Beginning of the end for '94 graduates

370 to end years at Saint Mary's

By LAURA FERGUSON
Saint Mary's News Editor

Nearly 370 Saint Mary's students will be awarded degrees at the Colleges 147th annual commencement tomorrow.

The ceremonies, in celebration of the Sesquicentennial of Saint Mary's, will begin at noon in the Courtyard of LeMans Hall. Angela Athletic Facility is the rain site for this year's commencement.

According to Maureen Manier, director of communications, this commencement will be special because it is the sesquicentennial commencement.

"A lot of attention has been paid to every detail to make it a festive occasion to commemorate the sesquicentennial," said Manier. "For example at the end we will be singing "Spirits Taking Flight" a song specially commissioned for the College's sesquicentennial.

Approximately, 238 Bachelor of Arts, 70 Bachelor of Science, 55 Bachelor of Business Administration, 9 Bachelor of Fine Arts, and 3 Bachelor of Music degrees will be conferred to the class of 1994.

According to Teresa Marcy, director of Academic Affairs at Saint Mary's, this year's graduation class is slightly smaller than previous years.

Giving the commencement address will be Lynne Cheney, former chair of the National Endowment for the Humanities. Cheney will also receive an honorary doctorate of Humanities from Saint Mary's.Cheney is a well-known example at the end we will be singing "Flight."

Bachelor of Science, 55 Bachelor of Business Administration, 9 Bachelor of Fine Arts, and 3 Bachelor of Music degrees will be conferred to the class of 1994.

Over 2,300 Notre Dame students will receive degrees at the University's 149th Commencement ceremonies Sunday at 2 p.m. in the Joyce Athletic and Convocation Center (JACC).

Ireland's head of government, Albert Reynolds, will address the graduates. He and ten others, including humorist and syndicated newspaper columnist Erma Bombeck, Marian Wright Edelman, president of the Children's Defense Fund, and John Welch, chairman of the board and chief executive officer of the General Electric Company, will receive honorary degrees from the University.

Degrees will be conferred on 1,785 undergraduates, 150 master's and doctoral students in the Graduate School, 241 master's degree students in the College of Business Administration, and 185 students in the Law School.

Jonathan Fay, the 1994 valedictorian, will deliver the valedictory address.

"Those unable to see ceremonies in person can watch them free of charge on television in DeBartolo Hall (Rooms 101, 117, and 119), the Oak Room in the South Dining Hall, and the main lounge of LaFortune Student Center. The commencement telecast will begin at 1:30 am.

During the ceremony Sidney Callahan, professor of psychology at Mercy College and columnist for Commonweal magazine, will accept the University's Lustrac Medal, the oldest and most prestigious award given to American Catholic-Notre Dame students. Notre Dame has presented the award annually since 1883.

Other recipients of University honorary degrees at commencement include:

Jonathan Fay will take a little more than a degree away from Notre Dame when he graduates Sunday.

After achieving a 3.983 grade point average, Fay, who double-majored in aerospace and mechanical engineering, would receive an honorary doctorate of Humanities from Saint Mary's. Cheney is a well-known example at the end we will be singing "Flight."" Fay is the recipient of a National Science Foundation graduate fellowship and has been honored by the Sigma Gamma Tau and Tau Beta Pi engineering societies. He was a NASA undergraduate research fellow last summer and was selected as the year's winner of Notre Dame's Zahn Prize for Aeronautical Engineering.

A Keenan Hall resident, Fay was co-capitan of the tuba section of Notre Dame's marching band this year.

Fay to deliver ND valedictory

By JASON WILLIAMS
Associate News Editor

Jonathan Fay will take a little more than a degree away from Notre Dame when he graduates Sunday.

After achieving a 3.983 grade point average, Fay, who double-majored in aerospace and mechanical engineering, would receive an honorary doctorate of Humanities from Saint Mary's. Cheney is a well-known example at the end we will be singing "Flight."

Fay will attend Stanford University next fall and hopes to receive a PhD in aerospace engineering. Upon finishing his graduate studies, Fay plans to work in research or industry for some time before returning to the classroom to teach.

Fay is the recipient of a National Science Foundation graduate fellowship and has been honored by the Sigma Gamma Tau and Tau Beta Pi engineering societies. He was a NASA undergraduate research fellow last summer and was selected as the year's winner of Notre Dame's Zahn Prize for Aeronautical Engineering.

A Keenan Hall resident, Fay was co-capitan of the tuba section of Notre Dame's marching band this year.

Adams named SMC valedictorian

By ELIZABETH REGAN
Saint Mary's Editor

Saint Mary's senior Catherine Michel Adams, achieving a 3.973 grade point average, has been named the valedictorian of the class of 1996.

Adams, an art major with a concentration in art history and a Women's Studies minor has always taken her studies seriously.

"I came here with the deliberate intent of being valedictorian. Throughout my four years of pursuing this goal, however, a debate has erupted within me on the value of this intent. As a feminist, I wonder if this deliberate pursuit of an award based on the concept of hierarchical structures is ethical. I will not deny that I am happy to graduate first in my class, but I also will not deny that this debate will always haunt me," she said.

Adams, from Louisville, KY, was unable to fulfill her goal of attending an all women's boarding high school but carefully selected a curriculum at women's college.

"I had seen that women's colleges in general have done quite well in statistics concerning colleges," she said. "When my mother and I visited Saint Mary's, she fell in love with it.

Upon coming to Saint Mary's, Adams discovered that she was "very left wing for this campus."

"I always had assumed that a lot of people felt like me and on this campus this wasn't true. Coming here made me question the value of this intent. As a feminist, I wonder if this deliberate pursuit of an award based on the concept of hierarchical structures is ethical. I will not deny that I am happy to graduate first in my class, but I also will not deny that this debate will always haunt me," she said.

Adams was the recipient of the SISTAR grant last summer. She worked with assistant English professor Laura Hagwood on her research entitled "Elizabeth Allen Starr: Romantic Roots of a Woman Centered Art Pedagogy."

"This was the most fulfilling academic experiences that I could have done at this or any other college," said Adams. "In an age when universities really focus on publication, I found this commendable on the part of Saint Mary's."

After graduation, Adams plans to move to France to study literature at the University of Rouen.
No, the laughing never did stop

Tito Fuentes laughed out loud as we pulled out of Rochester, N.Y., around five that Thursday morning.

Who pretends they can trust a trip-weary Subaru with a 16-year-old spending the better part of July in July. The views expressed in the Inside page to honor the three brothers, who served for many years as executives with the firm. The scholarships are awarded to college seniors and recent graduates of outstanding promise, with the time of his death in 1982. The scholarship, administered by the Department of American Studies, is a memorial honoring Pulitzer Prize-winning sportswriter Red Smith, a 1927 Notre Dame graduate. Smith was a columnist for The New York Times at the time of his death in 1982. The scholarship, administered by the Department of American Studies, is awarded annually to an outstanding student writer at Notre Dame. Wilfroth is the daughter of Frank and Nancy Wilfroth.

Blankenstein wins first Dooley award

Notre Dame graduate student Volker Blankenstein, who received his undergraduate degree from the University of Waterloo and address College of Science Graduates at convocation ceremonies May 27. Founded in 1927, the university press in the world in countries which include Brazil, Italy, Canada, and has an enrollment of some 25,000 students. Castellino joined the Notre Dame faculty in 1970 and has guided the College of Science since 1970. He also sponsored six students in summer science projects, in addition to their other community service activities.

The senior class fellow from the University of Notre Dame is one of just 16 students nationwide to be awarded a 1994 Beinecke Memorial Scholarship. A music major from Westerville, Ohio, Johnson was selected for his second year at Notre Dame and $15,000 per year for each of his first two years of graduate study. The Edwin, Frederick, and Walter Beinecke Memorial Scholarship Program was established in 1970 by the Sperry and Hutchinson Co. to honor the three brothers, who served for many years as executives with the firm. The scholarships are awarded to college seniors and recent graduates of outstanding college seniors and recent graduates of outstanding promise, with the time of his death in 1982. The scholarship, administered by the Department of American Studies, is awarded annually to an outstanding student writer at Notre Dame. Wilfroth is the daughter of Frank and Nancy Wilfroth.

Blankenstein wins first Dooley award

Notre Dame graduate student Volker Blankenstein, who received his undergraduate degree from the University of Waterloo and address College of Science Graduates at convocation ceremonies May 27. Founded in 1927, the university press in the world in countries which include Brazil, Italy, Canada, and has an enrollment of some 25,000 students. Castellino joined the Notre Dame faculty in 1970 and has guided the College of Science since 1970. He also sponsored six students in summer science projects, in addition to their other community service activities.

No, the laughing never did stop

Tito Fuentes laughed out loud as we pulled out of Rochester, N.Y., around five that Thursday morning.

Who pretends they can trust a trip-weary Subaru with a 16-year-old spending the better part of July in July. The views expressed in the Inside page to honor the three brothers, who served for many years as executives with the firm. The scholarships are awarded to college seniors and recent graduates of outstanding promise, with the time of his death in 1982. The scholarship, administered by the Department of American Studies, is awarded annually to an outstanding student writer at Notre Dame. Wilfroth is the daughter of Frank and Nancy Wilfroth.

Blankenstein wins first Dooley award

Notre Dame graduate student Volker Blankenstein, who received his undergraduate degree from the University of Waterloo and address College of Science Graduates at convocation ceremonies May 27. Founded in 1927, the university press in the world in countries which include Brazil, Italy, Canada, and has an enrollment of some 25,000 students. Castellino joined the Notre Dame faculty in 1970 and has guided the College of Science since 1970. He also sponsored six students in summer science projects, in addition to their other community service activities.

The senior class fellow from the University of Notre Dame is one of just 16 students nationwide to be awarded a 1994 Beinecke Memorial Scholarship. A music major from Westerville, Ohio, Johnson was selected for his second year at Notre Dame and $15,000 per year for each of his first two years of graduate study. The Edwin, Frederick, and Walter Beinecke Memorial Scholarship Program was established in 1970 by the Sperry and Hutchinson Co. to honor the three brothers, who served for many years as executives with the firm. The scholarships are awarded to college seniors and recent graduates of outstanding promise, with the time of his death in 1982. The scholarship, administered by the Department of American Studies, is awarded annually to an outstanding student writer at Notre Dame. Wilfroth is the daughter of Frank and Nancy Wilfroth.
The University gave alumni and Irish fans their field of dreams, finalizing the plans for expansion of Notre Dame Stadium by 21,000 seats by the 1997 season.

Notre Dame's Board of Trustees approved expansion of the existing structure at a meeting last Friday. New seats will be added to the existing structure, supported by an exterior wall that will encase the original stadium.

"The need for additional seats has never been an issue," said Andrew McKenna, chairman of the Board of Trustees. "Alumni in particular have become increasingly frustrated by the lack of opportunities to return to campus for football games. What was needed, however, was a plan of expansion which would not interfere with the rapid academic advancements being made by the University and which, in fact, would be capable of contributing to academic and student life needs."

The estimated price tag for the endeavor is $50 million with the funds primarily coming from issuance of bonds. Notre Dame executive vice president Father E. William Beauchamp said expansion efforts should not hinder fund raising in other areas.

The Irish will continue to play at the stadium during the 1995 and 1996 seasons when the bulk of construction will take place. A new press box, scoreboard and renovations to the concession areas and rest rooms are also included in the plan.

The 59,675 seat stadium is seen as a bastion of college football tradition but the board said that few traditionalists stepped forward to oppose expansion. "I'm a traditionalist myself and this was not a decision that was arrived at easily," said Beauchamp. "But certainly among the alumni, we believe there was great support for this." The final vote by the trustees remains confidential but McKenna hinted towards a strong consensus. "Very strong," he said. "It was a clear mandate."

The plan calls for the field to be lowered and an existing wall will be made of similar colored bricks as the original wall which was built in 1930. The stadium will also get a facelift. The area surrounding the stadium will also get a facelift. The road west of the stadium will also get a facelift. The area surrounding the stadium will also get a facelift.

The 59,675 seat stadium is seen as a bastion of college football tradition but the board said that few traditionalists stepped forward to oppose expansion. "I'm a traditionalist myself and this was not a decision that was arrived at easily," said Beauchamp. "But certainly among the alumni, we believe there was great support for this." The final vote by the trustees remains confidential but McKenna hinted towards a strong consensus. "Very strong," he said. "It was a clear mandate."

Expansion will occur around the entire circumference of the stadium—building out a wall much like the existing one, adding almost 21,000 seats in the process.
continued from page 1

Catherine Adams is the valedictorian for the Saint Mary’s class of 1994. Adams is an art major with a concentration in Women's Studies and was the recipient of a Student Independent Study and Assisted Research grant last summer.

Honorary degrees will also be conferred upon eleven dignitaries. They include:

- Gwenethlyn Brooks, a Pulitzer Prize winning poet, will be awarded an honorary doctorate of letters. She is considered one of the most influential poets of the twentieth century and is a member of the American Academy of Poets.

- Elizabeth Johnson will be awarded a doctorate of letters and has been honored with the Shelly Memorial Award by the Poetry Society of America.

- Associate professor of theology at Fordham University, Elizabeth Johnson will be honored for her contributions to the intellectual life of the American Catholic church and other Christian communities.

- Ardis Kranick, the General Director of the Lyric Opera of Chicago, will be awarded a doctorate of Fine Arts. Kranick is well respected for both her expert fiscal management of the company as well as for her influence on the company’s repertory, which includes a balance of standard, innovative, and contemporary works.

- President of Spelman College Johnetta Cole will be honored with a doctorate of letters for her contributions to the education of women. Spelman College is the oldest and the leading liberal arts college for African-American women, and Cole is widely regarded as the nation’s leading spokesperson on women’s education.

- Blandina Cardenas Ramirez, former director of the American Council on Education’s Office of Minorities in Higher Education, will be recognized with an honorary doctorate of laws. Ramirez, throughout her career, has exhibited leadership in the effort to achieve equal access to education. In addition, she was the first Hispanic to serve on the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights.

- Archbishop Rembert Weakland of Milwaukee will not only receive an honorary doctorate of humanities but will also be the homilist for the Catholic Church and the homilist for the Congregation for the Congregation of the Holy Cross since 1989, led discussion between the College and the Congregation which resulted in the recent signing of the historic agreement of corporate reorganization.

- Groj is being honored both for his contribution to the congregation and for the congregation’s longtime relationship with Saint Mary’s.

- Bruno Schlesinger, professor of humanistic studies at Saint Mary’s will be honored with a doctorate of humanities. Schlesinger is the founder of the Humanistic Studies program which has brought national recognition to Saint Mary’s.

- Also receiving an honorary doctorate of humanities is Mary Louise Gorno, Saint Mary’s class of 1972. This degree recognizes Gorno as a member of the College’s Board of Regents and vice president of Leo Burnett Advertising Agency, one of the world’s largest agencies.

- Jerry Hammes, a prominent South Bend community businessman and forever vice chair of the Board of Regents will be awarded an honorary doctorate of laws at this year’s commencement. Hammes is also the 1983 recipient of the Saint Mary’s President’s Medal.

This year’s Presidential Medal award winners are Sister Vasil Anthony O’Flynn, class of 1946 and current assistant to the vice president of college relations, and Portia Prebys, class of 1966 and director of the Saint Mary’s Rome program. Both medals will be awarded at the commencement exercises.

O’Flynn’s career as an administrator with the Congregation of the Sisters of the Holy Cross and at Saint Mary’s College spans nearly 50 years. She has held almost every senior position at the College including dean of students, vice president for fiscal affairs, vice president for campus affairs and acting vice president of college relations.

Prebys has been affiliated with the Rome program from its inception, first as a faculty member and later as director. She has been active in the Association of American Colleges and University Programs in Italy, serving as president, and as a member of the Board of the Fulbright Commission in Italy.

Also, the Board of Trustees will award the Sesquicentennial Trustee Medal to a member of the Saint Mary’s community. This will be the first time this honor has been bestowed upon anyone.

--

The Observer • CAMPUS NEWS
Friday, May 13, 1994

SMC America

Women’s Studies and was the recipient of a Student Independent Study and Assisted Research grant last summer.

Honorary degrees will also be conferred upon eleven dignitaries. They include:

- Gwenethlyn Brooks, a Pulitzer Prize winning poet, will be awarded an honorary doctorate of letters. She is considered one of the most influential poets of the twentieth century and is a member of the American Academy of Poets.

- Elizabeth Johnson will be awarded a doctorate of letters and has been honored with the Shelly Memorial Award by the Poetry Society of America.

- Associate professor of theology at Fordham University, Elizabeth Johnson will be honored for her contributions to the intellectual life of the American Catholic church and other Christian communities.

- Ardis Kranick, the General Director of the Lyric Opera of Chicago, will be awarded a doctorate of Fine Arts. Kranick is well respected for both her expert fiscal management of the company as well as for her influence on the company’s repertory, which includes a balance of standard, innovative, and contemporary works.

- President of Spelman College Johnetta Cole will be honored with a doctorate of letters for her contributions to the education of women. Spelman College is the oldest and the leading liberal arts college for African-American women, and Cole is widely regarded as the nation’s leading spokesperson on women’s education.

- Blandina Cardenas Ramirez, former director of the American Council on Education’s Office of Minorities in Higher Education, will be recognized with an honorary doctorate of laws. Ramirez, throughout her career, has exhibited leadership in the effort to achieve equal access to education. In addition, she was the first Hispanic to serve on the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights.

