"Cities in Context," a major, international conference on the crisis of the city, will be held at the Center for Continuing Education March 31-April 3. Speakers will include former president Juscelino Kubitschek of Brazil; Desmond Heap, controller and city solicitor of London; and Rolf Schwedler, head of city planning in West Berlin. Prof. Patrick Horsbrugh has organized the conference which is being sponsored by the department of architecture.

A Phi Beta Kappa chapter was formally installed at Notre Dame Feb. 11. The ceremony was conducted by Dr. Lawrence Gould, former president of Carleton College and of the United Chapters of Phi Beta Kappa. Thirty-five Notre Dame professors, who are charter members of the chapter, elected two Foundation Members: Rev. Theodore M. Heasburgh, C.S.C., University president, and Rev. Philip S. Moore, C.S.C., former academic vice president. Prof. Bernard Kohlbrenner is chapter president.

John W. Gardner, the retiring Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, will accept the senior class Patriotism Award and deliver a major address at Washington's Birthday Exercises to be held this year on March 6.

Eight Notre Dame seniors have been designated by the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation as "among the best future college teacher prospects on the continent" and "worthy of support in graduate school." Whereas the Foundation formerly awarded fellowship grants to approximately one thousand seniors annually, its major role now is "to identify for graduate departments those students who in our view have the best potential for college teaching."

The officers of Notre Dame's new Faculty Senate are Prof. Edward Murphy of the Notre Dame Law School, chairman; Prof. Harvey Bender, department of biology, vice-chairman; Rev. Leonard Banas, C.S.C., department of classics, secretary; and Prof. Kenneth Lauer, department of civil engineering, treasurer.

Notre Dame's SUMMA Program has generated $27,994,792 in gifts and pledges since it was inaugurated less than six months ago. The figure represents 53.8% of the five-year, $52 million goal.

Dr. Gerhard Binsch, assistant professor of chemistry, is one of seventy-three young, physical scientists throughout the nation who have been awarded two-year Alfred P. Sloan Foundation fellowships for basic research. The fellowships carry an average annual stipend of $8,750. Public announcement of the awards will be made March 1.

Richard Rossie, a junior history major from Clarksdale, Miss., has been elected student body president for the year beginning April 1.
Dr. Frederick Seitz, president of the National Academy of Sciences, will deliver a Challenges in Science Lecture in the Memorial Library auditorium March 4 at 7:30 p.m. Dr. W. O. Baker, vice president for research at the Bell Telephone Laboratories appeared in the College of Science series early in February.

The president of the University, Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, C.S.C., is attending the Conference on Higher Education in the American Republics at Lima, Peru, Feb. 25-Mar. 2.

At least fifty members of the American hierarchy will participate in an Episcopal Seminar at the Center for Continuing Education July 8-12. To be addressed by theologians and other scholars, the seminar is being sponsored by Notre Dame and the Bishops' Committee on Doctrine headed by Bishop Alexander Zaleski of Lansing, Mich.

James W. Frick, vice president for public relations and development, delivered an address and received The Distinguished Service Award at the 17th annual Southern Regional Press Institute at Savannah State College Feb. 13.

Prof. Henry Hare Carter's paleographical edition of a 14th century Grail manuscript has been published by the University of North Carolina Press. Other new "Notre Dame books" include Prof. A. L. Gabriel's volume on encyclopedist Vincent of Beauvais (Knecht; Frankfurt am Main) and Integration of Man and Society in Latin America, edited by Prof. Samuel Shapiro. Contributors to the Latin American volume include Rev. Ernest Bartell, C.S.C., and Profs. John Santos and Michael Francis.

The Notre Dame-Saint Mary's Theatre will present Luigi Pirandello's "Enrico IV" in Washington Hall March 1, 2, 7, 8, and 9 at 8:30 p.m. and on March 3 at 2:30 p.m.

Notre Dame's Herbert E. Jones was named "Business Manager of the Year" at the annual meeting of the College Athletic Business Managers Association in New York City recently.

Spring semester enrollment at the University totals 7,500. The overall figure includes 6,047 undergraduates, 241 law students, and 1,212 enrolled in the Graduate School.

In a recent ceremony Brother Ramond Purzycki, C.S.C., was sworn in as postmaster of Notre Dame, Indiana. He has been associated with the campus postoffice for twenty-five years.

Coming events: Notre Dame National Invitational Debate Tournament, Mar. 7-9; Conference on the Campus Ministry in Higher Education, Mar. 20-22; the Catholic Broadcasters Association of America Conference, Mar. 26-28; and Junior-Parents' Weekend, Mar. 29-30.

Prof. G. F. D'Alelio of the chemistry department has been appointed associate editor of the JOURNAL OF MACROMOLECULAR SCIENCE-CHEMISTRY.

Four sons of Dr. and Mrs. Edward J. Ward of Peoria, Ill., are currently enrolled at Notre Dame. They are Edward J., Jr., and David, both seniors in the College of Science; Eric, a junior English major; and Douglas, a freshman.