Masses this morning in Lyons, Morrissey and Badin for Bill Coogan...

University of Notre Dame
Religious Bulletin
November 6, 1939

Carroll's Comeback.

"Dear Father:

We resent the nasty implication in the Religious Bulletin of November second.

"We live the Spartan life that Bill Cunningham wrote about a few years ago—no soft cushions, shaded lights and silken draperies for us. Ours are the hard iron chairs, glaring lights, corrugated desk tops, and many other inconveniences.

"Nevertheless we respect God and do not wear sweatshirts and hobnails to Mass and Communion.

"We venture to bet our clothing is just as respectable as that worn by the boys along the Gold and Aluminum Coasts.

"I wonder why we were picked out for special reproach?"

"I have an idea that God is better pleased with the boy who approaches the altar rail in cordurys at 6:20 than with the one who stretches in silk pajamas under the warm covers at the same hour.

"Come down to the Basement Chapel and look us over.

"Yours for a just deal, (signed)
John Gilbert
William C. Kelly
William Harpel
Jim Rice
Jim Duggan
Bernard lienhard
Walter Cordes
Victor Assal"

Dear Jack, Bill, Jim and the rest:

Thanks for the letter; thanks for signing your names (that's more than the Palacekas over do); and thanks for giving me the generous "copy" (I had a good afternoon yesterday-- wasn't worried about getting tonight's Bulletin out).

"Dear Butch:

Well, another year is under way at N.D. and I suppose by now everything is under control. I remember when we didn't think much of anyone that lived in Jalsh Hall. In fact I think it's the only hall I was never in while I was at N.D. The smell of perfume was too strong for me.

"Dear Butch:

Jalsh is still the same old place!

PRAYERS (Appendectomy) Pat Longe (Presbytery); (Deceased) friend of Paul Anderson (O.C);
(In) mother of Rev. John L. Gallery (Milw), daughter of Mr. Graham (Laetare Medal,'60)
NOTICE: HURRY IN THE NAMES YOU WISH REMEMBERED IN THE NOVENA OF Masses FOR Poor Souls.