- Archbishop Rembert Weakland of Milwaukee will not only receive an honorary doctorate of humanities but will also be the homilist for the Catholic Church and the homilist for the Congregation for the Congregation of the Holy Cross since 1989, led discussion between the College and the Congregation which resulted in the recent signing of the historic agreement of corporate reorganization.

- Groj is being honored both for his contribution to the congregation and for the congregation’s longtime relationship with Saint Mary’s.

- Bruno Schlesinger, professor of humanistic studies at Saint Mary’s will be honored with a doctorate of humanities. Schlesinger is the founder of the Humanistic Studies program which has brought national recognition to Saint Mary’s.

- Also receiving an honorary doctorate of humanities is Mary Louise Gorno, Saint Mary’s class of 1972. This degree recognizes Gorno as a member of the College’s Board of Regents and vice president of Leo Burnett Advertising Agency, one of the world’s largest agencies.

- Jerry Hammes, a prominent South Bend community businessman and forever vice chair of the Board of Regents will be awarded an honorary doctorate of laws at this year’s commencement. Hammes is also the 1983 recipient of the Saint Mary’s President’s Medal.

This year’s Presidential Medal award winners are Sister Vasil Anthony O’Flynn, class of 1946 and current assistant to the vice president of college relations, and Portia Prebys, class of 1966 and director of the Saint Mary’s Rome program. Both medals will be awarded at the commencement exercises.

O’Flynn’s career as an administrator with the Congregation of the Sisters of the Holy Cross and at Saint Mary’s College spans nearly 50 years. She has held almost every senior position at the College including dean of students, vice president for fiscal affairs, vice president for campus affairs and acting vice president of college relations.

Prebys has been affiliated with the Rome program from its inception, first as a faculty member and later as director. She has been active in the Association of American Colleges and University Programs in Italy, serving as president, and as a member of the Board of the Fulbright Commission in Italy.

Also, the Board of Trustees will award the Sesquicentennial Trustee Medal to a member of the Saint Mary’s community. This will be the first time this honor has been bestowed upon anyone.

--

The Observer • CAMPUS NEWS
Friday, May 13, 1994

SMC America

Women’s Studies and was the recipient of a Student Independent Study and Assisted Research grant last summer.

Honorary degrees will also be conferred upon eleven dignitaries. They include:

- Gwenethlyn Brooks, a Pulitzer Prize winning poet, will be awarded an honorary doctorate of letters. She is considered one of the most influential poets of the twentieth century and is a member of the American Academy of Poets.

- Elizabeth Johnson will be awarded a doctorate of letters and has been honored with the Shelly Memorial Award by the Poetry Society of America.

- Associate professor of theology at Fordham University, Elizabeth Johnson will be honored for her contributions to the intellectual life of the American Catholic church and other Christian communities.

- Ardis Kranick, the General Director of the Lyric Opera of Chicago, will be awarded a doctorate of Fine Arts. Kranick is well respected for both her expert fiscal management of the company as well as for her influence on the company’s repertory, which includes a balance of standard, innovative, and contemporary works.

- President of Spelman College Johnetta Cole will be honored with a doctorate of letters for her contributions to the education of women. Spelman College is the oldest and the leading liberal arts college for African-American women, and Cole is widely regarded as the nation’s leading spokesperson on women’s education.

- Blandina Cardenas Ramirez, former director of the American Council on Education’s Office of Minorities in Higher Education, will be recognized with an honorary doctorate of laws. Ramirez, throughout her career, has exhibited leadership in the effort to achieve equal access to education. In addition, she was the first Hispanic to serve on the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights.

- Archbishop Rembert Weakland of Milwaukee will not only receive an honorary doctorate of humanities but will also be the homilist for the Catholic Church and the homilist for the Congregation for the Congregation of the Holy Cross since 1989, led discussion between the College and the Congregation which resulted in the recent signing of the historic agreement of corporate reorganization.

- Groj is being honored both for his contribution to the congregation and for the congregation’s longtime relationship with Saint Mary’s.

- Bruno Schlesinger, professor of humanistic studies at Saint Mary’s will be honored with a doctorate of humanities. Schlesinger is the founder of the Humanistic Studies program which has brought national recognition to Saint Mary’s.

- Also receiving an honorary doctorate of humanities is Mary Louise Gorno, Saint Mary’s class of 1972. This degree recognizes Gorno as a member of the College’s Board of Regents and vice president of Leo Burnett Advertising Agency, one of the world’s largest agencies.

- Jerry Hammes, a prominent South Bend community businessman and forever vice chair of the Board of Regents will be awarded an honorary doctorate of laws at this year’s commencement. Hammes is also the 1983 recipient of the Saint Mary’s President’s Medal.

This year’s Presidential Medal award winners are Sister Vasil Anthony O’Flynn, class of 1946 and current assistant to the vice president of college relations, and Portia Prebys, class of 1966 and director of the Saint Mary’s Rome program. Both medals will be awarded at the commencement exercises.

O’Flynn’s career as an administrator with the Congregation of the Sisters of the Holy Cross and at Saint Mary’s College spans nearly 50 years. She has held almost every senior position at the College including dean of students, vice president for fiscal affairs, vice president for campus affairs and acting vice president of college relations.

Prebys has been affiliated with the Rome program from its inception, first as a faculty member and later as director. She has been active in the Association of American Colleges and University Programs in Italy, serving as president, and as a member of the Board of the Fulbright Commission in Italy.

Also, the Board of Trustees will award the Sesquicentennial Trustee Medal to a member of the Saint Mary’s community. This will be the first time this honor has been bestowed upon anyone.
Trustees choose golf course site for new dorms

By JASON WILLIAMS
Associate News Editor

Notre Dame's Board of Trustees has decided to put on a building juggling act now to make the University run smoother later.

Foremost, two new men's residence halls will be built on land currently occupied by the back-nine of the University's Burke Memorial Golf Course.

The University will also convert Grace Hall, currently one of the largest men's dorms on campus, into an administrative building.

By mid-August, Grace Hall will house the Main Administration Building, which will undergo a major renovation, anticipated to require approximately two years to complete.

"Right now our administrative offices are desperately short of space," said Dennis Moore, director of Notre Dame's Public Relations and Information. "Making this move will mean a much more efficient way of doing things."

Construction of the new halls, each of which will house approximately 275 men, is expected to begin in April 1995, with occupancy scheduled for the fall of 1996. These new halls will be the first men's residences built by the University in more than 25 years, since the 1968-69 construction of Grace and Flanner Halls.

"We think the move is actually beneficial for the men on campus because we're breaking up the conglomeration of large dorms where right now virtually the entire men's student body resides," he said.

South Dining Hall will also undergo some changes to make sure it can handle the increased number of students, Moore said.

The fifth floor of the Main Administration Building has not been in use for quite some time, Moore said. This area which will be refurbished and an elevator will be installed.

The building will also be made accessible to handicapped persons, he added.

Moore said the conversion of Grace from dorm to offices is expected to begin in June 1996 and be completed early in 1998.

"We have land north of campus on which we could conceivably build a new golf course, but that is simply not a priority right now," Moore said. "I'm not saying it couldn't happen sometime down the road, but we have no interest in pursuing it right now."

"There is a need for more space, but that is simply not a priority right now," Moore said.

"We have land north of campus on which we could conceivably build a new golf course, but that is simply not a priority right now," Moore said. "I'm not saying it couldn't happen sometime down the road, but we have no interest in pursuing it right now."

"We have land north of campus on which we could conceivably build a new golf course, but that is simply not a priority right now," Moore said. "I'm not saying it couldn't happen sometime down the road, but we have no interest in pursuing it right now."

The University already has received pledges of major gifts to underwrite construction of the new residence halls.
Arthur Andersen
Welcomes the Following 1994 University of Notre Dame and Saint Mary's College
Graduates to Our Firm

Christopher Adler
Chicago Office
Elizabeth Baillargeon
Chicago Office
Christopher Barry
Chicago Office
Angeles Beltri
Houston Office
Michael Brenner
Chicago Office
Jane Brooks
Chicago Office
Anthony Buffomante
Chicago Office
Robert Burke
Chicago Office
J. Russell Carr
Chicago Office
Carolyn Carson
Chicago Office
Dennis Dixon
Pittsburgh Office
Greg Graceffo
Boston Office
Amy Hughes
Chicago Office
Christopher Ike
New York Office
Regina Kearns
New York Office
David Kisch
Minneapolis Office
Aaron Kutylo
Chicago Office
Ann Laing
Denver Office
Daniel Lee
Chicago Office
Megan Lee
Washington, D.C. Office
Robert Leonard
Atlanta Office
Tiffany Loughren
Pittsburgh Office
Sarah Lowthorp
Minneapolis Office
Elizabeth McConnell
Chicago Office
James McGuire
Minneapolis Office
Colleen O'Connor
Atlanta Office
Theodore Peterson
Cincinnati Office
Anne Pierson
Atlanta Office
Ryan Regan
Washington, D.C. Office
Benjamin Roese
Chicago Office
Kimberly Rouster
Atlanta Office
Michael Scrudato
New York Office
John Sebastian
Chicago Office
Christian Sepe
New York Office
Thomas Seurync
Chicago Office
Daniel Sheridan
Chicago Office
Kimberly Sweeney
Pittsburgh Office
Megan Swiderski
New York Office
James Tierney
Chicago Office
Douglas Vincent
Chicago Office
Astrid Wehner
Chicago Office
Edmund Weiss
New Jersey Office
Greg Wozniak
Chicago Office
Jinhy Yoon
New York Office

May 13, 1994
By SARAH DORAN
New Editor
Father Timothy Scully, associate professor of government and international studies, was elected a vice president and associate provost of the University by the Board of Trustees during their meeting last week. The appointment is effective July 1.

The election creates a second vice president and associate provost in the University. Roger Schunz has been vice president and associate provost since 1987.

With the creation of the new position, Father Oliver Williams, an associate provost since 1987, will step out of that role and return to teaching and research. Father Williams is an associate professor of management in the College of Business Administration and co-director, with professor John Houck, of the Notre Dame Center for Ethics and Religious Values in Business.

"The election is part of the University's effort to look to another generation of Holy Cross Priests as senior administrators," said Dennis Moore, director of Notre Dame Public Relations and Information. "It is anticipated that there will be several more of these over the next few years."

It is also anticipated that Father Malloy will continue as president through the University's next capital campaign. He began his second five-year term in 1992.

In addition to his responsibilities as an associate professor of government, Scully is also director of Latin American studies, a faculty advisor in the Kellogg Institute of International Studies and a fellow of Notre Dame's Urban Institute for Community and Educational Initiatives. He has been a member of the Notre Dame faculty since 1989.

A specialist in Latin American politics and institutions, he has written extensively on the role of political parties and transitions to democracy. Father Scully has been the recipient of two Fulbright fellowships, as well as fellowships and grants from the Social Science Research Council, the Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars, and the Ford Foundation.

He was selected a Senior Class Fellow and awarded the Charles F. Sheedy, C.S.C., award for excellence in teaching in 1993 and this year is the recipient of the O'Malley Undergraduate Teaching Award.

Father Scully is the founder and director of the newly created Alliance for Catholic Education, which in its first year will send 40 ND graduates to teach in Catholic Schools in nine dioceses throughout the American South. Previously he was the founder and first director of the Holy Cross Associates, which engages lay volunteers as partners in the various ministries of the congregation.

Father Scully was ordained a Holy Cross priest in 1981. He served as associate pastor of Cristo Nuestro Redentor parish in Santiago, Chile, from 1980-83 and was vice rector of St. George's College there from 1981-83.

A member of Phi Beta Kappa, Father Scully was graduated summa cum laude from Notre Dame in 1976 with a bachelor's degree in economics and received his master's of divinity degree from the University in 1979. He earned his master's and doctoral degrees in political science from the University of California at Berkeley in 1985 and '89, respectively.

Father Williams returned last week from South Africa, where he served as a member of the United Nations Observation Mission for the first post-apartheid national elections in that country.

A longtime member of the National Advisory Council to U.S. firms with business operations in South Africa, he had traveled there on seven previous fact-finding visits. He facilitated the landmark 1991 meeting at Notre Dame between U.S. corporate and government officials and representatives of the African National Congress, the Inkatha Freedom Party and the Pan-African Congress.

As associate provost Father Williams has served on the Provost's Advisory Committee and has chaired the University committees on continuing education, the disabled and the academic honor code.

In 1991 he chaired a special University committee which studies ways to enhance the ethical dimension of education at Notre Dame.

Father Williams served a the University's liaison to the North Central Accrediting Association and in recent months coordinated the Association's ten-year accrediting visit.

A member of the Notre Dame faculty since 1973, Father Williams graduated from the University in 1961. He earned a master's degree in theology from the University in 1969 and a doctorate from Vanderbilt University Divinity School in 1974. He was ordained a Holy Cross priest in 1970.

Dear Seniors of Zahm,

The past four years, sadly enough, have come and gone. However, the memories that both you and the remaining residents of this hall share with one another will last long after you depart from here, your home away from home. Each one of you has made a lasting impression upon this university, this hall, and those who proudly refer to themselves as Zahmbies.

From the time of Freshmen Orientation and those nerve-wracking days and nights spent feeling the wrath of ODIN, through four years of home football weekends (and numerous pre-game festivities, for those of you who can remember them), ZITS, the Decade Dance, SYR's, community gatherings for prayer at Mass in our chapel, Zahm athletic contests, late night conversations with Keenan and Cavanaugh Halls, and other unique activities that are not fit for print, and now concluding with this final and most special weekend, you have been a part of an experience that is unique to Notre Dame and Zahm Hall.

We want to thank you for gladly sharing these special moments with us. Through these moments and your presence in our everyday lives, you have provided us with an example to follow as we continue on our own paths toward commencement. All the advice, time, memories, and fun that you share will remain with us along the way and long afterward.

All of us hope that as you embark on the rest of your lives, you leave here full of those same memories. We wish you the best of luck in all of your future pursuits, that success and happiness may be found wherever you go. Please remember where you came from and that you will always have a home within the cozy confines of Zahm. May God bless you.

Love,

The Men of Zahm

P.S. SEE YUH!
Somseme appointed to Duncan professorship

Special to The Observer

Andrew Somseme, a mathematician and member of the University of Notre Dame faculty since 1979, has been named to the University's Vincent J. Duncan professorship in mathematics, according to Timothy O'Meara, provost. "As a mathematician myself, I am delighted to recognize by this appointment the brilliant achievements of Bill Dwyers, who has combined noteworthy service to the University with scholarly influence in his field," O'Meara said in making the announcement.

"Dwyer's achievements in mathematics have served both to enhance the quality of instruction at Notre Dame and to enliven Notre Dame's reputation in the discipline," said Francis J. Castellino, dean of Notre Dame's College of Science. Swyer chaired the University's mathematics department from 1984-88 and was a visiting professor at MIT in 1992. His research in algebraic topology has had a profound affect on current thinking with regards to the fundamental problems in that area of study and has reached as well into the theory of numbers.

He has delivered invited lectures at numerous universities and institutes in the U.S. and overseas, including Oxford, Yale, Princeton, Cornell, Johns Hopkins, MIT, the University of Chicago and the Mathematical Science Research Institute.

pressed with his courage in impressed with his courage in translating his research in this field, she has

National Opinion Research Center as well as a member of the Chicago faculty. Marian Wright Edelman, president of the Children's Defense Fund (CDF), who will receive an honorary doctor of laws degree, is a powerful advocate in Congress, at the White House and across the nation for America's children. She served on the front lines of the civil rights movement in the 1960s before founding the CDF. The author of two books, she is currently developing, for fall publication, a parenting guide for African-American parents.

Cardinal Roger Etchegaray, president of the Pontifical Council for Justice and Peace, Etchegaray, who will receive an honorary doctor of laws, has represented Pope John Paul in dozens of hot spots around the world and has been responsible for the Vatican's landmark documents on racism, international debt, homelessness and other issues.

She is a powerful advocate in Congress, at the White House and across the nation for America's children. She served on the front lines of the civil rights movement in the 1960s before founding the CDF. The author of two books, she is currently developing, for fall publication, a parenting guide for African-American parents.

Cardinal Roger Etchegaray, president of the Pontifical Council for Justice and Peace, Etchegaray, who will receive an honorary doctor of laws, has represented Pope John Paul in dozens of hot spots around the world and has been responsible for the Vatican's landmark documents on racism, international debt, homelessness and other issues.

