Van Wallace's Address.

A rumor has reached the office of the Bulletin that some of the boys will be in Detroit tomorrow. Some of the more thoughtful ones will want to call on Van Wallace. His address is Corey Manor Apts., No. 202, 710 Peterboro, Detroit.

Prayers.

Chas. Ruffer underwent an operation for appendicitis night before last. There are four other students laid up at the hospital who will appreciate your prayers. Ed Meredith, who has been under the care of physicians for the past three years as a result of a football injury to his leg, has recently suffered another relapse. Please pray for him. He has taken his sufferings without complaint, but three years is an awfully long time. He should have graduated last June, and he has nothing much but disappointments since he was injured. Three students ask prayers for persons who are ill.

Reminder.

The Sacraments are administered in the Sorin Hall chapel at any time on request.

Be Yourself.

Do you ever try to appear more worldly than you really are? It’s a silly thing to do, of course, but in answer to that question on the Survey last March the following answers were given:

Yes.....................335
No......................275
At times.................65
I used to..............5

And some of their reasons follow:

"It makes one feel all-important to hold attention by such appearance,"

"Just to see the reaction on some of these hicks."

"In order to seem as hot as the crowd -- but there has always been a limit. (After all, it's only high school stuff.)"

"I don't. I think only a nut would try to appear over-sophisticated."

"To make out that I am a regular guy -- God forgive me!"

"No. Only damn fools do this."

"It's collegiate, or, in other words, a fool's method of self-expression."

"To wise up a few freshmen who try to pull the same stuff."

"Why should I? The bluffer is always found out."

"I did it when I was a sophomore. I gave it up when I came to realize that I can count myself on one finger."

"I don't. I am just a little, unsophisticated squirt. I don't know anything and I won't ever amount to much."
