St. Luke, Chap. 11.

24. When the unclean spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh through places without water, seeking rest; and not finding, he saith; I will return into my house whence I came out.

25. And when he is come, he findeth it swept and garnished.
26. Then he goeth and taketh with him seven more spirits more wicked than himself, and entering in they dwell there. And the last state of that man becomes worse than the first.

Come To.
The days following a vacation are full of inquietude. Home-sickness, weariness, distaste for work, these are the usual hangover. The worst of all is spiritual dryness. You may not have had opportunities to approach the sacraments, or worse still, neglected them.

Remedies.
Cut the gab-fests. The other fellow had a good time too. Why try to outdo each other in prolonging the agony. An early start at the books is what you need. Writing these letters will do you no harm. But make them short. She may think less of you, now that you are at a distance.

Your Spiritual Comeback.
Read again the top lines. The confessional and the tabernacle are yours for the using. Bring yourself back with a bang—and the fellow who wants to wait till Saturday night—do not let him.

The Victory.
The team brought glory to Notre Dame. There were injuries. Perhaps you were not generous enough with your rosaries and Communions. They are still travelling and exposed to danger. Bring them home safe.

Dante's Inferno.
Do not waste good money on this movie. You will not see the immortal Dante; nor anything that will elevate your mind.

Prayers.
Prayers are requested for Father Scheler and Brother Cyprian.

John F. O'Hara, C.S.C,
Prefect of Religion.