She is a powerful advocate in Congress, at the
Four Years in Review

Top 10 News Stories from 1990-1994

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>#</th>
<th>Date</th>
<th>Story</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>Jan. 24, 1992</td>
<td>&quot;Swim team bus crashes&quot;</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Two members of the Notre Dame swim team were killed early Jan. 24th when a United Limo bus carrying the team overturned on the Indiana Toll Road. Freshmen Colleen Hipp and Meghan Beeler died and over 30 others were injured, including freshman Haley Scott, who remained in the hospital with serious back injuries for six weeks.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2</td>
<td>May 13, 1994</td>
<td>&quot;50 million dollar Stadium expansion announced&quot;</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>The University gave alumni and Irish fans their field of dreams, finalizing the plans for expansion of Notre Dame Stadium by 21,000 seats by the 1997 season.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3</td>
<td>Nov. 15, 1993</td>
<td>&quot;Notre Dame student killed in weekend crash&quot;</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Mara Fox, a Lyons Hall freshman, was killed early Saturday morning when she was struck by a car along Douglas Road while walking back to campus from Macri's Deli with three other freshman women and one of their older brothers.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4</td>
<td>Dec. 3, 1991</td>
<td>&quot;Burtchaell to resign amid sexual misconduct&quot;</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Rumors surrounding Notre Dame theology professor Father James Burtchaell have been confirmed by an article in this week's issue of the National Catholic Reporter (NCR) which states that Burtchaell has agreed to resign amid charges of sexual misconduct with a male undergraduate.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5</td>
<td>Sept. 15, 1993</td>
<td>&quot;SMC moves to change method of governance&quot;</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>An ad hoc committee has formulated a plan to change the governance of Saint Mary's College to a single board of Trustees with more power vested in the laity, according to College President William Hickey.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6</td>
<td>Apr. 22, 1994</td>
<td>&quot;Administration changes state of Grace&quot;</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Following the 1995-96 academic year, Grace Hall will be converted to a permanent administrative office building and, upon conversion, the Main building will be vacated to undergo a major renovation. Two new residence halls will be built on a portion of the Burke Memorial Gold Course.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7</td>
<td>Aug. 25, 1992</td>
<td>&quot;DeBartolo building puts ND on the cutting edge&quot;</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Notre Dame's new Edward DeBartolo Classroom Building integrates multimedia and computer technology into the educational environment, putting the University &quot;right on the cutting edge.&quot; The project cost $22 million to complete.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8</td>
<td>Apr. 18, 1991</td>
<td>&quot;SUF stages day-long sit-in in Registrar's office&quot;</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>A group of 60 students staged a day-long sit-in Wednesday in the Registrar's office demanding open negotiation with University President Father Edward Malloy regarding the demands raised by members of Students United for Respect (SUF).</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9</td>
<td>Nov. 20, 1991</td>
<td>&quot;Loretto renovation certain; SMC community divided&quot;</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Renovation of the Church of Loretto at Saint Mary's is imminent, despite opposition from many in the Saint Mary's community, according to Mary Turgi, chairperson of the renovation committee.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10</td>
<td>Sept. 14, 1993</td>
<td>&quot;Students face burglaries, citations&quot;</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>A sixth townhouse at Lafayette Square complex was burglarized last night between 8 p.m. and 9:30. The townhouse's alarm system was activated at the time and went off during the theft, according to witnesses at the scene at the time of police arrival.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Editor's Note: Selections were made by members of The Observer news department.
Malloy to oversee program

Special to the Observer

University President Father Edward Malloy will play a prominent role in the new national service initiative as a member of federal and state bodies created by the National and Community Service Trust Act.

On the national level, Father Malloy will serve as a member of the AmeriCorps program's advisory and guidance committee. The NCCC, which was designed to offer 18-year-old the opportunity to participate in urban and rural service projects, in exchange for 11 months of service, will receive living allowances and $4,725 to be applied to their education.

The membership of the board also will include the heads of NCCC and the Corporation for National and Community Service, as well as selected members of President Clinton's Cabinet.

On the state level, Father Malloy has been appointed by Governor Evan Bayh to the Indiana Commission on Community Service, which will oversee the state's implementation of the national service initiative.

Under the national legislation, some two-thirds of the funds available for service programs will be awarded by the state commissions. Joining Father Malloy on the state commission will be Drew Buscareno, a 1991 Notre Dame student who also was a member of the Service Corps of Retired, who visited the state's volunteer centers.

The state's community-service board will be Drew Buscareno, a 1991 Notre Dame graduate and volunteer coordinator for the South Bend Center for the Homeless.

Father Malloy, who is a Notre Dame alumnus himself, has participated in service programs in Central and South America, has been a prominent national advocate of student volunteerism.

Last June, as chair of the board of the American Council on Education, he testified on national service before the U.S. Senate Committee on Labor and Human Resources.

Notre Dame has a long record of pioneering programs to engage both its students and alumni in service projects. Through the University's Center for Social Concerns, almost 20 percent of Notre Dame students are engaged in a community service activity during their years on campus and about 10 percent of each year's graduating seniors — for example, some 200 1994 graduates — choose to devote a year or more to service programs throughout the U.S. and around the globe.

The Notre Dame Alumni Association was the first alumni group to establish a permanent service component, and its programs have become the models for similar efforts throughout American higher education.

The Observer wishes you a safe, happy summer.

Merz named to engineering chair

Special to the Observer

James Merz, formerly professor of electrical engineering, professor of materials, and director of the Center for Quantized Electronic Structures (QUEST) at the University of California at Santa Barbara, has been named to the University of Notre Dame's Frank Freimann Professorship in electrical engineering, according to Anthony O'Meara, Notre Dame's provost.

"The appointment of James Merz represents a significant addition to the Notre Dame faculty," O'Meara said in making the announcement. "As a researcher of international stature, he brings experienced leadership to the outstanding young scholars the University has assembled in the field of solid state devices. As an alumnus, he brings a strong commitment to the values of Notre Dame."

"Merz has made pioneering contributions to the understanding of fundamental properties of ultra-small electronic structure, semiconductor lasers and optoelectronic devices," said Anthony Michel, McDonnell Dean of the College of Engineering.

An internationally recognized scholar in the field of optoelectronic materials and devices, Merz was graduated from Notre Dame with a bachelor's degree in physics in 1959 and attended the University of Göttingen in Germany as a Fulbright Fellow in 1959-60. He attended Harvard University as both a Woodrow Wilson and Danforth Fellow, earning his master's degree in 1961 and his doctorate in 1967.

He joined the technical staff of Bell Laboratories in 1966 and investigated the optical properties of compound semiconductors. After a semester as Gordon McKay Visiting Lecturer on Applied Physics at Harvard in 1972, he returned to Bell Laboratories to work on optoelectronic devices and integrated optical circuits.

Merz joined the faculty of UC-Santa Barbara as professor of electrical engineering in 1978. He was appointed chairman of electrical and computer engineering in 1982, associate dean for research development of the college of engineering in 1984, and associate vice chancellor in 1988. He was a visiting research scientist at the Optoelectronics Research Laboratory in Japan in 1985, a visiting research professor at the Tokyo Institute of Technology in 1989, and Hitachi Professor at the University of Tokyo in 1992.

QUEST, which he has directed since its establishment in 1989, is a National Science Foundation science and technology center bringing together 20 faculty members from a variety of academic disciplines. Merz is a fellow of the American Physical Society and the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers and a member of the Materials Research Society and the Society for Values in Higher Education. Recipient of an honorary doctorate from Linkoping University in Sweden, he has published more than 300 papers and holds five patents.

Merz and his wife, Rose-Marie, have four adopted children.

The Frank Freimann Chair is one of five endowed Notre Dame faculty positions—four in engineering and one in physics—underwritten by the Freimann Charitable Trust in Fort Wayne, Ind. The chair honors the late president and chief executive officer of the Magazines Co., who also was a member of the University's Advisory Council for Science and Engineering. Among Frank Freimann's many gifts to Notre Dame was $300,000 toward construction of the Hesburgh Library.

You can see it on their faces. People everywhere are amazed by our brand new Unbelievable Free Checking. After all, who'd believe no monthly service charge? Who'd believe no minimum balance? Who'd believe no per check charges? Well, believe it. At Norwest everyone's Gawking About It.

"Everyday's Gawking About It."

You can see it on their faces. People everywhere are amazed by our brand new Unbelievable Free Checking. After all, who'd believe no monthly service charge? Who'd believe no minimum balance? Who'd believe no per check charges? Well, believe it. At Norwest everyone's Gawking About It.

"Everyday's Gawking About It."

You can see it on their faces. People everywhere are amazed by our brand new Unbelievable Free Checking. After all, who'd believe no monthly service charge? Who'd believe no minimum balance? Who'd believe no per check charges? Well, believe it. At Norwest everyone's Gawking About It.

"Everyday's Gawking About It."

You can see it on their faces. People everywhere are amazed by our brand new Unbelievable Free Checking. After all, who'd believe no monthly service charge? Who'd believe no minimum balance? Who'd believe no per check charges? Well, believe it. At Norwest everyone's Gawking About It.

"Everyday's Gawking About It."
Send-off to honor senior volunteers

By SARAH DORAN
News Editor

Some 200 Notre Dame and Saint Mary's seniors planning to participate in up to three post-graduate community service will be honored tomorrow at the Center for Social Concerns' fifth annual Senior Volunteer Send-Off.

All students participating in service programs—as well as their family and friends—are invited to the ceremony beginning at 9 a.m. in Washington Hall. A reception will follow at the CSC.

University President Father Edward Malloy will preside over the ceremony and Cardinal Roger Etchegaray, president of the Pontifical Council for Justice and Peace, will address the graduates. Notre Dame graduate and former post-graduate volunteer Andrea Shappell will also speak, according to Father Don McNeill, director of the CSC, and Father Tom McDermott of Campus Ministry are also planned.

The ceremony will also include prayer, liturgical music and the lighting and passing of the candles.

Over 130 students have already registered to attend the ceremony, according to CSC senior volunteer coordinator Mary Ann Roemer, but she encourages those who have not yet signed up to attend as well.

Each year, between 150 and 200 students choose post-graduate volunteer work, according to Roemer. They work in this country and abroad in a variety of service positions, including drug and alcohol rehabilitation centers, Native American reservation schools, AIDS ministries, Catholic parishes, and rural and urban urban centers.

Among the established service programs, the seniors will join are the Holy Cross Associates, the Alliance for Catholic Education, the Jesuit Volunteer Corps, Teach for America, and the Peace Corps.

"They are students who want to deepen the experiences they have had here," said Roemer.

Many participants have already begun attending post-graduate schools or have been offered jobs, but have asked for deferments, she said.

"Volunteering gives participants a different perspective," said Roemer. "(Post-graduate service) helps you get things prioritized."

The Send-Off is a way for students and parents to celebrate the decision to serve, she said.

"It's important for the parents," she said. "They need to see that their children are not the only people doing this, that they are not stuck in a sixties time warp." "It's good for them to bear in mind that this is what we are all about, and also to hear from a former volunteer who has integrated her experiences into her career (Shappell)," said Roemer.

Last year over 125 graduating seniors attended the Send-Off, said Roemer. More than 500 people took part in the ceremony.

Lou Nanni, Notre Dame graduate and director of the Center for the Homeless, shared his experiences as a volunteer with the Holy Cross Associates program.

This year, Shappell, who participated in a one year post-graduate service program in New Orleans and currently teaches theology at Notre Dame, and Etchegaray, who has been responsible for numerous landmark Vatican documents on homelessness and other social issues, will address the graduates.

"Volunteering is a way for students to see that their children are not stuck in a sixties time warp," said Roemer. "But the Send-Off is just the first step in preparing graduating seniors for their service experience, said Roemer. "Volunteers undergoing training through their particular program, some starting as early as this summer."

Volunteers undergo training through their particular program, some starting as early as this summer.

Best Wishes to the Flanner Seniors

COnGRATULATIONS!

Christopher Adler
Michael Anderson
Erich Baker
Michael Barsic
Daniel Berg
Larry Bergman
Paul Bray
William Brennan
Brian Casey
Richard Casper
Brian Connor
Darren Cook
Lake Dawson
Scott Dennis
Jefferey Donarski
Keith Eppich
Michael Fereltec
Timothy Fischer
Nicholas Harmon
Christopher Hirai
Ivan Hoffman
Jose Humbert
James Irwin
Clint Johnson
Jason Joshrud
Sean Keene
Michael Kluk
Wilhelm Lehman
Douglas Lucas
Dennis Mackin
John Maneri
Lorenzo Martinez
Jeff Matsumoto
Douglas Maurer
Oscar McBride
Sean McHugh
Matthew Mohs
Anthony Muehlberger
Paul Picchine
Daniel Pier
Joseph Poe
Thomas Price
Albert Proctor
Christopher Putt
Gregory Ripple
Michael Rood
Timothy Ruddy
Eric Schimmel
Andrew Sinn
Mark Swenson
Aaron Taylor
Philip Tomskil
Matthew Wahoske
Clarke Warren
Christopher Welsh
John Wenman
Randy Zamora

Mark Feczko, Juris Doctor

Report presented to Board

By KATIE MURPHY
American News Editor

The year-long efforts of the student government Committee on Catholic Character culminated in a final report and presentation to the Board of Trustees last week.

The report, entitled "Renewing the Mission: A Student Perspective," was written by students in an interdisciplinary class focused on the undergraduate experience with Catholic Character. It is the first time that a student government committee has examined the subject.

"We're trying to create for you a picture of what the undergraduate life is like at Notre Dame," said Catherine Miller, chairwoman of the committee.

The report includes the composite results of 1500 student responses to a Catholic Character survey. It is divided into eight main sections: theology curriculum, Catholic teaching, residentiality, the Holy Cross Congregation, campus ministry, service, faculty hiring, and non-Catholics.

According to Miller, the central issue discussed at the meeting was the issue of residentiality. The student survey revealed that only 15 percent of respondents felt that the resident assistants (RAs) and the resident rectresses played a dominant role in their spiritual development at Notre Dame.
It's a bird, it's a plane, it's...

Notre Dame students and administrators view Tuesday's eclipse from the Field House Mall. The eclipse blocked out 90% of the sun's light in the South Bend Area.

SMC names new Board members

Special to the Observer

The office of the president at Saint Mary's College recently announced the newly elected members of the Board of Trustees for 1994-95. They are as follows:

- Kristina Berg of Lansing, Mich. is the 1994-95 student regent. She is a double major in Communications and Humanistic Studies.
- Patti Lurel Cook of Mankato, New York is a portfolio manager for Fischer, Humanistic Studies.
- Terrytown, New York is the member of the Association of presidents of Marymount College in South Bend. He is also a road construction consultant.
- The president of the Congregation of the Sisters of the Holy Cross is a recipient of an honor degree at this years commencement.
- Ann Meagher Vander Venett of Wilmot, Ill. recently completed her term as Alumnae Board representative on the Board of Regents. She previously was president of the Alumnae Association and president of the Chicago Alumnae Club.
- Beth Lichtenfels Veihmeyer of Portomac, Maryland is the new president of the Alumnae Association and the Alumnae representative on the Board of Trustees.
- Richard Wick of Dayton, Ohio is the president and owner of Industrial Grinding, Inc. and is a former member of the Parents Council. His daughter graduated from Saint Mary's in 1992.
- Darin Wiekamp of Mishawaka is the chairman of the board of Valley Financial Services, Inc. and Valley American Bank. He is also very active the South Bend and Mishawaka communities.

Best Wishes to Graduating Student-Athletes

From the Office of Academic Services for Student-Athletes

Baseball

Robert Birck
Martin DeGrall
Harry Durke
Matthew Haas
Gregory Layon
Richard Loveno
Thomas Price
Men's Basketball
Brooke Boyer
Carl Coten
John Ross
Joseph Ross
Bret Ryan
Women's Basketball
Andrea Alexander
Ratana Jones
Kristin Knapp
Kathryn Leary
Sherril Orlofsky Cheerleaders
Matthew Mea
Ryan Roberts
Darin Sipe
Taeiko Yoo
Men's Fencing
Jason Arnold
Rian Girard
Christopher Hajnik
Gregory Hokes
Gregory Ruple
Gregory Woznick
Women's Fencing
Kimberly Arndt
Corinne Dougherty
Marti Fischer
Maura Gallagher
Diana Garcia
Noelle Ries
Monica Wagner Football
Jason Beckwith
Pete Berchick (Dec. 1994)
Brent Bonanski
Jeffrey Burriss
John Corvington
Lake Dawson

Football (Cot)
Jim Flanagan (Dec. 1994)
Regional Eugene
Owen Gishon
Robert Hughes
Ralph "Rocket" Ismail
Dan Lusto
Gregory Lange
Robert Leonard
Deane Luke
Andrew Marsh
Gregory Price (Dec. 1994)
Kevin McDougall
Michael McGinn
Brian Meter
Kevin Pendergast
Anthony Peterson
Timothy Rudy
LeShane Sader
Aarion Taylor (Dec. 1994)
Stuart Tyner
Bryan Young Men's Golf
Jason Johnston
Tod Kline
Women's Golf
Alexis Newell
Alicia Murray
Denise Paul Hockey
Thomas Arrell
Brent Lothrop
Gregg Lowder
Matthew Oacsek Lacrosse
William Ahmuty
Randall Colley
Mark Heaslt
Steven Manley
Geri Levy
Peter Snyder
Robert Snyder
William Sutton

Managers
Jonathan Ashman
Terry Baker
Joseph Barone
Glen Casey
Michael Cox
Christopher Daba
Sheldon Pink
Kristen Herron
Michele Kletas
Erika Lindberg
Raphael Nicolosi
Peter O'Reilly
Jonathan Rock
Christine Rudolph John Salerno
Amy Schottel
Michael Sullivan
David Walters
Richard Wood
Men's Soccer
Jack Elluse
Michael Palmer
Women's Soccer
Brenda Gorski (Dec. 1994)
Andrea Kurek
Gennifer Kwiatkowski Alison Lester
Jill Matesis
Stephanie Porter
Natalie Strawbridge
Softball
Christy Conner
Caroline Miller
Stephanie Postor
Amy Rutler
Men's Swimming
Pamela Cad
Brian Casey
George Dalry
James Doran
Kevin Flanagan
Sean Hyer
Women's Swimming
Victoria Catenzi
Alacia Fetherly
Angela Menard
Kristin Healy
Karen Keely
Men's Tennis
Eoin Beirne
Theodore Eckert
Allan Lopez
Thomas North
Women's Tennis
Christen Faustmann
Lisa Thelen
Terri Vitale
Trainer
Nicole Egan
Kristen Lefere
Men's Track
Daniel Amite
Craig Christian
Michael Conley
John Cowan
Robert Herman
Nathan Knuth
Brian Kubik
Jeff Matsumoto
Michael McWilliam
David Pratt
Emero Euan
Christopher Ross
Jonathan Schetter
James Trautman
Women's Track
Laura Guyer
Volleyball
Ryan Boule
Julie Hartr
Janelle Kark
Molly Stark

Student Office Worker
Collete LaForce

Roz. Tara, Anne & Angela

All we can say is: how do you spell that? how is hune? when are you comint in? and bandito's or club?

