward the complete packet to the Graduate School by March 8, 2004.

The first Notre Dame President with an advanced degree, a doctorate from the Catholic University of America, Father Burns was the leading reformer of Catholic education in this country in the first quarter of the 20th century. One of his most significant contributions was to raise academic standards by recruiting faculty with doctoral degrees.

2002–2003 Joan Brennecke

Research Achievement Award

The Research Achievement Award is awarded annually to honor a distinguished Notre Dame faculty member who has made significant contributions to scholarship in his or her discipline and to the research and education goals of the University.

The deans of each of the colleges may nominate two full-time faculty members, currently active in research and teaching. In addition to a copy of the nominee's resume, each nomination should include a two-page letter that addresses the selection criteria:

- Evidence of the nominee's commitment to his or her profession and efforts to further the University's research and scholarship mission.
- The nominee's past research accomplishments and future research potential.
- Demonstration of universal recognition as a research leader.

The vice president for Graduate Studies and Research will appoint a committee to review the nominations. The committee will include one member from each of the colleges and will make recommendations to the vice president for Graduate Studies and Research, who will select the winner.

The award will consist of a plaque and a $10,000 award placed in a discretionary research account for the recipient's use. The winner will also be recognized in the Commencement program and at the President's faculty dinner.

Nominations must be received by the vice president for Graduate Studies and Research, 416 Main Building, no later than March 8, 2004.
Reinhold Niebuhr Award Nominations Sought

Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, C.S.C., and Chancellor Willy Brandt of West Germany were the first recipients of Reinhold Niebuhr awards sponsored by friends of the Protestant theologian and author. Receiving this award in September 1972, at ceremonies at Union Theological Seminary in New York City, Father Hesburgh announced the establishment of a Reinhold Niebuhr Award at the University of Notre Dame. This award is made annually to a student, faculty member, or administrator whose life and writings promote or exemplify the area of social justice in modern life. The initial award to Father Hesburgh was $5,000. This he turned over to the Notre Dame endowment to underwrite an annual cash award of $250 to the winner of this campus honor. The selection committee includes representatives from the colleges and the Law School, Campus Ministry, Center for Social Concerns, rectors, Ladies of Notre Dame, and the student body. All members of the Notre Dame community are invited to submit recommendations for this award to Joy Vann-Hamilton, assistant provost, 300 Main Building, prior to March 8, 2004.