Seriously, you will all be missed in the office. Be it for your skill, your commitment, or just your humor. The advertising department has graduated a truly fine class.

Congratulations from all of us!

-Ads
Cheney to speak at SMC Commencement

Lynne Cheney, a recipient of an honorary doctorate of humanities, has been chosen as the Saint Mary's Sesquicentennial year Commencement Speaker. Cheney served as chairman of The National Endowment for the Humanities from 1986-1993. She is currently the W.H. Brady Jr., Distinguished Fellow at the American Enterprise Institute for Public Policy Research, an independent non-partisan organization sponsoring original research on domestic and international economic policy, foreign and defense policy, and social and political issues.

Cheney is a well known champion of the humanities and has spoken forcefully against political correctness on campuses, seeing it as a threat to free speech and intellectual life. Cheney was appointed chairman of the NEH by President Reagan and reappointed by President Bush. During her two terms she called for a "back-to-basics" approach to humanities instruction, especially at the high school level. In a 1986 interview with the New York Times, she said, "Citizens of a democracy have to be able to think critically and judge wisely, that's what the humanities teach us."

She is frequently credited with raising federal awareness of the importance of the humanities and the need to increase the endowment of the NEH. Under her chairmanship, significant attention was paid to "preserving America's heritage" by the awarding of grants to such projects as Ken Burns' acclaimed public television series "The Civil War".

In her third annual report, "50 Hours", Cheney wrote of the need to call on colleges and universities to reduce electives in favor of an expanded curriculum in what she called essential areas of knowledge. This curriculum should include 18 hours of courses in cultures and civilizations, including a year of courses in the civilizations of Africa, East and South Asia, Islam or Latin America and two years of a foreign language.

In "50 Hours", Cheney heralds the value of teaching, a value cherished for 150 years at Saint Mary's College. Cheney writes, "Good teaching is crucial to the success of any curriculum ... teachers who inspire their students to intellectual engagement are themselves always engaged."

CONGRATULATIONS TO ALL THE SENIORS AND THEIR FAMILIES.

Special thanks to those of you who have contributed the time and effort to Campus Ministry.
Smoller evidences dedication

By KATIE MURPHY
Associate News Editor

Carol Smoller's career of service at Notre Dame has centered on her commitment to the Hispanic community.

As co-founder and current president of the Community Alliance to Serve Hispanics (CASH), Smoller has been instrumental in organizing a tutoring program and a Saturday kids club. Some CASH members also work as interpreters within the community.

"Basically, CASH unites students from Notre Dame who are interested in serving the Hispanic community with organizations which are already established," said Smoller.

A government and Spanish major from Madison, Wis., Smoller has also earned a Latin American studies concentration. She spent her sophomore year in Mexico City, where she volunteered for Amnesty International, and she will be traveling to Chile after graduation.

"I have won a Fulbright Scholarship to go do research in Chile next year. I will study the "Transition in the Police Force from the Pinochet Dictatorship to the Current Democracy. It's one of the safer places to study human rights," said Smoller.

Smoller's Fulbright study as well as her senior concentration paper focus human rights, one of her main interests.

"Human rights work naturally has a service bent to it. I am going to Harvard to study human rights law (after Chile)," said Smoller.

In addition to her work with CASH, Smoller is the service commissioner for the Spanish Club, a member of the student advisory board for the Center for Social Concerns and the Community for the International Lay Apostolate (CILA).

Recently, Smoller was awarded the Mara Fox Award for Service to the Hispanic Community and the Robert D. Nuner Award.

"I've grown a lot through my service," he said.

Curtis' activities join students, community

By KATIE MURPHY
Associate News Editor

Scott Curtis' activities during his four years at Notre Dame have extended beyond the borders of the campus. As a Sorin Hall resident assistant and co-president, Curtis brought together students and the community in a number of events.

Three years ago, Curtis, a senior mathematics major from Boise, Idaho, helped organize the first of several Christmas parties for the residents of South Bend's Center for the Homeless.

"Basically it was a gift giving program," said Curtis.

The Sorin residents received wish lists from the parents of the children in the Center and then purchased gifts for them. Nearly one-third of the dorm regularly participated.

"We also prepared dinner for the guests and after that we had caroling," said Curtis.

One of the highlights of Curtis' involvement with the Center was his Santa Claus appearance, when he distributed the gifts to the children at the party.

"I think everyone should play Santa Claus at least once before they die," said Curtis.

Curtis also created a service trip to Appalachia for forty Sorin residents last fall.

"I thought it would be neat for the guys to experience the area and really see what rural poverty is like. The people are just wonderful there," said Curtis.

Next year Curtis will participate in the Holy Cross Associates Chile program. He plans to stay in Chile for two and a half years and then teach high school.

Just one more game

Seniors Nicole Rizzo and Pat Cady enjoy the weather of senior week with a golf game at the Burke Memorial Gold Course.

Two essential ingredients for a perfect date: A date and this.

SHOCK YOUR PARENTS!! GET A JOB!

Need a temporary start working in corporations throughout the Chicagoland area? We can help! Our service specializes in Legal/ Clerical support and Light Industrial jobs. Please call us today at 1-800-701-HERO (4376) for an office near you! EOE

INTERIM PERSONNEL © Visa U.S.A. Inc. 1994
Attorney General's Column

The Hickory Village

Love Affair

Look At What $235 Can Get You:
- Great One-Bedroom Apartment
  - (Efficiencies from $900)
- Two Bathrooms Available from $235
- Sparkling Pool
- Large Kitchen
- Beautiful Clothesline
- Free Apartment Classes
- Acres of Rolling Lawns and Trees
- Amtex Staff
- Laundry Facilities
- Cable TV Available
- Daytime - Close to Shopping
- Air Conditioning
- 24 Hour Emergency Maintenance

Attorney General's Column

Hickory Village

Love Affair

You've come a long way, McGuff!

Congratulations,

Love,

Mom, Dad, Carrie, & Brandy

ATTENTION ALL WING LOVERS!

Come, join us for a BLAST at our newest location near Service Merchandise.

Congratulations to the Class of 1991

ASK ABOUT OUR WALL OF FAME

Big-Screen TV • Darts • Video Games

University Center 6502 N. Grape Rd.

Phone 273-0088

We invite you to come in and check out our Specials!
As I write this final column, I recline comfortably under a towering statue in the middle of God quad, nestled between the statues of Father Sorin and a towering tree in the middle of the Notre Dame campus. What comes to mind is the question that swims in many of our minds: "What makes Notre Dame so special?"

There is no question that some of our relatives at other universities would say that Notre Dame is not special. But the accompanying media coverage that sensationalizes our antics on and off the playing field merely prove the point. Is there not more to Notre Dame than football? Of course there is. For the scant ten of you who have answered affirmatively, I shall make another distinction. Which is not to say we do not or should not aspire to excel academically. That component of Notre Dame specialness does not encapsulate it alone.

First, our specialness does not originate from football tradition, legendary though it is. There is no question that some of our fondest memories revolve around the home games, road trips and tailgates. But the accompanying media coverage that sensationalizes our antics on and off the playing field merely prove my point as well as beg the question. Is there not more to life at Notre Dame than football?

Second, Notre Dame is not special because of our high academic standards. Although U.S. News and World Report insists that a great American university must meet certain quantitative criteria, few of us think the faculty-student ratio and number of endowed chairs contribute to our specialness. This is not to say we do not or should not aspire to excel academically. That component of Notre Dame simply does not address the question of specialness. Third, and I will go out on a limb here, our specialness does not derive solely from our being a Catholic school. Our religious affiliation contributes immensely toward our specialness, but it does not encapsulate it alone. There is still something more to Notre Dame. Why don't more of us in general speak as passionately and with as much vigor about Brigham Young or Southern Methodist Universities, for example? Finally, the basic features that apply to all college settings do not make us special. By these features I refer to the gradual or abrupt exposure of our innocence, the discovery of truth through experimentation and disenchantment, and all the other pursuits that seem to inhere with youth adulthood. These tremendously eye-opening experiences conceivably could have occurred at Northwestern, Georgetown or Duke. So what makes Notre Dame special?

One may argue that each of these points which I rejected as unimportant makes, and will always make, us unique. But it is special because of what could only be called the Notre Dame experience, and it is special. To a certain extent, unity should naturally result from an underlying, unifying group of people with similar ages, interests, values and levels of maturity to come together and grow. But the fact remains that few schools can boast of the unified spirit that seems to electrify Notre Dame. People here seem to care about one another just a little more than the average world does. That realization, I think, hastens our thanksgiving as well as our sadness in leaving.

I am not claiming that we are perfect or even believe we are. Instead, I think that the blending of our unique dimensions makes for what could only be called the Notre Dame experience, and it is special.

What has been most exhilarating is the experience of being a Notre Dame student. People here seem to care about one another just a little more than the average world does. That realization, I think, hastens our thanksgiving as well as our sadness in leaving.

I am not claiming that we are perfect or even believe we are. Instead, I think that the blending of our unique dimensions makes for what could only be called the Notre Dame experience, and it is special.

Suzanne Mendenhall
O'Hara blesses Class of '94

Dear Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to extend my congratulations to the members of the Class of 1994. Commencement is a time of major achievement and great opportunity to extend my congratulations to each of you.

Dear Editor:

I hope you have achieved our goal of providing you with an education that integrates the life of the mind with the life of the heart. May your faith in God and your dedication to your chosen vocation and profession continue to grow.

KIRSTEN DUNNE

Desiderata

Remember the Justice, and then find a legacy

We lost perhaps the greatest Justice of the century in 1990 when William Blackmun retired from the United States Supreme Court. Recently, however, a man who closely approached him in brilliance and equity left the Court, this being Harry Blackmun. The events of this year's achievements have been somewhat overshadowed by criticism and conjecture we might be able to judge.

I suppose we are only natural to espouse the career as honorable as Justice Blackmun. It is also quite clear that Justice Blackmun deeply appreciates the aspect of loving relationships which is evident both emotionally and in his just reasoning.

Paul Pearson is a 1993 graduateme editor and writer for The Observer. He works as a reporter for The Christian Science Monitor in Tampa, Florida.

O'Hara blesses Class of '94

Dear Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to express my congratulations to the members of the Class of 1994. Commencement is a time of major achievement and great opportunity to extend my congratulations to each of you.

Dear Editor:

I hope you have achieved our goal of providing you with an education that integrates the life of the mind with the life of the heart. May your faith in God and your dedication to your chosen vocation and profession continue to grow.

KIRSTEN DUNNE

Desiderata

Remember the Justice, and then find a legacy

We lost perhaps the greatest Justice of the century in 1990 when William Blackmun retired from the United States Supreme Court. Recently, however, a man who closely approached him in brilliance and equity left the Court, this being Harry Blackmun. The events of this year's achievements have been somewhat overshadowed by criticism and conjecture we might be able to judge.

I suppose we are only natural to espouse the career as honorable as Justice Blackmun. It is also quite clear that Justice Blackmun deeply appreciates the aspect of loving relationships which is evident both emotionally and in his just reasoning.

Paul Pearson is a 1993 graduateme editor and writer for The Observer. He works as a reporter for The Christian Science Monitor in Tampa, Florida.

O'Hara blesses Class of '94

Dear Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to express my congratulations to the members of the Class of 1994. Commencement is a time of major achievement and great opportunity to extend my congratulations to each of you.

Dear Editor:

I hope you have achieved our goal of providing you with an education that integrates the life of the mind with the life of the heart. May your faith in God and your dedication to your chosen vocation and profession continue to grow.

KIRSTEN DUNNE

Desiderata

Remember the Justice, and then find a legacy

We lost perhaps the greatest Justice of the century in 1990 when William Blackmun retired from the United States Supreme Court. Recently, however, a man who closely approached him in brilliance and equity left the Court, this being Harry Blackmun. The events of this year's achievements have been somewhat overshadowed by criticism and conjecture we might be able to judge.

I suppose we are only natural to espouse the career as honorable as Justice Blackmun. It is also quite clear that Justice Blackmun deeply appreciates the aspect of loving relationships which is evident both emotionally and in his just reasoning.

Paul Pearson is a 1993 graduateme editor and writer for The Observer. He works as a reporter for The Christian Science Monitor in Tampa, Florida.

Remember the Justice, and then find a legacy

We lost perhaps the greatest Justice of the century in 1990 when William Blackmun retired from the United States Supreme Court. Recently, however, a man who closely approached him in brilliance and equity left the Court, this being Harry Blackmun. The events of this year's achievements have been somewhat overshadowed by criticism and conjecture we might be able to judge.

I suppose we are only natural to espouse the career as honorable as Justice Blackmun. It is also quite clear that Justice Blackmun deeply appreciates the aspect of loving relationships which is evident both emotionally and in his just reasoning.

Paul Pearson is a 1993 graduateme editor and writer for The Observer. He works as a reporter for The Christian Science Monitor in Tampa, Florida.

Remember the Justice, and then find a legacy

We lost perhaps the greatest Justice of the century in 1990 when William Blackmun retired from the United States Supreme Court. Recently, however, a man who closely approached him in brilliance and equity left the Court, this being Harry Blackmun. The events of this year's achievements have been somewhat overshadowed by criticism and conjecture we might be able to judge.

I suppose we are only natural to espouse the career as honorable as Justice Blackmun. It is also quite clear that Justice Blackmun deeply appreciates the aspect of loving relationships which is evident both emotionally and in his just reasoning.

Paul Pearson is a 1993 graduateme editor and writer for The Observer. He works as a reporter for The Christian Science Monitor in Tampa, Florida.

Remember the Justice, and then find a legacy

We lost perhaps the greatest Justice of the century in 1990 when William Blackmun retired from the United States Supreme Court. Recently, however, a man who closely approached him in brilliance and equity left the Court, this being Harry Blackmun. The events of this year's achievements have been somewhat overshadowed by criticism and conjecture we might be able to judge.

I suppose we are only natural to espouse the career as honorable as Justice Blackmun. It is also quite clear that Justice Blackmun deeply appreciates the aspect of loving relationships which is evident both emotionally and in his just reasoning.

Paul Pearson is a 1993 graduateme editor and writer for The Observer. He works as a reporter for The Christian Science Monitor in Tampa, Florida.

Remember the Justice, and then find a legacy

We lost perhaps the greatest Justice of the century in 1990 when William Blackmun retired from the United States Supreme Court. Recently, however, a man who closely approached him in brilliance and equity left the Court, this being Harry Blackmun. The events of this year's achievements have been somewhat overshadowed by criticism and conjecture we might be able to judge.

I suppose we are only natural to espouse the career as honorable as Justice Blackmun. It is also quite clear that Justice Blackmun deeply appreciates the aspect of loving relationships which is evident both emotionally and in his just reasoning.

Paul Pearson is a 1993 graduateme editor and writer for The Observer. He works as a reporter for The Christian Science Monitor in Tampa, Florida.
The truth about life after graduation

BY ELIZABETH REGAN
Senior Man's Editor

The "Real World" is the part of the universe lurking outside the locked gates of your home school and where women and men grow into residence after graduating from college.

"It's just like you're still in the college life, but you don't have to study."

The essence of the "Real World," according to Peter Hendrick, a 1988 Chicago resident graduate with a degree in English.

Eileen McCaffrey, a 1991 graduate of St. Michael's College in Vermont with a Philosophy degree, admits that this is her time "to play" and "to do what she wants to do."

Is life after college really more wild than college?

Well, these men and women may have graduated into the real world and according to them, it is not all fun and games.

"I certainly make a lot more money now," said Ken Parch, a twenty-four-year-old computer gramer for a Chicago financial company.

"It's not all what I thought it would be like," said Hendrick. "It's a lot more competitive than I thought and good opportunities are harder to come by."

Through a great deal of added stress after graduation, according to Molly Carrane, a twenty-four-year-old Chicago resident working as an assistant director for Head Start.

McCaffrey said she has had to face many more responsibilities since leaving college. "I'm not surprised about the things I have to worry about, just that there is so much more to worry about now," McCaffrey added. "Just things like having medical insurance and the right kind of security."

According to graduates, roomers and room board are not as bad as some everyone once thought.

"You can't be as trusting as you can in college," says Co-Editor Mullaney, Grace Hall senior and area manager for a nuclear engineering of submarines.

"Women may welcome the challenge of independence and breaking free from some of the college confines," said Mullaney. "I don't feel like I am being totally cut off."

"I just do the uncertain about what I am doing, but I do fear the uncertainty about what I am doing in a few years from now."

"This is the time in my life to just do what I think is right before taking in the last lesson in really making my own decisions," Waterkotte added.

These decisions will perhaps be foreign to some who have found comfort in the rules and routine of Notre Dame life.

"Notre Dame is such a safe community and I have gotten used to being around certain quality of people," Mullaney explained. "I will definitely miss the sense of Notre Dame community."

"Now is the time to present to yourself that you can survive."

"Life is on your own," said Carrane, a 1991 graduate of St. John's College, Arizona University in Cleveland, with a sociology degree.

For others, after graduation a marriage and a family becomes part of the master plan.

"My priorities have changed after marriage," Parch said. "I just don't go out to the bars with my friends every Friday night anymore."

"Waterkotte who will live and work in her home state of Arizona in order to save money for medical school."

"Since I lived in the dorms all four years, I took a lot of stuff for granted in college when my parents would pay for it," said Parch.

"I am planning to live at home in Indianapolis for the summer to save money for an apartment in the fall," said Feaster.

"I think I'll be able to manage the real world because I am so independent now," said Kevin Waterkotte who will live and work in her home state of Arizona in order to save money for medical school.

"I just don't know what I'm going to do all day," Feaster said.

"Being on my own?" Mullaney said. "I dig it!"
Shannon Schwarz continues her schooling on stage

By LYNN BAUWENS
Saint Mary's Accent Editor

Three days after she arrived at Saint Mary's, Shannon Schwarz auditioned for a play even though her only previous experience with the theater was a high school production.
Now a graduating senior, Schwarz was bitten by the 'acting bug' early and has been involved in at least one and often as many as four productions a semester.

"I am all over the place in the theater," admitted the English Writing, Literature, and Theater triple major.

Aside from her busy academic and rehearsal schedule, Schwarz finds time to work as a house manager and stage manager at O'Laughlin Auditorium.
She also spends her time as an actress, writer, designer, director and producer. Despite the long hours that she dedicates to the theater, she enjoys the work. "I do not think of the theater as work," she said.
"It is more my life now. I love to write and direct the best.
Even though I have been in many plays as an actress, I still think of myself as a writer and a director."

Schwarz kept herself busy this semester with directing "Twelfth Night," acting in "You Can't Take it with You," and preparing her own piece.
Schwarz wrote and directed her own play, "Facing Julia," which was presented April 29 and 30.
"My favorite overall experience was 'Facing Julia.' I wrote it in January of this year, rewrote it in February and March and felt that it was ready to be presented," she said. "It came together in April. The actors became the characters-it was like talking to the character that I created- a manifestation of what I wrote."

The work of a director is not easy.
Schwarz has found it challinging, but rewarding.

"I find step­ back and trying to get a clear view to be the most challenging. I get very caught up in the moment.
Trying to keep it together as the big picture is the big chalenge of a director," she explained.

The Katy, Texas, native does not have theater in the blood, but she says that her family is artistic.
While they have been unable to visit Stewarz to see a production on stage, they are supportive.
"They humor me," she said laughing. "They are actually very supportive. I bring home the videotapes every year, but being so far away, they really have no idea how much work I do."

Schwarz's work on campus has not gone unnoticed.
Schwarz received the excellence in theater award from the department at Saint Mary's.

"I wanted to thank everyone-especially the department," she said. "They have been so supportive. It has been phenomenal."

After graduation, Schwarz plans to continue to pursue her love for the theater. She has been accepted into the New York University graduate program but plans to take a year off to work professionally in New York.

"I am looking forward to the real world," Schwarz said.
She plans to continue writing and directing, hoping someday to make it big and take her work to Broadway.
Saying “Yes” to the greater glory of God

Father Robert Griffin
Letters to a Lonely God

"They are not long, the days of wine and roses," and so I tried to warn Brian that once he entered, if he wanted to survive his first fervor as a seminarian, he would need to generate his own grace under pressure, which Hemingway called "guts." In Knox’s parody, "The tumult and the shouting dies/The captains and the kings depart/And we are left with large supplies/of cold blanmcange and rhubarb tart.

Once the lad finds himself alone with the Alone, which can feel like nada, he might discover that nine-tenth of his vocation is sheer emotion. The other one-tenth could be enough to survive on, if he has guts or true grit. Brian explained how he had been in love, for a very long time, with a girl, to whom he spoke often of his interest in becoming a Jesuit or a Dominican. Finally, she asked him to decide between a monk's life or marriage. Apparently, that is when four-tenths of Brian’s soul could mean that you're flying by the seat of your pants. "It's for the great glory of God," is the motto of the Society of Jesus, but I wasn’t sure if it applied to Brian’s decision to become a Jesuit. If Brian were to decide to become a husband and father, would that detract from the glory of God? I doubt whether God’s greater glory would be diminished if Brian should choose to grow old and become one flesh with her. The lad could be suffering from spiritual pride if he thinks otherwise.

As far as I was concerned, my lunch with Brian had turned into a bust, for we’d been talking all the while at Cross-purpose. From where he was on Cloud Nine, he didn’t want to hear that God does not need man’s work to keep Him glorious as the Numero Uno. Maybe Brian, being more innocent, knows more about the greater glory of God than I do. Why should I presume to warn him not to be confused by a sales pitch for the religion that even doctors of the Church have good? Brian would have been scandalized if I had advised him to avoid reading the Christian masterworks, in search of inspiration. A beginner can get lost in the honeycomb of conclusions which the saints promise us will be there, at the end of life’s day. A lad can be disappointed when he discovers that honey from the rock will not be available to him very soon. Even members of the Dead Poets’ Society know that three men lead lives of quiet desperation. It’s the same way with Christian when they’re starting out. Catholics with vocations are typically kept an arm’s length away from the Lonely God; and it might feel to them that the vocation they have is to be lonely Catholics, going home by the way of the Cross. Faith can mean that you’re flying blind, placing all your reliance on a wing and a prayer.

Still, the jewel of great price is a grain of faith that we can harvest from reading a Gildean Bible found in a hotel room. Faith should make us understand that "it was for this grotesque world a God died," and therefore we should be bitterly ashamed of what we have made of ourselves as a human race. Graham Greene says, "Man needs, if not a faith, at least a superstition to live by." The Frenchman Malraux wrote, "The genius of Christianity is to have proclaimed that the path to the deepest mystery is the path of love." Is it an insult to the intelligence to believe that God is love, as we learn from the generosities of Christ in giving Himself up for us? Of course, the scandal of the Cross is the scandal of the way the members are divided by lovers’ quarrels; insulted by the politics of religion; we tend to feel wing- weary as Christians. Bilke with us, all are falling. This band’s falling too—fall have this falling sickness none withstands. And yet there’s always One whose gentle hands have this universal falling can’t fall through.

The Church often seems to be a picture-image of the world which is grotesque with selfishness; but in the Body of Christ, wherever sin abounds, grace abounds more. Mercy and forgiveness are available for the rank and file of us who fall by the wayside. In the Church, the love of God is made visible in the face of the Crueled, and of all the myths of Death and Transfiguration, Christ is the centerpiece. Why move away from Him? “It is he that betray thee, who betrayed Me.”

Even when love is in ruins, the Church will survive. Graham Greene has a story of the last Pope, doomed to rule over a Church which has ceased to exist. After every Catholic has been executed, the Pope alone is authorized to live, and there are no other survivors. Finally, even he is called in, and told that the time has come for him to die on the spot. The last Christian who still believes.

The ruling Big Brother “took a revolver out of his desk. He granted the Pope a moment to pray. . . . Then he shot him in the left side of the chest and leaned forward over the body to give the coup de grace. At that instant, in the second between the pressure on the trigger and the skull cracking, a thought crossed the Executioner’s mind: ‘Is it possible that what this man believed is true?’ Another Christian.”

For all I know, a lad like Brian could be destined to become the last Pope. Maybe someone as close at hand as Brian is, has been destined, by doing the work of the anti-Christ in pulling the trigger, to become the last Christian. Is anyone, from this time and place, asking "Is it, Lord?"
Rockets hope to rebound from Game 2 debacle

By MEL REISNER
Associated Press

PHOENIX

Somehow, the Houston Rockets have to rebound from blowing a 20-point lead in the fourth quarter of the Western Conference semifinals. The question is, how?

Their unusual dry spell - the Rockets have to rebound from a 2-0 split with the Atlanta Hawks - is the biggest game of the season for both teams.

"We had a chance to bury them," Charles Reed, an Atlanta agent, said before Saturday's news conference last night. "But we didn't finish.

"We need to get back in win mode," Reed said. "We need to get back for the season's sake for us." Reed said if it all doesn't work out, he'll move on to the next season.

Phoenix's Charles Barkley said virtually the same thing. "We're 2-2 right now, but it's over. If we lose, it's going to give us some confidence," Barkley said.

It won't be easy for the Rockets to make up for the 91-87, has run out of magic, he said. "We feel real confident," Smith said. "It took two miracles to finish us, and I think the miracles are finished. Everyone knows how good the game is, but it's a race to four. When four is over, that's when the real game starts."

He said coach Rudy Tomjanovich emphasized getting back to basics.

"There's certain things that were very easy again that the team, so in that sense, I think overall the team that were successful weren't successful for us Wednesday. So now we just have to evaluate why they weren't," Smith said.

---

FSU situation likely won't be resolved soon

By BRENT KALLEDST
Associated Press

The notes released by the Florida State news office Thursday indicated the depth of Florida State's concern after the school was first notified of the allegations by SI reporters.

"There is no doubt in my mind that this is reported at Florida State, in the state of Florida and across the United States, there is a major problem with some sports agents, especially the unscrupulous agent because there is so much money involved," Reed said.

The sources, however, said Florida State officials sought to portray the agents in a poor light, but Reed said the officials are needed to pressure the schools to use their voice to protect their obligations.

"The worst thing would be to hurt us," he said, adding the investigation into the University of Florida basketball program in the late 1980s lasted 18 months.

"Nothing would be more difficult than for a 20-point lead in the series which resumes Friday night in the America West Arena.

The NBA doesn't keep track of comebacks from deficits of the fourth period, but the Rockets' 100-82 lead after three quarters was the biggest in playoff history.

The New York Knicks were 16 points down after three periods against Boston on April 22, 1969, but came back to win in double overtime.

"We had nothing to lose," Phoenix forward A.C. Green said. "We were already down 400,000 points or something."

Now, the Suns have something to win. They could end the series today without re-turning to Houston. And, if the Rockets want to erase memories of Phoenix comeback with one of their own, the time is now.

"It was the biggest game of the season for the Hawks," guards guard Vernon Maxwell said Thursday. "This is the biggest game of the series for us."

Phoenix's Charles Barkley said virtually the same thing. "We're 2-2, but it's over. If we lose, it's going to give us some confidence," Barkley said.

---

Classifieds

NOTICES

URGENT REUNION OPPORTUNITY FOR PROFESSIONAL FAMILY ON LAKE LANIER. MAY 15, 1994. PLEASE CALL 614-241-2500 OR 404-1300 FOR INFORMATION.

FOR RENT

BED & BREAKFAST REGISTRY IDENTIFIED EVENTS (219)532-7153

BULLA ROAD 3 ROOM WALK TO CAMPUS AVAIL. NOW 272-6306

RATT'S TO benefit Collette A. Wisher, Child Cancer Foundation or Football signed by all Hawks. Call Scott 634-3984. 634-3984.

FOR BOOKS $5 EACH WEEKDAY $20 EACH WEEKEND. Contact Sean top fav. 634-3984. 634-3984.

SUNDAY Classifieds

---

Classifieds

---

NOTICES

URGENT REUNION OPPORTUNITY FOR PROFESSIONAL FAMILY ON LAKE LANIER. MAY 15, 1994. PLEASE CALL 614-241-2500 OR 404-1300 FOR INFORMATION.

FOR RENT

BED & BREAKFAST REGISTRY IDENTIFIED EVENTS (219)532-7153

BULLA ROAD 3 ROOM WALK TO CAMPUS AVAIL. NOW 272-6306

RATT'S TO benefit Collette A. Wisher, Child Cancer Foundation or Football signed by all Hawks. Call Scott 634-3984. 634-3984.

FOR BOOKS $5 EACH WEEKDAY $20 EACH WEEKEND. Contact Sean top fav. 634-3984. 634-3984.

---

Classifieds

---

NOTICES

URGENT REUNION OPPORTUNITY FOR PROFESSIONAL FAMILY ON LAKE LANIER. MAY 15, 1994. PLEASE CALL 614-241-2500 OR 404-1300 FOR INFORMATION.

FOR RENT

BED & BREAKFAST REGISTRY IDENTIFIED EVENTS (219)532-7153

BULLA ROAD 3 ROOM WALK TO CAMPUS AVAIL. NOW 272-6306

RATT'S TO benefit Collette A. Wisher, Child Cancer Foundation or Football signed by all Hawks. Call Scott 634-3984. 634-3984.

FOR BOOKS $5 EACH WEEKDAY $20 EACH WEEKEND. Contact Sean top fav. 634-3984. 634-3984.

---

Classifieds

---

NOTICES

URGENT REUNION OPPORTUNITY FOR PROFESSIONAL FAMILY ON LAKE LANIER. MAY 15, 1994. PLEASE CALL 614-241-2500 OR 404-1300 FOR INFORMATION.

FOR RENT

BED & BREAKFAST REGISTRY IDENTIFIED EVENTS (219)532-7153

BULLA ROAD 3 ROOM WALK TO CAMPUS AVAIL. NOW 272-6306

RATT'S TO benefit Collette A. Wisher, Child Cancer Foundation or Football signed by all Hawks. Call Scott 634-3984. 634-3984.

FOR BOOKS $5 EACH WEEKDAY $20 EACH WEEKEND. Contact Sean top fav. 634-3984. 634-3984.

---

Classifieds

---

NOTICES

URGENT REUNION OPPORTUNITY FOR PROFESSIONAL FAMILY ON LAKE LANIER. MAY 15, 1994. PLEASE CALL 614-241-2500 OR 404-1300 FOR INFORMATION.

FOR RENT

BED & BREAKFAST REGISTRY IDENTIFIED EVENTS (219)532-7153

BULLA ROAD 3 ROOM WALK TO CAMPUS AVAIL. NOW 272-6306

RATT'S TO benefit Collette A. Wisher, Child Cancer Foundation or Football signed by all Hawks. Call Scott 634-3984. 634-3984.

FOR BOOKS $5 EACH WEEKDAY $20 EACH WEEKEND. Contact Sean top fav. 634-3984. 634-3984.

---

Classifieds

---

NOTICES

URGENT REUNION OPPORTUNITY FOR PROFESSIONAL FAMILY ON LAKE LANIER. MAY 15, 1994. PLEASE CALL 614-241-2500 OR 404-1300 FOR INFORMATION.

FOR RENT

BED & BREAKFAST REGISTRY IDENTIFIED EVENTS (219)532-7153

BULLA ROAD 3 ROOM WALK TO CAMPUS AVAIL. NOW 272-6306

RATT'S TO benefit Collette A. Wisher, Child Cancer Foundation or Football signed by all Hawks. Call Scott 634-3984. 634-3984.

FOR BOOKS $5 EACH WEEKDAY $20 EACH WEEKEND. Contact Sean top fav. 634-3984. 634-3984.

---

Classifieds

---

NOTICES

URGENT REUNION OPPORTUNITY FOR PROFESSIONAL FAMILY ON LAKE LANIER. MAY 15, 1994. PLEASE CALL 614-241-2500 OR 404-1300 FOR INFORMATION.

FOR RENT

BED & BREAKFAST REGISTRY IDENTIFIED EVENTS (219)532-7153

BULLA ROAD 3 ROOM WALK TO CAMPUS AVAIL. NOW 272-6306

RATT'S TO benefit Collette A. Wisher, Child Cancer Foundation or Football signed by all Hawks. Call Scott 634-3984. 634-3984.

FOR BOOKS $5 EACH WEEKDAY $20 EACH WEEKEND. Contact Sean top fav. 634-3984. 634-3984.

---

Classifieds

---

NOTICES

URGENT REUNION OPPORTUNITY FOR PROFESSIONAL FAMILY ON LAKE LANIER. MAY 15, 1994. PLEASE CALL 614-241-2500 OR 404-1300 FOR INFORMATION.

FOR RENT

BED & BREAKFAST REGISTRY IDENTIFIED EVENTS (219)532-7153

BULLA ROAD 3 ROOM WALK TO CAMPUS AVAIL. NOW 272-6306

RATT'S TO benefit Collette A. Wisher, Child Cancer Foundation or Football signed by all Hawks. Call Scott 634-3984. 634-3984.

FOR BOOKS $5 EACH WEEKDAY $20 EACH WEEKEND. Contact Sean top fav. 634-3984. 634-3984.
New York defense knocking Bulls title hopes

By RICK GANO

The Chicago Bulls' three-year reign as NBA champions is slipping away because the New York Knicks are stripping the basketball with an annoying fourth-quarter defense that has produced a 2-0 series lead.

"They put the physical pressure on you the whole game and by the fourth quarter you wear down," Bulls coach Phil Jackson said after a film and practice session Thursday. "You pull a sled around like a dog train for a while and you get their body to carry yours for three quarters."

The Bulls had a 15-point lead in the second half of Game 1 but shot only 5-of-16 in the final period and lost 90-86. In Game 2 Wednesday night, Chicago led by eight in the fourth quarter and by the fourth quarter you put the physical on them.

"I take pleasure in shutting a team down in the fourth quarter," said New York's rugged forward Anthony Mason.

"We need to finish off games when we have the lead in the fourth quarter. I feel we'll play a lot better at home," said Scottie Pippen, who had 22 points and missed 10-of-15 shots before fouling out Wednesday night.

"When they're pressuring us and we're on the road, you can't hear your teammates telling you the shot clock is running down. That will help a lot when we're back home,"

Need he reminded before Friday night's Game 3 at Chicago Stadium, the Bulls lost the first two games in New York a year ago and then regrouped to win four straight on route to their third straight title.

But that's when they had the current right fielder of the Birmingham Barons, a guy named Jordan, there to take the game over the final minutes.

"Put it this way. If he was here, we would have won these two ball games," said Horace Grant.

But he's not and the Bulls are not making the plays or the shots in the stretch against New York's relentless defensive pressure.

"I don't think our problem is offense," Pippen said. "I think it's stopping them on defense and not letting them have second shots."

"We have to win this next game. Maybe it will start them thinking about last year. But we have to play all four quarters, not just the first three,"

Added Bulls guard B.J. Armstrong: "Because of fatigue, personnel, foul trouble, you've got guys out there who aren't experienced at playing at that point in the game. We have to learn how to do things down the stretch."

New York guard John Starks, who hit a pair of 3-pointers in the final quarter Wednesday night, says the Knicks learned from their playoff elimination last year.

"We know what the situation is and how to control it this year," he said. "We have to go out to Chicago and play much harder than we did last year. We had the attitude that we could afford to give a game away. But we can't do that."

Game 4 of the best-of-7 series is Sunday in Chicago.

"We should be confident, but not overconfident," Knicks center Patrick Ewing said. "We're going to have our game to another level when we get to Chicago.

And so must the Bulls, if they hope to send this series back to New York.
Barkley, Suns may be sneaking up on title

By JIM LITKE
Associated Press

The idea of Charles Barkley sneaking up on something or someone other than Godzilla sounds laughable. With 252 pounds spread across a 6-foot-6 frame, it seems sheer bulk would rule out such stealth, even on those occasions when Barkley's even bigger mouth doesn't give him away first.

But in this strange playoff season — when first fisticuffs, then the Sonics' monumental collapse, and then the bitter New York-Chicago rivalry have dominated headlines — Chuck and the rising Suns are sneaking up on a championship with maximum efficiency and a minimum of fuss.

Stranger still is the idea that Barkley might actually prefer it that way.

"We don't care about any of that," Barkley said Thursday during a brief appearance in the Phoenix locker room on a rare day off. "We want to be the first team to 15 (wins and a title) and we've got 10 more to go. That was when Phoenix, following Barkley's lead, made up a 20-point deficit against the Rockets in the last 10 minutes of regulation before winning 124-117 in overtime.

While this was big news in Houston and Phoenix, anybody east of the Mississippi had to catch the late edition of "Sportscenter" or read deep into the morning paper for details.

It sounded reasonable, particularly since the Suns hadn't awakened until sometime around the start of the fourth period Wednesday night.

To our Super "Boy," Greg,
Who's become a Super "Man."

Congratulations on your Graduation!

We're so proud!

Love,
Mom, Dad, & Gerald

Congratulations Graduates!

Good luck in all your future endeavors!
Thanks for all you did over the years to help us fulfill our mail distribution mission!

Kara Courtois
Patricia Greenwood
Michael McNamee
William Wardell

Best wishes from all of us in support services!
Age doesn't hinder Unser's title quest

By MIKE HARRIS
Associated Press

INDIANAPOLIS
Age is a variable in driving a race car that Al Unser simply chooses to ignore. The four-time winner of the Indianapolis 500 will turn 55 on race day, May 29. He is nine months older than Mario Andretti, who is conducting his retirement tour this season.

But Unser, hoping to qualify for his 29th Indy start when time trials begin Saturday, says retirement is something he doesn't dwell upon. "All of us know sometime or another, you have to back down," said Unser, who won Indy in 1970, 1971, 1978 and 1987. "I'm not ready yet."

"Mario and I were the same when we were younger. We'd look at the guys up ahead of us with the age and laugh at them and say, 'What are those guys doing up here? They're too old to run.' And all of a sudden, here we are. I never did think that I would be this far along in age. Somebody once (said to) me, 'If you didn't know age, how old would you be?' It still doesn't bother me."

"I still feel that I have the desire, and I have the wanting to do it. The day that I finally wake up and say it's not fun anymore, or I'm not competitive, then you step down," Unser, who has not had a full-time ride since 1985 and ran only one race last year — finishing 12th at Indy — said. "It has to happen pretty soon. You take 30 years ago and if you had asked me if I'd last this long I'd have laughed at you. I still enjoy it, so here I am.

Big Al, whose brother Bobby won Indy three times and whose son Al Jr. won it in 1992, has seen enormous changes since he first arrived at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway in 1965.

"When I first came here, I qualified at 154," he said. "Now, at 154 they don't even list you on the board."

Unser, who is driving a 1993 Lola-Ford Cosworth, is far off the pace so far this month with a fast lap of 215.632 mph on Thursday, his quickest since practice began on Sunday. That speed would have been 2 mph short of making the 33-car field at Indy last year, and it is well under the top speeds posted this week.

Emerson Fittipaldi, the defending Indy 500 champion, turned the fastest lap of the week at 230.438 late in Thursday's practice session, topping the 230.403 that Brazilian countryman Raul Boesel turned on Tuesday.

Paul Tracy was next quickest among the 44 drivers who got onto the 2 1/2-mile oval Thursday, hitting 228.444, followed by Michael Andretti at 227.698, followed by Michael Andretti at 227.175.

Fittipaldi, Tracy and the younger Unser all drive for Team Penske.

Thursday was another day without a crash and it remains one of the safest opening weeks in recent Indy history, with the only incident a crash on Monday by Mike Groff, who escaped with a bruised leg.

The elder Unser is among the 20 or so drivers still working hard to find enough speed to make the lineup.

"We're still searching and trying to find the happiness between me and the car," Unser said. "We kind of think we know which way we want to go now. It's just going to take a few more laps."

"Once you find which direction to go, then it comes in big stages, usually, unless you go the wrong way. We're gaining. We just need some more time."

If he can get qualified sometime during the four days of time trials — Saturday and Sunday this weekend and next — then Unser will be right in his element.

"If you seek for a moment, gaze around." (Inscription in St. Paul's Cathedral, London)

The Department of Public Relations and Information congratulates our graduating volunteer tour guides, who looked around a little bit while they were here:

Richard Castellini
Jennifer Guerin
Matt Markoe
Catherine McGinley
Greg Millar
Bong Miqubiabs
Sally Oeschger
Anne Pierson
Greg Ripple
Kriste Shafer
Jeannie Shin
Jenny Taie
Heidi Toboni

You may even get paid for reading it. After all, this book from MasterCard offers lots of useful tips on finding a real job, and it's written for students by students. To order your copy for $9.95, call 1-800-JOB-8894. MasterCard.

It's more than a credit card. It's smart money.
Bryce Drew says no to Dome, yes to Dad

Associated Press

VALPARAISO, Ind. Home was where Bryce Drew's heart was.

Indiana's Mr. Basketball made his long-awaited college choice Thursday, announcing he will attend Valparaiso University — the hometown school where his father is head coach — instead of nearby Notre Dame.

"It was tough to say no to Notre Dame," Drew said during a news conference at Valparaiso High School. "I really felt comfortable at Notre Dame."

But the 6-foot-3 guard felt even more comfortable in Valparaiso, where he has lived since his father, Homer, took the coaching job six years ago. Ironically, the Drews moved from the South Bend area, where Homer Drew coached for 11 seasons at Bethel College. South Bend is about 60 miles northwest of Valparaiso.

"The community here has been very good to him and supported him and helped him a great deal," the father said.

Drew, who had three operations last summer to correct a heart condition, averaged 24.7 points as the Vikings finished 29-1 last season. Their only loss was a 93-88 overtime decision to South Bend in the state finals.

He set a Final Four record with 13 assists against Ben Davis in the semifinals, and won the Trester Award for sportsmanship in the tournament.

Homer Drew, the Mid-Continent Conference coach of the year last season, said his son seemed to be leaning toward Notre Dame on Friday. By Sunday he appeared to have changed his mind.

The younger Drew took three days to consider his decision, and telephoned Notre Dame coach John MacLeod late Wednesday. There now will be three Drews in the Valparaiso basketball program: eldest son Scott is an assistant coach.

"As a father, I'm very excited," Homer Drew said. "But we wanted him to make the decision not just because dad and brother are here, but because he wanted to come."

Although the Drews are a close family, Drew said the chance to play for his father was only one factor that swayed him toward the lesser-known program.

He is the fifth recruit the Crusaders have attracted, including power forward Anthony Alison, a first-team junior college All-American last season. Valparaiso, coming off its first 20-win season since moving to Division I-A 18 years ago, also attracted 6-foot-6 twins Bill and Bob Jenkins from Milwaukee, and 6-8 Greg Grimwood from Wooster, Ohio.

"My dad wasn't the only reason," Drew said. "I got to meet some of the incoming freshmen, and I think they're going to be pretty good."

Valparaiso's first game next season is Nov. 27 at Notre Dame.

Drew would have joined a crowded backcourt rotation with the Fighting Irish.

Point guards Lamarr Justice and Admore White and shooting guards Ryan Hoover and Keith Kurowski all played major roles for the Fighting Irish last season and will return.

Both father and son joked that Janet Drew — wife and mother — will have the hardest part during the coach-player relationship.

God's blessing from above wished upon our favorite son—
Graduation wishes and good cheer, now get a job and get out of here!

Love, Mom, Dad, Jodi, David, & Tricia

The Snite Museum of Art

The College of Business Administration offers heartfelt congratulations and best wishes to our graduates of 1994

Bachelor of Business Administration
Master of Business Administration
Master of Science in Administration
It's Deja UVA for Irish lacrosse

By BRYAN CONNOLLY
Assistant Sports Editor

The Observer
Friday, May 13, 1994

For the second consecutive year, the Notre Dame lacrosse team will travel to Charlottesville, Virginia, to face the Cavaliers of Virginia in the opening round of the NCAA tournament, and the Irish are certainly hoping not to suffer from a case of deja vu.

In last season’s tourney, the Irish bowed out early after a 19-9 thrashing at the hands of the Cavaliers.

This year, however, the Irish will enter the match-up with much greater sense of confidence and more post-season experience under their belts.

“We’re excited to be included in the tournament field,” says Irish coach Kevin Corrigan.

Since losing to then-13th-ranked Georgetown in early March, the Irish have won eight straight games. The 12th-seeded Notre Dame team will face off with fifth-seeded Virginia tomorrow afternoon.

The victor of Saturday’s contest will travel to face fourth-seeded North Carolina in the quarterfinals.

“We really didn’t have any favorites, we were just anxious to know who to prepare for,” says Corrigan. “If we play the way we are capable of playing, we’ll see what happens.”

This is the third straight appearance in the tournament for the Irish, and the fourth in the past five years. The squad improved on the 16th-place national ranking it held after last season concluded.

Corrigan, who has led the Irish to a 54-29 record in his six years as head coach, graduated from Virginia in 1982 and served as an assistant coach for the Cavaliers for two years before making the move to Notre Dame.

The victor of Saturday’s contest will travel to face fourth-seeded North Carolina in the quarterfinals.

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE 1994 GRADUATES

From the College of Science Faculty and Staff

SHANG-HAI

Mandarin, Cantonese & American Food
Dine-in or Carry Out
Opens at 11am Lunch Specials Mon - Sat 11-3

257-0155

508 W. McKinley (In The K-Mart Plaza)

The Observer Sports Staff congratulates its graduates

Good Luck
Jenny Marten and Brian Kubicki

We'll keep a mailbox open for you.

Cassino's PIZZA

Not a Franchise!
A Family Owned Business

257-1100

“This is How Pizza is Supposed to Taste”

Authentic New York Pizza
Calzones • Hot and Cold Subs • Stromboli
3 and 6 foot Party Subs

For Fast Delivery
Call 273-2EAT
$2 off large pizza with Student ID

CONGRATULATIONS TO our 1994 Management Graduates!

Patricia J. Acosta
Howard W. Allred
Joyce Armijo
Terry A. Baker
Robert C. Birk
Brent T. Buzanski
Anthony Buffomante
Jeffrey L. Burris
Francisco J. Cantero
Jennifer G. Corcoran
Michele Cummings
William C. Durik
Martin T. DeGraff
Robert F. Donahue
Joseph R. Fabiano
James M. Flannigan
Gregory J. Gracceffo*
Brian M. Hamilton
Kathryn C. Hanley
Kenneth M. Hartman
Damaris Irizarry
Leah K. Johnson
Andrew G. Kiel
Janet D. Knight
Stephen C. Krueger
Peter D. Kaczmich
Luke C. Lamprey

Jennifer A. Lang
Gregg T. Larson
Patrick T. Linnert
Matthew J. Lohman
John J. Lyons
Gregory K. Macchia
Martha L. Macy
Michael C. Marton
Christopher J. Martin
Kevin T. McDougal
Brett Mears
Erin A. Montgomery
Jessica L. Ouel
Jeffrey T. Patrick
Athea D. Price
Garrett A. Reilly
David P. Rosedale
Derek L. Schnack
Mathew Schneiderhahn
Andrew J. Sinn
Nancy Studnicki
Megan R. Swiderski
James A. Tierney
Veronica T. Torres
Karren L. Waters
Mark E. Woodward

*Outstanding MIS Graduate January Graduate
Outstanding OB/HRM Graduate

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE 1994 GRADUATES

From the College of Science Faculty and Staff

Congradulations to our 1994 Management Graduates!

Patricia J. Acosta
Howard W. Allred
Joyce Armijo
Terry A. Baker
Robert C. Birk
Brent T. Buzanski
Anthony Buffomante
Jeffrey L. Burris
Francisco J. Cantero
Jennifer G. Corcoran
Michele Cummings
William C. Durik
Martin T. DeGraff
Robert F. Donahue
Joseph R. Fabiano
James M. Flannigan
Gregory J. Gracceffo*
Brian M. Hamilton
Kathryn C. Hanley
Kenneth M. Hartman
Damaris Irizarry
Leah K. Johnson
Andrew G. Kiel
Janet D. Knight
Stephen C. Krueger
Peter D. Kaczmich
Luke C. Lamprey

Jennifer A. Lang
Gregg T. Larson
Patrick T. Linnert
Matthew J. Lohman
John J. Lyons
Gregory K. Macchia
Martha L. Macy
Michael C. Marton
Christopher J. Martin
Kevin T. McDougal
Brett Mears
Erin A. Montgomery
Jessica L. Ouel
Jeffrey T. Patrick
Athea D. Price
Garrett A. Reilly
David P. Rosedale
Derek L. Schnack
Mathew Schneiderhahn
Andrew J. Sinn
Nancy Studnicki
Megan R. Swiderski
James A. Tierney
Veronica T. Torres
Karren L. Waters
Mark E. Woodward

*Outstanding MIS Graduate January Graduate
Outstanding OB/HRM Graduate
Irish individuals will shine at Illini Invite

By MIKE NORRUT Assistant Sports Editor

Individuals will be in the spotlight this weekend as both the men's and women's track teams will travel to the University of Illinois Saturday to participate in the Illini Invite.

For some, this meet will be a last chance to qualify for the NCAA's, which will be held May 21-22. For those who have already achieved qualifying times, this meet will serve as a final tune-up before they compete against nationally renowned competition.

"The IC4A's is the type of meet where the strength of the field pushes the athletes to their top performances of the season," said coach Joe Plane.

One runner who has made excellent performances all season long is Erica Peterson. At the Drake Relays two weeks ago, the sophomore captured first in the 400-meter low hurdles with a time of 59.18, beating Stephanie Love of Iowa State by 1.63 seconds. "Erica has already qualified for the NCAA's and we think she'll improve on her qualifying time in the 400-meter hurdles," Plane continued.

Other standout on the women's side include junior Lisa Junck, who took first in the 100-meter hurdles with a time of 14.60 in a tri-meet with Eastern Illinois and Hillsdale three weeks ago. Junck's closest competition was teammate Monica Cox, who took second in the event with a time of 15.00.

In the same meet, Alison Howard edged out Peterson in the 400 meters, winning with a time of 56.24. Howard, a freshman, has been a standout for Irish in the sprinting events so far this season. "Lisa Junck, Monica Cox, and Alison Howard have all been running extremely well and hopefully one or more of them will qualify for the NCAA Championships," Plane said.

Despite the women's success in the sprints, their strength lies in the distance events, as the team will look for good performances from freshman Carolyn Long, sophomore Amy Siegel, and junior Emily Husted.

"The women's team has been doing very well as evidenced by our performance against Eastern Illinois and Hillsdale," Plane continued.

The men will enter tomorrow's meet with a chance to qualify athletes in several different events for next week's IC4A's. The team's strength comes in its great balance, as Irish athletes consistently place high in each event.

"Several of our distance runners have just been outstanding," Plane said. "Things are going well for the men's team."

Hojnacki, a sophomore, took eighth place in the 1500-meter run last week after winning the event in the tri-meet with Eastern Illinois and Hillsdale. Though he did not win the 100 meters last week, senior Dean Lytle has consistently been in the top three finishers all season, and will look to do so again in order to solidify his NCAA qualifying credentials. Other hopefuls include senior Chris Lilly in the 110-meter hurdles, and Randy Kinder in the 200 meters.

"We'll probably have 20 guys qualify for the IC4A's, and hopefully a couple will qualify for the NCAA Championships," Plane said.

---

Learning Japanese is FUN!

Summer courses on Japanese Language and Culture.

COAJ 200 Intensive Japanese (10 credits) June 21-Aug 3

Upon completion of this introductory course, you will be able to make yourself understood in Japanese. You will also learn the Japanese writing systems along with 150 kanji-Chinese characters.

COAJ 340 Contemporary Japanese Culture (3 credits) July 4-Aug 3

This course will introduce the major elements of Japanese culture. Introduction will be in English.

Those who are interested, please contact:

Dept. of Classical and Oriental Languages and Literatures 631-7195

---

To our graduating Student Assistants:

Congratulations and Best Wishes from the University Libraries

May 1994
Kobata is perfect as Irish claim MCC crown

By TIMOTHY SEYMOUR
Assistant Sports Editor

Since preseason training, Notre Dame head coach Liz Miller has had one thing on her mind: getting to the NCAA tournament, "Our objective this year is to be in the NCAA tournament, and to be playing our best at the end of the year," stated Miller. "In the past, the MCC tournament was played only for the championship, but it has taken on a whole new significance this year with the automatic bid for the NCAA tournament.

That bid belongs to Notre Dame after the Irish defeated Loyola 5-0 in the tournament opener and again 7-0 in the MCC Championship Thursday behind the arm of Terri Kobata and the bat of Sara Hayes. Kobata had a no-hitter going until the fifth inning of the opener, when Miller took her out to rest her for the nightcap. She returned to fire a perfect game in the championship game.

Hayes went 6-for-6 on the day, scoring the winning run in both games.

Now, SENIORS, get the ROCK outta here!

The Irish finished their season strong, winning their final seven, including five in the MCC tournament, and 12 of their last 13.

The highlight of that streak was a 4-0 victory over DePaul, ranked No. 2 in the NCAA Midwest Region Poll. Once again, Kobata was the catalyst, pitching a three hit shutout, her twelfth of the year.

"Terri did a better job of working the batters and making them go after bad pitches," stated Miller. "She was very strong and had great control.

Notre Dame broke open a scoreless tie in the fifth, as two Blue Demon errors and four consecutive Irish hits gave rise to four runs. Junior Andy Keys delivered the knockout blow with a two-run double. "DePaul might be the best team in the region," added Miller. "Our key was keeping them off the bases and getting hits with runners on base.

DePaul rallied to win game two of the doubleheader 2-1, as a four-hitter by freshman pitcher Joy Baitersby was squandered as the Irish bats were held in check.

The Irish were also strong in sweeping their final two regular season double headers, beating LaSalle 5-0 and 7-2 and edging Temple 5-0, 3-1.

Notre Dame finished the regular season with a 9-1 conference mark, as numerous players finished in the top ten of MCC statistical categories.

All-America candidate Sara Hayes ranked in almost every offensive category, posting a .376 batting average with 10 home runs and 43 RBIs. The junior catcher was also a defensive menace to opposing runners, as she ended the season throwing out eight of the 12 runners who attempted to steal on her. Hayes was joined on the offensive leaderboard by freshmen Meghan Murray (1.357) and Elizabeth Perkins (1.533). As a team, Notre Dame ranked first in batting with a combined .289 average.

The Irish also boast the best ERA of 2.18 among conference foes, and Kobata's 10.7 strike-outs per game place her second on the national scene.

Now, SENIORS, get the ROCK outta here!

It's been fun...

Now, SENIORS, get the ROCK outta here!

Love, the Farley Clan

Congratulations

PAMELA

We are so proud of you!

Love you very much,

Mom, Dad, Ken, and Yogi

FRIDAY, MAY 13, 1994

The Observer • SPORTS

Congratulations

Natasha

Trade your babushka for your graduation cap!

Love,
Mom, Dad, Steve, & Stasia

---

Hackers

Golf & Games

OPENING THIS SPRING

3/10 MILE NORTH OF STATE LINE ON US-31 NILES, MICHIGAN

30 STATION DRIVING RANGE WITH TARGET GREENS, SAND TRAPS, BALL DISPENSING MACHINE & CLUB CLEANERS.

7 A.B.C. BATTING CAGES

MINIATURE GOLF WITH....WATER FALLS, STREAMS & ISLAND GREEN.
HANDICAP ACCESSIBLE

ARCADE BUILDING PRO SHOP SNACK BAR

YOU'LL RECEIVE $100
For your Auto Loan with us!

STUDENTS!
Shopping for a new car for after graduation? Then look at this!

• Rates as low as 6.25% APR for a new car and 7.25% APR for a used car.

• Up to 5 years to repay and deferred payments until September, 1994.

• $100 CASH BONUS when your loan is disbursed.

Students with good credit or no credit qualify, no co-signer needed. Bring your letter of employment.

NOTRE DAME FEDERAL CREDIT UNION
239-6611
Independent of the University of Notre Dame
Senior Andy Zurcher leads the Irish tennis team into this weekend’s regional competition.

Congratulations to

The Class of 1994

for your commitment to service and justice and peace

May it continue to enrich your lives and, through you, your community

With appreciation,
The Staff of The Center for Social Concerns

The Office of Residence Life and the Office of Student Affairs wishes to thank the 1993-94 Residence Hall Assistants for their hard work and dedication this year. Congratulations and Good Luck!

Baker, Michelle
Ball, lakezza
Bangasser, Mark
Bangian, Brian G.
Bell, Michael G.
Berenek, James P.
Berg, Daniel C.
Bernasek, Brian Borombor, Keith E.
Browning, Christopher Butler, Gregory P.
Cain, Michael Callahan, Timothy S.
Camilleri, Stephen Caputo, Alicia A.
Carr, Matthew M.
Carr, Cynthia
Clark, Douglass
Constantineau, Stacy
Conway, Michael Cook, Ann C.
Corcoran, Jennifer Cor, Colleen
Crawford, James E.
Cronley, Joseph T.
Czitrom, Amy B.
Cutasy, Thad L.
Cummings, Michele M.
Curts, Scott J.

Dennis, Scott
Devine, David C.
Doan, Thao Drenski, Jeffrey L.
Doring, Matthew Dracoll, Tamara Dumlow, Jameson A.
Dvoracek, Lisa
Erf, Melissa A.
Feliz, Jane
Ferris, Anne Michelle Finger, Sarah
Fitz, Matthew M.
Fleming, Kevin Fong, Katherine
Foss, Jennifer
Frost, Megan
Gallo, Stephanie A.
Ganc, Gretchen Ganz, Robert
Gehrad, Teresa M.
Glavacki, Lisa
Graf, Michael Graham, Bridget Grubin, Kevin Hamilton, James P.
Hanson, Kirsten
Hegarty, Cullen
Hill, James T.
Hirai, Christopher J.
Hodis, Jessica A.
Holmes, Ryan A.

Halhaus, Wendy J.
Howard, Christopher A.
Iffii, Andrew D.
Irwin, James P.
Isabell, Carrie A.
Johnson, Christopher T.
Keene, Sean T.
Keller, Scott
Kelly, Christopher M.
Keys, Sarah
Killer, Mary-Allis
Kiel, Andrew Kovatch, Stephanie Krue, Justin Lanzer, Howard
Leising, Nicole
Linnert, Patrick
Long, Sarah A.
Luzio, Angela C.
Lynch, Gerard P.
Macanola-Cood, Justin Martin, Christopher Martin, James M.
Masoe, Jennifer
Massa, Gregory R.
Massman, Amy
McAdams, Christina A.
McBride, Kathleen A.
McCarthy, Molly
McCarthy, Siobhan M.
McGoldrick, Christopher McManus, Sarah
McManus, Joseph
McQuade, Joseph A.
Mendez, Troy Douglas Meneraux, Allison R.
Mertilli, Paul
Mehta, Matthew C.
Morrill, Peter
Morris, Arnel B.
Murphy, Brendan
Nall, Kathleen W. (Kate)
Nawrocki, Sean T.
O’Neill, Anne L.
O’Sullivan, Patrick
Oval, Jessica Porro, Michael Pastore, Kathleen Pier, Daniel Pier, Scott J.

Schmiedeler, Michael J.
Schneider, Douglas Schwarts, Mark
Senna, Steve Sheehy, James W.
Sinn, Andrew J.
Smith, Kevin M.
Smith, Kimberlee L.
Soneville, Michael Spencer, Molly C.
Steenbach, William Steiner, Steven J.
Stoeck, Amy Marie
Stowell, Kristin M.
Sullivan, Kathryn
Taylar, Scott J.
Thalen, Stefanie
Temes, Philip A.
Torres, Veronica
Tynes, Tonya B.
Ulrich, Joeseph D.
Varing, Julie Wagrowski, Diane M.
Ward, Anna S.
Warren, Clarke A.
Waterkotte, Cheryl Welsh, Brian
Yeend, Kristin E.
Zochil, Paul
Zwilling, Daniel P.

We also wish to thank and congratulate the following Assistants who are graduating this year:

Mr. George Molinsky
Rev. Mervyn Thomas, CSC
Mr. Vincent Sanchez

Mr. Donald Loverman
Mr. Mark Fecko
Mr. Christopher Coury

Mr. Michael Gant
Ms. Eileen Ponder
Ms. Karin Wells
Mr. Robert McDonald

Mr. Don McDowell
Ms. Lisa Orchen
Ms. Michelle Ryan

Our deepest gratitude to Rev. Mervyn Thomas, CSC and Rev. Alfred D’Alonzo, CSC as they leave their current positions. Best wishes to you both!

Tennis
continued from page 36

ed team in the region. Minnesota, Notre Dame is ranked higher nationally than the Gophers, but Minnesota was undefeated in the region and served the Irish with a 5-2 loss in April, so the Gophers earned the top seed. Despite their underdog status and Notre Dame’s reputation as the top team in the Midwest, Minnesota presents a formidable threat to the Irish’s grip on the Midwest’s NCAA bid.

"They have really held up better than I or their coaches thought," noted Bayliss. "They have a lot of new players and young guys who have really played well. They’re for real." Minnesota head coach David Geatz says that it really does not matter that the Gophers are seeded higher than the Irish, "How the seeding worked out is not what really matters," said Geatz. "We have not been to the NCAAs in four years and we have been trying to beat Notre Dame for a long time so it should be interesting." A regional championship and a trip into the 16-team NCAA Championship would be a fitting end to a unique year for the Irish. Notre Dame tragically lost team leader Andy Zurcher for all of last season with a wrist injury. Fortunately, last year’s tragedy has become a blessing in disguise for this year’s Notre Dame team. Zurcher has not only provided leadership for a young squad, but he has posted a 29-17 overall record, including a 17-11 mark in dual match play. The fifth-year senior and team captain has also beaten two top opponents in No. 6 Chris Presley of Duke and No. 7 Chad Clark of Texas.

The Irish have also received a big boost from freshman Ryan Simme, who is the highest-ranked freshman from the United States at No. 52.

Congratulations and Good Luck!

Jane, SMC ’94
Joe, ND ’94

Another special date to come: 6/18/94

Love,
Mom & Dad
Future is fuzzy for Irish baseball seniors

By JENNY MARTEN
Senior Sports Writer

Although many seniors are headed into graduation knowing where they are going to be next year or what they'll be doing, the future is even fuzzier for student athletes.

For the senior members of the Irish baseball team, the future is a long way off with seven regular season games, the Midwestern Collegiate Conference tournament and hopefully NCAA tournament games left to play.

The seniors, Greg Layson, Matt Haas, Tom Price, Robbie Birk, Marty DeGraff, Rick Loryaz and volunteer coach Hap Durkin, are headed into the final stretch.

"It's an exciting time," explained Irish second baseman Layson. "When you're younger, you go through the year and were looking to go home, but now, I've got no where to go. I want to go as far as we can."

After the season ends, most are hoping to get picked in the draft or sign a contract as a free agent, but all have their options. Irish head coach Pat Murphy thinks Price, Haas and Layson will be drafted and Birk and DeGraff have the potential to be drafted. All four would like baseball to be in their future.

"Hopefully, baseball will let me be a kid for a couple more years," said DeGraff. "If baseball doesn't work out, I'll get involved with kids and baseball."

Durkin, who handled administrative duties, recruiting and scouting this year, is interested in pursuing coaching.

"I've learned a lot," said Durkin of his experience as a coach. "Not being able to play because of my back was tough, but I wanted to stick with the program. I wasn't really sure what I wanted to do and this year helped me to decide."

As they move beyond Notre Dame, the seniors leave some big holes to be filled.

"Every time you have seniors leave your program especially when it's a program like ours, I think you're going to miss every one of them. They're great people," said Murphy.

Layson, who has played in all 44 games, is hitting .305 and has 26 stolen bases. Murphy respects Layson's dedication.

"He comes to the ballpark every day ready to play. He's given 100 percent to Notre Dame baseball every single time he's played."

Third baseman Haas has been another major contributor to Notre Dame's success this season. With a .352 average, Haas' bat has been as effective as his glove.

Utility player Birk is pleased with his senior season because he thinks he has proven that he can play at the collegiate level. He has filled in anywhere he was needed and has maintained a .338 batting average.

"Birk has proven that hard work pays off," said Murphy. "He's gotten himself in the lineup and helped us immensely this year. He's played second, short, third, first, left, right and center. He's done it all for us. Those are team players, the guys you're going to miss."

Price, a left-handed starter and ace of the Irish staff, will be missed immensely. Currently he is 11-3 with a 2.31 earned run average, but his control is his best asset.

"This kid's proven that this is something special. I'd be hard pressed to ever see anyone have 14 starts like this kid's had 14 starts. He's just unbelievable. He's pitched 105 innings and given up three walks," said Murphy.

Notre Dame baseball will certainly miss these players, but they'll miss each other more.

"We've grown up together for four years. We've made great friendships. We're around each other so much that we've got our own little fraternity here," explained Price.

Birk echoed Price's sentiments, "I'll miss my teammates without question. This is the greatest group of guys I've been around. It's fun to be here every day with the guys."

As the seniors head down the final stretch of the season, they are eager to prolong the season as much as possible. The rest of the season is a little bit sweeter for the seniors.

"You always take it for granted when you're younger. You don't really think about it," said Haas. "Now, you start thinking that in a week I've played my last game here and then the last game in South Bend and sooner or later your last game at Notre Dame."

CONGRATULATIONS
BREEN-PHILLIPS
SENIORS!
BEST OF LUCK,
JUDY

EDUCATIONAL MEDIA
Wishes Our '94 Seniors
Good Luck & Thank You!
CAMPUS MEDIA SERVICES
Brett Bauer
OSU Gaham
Bret DoBARTOLO MEDIA SERVICES
Laura Dicke
Tracy Crinion
Christine Astford
Tracy Weber

THE VARSITY SHOP
"On The Concourse" JACC

CONGRATULATIONS and BEST WISHES to the CLASS OF 1994!

Commencement Weekend Hours:
Friday 11:30-5:30
Saturday 10:00-4:00
Closed Sunday
Monday 9:00-5:30
Baseball begins quest for third straight NCAA bid

Upcoming Games
May 13 Detroit(2) 5 p.m.
14 Detroit(2) 1 p.m.
16 Chicago State 7 p.m.
17 Eastern Illinois 3 p.m.
May 18-22 MCC Tournament

By JENNY MARTEN
Sports Writer

Now, it’s all baseball. With finals finished, the Irish baseball team has only playing baseball to worry about, but it’s crunch time.

After winning 27 of its last 29 games, Notre Dame (35-9) heads into the final stretch of the season which includes three doubleheaders and a single game before the Midwestern Collegiate Conference tournament starts May 18 at Coveleski Stadium.

If the Irish win the MCC title, they will return to the NCAA tournament for the third time in three years. Although this is a much different team from last year, head coach Pat Murphy knows his team belongs in the NCAA tournament field.

“We’re not as experienced. We’re not as confident. That’s what we’re searching for,” explained Murphy. “Sometimes the more talented teams aren’t the ones that get there. Sometimes it’s the teams that play together and play hard at the right hand. We’ve got nothing to be ashamed of. If we aren’t one of the 48 best teams in the country something’s wrong. Maybe we’re not one of the best 10 right now, but one of the best 45 there’s no question,” said Murphy.

There are a few things the Irish have to take care of before they can book their flight to Omaha.

This weekend, MCC rival Detroit Mercy comes to Eck Stadium for a pair of doubleheaders on Monday and Eastern Illinois visits on Tuesday. The next day the MCC tournament starts at the Cove, but Murphy is confident.

“We’re the best team in the MCC hands down. There’s no question. It’s a shame that it comes down to a tournament. We’ll just play game by game and not worry about it,” said Murphy. “All the teams in the MCC are better this year. Everybody has a pitcher that can beat you on any given day, but we’re in the position we want to be in.

If the Irish win the conference bid to the NCAA regionals, they would be back in a familiar position. For the last two years, Notre Dame has gone to the regional championship and been a game away from the College World Series.

The Irish are hoping everything falls into place this year and they can take the next step to Omaha.

The Best in Collegiate Tennis is at Notre Dame this Weekend.

The University of Notre Dame is proud to host the Region IV Championships this weekend. The winner will secure a berth in the NCAA Championships on May 21-29 - also hosted by the University of Notre Dame.

All matches played at the Courtney Tennis Center (Rain Site - Eck Pavilion)

Friday - May 13
10:00 am
Ball State vs. Minnesota

2:00 pm
#15 Notre Dame vs. Michigan

 FREE Ben and Jerry's Ice Cream Bars to the first 400 fans to Notre Dame's match **

Courtesy of the Notre Dame Alumni Association

For more information on the regionals or the championships, call 631-9430 or call 631-7356 for ticket information.
The Top Ten Sports Stories 1990-1994

The Showdown

Billed as the “Game of the Century,” the late-season showdown between No. 1 Florida State and No. 2 Notre Dame will go down as one of the great moments in Irish football history. The Seminoles, considered by many to be unbeatable, didn’t live up to their press clippings in a 31-24 loss.

The Irish defense swarmed elusive quarterback Charlie Ward, while the offense opened a big lead. But Ward led Florida State back in the final minutes, and on the last breath-taking play the Seminoles were just 14 yards from a touchdown that could have changed the outcome of the game. Notre Dame’s Shawn Wooden (left) swatted the pass away and one of the biggest victories in Notre Dame football history was secured.

November 15, 1993

Shawn Wooden’s last-second deflection sealed Notre Dame’s improbable 31-24 win over Florida State.

Digger Resigns

Notre Dame basketball coach Digger Phelps resigned, ending months of speculation after a lackluster season, where he felt the pressure of the administration and alumni.

April 16, 1991

Wrestling Axed

Athletic Director Dick Rosenthal announced that the wrestling program would be eliminated amid rumors of NCAA violations and a personal conflict between Rosenthal and head coach Fran McCann.

April 13, 1992

MacLeod Hired

John MacLeod accepted the head coaching position vacated by Phelps after it was turned down by current Providence coach Pete Gillen and Georgia Tech coach Bobby Cremins.

May 3, 1991

Rocket Clipped

Rocket Ismail’s dramatic last second punt return was called back because of a clipping penalty, ending Notre Dame’s hopes of a second straight Orange Bowl victory over top-ranked Colorado.

January 16, 1991

No. 6—Last-Minute Heroics, November 16, 1992
Reggie Brooks’ last minute two-point conversion catch lifted Notre Dame over Penn State, 17-16. It marked the final game of the series because of Penn State’s decision to join the Big Ten.

No. 7—Dreams Dashed, November 22, 1993
Notre Dame’s hopes of a national championship ended when David Gordon kicked the longest field goal of his career (41 yards) to erase a thrilling Irish comeback and give Boston College a 41-39 victory in the final game of the 1993 season.

No. 8—Opening Day at Eck, April 1, 1994
The baseball team inaugurated its new home with a victory over Indiana. Made possible by a donation from alumnus Frank Eck, it is considered one of the finest on-campus baseball facilities in the nation.

No. 9—National Champions, March 23, 1994
The Notre Dame fencing team came from behind on the final day of competition to defeat Penn State and secure the first Notre Dame national championship in any sport since 1985.

No. 10—Gerber Goes The Distance, Feb. 28, 1994
Jeff Gerber became only the seventh boxer in Bengal Bouts history to win four straight titles with a unanimous decision over John Bradshaw in the finals.
Epeeist Grzegorz Wozniak led the Notre Dame's 31-24 victory over the Seminoles. Swimmer in injury during a January 1992 bus crash that took the lives of two of her teammates. Burris probably hold for that," said one of Notre Dame's best. His greatest contribution may have been an intangible one. As a tri-captain, he was among the leaders of a senior class that could go down in history as one of Notre Dame's best. "We have a great senior class and what people had something to say, they said it," Burris explained. "The burden of leading never fell on one person." But Burris was clearly among the team's most respected leaders. On and off the field. No. 2—Monty Williams, Basketball. With the weight of an entire team on his shoulders, Williams proved to be capable of carrying the load, leading the Irish to upsets of UCLA, Missouri and Marquette. Imagine what it would have been like without him. No. 3—Kevin McDougal, Football. Maybe it was the Michigan State game. Maybe it wasn't even until a dramatic last minute comeback against Boston College, but somewhere along the line the Doubled Quarterback won the respect and admiration of Notre Dame fans everywhere. No. 4—Mike McWilliams, Cross Country. The only Irish runner in history to earn All-America honors in four seasons, McWilliams finished 18th at the NCAA Championships with a time of 30:12.8 in the 10,000 meters. No. 5—Grzegorz Wozniak, Fencing. The best epeeist on Notre Dame's national championship fencing team, Wozniak added to his already impressive career that included a 13th place performance at the 1991 NCAA Championships. Honorable Mention—Jeff Gerber, Bengal Bouts. The seventh four-time champion in the 64-year history of the Bouts, Gerber etched his name in the record books with an unanimous decision over John Bradshaw in this year's finals.

Surprise continued from page 36

even if we had lost," Irish offensive lineman Mark Zataveski said. "There are probably pro players who would've given up their pro careers to play in this game." Florida State believed they were already flaming hype when they mocked Notre Dame's mystique, wearing green hats with FSU written on the front and a shamrock on the side. "I saw what they were doing and I got a little ticked off," said Irish safety John Covington. "They came in here and wore their mouths off. They shouldn't do that.

Florida State proved they could play the game. They nearly proved that they could also walk the walk. Notre Dame took control of the game in the second quarter, after falling behind on the Seminoles' first drive. The Irish lead was as much as 14 points in the first half and it looked like the Game of the Century might even be the Game of the Week. But Florida State wouldn't die. With a couple of breaks and some broken tackles by elusive quarterback Charlie Ward, the Seminoles crept back into the game. When Kez McCorvey caught a tipped pass in the endzone the lead was seven and Notre Dame's offense stalled on its next drive. That gave the Seminoles .51 to make Notre Dame's dreams die. Ward directed them to the 14-yard line for the game's final play. He rolled out of the pocket and looked for a receiver in the endzone. His pass looked to be on target, but Warrick Dunn was surrounded by Irish defenders and cornerback Shawn Wooden knocked the pass away as time expired. It was chaos as the field filled with revelers within seconds. The scene got so out of control that Wooden, the hero of the final play, was injured in the celebration.

Florida State liked the event so much that they immediately expressed their desire to do it again soon. "I think the public wants to see a rematch," said College linebacker Derrick Brooks. "They want to see a game like this at a neutral site to see who really is the best team."

Circumstances made a rematch moot. But there was no question which team was the best that day.

Leary continued from page 36

the right track toward where we want to be," she said, trying to put that sad March night into perspective. "I'm just glad I could be a part of it."

The walk-on from Nashua, New Hampshire earned the starting point guard position as a sophomore and wouldn't give up the basketball. A sophomore and wouldn't give up the basketball. A sophomore. She also symbolized the determination of a group that learned, from Leary's lead, how to overcome its obstacles.

Burris continued from page 36 probably hold for that," said Irish coach Lou Holtz. Burris finished his career with 10 touchdowns, 10 interceptions, more than 100 tackles and a 60-yard punt return for a touchdown.

His greatest contribution may have been an intangible one. As a tri-captain, he was among the leaders of a senior class that could go down in history as one of Notre Dame's best. "We have a great senior class and what people had something to say, they said it," Burris explained. "The burden of leading never fell on one person."

But Burris was clearly among Women’s tennis returns to NCAAs

By JONATHAN JENSEN

The Irish are at it again. After becoming the first women’s tennis team to represent Notre Dame at the NCAA Championships a year ago, the Irish have again been invited to the 20-team tournament.

This morning at 9 a.m. the 15th-seeded Irish went after their second-consecutive first-round win at the NCAA’s, facing No. 18 Cal-Santa Barbara at the University of Georgia campus in Athens, Ga. Last season the Irish shut out No. 19 Alabama before falling to No. 2 Stanford in the second round.

"Hopefully, we’ll get a chance to go farther than we did last year," noted Irish head coach Jay Louderback, who has led the Irish to a 78-42 record in his six years at the helm.

This time around the Irish are more experienced and poised, but the Irish will once again have to get past No. 3 seed Stanford if they hope to advance far this year, as the same Stanford team that ended the Irish’s season last year with a 5-0 shutout trounced Notre Dame 6-0 in March.

However, despite the odds against them, this team has been known to rise to a challenge.

Congratulations Katie O.

You survived Catholic School!

Love you!
Mom, Dad, Tim, Ann, Mike, Tracie, Rob, Courtney, & Sean

This Weekend in Notre Dame Sports

Let’s Go Irish!

Notre Dame Baseball
In their final home stand
FREE ADMISSION WITH STUDENT I.D.
Friday - 5:00 pm (2)
Notre Dame vs. Detroit
Contests - Prizes - and lots of Fun!
Saturday - 1:00 pm (2)
Notre Dame vs. Detroit
1/2 price coupons at area Subway Restaurants
Monday - 5:00 pm (2)
Notre Dame vs. Chicago State
Tuesday - 3:00 pm
Notre Dame vs. Eastern Illinois

Emerson Quan
Joseph Claussen
Kevin McDougal
Paul Merlitti
Robert Sayles
Jack Elliot
Larry Palmer
Richard Kim
Mike McWilliams
Sean Carroll
Scott Taylor
John Schadl
Tim Cooper
John Sonnick
Chris Maier
Steve Clar
Kevin Sullivan
Michael Sullivan
Miguel Salazar
Bill Fekrat
Greg Graceffo
Brian Alcala
Michael Kane
Paul Lopach
Michael Kaley
John Doyle
David Devine
Todd Miller
Andrew Druckenbrod
Keith Valerius
Rob Schupansky
Dave Zimmer
Bill Merritt
Esteban Cantillo
Paul Stelzer
Nate Tricker
Mike Conway
John Little Antoine Paige
Robert Donahue
Greg Lane
Brad O’Brien
Justin Kruer
Brad McConnell
Kevin O’Rourke
Blane Shearon
Mark Shander
Tom Kelly
Christopher Kanis
Dave Kerr
Louay Constant Chris Duba
David Kinney
Sean Slack
Cullen Hegarty
Jamesner Dumlao
Philip Voglewede
Jonathan Walsh
Steve Carozza
Tom Seurynck
Rick Salvino
Andy Deitsch
Dan McDevitt, JD, LLM.
Liam Brockey
Christopher Kelly
Brett Hiemenz
Jeremy Reynolds
Doug Streitz
Greg Goger
Dan Avis
Brett Mears
David Nemer
John Hudalla
Mark Hachman
Jason Phillips
Joe Condon

Congratulations to the Graduates of Morrissey Manor 1994
Congratulations

David Kinney
Kevin Hardman
Meredith McCullough
Kenya Johnson
Rolando de Aguiar
Anne Heroman
Brian Kennedy
Cheryl Moser
Stephanie Goldman
Mark Meenan
Patrick Barth
Brendan Regan

and to all of the graduating seniors on staff!
The Observer will miss you!

Now that you're alumni:
wear plaid pants, fight for tickets, and keep in touch.

Get a subscription to The Observer and have the latest Notre Dame and Saint Mary's news and sports delivered to you for only $35 per semester or $60 for the whole year.

| Name__________________________ | Address__________________________ |
| City__________________________ | State______ | Zip______ |

Send this coupon and payment to:
The Observer, P.O. Box Q, Notre Dame, IN 46556

---

Friday, May 13, 1994
The Observer

SPELUNKER

JAY HOSLER

THE FAR SIDE
GARY LARSON

In the stadiums of ancient Rome, the most feared trial was the rub-your-stomach-and-pat-your-head-at-the-same-time event.

---

CROSSWORD

ACROSS
1 Shakes up       5 Moonshine to be     9 Architectural afterthought
2 What the hands may show  14 Like crazy  15 Until 3 Shanty town     16 Hang (over)     17 Patrick's "Ghost" co-star
4 Who a wannabe wants to be  18 Knock out  19 Like interstates
5 Sound  19 Practical joker's buy  20 Practical joker's buy
6 Kaput  20 Practical joker's buy  23 Kind of fin
7 Easy victory  21 "Shane" or "Stagecoach"  24 Sapporo sash
8 Change at Chihuahua  22 Parrot's prop  25 Fake jewelry
9 Whisk rival

DOWN
1 Fifigine material  2 "Flash Gordon"      3 Steamship staffs
2 Clay pipe        4 "Big deal!"        5 grits
3 "Whill Rogers Follies" prop  6 "Roper's beloved
4 Turkish roper      7 Roanoke                 7 Charleston ladies
5 The Midshipmen 8 Horse oil, e.g.
6 Water barrier

ANSWER TO PREVIOUS PUZZLE

ACROSS
12 Seaman--novelist who served on the Pilgrim
21 "Shane" or "Stagecoach"
24 Banana oil, e.g.
26 Cleaning solutions
27 Work at a bar
30 Cleaning solutions
31 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
32 "Buckaroo Banzai" director
33 Cleaning solutions
34 Cleaning solutions
36 "Bill"     40 "Will Rogers Follies" prop
37 Practical joker's buy
38 Practical joker's buy
39 Practical joker's buy
41 "Big deal!"
42 "Bill"     47 "Big deal!"
43 "Bill"     48 "Big deal!"
44 "Bill"     49 "Big deal!"
45 "Bill"     50 "Big deal!"
46 "Bill"     51 "Big deal!"
47 "Bill"     52 "Big deal!"
48 "Bill"     53 "Big deal!"
49 "Bill"     54 "Big deal!"
50 "Bill"     55 "Big deal!"
51 "Bill"     56 "Big deal!"
52 "Bill"     57 "Big deal!"
53 "Bill"     58 "Bill"     59 "Bill"     60 "Bill"

DOWN
1 Involve, unwillingly
2 Steamboat navigationist who served on the Pilgrim
3 Abbr. on a phone
4 Nancy Drew's boyfriend
5 "Blade Runner"
6 With 56 Across, certain victims
7 Basic engineering material
8 "Stagecoach" or "Shane"
9 With 8 Across, a green field
10 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
11 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
12 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
13 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
14 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
15 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
16 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
17 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
18 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
19 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
20 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
21 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
22 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
23 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
24 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
25 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
26 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
27 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
28 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
29 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
30 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
31 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
32 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
33 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
34 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
35 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
36 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
37 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
38 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
39 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
40 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
41 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
42 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
43 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
44 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
45 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
46 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
47 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
48 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
49 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
50 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
51 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
52 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
53 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
54 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
55 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
56 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
57 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
58 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
59 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss
60 "Dukes of Hazzard" boss

Get answers to any three clues by touch-tone phone: 1-900-420-5656 (75¢ each minute).
Men's tennis bids for region

By JONATHAN JENSEN
Associate Sports Editor

The Notre Dame men's tennis team first burst on to the national collegiate tennis scene when they advanced to the finals of the NCAA Championship two years ago.

The Irish have now further solidified their emergence as a national power by earning the right to host the 1994 NCAA Championships on May 21-29.

However, despite these impressive accomplishments, the Irish will not be satisfied to be mere observers as the best in the national collegiate tennis scene configured the Notre Dame campus.

To advance into the newly configured NCAA's, the Irish will have to win the four-team Region IV Qualifying Tournament, being held here today and tomorrow at the Courtney Tennis Center.

To advance into the newly configured NCAA's, the Irish will have to win the four-team Region IV Qualifying Tournament, being held here today and tomorrow at the Courtney Tennis Center. The 2nd-seeded Irish will have to get past No. 3 Michigan today and then beat No. 1 seed Minnesota on Saturday.

In the past the top 20 teams in the nation advanced into the NCAA's, but with the regional play being instituted the Irish will have to defeat two tough foes to advance into the 16-team tournament.

Michigan has always proven to be a tough competitor for the Irish, and this year was no different. The Wolverines gave the Irish all they could handle in a 4-3 squeaker in Ann Arbor in April. Senior Dan Brackus, who has beaten Notre Dame's top singles player Andy Zurcher two out of the last three times they have faced each other, leads the Wolverines into today's match.

Brackus is ranked 20th nationally while Zurcher is ranked 27th. "We haven't looked past Michigan at all," noted Irish head coach Bob Bayliss. "We are guardedly optimistic heading into the match. Dan Brackus has been nearly perfect in regional play.

"They have player much better as of late, so we are expecting a dogfight. We will be lucky to escape today," added Bayliss. If the Irish do escape the Wolverines, they will have their hands full against the top-seed-

see TENNIS/ page 29

Jeff Burris

"The only place he doesn't play is on our extra point team.'

- Lou Holtz

By JASON KELLY
Associate Sports Editor

Jeff Burris doesn't fit the stereotype of the major college athlete. Off the field, that is.

The full-time safety and part-time tailback is full of pleases and thank yous and always quick with a handshake and a smile.

"Because of a team that exceeded all expectations, and she is the Observer 1994 Female Athlete of the Year.

But there was something special about that gray November Saturday, when the team many thought to be college football's best ever visited the season's biggest surprise.

"This season put Notre Dame on the

see SURPRISE/ page 33

Kara Leary

"I'm just glad I could be a part (of this season)."

- Kara Leary

By JASON KELLY
Associate Sports Editor

Her last public appearance as a Notre Dame basketball player was a tearful one.

Just moments earlier, her career came to an abrupt end when the Irish were upset by Minnesota in the first round of the NCAA Tournament. Like the rest of her teammates, Kara Leary cried. They forgot the good times that led to that bitter moment and wept because it was over.

"But Leary's legacy is toughness, not tears. She was the gritty leader of a team that exceeded all expectations, and she is the Observer 1994 Female Athlete of the Year."

"This season put Notre Dame on

see LEARY/ page 33

Women's Tennis

Lisa Tholen and the Irish begin NCAA Tournament play today against Stanford.

see page 34

Down Memory Lane

The top 10 sports stories of the last four years are on page 32.